Victim Of Bus Crash Buried At Glen Cove

W. H. Williams, 47-year-old farmer died at 10:20 o'clock Friday night from injuries received in an accident in which a West Texas bus struck his wagon near Talpa Friday afternoon, and was buried in the Glen Cove cemetery Saturday afternoon following funeral services from the Methodist church there, with Rev. Edmondson pastor, in charge.

Mr. Williams was rushed to the Halley & Love sanitarium here late Friday evening by a Higginbotham Bros. & Co., ambulance, but he never regained consciousness. His condition was pronounced fatal immediately after a preliminary examination and physicians momentarily expected his death.

John Roberts, another farmer who was also riding in the wagon at the time of the crash, received only minor injuries.

The victim is survived by his wife, two daughters, Ermine, 5 and Joe Ann, 2; and two sons, Clifton, 13, and Archie, 11.

The accident occurred about three-fourths of a mile east of Talpa at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon, when a west-bound bus, driven by Mike Pittman, of Cisco, caught the rear wheel of the farm wagon with the front bumper while passing around it on a curve. Both farmers were thrown clear of the wagon, which was demolished, and Roberts was temporarily dazed, while Williams was left insensible.

Fred Simpson, of Rankin, the only passenger of the bus, who declared he was asleep at the time of the impact, watched over the unconscious man while the driver rushed to Talpa for medical aid.

The bus was slightly impaired, and was exchanged for another at Talpa.

22 Boy Scouts Attend Meeting

Twenty-two Boy Scouts attended the regular meeting of the troop at the Presbyterian church Friday night. Most of the meeting was spent in reviewing the Tenderfoot test, which most of the Scouts will endeavor to pass within the next two weeks.

Roll call was answered with reports of good turns rendered during the week, in accordance with part of the Scout oath and a Scout law, to the effect that a Scout must do at least one good turn to somebody every day. The Scout oath was repeated, and the laws given and discussed.

The Scoutmaster announced that hikes, field meetings, civic good turns, and a general program would be in readiness soon as the members had successfully passed the initial test. Scout service during the Runnels County Fair was outlined, and several patrols will be assigned to J. D. Motley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and supervisor of the fair.

H. F. Demmer and J. F. Fowler were visitors at the meeting, and made short talks. The problem of a meeting place was taken up before the meeting adjourned.

Following is the personnel of the troop: Alfred Zealists, Henry Fowler, Granville Russell, Johnnie Clawson, David Baker, Walter Atwell, Marion Connelly, Bud Holloway, Lloyd Ischer, Billie Ratliff, Bobbie Ratliff, Graham Fowler, Dan Whitehead, Joe Truwell, Coy Drennan, Bill Uecker, Elwood McWilliams, Guy Jones, Corkill Motley, W. A. Nance, Harold McDonald, Eldwin Williams, Arthur Crockett, Jack Ashton, Horace McKay, Raymond Thomas and Laverne Acheson.

NEW ENGLAND LIKES DAY LIGHT SAVING TIME WITHOUT MOVING CLOCKS

(By International News Service) BOSTON, Aug. 11.—Daylight saving time has scored a hit in New England even in the states which do not officially recognize it.

A survey has shown that although Massachusetts and Rhode Island are the only two states in which the summer time schedule is in effect, several towns and cities in each of the remaining New England states are observing a daylight saving schedule without actually turning the clocks ahead.

The most remarkable example is Connecticut where all the leading towns and cities of the state are running on daylight time although the state is officially listed among those retaining Eastern Standard Time for the summer. The only towns not desirous of gaining an extra hour of daylight are Chilton, Guilford Kent, and New Milford, Conn., while Portland, Me., apparently unable to decide so momentous a question is using both schedules.

Mr. Doss has been an attorney in Runnels County for more than nineteen years. He moved to Winters from Greenville in 1909, and three years later moved to Ballinger, where he has since resided. He first formed a partnership with J. H. Wade, who later moved to Fort Worth.

In 1915 Mr. Doss became associated with J. H. Baugh, who came here from Brownwood. The firm of Doss and Baugh continued for eight years, when Mr. Baugh became a member of the Third Court of Civil Appeals as associate justice, which position he still holds.

Boynton, with the exception of about two years, during which time Mr. Boynton served as assistant to the United States District Attorney for the northern district of Texas. Mr. Boynton remained in charge of the Dallas office until September 1927, when he returned to the firm of Doss and Boynton.

Judge Doss was one of the organizers of the Country Club, and was on the first board of directors of the club, to which place he was re-elected in June of this year. He was a trustee of the Methodist church, and a member of the building committee. He was a directory of the Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the good roads committee of the organization. He is at present attorney for the city of Ballinger. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge.

