Bailey County Livestock Sale Set For January 15

The third annual Bailey County Junior Livestock Sale will be held Saturday, January 15, 1994 at 2:00 p.m. in the Bailey County Coliseum. We hope to see you: our neighbors, friends, businesses, merchants, civic clubs and anyone else who is interested in supporting our Bailey County youth. Prize winning livestock will be auctioned off to the highest bidders. WE HOPE YOU WILL SUPPORT OUR JUNIOR LIVESTOCK SALE and join us for an exciting afternoon.

The objective of promoting youth in agriculture has not changed. The Livestock show attracts hundreds of people to see and admire the youth's dedicated efforts, but the show is only the beginning. The culmination of all the work, training, grooming, and preparation is the Junior Livestock SALE.

At the Junior Livestock Sale, those young people receiving recognition through show awards are given the opportunity for monetary reward in a specifically designed environment. Here the 4-H and FFA members earn money that, to many, is absolutely necessary for furthering their education.

You are the one that can help them along the way to success. Through your participation, no matter how large or small, these young people will be able to look forward to a brighter future.

As a bidder you will have the pleasure of taking a direct part in the sale bidding against others and, if successful, having the satisfaction of rewarding a champion. There is no fuss on your part. Animals will be auctioned by dollars per animal; this way you know exactly how much you paid for the animal. This is a premium sale which means the buyer is paying a premium to the youth for exhibiting the animal. The bidder is not buying the animal.

HOW CAN I HELP?
 What advantage is there for me?

These are two important questions.

I. How Can You Help?

A. Participate as a bidder. You will be rewarding financially those you support in a meaningful manner and encouraging their future participation and

District Play To Begin

On Tuesday, January 11th the Muleshoe Mules will begin district 2AAA play in basketball versus Tullia in a home game. The game has been declared a "pack the gym night" by the students and coaches. All students in all grades are encouraged to come and support our basketball teams. Parents and fans are equally urged to attend. The J.V. boy and girl teams play at 5:00 p.m. in the JH and HS gyms. The varsity girls start at 6:30 p.m. and the varsity boys begin at 8:00 p.m. Both varsity games are played at Watson J.H. gym. All fans are encouraged to "pack the gym" for every home game for the remainder of the season. District play is them most important phase of the season. Our district is always one of the best in Texas. Currently, several teams in our district are highly ranked in both boys and girls basketball. In the latest Texas Association of basketball coaches ranking the Lady Mules are ranked 12th in the state. Also ranked are Friona and Dimmitt. Recently, Tullia has beaten several ranked teams and appears to be a district power as well in girls basketball. In boys play Littlefield and Tullia are early season favorites as is Dimmitt. Support the Mules with your enthusiasm and attendance.

There will be a pep rally Tuesday, January 11th at 3:10 p.m. in the H.S. gym to support our basketball teams. Theme for the Pep Rally is "hunting for a championship." All Muleshoe students and fans are encouraged to wear camouflage all day-Tuesday to support the Mules. The pep rally is open to the public. It is time to "crank it up" and support our Muleshoe Mules with our super support.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY-Representing volunteers of the American Cancer Society Bailey unit are Clifton Finley, Brenda McDearman, Janelle Turner, Dianne Brown, Sally Ellis and Myrt Feagley. The Bailey unit raised $8,961.00 to fight cancer in the 1992-1993 fiscal year.

Triple Crown Award Winners Announced

Volunteers in the Bailey unit of the American Cancer Society have won the prestigious Triple Crown Award.

This award represents the winning combination of Public Education's Lifesaver, Patient Services Quality of Life, and Income Development's Golden Achievement awards.

The Lifesaver award is given to units that surpass last year's program results and exceed current year youth and adult goals. Bailey's education committee headed by Lynda Low reached 3843 adults ad 3765 youth with messages about prevention and early detection last year.

Quality of Life is bestowed on units that serve at least 33 percent of their potential patient population with an increase of ten percent over the previous year. Bailey volunteers lead by Barbara Murphy and Diane Brown served twenty patients through information, equipment loans, housing, gift items such as wigs and support programs.

Golden Achievement is given to units that raise 85 cents per capita while achieving an all-time high in total funds raised. Income Development chairperson Myrt Feagley and the entire Bailey board of directors worked to raise $8,961.00 to fight cancer during the 1992-93 fiscal year which ended August 31, 1993.

The Triple Crown award was presented to Austin at the Texas Division Annual Meeting.

Only twenty out of approximately 300 Texas units received this high honor.

Locals Certified As Paramedics

by Annette Bottelman
 Joyce McGehee of Lazbuddie and Tommy Green of Muleshoe have received state certification on the EMT Paramedic level on December 31, 1993.

Classes started January 11, 1993 at Texas Tech Health Sciences Center in Lubbock. Night classes were Mondays and Wednesdays from 6:30-10:30 p.m. They spent approximately six months in classroom participation.

