Contract Closed for County Farm Agent to Stay on Job

County Farm Agent D. F. Eaton will remain on the job in this county, and will go right ahead with his work. He will attend the state meeting of the National Farm Bureau Federation at Dallas next week, and return here and take up the work of organizing a branch of the National Farm Bureau in this county.

It will be remembered that the United Cotton Growers' Association and the American Cotton Association have been merged with the National Farm Bureau, and the farm bureau is proving of great benefit to the farmers in counties where the organization has been put in operation.

A representative from College Station, representing the State and Federal agricultural departments, was here Thursday and closed a contract with the Runnels County Warehouse Company, whereby the warehouse company underwrites the county's part of the expense of maintaining a Farm Agent in this county, and a contract has been closed with D. F. Eaton to continue the work here.

Sufficient money has been put up by the farmers to keep the work going here. So far the business men have not been called upon for one cent to support the work, but several volunteered and contributed to the fund.

The local warehouse company, composed entirely of farmers, will be responsible for what the county has been paying until a branch of the National Farm Bureau Federation is organized in this county, and then that organization, which will also be composed exclusively of farmers, will take the county's part of the responsibility. However, the county's part of the expense will continue to come out of the pockets of the farmers, as the county has refused to co-operate with the state and Federal government in the work.

While the warehouse company, supported by the farmers, has made it possible to maintain the farm agent here, his work will be unlimited in scope, and he is subject to call to any part of the county and by all farmers who need his services. Mr. Eaton will continue to make his headquarters in the office of the Young Men's Business League here, and will carry on his program of work as heretofore.

THE HIGH COST OF JUSTICE

(Brownwood Bulletin)

While the district court was trying to come to a conclusion as to whether to order a change of venue for the trial of George Hornsby, charged with the J. N. Weatherby murder, County Judge R. E. Lee was calculating the cost of the trial and figuring because of the continued delay in getting the trial under way. When the order for a change of venue was issued, Judge Lee began calculating how much it will cost Brown county to give Hornsby trial in Bell county, and was not at all happy over the figures.

Three days time for 144 veniremen, at $1 each per day, has already been consumed in the trial here, in addition to other court expenses, Judge Lee says, and in the trial at Belton additional veniremen must be summoned and other items of expense already charged here will be duplicated. The cost of trial in Belton will be probably in the neighborhood of $600, Judge Lee thinks, basing his estimate on the cost of the trial of the Harry Spanell case on change of venue to this county from Brewster county. This county still holds a bill for $600 against Brewster county for that trial, Judge Lee said this morning, but expects to collect it soon.

WOMAN ELECTED A BANK OFFICIAL

DENISON, Tex., Jan. 21.—For the first time in the history of Denison, there is a woman bank official here. Miss Margaret I. Kelly was elected cashier of the National Bank of Denison at its recent election of directors and officials.

Miss Kelly has been an employe of the bank for twenty-five years. She began her career as a stenographer when the bank was a struggling little frontier institution in a small frame building. Her affability and application advanced her. Her knowledge of banking affairs grew with the institution and Miss Kelly now is regarded as one of the most capable bankers in North Texas.

USUAL STREET SERVICES TOMORROW

The usual street services under the direction of the local Pastors' Association, will be held tomorrow afternoon at three-thirty. Rev. C. E. Simpson, pastor of the Methodist church, will preach. The members of the various churches are urged to attend the service and assist in any way that they can.

"HOME BREW" LAW CONFLICTS

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—A suit to test the constitutionality of the recent construction placed upon the Volstead act prohibiting manufacture of "home brew," was on file today in the Federal court.

Attorney David Stanbury filed the petition and asserts that the government cannot collect both a revenue tax on home made liquors and at the same time assess a fine for violation of the law forbidding the manufacture of home made liquors.

GETS SCHOLARSHIP FOR BOY HONOR STUDENT

Superintendent J. M. Skinner is in receipt of a letter from Texas Christian University stating a letter from Prof. Skinner saying that Roy Mack was the boy honor student in the 1920-21 class had been accepted as authority for issuing a scholarship in T. C. U. for Roy. The Texas Christian University offered a scholarship to the boy in the local class making the highest grade, and Roy Mack was easy winner, but it seems that the scholarship went astray, and a letter from Prof. Skinner was accepted in lieu of the scholarship.

