Section 13 of the same article which makes the Agriculaural and Mechanical College a branch of the University reads as follows: The Agricultural and Mechanby an act of the legislature passed April, 1871 located in the and constituted a branch of the University of Texas, for instruction in agriculture, the mechanic ceed $40,000 for the construction absolutely unchanged, and therefore, the relation between the two schools will remain exactly as it is, whether the amendment be adopted or rejected. The proposed amendment change an entirely different part of the Constitution The language of the amendment in so far as it relates to the University and the A. and M.College is as follows: "The legislature, however, shall have power to authorize the issuance of bonds, to be approved by the Governor for the purpose of purchasing additional ground and erect neces sary buildings for the University of Texas, including a medical department, an agricultural and mechanical college and all departments and activities of a complete university of the first-class. The revenue received from the perman ent fund shall be available for the creation of a sinking fund for their redemption at maturity.

From the above it is plain that no new relation between the University and the A. & M. College is established, nor is any change made possible which is not already possible under the present Constitution. Is Judge Guion right in his "pro-nouncements" in behalf of the A. and M. Member Fishing Party Meets With Serious Accident While Cranking Auto. Spent Night In Ballinger.

Mr. Woodruff a prominent merchant of Merkel, happened to a painful accident in Ballinger about nine o'clock Monday morning. He with three other Merkel citizens were en route to their home from a fishing trip to the Concho. They stopped over in Ballinger Sunday night, and after spending awhile here Monday morning were arranging to continue their journey home. It seems that in stopping the car in which the gentlemen were traveling they failed to throw the machine out of gear. The car was left at the garage, and when Mr. Woodruff stepped in front of the car and gave the crank a few "cranks" starting the engine, the car plunged forward and caught him between the moving car and another car, and his leg was badly broken.

He was carried to the sanitarium where the wounded limb was dressed, and as soon as he can stand the trip he will be carried to his home.

Swat the Fly.

Baby bye Swat the fly; Bat him in his evil eye; As he crawls Up the walls Smite him till he falls. We believe his fuzzy feet Have been trailing through the street.

Hit the pat Just like that. So as not to mash him flat; For his brain. Leaves a stain. On the window pane. Try to quench his buzz and fuss Without making any muss.

Sometimes he Seems to be Mashed beyond recovery, Even so, Pert through slow, Off he'll gaily go, By the way that he survives We believe he has nine lives.

This same fly He will hie From the cess pool to the pie; And with feet Just as fleet Paw the putrid meat. Then he wipes his nasty toes On the baby's pinky nose.

Lo! he comes From the slums the bum, With a smear O, stale beer Spread from ear to ear All this vileness on his head

Now he brings Plagues and things Searing death upon his wings, Flie, oh fie! Fatal fly! Shall the baby die? Wash your wings of poisened

In the baby's bowl of milk.

He transfers to baby's bread.

Change in Constitution Will Give Famer More Money for Cotton.

Austin, Texas.—"If this law had Gus Shaw of Texarkana in discussing the warehouse provision of the pro posed amendment to sections 49 and 52 of article 3 of the state constitution. "For we had cotton in the fields, on the turn-rows and at our gins; but we could not find the men with money to buy, nor bankers with money to lend us to relieve the situation.

"The farmers have overlooked a very salient feature in this amendment. It ought to be the intention of the law makers to make these warehouses the banking headquarters for cheap money for the farmers who wish to avail themselves of it. If we could get such a law the time is ripe and hopeful for the government to take our cotton for security and issue money directly to the farmers.

"As I understand it the amendment is only for the purpose of paying the homest debts necessary for the government of the state. If not paid by bond issue, the state must pay this debt by direct taxation, because no Texan will think of repudiating our debt. It seems unwise that we should resort to special taxes which we must pay during the next fiscal year when this amendment will enable the people to distribute the burden among those who would share its benfits. "I can see nothing that will mili-tate against the interest of the Agricultural and Mechanical College. I am an alumnus of this college and I think more of it than I do of any institution of learning in this state, and I would not advocate anything that I believed would be detrimental to the present or future prosperity of this great insti-

AND CAPITALIST

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Padgett, o Dallas, spent several days in Ballinger first of this week, coming here from their big ranch and farm at Leaday. Mr. and Mrs. Padgett spent three or four years on their Leaday ranch, but for past year have been at their home in Dallas and have only been spending a few days every month or two on the ranch. They drove through the country last week, coming from Dallas in their big Hudson car, and after spending a few days at the ranch came up to Ballinger.

