HOME TOWN Talk

By R. C. THOMAS

How would you like to look at your front yard some morning and discover someone had dumped a truck load of trash on your lawn? Or how would you like to see a truck load of garbage and trash dumped in the curb of the street in front of your home? How would you feel if you were driving down Main Street and saw a truck load of junk dumped under the traffic signal? How would you like to be surrounded by trash on every hand as you drive home or to town—if you live in town?

If you are a rural resident, that's the way you are living! Because there seem to be many people in our community who think the county roads, and even the main highways, are dump grounds, where they can drive up with their trash and garbage, and tree limbs and shrub trimmings, and dump them out! Drive out most any county road and count the miles you have to travel without seeing someone's dump—you can count the vacant miles on the fingers of one hand!

Although there have been properly located dump grounds and disposal sites since most of us were big enough to rake leaves, it seems there are many people who would rather leave their household—and commercial—trash by the side of the road. They don't want to take the trouble to drive to the proper dumping site. Basically, they have no respect for the rights of other people. The act of hauling the trash off their own premises proves they don't want the stuff around their own homes—and they probably would be the first to howl if someone left garbage on the street in front of their own homes. But they seem to think that any spot alongside country roads is the proper place to throw their trash. They're really to be pitied, for their lack of concern and thought.

There probably will be some who question the photo coverage alongside this column . . . they may think we should have used a picture of a pretty girl in place of this picture, and not show the world how filthy our countryside is getting to be, because of the don't-care attitude of some of our citizens. But if this picture can remind some thoughtless person to take his trash to the proper disposal site, then it is well worth it . . . the next one just might be a full page picture.

Some people may not realize it, but identity of the person throwing out trash can be traced . . . easily.

Oh, yes, this pile of trash pictured on the right was just over the hill from the city's controlled landfill disposal area!

Blizzard Picked On All-District Team

One member of the 1975 Winters High School Blizzard football team was named to the District 6-AA All-District team, and another was named to the offensive second team and received honorable mention for the defensive team.

Jimmie Chapman, a 5-11 175-pound junior in Winters High School, was named to the All-District offensive team as a running back. Chapman saw outstanding action during the 1975 football season, as the Blizzards ended the season with a 2-7-1 record.

Jack Fairey, 5-10, 148-pound lineman, and one of only five seniors on this year's Blizzard squad, was named lineman on the All-District second team, offense, and received honorable mention as a linebacker of defense.

Although the Blizzards ended the season with an unimpressive record, they were a "growing" team, with little depth and much inexperience. This young team, with most of them expected to return next year, exploded and held the district champion Anson Tigers to a 14-14 tie in their last outing of the season.

ALL DISTRICT TEAM

Members of the 1975 District 6-AA All-District team were:

Offense

QB: Tony Watts, Anson, senior.
RB: Don Earl, Stamford, junior;
Mike Rodriguez, Ballinger, senior;
Jimmie Chapman, Winters, junior;
Delbert Thompson, Hamlin, junior.

Linemen: Rick Craig, Hamlin, senior; Jerry Vaughn, Anson, senior; Matthew Torres, Anson, senior; Ken Mayberry, Hamlin, senior; Rex Cook, Ballinger, senior.

WHS Students In All-District Band

Twenty-two members of the Winters High School Blizzard Band were named to the 102-member All District Band in tryouts held in Llano Saturday.

Winters had the second largest number of chairs in the All-District Band, with Brady winning the most chairs. Lampasas was third, and Early, fourth.

This is the largest number of Winters band members to be named to All-District Band in several years, Band Director Kirke McKenzie said.

Named to the All-District Band from Winters were Toni Hambright, piccolo (1st alternate); Cathy Colburn, Teresa Wright, Toni Hambright, flute; Shelia Mathis, E flat clarinet; Shelia Mathis, Becky Bryan, Fran Hoppe, Jeanene Hoppe, Cheryl Bahlman, B flat clarinet; Omega Ortiz, bass clarinet; Tonya Bahlman, alto saxophone; Steve Esquivel, Randy Drake, trumpet; Randy Davis, trombone; David Clark (1st alternate), baritone.

Other Blizzard Band members in the tryouts were Judy Sneed, Kathy Fenwick, Becky McKnight, Marilyn Powers, Becky De La Cruz, Rhonda Davis, Cody Hord, and Reggie Boles.

Blizzard-Bearcat Exes Will Play Saturday Night

Former members of Winters Blizzard football squads, and ex-Ballinger Bearcats, will tangle in an annual benefit event on Blizzard Field Saturday night. Kickoff at 7:30.

There will be an admission charge, and all funds received will go to the Blizzard Boosters and the Bearcat Boosters.

All interested Winters exes are asked to meet at the Blizzard fieldhouse at 10 a.m. Friday to complete plans for the game, and to draw uniforms and receive assignments.