PREACHER HELD IN MAIL ROBBERY

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Jan. 21.—Postoffice inspectors today raided a local garage and confiscated approximately $75,000, believed to be part of the $185,000 obtained in the theft of thirty-one packages of registered mail here last Friday.

Later the inspectors and officers made another raid and reported that virtually all of the $185,000 obtained in the theft of the registered mail had been recovered, and that one of the four persons suspected of the robbery had been arrested on suspicion in connection with the robbery.

The man arrested is Rev. Guy Kyle, former rector of the Free Methodist church of this city.

J. E. Baker and wife, of the Winters country, were in Ballinger on business Friday.

WORLD EAGER TO LAY DOWN ARMS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—The staggering burdens of taxation, resulting from the World War, has caused the peoples of all nations to favor a world agreement for disarmament, Henry White, former ambassador to France, and a member of the American peace commission to Paris, declared today before the House naval committee, which is holding a hearing on this subject.

Towner Dickinson left for Dallas Thursday afternoon, where he has accepted a position.

COLEMAN ADDS TO LIGHT PLANT

City Commissioner H. M. Thomson and Jerry Lewis, superintendent of the Coleman light and power plant, visited Dallas this week where they purchased the Briggs-Weaver Company a 250-horse power boiler, generator and exciter, at a cost of $8,000 plus cost of shipment and installation, which will aggregate around $10,000.

The new equipment is to be shipped out within thirty to sixty days and will be installed immediately upon arrival.—Coleman Democrat-Voice.

DENIES GRAFTING SHIPPING BOARD

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—Chas. M. Schwab appeared before the Walsh congressional investigating committee today and denied the testimony given yesterday by Col. E. H. Abadie, former comptroller of the United States Shipping Board, to the effect that Schwab's personal expenses for Oct. 1918, amounting to $260,000 were charged to the shipping board.

Mr. Schwab declared that the statements were "absolutely, unqualifiedly, and maliciously false," and that he personally paid all his expenses during the term of office in which he served as director general of the Emergency Fleet Corporation.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, organized during the war by the Bethlehem Steel Company to build ships for the Government, profited "through dishonest overcharges, by upward of $100,000,000 at the expense of the Shipping Board," the Walsh congressional committee was told yesterday by Col. Eugene Abadie, former comptroller of the board.

PROPERTY GOES TO ALIEN WIVES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Approximately $117,000,000 worth of property taken over by the alien property custodian during the World War has been returned to American born wives of Germans and Austrians, and others from foreign countries, it was said today at the custodian's office.

The returns were made under the recent act of Congress which permitted a woman, who before the war, married subjects of enemy countries, to regain her property. Citizens of countries which have since the war been separated from Austria-Hungary, such as Czechoslovakia, and who have filed claims of their property in this country seized by the government under the "trading with the enemy" act, can now recover their property.

WILL MAIL TAX BLANKS SOON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Forms for filing income tax returns on incomes of five thousand dollars or less, will be ready for distribution Monday, the bureau of internal revenue announced today.

The copies will be sent to all persons who filed returns last year, the bureau stated, but the failure to receive a copy will not relieve any one from making return by March 15th.

Will pay liberally for big, white, clean, cotton rags. Ballinger Printing Co. dtf

REPORT ON BILLS BEFORE MEMBERS

AUSTIN, Jan. 21.—Reports on bills referred to both the House and Senate committees are expected to feature the sessions of both branches of the Legislature today. The House appropriations committee has several important bills up for debate, the Veatch bill being one of the foremost.

Most of yesterday was consumed in discussing this bill which proposes a repeal to an act of the 36th Legislature to erect normal schools at Kingsville and Nacogdoches.

Two Pay Heavy Fine for Pulling a "Friendly Joke"

GOOD REPORT FROM SCHOOLS

Jan. 14th instant marked the close of the first term of the session 1920-1921. The work accomplished by a large majority of the pupils, both in quantity and quality, was highly satisfactory. A small number failed to make good largely because of too many outside activities. No pupil generally, can do the work of this school without doing considerable study at night, and parents should see to it that it is done if they expect good grades.

