Favors Advance of Family Life

(By International News Service)
CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa, Aug. 22.—Assuming the role of crusader for the development of American family life, Herbert Hoover, Republican presidential nominee, today dedicated his services as president, if elected, to the improvement of the American home.
"Home is the sanctuary of moral inspiration and of the American spirit," he said.

Rotary-Lions Lunch Today

The Rotary Club and the Lions Club met in joint luncheon at the Central Hotel today at noon to hear a program by the officials and directors of the Rannels County Fair Association. Following a short business meeting by each club, and after the luncheon, President E. E. King of the Fair Association, was presented and in a short address made known the plans for the coming fair October 9th to 13th. Mr. King outlined the plans of the directory with reference to enlarging in every department and with the amusement program. He finished his speech with an appeal to both clubs to assist in putting over the fair.

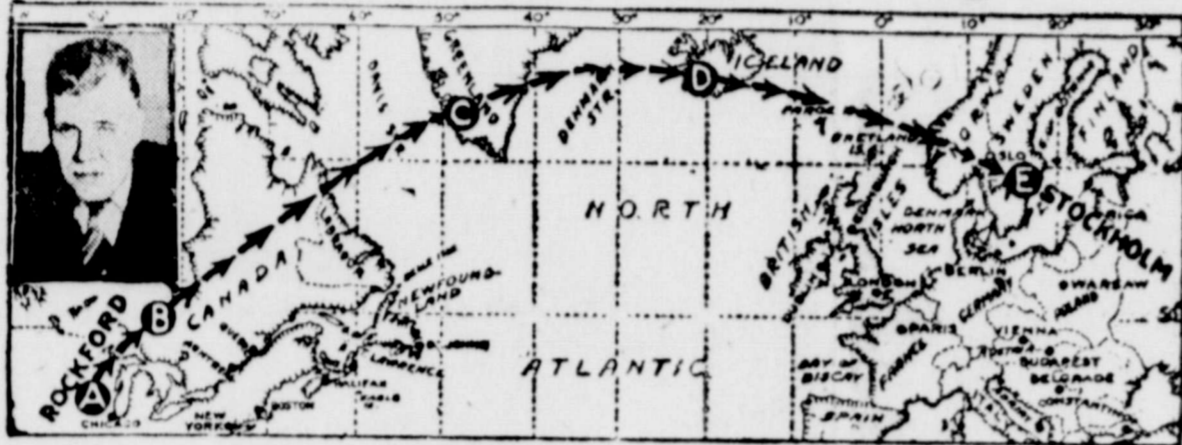

"It takes lots of people working from sun-up to mid-night to take care of the work of putting over a successful fair, and I urge you as citizens who are interested, to come to the management and volunteer your services to work anywhere, rather than have us make a lot of appointments that will never show up," Mr. King stated.

The President next introduced Mr. J. D. Motley, manager of the fair, who in turn introduced the members of the executive committee, the superintendents of the various departments and committee heads. Mrs. Hollingsworth was greeted with applause when introduced and she introduced the ladies who will head the different departments in the women's divisions. C. W. Lehmburg, general chairman of the agricultural department was also greeted with applause when introduced to the gathering.

At the conclusion of the fair officials program, County Judge Paul Trimmier was presented and spoke briefly on the coming road bond election in this district, for the paving of Highways 21 and 30 in Rannels County. Mr. Trimmier stated that as County Judge of Rannels he would not try to influence anyone as to how to vote, but that he was ready to give information regarding the proposed issue and thought that every tax payer in the district should inform themselves on the matter thoroughly.

O. L. Parish also spoke on the issue and urged that an organization be formed to help give accurate information to the voters in an effort to put the issue across so that our highways can be improved and eliminate the danger of ever losing our designations.

