EARTHQUAKE DAMAGES TOWNS IN CALIFORNIA

(By Associated Press)

LOS ANGELES, Calif., July 23.—An entire tier of Southern California counties were rocked by an earthquake which lasted for eleven seconds to twenty seconds at 11:28 o'clock last night.

San Bernardino received the greatest shock and the greatest damage, and felt a second shock at one o'clock this morning. At San Bernardino three men were seriously injured while asleep when the quake caused roofs of buildings to fall in. On streets running East and West the greatest damage resulted, in which much property was damaged throughout the city.

Santa Barbara was the extreme Northern point from which earthquake reports have been received, and San Diego is the farthest South.

The shocks extended Eastward across the Imperial Valley and nearly to the Arizona state line.

FARMER HAS BALE TO ACRE ALREADY MADE

Bert Fletcher, of the Maverick country, was looking after business in Ballinger Monday and dropped in to have The Ledger sent to his father at Mullin, Texas. "I want my father to keep up with the irrigation project here," said Mr. Fletcher. Mr. Fletcher reported a nice rain in his section Saturday and another shower Sunday, but he was not worrying about rain, he said, as he has a nice little irrigated farm.

"I already have more than a bale per acre made," said Mr. Fletcher, when asked if he would make a bale per acre on his irrigated land. He has thirty-five acres under the ditch all in cotton, and he stated that his irrigated crop outclasses his dry land crop so bad that there is no comparison.

"My irrigated cotton has twenty-one bolls to the stalk, laps in the middle and is still putting on," said Mr. Fletcher, and he stated that he was not being troubled with any pests. Mr. Fletcher is strong for irrigation.

RURAL SCHOOLS VOTE BONDS

Crews school district is to have a new $10,000 school building, according to an election recently held in that district. Patrons of the school voted 22 to 29 in favor of a $10,000 bond issue, and the new building will go up as fast as the work can be done. W. H. Pape, L. Dietz and R. E. Rainwater are trustees of this district and deserve much credit for the faithful work in behalf of their school.

Mazeland held a bond issue election last week and voted almost unanimously for a new school building. A bond issue of $6,000 was submitted and only four votes were cast against the proposition. The board of trustees in the Mazeland district is composed of B. H. Barker, R. N. Ensor and D. L. Tucker, and they will push the new building to early completion, giving Mazeland district a four-room school. The Crews school will also be a four-room building.

In the Bethel district, the board of trustees, consisting of John Greenhill, Lee Moreland and W. M. Davenport, are planning the erection of a new home for the principal. The old building will be used in the construction of a modern teacher's home near the school.

Forty-one Insane Convicts Escape From State Asylum

(By Associated Press)

CHESTER, Illinois, July 23.—Forty-one insane convicts from the state hospital for criminal insane here, escaped last night, and up to noon today only fifteen of the number had been recaptured.

The inmates of the asylum effected their escape last night when several score lunatics battered down a section of the steel mesh wire fence after killing one of their own number and seriously wounding two guards.

The dead convict is William Jackson, a negro, who was convicted on a murder charge and confined in the criminal asylum for insane. The wounded guards are James Senney and Ralph Dilday. Senney was stabbed below the heart and there is little hope for his recovery. Dilday was clubbed about the head and is also seriously injured.

Some of the escaped lunatics have been adjudged homicidal maniacs.

Fifty guards from the Southern Illinois penitentiary are assisting in rounding up the convicts. The inmates of the asylum were enjoying the privilege of exercising when they made a dash for liberty and overpowered the guards, and in the battle which ensued, won to the fence.

NATIONS RACING FOR ARMAMENT

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, July 23.—Ramsay MacDonald, leader of the opposition in the House of Commons, today offered a resolution deploring the increasing expenditures in military preparation, which he asserted formed the beginning of another race for armament. MacDonald urged that the British government take immediate steps looking to the calling of another international conference for the limitation of armaments.