Unless some of these delinquent pupils greatly increase the amount of study done next term they will fail to pass their grades. A large number of pupils could by diligent study, easily double the amount of work done and then have plenty of time for recreation and enjoyment. Sometimes it takes the utmost efforts of both teachers and parents to get satisfactory results in study. We earnestly request all parents of pupils in the higher grades to give the teachers your heartiest co-operation to the end that better work may be done. The teachers of this school invite you to make a thorough investigation of all cases in which the pupil has failed to make creditable grade, and see if the matter can be corrected before it is too late to rectify. The biggest job before the parents of Ballinger today is the making of strong, intelligent, upright, useful citizens out of the boys and girls. The value of an education is too great to be measured in dollars and cents and the best is none too good for your child or anyone else's.

Our enrollment this school year has increased by leaps and bounds. All the rooms have been overcrowded. The primary has been so full that many pupils have been denied admission and the Board of Trustees has had to employ another teacher to take charge of the overflow at West Ward school. So it has been decided to send the primary pupils residing in the Western part of the city to that school and thus relieve the pressure on Central Ward school.

This move may not be very welcome to some people but it can not be helped. All necessary preparations are being made to take care of those who are assigned to that school and we hope all things will turn out well. Work will start up there next Monday.

The High School curriculum has been enriched this year by the addition of chemistry and Spanish, but we need a commercial course added for the boys and girls desiring to prepare themselves for a business life. However, that cannot be done until more room is provided. We have by far the greatest enrollment ever recorded in the history of the High School and if more room is not provided next year it will be impossible to properly carry on successfully the departments of the school.

"Already our schools rank among the best of the state, but may we not yet reach still higher standards of efficiency and service?"

TRAVEL LIGHT—SANTA FE CUTS OFF ONE CAR

Travel has fallen off considerably on the Santa Fe since the holidays, and the company has dropped off one car on train No. 77 and 78. The heavy return of cotton pickers to their homes and the influx of people is back about normal, and the extra coach is not needed to handle the travel.

J. H. Fuller, age 18, and Nugent Grimes, age 21, of the Wingate country, plead guilty in the County Court here Friday and paid fines and costs aggregating about $40 in each case, on charges of shooting into a private residence near Wingate.

Sheriff Flynt made quick work in acting on a complaint filed by Walton Hardwood, a brother-in-law of Fuller and a cousin of Grimes, going out to Wingate Thursday and arrested the two young men and they spent about twenty-four hours in the Ballinger jail.

The two young men plead guilty to the charge but stated that it was only a friendly prank which they played on Mr. and Mrs. Hardwood, whose home they are alleged to have fired a shot gun into. According to their story as related to the officers, they used a blank shell and "punched" the shot gun through the window and as they fired the blank shell they threw a handful of shot in the room which rattled on the floor and made it appear that a charge of shot had been fired into the room.

The young men settled the charge against them by paying the fine and were released from durance. They stated that the trick was not pulled with intention of injuring anyone, and was only a friendly prank, but it seems that the court, and those offended, took the joke in a more serious manner, and it required action of the court to settle the charge.

7 FINES FOR VIOLATION OF MR. VOLSTEAD'S ACT

ABILENE, Jan. 21.—On pleas of guilty to violating the Federal prohibition laws, seven men drew fines ranging from $50 to six months in jail when arraigned before Federal Judge James C. Wilson here this morning.

The man who lives in Ballinger and fights those things which are for the best interests of the people of Ballinger, is out of his place.

Prices, in many lines rebounded from one extreme to another. The condition of the country will not become normal until some commodities bring a better price.

A gift of $100,000 has been made to Simmons College at Abilene, by Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Caldwell, of Breckenridge. Another instance of what oil will do for a fellow.

The man who is complaining about the warm weather in winter, will be the first to howl when the next blizzard sweeps this way. It is quite a jump to the ice cream season when winter wages will wither.

The Brownwood Bulletin, which has always opposed the political aspirations of Congressman Blanton, rises to commend Mr. Blanton for blocking the bill appropriating forty million dollars for bonus money for government employees. The Bulletin perhaps sees the best in the worst of us.

The stockholders of the Abilene fair voted to increase the stock of the exposition, and Abilene is now advertising a fifty thousand dollar fair for next fall. It is just such pluck as this which is giving West Texas the cream of publicity and making West Texas as really the biggest part of the map in more ways than one.

Had Cold and Cough Cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy
Several years ago C. D. Glass, Gardiner, Me., contracted a severe cold and cough. He tried various medicines but instead of getting well he kept adding to it by contracting fresh colds. Nothing he had taken for it was of any permanent benefit until a druggist advised him to try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says "I was completely cured by this remedy and have since always turned to it when I had a cold and soon find relief."