Completes First Leg of Flight

Monoplane Greater Rockford successfully completed the first leg of its flight from the Illinois city for which it was named, to Stockholm, Sweden, when it came to earth at Cochrane, Ont., seven hours after the take-off. Map shows the course of projected flight; inset, Bert Hassell, who, with Parker Cramer, is making the trans-oceanic voyage.

Gives Opinion Written Names Will Not Count

In an opinion handed down by Galloway Calhoun, first assistant attorney general, the name of a person written in the ballot in the run-off election will not be counted, according to information received by The Ledger in a telephone call from J. M. Williams of Ciseo, member of R. Q. Lee's campaign organization, late Tuesday afternoon.

A. B. O'Flaherty, secretary of the Eastland County Democratic Executive Committee, communicated with the attorney general's department following recognition of a wide-spread move to write in the name of Thomas L. Blanton in the congressional race of this district, and Tuesday received a statement containing the following opinion:

"Since candidates for the second primary are determined by a process of elimination, in our opinion only votes cast for the two candidates who received the highest number of votes at the first primary for the particular office should be counted. (Signed) Galloway Calhoun, First Assistant Attorney General."

Communist Party Ticket Refused

(By International News Service)
AUSTIN, Aug. 22.—Mrs. Jane Y. McCallum, secretary of state, today refused the application of the worker's communist party of Texas to have names of its nominees for state offices, and also its presidential electors, placed on the official state ballot in the November election.

Mrs. McCallum charged that the party was not organized in accordance with the law.

No Trace Of Lost Airmen

(By International News Service)
MOUNT EVANS, Greenland, Aug. 22.—The fact that another day passed without any news of the missing American aviators, Bert Hassell and Parker D. Cramer, increased fears today that they have been lost somewhere in the North Atlantic between the Canadian and Greenland coasts.

In spite of an intensive search conducted by steamships, radio stations and coastal police, no trace of the missing airmen has been found.

Be wise and advertise.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE

Little interest is being displayed in the run-off election to be held Saturday, and according to a number of statements, many people seem unaware that Saturday is election day.
The problem of selecting representatives from run-off candidates is as important as that of choosing aspirants in the first primary. It is the duty of every voter to designate his preference in coming election.
Vote Saturday!

Six Rotarians Attend Meeting

The Ballinger Rotary Club boasts the second highest attendance at a meeting of presidents, secretaries and chairmen of vocational service committees of the various clubs of this district, held in the Crazy Hotel at Mineral Wells Monday and Tuesday, first place going to Amarillo. Fifty-two of the 56 clubs of the district, which extends from Amarillo as far east as Waxahatchie, were represented. The two-day meeting was devoted to a school of instruction for the clubs of the district an outline of the program of Rotary International for the ensuing year. Instruction sessions opened at 9 o'clock and continued until 4, with entertainment sessions held at night.

The governor's banquet was held Monday night. Rue P. Parnell, of Amarillo, is district governor. The Amarillo representation was augmented by the Rotary orchestra of that club, hence her attendance was the largest.

Instruction courses were under the supervision of twelve Rotary experts.

The local delegation was composed of H. C. Lyon, president; and Sam Behringer, Roy Reeder, R. L. Harwell, E. E. King and Cicero Smith.

Norris Would Debate Al Smith

(By International News Service)
FORT WORTH, Aug. 22.—The record of John Henry Kirby, finance director in Texas for the Democratic National Committee, for loyalty to the democratic party recently was attacked by Rev. J. Frank Norris, fiery pastor of the First Baptist church here. Rev. Mr. Norris accused the Houston man of having bolted the Democratic ticket in 1920. He charged Kirby with having supported Warren G. Harding for president.

The pastor also invited the New York governor and Democratic standard bearer, Alfred Smith, to come to Fort Worth and discuss the prohibition, religious and other national issues with him from the pulpit of the First Baptist church. The Norris congregation is one of the largest in the South and has a membership of more than 10,000. In his letter to Smith, Norris stated that Texas is certain to go for Hoover because of the position that Smith has taken on the liquor question and because of his religious belief.