TALKS HEALTH TO NORMAL STUDENTS

Miss Pansy Nichols, secretary of the children's division of the Public Health Service Department of Texas, was here Monday, en route to her home at Austin from California, where she had been to attend a national convention for the prevention of tuberculosis. She stopped off here to address the summer normal and teachers' training school which is in session in this city, and appeared before the normal Monday morning. Miss Nichols thinks the health of the future generations can be greatly controlled by teaching health in the public schools, and this can be done by teaching the children how to care for their bodies and how to prevent diseases.

Bruce Creasy went to Valera Monday morning on business.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 23.—United States Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, is being boomed by his friends for the republican nomination for president in 1924.

Mr. Johnson returned today from a tour of Europe on the Levathian, and refused to indicate to reporters or to the crowd which gathered to greet him, whether his hat was in the ring or not.

C. Kornegay and son, Clifford, of Winters, passed thru Ballinger Monday morning en route to the Concho, where they will spend a few days fishing.

A BAD HABIT

The young man who forms the habit of "having it charged," and who makes little accounts around town, will find later that there is a pay day. It is a habit easy to contract, especially when the gang encourages him in it, and when he is told his credit is good.

Young men drawing small salaries should by all means avoid the habit. It is a habit which sometimes breeds dishonesty, and crushes ambition. It is a habit which is an enemy to economy.

Buying beyond one's means, or income, is a burden hard to overcome when responsibilities increase. Buying on credit should be confined to the necessities of life, and the merchant who encourages the incurring of debt for the sake of making a sale, may succeed in business, but he will do so at the sacrifice of his cash customers.

A DEAD BANDIT

Villa is a dead bandit and not a dead hero, as some might infer from reading the account of his passing out, and a review of some of the deeds he committed while spending a few years in this world.

Texas should feel relieved. Villa was a bandit who did more to disrupt the relationship between Mexico and the United States than any other being in human form. Villa might have been a human, but he was not 100 per cent human by any means.

Yet Mexico placed a premium on banditry by paying Villa and his remnant of outlaw followers the equivalent of two million dollars in gold, just as a bribe to induce him to become a peaceable citizen, instead of fighting him to the last ditch and setting an example for other Mexicans to live by.

The United States has her bandits, but our government is not guilty of placing a premium on banditry. We are sometimes guilty of making heroes out of the outlaws by giving them too much publicity, but after all and in the end they are just dead bandits when they die, and fill an outlaw's grave.

A Splendid Medicine for the Stomach and Liver.

"Chamberlain's Tablets for the stomach and liver are splendid. I never tire of telling my friends and neighbors of their qualities," writes Mrs. William Vollmer, Eastwood, N. Y. When bilious, constipated or troubled with indigestion, give them a trial. They will do you good.

A VALUABLE ASSET TO BALLINGER

The Ballinger Ledger reports that more than one hundred tourists registered at the tourists' park in that place the past week. Most of those registering were from various points in Texas, but New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Louisiana were also represented. The park is being well patronized.

Brownwood is passing up a wonderful opportunity when it fails to provide for the tourists, who are daily passing through our city, a close-in camping site. If it were made attractive enough many of the tourists would undoubtedly stay not just one night but several days.—Brownwood Bulletin.

A good tourists' camp is an asset to any city. The Ballinger camp is serving the city well, but it is not what it should be, and a greater number of tourists would register here if we would get busy and enlarge the facilities for their comfort and convenience. The city furnishes light—electric lights, and water, and the park is conveniently located. From 100 to 150 people per week are registering at the camp, and they spend from one to five nights in the camp. The five-day limit is the rule, and without good and sufficient cause campers are not expected to use the camp grounds beyond that period.

Miss Mary Stuart returned home Saturday from Brownwood, where she had been visiting for the last week.

LOYALTY TO OUR HOME INSTITUTIONS NEEDED

Ballinger has two good bakeries, both turning out bread which so far as we know is first class, and baked under the best sanitary conditions. Yet bread is being hauled in here both by auto and rail from other towns and sold in preference to the home product.

The Ledger does not know what created a demand for imported bread, or what has brought about the bread war which seems to be on in this city, but all things being equal the bread consumers should demand the home product.

It seems that there is no difference in price as far as the consumer is concerned. Bread has been selling for ten cents per loaf for quite a long time, with a three-for-a-quarter price inaugurated recently, and that is the price the consumer is still paying, regardless of whether the bread was baked in Ballinger or Abilene.

