Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

There continues to be some discussion—not all of it local—of Winters' probable record cold spell Thursday night, January 11. Someone wrote to a TV question and answer program aired on an Abilene channel the other day, and asked if it were possible that Winters could have had minus 15 degree weather. The answer person said the channel's weather forecaster had been consulted, and his reply was that it was "possible" (quotes ours, in an attempt to match the vocal expression on the tube).

For the edification of all concerned, that minus 15 degrees was not only "possible," but was correct, shown on a genuine low-recording thermometer issued by the U. S. Department of Commerce Environmental Science Services Administration Weather Bureau. That reading was properly written down in a proper Weather Bureau information book by a properly appointed weather observer and properly forwarded to the Weather Bureau office. That minus 15 degree reading has gone in the record books as the official low temperature for that date—it's not only "possible," but official.

Then there was the candidate for political office who had the following thank you note published in the local newspaper: "I want to thank the 300 voters who endorsed me for office. A special thanks to the 600 friends who promised to vote for me. Thanks also to the 400 who have assured me that they did vote for me. And finally, a real vote of thanks to the 85 who actually did cast a ballot for me in the election."

The proposal has been made in all seriousness that newspaper newsmen should be licensed just like barbers, electricians, plumbers, doctors and lawyers. The idea is "... just a thought that's occurred ..." according to the lawmaker who made the proposal. It is unlikely that the idea will become a national threat, but nevertheless, the potential for mischief which it holds is worth contemplating. (Besides giving a little insight into the thoughts of some of our top lawmakers.)

Licensing of newsmen is advanced on the theory that since standards of knowledge and performance are set for other professions, why shouldn't they be formalized by statute with respect to newsmen. Under such a proposal, if it should be adopted, it would become a law (and according to the late Will Rogers, many of our laws were passed by accidents) a news writer would have to take an examination to meet the requirements of licensing regulations administered by governmental authorities. Conceivably, owners of newspapers and magazines would be subject to licensing if they supervised the content of the news that their outlets offered.

Licensing and state surveillance of those who write the news and present it in the nation's press would reduce freedom of expression to an incalculable degree. Licensing means control and when the state controls newsmen the news won't be worth reading because the press will merely be the sounding board of the state.

The concert is being sponsored by Winters Piggly Wiggly. There will be no admission charge, but donations will be accepted for the West Texas Rehabilitation Center. A representative of the Center will be present.

The 9:30 p. m. time for the concert was set in order not to conflict with the Chamber of Commerce membership banquet.

City Planning Extensive Addition To Airport, Runway To Be Moved

Additional land has been acquired by the City of Winters to be used in an extensive project to rebuild and remodel the city's airport, located southwest of town, with plans to re-locate and hard-surface the runway, move hangar and service facilities, and install runway lights.

A total of 20.23 acres of land has been added to the present airport area, which will provide sufficient space to build a longer and wider runway, and build service facilities. The City Council Monday night approved appointment of a special committee, composed of Alderman James Spill, Dr. Z. I. Hale and Dr. T. L. Russell, to direct the airport work.

Plans are to re-locate the runway several hundred feet to the west of the present runway, and to make a wider landing strip. Surveys already have been made. The new runway will be 3200 feet long, and about 60 feet wide. The new runway will be surfaced, if possible, it was stated. The present runway, 2800 feet long, will be used for a taxi strip. Runway lights will be installed along the new runway, also.

A new road entrance will be built on the east side of the airport from Highway 53, and the hangar and service facilities now on the northwest corner of the airport will be moved to a location about midway down the present runway on the east side of the property.

It is hoped, according to officials, that matching funds for rebuilding and improving the VISIT WITH SENATOR — Runnels County Farm Bureau leaders met with State Senator Grant Jones of Abilene during a visit to the State Capitol January 30. Left to right, M. L. Dobbins, president of the Runnels County FB, Senator Jones, and Leroy Pelzel of Miles, FB legislative committeeman. They were in Austin to attend the Texas Farm Bureau Legislative Conference January 30-31. The two-day conference was held to provide county FB leaders information, techniques and contacts necessary to carry out the TFB's 1973 legislative program.

Sen. Grant Jones Tells FB Delegates People Should Be Aware of Issues

State Senator Grant Jones of Abilene last week told Runnels County Farm Bureau leaders that the people of Texas should become more aware of the many important issues which will come before the 63rd Texas Legislature this year.

