Achievement Week Here Will Resemble Fall Fair

Plans already made for Achievement Week resemble the staging of the annual county fair and will really be about the same without the afternoon programs. The exhibits will be in keeping with the county fair in many respects without livestock being shown and it is predicted that crowds will come from all parts of the county to see the four days and nights here.

All buildings will not be opened to house the exhibits, however the entire merchants' building and a part of the agricultural building will likely be needed to take care of all the products. In addition to the showing of the club booths and open class displays, the county booth now on exhibit at Abilene will likely be decorated in a large space to show home folk what produce the county will produce in a dry year. This display of course will not be in any competition but for advertising purposes only.

At least one afternoon will be taken care of during the four days. On Friday, October 17, the Ballinger Bears and Melvin football team are scheduled in a regular conference game at Fair Park and this game will help to swell the crowds here on that occasion.

Two big night programs are already assigned and leaders are working getting everything lined up to start rehearsals on these entertainments. Parts have been assigned to something like 500 people in the club pageant entitled "Runnels County, the Magnificent." This pageant will be rehearsed in different sections by the different communities taking part and only one full rehearsal of the entire attraction will be held prior to its being staged here. It is planned to hold a late afternoon rehearsal on the afternoon it is given here.

The big fun event will be staged on Wednesday night of Achievement Week when the local Lions Club stages a womanless style show. A strong committee is already busy on this attraction and a number of costumes will likely be secured out of New York for a dancing chorus number, with young men acting as the chorus girls. Suitable men will be selected in this chorus who will make the girls look bad in comparison. They will be selected on account of form, face, and ability to sing and dance, and a large number have already made applications for tryouts in this number. A very beautiful number will be featured by this chorus during the days of Confederacy when hoop skirts were in vogue and white wigs were a part of every debutante wardrobe.

Masculine characters will show every style of women's wearing apparel from the early days down to the present. No attempt will be made at burlesque but true and correct styles will be shown and the comedy will be seen in the way the men wear them. A stage 40 by 40 feet will be erected in front of the grandstand at Fair Park for the performances. J. D. Motley is attempting to secure other night programs and an announcement is expected from him within a few days. It may be that the womanless style show will be presented in Coleman during their fair and in exchange they will send an amateur production here for one night of Achievement Week.

The Bill H. Hames Shows will arrive here for a week's engagement bringing a solid train load of shows, riding devices and concessions for the entertainment of the public. No admission will be charged at the front gate and those desiring to see the exhibits and walk about on the carnival grounds can do so at no expense. Charges will be made for grandstand shows and for shows and rides at the carnival. The Hames show is one of the largest carnival companies in the state this year and they will bring the entire lineup to Ballinger for the week's engagement.

County Institute Here Oct. 9-10

The Runnels County Teachers' Institute will convene in Ballinger on October 9 and 10. This announcement was made Tuesday by County Superintendent R. E. White. Letters are being sent to all teachers in the county rural schools and those independent districts of less than 500 scholars calling them to meet here at that time to attend the two-day session.

Sessions will be held at the Ballinger Baptist Church and a program is being outlined at present and will be completed and announced within a few days. Mr. White has a number of out-of-town speakers invited and expects to have their acceptances this week and will then complete the program for the entire gathering.

Business sessions will be held on Thursday and Friday at the Baptist church and Mr. White stated that he was anxious to arrange some kind of entertainment program for Thursday night for the teachers. Details of this have not been discussed yet, however but will be taken up with organizations of the town to see what can be done. The teachers will be here on that night with no session and unless something is arranged for their entertainment they will have nothing to do.

Mr. White expects about 125 teachers to attend the institute here. There are 101 rural teachers already under contract in the county and three independent districts will send their teachers here. Those are Wingate, Rowena and Norton. Miles, Winters and Ballinger have more than 500 scholars and are not required to attend.

A number of the schools are already open and teaching and others will be opened about the first of October. These schools will receive a two-day holiday while the teachers are here at the institute.

National Guard Camp May be Moved to Austin

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Efforts toward returning the official camp of the Texas National Guard to Camp Mabry, near Austin, are being made by the Travis post of the American Legion. At a recent meeting of the post, officers were requested to keep in close touch with National Guard developments and be ready to press Austin's claim for the encampment.

