Officer Held In Stabbing Case

(By International News Service)
 WICHITA FALLS, Aug. 10.—Tom Shook, former chief of Police of Electra, surrendered to Sheriff W. G. Bralley, of Wichita County, early this morning, four hours after the death of W. C. Daugherty, Electra farmer, who died from knife wounds.

Shook, who with Tom Pryor, Electra officer, went into the home of Ace Sperry at Electra a few moments after Daugherty went there to use the telephone, is alleged to have stabbed the farmer while the latter was talking over the telephone.

Shook was at liberty under bond on charges of burglary and driving while intoxicated at the time of the slaying. A special grand jury convenes today to act in the case.

Mrs. Lillian Blair, circus employe, was brought to Wichita Falls by airplane yesterday from Lampasas to corroborate a statement that was made by Henry Shumate, county prisoner, which it was said, implicated Shook and Pryor in criminal activities.

Americans Lose In Two Events

SLOTEN, Aug. 10.—American oarsmen were defeated in two Olympic rowing finals today.

An English four-oared crew defeated the Pennsylvania Barge Club by a half length. Bob Pearce, Australian wonder, easily defeated Ken Myres, Philadelphia, in single-sculls finals.

The United States scored a brilliant victory over England, however, when the great California eight-oared shell beat the Britishers by a half length. This event was followed by another victory by Paul Costello and Charles McHvane, of Pennsylvania, who defeated Canada in double sculls. This was Costello's third Olympic victory.

Woman and Son Burn To Death

Mrs. Lewis R. Brittain, 32, and her 10-year-old son, Dean Branden, were burned to death shortly after midnight (early Friday morning) in a fire that practically destroyed a large two-story apartment house in Brownwood. Their charred bodies were found in the ruins of a bed that they had occupied on an upstairs sleeping porch at the front of the building.

Flames were leaping over the entire building before neighbors turned in an alarm. Firemen heard the screams of the woman and boy when they arrived, but were unable to get ladders to the trapped pair before they were suffocated. They were instructed to jump to the ground, but the cries of firemen were unheeded.

Mrs. Brittain's husband left two days ago for Austin, and had not been reached this morning.

WEST PALM BEACH, Aug. 10.—While storm-stricken Florida cities counted their damage and cleared away debris from the hurricane of three days ago, residents anxiously watched today for signs of another disturbance reported heading this way.

A new storm of considerable intensity was reported moving northwest from the West Indies. It may strike here before tomorrow or Sunday.

Four deaths, a hundred homeless, and damages exceeding $5,000,000 are believed to be the toll of the hurricane.

Miss Eva Webb returned from Brownwood yesterday, where she has been attending Howard Payne college. Miss Eva received the degree of B. A. from that college.

THE WEATHER

(By International News Service)
 All Texas: Cloudy, probably showers in the east.

Henry Williams, Talpa farmer, is said to be fatally injured, and John Roberts, a neighbor, is suffering from minor injuries, following an accident in which a West Texas bus crashed into a wagon in which the two men were driving to Talpa 3-4 mile east of the town about 2 o'clock this afternoon.

According to meager details gathered here a west-bound bus was pulling around the wagon on a curve, and the front bumper of the large passenger bus became entangled with a rear wheel of the wagon. The farm wagon was whipped around by the huge bus, and the farmers were thrown clear of the wreckage. Williams received jagged cuts about the face and head and other injuries, and Roberts being slightly bruised and cut. Williams' death is momentarily expected, it was reported.

Winters Has New City Reservoir

Erection of a new 100,000 gallon water reservoir for Winters has been completed, at an expenditure of $8,470. It is said that with the new reservoir and the old one in the northern part of town twice the amount of water previously carried by the mains can be forced through.

Since acquiring the reservoir and new fire fighting equipment the city will receive a reduction on fire insurance rates, amounting to approximately 6 cents. This saving in insurance cost will pay for the tank within five or six years, it is pointed out, while the reservoir will be serviceable for fifteen or twenty years.

A Higginbotham Bros. & Co. ambulance was summoned at 2:20 o'clock, and left immediately for the home of Williams, about a mile from the scene of the accident, where the injured man was taken soon after the collision. Besides the driver, there was only one passenger in the bus when the accident occurred. Mike Pittman, of Cisco was the driver of the West Texas bus that struck the wagon of two Talpa farmers. Fred Simpson, of Rankin, who was the only passenger, was asleep at the time of the impact. Simpson watched over the injured man while the driver went for a Talpa physician.