A Correction
"In yesterday's Daily there appeared an article about the meeting of the representatives of the present Ice Plant with some of the citizens, in which the party writing up said article made some statements in regard to some remarks I made at the meeting. His statements would lead one to believe that I was a strong supporter of the present Co. My remarks were made like all the other parties, specific cases and in several specific cases I found that the people did quarrel with the under employee and when they went to the manager they got their ice and that if they would put the right kind of a manager here, this would be changed I was sure. I am sure this was not always the case, and my remarks did not so state, altho the paper has me so quoted. "I believe that the new ice plant will help solve these troubles for competition is the life of trade and service and I am not opposing said plant in any way, manner or form. I am sorry that the article above mentioned should have been misinterpreted by our editor."

WAS OUT TO SAVE MONEY

Mrs. Newbride Had It All Figured, to Her Own Satisfaction, at Any Rate.

"Yes, it does, as you say, give rather an air to the flat," agreed the almost new husband. His wife had seated herself on the arm of his chair surveying their latest acquisition, the baby grand piano, which filled three fourths of the living room.

"And now if we only had one of those nifty one-arm floor lamps," mused the almost new husband's bride. "Why, Bettina, it was only yesterday that you argued the piano would finish the room without buying another thing," protested the almost new husband. "That was one of the arguments you used to wheedle me into buying!"

"Well, of course, it saves us buying a luscious blue plush bed-davenport, or a graceful chaise longue or a library table," she defended. "There simply isn't room in this apartment for much besides the piano. It really is an economy in the end. But a lamp is different. You know that a grand piano is not complete without a floor lamp. And while we are at it we might as well get one of the newest kind. Just think how cozy we would look with you sitting peacefully under the new lamp while I play to you every evening!"

"Hum!" groaned the almost new husband. "The next thing you'll be telling me that a grand piano requires an oriental prayer rug under the pedals, a Persian scarf thrown across the bench and a vase of dollar-a-smell roses in constant attendance. I'm rather surprised that you haven't mentioned another apartment with a piano room for your pet!"

"It would be nice," agreed the bride falling to note the touch of sarcasm in the voice of her husband. Then she rallied her forces once more. "But think how much money it will save us on movies. By staying home to play and sing we save—let me see—exactly 66 cents a day!"

"By the way," said the almost new husband, "we mustn't forget our serial on Friday night. Last week left Harry Hairbreadth in an awful fix. Do you think the piano would mind if we left it alone just once?"

"Oh, I guess not," answered Betty absent-mindedly. Then she launched her final attack. "You know, Billy, I can't expect you to give up going out entirely, at least until I learn to play better. I have heard of a splendid teacher at $10 an hour and I really think, to be worthy of such an instrument, I should take lessons!"

"It's not the original cost, it's the upkeep!" said the almost new husband. "Come along, my dear, to the movies."

House of 1,000 Rooms.

A maze which forms a happy hunting ground for robbers, is the house formerly occupied by the ministry of war in Vienna, says a correspondent. The great size of the thousand roomed house evidently attracts the attention of thieves and the military and police seem unable to keep them out. Ornaments, pictures, typewriters, everything and anything, even to the door knobs and knockers are constantly being carried away. When a thief, in the course of his wanderings, meets anyone, he simply pretends to have come on business, and goes on until he comes to an unoccupied room, there he quickly gathers together anything he can lay his hands on, and departs. In many cases the robbers have an accomplice in the street to whom articles are thrown from the window.

Cream-Colored Moles.

It is rather curious to find dead moles lying about dykesides when mole-fur prices are so high, writes a correspondent from Scotland. I crossed a field, and at the exit I counted no fewer than 22 moles in a heap. These had evidently been thrown there by a local trapper as useless lumber. More curious still, I came on what may be called the unique in moles. A gardener had trapped four of these rodents of a decided cream color. No portion of the bodies gave signs of normal coloring. The gardener said he surmised there were more on his premises, but he had failed to catch them at the date he exhibited the four referred to.

Continental Camp Rediscovered.

"Connecticut Village," one of the camps of Washington's soldiers in the Hudson highlands, the site of which has long been unknown, has been rediscovered by members of the New York Historical society. The unearthing of a bayonet blade, a grapeshot, buttons of the Continental infantry and artillery, bullets, gunflints and other military relics, together with topographical characteristics that tally accurately with records in Continental documents, have placed the camp on the farm of James Smith, about a mile and a half from Cold Spring village.

