Boll Worms Increase At An Alarming Rate

Boll worms are beginning to prove a source of grave concern for farmers over the entire county, practically every cotton field being reported infested to some degree. While the infestation is general over the county, it is probably more serious in the northern portion of the county.

The pests began increasing at an alarming rate during the frequent rains, when the plants that had hitherto been stunted underwent super-normal growth. Rank cotton with heavy foliage, together with moist, cool weather, created conditions for most rapid breeding of the pests.

Poisoning is not as effective because of heavy foliage, but nevertheless some results are to be obtained, C. W. Lehmburg, county agent, declared. He is advising poison applications, and is assisting farmers of the county in preparing for a vigorous poisoning campaign.

The recent warm weather has been favorable for combating the worm epidemic, Mr. Lehmburg stated. With a continuation of dry, warm weather for several days, the pests can be got under control, he believes.

While destruction is noted particularly in young forms, matured bolls are being attacked, it is said.

4 Boy Bandits Rob Paymaster

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Four boy bandits swooped down upon the garage of the Surface Transportation Company in the Bronx today and held up the paymaster, escaping with $18,000.

Pursued by employees of the garage as they dashed away, the youthful bandits opened fire on their trailers, striking one man in his right leg and riddling a pursuing car.

The injured man is married. His wife was summoned from Miles immediately after he was brought to the sanitarium.

Truck Driver Painfully Injured In Collision With Touring Car

Grad Carson, 25, of Miles, a truck driver, sustained a fractured right hip and possibly internal injuries when his gravel truck collided with a large touring car at the intersection of the River and Paint Rock roads on the Ballinger-San Angelo highway about a mile southwest of the city, at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Carson, thrown clear of his truck, landed in the center of the road, and was unable to move. A Higginbotham Bros. & Co. ambulance was rushed to the scene of the accident, and the injured man was brought immediately to the Halley & Love sanitarium, where he is being treated.

The accident occurred as the truck driven by Carson was turning into the main highway from the River road and a large touring car driven by L. B. Herring, of Coleman, en route to San Angelo, collided. A dense hedge growth obstructed the view of both drivers until they were directly at the point of intersection of the two roads. According to witnesses, Carson attempted to cross the road in front of the touring car, to leave ample space for its clearance, and Herring likewise endeavored to swerve in the same direction in an effort to leave the truck in a clear path. The front of the truck and a side of the touring car crashed, the impact pushing the touring car into the Paint Rock road and heading the truck in the opposite direction to which it was traveling. The front portion of the truck was wrecked, and a side of the touring car was crushed.

Herring suffered a minor bruise on the ankle, and Fred Henderson, also of Coleman, who was accompanying him, said that the violent jar caused shooting pains in his head.

Carson is in the employ of the Ryan Construction Company, road builders who have a contract for the San Angelo highway from the Rannels county line. A corps of trucks is conveying gravel from the Colorado River to the railroad here, to be hauled by rail to the road under construction.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Having definitely thrust prohibition to the front in the presidential campaign by demanding a drastic change in the Eighteenth Amendment, as well as modification of the Volstead law, Governor Alfred E. Smith, Democratic presidential nominee, today awaited the country's reaction to his acceptance speech delivered last night.

Confident that the South will remain Democratic, the governor said that he feels that by taking a stand against prohibition he has a good chance of carrying a sufficient number of normally Republican states to insure his election.

AUSTIN, Aug. 23.—State officials and others highly praised Governor Al Smith's acceptance speech here today.

Albert Sidney Burleson, former postmaster general, said "It was courageously Democratic."

Wharton county has just voted a $500,000 bond issue, to be used in highway construction in that county. Wharton county has a total assessed valuation of approximately sixteen and a quarter million dollars, as compared with Runnels with slightly less than twelve million. On the other hand, Wharton county has a bonded indebtedness of $1,077,475, while Runnels County has indebtedness of only $68,500.

It has been said that a county without an efficient good roads system is like an automobile without a motor. The comparison is elucidated by pointing out that a car will not run without the motor to propel it, and likewise a county will not run—advance—without a thorough road system. Good road work has been accelerated in Texas at almost a phenomenal rate within the past few years, and the time when prompt action by counties is essential is at hand.