The wagon was demolished, and a horse was severely cut. The bus was only slightly impaired, was exchanged for another at Talpa.

The comparatively small number of those attempting nonstop ocean flights who have been successful is highly significant as effecting the people of the time. Had Columbus been unsuccessful in his voyage on the faith that the world was round, it would no doubt have been centuries before another attempt would have been made. People of that age were slow in accepting new ideas.

But now we have dozens failing in their attempts to span the seas, yet the spirit of fliers is not dampened by their disappointments. If fliers did become discouraged, modern aviation would have correspondingly slow development. That adventurous, dare devil spirit characteristic of this age is responsible for amazing discoveries and marvelous advancements.

PARLIAMENT IS ASKED TO SUPPRESS NOISE AT BEHEST OF DOCTORS

(By International News Service) LONDON, Aug. 9.—"The torture of noise" is the outstanding question of debate in England at the present moment.

A call to Parliament to suppress unnecessary noise, specially at night, will be one of the questions before the assembly of British doctors about to assemble in session at Cardiff.

Doctors who work in large cities are especially concerned about this problem. They say that noise in London is adding to the mortality figures and impairing the working efficiency of hundreds of thousands of people.

It is torturing patients in public and private hospitals, and so serious are the general effects that Professor Henry J. Spooner estimates the loss due to impairment of working capacity at $5,000,000 daily in London alone. He explains that the strident and deafening noise shocks the auditory nerves and produces fatigue, which in turn diminishes the capacity for work to a greater extent than severe muscular exertion.

British doctors as a whole, believe London to be the noisiest city in the world.

Ken Maynard in 'The Wagon Show'

Paul Wiegell in 'The Wagon Show' at Palace Theatre

Paul Weigell, veteran character actor, who plays the part of the clown in "The Wagon Show." Ken Maynard's latest starring western feature which comes to the Palace Theatre tonight and tomorrow, holds the distinction of enacting more dramatic parts in feature comedies than practically any other screen player.

Mr. Weigell was formerly a Shakesperian actor of the early days and knows the technique of dramatic as well as any one but it seems that the majority of his parts have been to instill the acting parts of comedies instead of straight dramatic pictures. A great many of his roles have been in support of Harold Lloyd, having been in practically all of his comedian's comedies.

However in "The Wagon Show" he has an opportunity to display some of the finest bits of dramatic work in some time.

Boston Claims More Sunlight Than Florida

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Miami or Boston, will muse the realtor after reading the report of a recent survey of New England weather conditions made here several days ago.

Metropolitan Boston enjoys more clear days in a year than sunlit Miami, according to the report of the survey.

On the score of climate as well as other natural and man-made advantages Greater Boston was shown by the survey to be one of the country's "best bets."

In mean average fair days per day, from 1871 to 1928 inclusive Boston was found to surpass all the important cities with which comparison was made, excepting only Savannah, Ga. Boston averaged 265 fair days. Miami's average in the same period was 247.

The hub led Chicago by six good days and Gotham by twelve. The report also showed that Boston temperatures as a matter of yearly average have increased, and are increasing. Though this average mens temperature since 1870 has been 49.6 degrees, a charting of the records showed a decided increase with the average since 1910 a full degree higher.

At the same time, the survey showed that average precipitation of snow and rain in Boston, is declining at a rate even faster than its temperature is rising. The 57 year average annual precipitation was 41.25 inches or about that of the past year.

The average of the whole period of 1910 to 1927 inclusive was 37, or more than 3 inches less than the other average. The report showed that Boston had the reasonable winter allowance of 18 fair days a month with a gradual increase until the high level of 22, maintained throughout August, was reached.

Among other items found to justify Boston's expectation of growth and increasing prosperity were: "Schools, clubs, theatres, churches and civic organizations—furnishing a substantial background for any legitimate enterprise that can meet a demand of the community"; mother of twenty-two, is the latest victim. Laey Dickens, thirty seven, is held at the Beckley jail on a charge of killing her. Just two months ago a man in McDowell county is alleged to have killed two brothers over a trivial quarrel between two children.

