COTTON ADVANCES $5.00 PER BALE

Urges Special Session Oust Officials

(By Associated Press)
DALLAS, Nov. 21.—Representative Irwin of Dallas, today appealed to Speaker of the House Lee Satterwhite to call a special session of the state legislature to "impeach any state officer who has aided or abetted in any way this gigantic fraud on the people of Texas."
Irwin said he referred to the highway situation.

AUSTIN, Nov. 21.—An order restraining the Hoffman Construction Company, of Eastland, from receiving from the state or disposing of any of its funds was issued by Judge George Calhoun here today when he set the hearing for the temporary injunction which was asked in a suit filed by Attorney General Dan Moody against the company.

AUSTIN, Nov. 21.—A large number of congratulatory telegrams from many sections of the state were received today by Attorney General Dan Moody, following his victory in the American Road Company suit yesterday.

As a result of the outcome of the trial the State will recover over $600,000 in excess profits on highway contracts and the cancellation of approximately $2,000,000 worth of contracts held by the American Road Company for work not started.

Moody left here today for Washington, where he will represent the state before the United States Supreme Court in the Texas-Oklahoma boundary case set for next Wednesday.

Chiropractor Cases Are to Be Heard Monday

The cases of the State of Texas vs. Dr. Nettie Montgomery, of Ballinger, and Dr. Craig of Winters, charged with practicing medicine without a license, will go to trial unless County Attorney C. P. Shepherd is served with a writ of injunction before that time restraining him from prosecuting these cases.

A temporary injunction was granted in Dallas Friday by Ed R. Meeks, Associate Judge of the Federal Court, District Five, County attorneys in Tarrant and Dallas counties have been served with the writ and cases there have been postponed until the injunction is passed upon. Hearing on the injunction will be held in Fort Worth Tuesday, and Judge James C. Wilson will pass upon the temporary injunction.

It is thought by local attorneys that county and district attorneys will not be served with the writ until after Judge Wilson passes on the temporary injunction and in case he rules to make it permanent, all state's attorneys in Texas will be served and restrained from prosecuting these cases until the supreme court rules on the case. However the cases set for trial in Ballinger Monday will be called unless the injunction is served on County

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—An increased alcoholic content allowed in beer, from one-half of one per cent to seventy-five hundredths per cent will be sought by an amendment to the Volstead Act and will be proposed again at the coming session of congress by Representative Dyer, Republican from Missouri.
The proposal was defeated at the last session in the judiciary committee.

42,000 FAMILIES ARE UNEMPLOYED

(By Associated Press)
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 21.—The unemployment situation in Mexico City is acute and the General Confederation of Workers announces that more than 42,000 families in the federal district, in which the city of Mexico is situated, and almost 100,000 families in other parts of the republic are without means of support and are unable to obtain employment.
The reports from which these figures were obtained, it is said, only cover a portion of the country.

Life isn't just one darn thing after another. It is just about a million darn things after a million others.

Try giving less thought to what people think of you and more to what you think of them.

Attorney Shepherd before that date.

COTTON CROP SHORT IN SPUR SECTION

SPUR, Tex., Nov. 21.—Indications are that over 90 per cent of the good, staple cotton is out. The amount of snap cotton that will be gathered is yet to be determined as it largely depends on the weather.

The official cotton ginning report issued by the government up to the middle of October gave Dickens county 2,231 bales. At the same time last year there had been 8,367 bales ginned. Probably 2,000 bales have been ginned since the report.

KISSING BARRED IN HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

EL PASO, Nov. 21.—Although they may embrace them ardently, neither the hero nor the villain, nor any other actor will be permitted to kiss girl members in the cast of a play to be presented by high school students here. Swear words and asides also are barred.
"What is appropriate for professionals is hardly prudent for high school students in a play," said Miss Nell Smith, dramatic instructor.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON CABLES

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Nov. 21.—Overfed husbands have become a great problem in England and a celebrated English dietician says indulgent wives are responsible for the large proportion of men with digestive troubles.
"Women are much less inclined to eat too much," says the specialist. They have an uncanny sense about eating. They will give their husbands all sorts of heavy indigestible food. The men eat immoderately while their wives go thru the same meal scarcely tasting the dishes which they prepare for their husbands. The result is that men have much more trouble with their digestive organs than women. Men eat too much meat, too much bread, too many potatoes, too many heavy sweets. Gluttons are rare among women. The sex is too wise to gorge itself."