If everybody ate Abilene bread, or bread shipped in from some other city, the bakeries in this city would be forced to close their doors. People who are loyal to their home town, will give home institutions first choice, and unless there is some good and sufficient reason for doing so they should not buy imported bread when they can get home bread, and if we are correctly informed the price is the same.

TO HAVE SUCCESS IN LIFE

Charles M. Schwab Names Qualities Which It is Imperative One Must Possess.

"If I were asked to name the most important things that lead to a successful life," Charles M. Schwab is quoted in The Business Woman as saying, "I should say, first of all was integrity—unimpeachable integrity. No one can ever do anything of great value in life, and have the confidence and approval of his fellow men, or be successful in his undertakings with other business people, if he does not have the reputation of being a person of honor and integrity. This is the very foundation of a successful life."

"Another important thing is loyalty. Be loyal to the people with whom you associate at the start. Make your employer feel that you are sincere with him; that you are going to promote his interests; that you are going to stand for the things he represents, and that will reap you a richer reward. Loyalty above all!"

"Be friends with everybody. When you have friends, you know there is somebody who will stand by you. Lead a life that will make you kindly and friendly to everyone about you, and you will be surprised at what a happy life you will lead."

"These things secure opportunity. That secured, there comes the need of good judgment, which is one of the prime requisites for enduring success."

Tobacco Will Rout Pest.

The melon and cucumber beetle, the striped little pest now causing panics of disappointment and rage in the hearts of gardeners, amateur and otherwise, is an anti-tobacco leaguer. He hates the weed, so fight him with nicotine or tobacco dust, says the Department of Agriculture.

If the just be sprinkled over the young plants the beetles will seek pasture elsewhere. Also they will depart if the plants be given tight veils of mosquito netting until they grow big and strong enough to fight their own battles. If these measures are adopted by an entire community, and accompanied by the use of trap plants, suitably poisoned with arsenate of lead or bordeaux mixture, both, the numbers of the enemy will be greatly reduced and homegrown "cukes" and cantaloupes enjoyed by and by, says the department.—Science Service.

Within Bounds.

A young man set out for the first time to get orders in the west of England.

At Plymouth he met an old commercial traveler, who asked him how he had got on.

"Badly," he replied. "I was insulted at every place I visited."

"That's strange," said the other. "I have been on the road 40 years; I have had my samples hung into the street; I have been taken by the scruff of the neck and pitched downstairs; I don't deny that I have been rolled in the gutter, but insulted, never!"

Quebec Gold Fields.

Information coming out by mail from prospectors in the new gold fields of northwestern Quebec is to the effect that the rush has shown no abatement, and that the movement is general toward the east. Some staking is taking place in the township of Clercy, around Clercy lake, but the greater staking is along the Kennebec river, and extending away off toward the east.

SAN ANTONIO—Operation of the new Woodlawn exchange of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in this city began on July 14th. The exchange represents an investment of $200,000.

FIGHT MEASLES WITH SERUM

Encouraging Results Are Reported by the New York State Department of Health.

Announcement is made by the New York state department of health that encouraging results are being obtained in preventing deaths from measles by using a serum obtained from the blood of adults who have had the disease. Laymen should note that the report says "encouraging," not that a cure has been found.

If a serum has been discovered which will ameliorate the severity of measles, much less cure the disease, another boon has been conferred on mankind by science, the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin announces. Even to this day measles is regarded by too many parents as an ailment inseparable from childhood and the sooner a youngster contracts the illness and gets it over and done with the better. This is altogether a wrong idea. Measles is not only dangerous in itself but is often complicated by serious ailments of the eyes, ears, kidneys and bronchial regions.

A disease of childhood, measles, also attacks adults and in the late years may be more perilous than to a young person. When frequently epidemic, a certain immunity follows, but when the disease is taken among a people who have never before been visited by it the mortality is high. Years ago a British ship from Australia carried measles to the Fiji Islands and 40,000 of the 150,000 Fijians were swept off.

