SPANISH CABINET IS OVERTHROWN

(By Associated Press)
 MADRID, Spain, Sept. 14.—King Alfonso today asked General Primo Rivera, leader of the Spanish military movement against the Alhucemas cabinet, to form a new government.

MADRID, Sept. 14.—The Spanish cabinet resigned today, and King Alfonso has returned to the capitol. It is understood that Premier Alhucemas had requested the king to grant government facilities for punishment of the military revolters in Barcelona. Alfonso refused to grant the request and the premier immediately submitted the resignation of the entire cabinet.

The newspaper A. B. C. says that the present program is to govern without parliament, which will be dissolved. The new elections will not be held as long as the present political conditions prevail.

RELIEF FUND FOR JAPS INCREASED

(By Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The American Red Cross headquarters here announced today that the relief fund for the Japanese earthquake sufferers now amounts to $7,121,000, which is more than two million dollars in excess of that asked for. It is announced that the American people have responded in a manner far beyond the expectation of the Red Cross authorities.

UNUSUAL INDIAN WEDDING IS PERFORMED AT DEL RIO

DEL RIO, Sept. 14.—An unusual marriage took place here recently. Two Indians, Thunderbolt Flowers and Miss Effie Lee Andrews, both staying at a tourist camp here, were the principals. Thunderbolt Flowers is an Osage Indian from Pawhuska, Oklahoma; a graduate of Carlisle Indian school, and a world war veteran. Miss Andrews is a Choctaw Indian from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Neither understands the language of the other, but both understand English.
 Thunderbolt was here with a party of gold hunters from Southern California, who were looking for treasure said to have been buried by the Indians on the Pecos River in an early day. The Indian was employed to read Indian signs and paintings, said to have been made on the rocks of the canyon where the treasure is supposed to have been buried. Miss Andrews was touring with a party of relatives when she met Thunderbolt Flowers.

 The population of the town is rapidly increasing and while the 1920 census only gives the city 1508 people, the population is estimated at 2500 at this time, and there are about twenty-five new residences going up and several new business houses.

The Winters State Bank has just expended about $30,000 in improving its banking home, and it is said that the bank deposits are increasing at the rate of from $15,000 to $20,000 per day in the city banks. METRO SPECIAL AT THE MAEROY TODAY

A gripping and sensational play based on a theme of powerful interest is Metro's "The Forgotten Law," which is showing today and tonight at the Maeroy Theatre. It is one of the most dramatic stories seen in some time, and is acted and produced with excellent judgment and fine skill.

Among the players appearing in major roles are Milton Sills, Jack Mulhall and Cleo Ridgely—as expert a trio of players as is possible to obtain for this type of story.

"The Forgotten Law" was produced under the personal supervision of Max Graf. It was adapted by Joseph Franklin Poland from Caroline Abbott Stanley's novel.

No Substitute Offered

Say what you will about druggists offering something "just as good" because it pays a better profit, the fact still stands that ninety nine out of a hundred druggists recommend Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy, when the best medicine for diarrhoea is asked for, and do so because they know from what their customers say of it, that it can be depended upon.

STAR QUALIFIES AS ENGINEER IN SERIAL

"It takes an engineer to play the part of an engineer."

So declares William Duncan, famous picture star, whose latest production, "The Steel Trail," Universal chapter play in which he appears with Edith Johnson, comes to Ballinger Saturday at the Fo-to-sho Theatre. For Duncan, before he went into the pictures, was an engineer himself. He studied up on railroad construction engineering again for a month before embarking on the sensational role he plays in this new production.

Duncan appears in the part of the chief engineer of a railroad construction camp, pushing a new railroad into the wilderness. He battles the elements and the plots of enemies, and he and Miss Johnson are seen in countless sensational episodes. Among the thrills are a perilous fall down a cliff in an overturned automobile, a narrow escape from death in a runaway freight car, daring battles, landslides, forest fire, hair-breadth adventure with a dynamite blast and other sensations.

"My engineering education," says Duncan, "has proved valuable not in teaching me what to do, but what not to do. No situation is illogical, because everyone is checked as to its actual engineering possibilities."

Duncan both stars in and directs his new picture. He and Miss Johnson head a notable cast including John Cossar, Ralph Fee McCullough and other standard players.

John Hopkinson came in from Dallas Friday, and will accompany Mrs. R. A. Smith to Dallas, where she will visit for a few days before going to Austin to make her home.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfected Tablet is Called "Calotabs."

