DEATH OF PIONEER R. R. SECTION MAN

C. E. Rogers died at ten o'clock Friday morning and was buried at five o'clock Friday afternoon in Evergreen cemetery. Death occurred at the home of Mrs. Pollard where deceased had been making his home for some time.

Mr. Rogers came to Ballinger in the early days of the city and for many years was employed by the Santa Fe railroad in the local section. For the past several years he has been in declining health and has not been able to work.

Deceased claimed Philadelphia as his native city. He was seventy-six years old on Oct. 20th, and died two days after his birthday. He is survived by a family.

Dr. Alvin Swindell conducted the funeral services, and deceased was given a burial in keeping with his surroundings in life. The death takes away another one of Ballinger's pioneer citizens.

W. L. Hambricht was here from the Winters country Saturday. He was hit by the hail, but fortunately did not have much cotton open and escaped with possibly not more than a two or three bale loss.

CIVIC LEAGUE WILL GIVE A HALLOWEEN TEA

Tax Collectors Call On Carnival for Heavy Bill

Taxes aggregating almost $1500 were assessed against the Great Southwestern Exposition Shows which have been playing here this week, Saturday, when a representative of the State Comptroller's Department appeared on the scene.

The notice to pay such a heavy tax fell like a bomb shell in the midst of the merry make here and for a time there was much ado in carnival circles and among the officials whose duty it is to handle such matters.

The carnival company set up here for a week's stand under contract with the local band, which contract provided that the band would pay all license and tax.

The band was laboring under the impression that a show tax taken out for a show during the early part of this year was good for a year, and that they would not have to pay any tax, and whatever they received as their part of the proceeds from the

COTTON PASSES 20 CENT MARK

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Further advance of fully five dollars per bale occurred on the cotton exchange here this morning, owing to the continued buying by Liverpool buyers and the increasing optimism over prospects for an early settlement of the British labor troubles.

Cotton for December delivery sold at 21.00 or 103 points above the closing price of yesterday, and more than three cents a pound above the low figures touched during the decline Monday.

The cotton market for the week closed Saturday afternoon stronger than for several days. In fact it was the first time cotton has sold here for above the twenty-cent mark in more than a week.

Following a gain of 100 points Friday, Saturday's market came up with another sharp gain, and as high as 20.50 was paid on the curb.

"If the market should ease back up to 25 cents, my advice to the man with cotton would be to sell," said a prominent cotton buyer today.

With everything on the decline, the farmer can not hardly hope to see cotton sell as high as it did when everything else was at the top. However, the Southern farmer has never received what he should for his cotton, and there is just cause for cotton to stay up, notwithstanding the downward trend of prices for the finished product.

shows would be that much made. The tax authorities have ruled otherwise, and at the eleventh hour held that the carnival had been operating without a license, having paid no tax, and were now due the state, county and city, about $1500 before they could continue business and the representative from the comptroller's office stated that legal action would be instituted at once if the tax money was not forthcoming.

The manager of the carnival holds that he was operating under contract with the band and that the band was responsible for the payment of all taxes, and that the band would be held to the contract.

According to local attorneys the show property is subject to taxes and will not be permitted to move until the tax is paid, and that the operators of the shows are subject to penalty for operating without paying taxes.

While the carnival company representatives and the tax officials and their attorneys were wrangling over the matter this afternoon, quite a crowd was on the carnival ground taking in the shows and bueking the game, none the wiser about what was going on behind the curtains.

The carnival is playing its last day's engagement here today, and is due to pull up stakes and leave for San Angelo Sunday. The week has been a pretty hard one for the company.

In the first place the people in the country had been too busy picking cotton to come to town and attend the shows, and there were not a sufficient number of show going people in the city to support such a large outfit every night. And again the officers saw the bad side to some of the attractions and closed two or three of the shows.

While the carnival came to Ballinger in the face of an apparent anti-carnival sentiment, they will no doubt leave here with somewhat of an anti-Ballinger sentiment on the part of the show folks, and all due to the unfortunate circumstances encountered here.

GOOD PROGRAM FOR BALLINGER Y. M. B. L.

The compilation of the "Program of Work" for the Young Men's Business League has been completed and will be passed upon at the regular meeting of the Directors Monday night. Secretary Williams states that the subject matter evidences a high type of citizenship, from the character of suggestions which were received and incorporated in the program, and that Ballinger was to be congratulated as being one of the few cities of the State that was to operate under a modern and progressive program of this kind.

Other matters of vital interest to the welfare of the city will be discussed at Monday's meeting.

BRITISH STRIKE TROUBLE HELDUP

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The industrial crisis in England was temporarily abridged late today when the striking coal miners accepted an invitation to meet the government representatives for a renewed discussion of the miner's demands, and the railroad men at the request of the miners have postponed their sympathetic strike movement under which the railroad men would have ceased work at midnight Sunday.

The sensational close of the day of the most intense anxiety came as the result of an informal discussion this morning between representatives of the government and coal mine owners, and leaders of the miners and the subsequent meeting of the national union of railway men and miners executive bodies.