POISON IN ORDINARY FOODS

Fact That Most People Take a Small Amount With Their Regulation Breakfast Dishes.

Did you have your morning dose of poison today? "Poison?" you ask. "What do you mean?"

Well, the truth is, that if you had bacon for breakfast, salt on your cereal, blotters or kippers, rolls covered with icing, pepper on any of your food, or even a cup of coffee or tea, you had your morning dose of poison.

Poison, of course, does not harm us if taken in sufficiently small amounts. Bacon contains a little saltpeter, an ounce being considered sufficient to kill.

The Chinese commit suicide by eating a cupful of salt; blotters and kippers contain formaldehyde; most cake or roll icings have prussic acid in them; cloves, nutmegs, horseradish, and a number of other herbs are poisonous if taken in large enough quantities; black pepper contains piperine—an alkaloid poison; and doctors agree that overindulgence in coffee is most injurious because of its caffeine content.—Popular Science Monthly.

Copper on the Leviathan.

From the tiniest brass screws to the 16½-foot bronze propellers, the copper and brass industries have played a most important part in the reconditioning of the Leviathan, the world's largest ship. More than 25 miles of copper tubing, 250,000 pounds of it, were required for the heater coils in the staterooms. The heating coils exceed by 50,000 pounds the weight of the 200,000-pound statue of liberty.

The lighting system required 745,000 feet of copper wire. All salt water lines are copper, according to Skillings' Mining Review. In the condensing system, 20,346 pounds of admiralty brass tubing were used. Where German engineers had used iron in the lubricating system, copper was introduced.

His Experience.

"Well, I'll tell you, Ellick," confessed Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge. "I hung back right sharply about getting married. You see, I kinder got to thinking about the monotony of living with one—p'tul—person all my life."

"When you got married how'd it work out?" asked Ellick Oaken.

"Never had a chance to try it, skurely. I've got fourteen children, three brothers-in-law, a father-in-law, mother-in-law, several other kinkfols and a couple of fellers that I never did find out persizely who they was, hanging around more or less generally."—Kansas City Star.

A New Make of Car.

Fred A. Wetherby, who lives in Martinsville, has taken an unusual interest in a bright four-year-old boy of one of his neighbors, and this interest has elicited some very amusing remarks by the youngster. The other day Mr. Wetherby drove into his neighbor's place and stopped near the place the four-year-old was playing.

"I'm going to get me a car when I get big," the boy announced emphatically.

"You are," encouraged Mr. Wetherby good-naturedly. "What kind are you going to get?"

"A Rhode Island Red," replied the youngster.—Indianapolis News.

Canadian Wheat Holds Its Own.

During the last season wheat from Argentina has been a serious competitor of Canadian wheat and has supplied a large part of the requirements of Great Britain. However, Canadian wheat has sold readily whenever tonnage could be secured at rates sufficiently favorable to enable Canadian wheat to reach the British market even at a slight advance over the Argentine product. Shipments of Canadian wheat to the Orient are approximately one-third of the amounts shipped during the season of 1921-1922, when Japanese crops were very light.

MARY CARR HERE IN FOX'S "SILVER WINGS"

William Fox's super-production, "Silver Wings," featuring Mary Carr, will be shown for the first Ballinger at the Maeroy Theatre starting this afternoon. The engagement is for two days' run.

According to advices from the William Fox offices in New York city, this feature production shows Mary Carr in a far better characterization than in the famous "Over the Hill."

Mary Carr's role is that of a mother and a devoted wife who assumes, upon the death of her husband, the care of a profitable business that he had built as well as the care of two boys and a daughter. One son is a quiet unassuming chap and the other a lazy lad who permits himself to become the victim of social parasites and bogus business men.

The daughter marries for love much against the wishes of her proud brother. The young son who has toiled diligently in his father's factory is forced to run away because of his brother's crime which has been fastened upon him. The mother—Mary Carr—watches two of her children depart and then discovers that this promising son on whom she has showered so much affection, is himself accused of forgery. He, too, absconds, but his waywardness forces his mother into bankruptcy. After the mother has drunken deep the dregs of poverty the family is brought together by curious twists of fate and once again happiness enters into the portals of their lives.

