Ramon Lloyd, Local Druggist, Died Monday

Ramon Lloyd, 69, a longtime Winters druggist, died at 11:25 a. m. Monday in North Runnels Hospital, following an illness of about a week.

Mr. Lloyd had been a druggist in Winters for almost 50 years.

Funeral services were held at 4 p. m. Tuesday in Spill Memorial Chapel, with Paul Wallace, minister of the Main Street Church of Christ, officiating.

Burial was in Fairview Cemetery under direction of Spill Funeral Home.

Mr. Lloyd was born in Runnels County in the Pumphrey Community north of Winters, June 18, 1905. He was the son of the late William and Sarah Ellen Pumphrey Lloyd.

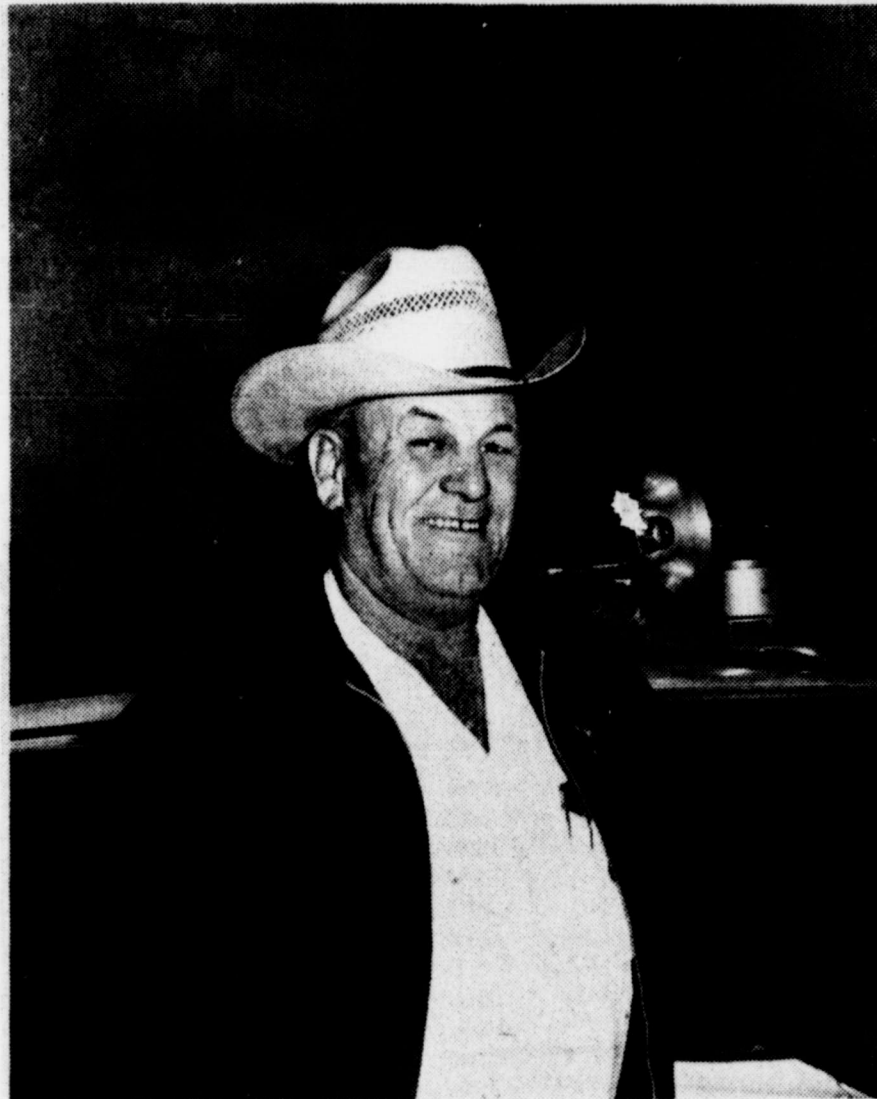

He attended school at Pumphrey and graduated from Winters High School. He attended Hardin-Simmons University and Baylor School of Pharmacy at Dallas. He was a pharmacist for almost 50 years in Winters, and operated the Main Drug Company in partnership with his brother, Ralph Lloyd. They also owned the Main Radio store for many years, before selling the business a few years ago. He also had an interest in farming.