CHILDREN CAUSE FEUDS IN CAMPS OF MOONSHINERS

(By International News Service)

BLUEFIELD, West Va., Aug. 10.—Children and not family feuds or raids on moonshine camps, are causing pistol fire in this mountainous section.

To date a woman and two men are dead. In the Raleigh county jail two men are held. They are waiting trial on murder charges.

The tragedies have not cast sorrow throughout the clearings in West Virginia's woodlands. The children laugh and sing and romp about in play as usual. Wary mountaineers, both men and women, who learned by experience not to take part in children's battles, lament the killings but say nothing.

Mrs. Elsie Pettry, a young mother of twenty-two, is the latest victim. Laey Dickens, thirty seven, is held at the Beckley jail on a charge of killing her. Just two months ago a man in McDowell county is alleged to have killed two brothers over a trivial quarrel between two children.

Mrs. Pettry and Dickens lived in the Pine Knob district. While she kept house and took an interest in the neighborhood children, Dickens repaired tires and motors in a village garage. While thus engaged, a group of children started to play in front of the garage. They started to quarrel, he told the authorities, and then went home.

Later he asserted Mrs. Pettry, carrying a stick, and accompanied by her mother, sister and an unidentified man, accosted him at the garage.

He alleged they threatened him to "keep his mouth off the children" and that he fired a pistol shot into the ground to frighten them.

"They continued to make threats what they would do to me ignored my warning for them to leave," Dickens to the authorities. "Then I fired a shot into the crowd."

The bullet struck Mrs. Pettry. She walked to the home of her father nearby and collapsed. She died an hour later. Dickens surrendered.

Gotham Police Start Drive On White Way Vice

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—Police and Government operatives, functioning in New York City have entered upon another strenuous drive against organized gambling and alleged "wet" night clubs of the "Great White Way."

Although there is nothing new in the fact that enforcers of the law are seeking to run violators of the law to earth, promise of drastic action against many has been made in both police and government circles.

With two raids to the credit of the police in the war against baseball lotteries and 188 indictments by the Federal Grand Jury of persons alleged to have some part in the operation of eighteen night clubs, habitues of New York's pleasure palaces and allied "sports" rendezvous are awaiting further developments.

No less known characters than Texas Guinan, who has been habitually in the limelight as the outstanding night club hostess of all times, Helen Morgan and N. T. Greenleaf, radio announcer for Station WHN, are included in the list of indictments.

Charged with conspiracy, this famous trio and 105 others will face the possibility of a maximum of two years in prison and fines of $10,000 when their cases come up for examination on the trial calendar.

Complaints by wives are said to have resulted in the renewed activities of police in attempting to curb baseball pools and lotteries. Several women have bewailed shrinkages in their husband's weekly allowances to them, which, they claim, were caused by their mates' participation in pools and lotteries.

The lure of becoming rich overnight, through a successful pool or lottery ticket, has attracted thousands of men to the "web" of pool operatives and their agents.

One baseball pool is alleged to have taken in $150,000 weekly, paying out only $75,000 in prizes while others, of less respect for an "even break" to its customers, are supposed to have taken in thousands weekly without paying out more than a few dollars, if any, in comparison.

The pools, operating from central headquarters, have ramifications throughout many states. Waiters, cigar store clerks, drug-store "cowboys," hanger-on in pool rooms, and some few persons whose intelligence afford them a little higher rating among human endeavors act as agents for the higher ups.

The revelations already made in connection with recent raids and arrests have spurred the police to a larger and wider program, and it is expected that soon some of Broadway's hangouts for pool agents will be visited.

Declarations by the former Committee of Thirteen, now the Committee of Fourteen or Fifteen, New York's unofficial protector of the morals of women, wayward girls, and some who are not wayward but are susceptible to waywardness, have found haven in cabarets and all night dance establishments of the city, recently aroused bitter denials from leading club owners and managers, including Texas Guinan.

But the repeated denials of vice conditions have not quashed the ardor of reformers, nor have consistent promises to abide by the Eighteenth Amendment curtailed the ambitions of dry enforcers to make New York's night life free from forbidden beverages.

CHEATS CHAIR TWICE ON FRIDAY THE 13th. SLAYER WINS APPEAL

(By International News Service)
RALEIGH, Aug. 10.—Larry Newsome, negro slayer on Death's Row here, doesn't hold any superstition regarding Friday, the 13th.