One Dollar Saved Represents Ten Dollars Earned

The average man does not save to exceed ten per cent of his earnings. He must spend nine dollars in living expenses for every dollar saved. That being the case he cannot be too careful about unnecessary expenses. Very often a few cents properly invested, like buying seeds for his garden, will save several dollars outlay later on. It is the same in buying Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It costs but a few cents, and a bottle of it in the house often saves a doctor's bill of several dollars.

Miss Hortense Holt underwent an operation in the Halley & Love sanitarium Sunday, and is reported to be getting along today as well as could be expected. She was stricken ill while visiting in Oklahoma and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Holt and Mrs. E. E. King went to her and brought her back to Ballinger for the operation.

The Same Everywhere

The editor of Paisa Akhbar, a native newspaper of Lahore, India, says, "I have used Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy many times among my children and servants, for colic and diarrhoea and always found it effective."

Misses Mal and Ruth Skinner, and Misses Octavia, Elizabeth and Ellen Jones, students of Dan'el Baker College, who had been here for the week-end, returned to Brownwood Sunday afternoon.

Diek Wilkerson, of Higginbotham Bros. & Co., of this city, returned here Friday night from Cameron, where he had been visiting home folks.

FOOTNOTES ON FASHIONS
FOR SUMMER WEAR

IF SUCCEEDING generations read the "footprints in the sands of time" as marked by the shoes of women of today they will behold a record of surpassing excellence as far as charming and appropriate footwear is concerned. Never in the history of the race have women given so much attention to shoes as a part of their costumes as they have in recent years and never have they had such a wide choice in colors, in leathers and in special designs for specific purposes as they have at the present time.

In the realm of sports, golf is responsible for the smart and practical oxfords pictured above. These are made of tan calfskin and are provided with rubber heels and soft rubber cleats on the soles to give a sure-footed stance under all conditions. Another golfing novelty is the crepe rubber sole lately imported from England. This is a very thick sole of a rubber composition something like art gum, and it is claimed that it is both lighter and softer than the usual rubber sole used on sports shoes.

Shoes for street and dress wear have blossomed forth in bewildering range of styles and colors during the spring months. The vogue for brilliant red, blue and green sandals with hat and stockings to match made an early appearance and at present shows no sign of becoming passe. For party wear there are brocaded satin slippers combining silver with white, or gold with black, in attractive new lasts. Very exclusive shops are showing a slipper of tooled and colored leather that closely follows the coloring and ornamentation of the paisley shawl.

A great deal of attention is being given to shoes combining two different leathers or leather with fabric in contrasting color. The most popular combination is black and white for sports wear. Red and black, gray and black, or sand with brown are interesting developments of the later styles. Even the all-white shoe shows this influence in white kid combined with suede.

And the Pebbles
Were Diamonds

The farmers of Kimberley were dissatisfied. They said they couldn't make a living from their farms. And all the time their children in the fields were playing with diamonds.

But they didn't know. They thought they were pebbles. They died poor.

Lots of people are just like those Kimberley farmers. They look for opportunity with a telescope, in some far-away place, when it is really so close that they could reach out their hands and grasp it.

Don't miss the advertisements. They are business mines of opportunity. They tell of values that you might never know if they were not there to guide you.

Don't miss them. They will save you money.

Biliousness and Constipation
"For years I was troubled with biliousness and constipation, which made life miserable for me. My appetite failed me. I lost my usual force and vitality. Pepsin preparations and cathartics only made matters worse. I do not know where I should have been today had I not tried Chamberlain's Tablets. The tablets relieve ill feeling at once, strengthen the digestive functions, helping the system to do its work naturally," writes Mrs. Rosa Potts, Birmingham, Ala.

SAY BAD ROAD REPORTS ARE EXAGGERATED

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., July 23.—Motorists, who are arriving here by the thousands daily, declare that reports of serious washouts on the main traveled highways leading into Colorado from Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Nebraska, are greatly exaggerated. Heavy rains of the last two weeks in adjoining states have washed the roads in places. In fact, short detours may be necessary in some places but the main roadways are in fair condition, according to reliable information received here. The highways are crowded with motor tourists from every state in the union. A check on the Denver-Colorado Springs highway yesterday revealed that 853 cars, all southbound, passed a given point within a period of two hours time. The Pikes Peak region, with its cool days and nights, still continues to attract thousands who spend from one week to two months here. The rains of the last week have only added to the coolness which is one of the chief claims of fame of the region.