LONDON, Nov. 21.—It is the mannequin mania now instead of stage struck daughters. Even the chorus girls, who were stage struck once, have a hankering under the changed conditions to become models and have shown an eagerness to desert the footlights because of the more attractive work and better pay.
Professional singers, nurses, school teachers and stenographers and women in many other professions have neglected their old callings in Manchester, Liverpool, Leeds and other English cities, being keen to acquire the splendid manners of a millionairess for a few hours each day, at least.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Suzanne Lenglen lost a diamond arrow last year while she was playing on the center court at Wimbledon and inquiries brought no results. A short time ago on the same court she mentioned the loss to one of the attendants, who immediately restored the lost jewel, saying that he had kept it because no inquiries had reached him and he did not know who the owner was.
Mlle Lenglen immediately pinned the arrow into the bandeau about her head and wore it through her successful games in the Cromer tournament, during which she played so vigorously that she had to change her gown and bandeau three times each day.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Oxford Voice, is to be broadcast throughout England. It has been the subject of much unfavorable comment in England, and is supposed to be something which should be avoided by every self-respecting man who will not wear Oxford bags. But England must hear the Oxford Voice, whether it wants to or not.

A radio broadcasting station is to be opened at Oxford which will reach every part of the British Isles with talks on every phase of university life. In many sections of England the public insists the average Oxford man speaks in a manner which is entirely unintelligible to ordinary human beings, but the British Broadcasting Company has decided to take a chance at it.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—"Foreign office trousers," and other accessories of formal morning or afternoon dress for diplomats are fast going out of style in international gatherings in European capitals.
"Foreign office trousers" is the name given those striped garments of black or grey which normally accompany a cut away or frock coat, white or grey spats, an impeccable waistcoat of grey, black or white, and of course, gloves and a top hat. A gardenia in the buttonhole and a monocle in the eye add greatly to the effect of the ensemble.

But at the last session of the league of nations held in Paris, not one of the representatives of the ten powers having seats on that august body wore correct diplomatic garb—not even Austen Chamberlain, emissary of that sartorially fastidious land, England. All he had of the usual get-up was a monocle and he discarded that for ordinary horn rim spectacles whenever he had to read. Foreign Minister Briand of France was as usual nonchalant and democratic in his attire. Even so polished a statesman as Viscount Ishii of Japan was in a sack suit, while the two South American representatives, Sr. Mello Franco of Brazil and Sr. Guani of Uruguay, usually most punctilious, were similarly garbed. The only concession to the formalities that the assembled statesmen made was to wear stiff collars, and those of rather ancient vintage.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21.—An advance of $5.00 a bale was registered at the cotton exchange here today following the federal government crop estimate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Cotton prices advanced from $4.50 to $5.00 a bale here today following the Department of Agriculture's crop estimate, which was lower than was expected.

PRIVATE BURIAL HELD FOR QUEEN

(By Associated Press)
SANDRINGHAM, Eng., Nov. 21.—Private family services for the Dowager Queen Alexandra were conducted today by her chaplain, the Rev. Dr. Grant, in the bed-room of Sandringham House, where the body is lying in state. King George and his consort and other near relatives attended.