One discouraging fact that will succeed the failure of the bond issue to carry, provided it should be defeated, is the glaring probability that the county will lose its road designation, as far as the federal department is concerned, for all time. While this is solely a probability, the certainty of such a state of affairs is defeated in killing the probability by carrying the bond election.

Ford touring car driven by Bill Jackson huddled over the sidewalk near the American Cafe on Eighth street and brushed down a lamp post Wednesday afternoon. The driver escaped without injury, and the automobile was not damaged.

Jackson could not find his brake in time to check the car before it had climbed over the curb, he said.

South Polar Natives To Hear American Jazz

Richard W. Konter, member of the crew of Lieutenant Richard Byrd's proposed South Pole expedition, intends to take his ukulele and collection of mammy songs to while away the frozen nights. "I was with Byrd at the North Pole, and the natives all wanted to know about mammy songs," explains Konter, "so this time I am learning 'That's My Mammy.' It seems to me the most typical of the present 'mammy' output. The natives love to hear of our warm South with its lazy, easy ways, and good things to eat."

Mayor Experiences Ordeal Of Assessing Fine Against Self

Dr. S. B. Raby, mayor, can not rightfully be accused of patronage in the slightest measure, in as far as his administration of city affairs is concerned. The mayor has gone through the ordeal of assessing a fine against himself, for violation of the recently enacted traffic code.

Albeit, there are mitigating circumstances. Mayor Raby paid a $2 fine for overparking, and v. s. innocent of the fact that the car he left in front of the city hall remained there in excess of two hours.

Mayor Raby explained that after using the city car, he parked it in front of the city hall, presuming that some official would remove it. On the other hand, officials declared that it was in his keeping, at the time, therefore they refrained from engaging its use. When two brief hours had passed, Chief of Police McCall duly labeled the vehicle, summoning the driver to appear in municipal court.

With mechanical precision, Mayor Raby assessed his penalty at $2, without argument. It was intimated that perhaps he is so hardened through meting out penalties that it was mere repetition of practice.

Only three other fines for traffic ordinance violations have been assessed since Tuesday. The offenders were E. Jackson, Henry Jones and J. V. Pearce. Each was assessed a fine of $2, charged with over parking.

ADVENTURES IN THE KITCHEN!

I wish you could have come out last time, Jane," said Nancy, as they drove to the home of a Kitchen Club member. "We worked out the most adorable color scheme for Mrs. Collins' kitchen. That's the place we are going this afternoon, to see how she's finished it up, and to get some new recipes. There's an inside story to her kitchen which will explain some of the things you see there."

Mr. and Mrs. Collins have just recently married. He was a widower with the worst little boy you ever saw. Mrs. Collins is one of those motherly souls who can't let anything go hungry. Stray cat, tramp or whatever it is, it gets fed if it goes to her. She hasn't said anything about it. But we all think that her real reason for fixing up her kitchen is to get hold of that boy. Her theory seems to be that if she can make him comfortable and feed him properly, he won't be such a problem.

LEAVES FROM NANCY'S KITCHEN CLUB NOTEBOOK

Mrs. Collins' kitchen is really beautiful! She has tinted the walls a delicate gray, woodwork white. Black and white tiled linoleum on the floor. Refrigerator and table, white. Kitchen cabinet, delicate gray. Sink and oil range in white porcelain enamel. White Swiss sash curtains with red dots! Coffee, sugar, flour, salt and other containers lacquered red. There's a red geranium in the window that completes the color scheme. It worked out beautifully!

Mrs. Collins has the prettiest oil range I ever saw. It is all white porcelain enamel, with a design and burner arrangement like a modern gas range. She says she uses simply a damp cloth to clean it. I want a range like it!

Red Containers

These were all home-made, Mrs. Collins says. She took old coffee cans, lard cans, etc., and lacquered them herself. The lacquer dried almost at once, but she aired the cans before using them.

Blackboard on Wall

This was put in especially for the boy, so that Mrs. Collins could help him get his lessons. She has it on a corner wall, with a good light near it and a table. Now he can have doughnuts with his fractions! Mrs. Collins uses the board, too, to make notes of groceries she needs to order.

