Pleads for Less Acreage In Address to Bankers

(By Associated Press)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 19.—A hallucination concerning cotton acreage reduction exists in the minds of many in regard to the agriculture of the South, Col. Clarence F. Ousley, of Ft. Worth, Texas, declared here today at a meeting of bankers.

Designated to lead a South-wide movement for acreage reduction, Ousley called the meeting he said, to set bankers right on the proposition.

"Little can be accomplished at this time to obtain effective general adherence to the reduction program and the only hope for this season is to plant feed and food stuffs and then whether we have a large or small cotton yield we will be insured against suffering and material loss," the prominent Texan said.

Mme. Calve Hides Self in a French Retreat

(By Associated Press)
NICE, France, Feb. 19.—In a little villa buried under flowers and made mysterious by wisteria vines, Emma Calve, once, applauded by thousands in America and Europe, has taken her retreat.

Her ambition now is to develop among French girls another great singer who will fill Calve's place on the world's operatic stage.

Two hours each day she works at her "Memoirs," which she is now writing in French, having first written them in English. But her main purpose is to bring glory to France by discovering and bringing out another great opera singer.

Speaking of her young pupils some time ago—Madame Calve never looks after more than six or seven young girls at the same time—she said:

"Look at my family. They are really..."

TEXAS BANKER DIES IN FRANCE

(By Associated Press)

He was also president of the Magnolia Oil Company and the Galveston Wharf Company, as well as a director of a member of other large corporations. The deceased was a graduate of Princeton University.

Sealy's principal benefaction to the city of Galveston was the John Sealy Hospital.

Mme. Cavaliere Opens Big Beauty Parlor in Paris

PARIS, Feb. 19.—"Because I am interested in women, not because I want to make money," Lina Cavaliere replied when asked why, with her large revenue enabling the former singer to live in luxury for the rest of her life, she had decided to open a Paris "beauty parlor."

"Had I wanted to make money I could easily have amassed a large fortune in the United States, where for nine years I wrote articles dealing with the beauty of women and the best methods of preserving it."

Madame Cavaliere's beauty parlor is situated in one of the most fashionable districts in Paris, employs twenty hairdressers, twenty manicurists and twenty masseurs.

Davidson Predicts that Fergusons Wont Run

REVOLT AT C.I.A. IS CONSIDERED

(By Associated Press)
DENTON, Tex., Feb. 19.—The disciplinary committee of the College of Industrial Arts here met today in executive session to consider action regarding the threatened student revolt which was nipped yesterday by the prompt action of Dr. Lindsey Blayney, resigned president of the college.

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Feb. 19.—Neither Governor Miriam A. Ferguson nor her husband, James E. Ferguson will be a candidate for Governor in the next election, is the prediction made today by Lynch Davidson, of Houston, who is himself a candidate for the office.

Davidson stated that he would announce the opening of his campaign on March 6th in East Texas on an issue "that will overshadow the highway controversy."

Borders Case is Dismissed

Although counsel for defense admitted in his argument before the court on a motion to quash affidavit, search warrant and suppress the testimony that the defendant was guilty, John Borders, charged with manufacture of intoxicating liquor, was set free Friday afternoon when the court granted the motion to quash, and the state dismissed the case. The state also asked that a similar case against C. G. Thorne be stricken from the docket.

In substance the court's ruling held that the search warrant did not comply with the search and seizure law in that the sheriff who filed the affidavit for the search warrant did not furnish the justice of the peace who issued the warrant with the proper information as required by law, etc.

The same ruling would no doubt have obtained in the Thorne case, in which a similar search warrant was used, and the state asked that this case be dismissed. Thorne's auto was searched and a quantity of liquor found.

The Borders case was one which had attracted considerable attention, and was a raid in which the officers made one of the largest hauls ever made in the county. In offering testimony before the court to show that the search warrant was not valid, Judge Walter Woodward, counsel for Borders, placed Sheriff R. E. McWilliams on the stand, and on cross examination by the state the sheriff stated that Borders told him he had been operating a still for about three years, and had just recently installed the big outfit which the officers captured in the raid.

Foch Says Demosthenes Was Too Talkative for Service

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Feb. 19.—Marshal Foch does not share that enthusiasm for Demosthenes which led Clemenceau to devote the leisure of his retirement to writing a book on the great Athenian orator.

