 The new traffic ordinance, which supersedes former traffic codes, provides that the driver of any vehicle shall proceed to the right curb line of the street at the approach of a fire engine answering a call for fire, and shall remain at a dead stop until the fire machine has passed. No person will be permitted to drive a vehicle closer than 300 feet to the location of any fire with in the city.
 Double parking is expressly forbidden, and it is required that all vehicles parked on the street be left at an angle of 45 degrees with, and the right front wheel within 12 inches of the curb or property line. Parking within 10 feet of a fire plug is unlawful, and so is stopping a vehicle within any intersection of street, except to avoid a collision. In turning any corner from a street into an alley or from an alley into a street, only right hand turns are allowed, and crossing a street at an alley intersection is unlawful.
 Other provisions of the ordinance prohibit racing on public streets, negligent collisions, the driving of a motor vehicle by any person while intoxicated or otherwise incapable of operating same, and designate penalties for violations.
 City policemen have been supplied with charge slips, which will be used in violations. The effectiveness of the ordinance has already been reflected thru an absence of traffic congestion in the business district which had hitherto proved a real menace.

THE COUNTRY THAT GOD FORGOT

The country God forgot is West Texas, according to the subject of an address assigned to Judge Hunter Metcalf of Marfa, Texas at the West Texas Druggist Association convention in Colorado last night.

And Judge Metcalf so clearly brought out the reasons why God forgot West Texas that everyone who heard him was more convinced than ever that this is the land to be in.

When God created this western portion of the state, Mr. Metcalf argued, he perfected such a vast and rich empire, one that offered so great a challenge to man and one which has repaid him so bountifully for his courageous faith in West Texas that the inhabitants have had no thought of complaining.

"On the other hand," the judge said, "the people of East Texas and other sections of the nation have complained to God so much about their condition, have annoyed him so with their troubles and kept him so busy looking after them that God did forget about this rich land of promise he had created out here. That is why this is the country that God forgot."

West Texas, he further declared, begets the spirit of confidence. The pioneer, the citizen of today has always been a man whose every act bespoke courage and confidence in himself, his work and his land. West Texas begets the spirit of peace and friendliness, of helpfulness and contentment.

Who wouldn't enjoy living in the "country that God forgot?" —Sweetwater Reporter.

Every speaker appearing on the short program presented by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce motoreads here Thursday morning mentioned the proposed road bond issue here, and every one was strong in expressing hopes that the election carries. All West Texas is entering her attention on Runnels County, in the approaching election, for all West Texas is concerned over the outcome. Defeat of the issue would be deplored by the entire section.

Kansas City Girls Hit New Scheme To Foil Cheap Fliver Lotharios

(By International News Service) KANSAS CITY, Aug. 17.—"The auto sheik," pernicious bug found in abundance in America's one horse towns, and which like the less harmful firefly operates chiefly after dark, met his match in Kansas City. The two fair conquerors who have devised a scheme to outwit the "Lizzie Lotharios" gladly offered to disclose their find to their persecuted sisters throughout this land of bell-bottoms and vaseline promadours.

Watch the two canny Kansas Cityettes in action— The scene: Mail street in the downtown section. The Time: Midnight. The Characters: Two of those lovely creatures of the type that you can always just failed to muster up enough courage to speak to.

Enter the first set of villains. They are youthful, yet they are wicked and they are mounted on the front, in fact the only seat, of a dilapidated flivver, which has seen better nights.

First villain in a shrill tenor that has little hope of ever growing into a base—"Hee thee hence fair ones. Mount with us upon our noble steed and let Papa deliver you to your respective domiciles.

First Coquette, (holding a lily white finger to rosy red lips, and expressing as much alarm as a pair of china blue eyes and a round doll face are capable.) "Sh-h-h-h. Everybody'll see us get in here. Drive down to 24 and Main and wait for us there."

First set of villains in chorus and to the accompaniment of the grinding gears. "Cheerio—we shall meet you there."

Enter second set of villains, sniffing disdainfully of the exhaust pipe smells let by first set of villains. They would be laughing up their coat sleeves at the apparent chagrin of their predecessors only the second set of villains do not wear coats. They are older villains, smug villains, regular "villians" villains. They have a big blue racer.