On two occasions, Newsome has been sentenced to die in the electric chair for murder, yet each time an appeal to the supreme court saved him.

The last time, when preparations had been made for the execution, it was discovered that while the trial judge had sentenced the negro to die on Friday the 13th, he also had specified a time of 40 days in which he could appeal.

The time hadn't expired when the fateful Friday the 13th came. Now Newsome has a lease on life until in the fall when the supreme court reconvenes, and he can perfect his appeal.

California Hop Is Planned By Woman At 101

(By International News Service)

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 10.—When "Grandma" Almatia Bennett was a little girl she rode in the first steam trains. While indignant horse owners covered the eyes of their snorting steeds and said had things concerning the new "contraptions," the grand old lady of Chicopee was enjoying this startling new form of transportation; and the faster the train went the more she enjoyed it.

Now at the age of 101, "Grandma" points with pride to a record of four flights in the newest form of travel to develop during the century in which she has lived. Beginning in 1920, Mrs. Bennett took her first airplane flight over the city of Portland, Me. Flying proved to be such a thrill for the centenarian that since that time she has taken to the air on three other occasions and is now seriously considering a flight to California.

Her fourth adventure in the air was made when she hopped from Agawam in a Ryan monoplane, a sister ship of Lindbergh's famous "Spirit of St. Louis," and circled over Springfield and Chicopee for over one half an hour.

"Grandma's" two other air outings were made, first at Portland on her birthday, September 8, 1926 and one year later when she undertook the ambitious jaunt from the Boston airport to Old Orchard, Me.

The element of fear in these trips has been entirely missing, she claims and she is eager for longer and more sustained hops.

"Why," she exclaimed after landing at Agawam following her most recent aerial venture, "a friend has invited me to fly with him to California, and I'm only too willing to go."

She had just come to rest on the field after coming back to the narrow confines of the earth with a smooth landing. The plane was piloted by John T. Rogerson, who together with all other pilots have carried Mrs. Bennett as a passenger, claims that she is naturally "air-minded."

The younger element in Springfield which believes that it will be doing extremely well to attain

"Grandma's" enviable old age while cling close to the ample and comforting bosom of Mother Earth stand frankly in awe of this smiling old lady who thinks no more of thus hopping off for California than they do of taking a dip in the Connecticut River.

They are a nifty, audacious set on the whole, yet no one of them can face the prospect of a long flight with the equanimity of this veteran of four long flights.

"The more I fly, the better I like it, maintains the gray-haired, smiling eyed woman whose spirit belies her age; and she is really serious about that California hop.

WORLD'S OLDEST COUPLE IN SERBIAN TOWN ARE BOTH OVER CENTURY

(By International News Service)

BELGRADE, Aug. 10.—What is probably the oldest couple in the world have just been discovered in a small Serbian village, Verbitza, near Aranjobatz. The husband, Dimitije Filipovitch, is 110 years old, has been married since the age of eight to Jivana, age 107. They live happily in a little house, apparently extremely pleased after long, happy years together.

Both are teetotalers at the present time, although during a few years they drank light wine. Dimitrije tells interesting facts of past events. His wife is less talkative and has great horror of camera men. On the occasion of their recent anniversary day, it was almost impossible to make her consent to a little photograph.

"You have come around just ninety years too late," she argued "you would have taken a pretty woman then."

MORE LIONS CLUBS SOON

Lions C. H. Kenley and Gallo-way, organizer for the Lions International, made a visit to Ballinger and Coleman Wednesday with the view of launching Lions clubs in those cities at an early date. They received a favorable reception, Mr. Kenley reported at the meeting of the club here Thursday. Organization action will likely follow at an early date under the sponsorship of the San Angelo Club.

Millard Allen entertained the club with several piano numbers. —San Angelo Standard.

CLEBURNE—A landing field for airplanes will be established here by November 11.

Language Study Is More Beneficial Than Cross Words

(By International News Service)
 LOS ANGELES, Aug. 10.—Cross-word puzzles, the ask-me-another game, tick-tack-toe and other great American pastimes are outclassed as mental stimulants by the study of foreign languages.