After passing each module, a test was given in that area and clinical rotations began. Areas of rotations were Emergency Room, Surgery, C.C.U., Surgical Intensive Care, Medical Intensive Care, Pediatric Intensive Care, O.B.G.Y.N. (labor and delivery), Pediatric E.R., and the Communication Center.

After clinicals were successfully completed, they were then allowed to start riding in the ambulance.

Upon completion of the courses, and when all paper work was filled out, signed and turned in to the E.M.S. Training Office, they were able to schedule and take state exams. There were over 200 questions on the state exam, and a maximum of four hours was given to take it.

There were twenty one areas of testing. Some of the areas the class was tested in were 1) anatomy and physiology, patient assessment and management, airway and ventilation, anatomy of shock, and general management; 2) trauma management, burns; 3) cardiac: conditions and assessment, drugs, E.K.G. recognition ad management and 4) medical: respiratory, acute abdomen, infectious disease and hazardous material recognition.

In addition to being paramedics, the pair also holds three advanced certifications in A.C.L.S. (Advanced Cardiac Life Support), P.A.L.S. (Pediatric Advance Life Support, and P.H.T.L.S. (Pre-hospital Trauma Life Support).

A minimum of 200 hours of ambulance training, 360 hours of classroom participation, and 370 hours of clinicals were required to successfully complete the course.

The couple also participated in a "Street Awareness Survival" at Lake Ransom Canyon. Mock drills were performed. A mock airplane crash took place with 46 victims scattered through the canyon within a four mile radius. The Lubbock S.W.A.T. team was in performance, and the victims were found, treated, and transported via helicopter and ambulance to the hospital. Three actual cases on E.M.S. students were treated for heat exhaustion and transported.

Joyce is signed on as a part-time paramedic with the Littlefield E.M.S. and on-call with Brownfield E.M.S. and Tommy currently works for Lubbock E.M.S. on the A-shift, and also is a volunteer on the B-shift.

Around Muleshoe

There will be no school on Friday, January 14, 1994 at Muleshoe I.S.D. This is a scheduled holiday for MISD students and a staff development day for faculty.

M.I.S.D. regrets that there will not be a spring class from South Plains College at the Muleshoe location as there was not enough interest in any one subject. We will try again in the fall. If you would be interested in a class in the fall please call Mr. Meador's office at 272-3325 and give your name, subject desired and a daytime phone number.

Judge Marilyn Cox Announces For Re-election

Marilyn Cox

Judge Marilyn Cox has announced her plans for re-election. Her husband is Reagan Cox, who is an electrician for Wheelabrator.

Judge Cox has served as Bailey County Judge for the last three years. She is completing her first term in office.

"I have enjoyed serving the citizens of Bailey County," Judge Cox said.

"In the world today, we feel lucky to live in a place like Bailey County," she added.

In today's society the lack of morals and family values is a real concern for Judge Cox. However, she feels that Bailey County is a wonderful place to raise a family.

Marilyn and Reagan have lived in Bailey County for almost 26 years. The couple have three children who began and completed school in Muleshoe.

Their oldest daughter, Marliea, lives in Temple, Texas with her husband, Cody Crittenden, and their children, Jacob, 6, Lynnsay, 7, and David, 12 months.

Brandon Cox, their son, lives in Austin, where he is a carpenter. Their youngest daughter, Stephanie lives in Bryan with her husband Kyle Maifield where the couple attend Texas A & M.

Judge Cox said serving as Bailey County Judge has given her the opportunity to learn a great deal by attending numerous classes, and through the duties of County Government, "However," she continued, "I know I have much more to learn."

Nabers Files For New Term On Railroad Commission

Texas Railroad Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers today filed for election to the position she has held for the past year. Commissioner Nabers was appointed to the Railroad Commission by Governor Ann Richards.

In filing for election, Commissioner Nabers detailed her plans to initiate a major study of transportation needs and safety as a result of the passage of the North American Free-Trade Agreement (NAFTA).

"As a result of NAFTA, transportation and commerce in Texas are growing on a daily basis," Nabers said. "Providing the proper environment for this increased commerce helps increase jobs and business opportunity in our state. It also means insuring the safety of the millions of motorists who travel on Texas highways."

According to the Texas office of State and Federal Relations, over 80% of the overland trade for Mexico travels through Texas. Truck dominate the overland traffic, carrying three-fourths of the total trade volume. "We are the gateway to Mexico," Nabers observed.

"Trade between Texas and Mexico will double by the year 2000 and is predicted to double again twenty years later. The implications for those predictions for highway travel are enormous," Nabers said.

"Quite simply, my plan is to bring all affected agencies together to create a plan that addresses transportation safety and infrastructure. And that includes making foreign vehicles comply with safety laws, insurance requirements and load limits."

Mary Scott Nabers was appointed to the Texas Employment Commission by Governor Mark White in 1984. It marked the first time a woman was appointed to a full term on the Commission. The energy and vision with which she represented Texas' 350,000 employers led to her reappointment in 1991 by Governor Ann Richards. That second term was cut short when Commissioner Nabers was appointed to replace Bob Krueger at the Texas Railroad Commission in February 1993.