Mr. Lloyd was a member of the board of trustees of Winters Independent School District for 17 years. He had been on the Winters City Council, the board of the Housing Authority of the City of Winters, and a member and deacon in the Main Street Church of Christ. He also was a director of the Winters State Bank.

He married Dickie Wilson, March 26, 1933, at Winters.

Survivors are his wife of 42 years; two sons, Kenneth Lloyd of Lexington, Kentucky, and Rodney Lloyd of Austin; two daughters, Mrs. Cullen (Martha) Johnson of Dallas, and Miss Debbie Lloyd, a student at Abilene Christian College in Abilene; one brother, Ralph Lloyd of Winters; a sister, Mrs. Lela Mae Saylor of San Angelo; five grandchildren, Stacy and Lana Lloyd of Austin, and Jeffrey, Jennifer and Jill Johnson of Dallas.

Pallbearers were Fred Young, Roy Young, J.W. Bahlman, John Norman, Warren Foster, T. A. Smith, Kirby Robinson and Woodrow Watts.

POLICE CHIEF—Luther (Doc) Smith last week was named Chief of Police by the Winters City Council. Smith succeeds Joe Stevens, who has been chief for several years, before resigning effective last week. The new chief has been on the police force about 14 years. Stevens is moving to Amarillo, where he will be in construction work.

Beard Growing Contest Will Begin Next Monday

It is necessary to begin early on one event which will be one of the highlights of Winters 85th anniversary celebration, set for June 19-20-21—the beard growing contest.

Next Monday, April 21, is the "smooth-face kick-off" date, the committee promoting this contest has announced. Those who are planning to take part in this contest are asked to register at the office of the Chamber of Commerce next Monday. They must be clean-shaven—shaved that day—to be eligible to enter the contest. They will have until June 21 to grow their beards. A total of $225 in prize money has been put up for the beard contest, with judging to be in three categories: 1. Best kept; 2. Most unique; and 3. Longest. All contestants will be judged in all three categories. No entry fees will be charged for this contest.

Golf Tourney

An ABCD golf tournament will be held at the Winters Country Club golf course Sunday afternoon. Tee-off time will be 1 p. m., for 18 holes of golf.

Junior Band Won Sweepstakes Award At Cisco Saturday

The Winters Junior High School Band won a coveted Sweepstakes Award in the Cisco Music Festival Saturday, and individual members of the band won many first and second divisions for solo and ensemble performances in music and twirling.

The Winters Junior High Band was the only junior high band entered in these contests; other bands taking part in the two-day festivities were high school groups, from Class B to AAAA.

Each band was judged in its own classification. However, bands were not in competition against one another, but were judged according to specified standards.

NINETY-FIVE YEARS OF LIONISM—C. R. Kendrick, E. E. Thormeyer and Harry Herman received special recognition for long years of membership and service in the Winters Lions Club, during the Lions' Ladies Night Banquet Friday night. Kendrick and Thormeyer were recognized for 35 years of membership in the local service club, and Herman for 25 years membership. Herman was sponsored by Thormeyer when he joined the Winters Lions Club 25 years ago.

Amendment Voting Set Next Tuesday

An election, which has received comparatively little publicity, to decide the fate of two proposed State Constitutional Amendments, will be held next Tuesday, April 22. Voting in Precincts 2 and 3 will be at the Winters City Hall.

The two proposals to amend the State Constitution have received little publicity, except for legal publication of the election notice some weeks ago.

Proposal No. 1 on the ballot will be "The constitutional amendment revising and consolidating provisions relating to state and local retirement systems and programs and providing for a maximum state contribution to state system of 10 percent of the aggregate compensation paid to individuals.

Proposal No. 2 on the ballot will be "The constitutional amendment setting the salaries of members of the legislature at $600 per month and setting a per diem of $30 per day during legislative sessions and a mileage allowance at the same rate provided by law for state employees.

The Texas Legislative Council has prepared analyzed arguments for and against each of the proposed amendments, for use by the public in deciding how to vote.

