Bearcats go to Menard Friday

Coach Felton Wright is putting the Bear Cats through hard practice each afternoon at Fair Park, getting them in shape to meet the Menard team on Friday of this week at Menard.

The locals came through the San Angelo game last week without any injuries and every man on the squad will be in excellent shape by the end of the week and they are expected to give a good account of themselves.

The team is being worked this week mostly on offensive plays and will open a series of runs and passes Friday that will be expected to make touchdowns. The muddy field Tuesday limited the work to kicking and passing mostly together with physical drill to keep the boys in good shape.

About twenty players will be carried to Menard. All these men are considered first string men and are showing signs of developing into real football material.

Local fans who are going to the game will be doing the transportation committee a favor if they will notify it how many players can be taken in their cars.

Charity Board Wants Clothing

Mrs. R. T. Trail, a member of the Ballinger Charity Board, asked The Ledger Tuesday to make an appeal to the citizens of Ballinger for old discarded clothing to be used by the charity board in carrying on their work this fall.

Mrs. Trail stated that it was at the time of year when most people were getting out their winter clothes and in going through them many good garments would be discarded. It is these discarded articles that the board is anxious to get hold of.

Every winter the charity board is called upon many times to assist the needy who have come our way and met with misfortune. In almost every case clothing is needed about as badly as anything else and the chest of old clothes have been used each year to good advantage and have kept many people warm. Children's clothes are always in demand and these donated to the board will enable it to save the cash balance for use in buying groceries, fuel and other necessities.

If you have a bundle of this kind you will greatly assist the board if you will take it to the office of Mrs. E. P. Talbott at the Pierce Oil corporation on the Santa Fe track. They will be sorted there and put in good shape for distribution when the demand comes for the clothes.

ROTARIANS MEET AT MID-WEEK LUNCHEON

The Ballinger Rotary club met Wednesday in the American Legion Hall for their luncheon due to the fact that the Central Hotel is remodeling their dining room and kitchen.

The club voted to go to San Angelo next Friday night to meet with that club and give a program for the joint meeting. It was also decided to take the ladies and make it a Rotary night.

A similar invitation was read to the club to come to Abilene on October 12, but due to the fact that that date comes during fair week the club thought it best not to try to send a delegation. However the Abilene club will be notified that a delegate and speaker for the Ballinger club will be present at the meeting.

The discussion for the Wednesday program was "What can be done to help the Ballinger boys." Several speakers spoke briefly on this subject covering many phases, including Boy Scout, personal contact with the boys, playing with the boys and the student loan.

The special boys committee will report a report of work to be carried on by the club at a near

To Declare Stand on Naval Limits

(By International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—With the delivery of notes to the French and British governments within the next few days the attitude of the United States towards further limitation of naval armaments will be made known in no uncertain fashion, the state department announced today. That the United States will not join in the tripartite conference with Britain and France was made clear at the White House.

The president is represented as having taken a position that whatever proposals this government has to offer as a substitute for the Franco-British agreement on light cruisers and submarines will be made before the preliminary commission on disarmament of the League of Nations, when such a conference is called.

Soldier Graves Are Unkempt in Bony Cemetery

(By International News Service) PARIS, Sept. 26.—"The most disappointing sight I have found in Europe is the American Soldiers' Cemetery at Bony," reports Lieut.-Col. Matthew Carney of the famous 27th Division of New York State, who is here re-visiting ground he was familiar with ten years ago.

"I visited at least 50 of the 250 beautiful burial grounds belonging to the British Allies and found every one of them in perfect condition. There are permanent markers over every grave and flowers on every one.

On English Graves
"An English rose-vine trails over the little grave of every English soldier; purple and white heather blooms over every one of the brave Scotsmen who lost their lives in the Ypres salient and the New Zealanders lie in a little corner of their homeland. Every flower, bush and shrub to be found in the Canadian section was brought over from the Dominion."

Colonel Carney was extremely surprised when he came to the wooden staff which serves as a monument for the dead of his own division. A ragged piece of American flag bunting waves from the top and rain and snow have almost entirely washed off the inscription it bears.