M. L. Dobbins of Winters, president of the Runnels County Farm Bureau, who along with Leroy Pelzel of Miles, attended a Texas FB conference in Austin last week, said Sen. Jones told the Runnels delegates that the people should be concerned with State Constitutional revisions which will come up within the next few months, and that they should be concerned with what will be included in the revised constitution, because they will be with us for years.

Dobbins also said Sen. Jones indicated that the constitutional revisions, financing public education, and water for Texas, were perhaps the most important issues which will face the legislature this year. He also said Sen. Jones indicated vital interest in hearing from the people in his district.

Pelzel is a member of the Runnels County FB legislative committee.

County FB presidents, legislative and membership chairmen from all over Texas attended the two-day session at Austin. Purpose of the conference was to discuss major issues confronting the 63rd Legislature and plan ways and means of implementing Farm Bureau's policies relating to these issues, Dobbins said.

A highlight of the meeting was the banquet January 30 attended by county FB leaders, high state government officials and legislators. TFB President J. T. (Red) Woodson outlined the organization's legislative program for those in attendance.

The conference program also included state legislators who explained major issues before the 63rd Legislature. Senator Nelson Wolff of San Antonio discussed Constitution revision. "Financing Public Education" was covered in a speech by Senator William T. (Bill) Moore of Bryan. Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake discussed water problems.

Speaking on financing public education, Sen. Moore told the FB delegates that "too much money is being spent on education, and not enough knowledge is being received."

Rep. Clayton spoke on the water problems facing the entire state of Texas, and said that there will be added to the population from 1973 to 2000 more people than lived in the U. S. in 1915. Lowering of water tables which is causing land sinking in many sections of the state has become a major problem, he said.

Angelo State Coach Will Speak At Football Banquet Saturday

James Cameron, coach of the Angelo State University Rams, will be the principal speaker at the annual Winters High School football banquet Saturday, February 10, at 7 p. m.

Also to highlight the program will be entertainment by a musical group from one of the Abilene colleges.

The banquet is sponsored by the Cheerleaders organization of the high school, and will be held in the school cafeteria. The Cheerleaders have stressed that this banquet is not limited to members of the football team, their families, or the faculty, but is for the community as a whole, and they have urged that everyone interested in the high school football team attend.

Tickets may be obtained from any of the Cheerleaders, or may be purchased at the door on the night of the banquet.

Coach Cameron is a graduate of East Texas State University. While in college, he played center on three Lone Star Conference championship teams. He made the Dallas Morning News All Texas Team his senior year. In his first year as head coach, Cameron says his 1967 McKinney High School team compile an 11-1-1 record before bowing out of the state race for the 3-A title in the semi-finals.

License Plates Selling Like . . . Uh . . . "License Plates," Says Mrs. Meyer

Mrs. Meyer said vehicle owners may bring in last year's registration form.

Plates also may be received by mail, if motorists send in the three-part form, the registration fee, plus one dollar for each vehicle. After March 1, it will be necessary to go to the sub-office or county tax office in person.

With the three-part form, a certificate of title and last year's registration receipt are not needed, Mrs. Meyer said.

Those persons who request specific numbers may contact the sub-station and make reservations for those numbers, if they are available, Mrs. Meyer said. However, they may not be able to pick them up at any time; they will have to wait until that number comes up in the package of plates being issued at the time, she said.

When using the mail to register, applications for license plates should be sent only to the local tax office, Mrs. Meyer said. Vehicle owners should not send their payments to the Texas Highway Department because this will delay registration, she warned.

Fix-It Tip

Place a piece of heavy aluminum foil between the seat cushion and the spring on each patio chair to prevent unsightly metal rust stain on the seat cushions. The foil works perfectly on the chaise lounge springs, too. Protect the outdoor pillows from rain and dew by removing the decorative cover, wrapping the inner pillows in heavy foil, sealing the edges tightly with a double fold, then putting the decorative cover back on.

SCOT Adopts Resolutions On State's Wildlife

AUSTIN—Increases in hunting and fishing license fees, along with programs to upgrade fishing in older Texas reservoirs, are among Parks and Wildlife Department goals unanimously approved by resolutions of the Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas (SCOT).

Officers, directors and members of the statewide association took the action Saturday, January 20 at an annual meeting here, according to SCOT president J. L. Wynne Jr. of Dallas and executive director Cecil Reid. Wynne was re-elected to office.

Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison spoke to the group on the status of Special Game and Fish Fund Number Nine, which supports game and fish activities.