ARGUMENT FOR NO. 1

Pensions are an absolutely indispensable complement to wages in the modern concept of employment, and it is important that constitutional provisions be well organized and easily understood. The tremendous increase in the cost of living in the United States within the past decade has created the greatest hardship on persons with

Blizzard Band To UIL Contests Next Tuesday

The Winters High School Blizzard Band, under direction of Kirke McKenzie, will be seeking two more first divisions in their quest for the Sweepstakes in the University Interscholastic League band contests to be held in Ballinger next Tuesday, April 22.

The band won a first division rating in marching last November, and a first in sightreading and concert playing will qualify them for a sweepstakes award.

Nine Class AA bands are entered in the contests in Ballinger, including Ballinger, Ozona, Clyde, Brady, Breckenridge, Sonora, Cisco, Coleman and Winters.

The Blizzard Band will perform at 4:50 p. m., Director McKenzie said, which should give many band boosters and fans from Winters an opportunity to see the high school music group in action. McKenzie urged all who can to attend the Blizzard performance, "to give the band members solid support."

A band clinic was held Tuesday night of this week, sponsored by the Band Boosters organization. Dr. Charles Traylor of Abilene Christian College held the clinic.

McKenzie pointed out that the several bands will not be in competition with one another, but will be judged on performance and ability, according to UIL standards. Thus, all bands could make the same score in their performances.

Judges for the UIL contests will be: Concert—Dub Crane, Dumas; Billy Harrell, Hondo; Ralph Zamarippa Jr., Van Horn. Sight Reading—Charles Brown, Whitesboro; Orland Butler, Lubbock; Ed Martinez, Roscoe.

Other bands to perform include: Class C—Ballinger Intermediate; Class B—Eden; Class A—Santa Anna, Menard, Cross Plains, Eldorado, Mason, Baird and Ranger.

COLLISION—Luckily, no one was seriously injured in this collision between a livestock transport truck and trailer and a pickup early Tuesday morning in downtown Winters. Larry Cook, 25, of Winters, was the driver of the pickup. He was headed east on West Dale Steet, and was attempting to make a left turn into North Main Street. He received superficial scratches, was treated at the North Runnels Hospital and released. The driver of the double-decked tractor-trailer, which was loaded with cattle, was headed south, was Wesley T. Jennings, 20, of Abilene. The pickup was considered a total loss, and the truck-tractor received major damages. The accident happened just a few minutes before 8 a. m. Tuesday.

Schools Go To Quarter System For 1975-76

Beginning in August, Winters Public Schools, and all other Texas schools, will operate under the quarter system. Previously, the schools had operated under the two-semester-per-year system, with three six-week periods in each semester.

Under the new system, which will become effective in August when schools open for the 1975-76 school year, the school year will have 180 days of instruction. The year will be divided into three quarters, each having 60 days of instruction, 12 weeks, rather than the present two semesters of 90 days each.

Credits will be counted differently. Courses which last all year will count three quarter units, rather than the present one credit. Courses which at this time last one semester, will usually be two quarters long, and thus will yield two quarter units. A few courses will last one quarter and yield one quarter unit. A total graduation requirement will be 56 quarter units.

A progress report will be given to the student to be signed by a parent at the end of each six weeks. A final grade report will be given at the end of the 12 weeks quarter. Exams will be given at the end of each quarter.

Students in Winters High School started pre-registration this week courses to be taken next school. New students will receive instruction on pre-registration at a later date.

Three Pee Wee Games Played On Weekend

Only three games were played in the Pee Wee Basketball league last weekend. The first game was a real tight one for the Hawks and the Sonics. The Sonics came from behind and tied the score at the end of regulation time, 14-14, but their bid for their first win of the season failed as they lost to the Hawks 22-14 in overtime. Roger Cortez scored 15 large points for the Hawks while John Esquivel had 9 for the Sonics.

Nighthawks blank the winless Parrotts 27-0. Becky Palmertree scored 16 for the Nighthawks.

In the third game the battle for first place was played, with the 76ers and the Knicks tied going into the game. The 76ers were just a little much for the Knicks, coming out on top 20-17. Robert Johnson scored 9 for the 76ers and Scott Billups scored 7 for the Knicks.

OIL FIELD SERVICE companies play an important role in the economic community of Winters, with many people employed and taking an active part in all levels of the social, business and many other facets of the community. The special display of these service companies received much attention during the Industrial Show held last week in the lobby of West Texas Utilities Company office. The exhibit included photos of early-day oil field equipment to miniature models of modern-day equipment used to keep the oil flowing in this area. Represented in the exhibit were entries by Bishop & Sons, Mac Oil Field Company, Pool, and Halliburton.