Commissioner Nabers has an extensive background in the private sector having owned and managed various companies. Commissioner Nabers has been so pro-active in the public sector that she is recognized throughout the state as a "bureaucracy buster", an accessible public servant, and a friend to anyone needing assistance from government.

As the newest member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, Commissioner Nabers continues her commitment to making government more accessible to Texas taxpayers. She is travelling the state talking to industry leaders, small business owners and Texas consumers and taxpayers about their interactions with the Railroad Commission.

Commissioner Nabers has been highly active in her efforts to assist the Texas oil and gas industry. Earlier this fall, in fact, Nabers invited Secretary of Energy, Hazel O'Leary to a meeting in the state to discuss domestic energy prospects. "We pay $150 million a day for foreign oil, yet we are doing nothing to assist domestic production. It is time to change that do-nothing federal policy," Nabers declared.

"Texas is the nation's leading producer of alternative fuels—natural gas, propane, and other clean burning fuels. Our reserves can be compared to Saudi Arabia's vast oil reserves," Nabers said.

"Increasing the use of Texas alternative fuels is a priority for three simple reasons: (1) it creates Texas jobs; (2) it cleans Texas air; and (3) it decreases our dependency on foreign oil."

"I intend to run an aggressive, issue-oriented campaign that details my plans as a commissioner," Nabers concluded.

Travelling With The Texas Angler

By Keith R. Warren

The annual white bass run is right around the corner. The natural phenomenon draws these fish up rivers above lakes to do their yearly spawn. As a result, most rivers will be jammed with fish when the time is right.

Due to the numerous rivers in Texas and the size of our state, the white bass run can run as long as 90 days. The Rio Grande River will usually start things off by mid January, and that will last about 2 weeks. Then rivers north of there will start and run about the same length of time. Gradually, as spring weather warms the northern waters of the state, those rivers will become full of white bass as well.

If you are one of those fishermen who enjoys catching these fish, you may want to head to Lake Travis just outside of Austin. This Highland Reservoir has an abundant population of not only white bass, but also strippers and large mouths.

For the fisherman who doesn't mind fishing at night time and getting cold, the action can be fantastic on this river lake. Most folks are catching fish under lighted boat docks close to main lake points.

Visibility in this lake is superb with some areas of the lake that you can see the bottom 20' deep. Lights draw bait fish and the bait draws game fish in, primarily white bass.

Normally I use small 1/16 ounce Roadrunner jigs. Personal color choices are white, chartreuse and smoke, in that order. Fish these type lures on spinning tackle with 6 lb. test line for best results.

For the next month, this activity should continue. Exercise extreme caution navigating your boat at night time, and try only the well lit boat docks.

The limit is 25 white bass per person per day, and they must be at least 10 inches in length. It is not uncommon to catch a limit under one dock.

Remember to send in your fishing tips to become eligible to win a fishing trip with The Texas Angler. You can contact The Texas Angler at 210/625-3474.

When It Comes To Cattle...If It's Too Late, Don't Vaccinate!

During fiscal year 1993, ranchers had about a third of Texas heifers vaccinated to protect them against brucellosis. This bacterial infection can cause cows to abort, deliver weak calves or produce less milk.

National and state livestock regulations allow female calves to receive the calfhood vaccination dose when they are four to 12 months old. (Male cattle aren't vaccinated, as it can cause sterility.) Dr. Beals noted that, for best results, heifers should receive the one-time injections when they are between four and eight months old. Because the Strain 19 vaccine contains "live" bacteria, its use is restricted to trained veterinarians. In all but the few counties where the TAHC is conducting area-or county-side brucellosis testing, ranchers pay for the vaccinations.

"When over-aged heifers are vaccinated, the Strain 19 vaccine interacts unpredictably with the heifer's immune and reproductive system. This can wreak havoc when the animal matures and is tested for brucellosis. Even with our sophisticated, computerized laboratory equipment, the cow can have false-positive blood test results" he said. Dr. Beals estimates that more than half of the cows with the false-positive brucellosis tests were vaccinated when they were pregnant or over 12 months old.

"When cattle test positive for brucellosis infection, we trace them back to their herd—and all the animals undergo a blood test. Usually, we find that the herd isn't infected; the test results were due to vaccine given to over-aged or pregnant heifers. Even so, the rancher had to gather the cattle for the test," said Dr. Beals. "Properly timing the vaccination can save headaches."

Today, 25 states don't require arriving heifers to be calfhood vaccinated. This includes Kansas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma—states where many Texas cattle are shipped. A few years ago, when brucellosis infection was rampant, nearly every state required incoming female cattle to have the vaccination. That resulted in many heifers being vaccinated haphazardly, to meet the entry requirements," Beals explained.

State veterinarians Terry Beals is polishing a well-worn "bullet" used in the war against cattle brucellosis. "Simply put," he tells cattle producers and veterinarians, "if it's too late, don't vaccinate."