38 Girls Are In Sno Queen Contest

Lions District Governor Will Visit

Paul A. Bozeman of Midland, District Governor of District 2-A1, Lions International, will make an official visit to the Winters Lions Club Tuesday, December 2.

The local service club recently voted to make the meeting a ladies night affair, inviting their wives to join them for a special dinner. The dinner will be held in the Winters Community Center, beginning at 7 p.m.

There will be no regular noon meeting for the Lions Club next Tuesday.

District Governor Bozeman has been employed by Texaco Inc., as a draftsman for 19 years. He is a member of the Midland Evening Lions Club, and has served in most elective offices in that club, in addition to serving as a Zone Chairman and District Hearing Chairman and Deputy District Governor, Region I.

The special guest will be accompanied by his wife, Betty, when he visits the Winters Lions Club.

The banquet dinner next Tuesday evening will be served by the Winters Women's Catering Club.

Bicentennial Plans Underway

A majority of the people in the Winters community will be included in the many activities which are being planned locally to celebrate the Bicentennial, which will wind up with a three-day Bicentennial rally ending Sunday, July 4, 1976.

In a meeting of the Bicentennial last Wednesday, plans were made and discussed for the months-long celebra-

DWI Classes To Be Held Here Dec. 1, 2

Special classes for DWI offenders probated in Runnels County will be held at the Winters City Hall, Monday and Tuesday, December 1 and 2, and again December 8 and 9, from 6 to 8 p.m.

This is the third class session for county DWI offenders, and is partially funded from the Governor's Office of Traffic Safety. Tom Watson, project director, is technician for Nolan and Runnels Counties Council on Alcoholism. This series of special classes is a joint effort of the county and district judges, and the probation officers of the two counties.

Professional speakers will be present and film will be shown.

Watson said these classes are an attempt to reduce the number of repeat DWIs by approximately 70 percent in Nolan and Runnels counties.

tion. James L. West, president of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the festival committee, outlined plans for the three day rally next July, and named twelve people to work on that committee. That rally will include a mass service of all churches, to be held at the football stadium. This group also will plan the ceremony when the Bicentennial flag and certificates are presented to the city of January 26.

The Rev. Robert Lindsey and Mrs. M. Woelke represented the Ministerial Alliance, with the suggestion that all churches participate in some way during the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, January 18-24.

Kirke McKenzie, chairman of the heritage committee, presented a four-part program for reconstruction of the old Tinkle Park ban stand, with February 15 set as the completion date for the foundation to be laid at the City Park, and April 25 for completion of the entire stand, which will be moved into Winters from the Tinkle farm, where it has been for about 50 years.

McKenzie also recommended that the park layout be modified, the road changed to compliment the band stand, and that the City Park be renamed Tinkle Park.

Suggestions were made to establish a memorial fund through which pioneers of the community could be

'Family Living' Class Is Co-ed

"Home Ec" in high school usually is considered strictly a girls' area, with cookin' and sewin' and housekeepin' primary subjects of study . . . a female counterpart of the Future Farmers program.

However, just as a few girls have entered the Future Farmers program, so have boys taken advantages of many of the subjects offered in the Future Homemaking department in Winters High School.

One area of the home economics department especially applicable to high school boys is the Home and Family Living class being offered. This facet of home education offers both female and male students an opportunity to work in areas which affect their own lives and their futures. In the Winters High School program, one day a month is set aside for Home and Family Living class meetings, with the boys eagerly taking part.

Students in the special Home and Family Living class have become concerned about the unmet needs of the community's senior citizens. So, they decided to volunteer their services to the local senior citizens home. They invited Mrs. J. B. Whitlow, recreational director of the home, to speak to their class. Then they decided to get better acquainted with the senior citizens, and organized field trips to the home, where they direct games, bingo, and just regular old fashioned get-togethers.

According to Mrs. Cecil Hambright, home economics teacher who directs the Home and Family Living class, the students have found their visits with the elderly "have led to new friendships and self-fulfillment." The program also could open doors to new careers, she said. Services for the elderly is a rapidly expanding job-career field, for both male and female students. A knowledge of food and nutrition, home management, consumer education and family living—all home economics subject areas—can give one a head start in this field, Mrs. Hambright said.

Students who have visited the senior citizens home within the past few days were Adriane Edwards, Rodrick Bredemeyer, Kent McMillan, Lewis Eubanks, Doris Waldrop, Jodie Winton, Johnny Plumley, Becky DeLaCruz, Robert Snell, Darrell Kurtz, Roland Garza, Ronald Hutton, Sarah Parramore and David Clark.

History does not have to be ancient to be of importance. We are all making history each day of our lives and only the test of time will tell if we have done well.

We have to study past events for if we don't know our beginnings how can we understand the present and proceed in the right direction for the future.