Mr. Padgett joined the Ballin ger boosters and carried a load of the boosters out to the picnic at Wingate Wednesday. He express ed himself as being well pleased with Ballinger and the country tf over which the boosters traveled on last Wednesday, and the only complaint he had to make was at the condition of our roads. He stated that it was very unfortunate that the people of this section of the state did not realize the great benefit to be derived from good roads, and the time and wear on both man and team as well as the vehickles it would save if the country had good roads. He said it was only twenty-three miles from Leaday to Ballinger while it was thirty to Coleman, and that if the roads were looked after between here and that section of the country there would be more travel, and that Ballinger would get the benefit of trade that they can not get now on account of the condition of the roads. Mr. Padgett is used to traveling over good roads and he is a booster for good roads.

Mr. Padgett is building a numhas 2500 acres in cultivation, and is installing some modern machinery. He has just shipped out from Dallas a solid carload of machinery, including an eighty horse power traction engine, and ensilage cutters. He will use the engine for ginning, cutting feed and for pumping water for irrigation. He is a live wire and a mighty good man to have in a community, and Ballinger people would be glad to have him make this headquarters when he is out looking after his ranch.

DALLAS POLICE FIND STOLEN COTTAGE

Dallas, Texas, July 10.—The police today announced they had elected chairman of this central committee and J. H. Wilboarn bodily from its site in St. Louis found the house which was stolen street, where its owner, H. Moul-Its up to every citizen to get ton, last saw it. The cottage was busy and back the Sunday schools found about a mile distant on Central avenue, somewhat disguised, according to the police. repapered and fitted with a new! wing. The occupants asserted that they had bought the place and that it was on its present

BALLINGER BOY'S PATENT GREAT SUCCESS

W. H. Roark, a young Ballinger boy, has patented a music eaf turner and today received the plue prints of the new design from the patent office at Washington. Practically all of the holder and turner is constructed of wood and bronze. Comments have been re-They said it had been repainted the effect that the turner will be sold and is much in demand by the best of musicians.

The music leaf turner is constructed for the piano or organsite when they made the purchase. The base is similar to many holders in that it is constructed of section of the country than all oththe turner is made of light bronze wire. At the base are several butbe incurable. It is probable that he will hold on to the new device and sell it himself. He has placed an order with the manufacturers for the making of quite a number of them. They are expected to arrive in Ballinger within the next few weeks. They will be first introduced in Ballinger and be distributed to the musicians of the > Several publishers and manufacturers wrote Mr. Roark after they had seen the blue prints of patented turner that the device will sell readily and has been in demand for some time. Many turners and holders have been constructed and patented by persons lately but none have met with much success. Those who have written Mr. Rroak state that his patented article will be much in demand when put on the mar-

There are two kinds of sale—one is the "Hocus-Pocus" event gotten up, not for any real purpose, but just because someone else is going to have one. The "bargains" offered at such a sale are largely imaginary. The other kind of sale is one that has a sound, sane and logical reason for its existence. It is a carefully planned event to gain a desired end. And actual sacrifices are made by the store to get rid of merchandise that they do not want to carry over until next season---such is the sale announced on this page. It is a cold-blooded business transaction. Prices cut but little figure in this sale, the one and sole object in view being to dispose of, in the next nine selling days, as many goods as possible. We need the cash, as do all merchants when market season is so near at hand. You'll need lots of things, so come prepared to get a whole year's supply. This is the time and the place to buy them at unequaled prices.

Remember, This Applies Only to End-of-Season Goods.

Don't! Don't! Don't! Don't! Don't! Don't!

Don't forget date of sale and be on hand when doors are opened. Don't worry about the price---We will please your pocketbook. Don't forget that we are going to be very busy; so come early. Don't pass this circular by, read it; it's what you want to see. Don't forget Higdon-Melton-Jackson Co., we do things for you. Don't forget to buy a straw hat at just one-half price; a bargain.