Cow Gives 42 Tons of Milk.

A British Friesian cow, owned by an English farmer, gave more than 2,000 gallons of milk during 1919, and promises to repeat the performance this year. In the two years her output of milk amounted to considerably more than 4,000 gallons and weighs more than 18 tons. In less than six years Moss Rose has had seven calves and given more than 42 tons of milk.

Some years ago, H. P. Burbage, a student at law in Greenville, S. Having seen Chamberlain's Cough Remedy advertised he concluded to try it. "I soon felt a remarkable change and after using two bottles of the small size was permanently cured."

Here is a picture of the $50,000 hand belonging to Skovgaard, the Danish Violinist, who is to appear at the Carnegie Library on Jan. 31st, under the auspices of the Civic League.

"The Whole Story"

"The telephone service vendor is subject to the same conditions as the merchants in any other line. It buys certain commodities and turns those commodities into what it sells to the public."

"If it can buy copper and steel and chemicals and property and labor at a certain price it can sell its products in service at a price which is fixed by its expense, plus the profit allowed it by a public body."

"If the cost of the materials used in the production of its service increases a hundred per cent or more, would it not be quite reasonable to expect that it might and should be allowed to increase the cost of the service sold in the same proportion?"

"And if such proportionate advance in rates is now allowed, can we expect the telephone companies to render service on a standard set on a profit-making basis?"

ADVERTISING ADVERTISING

This is an advertisement.
Not a very long one, to be sure, but an advertisement.
It has a most unusual purpose—to advertise advertising.
The message is this:—
Don't miss the advertisements in this paper.
Many of them make good reading just from the news and educational standpoint alone.
But more than that:—
Advertisements keep you in touch with the world's progress.
They point the path to little comforts that were unknown in the old days.
They announce the latest styles and tell you where to go to get the most and the best for your money.
They help you to save.
They protect you from fraud.
Don't miss the advertisements.
They are guide-posts to better buying.

WHAT THE HAIR TELLS

A cowlick is a sign of luck.
 Thin, soft hair indicates riches.
 Kinky hair is a sign of a variable and hasty disposition.
 Smooth, plain hair denotes good understanding, peaceable, courteous.
 Every curl on a married woman's head is a nail in her husband's coffin.
 If it falls out behind he will be obstinate and peevish and commanding.
 If one's hair falls in ringlets around the forehead a fever will beset him or her.
 If the hair stands up on the crown of the head you will be fortunate in love affairs.
 Scorch your hair with a curling iron, you will have a quarrel with your sweetheart.
 The widow's peak, which means hair growing to form a point on the forehead—you will be a widow.
 If the hair falls out at the forepart of the head at a comparatively early age, it means that one will be easily led.
 If a girl's hair has a wide part she will have a kind mother-in-law; if narrow, her mother-in-law will be a crank.

Take a hair from your head and pull it between your thumb and first finger and if it curls it denotes a quick temper.

A long life and a peaceful one is promised the owner of hair that grows low on the forehead and retreats up the head above the temples.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

A man learns to live when he begins to live and learn.
 Many a man has a great head from other than intellectual causes.
 A little brief experience on the stage stimulates lofty ideas as to salary.
 The man who gets there acts as his own crutch; he doesn't lean on others.
 Think before you act, but don't spend too much time thinking. Actions count.
 Beauty may be only skin deep, but the impression it makes extends much deeper.
 If a man is in love his intentions are as serious as his attentions are ridiculous.
 Nothing takes the conceit out of some men more than being compelled to serve on a jury.
 During courtship a man thinks it's a dream; after marriage he is sometimes sorry he woke up.
 The man who wrecks a train is a criminal, but the man who wrecks a whole railroad is a great financier.
 A woman's idea of economy is to buy 5 cents' worth of anything on two separate occasions instead of blowing in a dime all at one time.—Chicago Daily News.

BY THE OFFICE OWL

Many a girl who marries to suit herself doesn't.
 A plucky man refuses to stand and let others pluck him.
 No, Rose, the fishing smack wasn't invented by the summer girl.
 It sometimes happens that a man knows almost as much as his son.
 Our idea of a frenzied financier is a man who buys a pocketbook on credit.
 A wise young man passes up the pretty girl and marries a homely one who can cook.
 This earth is frequently designated as "she" because no man knows the age thereof.
 Many an octogenarian can attribute his longevity to the fact that he never called a man a liar.
 When fortune begins to smile on some men they think it is up to them to sit down and bask in the smiles.