The little wooden crosses will soon be replaced by ones from the Carrara quarries.

"But why the Italian marble?" asks Colonel Carney. "Why not some of our good stuff from the state of Vermont and thus make it a little corner of America?"

No Flowers There
The only flowers in the whole cemetery of several thousand of graves were those Colonel Carney had brought with him to put on the grave of a friend. The caretaker, an American citizen, showed him where it was and left him at once, manifesting little interest in the matter. At all of the British Allied cemeteries, on the contrary, the visitor had met with more than extreme courtesy and a great desire to aid him.

The war has been over for ten years, Ypres is entirely rebuilt and the American Cemetery which holds the bodies of some of the finest soldiers America sent over is still far from the condition in which visitors should find it.

HAGENBACH-WALLACE BILLS HERE FOR COLEMAN

Advance agents for the Hagenbach-Wallace circus were in town Wednesday billing Ballinger for a date that the show would play in Coleman. The circus usually plays in this town but evidently are skipping us this year or else they would not advertise here for another town. Hagenbach-Wallace is one of the best circuses on the road and always draws a good crowd when they come to West Texas.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26.—Governor Dan Moody today emphatically denied that he would support Herbert Hoover for the presidency. He wired the editor of the New York Herald-Tribune that the story credited to its Austin correspondent to the effect that Moody had undergone a change of heart was not true. "Statement attributed to your paper that while I had declared at recent democratic state convention that I would vote for democratic electors and that a change had seemed to come over me since that time is completely in error. I am supporting and shall continue to support the democratic ticket," Moody's telegram stated.

MRS. WILLEBRANDT HAS NO APOLOGY FOR ANYONE

(By International News Service) CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, assistant United States attorney general, the center of one of the bitterest controversies yet to develop in the republican national campaign, today vigorously denied that she had any explanation or apology for anyone regarding her campaign speeches in which she assails Gov. Alfred E. Smith, democratic presidential nominee. She stated emphatically that she would continue making speeches but refused to discuss the repudiation by the western republican headquarters of her Ohio speech where she was quoted as telling a group of Methodist ministers that their church had three hundred thousand members there who should help the republican ticket. It is said that she is leaving for Washington later today to continue her fight against prohibition violators.

THE AGE OF OIL

With the one exception of the art of printing, it may be doubted if any single industry has brought so many and sweeping changes to the world as has the modern production and use of petroleum. No one, perhaps, has wrought its revolution in manners, customs, modes of life, relations of the individual to society, in so short a time as has the industry of petroleum along with those others that are collateral and dependent on it.

The most blessed privilege modern progress has given to man is the ability to turn darkness into light, and, until it found it in kerosene, the world never knew an adequate illuminant available to all the people.

With all its progress, all its technical and scientific achievements the world has found no substitute for petroleum as hand-aid to the vast mechanisms of the industrial age. The multiplication of petroleum-driven vehicles has converted this vast continent into a neighborhood, has increased the output and lightened the labors of the farm, has made the world's industrial progress possible and has had its effect on every phase of modern life.

No single factor has contributed so much to safeguard the United States against a decadence of agriculture and subsequent schism between rural and urban elements, as the easy transportation, the breaking down of the barriers of isolation, the facilitation of acquaintance and mutual understanding between city and country that have come with the Age of Oil.

Americans know and other nations know that petroleum is the source of much of the wealth and progress of the United States.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER

J. C. Holton, Mississippi state commissioner of agriculture, recently paid a worth-while tribute to newspapers that expresses graphically the general public feeling for the press.

"I have always appreciated the power of the press, more especially the 'country' press," Mr. Holton said. "The home papers carry the home news, and are read from cover to cover by those whose first interest is in home affairs. They reach the people and constitute a powerful influence of public sentiment."