BASHFUL dancing partners Aaron James (light jersey) of the New Orleans Jazz and Ron Behagen of the Kansas City-Omaha Kings move around the court, making up for their lack of grace with a spirited waltz.

DOWN UNDER the sidewalks of New York City, rock superstar Elton John and actress Ann-Margret draw attention at a party held underground at a subway station. The party was in honor of the premier of the movie "Tommy" starring the two celebrities.

DRY BEANS & PEAS FOR NUTRITION'S SAKE

Two power-packed protein foods—dry beans and split peas—are on the market now in record supply. Marketing specialists of the U.S. Department of Agriculture say dry beans have topped last year's crop by 27 percent, and dry pea production has doubled.

On a cost basis of 20 grams of protein, dry beans and split peas come in as real winners. Based on recent prices, 20 grams of protein in dry beans and split peas cost only 7 cents as compared to the same amount of protein in ground beef at 24 cents.

Experts with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service suggest that you look for bright color and uniform size when buying dry beans and peas. Loss of color indicates a loss of freshness and uneven size will result in uneven cooking. Beans and peas are generally packaged in cellophane bags or see-through windows in cardboard boxes for easy inspection.

These foods have a long shelf life with a minimum of care. They should be kept in tightly covered containers and stored in a dry, cool place (50-70 degrees Fahrenheit).

Nutrition, economy, variety, and easy storage are all good reasons for frequent use in family meals.

A good eating suggestion for any season and many occasions is baked beans. If your time is limited, start with the canned beans in tomato sauce. Add your own flavor flourishes—Worcestershire sauce, vinegar, molasses, onions, green peppers—and bake at medium heat for an hour.

She wore a chapel length mantilla of English illusion, and carried a bouquet of gladiolas, spring flowers and baby's breath.

A reception was held at the church following the wedding ceremony. The bride's table

Lumber Co. To Give Away TV Sets

The Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Center here in Winters should be a very popular place Saturday, April 26. Drawing for a free 16-inch portable color TV set will begin promptly at 3 p.m., and there will be $50.00 and $25.00 gift certificates for second and third prize drawings.

Entries for the drawing came from the catalog mailing and the newspaper ad that advertised "the 75th year" Anniversary Values. This annual promotion was just completed April 19, and entries received through that day will be shuffled for the drawings. No purchase is required, and the winners do not have to be present to win.

Bud Lisso, manager of Foxworth-Galbraith in Winters says, "each one of our participating stores is giving away a TV so you can be sure that area residents will be winners Saturday," he adds, "be sure and come watch the drawing - you or a friend could win a free TV OR friend could win a free TV or one of those gift certificates".

The valuable prizes being given away at 3 p.m. Saturday are part of the special promotions planned by Foxworth-Galbraith during the next six months. The company is celebrating its 75th year, because the first of today's Foxworth-Galbraith Building Materials Centers opened at Stratford in the Texas Panhandle in 1901.

MRS. O'CONNOR'S WEEKLY COLUMN

It's "Wienie Roasting" Season Again!

How popular this great American sausage is with all age groups is underscored by the fact that more than one billion, 319 million pounds of wieners were produced in 1974 (fiscal year) under inspection by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Nothing is so easy to prepare on the outdoor grill as wieners, frankfurters, hotdogs or whatever you prefer to call this sausage. Since the meat has been smoked and cooked during the processing, hot dogs need only to be heated thoroughly to bring out their flavor.

Of course, if you're too hungry to let the flames of your fire die down so that only the glowing coals are left for cooking, then you can eat hot dogs without heating them. They will be perfectly safe if you have kept them properly refrigerated.

You can understand why if you understand how hot dogs are processed. This begins with the grinding of the meat - beef, pork or poultry or any combination of these meats.

After this initial grinding, curing ingredients and spices are added in carefully controlled amounts, and the mixture is more finely chopped for 8-12 minutes. Cold water or ice is added during this stage to help keep the meat cool and to add sufficient moisture for good texture and consistency. USDA regulations limit the use of water or ice to 10 percent.