RANDOM THOUGHTS

Most people in love act as if their corns hurt.
 It is folly to make a friend of a man your dog dislikes.
 Better retract a wrong step than pursue a wrong course.
 Many a man's reputation casts a shadow over his character.
 It takes an expert to tell the difference between war and peace in Mexico.
 When a girl thinks as much of a man as she does of herself—that is love.

Adventurous Bossie Attempted to Make Her Way into Vaudeville in City of Dallas.

Gentle Bossie, tired of the humdrum life of giving milk and butter for the hungry mouths of some family, and bored with the pastoral quiet of the farm, determined the other night to have a taste of the gay life of the big city at least once before she crossed the River Styx. Accordingly she sought out the brightest lights of the city, a vaudeville house.
 But first her bovine majesty sauntered gayly up Elm street from Lamar, gazing in the show windows as she roved. While in this vicinity she even attempted to enter a street car. Then, pursuing her primrose course, she plodded on toward the center of the city until she was confronted with the gray, yellow lights brightening the front of a vaudeville show. Not considering whether she would be a welcome guest, Bossie walked into the lobby of the show, thereby nearly causing the head usher to be smitten with hysterics. He finally recovered, and, taking courage and a stick, he rushed at Bossie. Feeling that she was not wanted there, Bossie walked out again.
 At the door she was met by a reception committee consisting of two policemen who had been summoned and without ceremony she was roped and led away to the city pound, where she brooded over the sights of the big city as she had seen them.—Dallas News.

Expect New Boom in Yukon.

That, with the discovery of the large silver areas in the vicinity of Keno Hill, the Yukon is entering on a new industrial era, is the statement made by Colonel Thompson, M. P. for the territory, who recently arrived in Ottawa after a three months' absence in the Northland. He expresses the opinion that the new silver find will take the place of the gold that first put the Yukon country on the map. Keno Hill is on the Mayo river, a tributary of the Stewart, 250 miles southeast of Dawson. The camp has a population of about 500. The ores are galena, carrying very high values of lead and silver, the latter running from 80 to 250 ounces to the ton. Discoveries have been made over an area 50 miles in extent.

Madonna and Child on Stamps.

Religious subjects are not commonly used as the basis of stamp designs, although figures of the Madonna are known on the early stamps of the Virgin Islands and more recently on the high values of Bavaria. A set of three special postage stamps, newly issued in the small principality of Lichtenstein, in honor of the eightieth birthday of the reigning prince, Johann II, represent the vision of the Virgin and the Holy Child appearing in the heavens above the capital town of Vaduz. The stamps are lithographed in large format, and comprise the denominations 50 heller green, 80 heller carmine and 2 kronen blue.

Woman Best Hunger Striker.

Could a woman set the world's record for hunger striking?
 Reports from Vienna, where the American relief administration European children's fund is feeding 100,000 boys and girls a day, indicate that a woman can live longer without food than a man.
 "Girls show more resistance in fighting malnutrition than boys," said Ignatz Panzer, representative of the New York Produce exchange, who has just returned from Austria. "Physicians have found that a girl can go longer on less food with less serious results than a boy of the same age."

FT. STOCKTON SHIPS FIRST CAR OF CRUDE

The first carload of oil to originate on the Orient lines was turned over to it at Fort Stockton this morning by the Grant Oil Corporation, the firm which brought in the oil well at 96 feet two weeks ago. The oil was in barrels and was billed to New York city. The oil is said to be of excellent quality and will make a high grade lubricant.
 The Grant Oil Co. now has production from its three wells that is said to be about fifty barrels a day. A large part of this oil is being sold near Fort Stockton, but they have several tanks filled with the product near the new field.
 The sale of this car will give the company a good idea as to the value of their wells. The officials of the concern think they will receive a high price for the car point to the East, and if they do it will make the property near Ft. Stockton very valuable.—San Angelo Standard.

HIGHWAYMEN HOLD UP MAN AT ROGERS

ROGERS, Tex., Jan. 21.—Stick up men working here last night relieved J. S. McCall, a local resident, of a roll said to contain $400 and an expensive diamond. McCall says that he was returning home from a picture show about 9 o'clock and when nearing his residence, two men stepped out of the darkness and pressing revolvers against his body, commanded silence. They then dragged him into a seed house nearby where the robbery was accomplished, the pair taking a hurried departure.