"A wonderful factor for good is the country newspaper; worthy of the pride and support of folks at home, an avenue of commercial entrance to those who would sell their goods to our people. President T. L. Turner in his annual address eloquently described its importance in these words:

"Out yonder stands a locomotive on the railroad track. Everything about it is in order: water in the boiler, coal in the tender, engineer at the throttle, but it can't move. As it lacks its steam. Remove the newspapers from Mississippi, take away the steam, and this state would soon be a state of idle people; its credit gone. Weeds would grow in the streets; our farmers would look for pastures newer, manufacturers would depart from us, and our people would seek new fields of labor."

The "home town" newspaper is an integral part of the lives of the people it serves. It has been a tremendous factor in building up an American spirit and consciousness, and in turning public opinion into wise avenues.

Ghosts Fail to Bother People in White House

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—The American public generally may be adverse to buying or renting a house in which a former occupant has died, but it is not so with one house in the United States.

No one has ever complained of "ghosts" in the White House. Yet two presidents have died in the big cool rooms of the Colonial mansion of the chief executive, Presidents William Henry Harrison and old Zachary Taylor.

If there are "spirits" an interesting host must keep watch over the White House. From the frock-coated, knee buckled and silk stocking gentlemen of Colonial times they stretch down a colorful, costume corridor to the modern garbed chiefs of recent times. They are a cosmopolitan group.

Of Varied Stock

Seventeen presidents came of English stock, six of Scotch-Irish, two of Scotch, two Dutch, one Welsh and one Scotch-Dutch. Fifteen were the sons of farmers and planters. Four were sons of lawyers, three of merchants, three of clergymen, and one each of a doctor, a constable, a tanner and an iron maker. Eight were of very poor families, while the others were of varied circumstances, mostly middle class. There have been few rich presidents.

All presidents except Buchanan were married, and Tyler, Fillmore

Benjamin Harrison, Roosevelt and Wilson were married twice. Tyler had the most children, seven by each of two marriages, while Washington, Madison, Jackson, Polk, Buchanan and Harding were childless. John Adams' son became president, and William Henry Harrison was the grandfather of a president.

Twenty presidents went to college, several by their own efforts. Fifteen were soldiers, twenty lawyers, fourteen served in the House of Representatives, twelve in the Senate, and nine were vice-presidents. Four presidents were never elected, merely serving out the remainder of the term after a promotion from the vice-presidency. This was due in each case to the presidents' death while in office.

Eight presidents were Episcopalians, seven Presbyterians, four Methodists, four Unitarian, two Dutch Reformed, and one each Baptist, Disciples and Congregational. One married a Catholic, President John Tyler.

Roosevelt Youngest

President Teddy Roosevelt, who was inaugurated when 42 years old, was the youngest president. William Henry Harrison, 68, was the oldest. Garfield died youngest, at 49, from an assassin's bullet, while John Adams, who lived until he was 90, died oldest.

Three presidents were assassinated, Lincoln, Garfield and McKinley. Jackson was shot at while in office, and Roosevelt, when a candidate, was wounded in 1912.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hill, who live here are receiving many inquiries regarding the Durward Hill who was stabbed at the San Angelo fair last week. ## GERMAN TENNIS CIRCLES STIRRED OVER SLAP ON FRAU AUSSEM'S CHEEK

(By International News Service) BERLIN, Sept. 25.—A tennis stroke which created a sensation in German sport circles because it landed on the cheek of the mother of Fraulein Cilly Aussem, formerly woman tennis champion of Germany, will soon occupy the German courts.

Fraulein Aussem was twice defeated this year by Frau von Reznick. This so enraged Fraulein Aussem's mother that she wrote a letter to Wilhelm Schomburgk, director of the German Tennis League, charging that Frau von Reznick had hypnotized her daughter and that only in that way had she been able to win.

Frau von Reznick heard of the letter and when she met the author at a Hamburg match recently she demanded an apology. Frau Aussem refused. Thereupon Frau von Reznick slapped her face.

The tennis authorities debarred Frau von Reznick for six weeks, but she has appealed on the ground that she acted in defense of her honor.

Frau Aussem has now charged Frau von Reznick with "active insult"; Frau von Reznick has charged Frau Aussem with slander.