"For years, in the battle against brucellosis, we've urged ranchers to have female calves vaccinated to build disease resistance. I still encourage this practice, but I'm campaigning against vaccinating heifers that are too old or already pregnant," explained Dr. Beals. He is executive director of the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC), the state's livestock health regulatory agency.

"Female calves coming into Texas when they are four to 12 months old still are required to be vaccinated," explained Beals. "But TAHC commissioners recently dropped rules requiring incoming female cattle older than 12 months to get the reduced adult dose of vaccine. This also will help reduce the incidence of false-positive tests."

"Texas has only 158 brucellosis-infected herds, and we're nearly ready to join 17 other Class "A" states with a very low infection rate. Thirty-two states have no brucellosis infection. The chance of cattle being exposed to brucellosis has dropped greatly. The problems caused when over-age heifers are vaccinated won't be offset by the protection provided," he said. "A U.S. Department of Agriculture study indicates only 60 to 130 of every 100,000 cattle may be exposed to the infection."

"If unvaccinated adult cows in a herd are threatened by brucellosis, we can target these animals with the use of adult vaccination. This highly reduced dose for older animals is administered only by TAHC or USDA veterinarians when there is a clear risk of disease exposure," explained Dr. Beals. "Prudent vaccine use and proper timing can prevent false-positive brucellosis tests."

Tops Chapter No. 34 met at the Muleshoe Church of Christ on Thursday, January 6, 1994 at 6:00 p.m. Leader Laverne James called the meeting to order. The Tops pledge was recited and the fellowship song was sung. Mrs. James led the group in a prayer.

Billy Jo Davis, weight recorder, called the roll with 17 members answering with the amount they had lost or gained. Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Aurora Mata, secretary, and were approved as read. Ruth Clements, treasurer, gave the treasurer's report. Ruth Knowles was named best loser for the week. Runners up are Jewell Pules, first runner up and no second runner up was recorded.

Monthly losers are Ernestine Steinbock, best loser; Jewell Peeler, first runner-up and Loretta Lloyd, second runner up.

Ruth Clements was crowned Six Month Queen.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of the good night song.

Good Morning
"Honey"

"Good Morning, Honey" is great to hear when you wake up on a dreary winter morning, but it's even more special when you're served a breakfast treat sweetened with honey.

Burleson's (Texas first and oldest honey company) suggests several tips for enhancing your favorite breakfast recipes and they have some new ideas for you to try.

The fresh aroma and taste of Special Honey Coffee will start any winter morning with a smile, especially when served with Honey Bran Muffins topped with Honey Lemon Syrup. For those on the go, Honey Breakfast Crunch and Honey Breakfast Drinks provide the energy boost to start the day.

"Honey is a fat free and cholesterol free food that can be used to replace half, and sometimes all, the sugar needed in most recipes" says Burleson's spokesperson Lynn Sutter. Using honey will also help keep your baked goods fresher longer because honey, unlike granulated sugar, absorbs and retains moisture.

If you'd like to substitute honey in your own favorite breakfast recipes, we offer these guidelines and tips.

- Because honey provides about 17% moisture, reduce liquids called for in recipe by 1/4 cup per cup honey used.
- When baking, add 1/2 teaspoon baking soda for each cup of honey used.
- Reduce your oven temperature by 25 degrees F. to prevent over browning.
- Coat your measuring cup with vegetable cooking spray before you measure honey. (It will pour more easily.)
- Store honey in a dry place at room temperature. (It will keep indefinitely.)

Muleshoe CTA Sponsoring
Design A Logo Contest

Muleshoe Classroom Teachers Association is having a contest to acquire a new logo for the organization, the contest is open to Muleshoe High School and Watson Junior High students. The artwork must be done by the student submitting the entry and there should only be one entry per student. Entries need to be done in black and white only and no larger than what would fit into an 8 1/2" by 11" space. On the back of the entry, students should include their name, age and grade; address; telephone number; and name of parent or guardian.

The winning entry will be awarded a $25.00 cash prize and will become the property of Muleshoe CTA. All other entries will not be returned, but may be picked up by the student if they wish to have their entry back.

Shelburne

From the first, though, Simon the Pharisee was more curious than hospitable. He hustled Jesus of Nazareth into his home with little ceremony. The usual kiss of greeting, the washing of the feet, the anointing of the head--all were forgotten that day, as least by Simon. His lack of courtesy set a poor tone for the entire meal. From that point things got worse.

Surely, though, what happened next was not his fault. Who could possibly have predicted that that vile woman would show up? But there she was! Blubbering, Weeping. Immodestly allowing her untied hair to serve as the towel drying the tears and ointment which mingled together on the feet of Simon's guest.

Simon was appalled--more at his guest than at this unwelcome visitor. "Some prophet! He doesn't even know what kind of woman he's letting slobber all over his feet!"

But Jesus did know. He told a story which showed without doubt that he knew.

The tale was simple enough. Two men owed another man money. One of them owed a very large amount; the other, only a tenth as much. But, as neither could pay, the creditor forgave the debts of both.