"G'mon girls hop in and we'll take you for a spin." First Coquette (again doing her stuff—25 and Main—in the northwest corner—it's dark down there and nobody'll see us get in." Second set of villains exit with flourish of klaxons. A street car rumbles up and the two girls enter. At 25th and Main two expectant voices tremble. "Here we are."

Two icy stares. At 25th and Main—from the shadows of the northwest corner, "Here we are girls." Two equally frigid looks. "Really girls," this from an oldish, fatherly looking man who is sitting in an opposite seat and who has watched the episode from the first. "Really girls—how do you do it."

The stares thaw and there are two giggles of relief. "Well you see, Mrs. Gertie and I work down town with late hours, and we had an awful time with these steering gear shieks until we figured out this scheme. On moonlight nights we sometimes have them lined up all the way to Fifth Street.

Slow curtain to the soft accompaniment of swearing in the distance.

Voters' Apathy Is Crime Cause Legion Thinks

(By International News Service) WALDENBURG, Colo., Aug. 16.—Apathy of voters to exercise their franchise was given as one of the chief causes of crime, in an address before the Colorado convention of the American Legion here recently by James F. Barton, national adjutant of the Legion.

"The reign of crime, the gun-toting gangster who has extended his activities from the big cities into the highways and byways of the countryside with the advent of good roads and the automobile, can be traced to the politicians who protect them in their balliwicks," Barton declared.

But behind the politicians," he said, "is the apathy of the voters. The citizen of the United States who neglects his duty of taking an active part in the countries of his chosen party, and who fails to exercise his franchise at the polls, is the one to blame." Making a strong plea that Legion members go to the polls during the coming presidential election, Barton said:

"This year we have a presidential election. From the very beginning of The American Legion, this organization has urged an awakening of the voters to their duty. The Legion has no axe to grind, other than love of country. The Legion is non-partisan, it knows no creed, no race, for in its membership roll are the men of all political beliefs, of all religious faiths and no not very race.

But the American Legion is vitally concerned in politics in the general meaning of the term. It does not care which party you support, just so you take an active part in some party. The Legion does not stop there. Of what use is your vote, of what use is your activity in any party, if you do not follow up your vote after the man you elect into office forgets the promises he made to you.

The time has come in this country for its whole citizenry to let public servants we elect into office know that we are watching them, let them know they will be accountable at the polls the next election for their failure if they do fail to uphold the laws they swore to protect. Make the United States of America a government by the people and for the people a fact."

MRS. COTTELLE IS ON AUXILIARY COMMITTEE

Mrs. Sim Cottelle, of this city, has been appointed to serve on the Texas department reception committee for the American Legion Auxiliary to convene in San Antonio October 8 to 12. The appointment was made by Mrs. F. M. Hardin, of Harlingen, general chairman of the Auxiliary convention, who is appointing committees throughout the state to co-operate with the local chairman of committees.

Black Bottom and Charleston Lose Favor With Paris Dancers

(By International News Service) PARIS, Aug. 17.—The little street dances held all over the capital on Bastille Day, in spite of a temperature of 96 in the shade, seem to point to a great falling off in popularity of eccentric steps such as the Black Bottom and Charleston. The forms of dancing this year were on the whole very simple, with a marked return to the waltz and the polka in the popular districts and the tango holding second honors. The brass wind instrument, once so conspicuous, has given way to the accordion and violin or cello. The orchestra of eight or ten players is now reduced to three or four.

An ordinance regulating the use of the streets, sidewalks and curbing in the City of Ballinger, Texas, providing a penalty thereon and carrying an emergency.

Be it ordained by the Board of Commissioners of the city of Ballinger, Texas.

Section No. 1: That from and after the passage and taking effect of this ordinance, in the construction of buildings or altering the same within the city of Ballinger, the following regulations on storage of materials and tools and the use of the streets, sidewalks and curbing shall be observed.

(a) The contractor shall be allowed the use of one-third of the width of the driveway measured from the curb for the storage of his tools and material, for a reasonable time during the actual use of same in the construction or alteration of the building; provided that same shall be immediately removed from the street as soon as the actual period of their use is finished, and provided that materials shall not be assembled more than ten days before the time of contemplated use.