SCOT resolutions noted that hunting and fishing license fees in Texas are among the lowest in the nation, that no increases have been made in 16 years, that there is considerable fish and game study left undone and resolved that SCOT "... agree to support the increase in hunting and fishing license fees as proposed by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department."

It was further resolved that SCOT "... does encourage the study of our older reservoirs by the Parks and Wildlife biologists toward the end of improved fishing, including the propagation of black bass, the introduction of exotic species and any other steps deemed necessary."

Noting that hunting and fishing regulations should be made in keeping with wildlife and fish populations at any given time, and that the Legislature meets every other year in regular session, another resolution stated that "... through sound management practices the Parks and Wildlife Commission could better regulate the seasons and bag limits for the benefit of the public and for the wildlife populations."

It was resolved, "That SCOT go on record as favoring regulatory authority for the Parks and Wildlife Department throughout the entire state." At present the Commission has regulatory responsibility in all or part of 228 counties, with 26 counties under general law.

In other resolutions, delegates of sportsmen's clubs statewide advocated:

That non-resident fishermen over the age of 65 be required to purchase licenses at the same fee charged residents.

That SCOT "take the initiative and whatever action is necessary to give the Parks and Wildlife Department the authority to commission qualified persons as Free Service Wardens."

That SCOT "... unalterably opposed to the Taylor's Bayou deepening and widening project in Jefferson County ... as ... a threat to both fish and wildlife through the destruction of the environment ..."

AUSTIN — The Texas Legislature swept away some of the clouds last week and made important moves toward "government in the sunshine."

In addition to passing the revised "open meetings" law — patterned after Florida's famous "sunshine law"—House committees approved a new "open records" law for Texas and placed on the House calendar a "free flow of information" bill.

Changes in the Texas open meetings law will allow the public and press to be informed of all "quorum" meetings of public bodies. It was approved 132 to 13 by the House of Representatives and moved over to the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

Closed meetings will be held to a minimum under the exemptions in the new law. It was authored by Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur and submitted as a part of House Speaker Price Daniel Jr.'s "reform package."

A marathon five-hour hearing by the House Judiciary Committee—chaired by Rep. Dewitt Hale—was held on the "free flow of information" measure. This proposal is H. B. 10 sponsored by Rep. Dave Allred of Wichita Falls.

It grants a "news" source confidential privilege and allows Texas journalists to get more information about governmental, law enforcement and other matters important to the public.

The House Judiciary Committee approved the bills 16 to 4 and sent it to the House floor for debate this week.

H. B. 6, the "open records" measure, will allow the public and press access to most all records of government, city, county and state, that are not closed by state statute. A few other restrictions were placed on the bill—sponsored by Rep. Lane Denton of Waco.

All of these "government in the sunshine" measures follow the pattern of new House rules which open committee meetings, and follow the trend toward "openness."

PEOPLE'S WATCHDOG PROPOSED—AGAIN

Legislators from Houston and Fort Worth have introduced legislation proposing to create the office of "Ombudsman" in the State Government in Texas.

The idea has been put before the legislature in previous sessions only to receive a cold shoulder. The Ombudsman would be an independent and politically neutral office with the sole duty of investigating and recommending action on citizen complaints about state government administration, under the proposed legislation.

The two sponsors, Reps. Hawkins Menefee of Houston and David Finney of Fort Worth, said the Ombudsman would be able to protect individual citizens by giving them recourse for their grievances against unfair or abusive administrative practices.

The Ombudsman, however, would have only the power to criticize and publicize, but not reverse, undesirable administrative actions.

MICKEY MOUSE DISCRIMINATION?

Houston Rep. R. C. (Nick) Nichols has introduced legislation which he says will eliminate the "Mickey Mouse" discrimination practices of some insurance companies when it comes to selling automobile and fire insurance.

One bill would prohibit any fire or automobile insurance company from cancelling, refusing to issue, or refusing to renew a policy because of the age, sex, race or place of residence of the person applying for insurance.

Rep. Nichols says "older people and younger people are the victims of automatic discrimination when buying auto insurance, even though they may have good individual driving records."

Another Nichols bill would require that the only kind of life insurance policies which can be sold in Texas would be level term policies which are guaranteed renewable to age 80—without evidence of insurability.

"The typical cash-value life insurance policy is one of the most prevalent and least understood consumer frauds in existence," says Nichols. "The simple fact is, at the death of the insured the beneficiary automatically loses the cash value of the policy."