This on the authority of Prof. F. H. Reinsch, president of the Modern Foreign Language Association of Southern California. Reinsch has been conducting an investigation to determine the value of foreign language study at the request of William J. Cooper, state superintendent of schools.

A declension a day, it appears, keeps the doldrums away, according to Reinsch, who finds that foreign language study promotes "mental discipline, trains minds and inculcates habits of thoroughness and exactness in mental work."

And besides, Reinsch has discovered that knowledge of a foreign language permits communications directly with the people who speak it. Thus permitting understanding of the subtleties expressed by the head waiter when ham and eggs are ordered in a French restaurant.

The Southern California language association will act in certain definite recommendations prepared by its special committee for the purpose of aiding the California curriculum commission to adjust, enrich and improve the curricula of junior colleges and high schools.

Lines 21 to 40, inclusive, set out the usual or garden variety of policy violations that void the contract.

British Miner To Try Channel Swim

(By International News Service)

BRIGHTON, Eng., Aug. 10.—In a tiny cottage on the outskirts of Brighton lives an ex-Derbyshire miner, John Tomlinson, who is training to swim the English Channel this year.

To achieve this, he has given up everything but the bare necessities of life for years past in order to save the money to pay his training expenses.

Tomlinson is a short sturdy man with a bright sense of humor. "I was working in the mines until three months ago," he says. "I have always been keenly interested in swimming, and when I saw the channel being conquered, especially by foreigners, I made up my mind that I would have a shot at it, just to show what provincial England could do in that direction.

"Of course, I realized that it would cost a good deal to achieve it and that it would serve me better to train by the seashore. Therefore I have been devoting every penny I could save towards my aim. In the way I am managing I can live, apart from food and lodging, on about twelve cents a day."

His sister Margaret is keeping house for Tomlinson and also accompanies him on his practice swims.

Texas To Pay $100,000 In Bounties On Wolves and Lions This Year

(By International News Service)
AUSTIN, Aug. 10.—Extermination of wolves and mountain lions in Texas this year will be a $100,000 industry, according to a statement made public by C. H. Landon, Texas director of the Co-operative State Federal Wolf and Mountain Lion Extermination Association.

The state of Texas this year has appropriated $25,000 for the work. Almost as much has been contributed by the federal government, while wolf clubs now being organized among the ranchmen have contributed two-thirds of the cost of the work. The old bounty system has become obsolete, it is claimed, and wolf extermination work is now being done by trained government hunters and trappers, Landon said.

Some idea of the losses suffered by ranchmen from the depredations of wolves and mountain lions may be got from Landon's statement that a wolf has been known to kill at least $500 worth of lambs and ewes in one night.

A dozen professional trappers and hunters, representing, not the nomadic irresponsibility of the old time trapper, but the firm purpose and authority of the federal government, are now working on the ranges.

When the state legislature meets next January, the stockmen of the state will ask for the largest appropriation in history for the purpose of destroying the predatory animals now raising havoc with their stock, ranchmen have stated. They expect to bring with them to the legislature ample proof of the big returns for every dollar invested in this work.

Vital Records System Formed

Dr. W. A. Davis, of the State Board of Health, was here Thursday for the purpose of re-organizing the county for vital statistics registrations. Records obtained this far in the history of the department with reference to births and deaths have been inaccurate, and a change made in the system recently failed to clarify matters, he said.

Dr. Davis made a number of appointments over the county, and conferred with physicians and county officials here relative to the new plan. Miss Ima McKown, county clerk-elect, who was named registrar for this commissioner's precinct, will act as a "clearing house" for records of other registrars over the county, all births and deaths occurring in the county being filed with her each month.

Other appointments were: Dr. E. R. Walker, Ballinger registrar; Miss Roxie Floyd, City Secretary of Winters, Winters registrar; R. W. Loyd, registrar; Dr. J. J. Shiller, Rowena registrar. Dr. Davis is corresponding with A. H. Lewin, City Secretary of Miles, relative to his acting as registrar there.

Beginning with the opening of the regular school term, an appeal will be made by the state board to the various Parent-Teachers Associations and wives of doctors to co-operate in a campaign to locate through the teachers every birth and death since January 1 of this year. The board has set a goal at complete records for the current year, and under the plan being inaugurated it is apparent that accurate records will be available hereafter.