CHARM OF HOUSE OF LORDS

Upper Chamber of the British Parliament Well Worth a Visit From the Traveler.

As the ordinary stranger takes his seat in the gallery and surveys the house of lords, he sees much to charm his eye, to kindle his imagination, and even to stimulate his sense of reverence, writes a correspondent of the London Times. He feels humbled, if not intimidated by the almost religious solemnity of the place. It is glowing in gold and colors. All the glory of the "tiger moth's" deep damasked wings gleams in its splendid decorations. Yet there is nothing gorgeous in the scene. The subdued light of a cathedral—"dim and yellow," as Shelley found it in Milan—prevails, transforming things that might otherwise strike upon the senses as garish into a delight to the eye, and an inspiration to the mind. Everything heightens the impression that one is in the beautiful chapel of an ancient cathedral rather than in a modern legislative chamber.

The lofty stained-glass windows have blue and crimson figures of the kings and queens of England. Most of them were worldly minded men and women, but like saints they look in their antique garments, and the seeming of rapt meditation and ecstatic introspection on their faces. Between the windows are pedestals on which stand large bronze statues of knights in armor, grave and stern of aspect, leaning on their naked swords and lances. They recall times when the battle of principles was fought not with words of subtle-minded and ready-tongued men in frock coat and silk hat, but with sword and battle axe, welded by brawny soldiers on prancing steeds.

FOUGHT WAR OVER LAP DOG

Matter of History That Conflict Between the Florentines and Citizens of Pisa Began Thus.

One of the bitterest of the minor wars of history was fought over a lap dog. In the thirteenth century a Florentine emissary attending the coronation ceremonies of Frederick II saw and admired a lap dog belonging to a cardinal. The church official, noting the admiration, promptly assured the Florentine that the dog was his, and the emissary agreed to send for it. The ambassador from Pisa saw and admired the same dog, and was just as promptly promised it on the morrow. Both men sent for the dog, but the Florentine's servant, being first, carried it away. The citizens of Rome, hearing of the incident, began to joke about it, and the visiting Florentines were especially vicious about the matter. Street fights began and when news of the affair reached Pisa the citizens seized all the Florentine shipping in the bay.

The war that followed was first of a series that ended with Pisa falling before the triumphant Florentines, and the beginning of the wane of her power. The famous leaning tower of Pisa was only one skyscraper of a score or more, although the others have long since crumbled down. These towers proved valuable in the attacks of the Florentine army, but one by one were overcome, and the first city of the world to have a skyscraper skyline lost its unique standing.

No Snakes in Ireland.

It is said that there are no snakes in Ireland, but the story that they were driven out by St. Patrick is probably based more on hearsay than historical evidence. The phrase "Concerning Snakes in Ireland," is frequently quoted in connection with the above story, but the phrase is itself a misquotation and had in reality nothing to do with snakes in Ireland. The original phrase does not refer to Ireland at all, but to Iceland. In a translation of Harebone's works, "The Natural History of Iceland," published in London in 1758, chapter 42 is headed "Concerning Owls," and is as follows: "There are no owls of any kind in the whole island." Chapter 72 is entitled "Concerning Snakes," and the entire chapter is as follows: "No snakes of any kind are to be met with throughout the whole of the island." The application of the phrase to Ireland probably at first arose from a printer's error.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

The Printing Telegraph.

During the five-year period 1912-1917, the printing telegraph came into extended use by telegraph companies, press associations and railroads. The printing telegraph consists essentially of a sending instrument, equipped with a keyboard similar to that of a typewriter, electrically connected with a receiving instrument in such a manner that the latter automatically reproduces what is typewritten on the sending instrument. Without the printing telegraph it would have been difficult or impossible to handle the increased telegraph business during the great war.

Edible Oysters in Solid Rock.

Edible oysters that live with their shells imbedded in solid rock, like the fossil of some extinct creatures, have been discovered in Coos bay, Oregon. The fact that they are fairly abundant makes these strange mollusks no less a curiosity, and the university of the state is now engaged in a study of their origin and mode of life. Because they are considered an exceptionally delicious food, the investigators are also examining into the possibility of their propagation for the market.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed. Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circular, free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O.
