Strategic Retirement Bugun By Italians On Piava River

Rome, Nov. 21.—Because of the disadvantageous battle grounds offered along the Piava river, further strategic retirement of the Italians is necessary, according to reliable information. This will give the teutons more territory and probably leave Venice easy for the enemy. The British and French forces sent to reinforce the Italians have not gone into action, and the Italian troops, single handed, are bearing the full burden of the bitter assault being waged by the teutons.

EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINS

The members of the Order Eastern Star were at home Tuesday night in a reception given in honor of the Grand Officers of the Order. For the occasion a most pleasing program was carried out, and music and refreshments added to the pleasures of the evening.

The grandofficers and those honored on this occasion were Dr. W. B. Halley, Worthy Grand Patron; Mrs. J. Y. Pearce, Grand Martha; Mrs. Ada Wade, of Paint Rock, Assistant District Deputy Grand Matron. These officers were elected at the state meeting recently held at San Antonio.

Turkey Market Hits the Bottom; Hold Your Turks

The embargo on turkeys has caused a slump in prices that practically puts the turkey buyers out of the market. Buyers are paying ten and eleven cents and do not want the turkeys at this price.

A local poultry buyer says the people should not sell their turkeys now, but hold them for the Christmas trade, or until after the first of December, when there will no doubt be a better market.

Those with turkeys to sell do not understand why the government should place an embargo on turkeys, and by so doing knock the market, but such action is for the benefit of the poultry growers, and not for the poultry buyers or the packers.

The food administration recently discovered that forty million pounds of dressed poultry was being held in cold storage in the north and eastern markets. The owners of such poultry were notified to place it on the market, and said it must move during the month of November at some price. In order to force this poultry on the market for the Thanksgiving season the administration forbid the packing of poultry or shipment from Texas until after the first of December, forcing the consumers to buy cold storage poultry for Thanksgiving.

Another object in placing an embargo on turkeys, and prohibiting dressing until after Thanksgiving, was to give more time for turkeys to mature and thereby increase the food production. Heretofore many young turkeys have been thrown on the market when if they had been held for a month it would have increased the food supply many millions of pounds.

"I believe that we will be able to pay 15 or 16 cents per pound for turkeys within a few days after the first of December," said a local poultry buyer today, "and I wish you would urge the people to hold their turkeys for a few days."

U. S. SOLDIERS IN TOUCH WITH VILLA

John McNeill, of the Winters country, is just back from a visit to his son on the Mexican border. Mr. McNeill's son is serving Uncle Sam in keeping watch on the border, and is stationed with a squad of American soldiers near Presidio and just across the line from Ojinaga, the Mexican town recently captured by Villa. Mr. McNeill says the American troops were in easy reach of Villa and could have captured him without much trouble. The Ojinaga battle was in plain view of the American troops and they could keep tab on Villa's band with their field glasses. There was an eagerness on the part of the American troops to cross over and get the Mexican bandit, said Mr. McNeill, and it was no doubt the opportune time for the United States to step in, and settle the trouble. Mr. McNeill stated that not only did the refugees from Ojinaga flock to the Texas side, but Villa sent his wounded over the line for treatment, giving them gold with which to pay their way and get medical aid.

NUMBERS MUST REMAIN ON CARS

Austin, Nov. 20.—A number once given or assigned by the State Highway Commission to an automobile, motorcycle or other motor driven vehicle stays with said vehicle according to a ruling issued by the State Highway Department.

When the ownership of a car changes hands, the number follows the car. In event the owner of the car should sell it but decide to keep the number, he would have to pay the tax on the car although he has sold it.

The law also reads that equal responsibility shall devolve upon the owner of a number and the person to whom the car may have been sold, until a record of the transfer has been made with the State Highway Commission. The commission has been receiving many inquiries on this question.

Roy Sharp Lands In France

Mrs. Mary Sharp received a cablegram from her son, Roy, today, stating that he had arrived at a French port. The cablegram was a brief one and was dated today and only announced safe arrival in France.

Roy received his commission as a lieutenant at the first officers reserve training camp at Leon Springs, and was sent to Mincola, Long Island, shortly after the training camp closed and after he had been given a few days to visit home folks. He sailed from Mincola on Nov. 6th, and the message today is the first news from him since that date.

PIONEER NEWSPAPER MAN DIES SUDDENLY

P. E. Truly died at his home on Hutchings Ave., at eleven o'clock Tuesday night, death coming suddenly and within two hours after becoming ill. While he had not been enjoying good health for some time, he was up and about as usual, was down town Tuesday, and engaged in a game of dominoes with friends a short time before he was stricken with heart trouble.