"Which one loved the creditor most?" Jesus asked his inhospitable host.

Simon stammered, "I suppose the one who was forgiven the most."

The point of the parable nailed Simon to the wall. "You've treated me with disdain ever since I walked through your door," Jesus said, "but this woman has not ceased to kiss my feet and anoint my head. Her sins, which are many, are forgiven, for she loved much; but he who is forgiven little loves little."

What about us? Have we been forgiven little or much? Our answer may say a lot about how much we love God.

Curtis Shelburne is the minister of the 16th and Ave. D. Church of Christ in Muleshoe.

Jim And Jess Concert Cancelled At South Plains College

A concert by Jim and Jesse and the Virginia Boys, scheduled for Feb. 1 at South Plains College, has been cancelled.

Alan Munde, APC bluegrass music instructor who was handling concert arrangements on campus, was notified by mail Monday (Jan. 3). "Jim and Jesse were on a concert tour from Tennessee to California and decided to fly instead of drive, and that altered their concert plans," said Munde.

About 25 concert tickets had thus far been requested by patrons. The concert was free, but tickets were required for available seating.

"We are telephoning people and writing letters to others notifying them the concert has been cancelled," noted Kay Daniel, secretary in the Creative Arts Department.

Jim and Jesse have been stars of the Grand Ole Opry for nearly 30 years and have nearly 50 bluegrass music albums in their repertoire.

For more information about the concert cancellation, contact the SPC Creative Arts Department at 806-894-9611, ext. 281.

Selina is a 1989 graduate of M.H.S. and is currently attending University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, and will receive her B.S. degree in Biology in December. (guest photo)

Creative Living

with Sheryl Borden

Information on new uses for household classics and ways to recycle plastics will be the featured topics on "Creative Living" on Tuesday, January 11, 1994 at 12:00 and Saturday, January 15th at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.) "Creative Living" airs on Public Broadcasting Station, IKENW-TV from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, NM.

Deborah Durham, Creative Consultant to JC Penny Home, has some unusual solutions to common decorating, entertaining and storage problems which makes use of household classics. Durham is from Los Angeles, CA.

Another guest, Susan Brown, an artist from Tuscon, AZ., will show an array of things that can be made from plastic items around the house.

On Tuesday, January 11th at 9:30 p.m., and on Thursday, January 13th at 12:00 "Creative Living" will explain how parents can raise independent kids and also discuss the role of computers in the home.

Dr. Bill Sammons is a pediatrician and author and will talk about ways to help children learn what they can do well, which helps toraise their level of self-esteem.

Sammons' comments are based on his newest book "I Wanna Do It Myself," and he's from Wayland, MA.

Another guest, Debra Borchert, will talk about how computers in the home can contribute to the education of every member of the family. Borchert represents Prodigy Consumer Services and she's from White Plains, NY.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico and is distributed by Pacific Mountain Network, Denver, CO. Polling Places Announced For Bailey County Annexation Election

Residents of the recently annexed portion of Bailey County are reminded that they will vote on the ratification of the annexation of their property into the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District and the assessment of an ad valorem tax for the maintenance and operation of the District during a January 15, 1994, special election.

The annexed territory consists of that part of Bailey County not already within the District and includes the Baileyboro, Bula, Goodland, and Stegall Communities and the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge.

Registered voters living in the annexation area may cast ballots on January 15 from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the following locations:

Voting Place No. 1:

Bula School, Bula, Texas. Wanda Layton is the Presiding Judge, and Imogene Claunch is the Alternate Presiding Judge.

Voting Place No. 2:

Buffalo Farms Elevator, Stegall, Texas. Jack Lane is the Presiding Judge, and Wendle Williams is the Alternate Presiding Judge.

Following the election, returns shall be submitted to the Secretary of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 for canvassing in accordance with the Election Code of the State of Texas. The resolution to annex the territory and levy an ad valorem tax will be void if voters do not ratify it.

A New Age In Health Care Is Coming To Texas

by Gene Fondren, President of the Texas Automobile Dealers Association

Amidst the ink and air play given to the debate over national health care, health care is quietly about to become more affordable for an estimated 2.6 million uninsured Texans.

When it takes effect on January 1, the Texas Small Employer Health Insurance Availability Act (House Bill 2055) will help provide insurance for these uninsured Texans by setting up affordable insurance plans for small businesses and their employees.

How will this cover the uninsured? Two of every three uninsured Texans are either employed or in the immediate family of someone who is employed. Many of these uninsured work for small businesses that have been priced out of the health care market by skyrocketing premiums.

The Texas Plan will provide health care without a cumbersome bureaucracy, tax increases or vague promises. It will do so by allowing these small businesses to join together in larger pools that can negotiate better insurance plans. Two or more businesses may form their own pool, sharing the discounts of being a part of a larger group. Small businesses may join a statewide non-profit buying cooperative, the Texas Insurance Purchasing Alliance, that will arrange coverage at group discount rates. Small businesses can also turn to commercial insurance companies which will be required to offer these plans.