(b) All dirt or other material excavated from the site shall not be placed on the street at any time, but shall be removed from the site as excavated. This provision shall also apply to debris from a building to be removed including brick plaster, old lumber, or any other material out of the building, which will not be removed.

(c) Whenever notified by the Building Inspector, the contractor shall make provision for leaving a passageway for pedestrian traffic, at, or near the sidewalk line, by a covered runway, tunnel or other approved and safe method. This passageway shall be kept open to the public at all times, and shall have a clear width of at least five feet, and headroom of at least seven and one-half feet. Provided this provision shall only apply to business district as now defined or may be hereafter defined by the ordinance of the City of Ballinger.

(d) The gutter shall be kept open at all times for drainage. In case the contractor desires to build tool sheds over the gutter or to pipe material, same may be done by bridging in any manner which will leave free outlet for water.

(e) The provision of these regulations shall not operate to relieve the contractor of his liabilities for damage caused to property but he shall properly guard his work, using whatever lights are necessary at night.

Section No. 2: Any person violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined any sum not exceeding $50.00 and each time any materials are so placed as to constitute a violation hereof shall be deemed a separate offense.

Section No. 3: The fact that there is now no ordinance protecting pedestrians on the sidewalks and streets in the business district of the City of Ballinger where construction work is being done adjacent thereto with the resulting danger to life and limb, creates an emergency for the immediate passage of this ordinance and all rules requiring reading more than one time are hereby expressly suspended and this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval and publication.

Section 3. No permit shall be issued for excavation under sidewalks or streets or for the erection, construction, repairing or alteration over the sidewalks, parkways or streets without a special permit issued by the Board of Commissioners of the City of Ballinger, and any such permit granted without the consent of the Board of Commissioners shall be null and void.

Section 4. If upon examination of the plans and specifications as provided for in section 1 of the Building ordinance passed on the 26th day of June, 1928, the Building Inspector is of the opinion that said building or structure, when completed will be in accordance with the building code, adopted by the Board of Commissioners and the ordinances of the City of Ballinger, he shall issue a written permit authorizing the work to be done in accordance with said plans and specifications. Said permit shall be dated, shall show the character of the structure authorized, describing the location of the premises where the work is to be done, and a record shall be kept by said building inspector, properly indexed by street, lot and block numbers.

Section 9. This ordinance shall be construed as affecting and repealing ordinances heretofore passed by the City of Ballinger, only in so far as the provisions of such ordinances with the provisions of this ordinance shall be in conflict, and the provisions of this ordinance shall be held to be cumulative of any ordinances heretofore passed by the City of Ballinger regulating the construction, alteration, maintenance, removal and repair of buildings within the city of Ballinger, Texas.

Section 10. The fact that there is now no ordinance in effect in the City of Ballinger regulating excavation under sidewalks, parkways or streets, and the further fact that there is now no ordinance regulating the apportionment of fees for services of the Building Inspector, or regulating the building of any structure over a gas service main, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that this ordinance be passed without delay and it is therefore ordered that all rules requiring the reading of an ordinance more than once be and the same are hereby expressly suspended and this ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its first reading, approval and publication.

COMPLETE SKELETON OF ANCIENT HUMAN BROUGHT TO U. OF C

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—What is possibly the first complete skeleton of ancient man to be found in North Africa was brought to this city by Paul Nesbit, twenty-four year old graduate of the University of Chicago. Nesbit has been in North Africa as head of the Logan-Belmonte expedition. The skeleton, found in strata that is dated about 30,000 years ago, will be studied by the university faculty, and is expected to be of great scientific importance in determining questions relating to the origin of man.

Among other discoveries by the expedition is an "escarogotiere." This is a mound 400 feet in length and practically 300 feet wide, varying in depths from five to twelve feet, built entirely of the shells of snails on which prehistoric man lived. In addition to the shells several ostrich eggs were found, some of which were engraved.

Prior to the discovery of the ancient skeleton the expedition worked in the neighborhood of Mehta-El-Arbi, finding several incomplete skeletons.

CONNECTICUT MAY BAN SHIPPING OF RABBITS

(By International News Service)

HARTFORD, Aug. 17.—The Connecticut legislature meeting next January will be asked to vote an embargo on the importation of cotton-tail rabbits from the west. Alarm over the prospect of tularemia, a disease recorded as four percent fatal has led to the proposal for the embargo.