Fruit Mousse

Large can fruit salad. Pint of cream. 2/3 cups of sugar. 1 teaspoon vanilla. Beat egg whites and then fruit. Add sugar, cream and vanilla. Pack in freezer and keep for two to three hours. Let stand for about 15 minutes; but if served in 1/2 hour use less sugar. The fruit mousse is served with the "Crisps" described below.

"Crisps"

2 eggs. 1/2 cup sugar. 1/2 cup flour. 1/2 cup milk. 1/2 cup oil. 1/2 cup cinnamon. Powdered sugar. Beat eggs thoroughly. Add flour sifted with sugar. Beat thin as paper. Cut out with large saucer. Fry delicate brown in deep, boiling hot fat. Drain on paper or cloth. Sift powdered sugar and cinnamon or nutmeg over each crisp.

Mrs. Collins' cooking vessels look like snow. She says the outside of them doesn't get dirty since she has a long-chimney oil stove. She uses a long-handled wire cloth mop on the inside of the vessels.

New Fruit Drink

Take the juice from a can of fruit salad, or from a can of pears, peaches, apricots, pineapple or cherries. Mix with juice of two lemons and two oranges. Four cups water. Sugar to taste. Serve in glasses with sprig of mint.

Mrs. Collins says the boy often comes in with hands so badly chapped she can hardly get them clean. She puts a handful of meal, with soap shavings, into a pan of warm water. After he soaks his hands in that for awhile, they come out clean and with the skin much soothed.

DIGS WATER WELL; GETS AN OIL WELL

(By International News Service) TYLER, Aug. 23.—W. H. Boynton, a farmer in the Mount Sylvan neighborhood, twelve miles northwest of here, boasts of a combination oil and water well which he drilled in his yard last week.

When he had reached an approximate depth of forty feet, both oil and water began to flow. Thinking it was surface oil, and that it would clear up, Mr. Boynton let the flow continue for a few days, but when he bailed it out Saturday, the double flow continued. He finally tried to ease the oil off with cement, but to no avail. Monday, he began piping the oil an straining it from the water and also to utilize it in his farming operations. The oil has a high gravity test. It is thought to be a freak well. However, it is causing considerable comment around here.

Cat Invades Brewery, Spoils 7,000 Gallons of New Beer

(By International News Service) BIRMINGHAM, Eug., Aug. 23.—The curiosity of a stray cat led to 7,000 gallons of beer being wasted at Alton, a Birmingham suburb.

In the interest of public health the brewery company were forced to run off the contents of the vat down the waste pipes. Representatives of the Excise Department were present in order that duty already paid on the alcohol might be reclaimed.

BYRD EXPEDITION TO BE WELL FED ON POLAR TRIP

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Home cooking is assured members of the South Polar expedition under Commander Byrd, for the two years they are expected to be away on their exploration trip in the Antarctic. That the appetites of the sixty men in the expedition may be appeased immense quantities of food will be taken aboard the vessels making the voyage.
Sidney Greason, has been named chief steward and George Tennant, chief cook. Both have had long experience in providing meals for men in varied climates and conditions.
Tennant is a veteran of Byrd's successful expedition to the North Pole. In addition to that he has been cook on expeditions in the wilds of Africa, the Sahara Desert, South America, the Majave Desert in California and on the "Hell" ship that runs from San Francisco and the salmon canneries of Alaska. This has given him ample opportunity to learn the wants and needs of men under trying experiences and under almost all conditions.
There will be 1,200 items of food in the larder of the expedition which will cost about $150,000. The assembling and transport of this immense amount of food is a difficult problem in itself owing to the different climates that will be encountered from the tropical heat of the equator to the sub-zero weather of the Pole.
Cans containing food must be shellacked as a protection against unfavorable weather conditions. Dehydrated vegetables will be taken, as a means of conserving space aboard the vessels. Variety also will be the spice of life in reality on the trip.
The supply will include: 30 tons of meat, chicken, turkey and beef, three tons of smoked hams, two tons of bacon; sixty tons of groceries, 2,000 pounds of cocoa; 3,000 pounds of powdered milk; 100 cases of sweetened condensed milk; a ton of sugar, a ton of salt, two tons of coffee and two tons of flour.
Canned fruits also will make up a large part of the cargo as well as fresh vegetables. There also will be about 1,000 pounds of flavored gelatin to be used in providing desserts and salads.