"Demosthenes does not interest me," remarked the eminent soldier. "He talked a great deal. But that did not save his country."

39 BODIES ARE FOUND IN SNOW

(By Associated Press)
BINGHAM, Utah, Feb. 19.—The end of the long search for the living and the dead in the Sap Gulch snow-slide tragedy is in sight, according to the prediction of Supt. Wardlaw, of the Utah-Delaware Mining Company. He predicted that tonight would mark the conclusion of the first complete examination of the devastated area.

Thirty-nine known dead have been placed in the morgue and 12 injured persons are reported to be resting easily in a local hospital. From 15 to 20 bodies are believed to yet be entombed in the tons of snow.

Tennis Stars Set Fashions for Riviera Society Circles

(By Associated Press)
CANNES, France, Feb. 19.—Helen Wills, despite her extreme youth, is so austere and calm on the tennis court, that she affords a marked contrast to the temperamental Suzanne Lenglen with all her French mannerisms, and very delightful mannerisms many of them are.

Cabaret performers the length of the Riviera are giving imitations of the two women tennis players which meet with great favor and will doubtless soon spread to the music halls of European capitals.

Movie stars, opera singers and actresses have no chance in competition with the famous tennis players. Suzanne and Helen set the fashions and they predominate society circles. The colors they wear are all the rage.

With food and water gone and after drifting for more than a month after a storm had rendered their vessel helpless, fourteen of a crew of thirty-one members on the Japanese steamer Taishin Maru Nolen were rescued today in mid-Pacific by the Standard Oil Company tanker Java Arrow.

The other seventeen members of the crew who left the steamer in life boats are believed to have perished. The surviving members of the crew had been without water for five days and without food except rats and the ship's cat for 20 days.

Word of the rescue was relayed to the Associated Press by the Dollar Line steamer President Wilson.

Fined for Not Voting, Dutch Women Quote the Scriptures

(By Associated Press)
AMSTERDAM, Feb. 19.—Quoting the Bible as saying "women should be silent and obedient," scores of Dutch dames, arraigned on charges of violating the compulsory voting law, prefer to go to jail for a day in defense of their religious convictions rather than pay the customary fine of 20 cents.

Courts have turned a deaf ear to religious pleas and enforce the voting law to the letter. They have ruled that the Bible cannot be interpreted literally on the suffrage question in an age of short skirts, bobbed hair and feminine smoking.

Two are Sent to Jail for Stealing Cotton Seed

C. C. Wood and Arthur Townsend, two young men, plead guilty in district court here Thursday and were fined $100 each and sent to jail on charges of stealing cottonseed.

The men were alleged to have stolen a truck load of cottonseed and carried it to San Angelo where they sold it. The amount received figured less than $50, and brought the charge down to a misdemeanor. After the case had been reduced from a felony to a misdemeanor the boys plead guilty and accepted sentence.

The accused took a pauper's oath, indicating that they were not able to pay their fines, and in addition to the jail sentence of twenty days assessed, they must also serve out the amount of the fine in jail.

The court took up the case of Clarence Keeton, negro, charged with forgery, Thursday afternoon, and the negro plead not guilty. The case went to trial with Judge A. K. Doss defending Keeton.

In the fall of 1924 the negro is alleged to have passed a forged check, or attempted to pass a forged check, at the First National Bank of Ballinger. The check was detected as a forgery while the negro was attempting to pass it. An officer was called and later indicted. The defendant claimed that another negro boy gave him the check to cash. He said that he did not know the other boy, never saw him before tions advertise their winter play-

Carl W. Barnes, Scout Executive, who was here in the interest of the Boy Scout movement. Friday, had his attention called to the juvenile case in district court in which a sixteen-year-old boy was sent to the reformatory.
"Every boy who goes wrong in America costs the government $4,250," said Mr. Barnes. That should be argument enough in favor of the Boy Scout movement.

An Associated Press report received by The Ledger Thursday brought the story of Governor Ferguson's pardoning work for the day. She set nineteen prisoners free. The local district court had just sentenced three men to the penitentiary. It is very necessary that the state have convicts or the convict farms would have to be sold, and then too, Runnels county is trying to do its part in keeping the governor in material to work on.