Next comes the stuffing of the chopped mixture into either natural or artificial casings. Natural casings are derived from thoroughly-cleaned intestines of sheep or swine, and are left on the sausage at the completion of processing. This results in a hot dog or wiener with a "skin." Artificial casings, on the other hand, are made from cellulose, and are peeled off after processing—resulting in a "skinless" product.

After stuffing, the casings are given a twist at regular intervals to from individual links—of various lengths, depending upon local preferences.

Next comes the smoke-house, where the hot dogs are smoked for one to three hours. This develops the appetizing flavor and permanent, natural red color of the hot dogs. And, most importantly, it almost completely destroys any surface bacteria.

The hot dogs are then removed from the smoke-house, place in a tight chamber, and cooked by continuous sprays of hot water at about 160 degrees Fahrenheit. This is followed by chilling sprays of cold water, "peeling" of the skinless hot dogs, and temporary storage before packaging.

All formulas for hot dogs must be approved in advance by officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service. Naturally, these formulas vary between manufacturers and between various regions of the country, since each meat packer attempts to produce a distinctive product that will appeal to his customers.

The formulas, however, must conform to specific guidelines for production of sausage under federal inspection. This assures you—the consumer—that the product will be wholesome, free of harmful ingredient and truthfully labeled.

Packaging and labeling of hot dogs receive particular attention from USDA meat inspectors.

Federal regulations expressly prohibit the use of any packaging that might be misleading or deceptive in terms of color, quality, or the kind of product. Transparent or semitransparent wrappers which are imprinted with red lines, letters, or illustrations are closely scrutinized when used on frankfurters. Federal inspectors insure that at least 50 percent of the frankfurter is visible through an area of the wrapper that is free of color, print, or illustration, to insure that the actual color if the frankfurter is easily recognized.

The label is your complete "buyer's guide," for it tells the full story about the product—including an accurate statement of ingredients listing in a descending order of predominance.

No matter which name is on the product you buy—hot dogs, wieners, franks, frankfurters or furters—you can depend on the sausage being wholesome.

Like all meat and poultry products, hot dogs are monitored through all stages of processing, labeling and packaging by federal or state inspectors—explicitly for your protection.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Texans are going to get to vote on a new constitution this year after all.

Final legislative agreement on the article-by-article revision proposal will send it to the polls November 4 for a showdown decision by voters.

A major campaign is shaping up for the document, and several efforts can be expected against individual sections.

At least, the revision is shorter, simpler and better organized than the present patched-up constitution. It would give the governor needed fiscal controls, appointive power and agency reorganization authority.

The proposed unified court system is not without some strong criticism, as well as backing. The finance article requires uniform standards and procedures for tax appraisal and countywide appraisals.

Counties, through the new local government article, would be able to change their governmental structure and adopt ordinances. Environmental protection would be mandated along with access to comprehensive health care and equal education.

Voters will decide earlier on two constitutional changes — on April 22. On the ballot then are recommended "emergency" improvements in state employees' and school teachers' retirement programs and a $600 a month pay scale and expense account increases for legislators.

MONEY RUNNING OUT
State revenues, rapidly shrinking in spite of a once-fat $1 billion "surplus," will be far short of needs for real school finance reform, two government officials maintain.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Legislative Budget Board chairman, predicted about $450 million to $500 million will be available after the general state budget is approved. LBB Director Tom Keel estimated the main budget "leftover" at $472.8 million. That's nearly $300 million below the most modest pricetag of major education finance bills backed by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Hobby said the teachers will get a pay raise — less than they are asking — but many other provisions of the Briscoe and Texas State Teachers Association bills cannot be financed.

PRIMARY DELAYED
Presidential preference primary legislation went to conference committee with initial Senate instruction to retain a self-destruct feature which would make the legislation effective for 1976 only.

Sponsors are still trying to get rid of the mandate so they can make the primary a permanent election procedure, unless repealed, as is the case with most laws.

WATERWAYS BILL PASSED
The Senate designated Texas Highway Department as state sponsor for a joint state-federal effort to maintain 426 miles of Gulf Intracoastal waterways. The Department will cooperate by providing spoil disposal areas along the 426 mile main channel from the Sabine River to Brownsville.

COURTS SPEAK
The State Supreme Court will review a Laredo case which Atty. Gen. John Hill claims may have major consequences for enforcement of deceptive trade practices court orders.