LAKE CITY, Colo., Aug. 23.—Five men, victims of hideous cannibalism during the winter of 1873-34, were honored here recently when the Ladies Union Aid Society of this city sponsored the unveiling of a monument at the head of their graves.
A party of 21 men was organized in Salt Lake to start on a prospecting tour into the mountains of Colorado. When they reached a point where Montrose now stands, they met Chief Ouray, who warned them that snow had been heavy in the mountains and that all game had made its way to the lowlands. Six men refused to heed this warning and headed for Dead Man's Gulch, near here.
The next spring, Alfred Paeker, one of the six, appeared in civilization, but nothing was seen of the other five. Officers, acting on the theory that Paeker might have murdered and eaten the other men, arrested him and after much grilling obtained a confession.
Paeker was convicted and sentenced to hang for the crime, but obtained a new trial, during which he was sentenced to 50 years in the penitentiary.

Lady Heath is First Professional Air Pilot

(By International News Service)
LONDON, Aug. 23.—By flying a large passenger airplane from Amsterdam to London, Lady Heath, noted British airwoman, has gained the distinction of being Europe's first woman professional air pilot.
Lady Heath, who as Mrs. Elliott-Lynn, accomplished many long-distance flights, is shortly attempting a 20,000 mile flight in a large plane, and for this reason desired to handle the controls of one of the regular air liners.
Fifteen passengers, including eleven women, expressed their admiration of her flying skill, when the plane landed at the Croyden air station here.

SMITH SPEECH IS PROGRESSIVE, HUMAN, STAND

Democratic Nominee Pledges Self to Administration for Benefit of All the People.

AGRICULTURAL PROBLEM TO GET PROMPT ACTION

Will Enforce Dry Law, Stamp Out Corruption and Recommend Changes to Congress—Promises Honest Tariff.

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Before an immense throng which gathered to hear his first pronouncement on the issues of the Presidential campaign, Governor Alfred E. Smith accepted the Democratic nomination for President here tonight in an address which was as progressive in character as it was courageous in its terms.

Governor Smith pledged himself and his party to the restoration of honesty in government; to the promotion of a real prosperity for the whole people through actual rather than fancied economies and reorganization of sound government and the enactment of sound tariff legislation; to the establishment of a foreign policy opposed to unwarranted intervention in Latin American countries and for the outlawry of war; and to the stamping out of corruption in prohibition enforcement.

The Democratic candidate placed himself squarely on record for farm relief and promised to call together the best informed minds among farmers, business men and economists immediately following the election to devise a practicable plan for the control of surplus crops for submission to Congress at the beginning of his administration.

"Upon the steps of this Capitol where twenty-five years ago I first came into the service of the state, I receive my party's summons to lead it in the nation," said Governor Smith in accepting his party's call. "Within this building I learned the principles, the purposes and the functions of government and to know that the greatest privilege that can come to any man is to give himself to a nation which has reared him and raised him from obscurity to be a contender for the highest office in the gift of its people."

"With a spirituality too strong for words and with humble reliance upon the aid of Divine Providence, I accept your summons to a wider field of activity."

He sounded the keynote of his own life address when he said:

Constructive Government

"Government should be constructive, not destructive; progressive, not reactionary."

"I am entirely unwilling to accept the old order of things as the best unless and until I become convinced that it cannot be made better," he continued.

"It is our new world theory that government exists for the people as against the old world conception that the people exist for the government," he said.

The candidate reaffirmed his belief in the soundness of "deliberate action of an informed electorate." He referred to the public issues he carried to the voters in New York State and added:

"That direct contact with the people I propose to continue in this campaign and, if I am elected, in the conduct of the nation's affairs."

He said he would strive to make the nation's policy a reflection of the nation's ideals, Cleveland's phrase.

"Public office is a public trust," now takes on new meaning, he said.

"The Republican party today stands responsible for the widespread dishonesty that has honeycombed its administration," Governor Smith asserted. "The Governor attacked the claim of Republican prosperity."

"The Republican party builds its case upon a myth," he said.

Four million men out of work, whole industries prostrate and widespread business discontent do not spell prosperity, he continued.

"Prosperity to the extent that we have it is unduly concentrated and has not equitably touched the lives of the farmer, the wage-earner and the individual business man," said Governor Smith.