Regarding laws pertaining to vital statistics, Dr. Davis pointed out that it was compulsory that birth certificates be filed within five days after birth, and that death certificates be filed before burial. Penalties for violations are prescribed, he stated.

79 YEAR OLD WOMAN WINS DIVORCE SUIT

ST. CLEMENS, Mich., Aug. 10.—A 79-year-old blind woman has been declared winner in a divorce suit which has been contested bitterly in Circuit Court for the last six months.

An absolute decree was granted to Mrs. Matty J. Mott, of Utica, the defendant in a suit brought by her husband, Frank Mott, Utica business man. Mrs. Mott two years ago accused W. H. Schofield of attempting to kill her and accused her husband of conspiracy. It was on this grounds Mott sued for divorce, charging cruelty.

Schofield was acquitted of the charge. Mott was never tried.

Motley Attends Highway Parley

J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce, returned from Waco Friday morning with the announcement of a possibility of a Central Texas highway from San Angelo to Waco, extending to other points from these extremities, following a meeting with representatives from San Angelo, Coleman, Brownwood, Goldthwaite, Gatesville and other cities at Waco.

Needs for such a highway were emphasized by those in attendance and constructive methods of stimulating work along the proposed lines were outlined. Attention was called to the fact that the proposed highway would be over one of the most scenic routes of the state. Trade advantages obtaining from materialization of the project were stressed.

In his talk at the meeting, Mr. Motley declared that the people of this section have always had a friendly feeling for Waco, and that they are situated in a trade territory which has been monopolized. He urged continuation of the road on through East Texas.

A temporary organization, of which Mr. Motley is a member, was formed in order to facilitate the movement. The next meeting of the organization will be held in Brownwood. The proposed highway would be hard surfaced, and traversable the year-round.

BIT GOING DOWN IN McCORD PAY SAND

COLEMAN, Aug. 10.—Drilling foot by foot, the Kingwood Oil company's No. 2 McCord in section 41, B. B. B. & C. R. R. survey 3 miles northwest of Glencoe in extreme western Coleman county, appeared slightly more favorable to those watching the operations, which were under the supervision of Joe King, president of the Kingwood Oil company of Okmulgee, Oklahoma.

The first drilling attempt since the deep wildcat sand was topped early last week was done yesterday from 3,498-3,500 feet.

While the production of the well was closely guarded by company representatives, it was understood that more than 4 1-2 feet of oil was in storage tanks.

Mr. King intimated that drilling will be continued cautiously until other developments are supported. A six-inch flow line has been built from the well to the separator and thence into two storage tanks which would indicate the company is taking no chances on being unable to handle the flush production that may be encountered deeper in the horizon.

In the meantime some acreage fully two miles from the well was changing hands for from $15 to $25 per acre, which was recognized by most major company representatives to be a pretty steep price.

THREE MEN ON A DRUNK UPSET 40 TOMBSTONES

(By International News Service)
CALIFORNIA, Mo., Aug. 10.—Three young men on a drunken orgy upset forty tombstones recently.

The trio made their way from grave to grave, not bothering to read the inscriptions of the stones but satisfied that they didn't like them, pulled or pushed them down.

As a result Henry Pulliam, Percy Busky and Harvey Stone, the three vandals, were arrested and bound over to the circuit court for their acts in the little field of the Dead at Latham, Mo., on charges of intoxication and upsetting the grave markers.

DEATH OR LIFE IN NEW RAY DISCOVERED BY FRENCH SCIENTISTS

(By International News Service)
PARIS, Aug. 10.—France has a ray that can deal death or stimulate life.

It was discovered by V. A. Henocques and Henri Schmidt, according to the "Intransigent."

Known as the HS Ray it can electrocute a man at 600 feet or coax plants into sprouting their fruit and vegetables in record time.

Henocques and Schmidt, it was said, discovered the power of the beam by accident. They were trying to bleach fish by ultra-violet rays and in the course of their experiments a box of powder, some distance away, exploded.

This happened in 1915, and since then the inventors are said to have increased the usefulness of the potent ray to the extent of sending it over a long distance to set off dynamite and making gardens grow almost while they watched them.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland L. Wright and family of Carlsbad, New Mexico, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ramsberger of near Concho.