In an effort to acquaint tourists with what Winters has to offer and also to inform citizens of current events and facts concerning our town, the tourism committee of the Chamber of Commerce began issuing monthly in September of 1974, a xeroxed sheet of information called an info-gram.

The slogan "WINTERS WONDERLAND" was adopted and every person urged to take part in making our town truly a WONDERLAND!

In keeping with this slogan the info-gram was headed WINTERS WONDERGRAM - A WONDERFUL CITY.

Headline comments are made on state and national news as relates to us and a paragraph on "What you need to know about Winters" follows. The remainder of the page is concerned with dates of events for the month. This encourages people to read the newspaper for more information, as events can only be listed.

Usually the Wondergram concludes with the statement "WINTERS-a wonderful city. What are you doing to keep it that way? Be informed, friendly, cheerful and helpful."

Each month 300 of these fact sheets are placed in motels, cafes, and other places of business by the committee: Mrs. Milton Gerhart, director; Mrs. George Poe, chairman; Mr. and Mrs. George Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin Pace, Mrs. W.H. Lockhart, Mrs. Bud Busher, Estella Bredemeyer, Nelan Bahlman and Ted Meyers.

A different business or company sponsors the Info-gram each month.

We know that we have something for everyone, from an excellent school for children of all ages to a modern hospital and facilities, but it took a visitor from Dallas to point out that we have a nearly perfect retirement community - really superior - she rates it.

In an eight page analysis covering ten points she said, "Winters is a really superior retirement community, it is indeed a Wonderland!"

In summation she said: 1. A temperate climate, when six months of the year is Spring and Fall, you can possibly do without either costly heat or air-conditioning much of the time. Not only is this economical but it is also healthful.

2. Attractive churches for all faiths, without steps to climb, except the Lutheran Church. And she suggests that it is so charming that the climb is worth the effort and she recommends that it be left "as is."

3. A town that is small enough to walk places or to know your neighbor well enough to ask for a ride without obligating yourself for life. But large enough to offer the necessities of civilization.

4. Housing, here, at first Winters seems deficient, but a short time ago the town had 5000 residents and now there are 3000. Where are the houses for these 2000 people? Did the wind blow them away? She suggests that some enterprising person could restore these empty, deserted houses and make them livable again.

As for temporary housing, Winters is in good shape, having an older hotel with 17 rooms, two motels, and an excellent housing project.

(Work is to begin in a few days on a new building project of twelve two-bedroom units.)

5. A variety of places to eat, a drug store fountain, and a new Dairy Queen.

6. A modern hospital and a nursing home, recently enlarged. (Since this was written, we have two new doctors.)

7. A good public library, Winters is one of the few small towns with an effective municipal library.

8. Winters has 88 shops, stores and business sources, as listed by Dunn & Bradstreet.

9. Park facilities-the old City Lake has been given over entirely to park and camping sites, and is a good place to fish. One may also fish at the new City Lake and there is good hunting in our area.

There is a City Park with a roomy community center, high on a windy hill, overlooking an olympic swimming pool. Older people don't go swimming much, but they do like to stay near a swimming pool. And they often fish a lot.

10. And last, but not least, a number of empty store buildings where a retired person can start a second career with a small business of his own. See the possibilities here? Space is an important factor.

The visitor from Dallas also gives a number of reasons why older people make good citizens by asking a series of questions!

What group of people cause the smallest drain on a municipality?

What group has the lowest crime rate?

Who is the most conscientious, orderly and law abiding?

What group has really earned what they are spending now?

What group votes and shows the greatest interest in politics?

Her answer to all these questions is "Old folks" So you Senior Citizens take heart. You have it made. And all you young people have something for which to look forward.

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to thank the people of Winters for the telephone calls, cards and the kindness shown to me while I was in the hospital in El Paso. -Josh Buchanan 38-1tc honored. The Winters Lions Club will sponsor this project, and contributions may be sent to Gattis Neely, secretary of the Lions Club. Names of the honorees will be published.

Bill Graves, chairman of the horizons committee, presented a program planned for the organization of a high school Bicentennial committee and also on for grade school. Plans are being made to use the Blizzard Band and the elementary choir, the Wonderland Echos, in various programs.

Because the horizons committee is to be an ongoing organization, plans for the future such as the establishment of a museum in the old Abilene Southern depot were discussed, and a beginning of planning for the Centennial of Runnels County in 1980.

Committee members reported bluebonnet seeds have been purchased, and announcement will be made for the proper time to plant them. Other flowers as well as trees and shrubs will be planted in public places and along roadsides.

Mayor Homer Hodge, who presided at the meeting, emphasized that there is a job for each person "in making our city more beautiful." He read letters from Senators Loyd Benson and John Tower.

Mrs. Randy Loudermilk, representing the Junior Culture Club, said that her club had taken the project of improving the tennis court at the park, and will make a Bicentennial scrap book.

The Literary and Service Club will furnish drapes for the reception room at the Winters Housing Authority.
