60,000,000 GALLONS ALCOHOL NOW DIVERTED IN NEW YORK YEARLY

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—An intimate picture of a trail of lawlessness, corruption and crime uncovered in the prohibition enforcement machinery in New York, was given to the Senate sub-committee hearing pleas for modification of the dry law today by Emory Buckner, federal district attorney for the metropolis of New York city.

An atmosphere of collusion in the federal building was described by the witness. He told of finding a seething mass of fixtures, bootleggers, waiters, and others in the federal building at New York when he took charge of the office of district attorney thirteen months ago.

Buckner declared that alcohol diversion was the major difficulty in the enforcement of the prohibition law. The attorney stated that diversion of alcohol now amounts to 60,000,000 gallons per year over the entire county.

THE WEATHER—
 Tonight and Thursday generally fair; probably frost in the extreme Northeast part of the state. Warmer Thursday.

F. T. Rushing, a former Ballinger citizen, accompanied by Mrs. Rushing, stopped off here Wednesday while en route to their home at Georgetown from a visit to their children at Lawn and Rule. Mr. Rushing found time to talk a little politics to his old Ballinger friends, and declared that Williamson county was practically unanimous for Dan Moody for governor. He reported that H. Zlaril, another former Ballinger citizen, and who now lives at Taylor, was backing Moody for governor. W. B. Wood and sons, Elijah and Diaz, who deserted Ballinger a few years ago, and located at Granger, in Williamson county, are also "rooting" for Dan. "You can just tell the world that Dan's home county is for him almost to a man," said the former Ballinger man.

EXPECTS ARREST IN BANK ROBBERY

According to information received in Ballinger Wednesday afternoon arrests are expected within a few hours in the Valera bank robbery case. The officers are working on a clue which offers convincing evidence that the proper parties are under suspicion.

The men are known to have returned to Dallas, and according to the report one of them is well known in Coleman, and was seen in that city Monday morning before the Valera bank was robbed.

It was not disclosed who the man is, or how the officers had picked up the clue, but it is believed the guilty parties will be arrested.

BOLTERS WILL NOT BE RULED OUT PRIMARY

(By Associated Press)
FT. WORTH, April 7.—No meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee will be held to take steps looking to barring from the democratic primaries persons who voted for the republican candidate for governor in the general election of 1924, it was announced here today.

Arthur Edison, chairman of the committee, issued a statement today in response to the report yesterday that such a move was on foot. As has been the rule heretofore, any man or woman who takes the pledge that he or she is a democrat, and will support the nominees of the party, will be the only requisite to participation in the democratic primaries.

AVIATOR LOST IN SNOW STORM

(By Associated Press)
BOISE, Idaho, April 7.—A night of searching by posses in automobiles for Franklin Rose, missing air mail pilot, brought no results this morning. It is believed that the aviator was caught in a snowstorm which raged over this section of the Northwest yesterday.

Airplanes were pressed into service today in an effort to locate the missing man and the search continues.

FLIES NORTH; FINDS NO LAND

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 7.—Capt. George Wilkins, and his pilot, on March 31, made a flight Northward from Point Barrow, Alaska, to latitude 73 degrees and 30 minutes North without sighting land.

The North American Newspaper Alliance announced the result of the flight today. It had been previously supposed that there was land in this vicinity of the North Pole.

Mrs. Anton Pustka, wife of a Rowena merchant, was reported to be seriously ill Wednesday, and it was said that she would probably be brought to the Halley & Love Sanitarium in Ballinger.

HARVARD MAN IS MISSING

(By Associated Press)
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 7.—Mystery surrounded the reported disappearance today of Douglas Robinson, son of Assistant Secretary of Navy Theodore Douglas Robinson. Young Robinson is a sophomore at Harvard University, and the report was circulated that he had mysteriously disappeared.

Although it was said officially at Harvard that Robinson had been reported present at classes today, no one could be found who had seen him. Nor had his parents any word as to his whereabouts.

TOM GREEN TO TEST BOND ISSUE

(By Associated Press)
AUSTIN, April 7.—The Texas Supreme Court today granted a motion for Tom Green county to file a petition for mandamus against Attorney General Dan Moody to compel him to approve $500,000 road bonds issued by that county.

The motion was granted as a part of the steps necessary to test the result of the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Archer county road bond case.