DRY PROOF

Admitting that there are many liquor law violations, and while in some counties the officers are experiencing trouble in getting convictions in bootlegging cases, the facts that prohibition has worked wonders for America can't be denied.
Money which heretofore went for booze is now going for home building and for the necessities of life. J. E. Kinney, president of one of the largest mortgage companies in the United States, says that prohibition has had a wonderful effect upon home building. "It is my opinion that the general prosperity of the country has been developed and improved and more people have obtained homes since prohibition than during a period twice as long before prohibition," said Mr. Kinney.

The Savings Bank Journal reports that during 1925 the people of the United States increased their savings by more than $24-000,000,000, and of the estimated population of 112,000,000, more than one-third of the number now maintain savings accounts.

The average savings account at present is $529, the greatest in the history of the country. There were 3,000,000 more automobiles in use in 1925 than in 1924, and there were more homes built in 1925 than for any previous year in the history of the United States.

A report compiled by the federal reserve board shows that the American people spent more money with retail stores during the Christmas shopping period than in any other December in the history of the nation. The cash sales were 7.2 per cent larger than for December 1924.

All the causes of our financial growth may not be due to the "drouth" but the commercial world who had heavy liquor drinkers to contend with during the days of the open saloon, readily gives prohibition credit for the improved condition in the homes of the country.

It was announced Friday morning following a conference of the local pastors association with Carl W. Barnes, of Abilene, that a training course for Boy Scouts would be put on here on March 11th and 12th.

Mr. Barnes is Scout executive of the Chisholm Trail Area Council, which embraces seven counties. Runnels, Coleman, Callahan, Taylor, Jones, Shackelford and Haskell constitute the Chisholm Trail Council, and headquarters for the present is being maintained at Abilene.

The Scout executive conferred with the local ministers and received their hearty endorsement of the Scout movement and the promise of their co-operation in carrying on the work here. J. D.
Motley is in charge of the arrangements for the training school to be held here on the above dates.

"There are about 400 boys within the Scout age in Ballinger," said Mr. Barnes, "and we hope to be able to organize four troops here, and possibly five." Mr.
Barnes stated that the Scout masters would be chosen from the training school to be held. He is well informed on Scout work and is enthusiastic in behalf of making the work a help towards making better men out of the boys of today.

On February 22nd the people of the United States of America will observe with fitting ceremony the 194th anniversary of the birth of George Washington. Reverently and with thankful hearts a hundred million people will bow their heads in memory of a very great man whose unselfish devotion to an ideal made possible the building of this, the world's greatest nation.

As is common in the history of all great nations and all great world figures, there has been built up around the name of this great man a fabric of tradition. How much of it is strictly true and how much the product of the historian's embellishment, probably we will never know with certainty. Recently a writer of national prominence has attacked what he is pleased to call the Washington myth. The cherry tree story, he says, is a fable manufactured out of the whole cloth; and besides George Washington was far from being the faultless character he is pictured. And he offers historical documents in proof thereof.

What matter? Even if these things are proven—and it is not admitted that they are—the fact remains that George Washington was one of the world's noblest figures.
That he was human; that he had faults; that he made mistakes, as all men have done—these things are certain. That he was unswerving in the high attributes of courage, of honesty, of patriotism and unflinching devotion to the unselfish principles for which he stood—these are the things whereof were compounded his immortal claim to the tribute of the ages. These are the things that endure.

Historic Rush of '76 Reproduced in "Thundering Herd," Shows Here Second Time

Jack Holt in Zane Greys
"The Thundering Herd,"
A Paramount Picture

Two great "rushes" across the continent mark the history of the West's development. The first was the rush of the forty-niners from the East to the gold fields of California and the free lands of Oregon. The second was the rush of '76 by the farmers of the Mississippi valley to the buffalo fields of Montana and Wyoming.

It is this latter rush that forms the theme of Zane Grey's "The Thundering Herd," which Wm.
K. Howard directed for Paramount. It will be the chief film attraction for the second time in Ballinger at the Queen Theatre today and Saturday, being returned here by requests of many who failed to see it on its first presentation.

The picture vividly re-creates the old West of fifty years ago.
Throughout the plains of the midwest, huge herds of buffalo roamed at will. Then, in the spring of 1876, news spread that the hides were bringing as much as three dollars each in the East.
Immediately there was a rush.
Persons from all over the country and from all walks of life started for the buffalo fields.
Perhaps the greatest influx was from Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

The story of "The Thundering Herd" tells of the journey of a group of hardy men and women from their farms in the East to the vast uncivilized territory of the Far West. A talented cast has been assembled which is headed by four featured players —Jack Holt, Lois Wilson, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton.