The High Court will also hear arguments May 14 in Exxon's appeal from a damage verdict following suicide of an Abilene truck driver who was injured earlier in a refinery accident.

Two wives of a Chambers County man who died in a Java Sea shipwreck in 1970 are entitled to inherit from his $51,031 insurance-and-unpaid wages estate, the Supreme Court held.

A $10,500 jury award to a Marshall farmer for pollution damage from Atlas Chemical Industries effluent was upheld by the High Court, but a $25,000 exemplary damages award was rejected.

The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed a rape conviction of four San Antonio men because their trial was not postponed to accommodate a lawyer-legislator who had been called into special session.

A Hillsboro burglary conviction of two was also reversed since the jury relied on testimony of an accomplice witness.

AG OPINIONS
Where a county tax assessor-collector is required to assume collection of a city's taxes, he must do so without regard to whether the city's ratio of assessment for prior years has been different from the county's, the Attorney General has held.

In another recent opinion, Hill concluded planning and development of state parks and historic sites may be financed from Texas Parks Fund 31 financed by cigarette taxes.

COUNTIES SHIFTED
Seven West Texas counties have been moved from the Northwest Territory to the Central Inland Territory, with a reduction of homeowners and extended coverage rates. Montague, Jack, Young, Wise, Eastland, Brown and Stephens counties asked the realignment for insurance on buildings. Counties said they didn't have hail, tornado and windstorm damage sufficient to require they stay in the high-rate territory.

SHORT SNORTS
Comptroller Bob Bullock reported unemployment payments climbed 25 per cent last month, to a March total of $20.4 million. The Comptroller said tax revenues will decline when unemployment payments exceed $1 million.

Helath Maintenance Organization legislation, providing for a new system of pre-paid, fixed-premium medical and health care services, passed the Senate and is expected to pass the House.

Texas Research League said a tax bill may be necessary this year, regardless of Gov. Briscoe's threats to veto one.

The Governor signed into law a bill assigning priority to in-state use of gas produced from state-owned land.

School teachers plan a giant rally here April 26 to demonstrate support for public school finance reform — and $10,000 a year minimum salaries for teachers.

Texas wheat farmers are expected to harvest a record 1975 crop, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White predicted.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Gov. Dolph Briscoe appointed Abe M. Katz of Corpus Christi to the Finance Commission of Texas Building and Loan Section.

Among other appointees of the governor announced recently were T. Gilbert Sharpe of Brownsville, as 138th district judge; John A. Mehos of Galveston, to the Gulf States Marine Commission (reappointment).

Walter V. Duncan (reappointment) of Richardson and Russell M. Irving of Beaumont to the Credit Union Commission; and Milton C. Dalchau of Llano, John W. Hancock Sr. of El Campo, Sam K. Seymour Jr. of Columbus and Jake Strahan of Burnet (reappointees) to the Lower Colorado River Authority.

SHORT SNORTS
The Senate cleared the way for an environmental study of Texas bays and estuaries.

An April 14 hearing has been scheduled on a House resolution to rescind Texas ratification of the controversial Equal Rights Amendment.

Gov. Briscoe signed into law legislation allowing real estate loan interest, including so-called front-end "points," to be spread over the life of a loan.

A bill to allow public school teachers to conduct periods of silent prayer or meditation passed the House by a big margin.

Five new applications to sell more than $3.2 million in securities have been filed with the State Securities Board in the last two weeks.

A 13-member Texas Livestock and Dairy Industry Task Force will push for a federal meat import agreement to ease economic declines.

C. T. Parker's Weekly News Column

Petunias for a Colorful Landscape

Petunias are one of the most popular and easy-to-grow flowers and can provide a world of color for the home landscape throughout the spring and summer, says C.T. Parker, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

They are available in a multitude of colors and can be used as bedding plants and in borders, planters and hanging baskets.

Parker recommends planting petunias in a sunny spot although they will tolerate light shade.

The easiest way to grow petunias is to buy young plants. Don't start them from seed unless you are an experienced gardener, cautions the agent.

Adding organic matter such as peat moss or well-rotted manure will improve the quality of soil and will boost flower growth. Apply an inch or two of the material to the soil and spade it in, advises the agent.