PRESBYTERIANS TO BUILD AT WINTERS

The members of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. at Winters have raised $17,500 towards building a new church. While it has not been definitely decided how strong the congregation will go on the new church, the committee has been directed to employ an architect and get the plans in shape. It is expected that the new church will cost between $25,000 and $30,000.

There is only one Presbyterian church at Winters, the two congregations in that city having united several years ago. Contributions to the new church movement ranged from $1,750 Lord Ashbourne, and is Honorable Violet Albina Gibson. She is thirty years of age.

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 7.—There was a decrease in farm population in the United States of nearly half a million in 1925, it is reported by the Department of Agriculture, which estimates the number of persons living on farms on January 1st, 1926, to be 39,655,000.

For the same date a year ago the farm population of this country was placed at 41,134,000.

Why not a flower show for Ballinger next fall? We can recall when Ballinger attracted the attention of the whole state with its annual flower exhibition. The women are already busy on the job and no doubt the fair association will offer them a prominent place on the program.

The court has ruled that a search warrant is not necessary in liquor raids, when an officer sees a man driving down the street with a carload of liquor, provided the officer can see the liquor sticking out of the bootlegger's pocket, so to speak. The ruling will probably be helpful in one case out of a million.

In his charge to the grand jury a Dallas district judge declared that Dallas was experiencing its greatest crime wave. A week never passes without a murder and hi-jacking is on the daily program, declared the judge. Probably just a little race between Dallas and Houston for first place.

Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit, who appeared before a board of pardons in his own behalf, told the board he only wanted justice. The man's record covered a series of crimes consisting of robbery and murder. Chapman went to the gal-lows on schedule time. The pardoning board gave him what he asked for.

San Angelo is setting a new building record, permits for recent months being the greatest for any period in the history of the Tom Green county capital. It is mostly due to oil, and San Angelo is fortunate in being situated the right distance from the fields to get the benefits without the attendant objectionable features of an oil boom town so often complained of.

The move to outlaw the "holters," and bar from the democratic primary all those who scratched the democratic ticket in the general election of 1924, will result in the forming of another party, if carried out, and by fusing with the republicans again it would make a strong army of voters. The democrats need a house cleaning, it must be admitted, but care should be used to get rid of the undesirable, and the best way to do it is at the polls in a free for all.

FIFTY YEARS OF PUBLIC SERVICE

The first transcontinental telephone line was established from New York to San Francisco only eleven years ago, by way of Chicago and Denver.

A second transcontinental line has recently been completed from Los Angeles through Texas to New Orleans, with lateral lines connecting at San Francisco with the first continental line; from El Paso to Denver and from Fort Worth to Chicago, as well as the existing lines from New Orleans north.

To think that the telephone was unknown until fifty years ago is almost inconceivable. Its phenomenal growth has been due to its practical usefulness and the fact that its officials have always been men of the highest ability.

THE WET WAR

While a Senate committee is wasting time hearing the complaints from the wets that prohibition is a failure, and also devoting a week's time in listening to the drys defend prohibition, President Coolidge is busy forming more drastic rules for prohibition enforcement, according to press reports from Washington. The president's report will go before congress in due time. All manner of argument is being advanced by a bunch of hired liquor interests lawyers to show what a dismal failure prohibition is, and propaganda is being broadcast in an effort to discredit the law.

Even on the streets of Ballinger the charge is frequently made that liquor is as plentiful now as it was in the pre-Volstead days. We can recall when beer and whiskey were shipped into this city by the carloads, and when all that a man had to do to get a drink was to walk into any one of the nine saloons, place his feet on the brass rail and match some friend for the drinks. How many carloads of beer and whiskey are being shipped into Ballinger now?

There are grown children in Ballinger who never saw a carload of whiskey, and who would not know a beer keg if they should meet one rolling down the road. There are men in Ballinger who at one time made the rounds, taking a drink at each of the nine saloons, who would be at a loss now if they started out to get a drink of bootleg liquor. They do not patronize bootleggers and would find it difficult to place an order for booze.

The time is not yet, and probably will never be, when the Eighteenth Amendment will be repealed, or even modified. The chances are good that the law will be strengthened, and the way of the liquor transgressor will be made more difficult to travel.

HEALTHFUL PLAY

Those who have seen the new site recently purchased by the Country Club of Winters, congratulate that city for being able to select such an ideal site for the playground. It is said that the site is far superior to the Ballinger Country Club site in that there are more natural advantages found on the ground.