More Than 1,000 Persons in "The Sea Hawk," Coming to the Queen Next Week

Sabatini's brilliant novel, "The Sea Hawk," one of the three best sellers of last season and regarded as a more spirited narrative than even "Saramonche," is the next super-product to be seen in Ballinger at the Queen Theatre, next Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 24 and 25.

This is Frank Lloyd's First National picture version of the adventures of Sir Oliver Trevisan among the Barbary corsairs.

In book form "The Sea Hawk" has been regarded as a modern gem and in relating the story pictorially Mr. Lloyd has enhanced its value. To transfer the ships of the Sixteenth Century design and to use more than a

Milton Sills has been given the dominant role of Sir Oliver, later Sakr-el-Bahr, the hawk of the sea, and Enid Bennett is cast as his sweetheart.

Lloyd Hughes, Wallace Beery, Frank Currier, Marc MacDermott, Wallace MacDonald, Mue, Medea Radzina, Kathleen Key, Christine Montt, Claire de Brey, Lionel Belmore, Fred de Silva, Albert Prisco, Kate Price and others have minor roles.

Jack Daugherty Fights for Girl in "The Scarlet Streak"

"The Scarlet Streak," a Universal serial, is showing in its second episode at the Maeroey Theatre today and Saturday, accompanied by Buddy Roosevelt in "The U. P. Trail," and a Pathe comedy.

Jack Daugherty, the star of the serial, is thrown into many thrilling situations. As the star reporter for The Times he becomes involved with a band of conspirators and a pretty girl, the result being train wrecks, automobile accidents, fights and an exciting nose-dive in an airplane.
In the east are Lola Todd, John Elliott, Albert J. Smith and other chapter-play actors.

How London Zoo Determines Value of Birds and Animals

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, Feb. 19.—Giraffes are valued according to the length of their necks and hippopotami by weight, it was revealed in the annual stock taking of animals at the London Zoo.
Giraffes generally are worth about 500 pounds each. The length of the neck is a determining factor owing to the difficulty of railway transport.

The most valuable animal in the zoo is India Rana, an elephant which carries children about on its back. Its worth is placed at 1,000 pounds (about $5,000).
Rhinoceroses are next, being valued at 900 pounds. Hippopotami are bought and sold by weight, the largest one here being priced at 800 pounds.

The price of lions averages 50 pounds each, according to size, age and disposition, while tigers, which are more difficult to catch, are worth 140 to 180 pounds each.
All told, the zoo mammals were estimated to be worth 25,000 pounds.

SAYS JANUARY

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Feb. 19.—L. H.
Daingerfield, government meteorologist, who noted the moods of the weather and duly makes record of it when it smiles and when it weeps, finds that January was colder and wetter than the average in Texas.

The monthly mean as shown by reports from 125 stations, was 41.8 degrees, which was 3.7 degrees below the state normal. The highest monthly mean was 57.8 degrees at Falfurrias and the lowest was 33 degrees at Vega.
The highest daily temperature was 88 degrees at San Marcos on January 17th and at Mission on January 20th. The lowest was three degrees below zero at Clarendon on January 21st. The monthly range within the state was 91 degrees and the greatest daily range was at Brownwood on January 27th, when the thermometer registered a 57 degree difference in temperature in a single day.

On the moisture side of the record, Mr. Daingerfield found from reports from 218 Texas stations that an average of 3.15 inches of rain fell which was 1.32 inches greater than the state normal. The greatest monthly quantity was 8.29 inches at Conroe. At the other extreme there was none at Muleshoe and only a trace at Booker. Excessive quantities of 2.50 inches or more in 21 consecutive hours occurred at 18 stations. The greatest was 4.35 inches at Hillsboro on January 17th. Meanwhile 16 inches of snow had fallen during the month at Knickerbocker, the largest quantity in the state for the month.

Noting the other moods of the weather, Mr. Daingerfield's records show that 14 days were clear, six partly cloudy and 11 cloudy. The wind blew mostly from the North and reached 40 miles an hour, its highest velocity at Dallas, January 31st, and at Galveston, January 21st.

