given a number and included in the new directory. If there are

COLLECTOR'S OFFICE GETS A NEW SAFE

A new safe has arrived to be installed in the tax collector's office at the court house and as soon as the workmen can, it will be installed in that office. The safe formerly used in the collector's office was blown in the recent robbery that took place a few weeks ago, and since that time a safe has been a greatly felt want. The new strong box is better suited for the needs of the office than the old one. It is of the cabinet style and at the rush season at the office it will fill a need that has caused considerable inconvenience since the old safe has been out of commission.

Three in a Row

The Ballinger High School basket ball team went on a rampage Thursday and Friday and copped three contests in a row. Thursday the team went to Rowena and gave the school team of that place a 24 to 4 beating. Friday afternoon the Ballinger eagles turned the trick of annexing a double bill by defeating the Miles Highs in a hard played game by the score of 14 to 8, and then beating Hatchel 12 to 8.

Miles had previously defeated the locals in two games and Friday's victory comes as sweet revenge for the Cliffmen. The second string men were used during most of the game with Hatchel.

A tournament to decide the champions of Rummels county will be held on the Ballinger court next Saturday, Feb. 2nd.

JACK HOXIE SAVES LIFE OF DIRECTOR

Scene from 'THE RED WARNING' Starring JACK HOXIE
A UNIVERSAL ATTRACTION

During his cowboy days, Jack Hoxie, Universal Western star, could shoot as well as any lad on the range. His quick draw and accurate aim probably saved the life of an assistant director of his company during the filming of "The Red Warning," the picture which will be seen in Ballinger at the Fo-to-sho Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The Hoxie company was on a location trip in the Sierra Nevada range in Southern California. A site for some of the scenes in the picture caused the entire company to ride their horses twenty miles on a rough mountain trail.

Victor Nordlinger, assistant to Robert North Bradbury, director, had dismounted to fix the latigo strap on his saddle. His horse suddenly snorted and jumped.

When he had sufficiently recovered to protest, he observed Hoxie carelessly emptying a shell from his .45 Colt revolver. A six foot rattlesnake lay slowly writhing in the rough surface of a rock, its head virtually severed.

Nearly two hundred cowboys and ranchers were employed as extras for one of the big night riding scenes in "The Red Warning." The scene furnishes one of the big thrills in the picture and presents a wonderful display of horsemanship.

MAY McAVOY COMING IN NEWSPAPER STORY
AT MAEROY THEATRE

Mellow moonlight—darkie melodrama—dark eyed beauties—fried chicken—so many pleasant things have come out of the old South that it holds an indefinable charm for the writer, the poet and the musician. The photo-dramatists have capitalized Southern atmosphere with unusual success and a number of brilliant recent productions have been laid below the Mason and Dixon line.

Thomas H. Ince has succumbed to the lure of "New Aw-leans" in his latest production "Her Reputation," a vividly colorful story of the South of the old days and the West of today. An adaptation from the novel of the same name by Bradley King and Talbot Mundy, the picture is one of the most powerful screen features ever built around the power of the modern day "press."
"Her Reputation" will be shown at the Maeroy Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The opening scenes are of a Spanish wedding fiesta which occurs on the plantation of one of the old time Spanish families of New Orleans. Beautiful señoritas, dashing caballeros, and showering rose leaves are the picture-que background for May Mc-Avoy's appearance in the role of a spoiled Southern beauty. The dainty little star is ravishing in the costumes of Madrid and the life of the South of the old days has been marvellously reconstructed even to including some remarkable types of old-time darkies.

After some startling flood scenes, the locale of the story shifts in effective transition to the Pacific coast. The gay night life of San Francisco, the roaring presses of a great newspaper plant, a front page "scandal" and a subsequent romance have been woven into one of the most unusual screen offerings of the season. There isn't a dull moment from start to finish, it is said.

Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of Route 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up."

"I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is a most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart."

"I began to feel, after awhile, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results."

"I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up.
"Gradually the nervousness left me.
I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right. Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

ten, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend

NEED SCHOOL FOR MEXICANS

"The school board is going to have to provide a school for the Mexican children," said Superintendent J. M. Skinner in discussing the rapid increase in the Mexican scholastics Friday. Mr.
Skinner stated that there were about twenty-five Mexican children in the schools of the city at this time, and quite a number are not attending school, and if the compulsory education law was applied to them they would have to enroll.

Other cities have had the Mexican problem to contend with, and in a number of instances separate schools have been provided for them, and white teachers put in charge, while in some places the Mexican children are enrolled with the white children.

Without making any reference to what the law provides in such cases, it is a problem which can best be handled by separating the Mexicans and whites just as the whites and negroes are separated.
However, it would be necessary to place a white teacher in charge of the Mexican school, unless a Mexican could be found who holds proper teacher's certificate and who was competent and qualified to teach in the English language, using the regular state text books.

So far the board has been able to handle the Mexican children in the white schools, but it works a hardship on the teachers. The teachers report that the Mexican children are easy to handle, are much more obedient to the rules and give less trouble than the white children, but there is a certain part of the work which will not mix.

When you want a drink come cious cup of Hot Chocolate.

NO LAW RULINGS FOR INDIVIDUALS

The demand being made upon the attorney general's department from individuals through the county and district attorneys of the state has caused the attorney general to send out a notice that hereafter no rulings will be made except on questions affecting the official duties of public officials.

Frequently persons seeking legal advice, instead of going to an attorney and paying for such advice, apply to the attorney general for a ruling, and the notice sent out to the county and district attorneys seeks to put an end to this free service, and at the same time enable the attorney general's office to render more efficient and prompt service to the departments whom it is their duty to serve. In a letter to local county and district attorneys advising them to confine their requests for opinions to public matters, the attorney general says:

"Submit no inquiry that does not involve an official duty imposed upon you or some officer whom it is your duty to advise. It is not the duty of any of us to advise private citizens or city officers."

"When requesting an opinion state the facts fully, with your view of the law, accompanying same with a full and complete brief, citing all statutes and available authorities on the question, including textbooks, and make such quotations therefrom as may be in point. Let your brief be full and complete."

"County auditors are entitled to advice from the Attorney General but only on questions pertaining to their official duties. They should first apply to the district or county attorney for advice."

WASH POISON FROM KIDNEYS

Kidney and bladder irritation often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in avoiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

FT. WORTH MAY INSTALL "THROUGH STREETS"

(By Associated Press)
FT. WORTH, Jan. 25.—Officials of the Fort Worth police department are considering installing the "through street" traffic system, in use in many large cities of the East and North. The plan is to designate certain streets as through streets and traffic on these streets could proceed uninterrupted as all cross or incoming traffic would be required to come to a dead stop before proceeding.