The Texas Plan will provide four group health insurance options for small employers, those with 3 to 50 employees. Two of the four options will be available for substantially less in premiums than coverage available in the market today. Small employers who are satisfied with their coverage may continue that coverage or may choose from three plans:

Preventive and primary coverage includes diagnostic tests and screening, intended to find and treat problems early before more expensive care is required. IN-hospital only coverage provides emergency care and hospitalization, some of the most expensive health care and the type that has bankrupted too many families. Standard coverage includes both preventive and primary coverage plus in-hospital and out-patient treatment.

Under the Texas Plan, employers will pay at least 75 percent of the monthly insurance premium for the plan they select for their employees, estimated to be between $60 per employee on the in-hospital only plan to $165 for the standard-plan.

This is more than just a stop-gap measure. Consider the difference this will make for a business with 10 employees that is paying $140 per person each month to provide comprehensive coverage for them. The average employer of this size who is paying 50 percent of the premium, will have two or three employees who are either unable or unwilling to pay $70 a month toward their coverage and are thus uninsured.

Under the Act, the same employer can provide his employees with an in-hospital plan at a cost of about $60 a month per person or $2 a day. Of this the employer pays 75 percent or $1.50 a day. Then, those employees who wish to do so may contribute an additional $50 to $60 per month to trade up to comprehensive coverage. If 40 percent or more of the group want to trade up for more benefits, they do so regardless of their health status.

This plan will stop insurance companies from insuring only selected employees while excluding low-wage earners and known health risks. Many more Texans will have access to the care they need at a price that they and their employers can afford.

Is this the perfect plan? There is no perfect plan. However, the Texas Small Employer Health Insurance Availability Act is a very big step toward helping many Texans help themselves.

Money Talk

By Charles B. Carlson
One of the best deals for retirement is a 401(k) plan. However, many individuals fail to use it.

Basically, a 401(k) is established by employers for retirement savings. Most 401(k) programs allow workers to invest up to $8,894 (this was the upper limit for 1993). In many, the company matches a portion of the contribution.

Best of all, contributions to a 401(k) come out of pretax dollars, and lower taxable income used for income tax purposes.

You would think that, given all the benefits of the program, everyone would participate. But that's not the case.

For low-wage workers, having any money deducted from a paycheck is difficult. For those with higher incomes, there's really no excuse for not using a 401(k) plan.

Contact your human resources department for information.

Editorial

by Bailey Marshall
 Director of the U.I.L. (governing body for school sports in Texas.)

While public education has been for years society's favorite test tube, interscholastic competition has withstood the tendency to rush from one whim, one fad to another, due in large part to the fact that competition remains grounded in values, particularly amateurism, equity and respect for your fellow man, friend, or foe.

Participation is its own reward; the rules apply to everyone equally.

Most likely, interscholastic contests will survive because they are rooted in these educational principals. But if school competition is to go the way of open classrooms and the quarter system, it will be because the persons most responsible for defending these values failed.

No doubt, the struggle is more difficult than ever. Into an already litigious society comes an epidemic of juvenile crime and violence, making the competitive arena at times more closely resemble the street than the classroom. Witness the posturing of high school athletes whose taunting and violence mirrors that of professional players at best, so-called gangsta rap artists at worst.

These behaviors are not the problem, they are symptoms. The problem lies deeper. More and more we have fewer students from traditional homes where traditional values are taught. Few, if any, of our students are exposed to organizations such as churches, scouts, etc., where respect for fellow man is the primary focus. Even the schools have not only moved away from teaching values, they are prohibited from doing so. Consequently, as one author put it, we are developing a society of moral illiterates.

The potential for violence has always existed in school sports, but it has never been tolerated. America's culture of violence threatens to create an environment in which it is not only tolerated but eagerly awaited. If we ever arrive to the point where educators defend violence either through their actions or silence, then all may be lost.

We must continue to press for ethics, values and morals in our extracurricular activities. This is one of our last stands in the public school where we can teach (1) respect for our opponent as well as our classmates, (2) respect for decisions of officials and coaches, and (3) respect for rules and regulations and for abiding by those rules and regulations.

This fall, San Antonio Independent School District Superintendent Victor Rodriguez pulled two teams from the football playoffs because of an on-the-field melee the prior week, sending a unqualified message that such behavior would not be tolerated; that it would, in fact, be severely punished.

This outraged a few parents, several of whom appealed to the legal system to overturn the decision. Fortunately, the courts refused to intercede, and his ruling stood. In a perfect world, all parents would have applauded Dr. Rodriguez rather than de facto sanctioning violence.

It is unrealistic to expect that UIL will be exempt from legal challenges. As a regulatory agency, the League fully expects to defend its rules and decisions. But it brings us no joy to have to defend rules when they are used by adults to harm students. Such was the case in Odessa, when after the final regular-season game of the year, an Odessa ISD employee anonymously faxed to the UIL a letter questioning the eligibility of a Permian player.