WOMEN CAN VOTE Man and Boy Held at Snyder WITHOUT POLL for Murder of B'wood Man

HOUSTON, Oct. 23.— Judge J. D. Harvey, of the Eighth District Court of Harris county, today declared unconstitutional the poll tax law passed by the last call session of the legislature extending the time of poll tax payment to Oct. 22.

Judge Harvey holds that women may vote in the general election on November 2nd, or in any other election held this year without the payment of poll tax.

It is expected that the decision by Judge Harvey will be speedily carried to the supreme court or court of civil appeals and a ruling will be made before the November election.

ARRESTED FOR KILLING COLLEGE STUDENT

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 23.— Sheriff Seth, of Cecil county, Maryland, reported to the Philadelphia police today that he had arrested a man on a train near Perryville, Maryland, early today on the suspicion that he is William Brines, of University St. Dent, charged with killing Elmer Drewes, a Dartmouth College senior here last Saturday night.

An investigation, according to the authorities indicates that jealousy over a girl's affections may have been the motive for the killing of the college student.

CITY MAY LOSE USE OF LIBRARY

The Ladies of the Shakespeare Club of Ballinger are appealing to the members of the Young Men's Business League, and other patriotic citizens to take immediate steps toward relieving the situation in connection with the Carnegie Library.

At the time the building was erected by the Carnegie Foundation, the City of Ballinger entered into a contract to maintain the building as a free public library, reading room, etc. During the years that have followed, the building has fallen into disuse; no seating has been provided for the auditorium, and every clause of the contract with the Carnegie Foundation has been violated. Letters are being received from the builders, demanding an accounting. Ballinger has an excellent chance to lose this beautiful building unless immediate steps are taken toward maintaining the building.

The hour has arrived when something definite should be done. Other cities throughout the land are spending thousands of dollars to erect Community Clubs, and buildings to be used as community centers, designed as memorials to fallen heroes overseas. Here in Ballinger is a beautiful and commodious building, with ample space for books, magazines and dailies, reading tables, game tables, and everything that goes to make a popular Community Club. On the second floor is a well arranged auditorium, in which programs rendered by local talent could be staged monthly.

Sufficient funds should be pledged to open the Library, and keep it open, outfit the auditorium with seats, and provide new books and current reading matter. The Carnegie Library should be made the club rooms of the mass of the people.

In response to a call for the latest developments in the Brownwood murder mystery, The Ledger learned from the Brownwood Bulletin Saturday afternoon that two more arrests had been made and two parties were being held at Snyder as suspects.

A man by the name of Scott, and a boy by the name of Carter, were arrested at Snyder, and were being held awaiting the arrival of Brownwood officers to identify them as the man and boy wanted at Brownwood in connection with the killing of J. N. Weatherby.

The message from Brownwood stated that the men being held were arrested on suspicion and that they suited the description of the man and boy missing from Brownwood since the night of the murder.

A woman by the name of Scott, who, it is alleged, was occupying the house where it is believed the murder was committed and which was destroyed by fire, is being held at Brownwood. The woman returned to Brownwood Wednesday, following the murder on Monday night, and she claims to have been in Oklahoma City, and was returning home.

The man by the name of Scott, and who it is believed is under arrest at Snyder, is said to have been away from Brownwood since last Friday, or at least he had not been seen in the city since Friday, while the murder was committed on Monday night. The Carter boy is said to be the "messenger of death" in the case, and who called at the garage and told Weatherby that he was wanted at the house which a short time afterward, was destroyed by fire. The boy disappeared simultaneously with the burning of the house, and he has not been seen since he called at the garage.

While the murder was a bold one and one of the most brutal in the history of West Texas, the officers have experienced trouble in centering on a clue which would bring to justice the guilty parties. They express every hope of finally running down the proper party or parties, as it is known who was occupying the house at the time of the fire, but the seeming absence from the city of the occupants of the house is baffling the officers.

TEXAS MAN GIVES $20,000 TO FUND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The largest contribution made to the Democratic campaign fund, according to a report made today, was $20,000 made by H. A. Wroe, of Austin, Texas.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—The Democratic National Committee has expended $699,071.69 in the national campaign up to October 21, according to a report filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives today by Wilbur Marsh, treasurer of the Democratic organization.

The total receipts of money from all sources is placed at $677,934.87.

The Republican report shows that the National Republican Committee has expended a total of $2,741,503.34 and has received $2,466,019.54.

The two committee treasurers filed their sworn statements late yesterday. Treasurer Upham, of the Republican committee filing his report simultaneously with the filing of the Democratic report.

MacSwiney Reported Serious
LONDON, Oct. 23.—Grave reports are in circulation today regarding the condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, Ireland, who today began his 72nd day of hunger strike. A statement carried by the Exchange Telegraph Company declared that the mayor's last moments were at hand and death momentarily expected.

A woman's fondest hope is to stay young. She often resorts to paints, powders and cosmetics to hide her years. Some women pay large sums to so-called "Beauty Doctors" in the belief that money will buy youth. Others wear girlish dresses, thinking they can fool the world about their age. But no one is deceived. The more you try to hide your age, the more it shows.