An invitation also was mailed to Joseph T. Robinson, vice presidential nominee, to come to Fort Worth from his Arkansas home to discuss the national issues. Norris expressed it as his wish to divide time with Robinson as well as with Smith.

In his letter to Smith, Norris expressed it as his wish to discuss the questions in any other city that may be selected by Smith.

(By International News Service)
ALBANY, Aug. 22.—Legions of Democracy assembled here today in gala spirit from the four corners of the nation to confer the laurels of party leadership upon the "happy warrior" Al Smith.

The stage is set for notification ceremonies and the acceptance speech tonight.

NEW YORK, Aug. 22.—The acceptance speech of Governor Al Smith will start tonight at 7:30 o'clock (Eastern daylight saving time), and will be broadcast over a radio hook-up with ninety stations. Ceremonies start at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. N. B. Singletary is visiting in Coleman this week.

Members Toombs' Firm Subpoenaed

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, Aug. 22.—Subpoenas were issued here today for all directors of the brokerage firm of Toombs and Dailey, involved in voluntary bankruptcy proceedings.

The subpoenas include Dr. Henry Morgenthorn, advisor of Roy C. Toombs, head of the International Life Insurance Company of St. Louis.

Five Persons Electrocuted By Power Wire

(By International News Service)
PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 22.—Electrocuted by a grounded power wire of high voltage, five persons, four of them members of one family, are dead here today.

The tragedy occurred shortly after midnight, when Richard Miller, walking across the lawn of his home, stumbled upon the line. His cries for help attracted the attention of his wife, and their son, Eugene, 8, who became entangled in the wire and also killed.

Another son, Wesley, and a neighbor, Carl Meek, both were killed by the 2300 volt wire.

For the purpose of arousing interest in, and explaining details of, the proposed road bond issue, to be voted upon September 1st, a rally and speaking will be held on the courthouse lawn here Friday night, August 24th. Speaking is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock, with Judge W. E. Ely, of Abilene, state highway commissioner, delivering the principal address.

Preceding Judge Ely, County Judge Paul Trimmier will make a statement concerning the increased tax rate the bond issue will require. Judge Trimmier will also make an explanation of the good roads situation as pertaining to this county, and will furnish other information in which the tax payers of the road district are interested.

In a statement made Wednesday morning for publication by Judge Trimmier, he said that it was thought until the last few days that the location of the road from Ballinger to the Coleman county line was definitely placed as north of the Santa Fe line, but a casual survey by state highway engineers and the federal engineer last Friday has left that matter in an uncertain condition, and in such a condition that the designation will not be definitely made until an actual detailed survey is completed. This survey will be made at an early date, provided the bond issue carries, it is assured by highway engineers.

It is the view of both the commissioners court and Judge Ely, that the road should run north of the Santa Fe railroad, but the views of the federal department will have to be taken into consideration, Judge Trimmier said, and the location approved finally by the federal department.

The commissioners court entertains the belief that if the bond issue is voted, there is a good chance that the federal department may be induced to accept the views of the court and Judge Ely.

Tax paying voters are urged to be present to hear what Judge Ely has to say concerning the project. Both Judge Ely and Judge Trimmier will be glad to answer any questions that anyone might desire to ask.

Judge Ely, accompanied by Judge Trimmier, will speak in Miles Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A number of local business men will make the trip to Miles for the good road meeting.

Advisory Body Of Boy Scouts Is Organized

An advisory council for Boy Scout organizations in this immediate district was formed at a meeting of representatives of the various civic clubs and churches of the city in the Chamber of Commerce hall Wednesday morning under direction of John Campbell, of Dallas, regional scout executive for the territory composed of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico. Executive Campbell was accompanied by E. F. Shumway, scout executive of the Christolm Trail Area, which embraces seven Central West Texas counties.