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel, the most generally useful of all medicines thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the larger, family package; ten cents for the small, trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the price as a guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)

FORMER PUPILS ATTEND TEACHER'S FUNERAL

Among the large crowd which gathered at the home on Fifth Street at 10:00 o'clock Friday morning to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of Prof. E. L. Hagan were many of his former pupils, those who attended the Ballinger schools when Mr. Hagan was superintendent thirty years ago. Those who placed flowers upon the grave of the deceased educator were his pupils a quarter of a century ago.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence and a long procession of automobiles filled with sorrowing friends followed the remains to Evergreen Cemetery. Rev. E. W. Bridges, present pastor of the Methodist church; and Rev. W. H. Doss, former pastor here, conducted the funeral services.

Prof. Hagan died at four o'clock Thursday morning, following an illness of several weeks. His only brother, George Hagan, and the last of a family of nine children, and who was here a couple of weeks ago, came from San Saba to attend the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. George Royalty, of Waco, were here to attend the funeral. Several out of town friends were also here for the funeral.

Another bank of beautiful flowers was made to mark the last resting place of one of Ballinger's pioneer educators and one of her best citizens, and a host of friends sympathize with the bereaved wife and other relatives in their loss.

City In Danger Losing Library

The doors of the Carnegie Library of this city are closed today for a lack of funds with which to support the institution and employ a librarian.

The library board is at its row's end, and the institution will remain closed until the citizens get behind the proposition and authorize the city commission to make an appropriation to carry on the work, or until the property is taken over by the donors and sent back into private hands.

Under the terms of the title to the property, the failure of the city to support the institution uses it to revert back to the donors. Jo Wilmethe donated the property upon which the library is situated, and the building will not fall to private hands and be used for private purposes, and the city will lose out, if some provision is not adopted for supporting it, and that at once.

The city commission announced an appropriation would be made for supporting the library, but a vote showed that the majority favored such a move. They were prepared and an appropriation made to get an expression from the people, but so far very few have shown an interest, and tomorrow—Saturday, being the last day of the balloting, the city is in danger of losing its library.

The library building could not be replaced today for twenty or thirty thousand dollars, and the cost of the lot. It is a question of much benefit to this city, although up to this time it has been supported by make-shift methods, and methods which can be depended on any longer. Time has come when the city must step in and put the library on a reasonably substantial basis as a basis in keeping with the obligations it assumed when the institution was donated to the city, or it must be turned over to the parties who gave it, or converted into a hotel, rooming house, or some other building for private use.

Neglect, indifference, or selfishness on the part of the citizens is the object of paying the amount of six cents on the dollar, the citizens are to suffer the loss of an institution which is not only a place of recreation, but a place where the people seek to be informed, and it was the first meeting of pupil and teacher in many years—say about thirty.

Trade Trip Echoes W. A. Holt found his first school teacher at Wingate in the person of Dr. Shook. Mr. Holt recognized him and made himself known, and it was the first meeting of pupil and teacher in many years—say about thirty.

W. A. Francis, with P. V. peanut stick candy and toy balloons, made himself just as popular with the kiddies as Andy Gump at a congressional convention, and he found some grown-ups who also had a sweet taste, and a candy appetite.

"Yes, we have no water, but come back when we get our dam built," was the answer given one of the Ballinger anti-irrigationists when he asked for a drink of water at Bronte.

Bob Carsey had to close his shop and leave his business to make the trade excursion with the Booster Band, but came out long on cigars, and some of his fellow music makers declare that he came out winners in the long run.

Wingate has the real city spirit, according to the reception given the boosters at that place. The melon feast and welcome address at Wingate were the surprises of all surprises of the entire trip. Wingate is the heart of a good country with a big heart.

Official bill boys for the second day's trip were S. D. Williams, J. F. Lusk, I. N. Roark and J. D. Scott. Mr. Scott left fans advertising the fair at farm homes along the route. All these young men were going good when the trip ended and did not show the wearisome feeling that some of their fellow boosters did.

Entire County Hears of Coming Fair this Fall

Ballinger's army of good will dispensers and trade boosters pulled in home footsore and weary Thursday evening, but all feeling jubilant over the most successful trade excursion ever conducted in West Texas.