American Ambassador Houghton today sent his personal condolences to King George and also expressed to the British Foreign Office the sympathy of the American nation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Cotton production this year will probably total 15,298,000, equivalent to 500-pound bales, the Department of Agriculture announced today. A fortnight ago 15,386,000 bales was forecast. The production last year was 13,627,936 bales.
It was indicated that the yield per acre would be 165.5 pounds. The total indicated production in Texas was 4,050,000 bales and the indicated yield per acre 117 pounds.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Cotton of this year's crop ginned prior to November 14th, totalled 12,499,035 running bales counting round bales as half bales and excluding linters, compared with 11,162,235 bales of the same date last year, the Census Bureau announced today.
The ginnings so far this year in Texas were 3,152,455 bales.

A recent law passed in Cuba requires many different kinds of business establishments to employ fifty per cent women clerks. It smacks some of the kinds of laws passed in this country concerning hired help and which were declared null and void by the courts.

Rumors reporting that Dan Moody would be a candidate for governor at the next Democratic primary election were put to rest by Moody declaring that he had not announced nor authorized anyone else to announce for him. Just the same, however, if he does not announce of his own free will, Moody will be projected into the fight by his supporters. Some people are born great and some have greatness thrust upon them. So far Dan seems to belong to the latter class.

Poultry shows are holding the limelight all over West Texas for the next two months. Almost every town in this part of the state is staging a poultry exhibit and some very attractive premium lists are being offered to get the poultry raisers to exhibit their birds. The Ballinger show will be about the last on the list of poultry exhibits and will be held about the right time to get a large number of fowls from all over this section of the state.

Rev. W. A. Nicholas, who travels over this part of Texas with a basket on his arm gathering up and distributing orphan babies, has placed 40 babies in good homes during 1925. The samaritan also received a letter from some lady on the Plains the other day requesting him to bring a baby to their home on Christmas eve and leave it for her husband. This is an unusual request and if he is able to accommodate the lady his name should be changed to St. Nicholas.

For the past several months women have been attacked on a certain highway near San Antonio and the officers have been completely baffled as to the identity of the assaulters. Two negroes were arrested near San Antonio a few nights ago after a gun battle, and both are being held in jail. The officers used a woman in a car as a decoy and were covering the highway when the blacks stopped the car and tried to force the lady out. They were surprised by the officers and after a stiff fight in which one of the negroes was wounded the pair gave up and made confessions.

Cotton men in Ballinger who have made a close study of the cotton situation all over Texas declare that there is a possible ebullience that Rannels county may lead the state in production of the staple this year. At present Collin county is leading, with about 65,000 bales ginned, but that represents practically the entire yield for that county. Rannels county last week was in ninth place and had about 55,000 bales to her credit with a fair per cent of her crop yet in the fields. We will have a great crop and will rank right at the top this year, but it would be a fine thing if we could lead all Texas and be the banner cotton producing county of the entire state.

Conscientious newspaper reporters who loaned their best formal togs in honor of the council swore that the next time they "covered" the sessions of the league's governing body they would be in "plus fours."

PARIS, Nov. 21—"The time for universal suffrage in France is approaching." This announcement by Henri Roger, dean of the Sorbonne faculty of medicine, brought wild cheers from the delegates to the convention of the French League of Women's Rights.

That French women are slowly awakening to a sense of political responsibility was the tenor of the whole series of meetings held here this week and it was emphasized by the secretary's report on the year's work throughout the country.

Suffragists from all parts of the world have been invited to attend an international suffrage conference in Paris next May. Among the American leaders expected to attend are Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Charlotte Gilman and Martin Cranston.

PARIS, Nov. 21—Broadway came to the boulevards recently when the Parisian took up the "quick lunch" plan. A sign on a restaurant just around the corner from the Boulevard Montmartre reads: "Patrons who lunch here between 11 o'clock and noon will be given a reduction of 25 centimes. Think of others and hurry up."

BERLIN, Nov. 21—German women and girls still are far behind those of the United States in the art of applying cosmetics, is the conclusion reached by a well known socialist member of the Reichstag, who has returned to Germany from America, where he was a delegate to the congress of the interparliamentary union at Washington.

Admitting that the Parisiennes lead the maids of Berlin in this respect, he is inclined to award the palm for "rapid painting" to American femininity, whose dexterity at wielding the powder puff and lipstick stunned him.