Byrd Tells Who Is Fitted For Hardships in the Arctic

Says Dreamer-Fighter Is Best Combination for Exploration

By GRAHAM STEWART
International Illustrated News Staff Writer

THE drama that is being unfolded for newspaper readers in grim Northeastland prompts the question: Just what type of rugged manhood is best suited to withstand the hardships of Arctic exploration?

Impetuous youth or wary, experienced age? The brilliant bookworm, gifted also with good muscles? What about the married man? The smoker? How far does family history count?

Commander Richard E. Byrd, in his recently published book, Skyward, answers these queries in interesting fashion.

"I am inclined," he writes, "to put age as the first limiting factor. Youth will be served. The young man has zest and ambition. He has an internal machinery not long out of the factory, longs instinctively for combat, with man or nature—and he cares little which.

"Briefly I should say that the average man does not get his full strength until after twenty and reaches his peak around twenty-five. He is close to the downhill slide—physically—before he is thirty-eight. The ages between twenty and thirty, therefore, would seem best fitted to endure privation and hardship and seek unconcernedly upon the bright face of danger.

"I am frequently asked if the dramatic man isn't better fitted temperamentally to undergo hardships than his more imaginative brother. I don't believe he is. If a man lacks imagination he is inclined to let things slide.

"Amundsen, Peary, Scott and Shackleton were men of laconic, grim personalities, yet their writings, their friends, their works all testify to the heights of fancy their order could carry them to on occasions. It was their combination of dreamer and fighter that largely set them apart from their fellows."

Commander Byrd says that a year of isolation and hardship in the Arctic does things to men that are never dreamed of in ordinary life. He adds that few leaders but know of dozens of cases in which a fine athlete at home became a menace in the field. For instance:

The man who turns up with a weak digestion or lungs, the man who goes "native"—wants to eat, live and dress with native negligence, the man who becomes hysterical in a tight place and wants to fight, the man who is a secret drinker, the man who blows up when his tobacco is gone, the victim of homesickness, and, finally, the man who, when he is tired, can't stand the other fellow's banjo—or his singing.

The explorer extolls the late Floyd Bennett as his ideal of a comrade in a pinch, for Bennett's calm nerve never once deserted him in their sojourn in the Arctic.

Close Division In Congress Is Call To Arms

(By International News Service)
 WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—With the Senate almost equally divided between the major political parties and three more than the usual one-third of the Senate to be elected next fall because of deaths of members, both Republican and Democratic campaign strategists are laying more than usual stress upon the senatorial and congressional elections.

In a closely contested presidential election it is easily possible that the successful nominee might find himself confronted by a Senate controlled by political opponents.

A more considerable shift would be necessitated to change the political complexion of the House where the Republicans have had a majority of approximately 40 votes.

The presence of the "progressive bloc" in the Senate and to a lesser degree in the House further emphasizes the difficulty of either major party in obtaining a clear majority of members who would stand by the administration through thick and thin.

When the Republicans entered the last session of Congress, the official record showed that they had 49 Senators to 46 Democrats and one Farmer-Labor. The names of Frank L. Smith of Illinois and William S. Vare of Pennsylvania, however, were included in this list, and neither was seated.

Fate aided the Republicans when the deaths of Senator Jones of New Mexico and Ferris of Michigan both Democrats, made possible the appointment of Republican successors. The death of Senator Willis of Ohio resulted in the naming of a Democratic Senator and since adjournment Senator Gooding of Idaho, another Republican, has died.

Of the 35 Senatorial seats to be contested in the election, 20 are held by Democrats, 13 by Republicans, one by a farmer-laborite and the Illinois seat is vacant.

Republican senators whose terms expire, all of whom are candidates for re-election, are: Cuttin, New Mexico; Fess, Ohio; Frazier, North Dakota; Greene, Vermont; Hale, Maine; Howell, Nebraska; Johnson, California; LaFollette, Wisconsin; McLean, Connecticut; Reed, Pennsylvania; Robinson, Indiana; Thomas, Idaho and Vandenberg, Michigan.

Democratic senators, whose terms expire, all of whom except Reed of Missouri aspire to succeed themselves, are: Ashurst, Arizona; McKellar, Tennessee; Hayard, Delaware; Bruce, Maryland; Copeland, New York; Dill, Washington; Edwards, New Jersey; Gerry, Rhode Island; Kendrick, Wyoming; King, Utah; Loeber, Ohio; Mayfield, Texas; Neely, West Virginia; Pittman, Nevada; Reed, Missouri; Stephens, Mississippi; Swanson, Virginia; Trammell, Florida; Walsh, Massachusetts and Wheeler, Montana.