Plant the flowers only as deep as they were growing previously or little more shallow. If plants are set too deep, they will rot off at the soil line. Space plants about 12 to 16 inches apart.

Water plants well immediately after planting so the soil is wet to a depth of four to six inches. Plants grown in peat pots will have to be watered more often because the soil dries faster in these pots.

Apply a complete fertilizer about a week after the petunias are planted and make monthly applications throughout the growing season, notes Parker.

However, be sure no fertilizer is left on the plants, and always water thoroughly after each application.

If petunias start to decline in later summer, Parker suggests cutting back or thinning the flowers. However, a little care and regular applications of fertilizer and water will keep plants in good condition.

Petunias require little special care and have no serious disease or insect problems, notes the agent.

The only disease problem is botrytis which can be controlled by spraying with captan, zineb or ferbam every 7 to 10 days during a rainy period. Spacing the plants properly will usually prevent this disease.

Aphids sometimes attack the plants but can be readily controlled with malathion spray or dust. Slugs may also feed on petunias and can be controlled with metaldehyde.

Applying a mulch such as shredded bark, wood chips or peat moss around the plants will help control weeds, adds Parker.

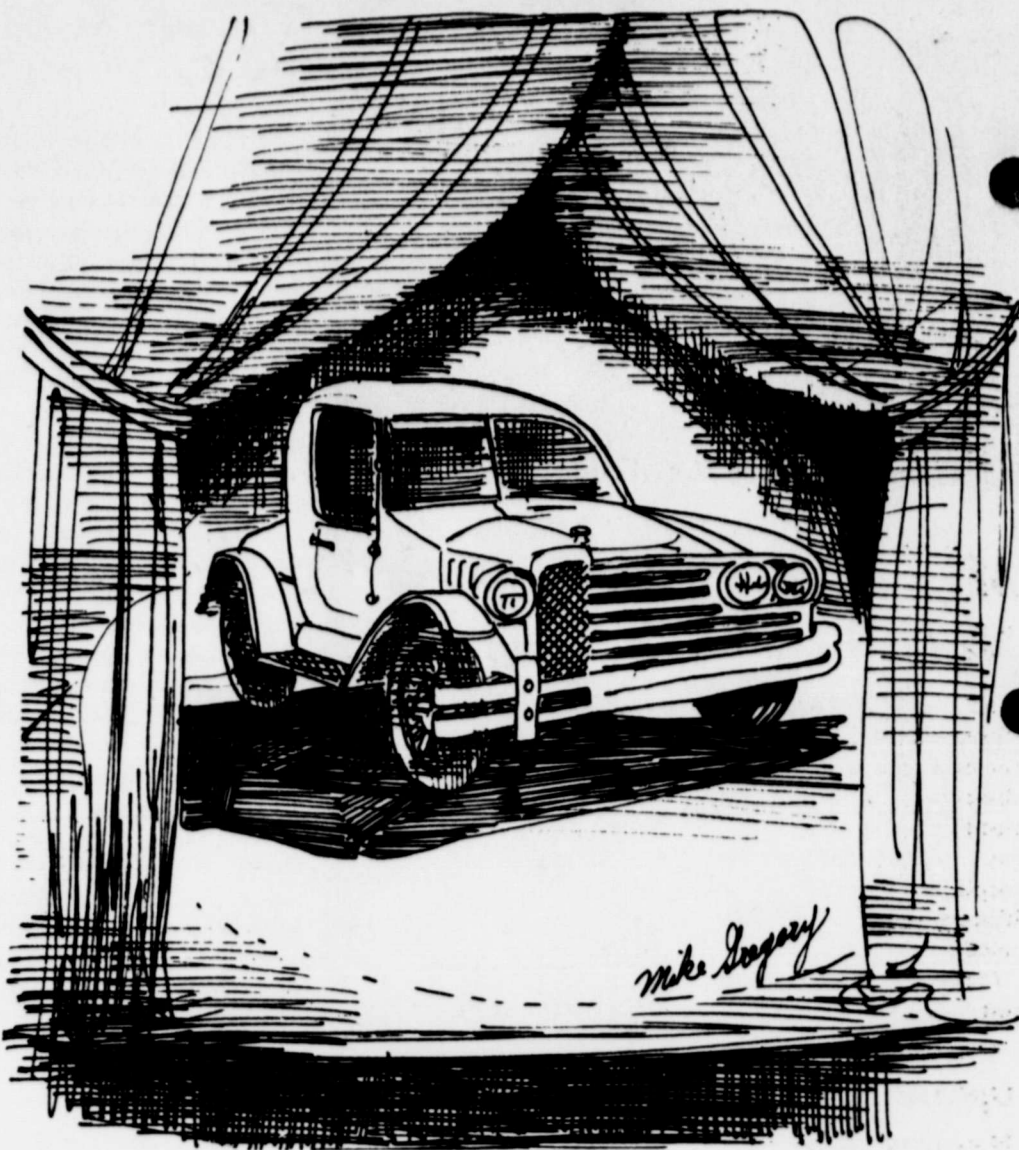

Vegetables in Flower Beds

With the increasing interest in home vegetable gardening, homeowners may want to consider planting a few vegetables in their flower beds this spring.

With sufficient garden space a limiting factor with many homeowners, numerous vegetables do well when planted in flower beds around the home, points out Parker, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Leaf lettuce makes an ideal border plant and will grow in many areas around the home that receive only partial shade. Most varieties will be ready for harvesting 45 to 60 days after planting. The red-leafed variety Ruby not only adds color to the flower bed but also provides food for the table.

The new economy model

Parsley is another vegetable crop that makes an ideal border planting and can be harvested almost the year round when grown in an area receiving partial shade.

Onions or their close relative-chives, leeks and garlic-will all do well in flower beds that receive limited amounts of sunlight.

In fact, most leaf-type vegetables as well as the bulbing types will do well in areas that receive only partial sunlight, notes the agent.

Tomatoes, eggplants and peppers should be located in a bed that receives at least four to six hours of good sunlight each day. Most fruiting crops require a considerable amount of sunlight for good growth and should be planted on the south side of the home to receive as much light as possible. Morning sunlight is often more desirable than mid-afternoon light, especially during the hotter months of the year, points out Parker.