PRAY QUIETLY PLEASE

Sen. Walter Manden, Republican state senator from Houston, has dropped a bill in the legislative hopper to establish local school boards to establish periods of silent prayer or meditation at the beginning of each school day.

The U. S. Supreme Court says a school district cannot dictate to a class of students the wording of a daily prayer. Manden says his bill would "get around" that ruling through this bill which authorizes private prayer, not as a religious service or exercise, but an opportunity for silent prayer or meditation on either the anticipated activities of the day or—by those so disposed—on a religious theme."

DWI IS A NO-NO, OR ELSE

Baytown Rep. Joe Allen has introduced legislation to require a mandatory minimum 30-day suspension of operator's license upon first conviction for driving while intoxicated, and a mandatory one-year sentence on second conviction.

Rep. Allen says Department of Public Safety officials tell him "almost a third of all fatal rural accidents were the direct result of drunk drivers. Statewide figures are almost as high."

"Over 700 people were killed on the highways of Texas by drunk drivers in 1971. Consider that nearly 200,000 accidents that same year were caused by drinking and driving and that the rates go up every year, and you get a good idea of the size of the problem," says Allen.

Allen says he has DPS support for his bill, partly because "juries hesitate to suspend a driver's license for a whole year. Consequently, our officers make the arrests, but can't get the driver off the road for any significant length of time."

LAND REPORT RELEASED

Rapid growth over the last decade has contributed to a rising public concern for proper land resources management and for regulation of development of the state's unincorporated areas—those areas outside the reach of effective municipal jurisdiction.

In most areas of the state, such development is not subject to any governmental health, safety or planning standards, the Texas Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations says in a new report, "Land Use Standards in Unincorporated Areas: Proposed State Legislation for Local Governments."

The Commission notes that despite pleas from many municipal and county officials and organizations of local government there has been no general legislation adopted to expand county and municipal authority over development beyond the city limits.

In this respect, Texas compares unfavorably with other states, the report stated. County-wide zoning, or its equivalent, is authorized in 40 states and various forms of subdivision are exercised by counties in 37 other states.

The Commission recommends legislation to (1) enable cities and towns to extend development standards applied inside incorporated areas to their extra-territorial jurisdiction, including authority to extend health and safety ordinances governing construction, alteration, or remodeling of structures to the city's extra-territorial jurisdiction; (2) give counties authority to establish development standards in unincorporated areas; (3) encourage "sensible, stable land use practices in unincorporated areas by extending to county government the same general zoning power and related authorizations long exercised by Texas cities."

SHORT SNORTS

Rep. Neil Caldwell has been appointed by House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. to the Texas Council on Marine-Related Affairs. Caldwell fills the unexpired term of former Rep. Ray Lemmon of Houston.

Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has named Delbert Olson of Lubbock as supervisor of the Texas Department of Agriculture's District II at Stephenville and named Raymond Houtchens, an inspector of District I (Lubbock) to succeed Olson in the supervisory position.

Leading communicable disease in the state in 1972 was influenza and other flu-like illnesses, the State Department reports. The leading communicable disease nationwide in 1972 was pneumonia, which ranked second in Texas with 58,404 reported cases.

Some 4,000 Texas junior and senior high school students and their teachers are to convene on Austin March 16-17 for the 46th annual convention of the Interscholastic League Press Conference.

The State Department of Banking has received applications for state bank charters for the Katy Bank & Trust and Sheldon State Bank both in Harris County.

The 26th annual session of the YMCA Youth and Government program will be held in Austin February 22-25 with about 800 delegates assembling to study the legislative and judicial process.

Dr. Kenneth H. Ashworth, vice chancellor of the University of Texas System, has been named executive vice president of the University of Texas at San Antonio.

Texas Municipal League directors will ask the Texas Legislature to conduct a thorough study of public-management relations in Texas. Action was taken in anticipation of nearly 100 public labor-related bills to be considered by the Legislature.

Endangered Fish Under Protection In State Park

AUSTIN—The Parks and Wildlife Commission has come to the rescue of two small West Texas fish.

In addition to the renovation and construction in Balmorhea State Park, the commission approved plans to provide habitat for two species of endangered fish which are found in the park's waters.

Once reported to be extinct, the Comanche Springs pupfish, Cyprinodon elegans, is found in limited numbers in Phantom, San Solomon, Griffin Springs and canal systems.