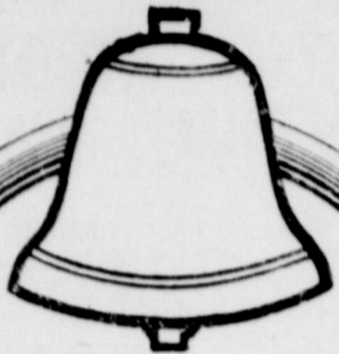

There is but one thing that holds old age back, and that is health. Sickness and weakness bring old age early in life. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a building-up medicine for women. It makes them healthy and strong when they suffer from women's troubles. It keeps them looking young by keeping them well. It is a woman's tonic for the frail, the delicate and those who are nervous, dizzy and who have backache and dragging pains. Favorite Prescription is altogether vegetable and without a particle of alcohol. It is safe to take. Try it now. In tablet or liquid form at all druggists, or send 10c for trial package of the tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

Let us rise again and say that a few brood sows, a few good milch cows and two or three hundred hens on the farm will do more to solve the price of cotton than all the bankers conventions and cotton growers associations combined can do. The world is hungry.

BANKS TURN TO AGRICULTURE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Financing the farmers of the country in marketing of their crops demands new methods of extending credit so as to prevent unjust price depreciation, Henry M. Robinson, a banker of Los Angeles, who was chairman of the United States Bituminous Coal Commission declared today in addressing the convention of the American Bankers' Association. A change in the bankers' point of view and the establishment by producers of co-operative marketing agencies were suggested as means for improving present conditions.

"There are many evidences," declared Mr. Robinson, "of growing dissatisfaction on the part of the producers of many commodities who claim that they are being discriminated against by bankers or those in control of credit facilities, and there is constant agitation by such producers for an extension of the principle of cooperative marketing to remedy or at least relieve the situation.

"Bankers must meet this problem. There must be a modification of the old attitude. Whether this should be done through banking machinery or through proper cooperative marketing remains to be decided. However, some method must be devised for reducing the pressure on the producer which forces him to dispose of his crop, either at the moment the harvest is completed, or while its movement is under way, as this has been too often used as a means for price depreciation. Methods also must be discovered for lowering the cost of financing him."

The tendency of the cooperative organizations of producers is toward use of their great power to the disadvantage of other producers, Mr. Robinson said.

Regarding current practices in the movement of grain and cotton, Mr. Robinson said:

"For many years it has been accepted as a part of the obligation of the banks of the country to finance the movement and storage of grain, but no commodity, considering its importance, has shared as little in the financial resources of the country as has cotton—this principally due to the lack of adequate warehouse system in the production area and lack of an open market for paper issued against the product.

"Insufficient effort has been made to place cotton and its storage on a basis of credit in a farm that would be readily marketable on its own merit.

"The difficulties of financing even legitimate holdings of such commodities as grain and cotton, for the purpose of conducting a movement in an active and orderly way, are becoming increasingly greater and more complex and bankers must use their best thought to see that each producing industry receives a fair share of the available credit and bears its fair share of the burden and pressure when a credit shortage exists.

"In the present emergency, requiring the rationing of credits, a measure of financial support proportionate to cotton's contribution to the credit resources of the country, and with proper consideration for the delays in moving exportable surplus because of

Backward Pupils

You are anxious to give your child every advantage at school, but how about his eyes? Perhaps he is handicapped for lack of glasses.

No boy or girl can do well in school who cannot see distinctly. A case of that kind came under our observation last year—teacher said he was stupid and dull—he did not do well at his lessons. We examined his eyes and found he could not see the writing on the blackboard—glasses changed everything—soon he was leading his class.

Most backward children have poor eyesight. How about your child? No boy or girl can do well in school who cannot see distinctly; with correctly fitted glasses nine out of ten improve immediately in school work.

Success in school promises success in later life. Have your child's eyes examined the first indication of trouble.

MOTHER GAVE IT

Virginia Lady Suffered With Aches and Pains Until Mother Began Giving Her Cardui.

Dublin, Va.—Miss Mary Alice Hughett residing on Route 2, near here, recently told a visitor of her interesting experience with Cardui. Miss Hughett said: "I had been suffering for some time with painful . . . I was pale, didn't feel like going. Would just drag around, and couldn't rest to do any good. I would suffer once a month with my back, sides and head. My limbs would ache and I didn't know what to do, but I knew I must do something, for I didn't get well by letting it run on."

"My mother is a believer in Cardui, for she saw what it did for others as well as herself, so she began giving it to me."

"It wasn't long before I saw a change. It was just what I needed. It regulated me. I began to eat and sleep, and the pain stopped."

"Cardui is without doubt the best female tonic made, and I am glad I can recommend it to others."
If suffering with symptoms such as Miss Hughett mentions, or other ailments peculiar to women, why not begin Cardui at once? Its merit is well established by successful use for more than 40 years.