While the state health department was ordering every physician to make a report to the department of any case of the disease observed, the fish and game department sent a general letter to all sportsmen and propagators of game warning them against importing cotton-tail rabbits "regardless of what statements may be made by those who offer such animals for sale."

Workers throughout the state were warned to be on their guard when skimming rabbits or handling rabbit furs, and owners of rabbits were warned to watch their animals carefully and inform the state officials in the event of disease signs becoming apparent.

LONDON HEAT WAVE SUNBURNS MILLIONS

(By International News Service)

LONDON, Aug. 17.—London's teeming millions have become sunburnt, as result of the heat-wave that has swept the country. Many people who usually do not become sunburnt even when exposed to prolonged sunshine, are wondering how it is they have become "browned."

The explanation of the unusual process of sun burning, which is happening even in the center of London, was given by Doctor Albert Edinax, of the National Institute of Medical Research, who declared:

"People are being browned, because of the large quantity of ultra-violet rays penetrating the atmosphere. Not for five years has there been such a host of these rays which are so beneficial to the human body.

"The penetration is greater now than at other times, said Dr. Edinax, "because there is only a thin layer of ozone at a high altitude. Consequently the ultra-

"A number of people are suffering from sores and other skin complaints because they are not accustomed to this large amount of ultra-violet radiation," Dr. Edinax concluded.

Ambulance Chasers Barred In Atlanta by Order of Police

(By International News Service)

ATLANTA, Aug. 17.—Ambulance chasers have been barred from the Atlanta police station on orders of chief of police James L. Beavers.

"The time has come to stop the ambulance chasing lawyer who has been infesting the police station," said Beavers. "A great many of them employ runners to stay in the police station constantly and telephone the nature of every accident.

"These lawyers then hurry to the persons involved, assume an intimate knowledge of the case, assure the person of heavy damages and before the victim knows it, he has hired a questionable attorney."

Beavers withdrew police reports of accidents from public gaze and put them into the keeping of a special secretary.

Population of Agricultural Mexico Studied by Chicago University Men

(By International News Service)
 CHICAGO, Aug. 16.—Fifteen trained field workers from the Department of Geography at the University of Chicago, headed by Professor Robert S. Platt, have left for six weeks of extensive field work in the heart of agricultural Mexico. Their aim is to gather material for a book on "Occupancy Patterns of Population in Relation to the Natural Environments of the Valley of Mexico."

Little scientific work has been done in the human geography of the region around Mexico City. The University of Chicago workers will analyze typical communities in the Teotihuacan district, and make a broad survey of the highland agricultural territory. Leaving the Englewood Union Station tomorrow at 8:45 a. m. they will arrive at Torreon, Mexico, where special facilities have been provided by the Mexican government. They will study the cotton and cattle haciendas there, and proceed to Mexico City, which will be their headquarters for three weeks of reconnaissance in the surrounding districts, particularly Pachuca, Toluca, Guernavaca and Puebla.

The general method will be to assign each worker to a particular portion of the locality being studied to make maps and charts of population distribution, social and economic organization, transportation facilities, exchange of products and related problems. These maps and reports will be fitted together for the general report. According to Professor Platt this method of combining constructive research work with the training of advanced graduate students is new, having been introduced by the University of Chicago geographers two years ago.

From Mexico City the party will proceed to the coffee haciendas and power plant at Orizaba, to the banana and sugar haciendas around Vera Cruz, to San Luis Potosi, Tampico and to Monterey before returning to the United States.

"Though we are particularly interested in the existing conditions in agricultural Mexico, particularly in the typical semi-isolated communities, the historical background of the natives is also important for its contribution to their present status," says Prof. Platt. "A large proportion of the poor class are Indians, whose pre-Columbian culture was equal to that of the better-known Mayas in the lowland district. Their ancient culture, represented in the monuments and pyramids of the central plateau, and their present status as a conquered race have an important bearing on the central problem."

The members of the expedition with the exception of Professor Platt, are graduate students of geography who have had experience in American field work. Eight of them are women. Miss Alice Foster, one of the graduates, and Professor Platt, have already published material on Mexican human geography. Members of the party are now securing lightweight clothes and dark glasses to withstand the sun's rays, compasses, sketching boards, camera and other equipment.