A large number of the remaining fish live within Balmorhea State Park in a short section of the Phantom Springs canal on the park's west boundary.

The pupfish is threatened by accidental or intentional poisoning, lack of habitat and displacement by introduced species of fish such as the largemouth bass.

Things also look bad for another tiny fish, the Pecos gambusia, Gambusia nobilis. Several populations of gambusia have become extinct from competition with other fish and the evaporation of springs.

Parks and Wildlife biologists have found that the two endangered species are compatible, and have decided to build an 800-foot canal in the park to serve as a refuge.

Average water depth will be one foot. Shallow lips of the canal will be planted with vegetation.

The department plans to build an interpretive station near the refuge canal to tell the story of these two fish.

P&W Will Trade "Exotic" Fish

AUSTIN — Parks and Wildlife Department Inland Fisheries biologists are getting their trading hats ready for this spring.

As soon as the rivers thaw up north department biologists will travel to Nebraska with some surplus eight- to 10-inch channel catfish to trade for Northern pike fry.

Also this year the Parks and Wildlife Department plans to negotiate with Oklahoma to obtain

THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

Winters, Texas Page 4 Friday, February 9, 1973

four to five million walleye. The department plans to exchange Texas-reared juvenile Florida bass for the walleye. Northern pike and walleye are two fish which the department is using as open-water predators in large lakes to take advantage of the abundant forage fish such as shad and rough fish like the ubiquitous carp.

Phone Company to Spend $117 Million For Expansion

San Angelo — General Telephone Company of the Southwest will spend $117.4 million during 1973 to add, expand or upgrade telephone service in 405 exchanges in four states, according to L. Gray Beck, president.

The 1973 construction budget is $13.4 million or 12.9 per cent higher than the 1972 budget.

The expenditures planned during the year include providing 1-plus Dialing to 38 exchanges and 1-plus and 0-plus Dialing to 4 exchanges.

Beck pointed out the largest portion of the construction expenditures is $39 million for central office equipment. This includes equipment expansions in existing offices, equipment additions that automatically ticket long distance calls and check the accuracy of the dial digits, expansion of toll facilities, equipment to provide Extended Area Service (EAS) and office replacements.

The company president said this also includes $5.7 million to replace mechanical offices with the faster and more efficient electronic equipment.

Another major construction budget area is for facilities located outside the central offices or outside plant facilities. This portion of the budget is $33.7 million and includes $9.9 million to meet forecasted growth, $2.9 million to provide additions to existing toll and/or EAS facilities, $4.4 million to cover rural zoning and upgrading rural line service from eight-party to four-party or better and $5.5 million for conduit projects to growth areas.

The land and buildings section of the budget is $7.6 million. It includes three land purchases to expand existing central offices or for new buildings. During 1973, General Telephone will complete four new central office buildings while starting three. Thirty-three building additions will be completed and two will be started.

Other items totaling $37.1 million are included in the construction budget. These outlays will be for private automatic branch exchange (PABX) equipment, telephones, labor and materials to connect the customer's telephone to service lines, vehicles, furniture and fixtures, and tools and work equipment.

Beck said a gain of 80,000 telephones is expected during 1973, bringing the estimated year-end total to 1,051,897.

COUNTY AGENT'S WEEKLY NOTES

By C. T. PARKER
County Extension Agent
DORMANT OILS—EFFECTIVE INSECTICIDES

This is the season to apply dormant oils for controlling some of the hard-to-kill insects on trees and shrubs. Properly prepared petroleum oils are effective for controlling pests such as the scale insects, mites, pecan phylloxera, insect eggs and some hibernating caterpillars. Oils kill insects and mites by suffocation or by penetrating the breathing tubes. Insect eggs are killed because of interference with the gas exchange through the shell.

When compared to insecticides, oils have the advantage of being less expensive, give good covering action, residues are exempt from tolerance and oils are safe to handle. However, oils are toxic to most leaves, have low toxicity to many insects and are relatively unstable in solutions.

Dormant oils can be applied any time trees and shrubs are in the dormant state. However, oil is most effective if applied in late winter or early spring just before the buds start to crack. Application should be made when temperatures are between 40 and 65 degrees. Freezing weather within 48 hours of treatment may cause the oil to be less effective.