Leaving Winters almost an hour late, on account of that city's extravagant program of entertainment and hospitality, the trade trippers motored to Crews. Quite a crowd of citizens of the Crews community were waiting to welcome the boosters. Prof. Amos told the people of that community of the mission of the visitors, and expressed the appreciation of the business interests of Ballinger for the loyal support of the Crews citizens in building of a greater, better county. Prof. Amos, principal of the Crews school, was on the job all day with the boosters. He is a new man on the job at Crews, but he is already alive to the every interest of the county, and will no doubt lead the Crews people forward for the advancement of their own interests and the interests of the county at large.

Pulling into Talpa a little late the excursionists found a crowd waiting to give the boosters a welcome, and the band staged a concert, followed by a talk by County Superintendent Burg. Talpa is over the line in Coleman county, but Ballinger claims it as a portion of her trade territory, and the Talpa folks were urged to attend the Runnels County Fair, send their exhibits here, and walk off with the prize money if possible.

Hatchel was the last place on the two days' itinerary, but by no means the least place in point of interest and welcome for the trade trippers. The Ballinger delegation found the Hatchel citizens appreciative, and all listened with interest to the concert, and advertising matter was distributed here as at other points visited, and it was almost night when the trade trippers turned homeward, after touring the entire county, visiting every town in the county, and making stops at points in Concho, Coke and Coleman counties.

Those who made the trip got a vision of conditions as they exist throughout Ballinger's trade territory, came in touch with the people composing the trade territory, and made many new friends and acquaintances. Every nook and corner of the Ballinger trade territory has heard about Ballinger and the Runnels County Fair, and prospects for the greatest county fair ever held in this section are promising.

Some of the directors of the Young Men's Business League wanted to kidnap Secretary Watts of the Winters Chamber of Commerce, and swear him in as their own secretary. Mr. Watts is on the job for Winters, and gave the trade trippers a sample of the way Winters does things.

Claude R. Stone, the little boy of the circuit trade drive, was still full of pep and blowing off surplus steam when the trippers got back home.

"This is my home town," said Sheriff Flynt as he called for the second helping at the banquet table in Winters. Flynt was at one time captain of the Winters baseball team.

Estes Lynn, pilot for the second day's trip, took the lead like an old timer. Some of the excursionists declare that their pilot tried out the thirty-five mile speed limit over some of the roads.

Speaking of results, G. A. Ladwig returned home from the trade trip and found several Miles ladies shopping in his store. Mr. Ladwig put out a few thousand pieces of fair advertising and advertising for his own business.

F. G. Hoelscher met the trade trippers at Offen with a box of cigars, which was the first stop and gave the boosters an opportunity to get an early light-up. B. W. Pileher, law East of the Colorado, said they were the best he ever puffed.

The ladies who prepared the luncheon at Winters know how to feed big crowds, and the committee which had the banquet in hand deserve credit for the splendid way in which the affair was handled.

WINTERS WAGES COTTONSEED WAR

Cotton seed continued to sell at $58 per ton at Winters Friday afternoon, according to a phone message from that place. It was reported that the war between buyers had ended and that the market price prevailed, but a phone message from Ed Eason of that city, failed to verify this report.

Cotton seed is bringing from $42 to $45 per ton at other markets throughout the country, while the buyers at Winters are paying $58 per ton as result of a local market fight between representatives of an Oklahoma company and the Winters buyers.

The high price is attracting cotton from a considerable distance to the Winters gins, and gins at that place are operating day and night. There were nearly two hundred loads of cotton standing in the gin yards awaiting their turn at the gins Friday afternoon.

J. Black, postmaster and merchant of Marie, was looking after business in Ballinger Friday.

Miss Fern McBride returned to Simmons College this week. Miss McBride is a Senior in Simmons this year.

Judge Neal, of Menard, a former Ballinger attorney, was here Friday conferring with local attorneys.

The Sign of the Guaranty Fund Is A Symbol of Safety to the Depositor

It is stated upon good authority that the banks of the United States have total deposits of only about one-half the money in circulation. The other half is presumed to be hidden away in the family sock, buried in the back yards, hidden in the attic or concealed in private or lock boxes in vaults.

If this hidden treasure were put into circulation through banks it would work wonders for our country, and would finance many meritorious enterprises.

It may be that a large part of this private money is not in banks because the owners have not sufficient confidence in the banks.

The Guaranty Fund Banks of Texas have the very best means of creating this confidence.

The very fact that since the Guaranty Fund Law has been in operation, not a single dollar of non-interest bearing or unsecured deposits has been lost by depositors in the State Banks of Texas.

Avail yourself of this protection by depositing your money in—