He was educated in Vanderbilt University, Nashville, having spent the first several years of his life around Nashville, near which place he was born. He came to Texas in 1903, and first located at Greenville.

While identified with the firm of Doss and Boynton, Judge Doss represented banks at Winters, Paint Rock Ballinger, and other towns. The firm has acted as counsel for the Texas & Pacific Railway company, the West Texas Utilities company, and other corporations. Judge Doss has acted in every murder case in Runnels and Concho counties for 15 years, as well as in leading civil cases. He has also practiced law in surrounding counties.

He was married in 1911 to Miss Emily Yeary, of Gatesville. They are the parents of five children, four girls and a boy. The father of Mrs. Yeary died recently in Chelsea, Oklahoma, and was buried in San Angelo.

Smith, from his pulpit, threaten to prevent the debate between Stratton and the governor, at least in so far as holding it in the church is concerned.

A. M. Johnson, trustee, said that the question had been informally discussed by the trustees, and he feels certain that permission to use the church will be withheld. Stratton has received many letters of commendation and denunciation. Today he will receive one from E. J. "The $225,000 road bond issue to be voted on the first of September will carry almost unanimously if it continues to rain so the roads will stay muddy," says an article bearing a Rowena date line appearing in the San Angelo Morning Times. "A heavy rain Wednesday night following heavy rains Sunday evening has made roads impassible and scores of cars on highway No. 30, passing through Rowena, were detained in the mud for many hours. The humming and roaring of automobiles on the highway continued all through the night until Thursday morning."

It would probably be in favor of the bond issue for a heavy rain to fall immediately preceding the election. In that event a person who was prone to vote against the bond issue would most likely support it, especially if he had traversed roads as described in the foregoing article. Too many voters, it seems, are like the shiftless Arkansas farmer whose house had a leaky roof. When asked why he didn't repair it, he drawled, "Waal, when it's rainin' I can't, an' when it's not' rainin' we don't need it fixed."

building, which will not be used.

(c) Whenever notified by the Building Inspector, the contractor shall make provision for leaving a passageway for pedestrian traffic, at, or near the sidewalk line, by a covered runway, tunnel or other approved and safe method. (d) The gutter shall be kept open at all times for drainage. In case the contractor desires to build tool sheds over the gutter or to pipe material, same may be done by bridging in any manner which will leave free outlet for water.

(e) The provision of these regulations shall not operate to relieve the contractor of his liabilities for damage caused to property but he shall properly guard his work, using whatever lights are necessary at night.

Appointment Book In Denvers Stores Contain Messages of Strange Greetings

(By International News Service)

DENVER, Aug. 11.—Department stores appointment books, which are provided for the convenience of local shoppers in the lobbies of two of the larger department stores in downtown Denver, recently proved an interesting subject for a survey here recently, when some of the messages were read.

"I've waited now for forty-five minutes—keep this up and you can get yourself a new wife, dearie," read one of the notations from a Denver woman to her husband.

Another woman became angry with her husband when he didn't show up for an appointment with her and left this note: "Max—at least I didn't think you'd ditch me. I waited almost a half hour—I'm sure I'll enjoy holding hands with my imagination at that picture show. Be sure and be here after the show—at 5:30 p. m.—Lil."

The answer from the husband of the above follows: "Lillian, dear, guess I made a mistake about the place to meet you—or else you changed your mind. Gee I'm sorry. I'll be home early and I'll have a little surprise for you—M."

Some of the more domestically inclined notes include:

"Jim—Sorry there'll be no necking tonight. Pop's in town—R."

"Zel—This line just to let you know I'm back on the job. Didn't find out anything.—Minnie."

"Can't get a bath until 10—It taken an hour for this display, so I'll meet you at 12.—L"

Harrisburg, N. C.—Mr. M. F. Fink, of this place, says: "It must have been fully twenty-five years ago that I began taking Black-Draught regularly. It wasn't so long after I married."

"I was in town one day, and while talking to a friend I stooped over to pick up something. When I straightened up, I felt dizzy. I spoke to him about this and how I had not felt like eating. "My friend told me to take some Black-Draught. I knew my mother had used it, and so I bought a package. When I got home, I took a good, big dose, and the next night, another. In a few days I felt much better. I was hungry and the dizziness was gone."

"A good many times I have had this dizziness and a bad taste in my mouth, or headaches, and then I take Black-Draught and get better. I do not have to take it very often. We buy from five to seven packages a year."

Pretty Blonde Actress Gets Bad Break in "Get Your Man"
"I've been playing mean roles for so long that I'm beginning to lose my sweet disposition."

So states Josephine Dunn, Paramount featured player who has a prominent role in "Get Your Man" Clara Bow's new starring vehicle, which will be shown at the Palace Theatre on Monday and Tuesday.