The Ballinger Country Club and the Winters Country Club, as well as such organizations in other towns, are private, and the privileges are limited to those who are so fortunate as to hold memberships.

What every city needs is a public playground where all who wish can gather for fun and amusement. The human race has suffered in recent years for a lack of healthful play. We have been engaged in a mad race to make money. We know men who are physical wrecks because they neglected the great importance of outdoor exercise and recreation.

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, and is as true as it is written.

At the Parent-Teachers Association meeting Wednesday afternoon the subject of play was discussed. One speaker was assigned the subject, "The Value of Healthful Play." Another speaker spoke on the Advantage of Supervised or Directed Play. We are waking up to the great fact that the neglect of the physical body is creating a demand for more hospital rooms, and is responsible for a larger drug bill.

The city of Ballinger—the people—could not spend a reasonable amount of money more wisely than to invest it in a public park, swimming pool, and under the proper supervision supply those things which will encourage recreation and healthful play.

Failures Among Oil Wells Cost $90,000,000 Every Year

SINCLAIR REFINERY AT HOUSTON

CHICAGO—Twenty-three percent of all wells drilled for oil have been failures, according to a bulletin issued by the American Research Foundation here.

"Drilling oil wells has cost $12,500,000,000 since the beginning of the oil industry," says the bulletin, "and all the oil ever recovered has brought the producers only $7,500,000,000. Eighty percent of wells drilled in wild-cat territory never struck oil.

"Dry holes for the last few years have resulted in an average loss to operators of $90,000,000 a year. Probably the costliest failure ever drilled was in California where a well that did not strike oil represented an investment of $100,000. One company spent more than $1,000,000 on five failures.

"The loot of stock promotion fakers who took the public's money and never drilled at all is a loss not figured in these estimates. There is as much danger today as in the past in investing in fly-by-night oil schemes and companies not backed by a personnel of in-

ATHLETES COVER MUCH MILEAGE

(By Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 7.—Seventy-one hundred university and college athletes traveled a total of 2,399,960 miles to participate here March 26th in the second annual Texas University relay games. L. Theo Belmont, Texas University athletic director, tabulated the mileage. "Some idea of the growth of the relay carnival may be gained from the fact that last year athletes in the university and college division traveled only 61,000 miles," Mr. Belmont said. University and college athletes figured in the rebate. Close to $5,000 was prorated among them. Close to 700 athletes in all participated, but junior college, academy, and high school performers were not allowed a rebate.

Eleven Georgetown University stars, each traveled 3,134 miles to and from Washington, D. C. to compete. They came farther than the members of any other team, and the eleven men were allowed a rebate on the basis of having traveled 34,474 miles.

Athletes from the National University of Mexico took the second longest jaunt. Eight Mexican performers each traveled 2,080 miles to and from the games. Among other athletes allowed a rebate were those from Oklahoma University, Oklahoma A. & M., Kansas University, Kansas A. & M., Missouri University, Illinois University, Ohio State, Ohio Wesleyan, Northwestern, Drake, and Haskell Institute.

All indications are that within a few years the Texas University games will be ranked with the Penn, Drake and Kansas carnivals," Mr. Belmont said. "We have in the memorial stadium an ideal plant for the staging of the games. Visiting athletes were delighted with the almost perfect track."

Coach Clyde Littlefield's Texas Longhorn speedsters this month will compete in the Kansas and Drake relay carnivals. At the Kansas games, they will be called on to defend their medley relay laurels won last year, and at the Drake games the four mile relay title captured last year. In winning the mile and seven-eighths medley championship, the steers set a world's record.

Much of the success of the Texas University relay carnival is attributed to the splendid showing of Coach Littlefield's proteges at Kansas and Drake.

Radio Big Factor on Farm; Sec'y Jardine Appoints New Expert

WASHINGTON—The growing importance of radio as a factor in the future of American agriculture, emphasized by A. Atwater at the time of the recent National Radio Conference here, is recognition by the United States Department of Agriculture that it is now being taken to extend and improve radio service for the farmer. Under orders of Secretary Jardine, Sam Pickard, formerly associated with Jardine in radio work in Kansas State Agricultural College, has been named to take control of the Department's activities, heretofore divided, to undertake a definite, systematic development of radio reaching agriculture.