"American women are still influenced by the recollections of the customs of the American Indians who were adept at applying pigments to their faces before entering upon the chase or scouting expeditions," observes this critic in the official news bulletin of the Social Democratic party.

He expresses amazement over the freedom and alacrity with which rouge and powder are applied in full view of the public. "It seems, however, to be a very simple operation," he continues. "One morning I encountered in the aisle of a Pullman sleeper, a lady who in the course of the night had changed from what had seemed to me to be a boarding school miss into a venerable looking matron. An hour later I discovered her in the dining car, completely rejuvenated with the aid of her rouge and lipstick."

Reichstag members returning from the Washington gathering are regular German newspaper readers with columns of American impressions, which are about equally divided between comments on economic matters and on the part played by women in American life.

BERLIN, Nov. 21—Is the mysterious statue known as the "Attie Goddess," acquired by the Berlin museum for 1,000,000 marks, a genuine production of ancient Greece, and was the purchase negotiated through legitimate channels?

These questions recently have been causing a heated debate in the Prussian diet, where the nationalists introduced a motion to restrain the ministry of art, education and science from appropriation funds for buying the much discussed Greek statue. Various critics have declined to pronounce the piece genuine until the ministry divulges the origin of the statue and identifies the parties who have offered it for sale.

Other members of the diet hotly oppose the purchase with state funds, and insist that the million marks should be diverted for the relief of hundreds of impecunious German artists who are

BERLIN, Nov. 21—A German-Austrian union has been organized to promote economic relations and keep alive cultural understandings between the two countries in preparation for a time when Austria may unite with Germany.

Among the members of the executive council of the union are Karl Jarress, national candidate for president who withdrew in favor of President von Hindenburg, and who is now mayor of Duisburg; Count Hugo Lerchenfeld, former Bavarian premier; and Dr. Richard Hueh, author.

Explaining the objects of the union, Franz Schwyer, Bavarian minister of the interior, said he was aware that the purposes of the union might be misconstrued by some allied circles.

"The union is a non-partisan, non-propagandist organization," Herr Schwyer said, "fully aware that a union of Austria with Germany would not be countenanced by the allied powers at present. The union will attempt to pave the way for complete understanding in anticipation of the union of the two countries. Racially and culturally the two peoples are so closely related that Austria might well be a part of Germany."

BERLIN, Nov. 21—An improved "magic wand," said to be capable of indicating the presence of coal, oil, metals, salts or water in the earth, has been invented by Prof. Mindrop of the Bochum school of mines.

Experiments with the new wand are said to have been so successful that Prof. Mindrop has been invited by the bureau of mines of the Dutch government to determine the extent of coal and ore deposits at Murik, Holland.

The wand contains undisclosed magnetic substances. Laid on the surface of the earth, an indicator in the tube is said to register the presence of various mineral elements far below the surface. Similar wands heretofore, Prof. Mindrop claims, have disclosed only the presence of metallic elements.

Retired Minister Tells How He Keeps in Good Form With the Assistance of Black-Draught.

West Graham, Va.—The Rev. Lewis Evans, a well-known retired minister, now past 80, living here, has a high opinion of Black-Draught, which he says he has taken when needed, for 25 years. "For years I had been suffering with my liver," he says. "Sometimes the pain would be very intense and my back would hurt all the time. Black-Draught was the first thing I found that would give me any relief."

"My liver has always been sluggish. Sometimes it gives me a lot of trouble. I have suffered a lot with it—pains in my side and back, and bad headache, caused from extreme biliousness."

"After I found Black-Draught, I would begin to take it as soon as I felt a spell coming on and it relieved the cause at once. I can recommend it to anybody suffering from liver trouble. A dose or two now and then keeps me in good form."