Republican leaders have tried to divert attention from the real situation by a propaganda of governmental economy, he asserted.

The Republican party promised reorganization of the government, he said, yet after seven years the structure is worse than it was in 1921.

Governor Smith pointed to the increase in federal appropriations, against which, he said, the official spokesman answers only, "We have given an economical administration."

"I assert that there is no proof," Governor Smith declared.

After giving a summary of the government finances, he pointed out that as against the claim of tax reductions there were actually $24,000,000 more federal taxes collected last year than in the first year of the Coolidge Administration.

It is not economy to refuse to make necessary expenditures to provide facilities for the transaction of government business, he said, pointing out that scarcely a city in the country has adequate quarters for federal business at the present time.

Anticipating Republican misrepresentation of the Democratic party's position on the tariff, Governor Smith declared:

No Business Upheaval

"The Democratic party does not and under my leadership will not advocate any sudden or drastic revolution in our economic system which would cause business upheaval or popular distress."

"The Democratic party stands squarely for the maintenance of legitimate business and a high standard of wages for American labor."

"Pay no attention to the Republican propaganda and accept my assurance as the leader of our party that Democratic tariff legislation will be honest," he declared. "It will play no favorites. It will do justice to every element in the nation."

He said foreign policy has its roots in the approval of the majority of the people and that he regarded it as a paramount duty to keep alive the interest of the people in questions of foreign policy and to advise the electorate as to facts. He promised to stress the necessity for restoration of cordial relations with Latin America.

The Republican administration has signally failed in its endeavor to remove the causes of war, he continued. "I pledge myself to a resumption of a real endeavor to make the outlawry of war effective by removing its causes and to substitute the methods of conciliation, conference, arbitration, and judicial determination," he declared.

The President has two duties with respect to the prohibition question, he said.

"The first is embodied in his oath of office," he went on. "If with one hand on the Bible and the other hand reaching up to Heaven, I promise the people of this country that I will faithfully execute the office of President of the United States and to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States, you may be sure that I shall live up to that oath to the last degree."

"I shall to the very limit execute the pledge of our platform to make an honest endeavor to enforce the 18th amendment and all other provisions of the Federal Constitution and all laws enacted pursuant thereto."

The Governor promised "ruthlessly to stamp out" the present corruption in prohibition enforcement.

"Such conditions cannot and will not exist under any administration presided over by me," he asserted.

Continuing, he said: "The second constitutional duty imposed upon the President is to recommend to the Congress such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient."

"I shall advise the Congress in accordance with my constitutional duty of whatever changes I deem necessary or expedient." It will then be for the people and the representatives in the national and state legislatures to determine whether these changes shall be made.

"I believe in temperance," he continued. "We have not achieved temperance under the present system. The mothers and fathers of young men and women throughout this land know the anxiety and worry which has been brought to them by their children's use of liquor in a way which was unknown before prohibition. I believe in reverence for law. Today disregard of the prohibition laws is indignantly sapping respect for all law. I raise, therefore, what I profoundly believe to be a great moral issue involving the righteousness of our national conduct and the protection of our children's morals."

The remedy is to be found in the fearless application of Jeffersonian principles, he continued, to allow for different habits and customs of different parts of the country.

"Some immediate relief would come from an amendment to the Volstead law giving a scientific definition of the alcoholic content of an intoxicating beverage," he said. "The present definition is admittedly inaccurate and unscientific. Each state would then be allowed to fix its own standard of alcoholic content, subject always to the proviso that that standard could not exceed the maximum fixed by the Congress."

"I believe, moreover, that there should be submitted to the people the question of some change in the provisions of the 18th amendment. Certainly, no one foresees when the amendment was ratified the conditions which exist today of bootlegging, corruption and open violation of the law in all parts of the country. The people themselves should, after this eight years of trial, be permitted to say whether existing conditions should be rectified. I personally believe in an amendment to the 18th amendment which would give to each individual state itself only after approval by a referendum popular vote of its people the right wholly within its borders to import, manufacture or cause to be manufactured and sell alcoholic beverages, the sale to be made only by the state itself and not for consumption in any public place."

"Our Canadian neighbors," he said, "have gone far in this manner to solve this problem by the method of sale made by the state itself and not by private individuals."