SAM PICKARD

His work will not be confined to Kansas directly under federal control. It will seek the cooperation of state and local agencies, public and private, in carrying out the largest possible measure of radio into the homes of America's farm families. Secretary Jardine himself sees the farm as the field of radio's best contribution to civilization. While still president of the Kansas State Agricultural College, he was instrumental in using radio, for the first time, in extending the agricultural extension work of that institution. "Radio," says Secretary Jardine, "is already a vital factor in the domestic and intellectual life of the farmer. The part it will exert in the future is beyond calculation. It may to foresee millions of dollars added to the value of agriculture through the employment of radio methods imparted by radio instruction to reserve wave lengths for the future broadcasting of programs designed primarily for farmers were taken at the radio conference when a resolution by William A. Wheeler, Department of Agriculture representative on the Interdepartmental Radio Board, was adopted. This resolution was designed to make possible the extension of broadcasting of agricultural extension courses by all the major agricultural colleges in the country."

His vision should be made within the broadcast band of frequencies for the distribution of material of an educational, informative and economic character by state universities, agricultural colleges and departments of agriculture. The broadcasting of this material, the conference declared, in adopting the resolution, to be "a matter of national importance."

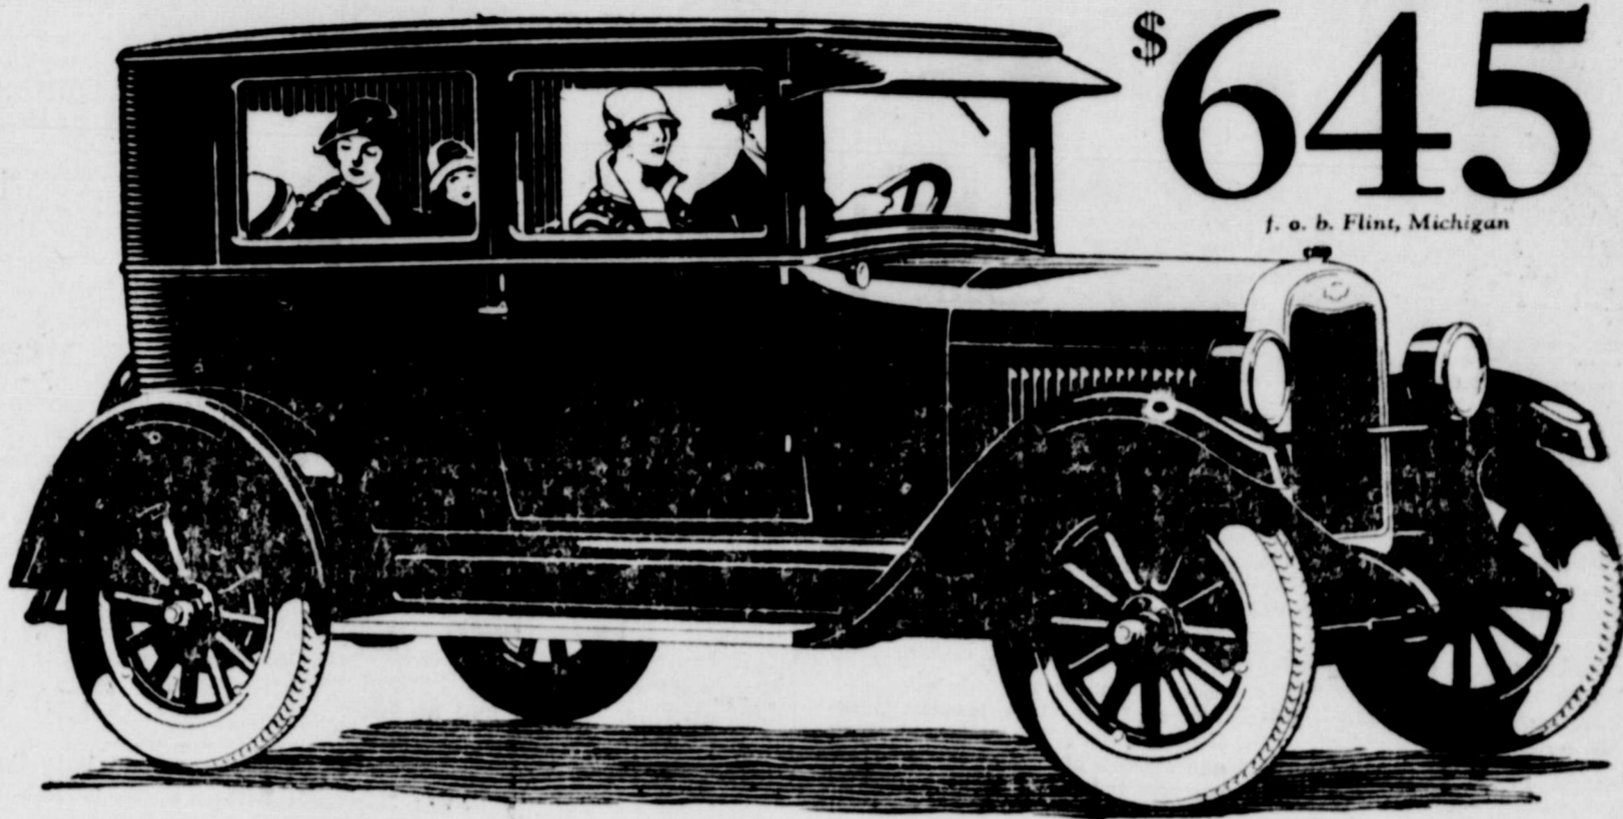

As to the development of agricultural broadcasting, foreseen by experts in the Department of Agriculture, Wheeler says: "I predict that, within the next few years agricultural extension courses generally will be conducted by radio. I do not mean merely that there will be broadcast, sold, formal, long-distance lectures. I mean that actual class room instruction, under class room conditions, will be given by radio, with the students regularly registered and examined and with full credit given for the work performed. Every farmer, man and wife, and every farmer and his wife, as well as his children, will be able to benefit by these agricultural extension courses which now, of course, reach a comparatively small percentage of the total farm population."

Antique Jewelry Now in Vogue

ESTELLE CLARK

THE rage for antique jewelry is with us again. Everyone who is anyone is digging up old family heirlooms and jewels that belonged to grandmother to wear in striking contrast to one's modish costume today.