Made from selected medicinal roots and herbs, and containing no dangerous mineral drugs, Black-Draught is nature's own remedy for a tired, lazy liver. NC-155

100 LEGION MEN ATTEND BANQUET

One hundred and twelve plates were set Friday night at the Central Hotel for the American Legion banquet and every plate was taken. The Legionnaires answered "chow call" with the same enthusiasm that they did in the good old days of '17 and '18, and M. H. Watson, proprietor of that hostelry, stated that at the end of the spread it was hardly necessary to wash the dishes, so clean was the menu consumed. It is safe to say that no disabled veterans were present judging from the appetite displayed by the 100 odd ex-service men present.

Much of the credit for the success of the occasion must go to C. W. Thorp, who handled all arrangements with the assistance of some selective draft men. Everyone present had a good time and the happy affair was brought to a close at 10:30 p. m. to prevent it from becoming a dull, long-drawn out program as so many banquets are.

The occasion for the banquet was the opening of the campaign for putting over a successful Legion show this year. Each year the Legion men gather at the beginning of rehearsals to instill a little pep into its membership and get them to pushing for the success of the performance which will be presented this year on December 21st at the new high school auditorium.

Ten young ladies dressed in crepe paper aprons and caps served the meal and they were largely responsible for the success of the banquet, serving the courses rapidly yet with style and grace.

Miss Anna Jean Sharp sang a solo which was encored several times, and Miss Dorothy Chaney favored the assemblage with a violin solo which was also well received.

Troy Simpson, acting as toastmaster, presented each member of the cast of the 1925 show, who responded with brief remarks pledging themselves to do their best to make the fifth annual show the best of them all. Those present were: Misses Copas, Reynolds, Sharp, Butler, Stroble; Mesdames Moody and Paul; and Messrs. Earnshaw, Jones, Lynn, Motley, Atkins, Cameron and Cohen.

A very impressive talk was made to the banqueters by J. McGregor, in which he asked the men present to bow their heads a moment in memory of a man who paid the supreme sacrifice, and for whom the local post was named. Mr. McGregor also called to mind many of the humorous incidents of the years of service, as well as the days of watching and waiting at home.

Other short pep talks were made by Joe Simmons, Tom Caudle, L. Cohen and John A. Weeks.

The Legionnaires declared it was the best social gathering ever held by the post and everyone present pledged themselves to stay behind the fifth annual show until it had passed into history as another Legion success witnessed by "A Full House."

Esther Ralston Opposite Dix in Picture at Queen

Did you ever try to drive a Ford after having run a selective type car? Remember the difficulty you had in getting used to the double back action pedals and the tricky throttle levers? If you wanted to stop, you threw in the clutch, and the first thing you know, it shot straight ahead. If you were very lucky, it didn't hit anything—much.

That was position Esther Ralston found herself in recently. She had never driven a Ford but her role as Richard Dix's leading woman in "The Lucky Devil" plainly stated that she be able to manipulate a flivver. In it she is a young girl touring the country with her mother.

Many were the adventures which were hers before she finally mastered the bucking steed. Suffice it to say that when she was told the car she was practicing on was the one she was to drive in the picture, Esther gave a quizzical look out of her pretty eyes and said—"Maybe."

"The Lucky Devil," which was directed for Paramount by Frank Tuttle, is an original story by Byron Morgan. The picture closes a two-day run at the Queen Theatre tonight.

"In the Name of Love" Coming to the Queen

Romance, brightened with humor, charmingly served up by a stellar cast of favorites, and set amidst magnificent surroundings is what film-goers may expect to see when they visit the Queen Theatre Monday and Tuesday of next week, where a new Paramount production, "In the Name of Love," will be the chief film piece of resistance.

The story is a brilliant adaptation by Sada Cowan of Bulwer-Lytton's sparkling love-classic, "The Lady of Lyons," and was produced under the direction of Howard Higgin. Ricardo Cortez, Greta Nissne, Wallace Berry and Raymond Hatton are the quartet of featured players.

The early development of the plot finds Cortez returning to his native France after many years of residence in America. Not 40ve of country but love of a girl, his pretty boyhood sweetheart, has drawn the thoroughly Americanized Frenchman back to the provincial town where he was born.