The announcement of the death of this man spread over the city early Wednesday morning and brought sorrow to many friends and those who have known him for more than thirty years. The children residing at different places in Texas were notified and called to attend the funeral.

Pinekey Ethelred Truly was born in Louisiana on July 26, 1859, having lived to be 58 years, three months and twenty-five days old. He lived at other places in Texas before coming to Ballinger, having come to Old Runnels from Eastland county thirty years ago, and came to Ballinger when the survey of the town was made and before there was a house built and when Ballinger was a village of tents.

Shortly after coming to Ballinger Mr. Truly engaged in the newspaper business, and forming a partnership with a man by the name of A. L. Clark he later established the Runnels County Ledger, and published this paper for about fifteen years.

Mr. Truly published newspapers at San Angelo and Coleman, after disposing of his newspaper interest in Ballinger and later returned to Ballinger where he lived up to the time of his death.

After returning to Ballinger and again becoming editor of the Runnels County Ledger, Mr. Truly founded the Daily Ledger, publishing the first daily paper for this city. By sale and consolidation the Runnels County Ledger became a part of the Banner-Ledger, but the Daily Ledger remains as a memory of this good man.

While engaged in publishing a newspaper in this city, deceased was always active in the development of the country and did his

London, Nov. 21.—Winning one of the greatest victories of the war, the forces of Gen Haig have just smashed through the Hindenburg line at various points over a front at least a score of miles.

The British staved their way through the enemy lines for a distance of between four and five miles, breaking through the first defenses of the Germans. The second line, more than a mile beyond the preliminary defenses were also stormed by the British.

Cambra is now almost in the hands of the British and will be the next objective. More than a thousand men and a great number of guns and other stores of supplies were captured by the allies in the successful advance.

Gen. Pershing Witnesses Victory.

With British Armies in France, Nov. 21.—Gen Pershing witnessed the great British victory just won by the Haig troops.

Dr. W. A. French and wife of Athens arrived in Ballinger Wednesday to visit R. W. Bruce and family here a short while.

Father Gollbach returned Tuesday night from Coleman, after spending a few days there.

700 SHEEP DIE FROM STARVATION

San Angelo, Nov. 21.—Seven hundred sheep are dead at Barnhart, fifty-four miles west of San Angelo on the Orient railroad, as the result of starvation and of poisoning that is thought to have been caused by eating parched milk weed. The report of this, the first great fatality to livestock in West Texas due to the drought and the lack of shipping facilities, was received Tuesday morning. The ownership of the flock that died from want of feed had not been learned in the city at noon Tuesday. J. F. Treadwell, inspector for the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association, was absent and, it was believed had gone to Barnhart to investigate conditions there. A. B. Sherwood, cashier of the Western National Bank, on Monday saw the dead animals lying in heaps in a lane near Barnhart. It was understood that the sheep had been brought to the town for shipment. The delivery of stock cars for their removal was delayed, no feedstuff of any kind could be obtained and the starving flock ate dry milkweed. Shortly afterward every sheep was dead, and their carcasses had not been removed from the lane Monday night. The loss of the sheep, it is believed, will arouse government officials to the seriousness of the situation in West Texas and both cars and feedstuff, so long promised, will shortly be forthcoming.

LETTER FROM SOLDIER SON BRINGS JOY TO MOTHER

Camp Travis, Texas, Nov. 19.
To The Ballinger Ledger:

As I have been appointed by my captain to represent the boys of Runnels county that is in my company, will write a few lines this evening. Don't know of but two boys in my company from Runnels county. Their names are Sam Baheringer of Ballinger and Sam Farmer of Miles. Many of the boys in the U. S. A. have gone to the front or to training camps. Have found our lives crowded full of new excitements, new interests, new diversion. But I am quite sure that many of the homes that they have gone from are rather empty because of their going. Lives they have left behind are desolate. A mother's world shrinks strangely with the outgoing of her son. Most of the boys here, the old hum-drum life at home seems tame to them, compared with the new existence, with its stimulating visions and exalting purpose. The best way for we boys here to look at the war with all its glare and fear, is to look upon it as only a passing incident. The real abiding life, is the home life, with our fathers, mothers, brothers and sisters. There is no vision broader, no purpose higher, no ideals purer than these, in all the world. But our country has called us, and some mother's son has to answer the call. And it is a worthy soldier who, in the excitements and allurements of the new life of the camps that can still hold sacred in his heart his deep-felt love and consolation to the lonely, longing mother at home. A letter from home is considered by some of the boys a very little thing, but to the ones remaining at home, a great thing. In many homes today, I am sure that the letters from the boy in the trenches and camps are the supreme messages of earth. And many letters are crumpled with many readings, and often blurred with tears, and an sure a good letter is strengthening to many a starving mother's heart. A boy who is seeing his country has often sacred interests to serve as well. However heroic a figure he may cut in camps, he is but half of a man, who fails in his letters to the folks at home. As this is my first time in life to ever write to a paper, will close, as I can't think of anything more to write that would interest the people, who read the Ledger.