No matter what the style, metal or shape in which it is fashioned, if it is more than 50 years old it is extremely smart.

Estelle Clark, Metro-Goldwyn-Maver player, wears a very beautiful necklace with earrings to match which her father brought to her from Venice, Italy, when he visited her recently.

These ornaments are gold filigree, minutely done by hand, of the Venetian and Florentine school. Though foreign jewelry is very much sought after at present, antiques do not necessarily have to come from abroad to be smart. Pieces of American jewelry, necklaces, earrings, bracelets and rings add a touch of chic to the smartest costume today.

Translation of Alexander's Letter Starts Treasure Hunt

LENINGRAD, April 7.—Professor Denike and Professor Masalski have discovered in the library of the late Khan of Kiva a manuscript containing a translation from Greek into Arabic of a letter sent by the Great Macedonian Prince, Alexander the Great, to one of his generals.

The letter gives a full inventory of the hero's treasury, consisting of a pile of gold bars on which are engraved treatises on medicine and morals. The government will make excavations on the spots mentioned in the letter.

Many Ballinger Folks Have Found How to Make Work Easier.

What is so hard as a day's work with an aching back? Or sharp stabs of pains at every sudden twist or turn?

There is no peace from the dull ache.

No rest from the soreness, lameness and weakness.

Many folks have found relief through Doan's Pills. They are a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Ballinger people recommend Doan's.

Mrs. J. D. Maxwell, 419 Strong Ave., Ballinger, says: "My kidneys acted too freely and my back became weak, tired and aching. My housework was a burden as sharp pains seized me across my back when I swept or washed. I became dizzy, too. I used Doan's Pills from the Pearce Drug Co., and they fixed by kidneys up fine. I have had no further trouble so I know I have been cured."

THOMAS MEIGHAN IN THE PARAMOUNT PICTURE 'IRISH LUCK'

Tom Meighan has Dual Role in "Irish Luck" at Queen

Thomas Meighan plays a dual role in "Irish Luck," his new Paramount starring vehicle, the main attraction at the Queen Theatre today and tomorrow.

As Lord Fitzhugh, a young Irish aristocrat, and Tom Donahue, a New York traffic cop on a holiday in Ireland, he has an opportunity to portray two sharply contrasting characters. On the one hand, as the Irish nobleman, he is suave, sophisticated, polished and something of a black sheep. As the Irish-American traffic cop, he is good-natured and simple-hearted, an easy victim of a confidence game, and a terrible foe of a band of evil conspirators.