Disillusionment follows when he discovers that the passing years have changed Greta from a lovely, unaffected personality to a wealthy and snobbish beauty, whose social ambitions are centered on marrying a title. Tempted at first to leave, he finally decides to stay and win her love back.

Needless to say he does that very thing, and it is the means he uses to accomplish his object—by masquerading as the Prince of Como—that provide most of the thrills and laughs in the picture. The advantage of quaint backgrounds, lavish settings and the dazzle and splendor of gorgeous gowns and royal trappings help to make "In the Name of Love" one of the most colorful and entertaining photoplays of the season.

CANYON HAS $216,000 INVESTMENT IN CHURCHES

(By Associated Press) CANYON, Tex., Nov. 21.—At the end of 1926, Canyon will have a $216,000 investment in churches. A new Presbyterian church and a Baptist church building are being constructed, the Baptist structure to cost $75,000 and be completed by July 1926.

The Methodist church, a $65,000 structure, is the largest in Canyon. It is built of brick and in English architecture. The denominations represented here are: Methodist, Episcopal, Presbyterian, Christian, Baptist, Catholic and Church of Christ.

PANTHERS AND ELDORADO TIE

The Ballinger high school Panthers battled the Eldorado high football team to a scoreless tie Friday afternoon at Eldorado. The local team played one of the best games of its season and kept the ball well in Eldorado's territory practically all the time. The only gains made by the Eldoradians were on the forward pass, and they were successful in completing eight passes during the contest, while the Ballinger team completed three. No long gains were made by either side and much straight football was resorted to in an effort to put the ball over the line.

The only danger that the locals faced was in the second half on the kickoff when they fumbled and Eldorado recovered on her twenty-yard line.

The Panthers came home in good condition with no one injured and by Wednesday will be in perfect condition to meet the Winters Blizzards here at Fair Park. The Blizzards will be the strongest eleven the locals have had to take on this season as Winters has a stepping team. Their men are big and play a wonderful, aggressive game. The Panthers are going to put every ounce they have into this closing game and Winters will have to fight hard to hold them. They realize they have a hard battle before them and are preparing this week to get in shape for the ordeal. Coach Oliver and his crew will work this week behind

NAME FLYING FIELD FOR A. & M. MAN

(By Associated Press) COLLEGE STATION, Texas, Nov. 21.—Another Texas A. & M. College man has been honored. Citizens of Tucson, Arizona, have named their flying field the Davis-Monthan Field, in honor of Lieutenants Samuel Howard Davis and Oscar Monthan.

Davis was a Texas aggie and served with the United States Air Service during the World War. As a graduate of Texas A. & M. he became an instructor at Kelly Field at San Antonio. He was killed in 1921 at Arcadia, Florida, December 28, in an airplane accident.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

(Brownwood News)
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Boler, 1700
Fisk Avenue, Brownwood, celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary last Sunday at their hospitable home. All of the children were present to enjoy the happy occasion and all of the grand children were present with the exception of three, who were away from home and could not be there. It must be added that the only great grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Boler was present, he being one of the most important figures in the sumptuous feast that began at 12 o'clock sharp. This young American was Billy Bob Garms, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Garms of Bangs.

There were exactly fifty who partook of the delicious dinner, which consisted of most every palatable dish one could imagine.
The day was spent most enjoyably in music and happy conversation of yesterdays and the present time. Mr. and Mrs. Boler were the recipients of some lovely gifts.

Those present were: W. F.
Swindle and family of Blanket;
J. Mark Boler and family and
Mrs. Wayland Garms of Bangs;
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Boler and children of Indian Gap; J. B.
Boler and family of Ballinger;
Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Brannan and children of Clear Creek; Bertie Boler and family of McDaniel;
Oscar Swindle and family, Blanket; Austin Boler and family,
Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Swindle,
Ralph Sehy and family, Mrs. Zimmerman and son, Prentice McLe-land, all of Brownwood.—Contributed.