Saloon Won't Return

"There is no question here of the return of the saloon. When I stated that the saloon is and ought to be a defunct institution in this country I meant it, I mean it today. I will never advocate or approve any law which directly or indirectly permits the return of the saloon."

"This country cannot be a healthy, strong, economic body if one of its members, so fundamentally important as agriculture, is sick almost to the point of economic death," said Governor Smith, taking up the subject of farm relief.

The Republican administration has made many promises of legislation to aid the farmer, but has kept none of them, he continued.

"The tariff is ineffective on commodities of which there is exportable surplus without controlled sale of the surplus," said Governor Smith. "Our platform points the way to make the tariff effective for crops of which we produce a surplus."

"Co-operative, co-ordinated marketing and warehousing of surplus farm products is essential just as co-ordinated, co-operative control of the flow of capital was found necessary to the regulation of our country's finances."

"Our platform declares for the development of co-operative marketing and an earnest endeavor to solve the problem of the distribution of the cost of dealing with crop surpluses over the marketed unit of the crop whose producers are benefited by such assistance. Only the mechanics remain to be devised. I propose to substitute action for inaction and friendliness for hostility. In my administration of the government of my state, whenever I was confronted with a problem of this character, I called into conference those best equipped on the particular subject in hand. I shall follow that course with regard to agriculture. Farmers and farm leaders with such constructive aid as will come from sound economists and fair-minded leaders of finance and business must work out the details. There are varying plans for the attainment of the end which is to be accomplished. Such plans should be subjected at once to searching, able and fair-minded analysis, because the interests of all require that the solution shall be economically sound."

Will Call Conference

Governor Smith then promised to summon an agricultural conference to work out the solution, saying: "If I am elected, I shall immediately after election ask leaders of the type I have named, irrespective of party, to enter upon this task. I shall join with them in the discharge of their duties during the coming winter and present to Congress immediately upon its convening the solution recommended by the body of men best fitted to render this signal service to the nation. I shall support the activities of this body until a satisfactory law is placed upon the statute books."

On the subject of transportation Governor Smith said he believed in encouraging the construction and use of modern highways to carry the short haul of small bulk commodities and to aid in marketing farm products.

Also of great importance, he said, is the development of transportation by our waterways, which are still in a highly undeveloped state.

Linked with waterways development is the control of floods, the governor said. He declared that the two Republican administrations had waited for the Mississippi flood of last year instead of taking leadership in this important work.

"The money actually appropriated for flood relief is too small to make even a start," Governor Smith asserted. "Too much time has been spent in squabbling over who shall pay the bill."

Governor Smith pledged himself "to a progressive, liberal conservation policy based upon the same principles to which I have given my support in the State of New York," and to fight against selfish aggression "whenever it appears and irrespective of whom it may involve."

"The sources of water power must remain forever under public ownership and control," he said.

Benefits growing from the development of water power as an incident to the regulation of the Colorado River should be "equitably distributed among the states having right of ownership," Governor Smith declared.

It would be the policy of his administration to develop a method of operation for Muscle Shoals which would reclaim for the government some fair revenue from the enormous expenditure already made, he said.

Red tape and autocratic bureaucracy should be brushed aside in caring for veterans in distress, Governor Smith said. Likewise, he said he would continue his sympathetic interest in the advancement of progressive legislation for working men and women, the proper care of maternity, infancy and childhood, and the encouragement of activities which advance public health.

His Labor Policy

Turning to the labor question, Governor Smith said:

"The reasonable contentment of those who toil with the conditions under which they live and work is an essential basis of the nation's well-being. The welfare of our country, therefore, demands governmental concern for the legitimate interest of labor."

In conclusion the governor said in part:

"I pledge a complete devotion to the welfare of our country and our people. I place that welfare above every other consideration and I am satisfied that our party is in a position to promote it. To that end I here and now declare to my fellow countrymen, from one end of the United States to the other, that I will dedicate myself with all the power and energy that I possess, to the service of our great republic."

WOULD KEEP MEXICANS OUT OF UNITED STATES

(By International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 23.—Representative Albert Johnson of the Third Washington Congressional district declared that steps must be taken by congress at its next session to stop the influx of Mexicans and other Latin Americans to the Southwestern states. He advocated a tightening of the quota allowed from Mexico and other Latin-American countries. He said the Southwestern states, especially Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, and California must be protected that they were facing an acute racial problem.