But the greatest differentiation in Meighan's portrayal of the two characters lies in the Meighan smile. Lord Fitzhugh is a sober individual, inclined to cynicism. He never smiles. Tom Donahue's nature is whimsical and good humored. When he finds himself stranded in Dublin with only a few shillings in his pocket, he smiles. And again, confronted by a band of murderous cut-throats, he smiles.

Lois Wilson heads the cast playing in support of the popular star. Other names in the cast include Cecil Humphreys, Claude King, Ernest Lawford, Charles Hammond, Louise Grafton, S. B. Carrickson, Charles McDonald and Mary Foy.

"Irish Luck" is the picture Meighan went to Ireland to make.

"The Lost Battalion," at Maeroy Packed with Thrills, Humor This great screen production introduces for the first time in the history of the silent drama a remarkable new technique in which the original characters are presented in their original roles.

The scenes in this great production are scenes that were enacted in every home, in every city and hamlet in the United States. Forty-two distinct nationalities were represented in this heroic unit. You follow the rich young draftee, the mendicant, the black, white, brown and yellow to the camp, where all blend into one harmonious whole of well-trained khaki-clad fighters.

The Chinaman forgets his ancient feuds to succor his former enemies; the burglar, mixing with some of his wealthy pals, could tell those whose homes had been burglarized just how much of their silver was real and how much plated, while the gunman forgets in his new-born security the old-time role of assassin.

Each man is a chapter in himself. Each has his own particular romance, which lies with him in the darkest recesses of the Argentine. The mothers, wives, sisters, sweethearts of these men form a golden chain upon which hang all their hearts.

"The Lost Battalion," at the Maeroy Theatre today and tomorrow, throbs with every known emotion of life's soul. It portrays vividly life's great passions, great sins, great sorrows, great sacrifices and great atonements, characterized by the bravest of men and most lovable of women.