When mixing and applying dormant oils, extreme care should be taken to use only the amounts recommended by the manufacturer. Tree trunks and insect infested limbs should be thoroughly covered with the application. Some trees tolerant to normal applications of oil may be damaged if oil is applied in excessive amounts. Even normal applications of oil have been noted to damage beech, Japanese and sugar maple, hickory, walnut, butternut and some spruces. Strict attention should be given to getting thorough coverage, yet avoiding excessive application of the oils.

TIME NEAR FOR FILING FARM INCOME TAX

March 1 is drawing near as the deadline for farmers to file their 1972 income tax returns. To be considered a farmer, two thirds of your gross income must come from the sale of agricultural products.

Although you may have to pay income tax this year due to various reasons, you must still file a Schedule F if you had any income from farming.

To pay any income tax, a net profit must have been realized. If this was the case, the same exemptions and deductions that apply to any other individual can be used in determining income tax.

Married persons filing joint returns for 1972 will not have to pay any tax if their incomes were less than $2,800. However, they will still need to file a Schedule F.

For Social Security purposes, farmers may need to file a Self Employment return. This return can be filed on either the net or gross farm income if the net income was less than $1,600.

A copy of the "Farmer's Tax Guide" is available and can be a valuable tool in assisting farmers and ranchers in preparing an accurate and complete return.

P&W Film On Fish Now Available

AUSTIN—Fishing has a past that goes back thousands of years.

In Texas, fishing has a bright future, if the Parks and Wildlife Department has anything to say about it.

The Department's latest motion picture, "Fish for the Future," demonstrates some of the research projects which are adding more excellent game fish to Texas waters.

Despite the projects' newness, walleye are established in Lake Meredith, striped bass in Spence Reservoir, and there are more to come with muskellunge, northern pike and freshwater redfish.

These new species are meant to supplement native game fish such as bass. Most native fish evolved as stream fish and oc-copy only a small portion around the shores of large man-made reservoirs.

The deep areas in the center of the lake go by default to less desirable fish such as shad.

Most of these introductory fish have the potential to feed on the abundant forage fish and offer additional recreation at the same time.

"Fish for the Future" is a 28-minute color film available at no charge to any Texas sportsmen's club, school or other organization interested in the state's wildlife.

Any such group may borrow the film and pay only the cost of return transportation.

Booking requests may be mailed to: Film Library, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin 78701.

UMW Meeting Held Tuesday

A general meeting of the new organization of the United Methodist Women was held in the parlor of the First United Methodist Church Tuesday morning. Mrs. Ralph Arnold, president, presided, and Mrs. Roy Crawford led the opening song. Mrs. Paul Gerhardt led the opening prayer.

A short business meeting was held, and group chairmen read the names in their individual groups, which will meet the second and third Tuesdays of each month. Group 1 chairman is Mrs. T. C. Stanley; Group 2, Mrs. Paul Gerhardt; Group 3, Mrs. Willie Lois Nichols.

Mrs. F. R. Anderson was leader for the program on duties and goals of new officers and coordinators. In her program, the plan was "Year Round Patterns" for the UMW, and she used pattern pieces for each officer's duties, and gave prayer, service and gifts as the "Master Pattern." Suggested fabrics were love, joy, peace, long suffering, greatness, goodness, meekness, temperance and faith. "Notions" needed, she said, are elasticity, variety, sense of humor; interfacing of forebearance, lip zipper, backbone stiffening, and measurements, how wide is your understanding? how long is your patience? how deep is your love?

Officers and coordinators participating were Mrs. Ralph Arnold, president; Mrs. F. R. Anderson, vice president; Marguerite Mathis, treasurer; Mrs. M. G. Middlebrook, secretary; Mrs. J. D. Vinson, chairman of nominating committee; Mrs. Roy Crawford, Christian personhood; Mrs. Thad Traylor, supportive community; Mrs.

The Name of the Game Is Elitism

By RALPH NOVAK
NEW YORK (CEP)

Considerable controversy has been generated by the recent statements of Zane Meathead, 14-year-old director of the White House Office of Pro Football Policy.

It all started with Meathead's post-Super Bowl denunciation of NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for "failing to make sure the Redskins won and thereby robbing the nation's football fans of their just rewards."

Meathead announced that the administration would introduce legislation making it mandatory that the Redskins win all of their games next season, with no victory margin less than 64 points. And he accused Rozelle's NFL office of "elitist elitism," which he declined to define on the grounds that he just says what he is told to say.

He later granted a special round-table interview to 117 writers and editors from Sports Illustrated in which he insisted that he was not really in favor of stricter government control of pro football but in fact wanted to liberate the other teams of the NFL so they could lose to the Redskins as, he said, "we all know they want to do."