If I ever get courage enough to write again, will tell of a soldier's life in training camps, and what is expected of him, or rather what he has to do.

Hoping all the Runnels county people much success, I am,
Jesse Smith,
Company "C" 343 M. G. Co.,

The readers of this paper will glad to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Catarrh being greatly influenced by constitutional conditions requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts through the blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. SANTA FE OFFICIALS DRIVE AUTO ON RAILS

An automobile on rails was seen in Ballinger for a short while Wednesday morning. It was a special made car owned by the Santa Fe, and had wheels grooved to fit the track. The occupants of the car were Mr. Hale, the Santa Fe "Safety First" demonstrator, Trainmaster Knowl, Roadmaster Whidden, and Conductor Callaway. They were making a tour of the entire Santa Fe system, making safety first demonstrations at the larger cities. The car they were traveling in is capable of making ninety miles an hour, they stated, but twenty-five or thirty was their maximum on this branch of the track. They only stopped a few minutes in Ballinger to get orders the same as a regular train, and went on to Brownwood.

An Old Man's Stomach.

As we grow older and less active, less and less food is required to meet the demands of our bodies. If too much is habitually taken the stomach will rebel. When a man reaches the advanced age 85 or 90, you will find that he is a light eater. Be as careful as you will, however, you will occasionally eat more than you should and will feel the need of Chamberlain's Tablets to correct the disorder. These tablets do not contain poison, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to perform its functions naturally. They also cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

Incomplete Report Shows $737.70 for Y. M. C. A.

The committee appointed to solicit funds and handle the work of raising $1000 in Runnels county for the army Y. M. C. A. work among the soldiers, made a partial report Wednesday morning, after one day's work. Up to the time of making the report Ballinger alone had raised in cash $637.70, and the high school committee had pledged $100.

In organizing for work the local committee divided the city up alphabetically, the telephone directory being used as a guide to go by. Each man on the committee agreeing to call on all those whose names begin with a certain letter, and so on down the line.

The committee has only worked one day, and have not seen all those whose names are on their list. Don't get the idea that you will not be called on if your name is not on the telephone list, the directory was only used as a guide in dividing the names, and every man whose name begins with that letter held by the respective committeeman will be called on.

In the mean time, and to save the committee much hard walking and work, you might telephone or call on the committeeman who holds the letter beginning your name and tell him what you are in for on this work. Following is the list as divided alphabetically:

L. Cohen is collecting from all parties whose names begin with A, B, C, D, E.
Scott Mack is collecting from all parties whose names begin with F, G, H, I, J.
J. Y. Pearcee is collecting from all those whose names begin with K, L, M, N, O.

$10 HEAD ADDED TO MISS. CATTLE

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21.—In a letter accompanying a proclamation setting aside Saturday, December 1st, as a day to be celebrated throughout Mississippi because of the lifting of the Federal quarantine against the cattle fever tick, Governor Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi, says:

"So important has been the work of eradication of the cattle tick, so far reaching are its beneficial results, and so greatly should our people congratulate themselves upon the success of this work, that I feel that every one in the State should read it (the proclamation)."

"Much credit is due to the State Live Stock Sanitary Board and to the United States Bureau of Animal Industry for their zeal and untiring efforts to rid our State of this pest and place our cattle upon the markets of the world without quarantine restrictions.

"Our cattle will be enhanced in value ten dollars per head as the result of their free entrance into the markets and I look to see an amazing influx of purebred cattle into Mississippi next. Herebefore owners of purebred cattle outside of the State feared to bring them to Mississippi on account of the Texas fever and consequent quarantine. Mississippi is being looked to by every section now as a great cattle raising State with untold possibilities."

DOCTOR SAYS VINOL IS THE BEST TONIC

Honest Opinion Doctor Cures His Patient

Bedford, Ohio.—"I was in a pitiful condition, weak, nervous and run down so I could not do my housework. I had doctored for years and tried everything under the sun. A friend told me about Vinol. I asked my doctor about it, and he replied, 'It certainly is the best medicine that can be had today. I couldn't give you any better.' I took it, and today I am as well and strong as any woman could wish to be, and it was Vinol that saved me."—Mrs. Frank A. Herkev, Ash St., Bedford, Ohio.