BEGIN CONSTRUCTION ON RAILROAD BETWEEN TAMPICO AND MEXICO

(By Associated Press)
TAMPICO, Mexico, Nov. 21.— Actual construction work has been started on the short line railroad which is to connect this port with Mexico City. From now until the completion of the line and the operation of trains between Mexico's port of entry and the national capital, two or three years hence, the work will be pushed with all possible speed,
the builders declare.
More than 300 men are at work,
only a preliminary force to the thousands who will be employed by the National Lines of Mexico
after the wharf at Tamos is built and the bridge over the Panuco River is completed.

The railroad from Tamos to Comales, 20 kilometers long, is to be rebuilt. A part of it is to cross the Panuco River. This road was built several years ago, but has deteriorated.

Completion of the line will fulfill the greatest desire of Tampico citizens, who have long wanted a direct route to Mexico City. It will be an accomplishment of tremendous importance commercially. The road will open up one of the richest agricultural sections of the republic and will enable this port to ship merchandise to Eastern cities at lower rates.

PREPARING FOR ABILENE GAME

Special to The Ledger:
ABILENE, Nov. 21.—Improvements costing $3,000 are being made on the Simmons University athletic field in preparation for the annual "Turkey Day" football game between the Simmons Cowboys and the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets. The old grandstand, which was located on the Northwest corner of the athletic field, has been torn down and a larger building which will give the field a seating capacity of 5,000 people, is being erected.

The new grandstand will have 100 extra box seats and 900 reserve seats will be located within the net wire enclosure which has been placed around the football field. The eagerness with which the fans in West Texas are looking forward to this game is indicated by the fact all available reserve seats, 1,000 in number, were purchased within six hours after having been placed on sale. A section of the grandstand is being reserved for the Simmons "S" Association, students and ex-students of the university, and for students of the high school
and other two colleges of the city,
and for the Howard Payne delegation of students.

Inquiries pouring into the university headquarters from every section of the country indicate that the largest crowd which has ever attended a football game in West Texas will be on the Simmons field on Thanksgiving Day.

By winning the game from the East Texas Teachers College at Commerce on last Wednesday, the Cowboys virtually won the championship of the T. H. A. A.
for this season's football, but the victorious Cowboys are expecting the hardest fight of the season in the game on Thanksgiving when they meet the Yellow Jackets.

What is Thrift

The true definition of Thrift is to spend a little less than you earn; to live simply, work diligently, spend judiciously;
save consistently.

Thrift is merely common-sense applied to spending. It deprives no one of rightful pleasure or comfort, but is rather the answer to all things worth while.

Obituary

Mrs. O. M. Hood

Mrs. O. M. Hood died Saturday morning at 1:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. W.
Cobb, after an illness of eight days. She was stricken with pneumonia eight days ago and with all that could be done for her she was unable to fight off the dread disease, and death relieved her suffering Saturday morning. She was 74 years, 11 months and 5 days old when she died.

Mrs. Hood moved to Runnels county in 1909 from Bell county, and lived with her husband in South Ballinger until 1916 when he died. Since that time she had been making her home with her daughter at 900 Eleventh Street.

Mrs. Hood leaves a family of three boys and one girl, all of whom were present at the time of her death, as well as one brother. Those present were: E.
A. Carroll and family, of Cross Plains; W. E. Carroll and family, of Richland Springs; E. J.
Carroll, of Ballinger; and Mrs. S.
W. Cobb, of Ballinger. A brother,
F. M. Riggins, and his family,
of Young county, were also here.
Mrs. Hood had two other brothers, John and Ben Riggins, who live in Oklahoma; and two sisters, Mrs. J. M. Jones, of Killeen; and Mrs. D. N. Willis, of Youngsport, all of whom were notified but were unable to be present at the funeral.

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock from the residence of S. W. Cobb on Eleventh Street, with Rev.
Alvin Swindell officiating. Interment will be made in Evergreen Cemetery following the services
at the residence.