White Swan COFFEE

SIXTH ANNIVERSARY OF WHITE SWAN COFFEE

Can you remember when you had your first cup of White Swan coffee? Some folks in the Southwest can go back thirty years in reminiscing this delightful experience, because the Waples-Platter Coffee Company, roasters of White Swan Coffee, first placed this better coffee on the market exactly thirty years ago this season. The Waples-Platter name had then been known for nearly a quarter of a century as this company was founded in 1872. The company today is fifty-four years old; has twenty-two wholesale branch houses in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico; 115 traveling salesmen represent this great institution and its services to the people of the Southwest almost reach to the vast proportions of feeding the entire land.

There are more than 100 quality food products which bear the well known White Swan label, but probably the best known product of all is White Swan Coffee, which is now enjoying its thirtieth year of successful manufacture and sale. Celebrating this anniversary the Waples-Platter Company is specializing on the sale of White Swan Coffee this season. Extensive advertising is being done here and all over the Southwest featuring the qualities of this fine coffee. Nearly every grocery store in this territory is featuring this brand of coffee in window displays and other ways to make its sale greater this year than ever. J. W. Shugart, sales manager at Ft. Worth, says regarding this special campaign: "White Swan Coffee is practically a perfect blend of the finest coffees that money can buy. Our great plants roast it with extreme care, testing each roasting expertly and minutely. It is roasted fresh daily and delivered quickly in small quantities to dealers who pass it on to discriminating homes with its absolute freshness. White Swan Coffee by actual test goes one-fourth farther than most other coffee, making it a very economical product."

Turkish Women Cling to Their Ancient Headdress
(By Associated Press)

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 19.—Men are being hanged in Turkey for refusing to shed the fez in favor of the Western hat, but the women are stoutly resisting official efforts to reform their headwear, and in the language of the street "are getting away with it."

Meetings of women have voted not to give up the tight scarf covering the upper forehead, which so gracefully coifs the modern Turkish society women, on the ground that it is both more becoming and less expensive than the hat.

KING-HOLT TO EXHIBIT $65,000 PAINTING HERE

With the assistance of the King-Holt Furniture and Undertaking Company, the Ballinger Kindergarten Association will exhibit the famous $65,000 painting, "Old Darby" here next week.

The King-Holt Co. have agreed to arrange a booth and look after the exhibition of this famous picture, and a small admission charge of five and ten cents will be made, all the proceeds to go to the city kindergarten.

The famous painting will go on exhibition Tuesday, February 23rd, and will be here for several days, or for an indefinite period of time. Come early if you want to see what is perhaps the greatest painting you ever saw. It is through the courtesy of the King-Holt Company, and at considerable expense that the famous painting is being brought to Ballinger. The picture is insured against fire to the amount of $48,000.

This is the original painting, done by Rosa Bonheur, one of the world's most famous artists, at her home at Fontainebleau, France, in 1884, and art critics and laymen the world over have united in declaring it one of the most marvelous pieces of realism ever put on canvas.

The subject of the picture, "Old Darby," is a venerable white horse, who is seen thrusting his head from a barn door. The canvas measures 7x9 feet and has a commercial value of $65,000. It was never sold until after the death of Rosa Bonheur, at which time "Old Darby" with other paintings, came into the possession of her favorite niece, Eugenia Bonheur. In 1900 the picture was acquired by E. M. Thalls, formerly of Boston, and is now the property of P. Fontaine. Next to the "Horse Fair," which is now the property of the Metropolitan Museum, this picture is the most pretentious of Bonheur's works. Few of her paintings bear the same broad technique that makes "Old Darby" one of her greatest achievements.

In real life "Old Darby" was a fisherman's horse, whose humble mission in life was to drag fish nets into shore near Havre, France. The artist, always a lover of animals, saw him at his work, and both admiring and pitying him in his old age, bought him and sent him to Fontainebleau, where she used him for several motives. "Old Darby" is truly a labor of love. It is said of Rosa Bonheur that her love of horses was as a mother's love for her children, and it was this love that inspired in her that almost superhuman talent in their portrayal—a talent which stamped her as the greatest painter of horses the world has ever known.