Insofar as the rules were concerned, it was an opened and closed case. The student was ruled ineligible, and Permian was forced to forfeit six games, knocking them from the 5A playoffs. A restraining order was granted but later lifted. At last notice, the Texas Rangers had been asked to investigate the matter.

While this culture of violence is relatively new, the UIL has dealt with society's proclivity toward litigation for the past 15 years. Suits against League transfer and summer camp rules, for example, have been brought and won by people of integrity and good will.

However, the recent tendency by rabid fans to withhold information until the playoffs is troublesome. This abuse of the system is as misguided and alarming as a bench-clearing brawl.

We must penalize those who fight and intimidate or try to beat the rules. If not, we are teaching that it is OK to beat the rules if you do not get caught or if they are just going to slap your hand.

We include you, me, all school related administrators, coaches, sponsors, parents and yes, even the fans. We have to get away from the win at all cost mentality, which is another of our societal ills.

Who is going to step up and take the lead in this area?

Free Brochures Untangling New Tax Laws Out For The Public

Texas taxpayers are using these brochures to save on their federal taxes. To order your free copy, call the Texas Society of CPAs at 214/689-6000, ext. 829 or T-A-X. Be sure to specify which brochure you wish to receive.

Taxes and confusion go hand-in-hand for many taxpayers, and the new tax bill just adds to the problem. Now though, two free brochures that make sense of the tax code changes are available free

Lowering Fat In Bloodstream Reduces Risk For Cardiovascular Disease

Millions of Americans need to lower the amount of fat in their bloodstreams to reduce their risk for cardiovascular disease.

Most people who suffer from high cholesterol or triglyceride levels or other lipid disorders respond to standard diet, exercise and medication therapies. Some, however, require treatment more specialized than most physicians are trained to provide.

A training center in The DeBakey Heart Center of Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital in Houston is teaching these physicians to provide this specialized care in their communities.

The Heart Center is the site of one of six American Heart Association/Bristol-Myers Squibb Lipid Disorders Training Centers established in 1990. About 350 health care professionals have attended the center's 1991, 1992 and 1993 training sessions, and another 100 can be accommodated for the four courses scheduled in 1994.

Currently, patients needing specialized care for problems with high levels of blood fats who do not respond to conventional treatments are referred to regional lipid clinics.

"The capacity of these clinics is being taxed," said Dr. Peter Jones, Baylor associate professor of medicine. "So, we can fill a great need by training doctors to provide this care in their own communities."

Jones directs the Heart Center's training program for physicians in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida.

Other training centers are located at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, the University of California branches at San Francisco and Berkeley, the University of Washington in Seattle and Washington University in St. Louis.

Physicians interested in attending a Lipid Disorders Training Center session at The DeBakey Heart Center may obtain more information by calling (713)798-7323.

The DeBakey Heart Center is a joint program of Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital supporting cardiovascular research, treatment and education.

Railroad Commissioners Set Gas Production Allowables

Railroad Commissioner Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent, and Commissioners Mary Scott Nabers and Barry Williamson forecast Texas oil production for January 1994 at 1,546,538 barrels per day, based on purchaser nominations, and set gas production allowables for prorated fields in the state to meet market demand of 159,070,796 Mcf (thousand cubic feet).

For prorated gas fields, the January 1994 allowable represents a decrease of 559,736 Mcf when compared to actual production of 158,511,060 Mcf in January 1993. In setting the January 1994 allowable, the Commission used historical production figures from January 1993 and producer forecasts for January 1994 demand, then adjusted the figures to account for such factors as well capability, new wells in a field, etc.

Nugent, Nabers and Williamson also reviewed oil companies' January 1994 nominations to buy a total of 1,546,538 barrels of Texas oil per day. The nomination total, a decrease of 110,946 barrels daily when compared to December 1993 purchaser nominations, estimates Texas oil purchases in the coming month. January 1993 nominations totaled 1,723,591 barrels daily.

Nugent reported that crude oil and petroleum products imported into the U.S. averaged 8,774,000 barrels per day for the month of October 1993. This was an increase of 317,000 barrels per day from the same period a year ago.

The next statewide oil and gas the other is for small business owners.

The brochure designed to help individuals, "Twenty One Money-Saving Tips for 1993, A CPA's Guide to the New Tax Bill" cuts through the clutter of the new tax bill and presents the facts in layman's terms. It lists the new tax provisions and their effective dates and provides some key tips to help lower your tax bill.

Small business owners concerned with how the new tax bill will impact their bottom line can get pertinent information from the brochure, "Understanding the New Tax Laws, A CPA's Guide for Small Businesses." It outlines the new laws and offers some general tax-saving strategies as well.

"There's no doubt taxpayers need good, clear information in order to prepare their tax return and take advantage of money-saving opportunities. These brochures can be valuable tools in helping taxpayers understand the new tax laws and minimize their tax bill," said Pat Wilson, CPA-San Antonio and TSCPA president. The brochure was produced by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA).