Some criticism has been leveled at Meathead because of his background. Before assuming his current post, he was President Nixon's newspaper boy and his hobbies were gargling and stepping on ants. An aggressive personality, he was voted "Fourth Grade Smart Aleck of 1972" by his classmates (marking the seventh straight year he had won that award) but his knowledge of pro football was limited to one game he saw on television when he was 5.

He answers all questions about his qualification for the job saying: "I don't think it would do anybody any good to say anything about anything I haven't said anything about yet. I'll stand on the record."

Meathead also refuses to reveal whether his announcement was a result of Mr. Nixon's displeasure with the Super Bowl outcome. "It is true, of course, that we would have to look pretty closely at the antitrust status of pro football if the Redskins have a problem next season," he says. "But I wouldn't want anybody to think that is a threat. It is more in the nature of a promise."

He said the mail arriving in his office tallied out as 46 letters in favor of his announcement, with only one opposed and 19,402 "illegible."

"And I pledge here and now," he added, "that if we have any trouble with this legislation, I will personally fall down on the floor of Congress and hold my breath until I turn blue."

How to make your home more comfortable while you lower your energy costs.

Like to enjoy barefoot comfort in your home all year long?

Like to cut heating costs as much as a third?

Like to cut air conditioning costs as much as half?

The secret is through insulation.

Your home probably has some insulation already. But, thorough insulation includes an adequate amount in the ceiling, in the walls and under the floor. It also includes weather stripping, storm doors and storm windows or double glazed windows.

Once you have good insulation, you can forget about cold floors, cold walls and chilly corners. You'll be more comfortable and enjoy your home more.

The cost will vary, depending on the style of home and amount of insulation already in it. But, one important fact to keep in mind is that insulation is the only comfort improvement you can make in your home which requires no maintenance, yet pays for itself through lower energy bills.

Ask an insulation dealer for advice and a free estimate, or call WTU for more information.

WHAT COSTS LESS NOW THAN IN 1952?

We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

Monroe Graham recorded yields of 4000 pounds with Pioneer 848 and 4100 pounds with Pioneer 8417. With yields like these, Pioneer brand hybrids have proven themselves for Monroe Graham, Route 1, Tuscola, Texas.

Dennis C. Poe planted Pioneer 846 for his sixth season last year and recorded a yield of 4480 pounds. He reports, "I have been planting 846 since 1966. I haven't seen any maize that will beat it. It can withstand drought." This year will make seven seasons of Pioneer 846 for Dennis C. Poe, Route 3, Winters, Texas.

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

- For Central Texas we recommend these sorghum and forage varieties...
- Pioneer Brand 846 — excellent drought resistance — MDM resistant — a full season hybrid — our most popular sorghum variety
 - Pioneer Brand 848 — excellent grain quality — short, strong stalks — good roots — excellent thrasher — full season hybrid — good resistance to smut and MDM
 - Pioneer Brand 988 — sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage — ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month — regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

Capitol Report

BY REP. LYNN NABERS

I would like to take the opportunity in this week's column to discuss some of the legislation I will be sponsoring during the 63rd Legislative Session. As always, I welcome any questions or comments in regard to this proposed legislation.

I have introduced a bill, House Bill 291, prohibiting parole when a life sentence is assessed for a capital offense and requiring certain jury instructions concerning the times and conditions that a prisoner may be eligible for parole in capital cases. The greatest punishments available to our courts following the U. S. Supreme Court decision making the death penalty unconstitutional is a true life sentence. Perhaps a true life sentence for crimes such as murder, kidnapping, armed robbery and rape might fill the void created when the death penalty was abolished. Unless we can pass legislation retaining the death penalty, a law providing life imprisonment with no possibility of parole would be our only deterrent to capital cases.

I will also introduce a bill in the near future that will prevent anyone convicted of murder with malice aforethought from receiving a probated sentence. It is my belief that a person committing murder with malice should serve some jail time.

Because of my deep concern over the ever increasing rise in crime, I am also co-sponsoring a bill, House Bill 200, designed to retain the death penalty as punishment for murder with malice aforethought under certain conditions as provided by the Supreme Court in order to make the bill constitutional. The bill further provides that if the jury finds a defendant guilty of murder with malice aforethought committed under one of the conditions set forth, the court would sentence the defendant to death, unless the jury recommends leniency, in which case the court would sentence the defendant to life imprisonment.