APPEALED TO THEIR HUMOR

Theatergoers Unable to Appreciate Shakespeare's Characters Arrayed in Modern Garb.

In Birmingham, England, the other day an experiment in dramatic art, intended to prove that Shakespeare's plays were greater than any representation of them, ended in a ludicrous fiasco. What the experiment proved was that, unless the characters are garbed according to the accepted traditions, the lines and situations created even by the master mind of the world's greatest dramatist have no power to impress a modern audience.

The play chosen for the purpose was "Cymbeline," staged in a country that never existed. Therefore, argued the promoters, they were free to garb the characters in any way they pleased, and so the characters appeared in the modern dress of the present day.

A company of scholarly actors had been assembled to play the parts and all other stage traditions carefully attended to. But Shakespeare in a tuxedo failed to get across. The audience saw only the funny side of the unexpected costumes and laughed at the most dramatic incidents and tittered at the actors' most poetic and inspirational utterances.

Which seems to confirm the attitude of the motion picture producer—that dramatic art appeals more to the eye than to the intellect.—Los Angeles Times.

VERNON—The Vernon chapter of DeMolays, junior Masonic organization, has been granted a charter. The chapter has operated since last September under dispensation. Sixty-five junior Masons have joined the order here.

DEATHS

J. S. Collins

After an illness of about one week, J. S. Collins one of Ballinger's most respected citizens, passed out of this world Sunday night. Death came at 9:45 Sunday night, and the news soon spread over the city and caused grief among the many friends of Mr. Collins.

Mr. Collins was stricken down with heart trouble one week ago, and his condition was declared to be serious from the beginning. The physicians did all that medical skill could do to relieve suffering and prolong life.

J. S. Collins was born in Mississippi. He came to Texas many years ago and for almost a quarter of a century had been a citizen of Ballinger. He took a keen interest in the religious and moral life of the community, always standing for the right. He was a member of the Eighth Street Presbyterian Church. For many years he was a member of the Methodist Church, and in the absence of a Presbyterian pastor, Rev. W. H. Doss, former pastor of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral service. Mr. Collins served this city as alderman for several years.

The funeral services were held at five o'clock Monday afternoon from the residence at the corner of Strong Avenue and Sixth Street and interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

Deceased is survived by a wife and several children. The pall bearers were selected from the friends and daily associates of Mr. Collins and were: C. A. Dooze, H. C. Gardner, R. E. Walker, E. K. Blewitt, U. E. Hartman, Sam Baker, active; J. W. Clappitt, W. A. Tyson, L. F. Gressett, W. K. Lilly, I. N. Roark and T. S. Lanford, honorary.

LAURA LA PLANTE SUPPORTS "HOOT" GIBSON

Some of the most familiar figures of western screen plays appear in support of "Hoot" Gibson in his latest vehicle, "Shootin' for Love," which comes to the Fo-to-sho Theatre today and tomorrow. Gibson has the role of Duke Travis, a Texas cowboy suffering from shell-shock.

Laura LaPlante, who has the feminine lead in the picture, is a popular heroine of many serials of the out-of-doors and has been featured in Universal two-reel westerns. This is her second leading role in a Gibson feature, having appeared with him in "Dead Game."

Alfred Allen, one of the best known character actors of the screen, whose outstanding work was the characterization of Hell Morgan in "Hell Morgan's Girl," and Hellfire Packard in "Man to Man," has the role of Hoot's father, Jim Travis, a hard-fisted old Texas cattleman.

Wm. Welsh, the father in the typical American family in "Over the Hill," and who has long held a steady place in pictures for his realistic characterizations, appears in the production in the role of Bill Randolph, also a grizzled old Texan, who is engaged in a water feud with Travis.

Miss Wilma Straley returned home Sunday from a three weeks' visit to Abilene and Clyde.