plants during the season will help insure high yields of quality vegetables.

Of course, control measures should be taken if insects or diseases become a problem on vegetables or flowering plants during the season.

With a little care and attention, you will be harvesting nutritious vegetables and flowers, adds Parker.

Amendment Election

fixed incomes. . . Broader investment authority conveyed on the board of trustees by the proposed amendment, while including strict safeguards for fund security, makes it possible for the board to secure greater returns which will, in turn, insure actuarial soundness for the program.

ARGUMENT AGAINST NO.1

The consolidation into one section of the constitution of such diverse retirement pension provisions as those for state employees, teachers, and county and municipal employees could endanger each system by attempting to make general provisions apply in dissimilar situations. It is imperative that the costs of state government be reduced if further inflation is to be halted. An increase in the state's share of contributions for retirement benefits up to the maximum of 10 percent of the aggregate compensation paid to the individuals participating in the system could prove just one more step upward in government expenditures at a time when tax dollars are becoming harder and harder to obtain and more and more money is needed in this inflationary period to finance state services.

ARGUMENT FOR NO. 2

The legislator can no longer be considered a part-time official. Increasing complexity in the problems of state government and greater expenditure of time as a member of standing and special interim committees meeting between sessions leaves the legislator little time to devote to his private business or profession. The $4,800 annual salary now provided in the constitution is inadequate to meet present-day costs of living. Many qualified persons do not become candidates for legislative seats because they are unable or unwilling to make the financial sacrifice involved in service at the present constitutional salary.

ARGUMENT AGAINST NO. 2

A substantial pay increase for members of the legislature during this critical period of inflation and recession would increase the costs of state government and bring about a resulting increase in taxes at a time when the people are least able to pay. The Texas Constitution requires the legislature to meet in regular session not to exceed 140 days every two years. Thus, the job of a legislator is not envisioned as a full-time one, and the official holding a seat in the house of representatives or the senate should not receive a full-time salary. The costs of state government would continue skyrocketing, and the ever-burdened taxpayer would again suffer the consequences.

Girl Scouts To Have Fair April 26

Any individual or organization wishing to reserve booth space may call Mrs. O. J. Murray, 754-4601. A charge of $5 will be made for booths at the fair.