In presenting the plan of scouting, Executive Campbell explained that the advisory group would function with the various troop committees that might be formed in Ballinger or in surrounding towns, which will be under the supervision of the local organization. The advisory council is a contact organization standing between the actual troop organizations and official headquarters, he pointed out.

H. C. Lyon, superintendent of city schools and president of the Rotary Club, followed Mr. Campbell, and in an impressive talk firmly endorsed the scout movement, and expressed hearty approval of the plan submitted. J. D. Motley, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, forcefully endorsed the proposal, and added that he could see no reason why Ballinger should not support an active Boy Scout program.

The advisory council, which will meet at an early date, is comprised of the following members: Louis Cohen, chairman; H. C. Lyon, Rev. R. B. Hooper, Rev. E. W. McLaurin, A. L. Brady, A. R. Jones, Cicero Smith, and C. H. Dobbs.

A scout leaders' training course will be held here in the early future, Executive Campbell stated. The regional organizations will co-operate with the local bodies in making the scout move most successful, he said.

Impression Of Runnels Delegates On A. & M. College Short Course

The things that impressed me most was the kind hospitality we received from the Extension Service Staff. They tried to help every delegate at the short course achieve more for her home, her club, her community, her county and her state.

Mrs. Owen Aycock,
Spring Hill

I can't begin to tell what interested me most. I loved to listen to the lectures every day because they were all very interesting. I especially enjoyed the demonstrations on dainty foods. (Some how I never did get a bite. I would always go by looking just as hungry as I could, but that never seemed to do any good.)

I liked all the places of entertainment. I was always happy when meal time came. You could see boys, girls, men and women coming from every direction.

If all the girls would just 'yess up they would say one of the most interesting objects while there was the boys.

The most beautiful thing to me was at night. All the dormitories lighted, every one eating, drinking and talking. And always you could hear the chaperone's whistle.

From my window I could see the top of the Administration Building, which made a very beautiful picture. I do not have the words to describe it.

I loved to go swimming. One day I made a mistake and went at the wrong time, but when told, it didn't take me long to get back to my room.

I certainly couldn't have had a better time anywhere than I had while at the short course.

Everything interested me. I am going again next year if I can.

Iwilda Allen
Wingate.

I certainly did enjoy the week I spent at College Station. I also enjoyed most of the lectures. I learned many good and helpful things from them. This trip was very educational for many reasons. It brought together boys and girls from all over the state of Texas. It even made boys and girls from the same county friends. It also showed each county what the others were doing. I enjoyed this trip so much that

I intend to go back next year if possible.

LaNelle Richardson
Bethel.

I enjoyed myself very much while at College Station. I enjoyed the many lectures on the various subjects, especially 'salads' and 'The Charm School.' I think they must have been very beneficial to all who heard them.

Another thing I enjoyed was the museum, which contained mummies, skeletons and mounted animals.

The short course brought boys and girls in closer contact with each other.

The short course will help me, (as well as other club members) to do better club work in the year of 1929.

Isabell Richardson
Bethel

Iwilda: "Oh, Mrs. Hollingsworth, how pretty our badges are! Where did they come from anyway? They surely are attractive."

Mrs. Hollingsworth: "Yes, they are pretty and attractive too. The Ballinger Ledger presented us with these badges."

Iwilda, Wilma and Ima Mae: "We are from Runnels County and we are coming back too. Hurrah for the Ballinger Ledger and Runnels County."

MOVIES

Milton Sills Lauds He-Man

Drama at Palace Theatre "He-man" or elemental drama, is what screen fans most favor, declares Milton Sills, who has become one of the screen's foremost stars within the past two years because he has devoted himself exclusively to this type of motion picture.

Appearing in virile characterizations with out-of-door backgrounds, Sills has developed a tremendous following.

And Sills modestly disclaims credit for this, declaring the type of picture in which he has been starred is largely responsible.

His role in "Burning Daylight" the First National picture to be the Palace Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, is an excellent example of the sort of story Sills believes the most easily adaptable to pictures.