Johnson said steps must be taken to obviate diplomatic difficulties that will be brought about unless the problem is solved. He said Americans had been shut out because of cheap labor. A new bill now is being prepared with that end in view.

WOMEN'S PAINS

They Were Relieved by Cardui Which This Georgia Lady Took on Her Mother's Advice.

Columbus, Ga.—"I don't see why women will drag around, in a half-hearted way, never feeling well, barely able to drag, when Cardui might help put them on their feet, as it did me," says Mrs. Geo. S. Hunter, of this city.

"I suffered with dreadful pains in my sides. I had to go to bed and stay sometimes two weeks at a time. I could not work, and just dragged around the house."

"I got very thin. I went from a hundred and twenty-six pounds down to less than a hundred."

"My mother had long been a user of Cardui, and she knew what a good medicine it was for this trouble. So she told me to get some and take it."

"I sent to the store for Cardui, and before I had taken the first bottle I began to improve. My side hurt less, and I began to mend in health. I took the second bottle, and felt much better. I followed this by two more bottles."

"Cardui acted as a fine tonic. I do not feel like the same person. I am well now, and still gaining. My sides do not trouble me at all. Give it a trial."

Health Service Issues Typhoid Fever Warning

(By International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—A warning to the country to take precautions against typhoid fever comes from the United States Public health service.

It was not an alarmist statement, but advised that while typhoid fever may occur at any time during the year, it is most prevalent in the United States during the late summer and in the autumn months. Typhoid fever germs are taken into the body through the mouth with the food or drink, or by means of direct infection with flies.

"This history of the remarkable control of typhoid fever which has taken place in the United States within the past 20 years is one of the striking examples of the value of public health work," it was said. "Typhoid fever which only a few years ago took a toll of more than 50,000 lives annually is now responsible for the death of some thing less than 10,000 each year."

"Preventive medicines have developed to such an extent that we are sometimes prone to have a false sense of security and to neglect important fundamentals of sanitation. Eternal vigilance is the price of sanitation."

Three cardinal rules for prevention of the disease were outlined:

1. Swat the flies.
2. Boil all milk or water which is of doubtful purity.
3. Vaccinate or inoculate against the disease.

"Among the foods other than milk that are most likely to be exposed to infection and liable to convey typhoid fever are those eaten raw or uncooked," it was stated. "Well cooked food or properly pasteurized or boiled milk or milk products are safe from the danger of conveying typhoid or other milk borne or water borne diseases."

"The necessity of inoculation against the fever should be emphasized at this period of the year. It is especially important that the inoculation be done before the vacation period begins."

"It is an established fact that a person may be rendered comparatively safe from typhoid fever by inoculation. The duration of this immunity is not exactly known, but it is certainly safest to be vaccinated at least once in three years. The slight inconvenience attending the inoculation is a small price to pay for protection against so prolonged and so dangerous an illness as typhoid fever."

"There is no cause for alarm in regard to the reactions, either local or general, as they are of no importance except for the discomfort severe reactions are met with in less than one percent of those injected. An advantageous time for the injection is about four p. m. so that if a reaction occurs it will be while the patient is in bed. For those employed in business, successive Saturdays are convenient."

BOLL WORMS AT WORK IN PARTS OF TEXAS

(By International News Service)
FORT WORTH, Aug. 23.—Boll weevils and boll worms are taking a heavy toll of cotton throughout north, northeast and central Texas this year, according to information received here.

However, farmers are using poison to stop the ravages. Picking has begun throughout Fort Worth area but comparatively few bales have been sold as yet.

The next report is expected to show that the expected yield will fall short of the early reports.

British Census Shows Married People Live Longer and Happier

(By International News Service)
MANSFIELD, Eng., Aug. 23.—Marriage brings long life and a healthy one, according to Dr. John E. Wilson, medical officer of health for Mansfield, in his annual report. He obtained his facts from the census of 1921.

Dr. Wilson points out that married women of middle age have a better chance of long life than either single women or widows. The rate of mortality for widows is invariably higher than that for single women or wives.

These facts also apply to men, the doctor shows.