Three Things to Be Sure of in Building a Home

- 1. The Plan. Better safe than sorry. Be sure your plan is perfect in every detail before you build. Inconvenient and unsatisfactory arrangements, too little closet space, too few built-ins, etc., can prove a constant source of regret. They can be remedied only at considerable expense. We may be able to help you in planning your home.
- 2. Materials. Trying to save on first cost by using cheap, inferior materials, always proves costly in the end. It is the most unwise of all courses to take. Buy materials that will last.
- 3. Construction. A good contractor and skilled workmen offer the best insurance against being a victim of "the high cost of cheap construction." Improper construction is apt to result in constant expense, worry and dissatisfaction. We can put you in touch with reliable workmen.

When you build, build to last. Be sure of these three things. Bring your building problems to us. Let us tell you about our roof that lasts for fifty years.

British Columbia's 67th Birthday

Under a glorious sky an expectant group of distinguished Canadians gathered recently for the unveiling of an ornamental cairn at Gonzales Heights, Victoria, British Columbia, commemorating the early British and Spanish explorers who explored the Pacific coast in the eighteenth century. The ceremony also marked the sixty-seventh anniversary of the existence of the province of British Columbia.

One hundred and thirty years ago Swa by ship profoundly Captain Robert E. Barkley, great-grandson of the intrepid explorer, drew aside the draped flags of Britain and Castile, emblems of the glamour of picturesque days of another era revealing the cairn with its modest bronze tablet.

Among the other prominent participants in the ceremony were John W. Dalby, of Seattle Vice-Consul for Spain; Hon. Walter C. Nicholl, Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia; His Honor Judge Howay of New Westminster; President of the British Columbia Historical Association; Rev. A. G. Macdonald, representing Oak Bay Municipality; also members of the family of Sir James Douglas first governor of British Columbia and of Captain William Henry MeNeill who made a report to the Hudson's Bay Company in 1851 upon the suitability of the present site of the City of Victoria for the erection of a

Headdress Hunches for the Bob-Haired Beauty

By VVYAN DONNER

HERE are five answers to the question of what the bobbed-haired lady will wear in the way of an evening headdress. It's a somewhat difficult question to solve, but here in sketch and photo we have its solution.

One answer is seen in the sketch at the upper left. The coiffure is of the severest, the hair being cropped as closely as a man's. It is covered by a network of large pearl beads. The beaded "cage" is on the lines of a bonnet, and the resulting picture is quaint and interesting.

And, by the way, it is a thing that any girl could make. It requires only a little very fine milliner's wire to give body to it.

In the sketch at the right a carnation is shown masquerading as an earring. It is a French flower, beautifully made, and delicately tinted. Worn at the ear like this, attached to a screw-earring, it presents a simple bit of decoration to contrive.

The photo shows the lovely Gloria Swanson in a more elaborate affair, made of gold leaves and gold grapes, the grapes covered in gold, tinsely, net. Miss Swanson wears this glittering headpiece in her new Paramount picture, "Starc Struck."

In the lower right hand corner a perky bow of taffeta is shown, worn on a taffeta band that passes around the head (more over the top of the head than over the brow). This type of thing is for the very young girl to wear with her simple dance frock of pastel hue which it should match, of course.

and had not seen him since. The case went to the jury late Thursday afternoon.

The jury in the negro forgery case was discharged about 9:00 o'clock Friday morning. The jury reported to the court that they were in a deadlock, standing five to seven and that there were no hopes of reaching an agreement. The jury was out over night, and it was reported took several ballots in trying to reach a verdict, but the last ballot stood like the first one, each juror voting the same every time. It was reported after the jury was dismissed that they stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

The court took up the John Borders moonshining case Friday morning, and spent the forenoon in hearing argument on motion filed by the defense for quashing the indictment. Defense counsel made an attack on the validity of the search warrant, alleging in their motion that the warrant did not comply with the law.

The motion to quash set out the claim that the search warrant was not issued in compliance with the law, that the sheriff was acting upon information and not upon facts when he filed affidavit for a search warrant, that the affidavit did not describe the property to be seized, that the law does not provide for search of private residence except upon information furnished by two creditable persons, and several other cases were set out as to why the search warrant was not legal and the indictment should be quashed.

John Borders was arrested last September following a raid made on a storeroom at his home a short distance South of Ballinger, and at which time a still, a quantity of liquor and ingredients for making liquor was seized. Sheriff McWilliams and Deputy Sheriff John White made the run.