Sen. Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, is a candidate to succeed himself.

Cotton Is King As Paris Style Men Buy In U.S.

(By International News Service)
 BOSTON, Aug. 10.—Cotton is king of a lady's wardrobe this summer, according to the second annual report of the National Association of Cotton Goods Manufacturers.

Realizing that the heat of the American summer makes cotton the most comfortable material for the manufacture of summer garments Parisian style authorities are catering more and more to this need for lighter fabrics and utilizing it for many warm weather fashions.

"The cotton sport coat, which was worn by some of the smartest women at Havana and Palm Beach last winter, has perhaps the first place in the wardrobe," says the report of the advisory council of the Association.

"It is made of crash, plain or quilted pique, colorful prints, gay cretonnes and similar media. In handbags many smart models have come out in awning cloth. Pastel pique and printed fabric shoes are other interesting features among the accessories, which because of the necessity of color harmony and great variety are adding to life's complexities. These cotton coats are being worn with silk sport dresses or over silk crepe or woolen bathing suits.

"New cottons have been produced which do not crush readily and from which the wrinkles shake out easily. The lightweight fabrics which belong to the cambrie family in the old days are boasting new and disguising finishes.

"In New York one of the most interesting highlights of the past month has been the introduction of the dress with the pleated flounce, the pleats ranging from an accordion to a one and one-quarter inch pleat. The new flounce gives a new and pleasing back fullness which adds grace to the figure when in motion and is a decided relief from the straight line back of many seasons past.

"There is a feeling that colors will have a tendency to be stronger and less pastel. The trend for fall include: natural beiges, pink beiges and green bronze sponsored by Patou and Lelong; yellow and blue-green sponsored by Patou; true blue, gray blue, turquoise for evening. Amber will also be an interesting note.

"Handkerchiefs for afternoon evening wear will be mostly lace trimmed. The envelope and pouch-envelope type of bags will continue to be popular for general use.

"In hats the 'off the face' trend is indicated for Fall though the poke bonnet is favored in Paris."

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By Alice Langelier
 (International News Service Staff Correspondent)

Women Will Dress Three Times a Day Says Expert
 PARIS, Aug. 10.—Women will dress three times a day instead of one, if the Paris dressmakers succeed in carrying out their present plans of making the winter season the most pretentious one that has dawned since the war.

The "all-around-the-clock" dress has survived long enough, they argue, and the hour has struck for women to sweep some of the practicality out of their wardrobes and inject a little art into their dressing. The feminist wave has finally gained ground and young debutantes reared in the post-war period will have to learn mother's old tricks of lingering before a full length mirror and really taking time to dress.

Until the present season when flounces, flimsy materials, laces and soft billowy effects appeared, the afternoon atmosphere was completely missing in women's clothes and the simple one-piece frock which came in with the war and still survives in modified form, seemed destined to stay on forever. The Paris creators of fashion, however, now say No.

SUMMER IS HOTTEST PARIS HAS KNOWN FOR LAST SEVENTEEN YEARS

(By International News Service)
 PARIS, Aug. 10.—The hottest Paris has seen for seventeen years does not seem to dampen the ardor of American artists who are living in the capital. The end of what is called the season of art exhibitions is remarkable for the number of shows of the works of artist from the other side of the water.

At the Zak Gallery, near St. Germain des Pres and the celebrated "Deux Magots" cafe where all Americans drink their morning coffee, Louis Lezowick, a young American who has traveled all over the world and notably Soviet Russia, is showing his idea of the United States from whence he hails. There are landscapes and views of cities in their most picturesque character, together with profiles or silhouettes of machines, such as "The Crane," "The Drawbridge" and a splendid "Port of Hoboken."

Roland Stewart, Professor at Wisconsin University has wandered through Europe and Northern Africa and put down his impressions in charming pictures of pleasant coloring which he is exhibiting at the Berheim Jaume Gallery.

Daisy Hughes is another American artist who has been in Northern Africa and her paintings are to be seen in the Galleries George Petit.