Another Great Sea Romance is Booked for Queen

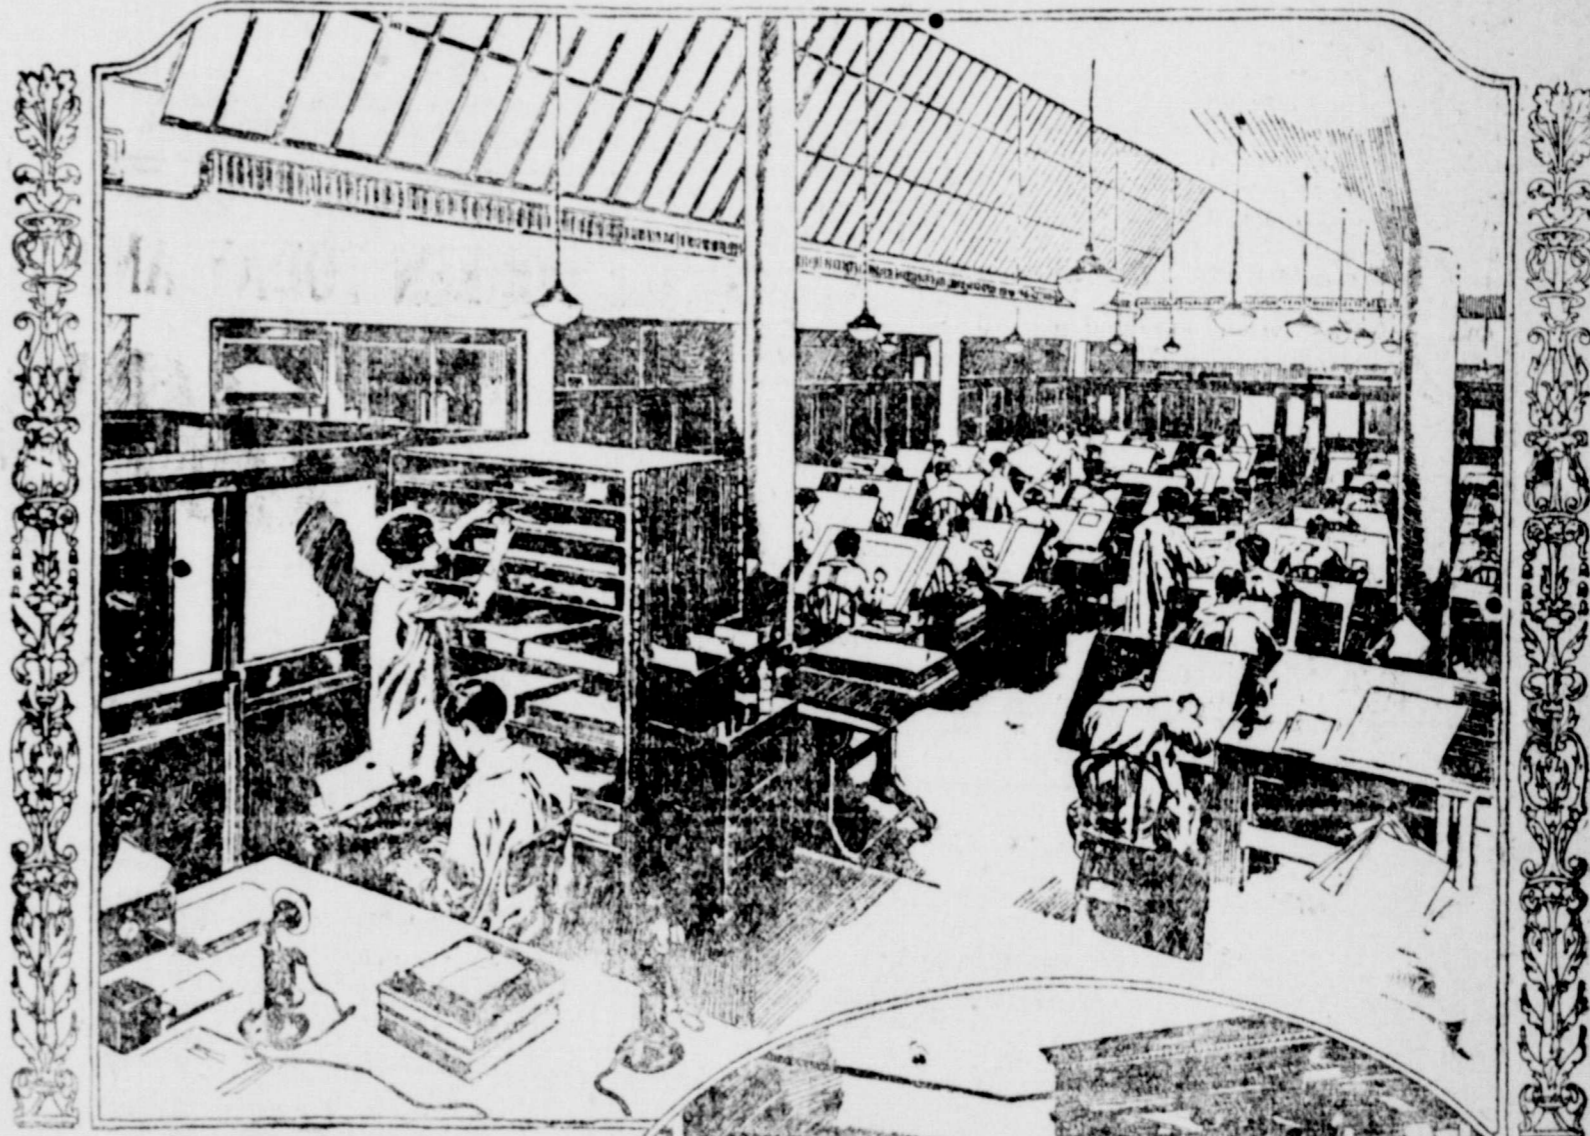

Victor Fleming—the man who knows more about the sea and ships than the Ancient Mariner himself!

In the past year, through his direction of sea pictures, Fleming has had experience with eight radically different types of boats.

In "Code of the Sea," a light-ship, a fishing smack, a motor boat and a passenger steamer were used. In "The Devil's Cargo," he directed the movements of an 1849 side-wheeler. In "Adventure," a sailing craft and a whaling schooner played important parts.

In Joseph Conrad's "Lord Jim," which he directed for Paramount, much of the action takes place on an old trading vessel. Featured players in the cast of "Lord Jim," which comes to the Queen Theatre Friday and Saturday are Percy Marmont, Shirley Mason, Noah Beery and Raymond Hatton.

ART SALES PROVIDE MUCH HUMOR FOR BLASE NEW YORKERS

(By Associated Press)
New York, Apr. 7.—Blase New Yorkers have found a new way to amuse themselves. They attend current art sales and then try to make "wise cracks" about them across the night club tables.