With its locale in Alaska during the hectic days of the gold rush, the action of the story is essentially pictorial, and the camera has caught many scenes of the frozen plains and the struggle of humans with the primitive elements more innately dramatic than any clash of gentler souls in cities.

Inasmuch as the screen at its best is pure action and pantomime, Sills believes more pictures of this type should be made. "Burning Daylight" is a picturization of Jack London's thrilling novel of the same name.

Movietone Perfected After Nineteen Years of Research

Because a Yale student became convinced nineteen years ago that sound could be photographed the world can now hear the cheering at a football game while seeing it on the screen, can listen to the sounds of a national political convention and can watch George Bernard Shaw as he delivers a speech.

The student was Theodore Case. He conducted a series of experiments and joined forces with Earl I. Sponable. The latter invented the AEO light bulb which records all the sounds near a camera with little flashes which make marks on the side of the film.

A little over two years ago Mr. Case and Mr. Sponable placed their project before William Fox. He saw the possibilities immediately and financed further experiments. Movietone is the result.

Production work began in New York in April 1926, in the studios of the Fox-Case Corporation. One of the first subjects was Raquel Meller, the Spanish danseuse, with her songs. This was an instantaneous hit when shown January 21, 1927, in connection with a special showing of "What Price Glory."

On May 25 of the same year the first complete Movietone program was shown in connection with the New York showing of "7th Heaven." The sight and sound pictures included Lindbergh's take-off in his New York to Paris flight and the drilling of the West Point cadets. The following September, at the opening of "Sunrise" Mussolini spoke in Italian and English on the films the Vatican choir was heard and other interesting subjects were introduced.

In the meantime sound stages were constructed so rapidly at the West Coast Fox Studios that the company was able to announce that twenty-two of the fifty-two releases on the 1928-29 program would have sound accompaniments.

Theatres throughout the country are being equipped with sound production devices and it is estimated 1,000 of them will be ready by September.

450 Attend Utilities Company Meet Here

Eclipsing all previous similar meetings in Ballinger, in attendance, the public relations meeting held here by the West Texas Utilities Company, Tuesday evening drew a crowd of approximately 450 people. Following a one-hour business meeting, an interesting variety program was given and a delicious barbecue supper was served.

The entertainment program, arranged by women of the Utilities company, was presented on a special stage erected in the ice station park, which was mellowly illuminated with orange shaded lights, string lantern style over the area. J. D. Motley was master of ceremonies during the entertainment features.

The business meeting opened at 7:30 o'clock, and was concluded an hour later. The first speaker was Gerald Swan, chief engineer of the Coleman ice plant, who talked on "How Ice is Made." He gave a lucid, untechnical explanation of ice manufacturing processes, which information was eagerly grasped by those unfamiliar with the method of making ice.

Chester Cherry, distribution superintendent of this district, was the next on the program, and spoke on "Work Orders," pointing out what work orders are, why they are used, and how they are handled. He was followed by Bob Galbreath, local storekeeper, who talked on "Materials and Their Value."

George Fry, president of the West Texas Utilities Company, of Abilene, lectured on "Work Orders," following up the theme touched on by Mr. Cherry. T. W. Campbell, traffic manager of the organization for this district gave a discussion of why public relation and safety meetings are held.

Judge A. K. Doss and Louis Cohen appeared on the program of the business meeting, the former talked on co-operation and the latter on what the company has done for Ballinger.

The women associated with the company held a meeting during the business meeting of the men, and the following program was followed: Paper on "Better Lighting" Miss Marie Blawitt; violin solo, Miss Joe Demmer, accompanied by Miss Mae Dunlap, reading Martha Lee Wilson; paper, "Washing Machines," Mrs. W. A. Green; demonstration of electric ironer, Miss McMillian of the Federal Electric Company, and dialogue, Martha Lee Wilson and Mary Sue Witt.