TSCPA is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting professionalism among CPAs and influencing excellence in education throughout the state. Headquartered in Dallas, the 31,000-member Society has the largest in-state membership in the nation.

Nursing Home News

by Joy Stancell

We wish to thank each and everyone who helped make this our best Christmas ever. Maybe you helped decorate, sent cards, hosted a party, entertained, caroled, made goodies, paid a visit, gave gifts of fruit and gifts of special treasures, or wore a red suit and said Ho! Ho! Ho! Merry Christmas. Each jester was much needed and deeply appreciated.

The following residents were able to go out and be with their families during the Christmas holidays. Vera Downing, Inez Hurst, D.B. Ivy, Roma Davis, Gladys Pierce, Arvilla Davis, Edd Edmiston, Nettie Bratcher, Modean Graves, Jessie Davenport, Rosa Sneed, Bill Tarter, Lib King, and Mamie Askew.

Mr. Hankins, Janetta Hukill, Lillie Wuerflein, and Pluma Walker were among the residents who had their families as their guest for Christmas dinner.

Leonard McCormick was visited by his grandchildren and great-grandchildren from Victoria, Texas Wednesday morning.

Melvin Griffin and Buster Kittrell hosted a coffee and roll time Wednesday morning. Wanda Kittrell assisted with show n' tell time.

Please join us in prayer for Cora Duncan, Stella Morgan and L. Blalack who are all hospitalized at this writing.

Dr. James Bell from the United Methodist Church came Friday afternoon Dec. 24th and gathered the residents together to present to them a Christmas story.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Rev. and Mrs. David McIntire on the death of Debra's mother.

We are needing volunteers to host a birthday party, service, water and juice to the residents, bring pets to visit and work in the beauty shop on Tuesdays. If you are interested in any of these services, please call Joy Stancell at 272-7578.

We hope you had a safe and happy New Year, and come to see us at the Healthcare Center.

Guy Kendall was visited by his family during the holidays.

Don't Blame Your Age For Poor Hearing.

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest hearing aid Beltone has ever developed will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than an eighth of an ounce, and it fits completely into the ear canal.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free sample send your name, address, and phone number today to: Department 12980, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

Cora Ramsey Services Scheduled

Services for Cora Ramsey, 92, of Pearsall, are scheduled for Sunday at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. Burlie Taylor and Rev. Danny Jackson officiating.

Burial will be in Morton Memorial Cemetery, under direction of Ellis Funeral Home, Morton.

She was born November 11, 1901 in Eastland County, Texas.

She married Stephen Adlia Ramsey on October 27, 1929 in Lamesa, Texas. He died in 1968.

Mrs. Ramsey moved to Pearsall, Texas six months ago from Morton, Texas where she had been a resident since 1932. She moved to Morton from Littlefield, Texas. She was a home maker and had taught Sunday school and sang in the choir at First Baptist Church where she was a member.

Survivors include: one son, Gerald Ramsey of Morton, TX; five daughters, Joyce Marshall of San Antonio, TX, Geraldine Taylor of Pearsall, TX, Belva Stokes of Midland, TX, Sue Pinson of Brownfield, TX, and Peggy Anderson of Arlington, TX; one brother, John Lisenbee of Seagraves, TX; nineteen grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to First Baptist Church, Morton or favorite charity.

DOOR OPENERS

Keys and churches are door openers. In both cases, each require you to put forth some effort. The key you must insert in the lock and turn. Our Lord made the way to heaven even easier, for all that you have to do is present yourself and believe.

"For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: Not of works lest any man should boast: For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them."

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

New Tow Truck Rules Protect Motorists

Texas Railroad Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers announced today that the state's new tow truck rules give Texas motorists added protection against unlawful towing. "As we know, tow truck operators can be a bane or a blessing," Nabers said. "If you're stranded on the highway with a broken-down vehicle, a tow truck is a godsend. But if you park where you shouldn't and return to find your car towed away, few things in life can be more frustrating. New statewide rules will help assure Texas drivers that the tow truck operators they deal with, whether blessings or otherwise, are licensed."

Legislation enacted earlier this year requires that most tow truck companies and vehicle storage yards, that store vehicles without the owners permission, be licensed by the Texas Railroad Commission. The Commission, which regulates the trucking industry in Texas, passed rules that establish minimum insurance requirements and safety standards for the operation of tow trucks.

Tow truck companies are required to register their vehicles with the Commission and show evidence that they have maintained adequate insurance. They also must show evidence that their storage facilities meet standards for the care of stored vehicles and that they charge appropriate storage fees. The rules will affect some 5,000 towing companies throughout the state.

"Although these new rules will help assure Texans they are dealing with reputable tow truck operators, they still need to understand their rights," Nabers said. "It's important to know, for example, that the towing company or owner of the parking facility can be liable for any damages that result from towing and storing a vehicle."

Nabers urged both drivers and tow truck operators to call her office (1-800-RRR-MARY) for more detailed information about the rules for operators and the rights of drivers.