A sub-deb who had "done" the Leverhulme sale gleefully told about a portrait of King George III by Sir Joshua Reynolds which was begging for a purchaser.

"Finally," she said, "some good-time Charlie came along and paid $700 for the second-hand thing."

Another night club party went so far as to put on an impromptu tableau of one of George Cruikshank's satirical drawings on prohibition. It was one that had been disposed of at the Leverhulme sale and was entitled, "A Pretty Time to Come Home." The picture, a sepia wash drawing, showed an angered wife greeting the return of her drunken husband with an arm outstretched toward the clock, the hands of which pointed to 3 A. M.

One of the young men about town got a laugh for some obscure reason over the sale of a book on corpulence from the Leverhulme collection. It was by William Wadd and sold for $190 because it contained colored plates and an autograph of Daniel Lambert who weighed 739 pounds.

Broadways interest in art, however, is not confined to subjects for "wise cracks." There is a distinct revival of interest in religious art.

The recent purchase of "The Temptation of Christ" by Tiziano Vecellio (Titian) by the Minneapolis museum for $200,000, created considerable comment. The painting at one time belonged to the famous "Palais Royal Collection" of Titians owned by the Dukes of Orleans.

The Brooklyn Museum of Art and Science reports revived interest in the old masterpiece "Madonna Enthroned" by Bernardino Luini, who is regarded as the greatest of the followers of Leonardo da Vinci and one of the foremost painters of the Lombard School in the golden era of Italian art.

The painting was executed about 1510, probably in Milan, and shows the Christ child and His Mother. It was last owned by Sir William Agnew, British connoisseur and collector, who stated it as one of the three greatest madonnas in the world.

Sir Joseph Duveen of the New York office of Duveen Brothers, recently paid $410,000 for a "Portrait of a Young Man" by Rembrandt. It was owned by a Swedish cavalry officer and will be brought to the United States soon. Although there are 900 authentic Rembrandts and discoveries of his paintings are often made, they nearly always bring large sums. Private collections in Europe are rapidly drained of them because of the demands of Americans.

Higher Taxi Fares Will Greet American Tourists in France

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, April 7.—Taxi-drivers, known to tourists as one of the cheapest pleasures of Paris, will cost more for American visitors this summer.

Day rates, pending the installation of new meters on the cabs, have been increased by one franc and night rates will be double the present meter-readings. Chauffeurs agitated for months to get the new scale of tariffs arranged, using increased prices they had to pay for tires and gasoline as their principal argument.

As a compensation for the passenger, the police have received orders to prevent chauffeurs from bargaining or charging excessive fares late at night, which has been a scandalous abuse in Montmartre where cabarets and night-clubs do not close until four and five o'clock in the morning.

FLOWS 145 BARRELS HOURLY

TEXON, Apr. 7.—Big Lake Oil Company's No. 51 makes this initial production from 2,886 feet.

Drilled thirty-six feet in the pay to 2,886 feet, Big Lake No. 51, at noon Tuesday began flowing at the rate of 145 barrels hourly when tools were removed from the hole.

TEXON, Apr. 6.—The Big Lake Oil Company's well No. 51 is making on the average of 101 barrels per hour and is not yet completed. The pay was topped at 2,850 feet and penetrated thirteen feet. The total depth now is 2,863 feet, and the well will be drilled in an additional twelve feet. The production for the first twenty-four hours gauged 2,385 barrels and would have been much higher but for the fact that the tools were in the hole more than half the time. When completed, the well will likely be one of the best brought in in some time. It is an inside location, being in the north-west quarter of the southeast quarter of section 12, block 2.

$85,000 HOTEL FOR ALBANY

Preliminary plans for the erection of a three-story hotel at Albany are being completed by the David S. Castle architect company of this city. The building will cost approximately $85,000 exclusive of furnishings.

Preliminary plans call for a fireproof hotel in every way. The first floor will measure 100 by 100 feet. The building will occupy the site now occupied by a frame hotel operated by Mrs.

McLemore. This building will be moved back on a vacant lot and will continue operation while the new building is under construction.

The new hotel will contain 50 guest rooms and about 75 per cent of these will have connecting bath and toilet facilities. A passenger elevator will be installed. The lower floor will contain a large lobby, writing room, a dining room and lunch room separated by the kitchen and two stores. A Western Union office will be located on the first floor and space also will be reserved for a barber shop. The basement will be used for heating purposes. —Abilene Reporter.