House Bill 225, which I am also co-sponsoring, provides for the appropriation of state funds to the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, for allocation to junior college districts to establish occupational extension centers. Under this measure Coleman County would receive funds for a center providing occupational programs to be operated as a branch of Cisco Junior College in conjunction with its academic system. This is similar to legislation that I sponsored during the 62nd Legislature. The bill passed both the House and the Senate but was later vetoed by Governor Smith. I feel now, as I did then, that this legislation is important and needed. Career education will play a bigger and bigger role in the field of education in the near future.

Council Okeys Purchase Of Earth Machine

Winters City Council Monday night approved purchase of a Caterpillar tractor loader-digger, to be used in the new sanitation land-fill project.

No final site for the land-fill operation has been chosen as yet, officials said, but several locations are under study. The water table is too high at the present city dump site, it was stated, and another location must be found. It is expected that the land-fill operation should be ready for use within a few weeks, however, it was stated.

County Judge To Washington Fund Hearing

Runnels County Judge Elliott Kemp left Tuesday for Washington, D. C., to attend a Senate sub-committee hearing on use of highway trust funds for mass transit and other transportation purposes.

Judge Kemp said a large group from Texas, along with delegations from other rural states, are trying to prevent use of the highway trust funds for other purposes, and keep the monies for building and maintenance of more rural highways.

Winters Stock In Houston Show February 21

Kathryn Bredemeyer, Kyle Tatom, Benji Alldredge, Marvin Clark, Rodney Richards, Wayne Schwartz, Charley Alderman, Carey Poe, Denny Heathcott, Glenn Hoppe, Randal Kurtz, Ricky Dunlap, Bill Bredemeyer, Dwayne Jonas, Diane Jonas, Mark Bryan, Jesse Whitlow and Mark Carrouth Whitlow, Winters FFA Chapter members, will be entering their livestock in the judging contests at the 1973 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

The Houston Show is growing, growing, growing! Each year the number of entries increases and 1973 entry figures prove this is the largest livestock show in the world. Even with the recent expansion, the Livestock Exposition Building will be bulging at the seams with classes provided for 10 beef breeds, 5 dairy breeds, 6 swine breeds, 11 sheep breeds, 6 horse breeds, 5 rabbit breeds, 22 poultry breeds and Angora goats. In addition, a record number of auction sales will be held during the first four days of the show.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, "The Show With A Heart," does more to benefit youth on a statewide basis than any show in the country. Scholarships in the amount of $4,000 each are presented annually to outstanding and deserving FFA and 4-H Club members. Currently, 85 students are attending college on scholarships provided by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo. In addition, twenty-two scholarships of $1,000 each will be awarded to winners in each of 22 counties participating in the show's area Go-Texas program.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo was the first such show in the country to underwrite Agricultural Research. The Research Program was established in 1970 and 11 Texas agricultural colleges are participating in this program. Much of the work is done by the students themselves, thus providing jobs for those college students who need to work. Some $100,000 is set aside annually for the Research Program and the knowledge gained directly benefits Texas agri-business.

The '73 show opens February 21 and runs through March 4. Nine great entertainers are scheduled to appear at the rodeo. They are: Charley Pride, February 23; Sonny & Cher,

W-M Earnings, Production See Increase Over '71

Wallace-Murray Corporation reported 1972 net income of $9,292,000 on sales of $259,305,000. This represents a 33 percent improvement over 1971 earnings of $6,966,000 and a 15 percent increase over 1971 sales which amounted to $224,541,000.

Earnings per outstanding share for 1972 were $2.53 compared with $1.74 for 1971. On a fully diluted basis, earnings for 1972 were $1.91 per share versus $1.46 in the previous year. This latter represents an improvement of over 30 percent.

Sales for the fourth quarter were $67,967,000 an increase of over 14 percent compared with $59,308,000 for the similar period in 1971, and net income was $2,787,000 in 1972 as against $2,220,000 the previous year—an increase of over 25 percent. Earnings per common share, assuming no dilution, were 79 cents, compared with 60 cents last year, and on a fully diluted basis were 57 cents versus 47 cents in the fourth quarter of 1971.

Fred R. Raach, president and chief executive officer, noted that this is the second year in a row that the Corporation has reported substantial improvements in sales, net income and earnings per share. "The strength in our power components group has been the most important single factor in this continued improvement," he said, "but both our cutting tools and building products groups made significant contributions to 1972 results."