In this picture, the blonde beauty is seen as the girl engaged to Charles Rogers, Miss Bow's leading man. She is the jealous rival for Rogers' smiles.

"That's nothing new to me," Miss Dunn announces when she was advised of her newest role.

"In 'Fascinating Youth' I was Charles Rogers' sweetheart, but I lost out to the heroine, after several weeks, during which I expressed hatred," Josephine declares.

In Bebe Daniels' "Swim, Girl, Swim" I tried my best to win the affections of James Hall, while Bebe was the lucky contender.

"In 'She's a Sheik' I was Richard Arlen's girl friend—then Bebe stole him away from me."

And Josephine is a blonde, which goes to show that Anita Loos' statement may be wrong.

No permit shall be issued for excavation under sidewalks or streets or for the erection, construction, repairing or alteration over the sidewalks, parkways or streets without a special permit issued by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Ballinger, and any such permit granted without the consent of the Board of Commissioners shall be null and void.

Section 4. If upon examination of the plans and specifications as provided for in section 1 of the Building ordinance passed on the 26th day of June, 1928, the Building Inspector is of the opinion that said building or structure, when completed will be in accordance with the building code, adopted by the Board of Commissioners and the ordinances of the City of Ballinger, he shall issue a written permit authorizing the work to be done in accordance with said plans and specifications. Said permit shall be dated, shall show the character of the structure authorized, describing the location of the premises where the work is to be done, and a record shall be kept by said building inspector, properly indexed by street, lot and block numbers.

Section 5. It shall be unlawful for any owner or contractor to leave off or remove any cap on any unused gas outlet, when building, which is being built, repaired or altered, is finished. No building shall be erected over gas service lines.

Section 6. Any person, firm or corporation hereafter erecting a building or structure, shall make provisions for sheltering gas meter or meters as provided by the gas ordinance, passed by the Board of Commissioners on the 11th day of August, A. D. 1927.

Section 7. The rules and regulations of the National Board of Fire Underwriters embodied in its "Building Code" published in 1920 and such subsequent codes amended and supplements of said National Board of Fire Underwriters which may hereafter be adopted, are hereby adopted as the rules and regulations to govern and to be observed and followed in all constructions, repairs and alterations of buildings and structures, except as otherwise specially provided in building ordinances of the City of Ballinger, and the same are hereby made a part of this ordinance as fully and to the same extent as if copied herein in full, and the interpretation of such code by the building inspector shall be final and conclusive.

Section 8. Every person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction therefore in the Corporation Court of the City of Ballinger shall be fined in any sum not to exceed $100.00.

Section 9. This ordinance shall be construed as affecting and repealing ordinances heretofore passed by the City of Ballinger, only in so far as the provisions of such ordinances with the provisions of this ordinance shall be in conflict, and the provisions of this ordinance shall be held to be cumulative of any ordinances heretofore passed by the City of Ballinger regulating the construction, alteration, maintenance, removal and repair of buildings within the city of Ballinger, Texas.

Section 10. The fact that there is now no ordinance in effect in the City of Ballinger regulating excavation under sidewalks or streets or over sidewalks, parkways, or streets, and the further fact that there is now no ordinance regulating the apportionment of fees for services of the Building Inspector, or regulating the building of any structure over a gas service main, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that this ordinance be passed without delay and it is therefore ordered that all rules requiring the reading of an ordinance more than once be and the same are hereby expressly suspended and this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its first reading, approval and publication.

Passed and approved this the 2nd day of August, A. D. 1928.

Among The Things That Void A Policy

An insurance policy is an important document. On the inside of the Standard Fire Policy are 122 lines setting out the general requirements common to fire insurance contracts.

Lines 21 to 40, inclusive, set out the usual or garden variety of policy violations that void the contract. Every fire insurance policy holder should be familiar with lines 21 to 40, inclusive, of the Standard Fire Policy.

If the policy provisions are not clear, let us assist you. We do not feel that we have finished our duty merely by delivering a policy of insurance.

FOR ORDERS REPIICA OF EARLY LOCOMOTIVE TO ADD TO COLLECTION

(By International News Service) DARTINGTON, Eng., Aug. 11—Henry Ford, equally famous

as a collector of antiquities, he is in the automotive field, plans to add to his unique collection a full size replica of George Stephenson's famous locomotive, the Rocket.
 An order for the replica has been placed with the manufacturing firm of Robert Stephenson & Company, and although official confirmation has not been announced, it is generally known that the order comes from Ford.
 The replica is to be exact in every detail. Scratches and marks which were distinguished features of the old engine will be faithfully reproduced, and the work will involve months of laborious manufacture by hand. The original Rocket was first put into service in 1829.