ANCIENT INDIAN CUSTOM LEAVES ITS MARK ON TODAY'S TRIBAL NAMES

(By International News Service) ARKANSAS CITY, Kan., Sept. 25.—Many years ago it was the practice of some Indian tribes for the new born of the race to be given a single name and that name generally the first object seen by the mother after the child's birth.

This old custom has left its mark on the present generation. The names of students enrolled in the Chilocco Agricultural school which opened recently read like a Chinese puzzle.

MAY LOSE SIGHT OF EYE

Friends will be disappointed to know that Richard Carter, son of Tillie Carter, of this city, who several weeks ago had the misfortune to have a sliver of rock lodge in his eye, while working on the First National Bank building, and who has been in Dallas for some two weeks, under the care of an eye specialist, will likely lose the sight of one of his eyes entirely.

More than 5,000 persons in England and Wales died of sleeping sickness in the last five years.

Quite a bit of complaint is heard about the infestation of fleas in this section, the little insects having bred by the millions during the summer months, and warehouses, basements and sheds are said to be literally alive with the pests.

T. S. Cox, geologist for the Phillips Petroleum Co., with headquarters here for the past year, has been transferred to Stonewall county and will make his headquarters at Aspermont. He is, however, at San Angelo for a few days.

DEATHS

Clyde Williams

Clyde Williams, age 26 years, 3 months and 25 days, who died Tuesday morning on the Norton road when his truck skidded into a ditch, overturned and pinned him beneath it, was buried this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

The funeral was held at the Ballinger Baptist church with Rev. J. H. McClain in charge.

Mrs. Williams, his widow, and the baby, were met in Brownwood last night by O. C. Sykes, Oscar Williams and Mrs. A. R. Jones and brought on to Ballinger, arriving here Wednesday morning at five o'clock. Mrs. Williams was visiting her parents at Leesville in Gonzales county and started home as soon as she received word of the accident. They got as far as Brady and found the roads in impassable condition on to Brownwood. Mrs. Williams was accompanied home by her sister, Mrs. F. M. Maxwell of Los Angeles, Calif., who was also visiting in Leesville. Mrs. Williams had been away for about one month and was to have come home this weekend. As soon as the accident was learned of in Ballinger, she was wired that her husband had been in a wreck and was hurt, and she immediately left for Ballinger.

Others who arrived Wednesday to attend the funeral are R. B. Williams, of Nixon, father of Clyde; Roy Williams of Junction, Bob Ragland of Junction, uncles of the deceased; Mrs. J. T. Ellis of Leesville, mother of Mrs. Williams; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Williams of Abilene. J. A. Williams of this city is also an uncle of the deceased.

The pallbearers were: Jess Jones, Willie Stephens, Lee Sykes, O. C. Sykes, Hubert Parrish and A. R. Jones.

Following the service at the church the body was interred in Evergreen Cemetery.

The tragedy here has thrown a gloom over the entire city. Mr. Williams, in the three years that he and his family have lived here had made many friends and when his life was snuffed out so suddenly, it was a shock to the entire town. Their friends grieve and extend sympathy to the widow and other relatives in this hour of bereavement.

King-Holt undertakers were in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Barnie R. Eakin

The funeral service for Barnie R. Eakin was held this afternoon at four o'clock at the Higginbotham undertaking parlors, with

Rev. R. B. Hopper, pastor of the Methodist church in charge of rites. Interment was made in Evergreen Cemetery.

Mr. Eakin died at 10:30 Tuesday morning at his home near the Abilene & Southern depot. He is survived by three sons, John Ike, William and Russell; two daughters, Mrs. Paul Howze and Miss Ellis Eakin.

Higginbotham undertakers were in charge of the funeral arrangement.

Doctor Found Women and Children Sick More Often than Men

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of Dr. Caldwell's 47 years' practice, he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and placed it on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a public success as it previously had in Dr. Caldwell's private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us it helped when everything else failed.

While women, children and elderly people are especially benefited by Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, its mild, gentle action is promptly effective on the most robust constitution and in the most obstinate cases. Containing neither opiates nor narcotics, it is safe for the tiniest baby. Children like it and take it willingly. Every