Members of the post charged that R. B. Creager, Republican national committeeman, was influential in inducing the government to spend large sums of money at Camp Palacios and said this was one of the main difficulties in returning the camp here.

The 36th division is the only National Guard in the country to hold a full division encampment yearly and the Austin veterans said it should be held at the state capital. The division encampment was moved from Camp Mabry during the administration of Governor Pat Neff. It was contended at that time that Camp Mabry had insufficient grounds to handle the entire division encampment.

Camp Mabry was purchased by the citizens of Austin and deeded to the state for a military reserve. T. H. McGregor, Democratic nominee for the legislature from Travis county, said he would introduce a bill at the next session of the legislature calling for the establishment of a military unit, composed of students of the University of Texas, at Camp Mabry. McGregor stated that the plan for the student military organization had been given the approval of Maj. Gen. John A. Allen, commander of the 36th division, who will assist in passage of the measure. Gen. Hulen said he would request the war department to furnish equipment and military instructors for the school if it is established by the legislature.

Sept. 16th Ginnings In County are 4,312

Cotton ginnings in Runnels county prior to September 16 were announced by the government Monday. Ginnings for this year amounted to 4,312 and on the same date last year were 7,456.

Ginning here did not get underway until the middle of September and since that time a large amount of cotton has been gathered and taken to gins here. The crop this year was later and early gathering was cut far short of that last year. For the past two weeks cotton has moved at a rapid rate and all gins in the county have been running at full speed six days in the week.

The report as of October 1st will show a big increase in ginnings and will be only a short way behind the report of last year.

Good picking weather has enabled farmers to gather a large amount of the 1930 crop. Since the first cotton opened enough to start gathering, no delays have been occasioned by weather conditions and cotton men estimate a large percentage, probably 50, of the crop gathered on the last day of September.

Cotton men who are closely watching this year's crop place their estimates for the year between 30,000 and 35,000 bales.

German Financial Program Outlined

BERLIN, Sept. 30.—Chancellor Brüning's financial program, announced today, included slashing of governmental expenditures and salary cuts for public employees beginning with President Von Hindenburg to halt the upward march of taxes on industry. The government is determined to restore German and foreign confidence in the nation's financial future.

MUSEUM HAS PAPER SIGNED BY OUTLAW

CANYON, Sept. 30.—Visitors to the museum of the Panhandle Plains Historical Society can, if they are curious see a bill of sale written by the famous outlaw, William H. Banney, better known as Billy the Kid. The bill of sale was for a horse and was made to Doctor H. F. Hoyt, who was a resident of old Tascosa during the days when it was the most popular town in the Panhandle.

It is said that this specimen of hand writing of Billy the Kid is one of the only two in existence. When Billy the Kid was slain at the age of 22 years, he was supposed to have killed 24 men. All of this took place in what was known as the Lincoln County War. Effects of it were felt throughout New Mexico and in the Western part of the Panhandle.

With the bill of sale is a copy of what is said to be the only picture of William F. Banney in existence. This copy was also once the property of Dr. Hoyt.

A photograph of Dr. Hoyt, author of the Frontier Doctor, has also been deposited with the Society.

Moody Undecided About Calling a Special Session

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Governor Moody today was undecided about whether to call a special session of the legislature to consider farm relief, including a cotton acreage reduction law in the interest of curtailed production. The governor intimated yesterday that he might convene an extra session of the legislature, believing that the proposed legislation could be finished in a day or two. The attorney general's department is drafting the cotton acreage reduction bill.

The governor announced a telegram from the Federal Drouth Committee saying that no additional counties would be certified for reduced railroad fares on livestock and feed, and that many counties now certified would be withdrawn before October 31.

Toads, Centuries Old, are Found

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 30.—Three tiny toads, said by J. B. Thoburn, curator of the Oklahoma Historical Society, to have been buried several centuries ago in an old Indian mound near Gate, Beaver county, Oklahoma, are today alive and well, and apparently were changing in form this afternoon in a glass jar.

The toads' eyes, sealed when taken from the earth, remained open unblinkingly. One opened its mouth slightly, but the other two were still sealed. The heads are becoming more rounded and the frogs' skin is roughening.

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 30.—President Ortiz Rubio today abandoned his scheduled visit to northern Mexico, delegating instead General Plutarco Elias Calles to represent him at the several ceremonies.

Rio Schemes to Make Night Life Lure to Tourist

RIO DE JANEIRO, Sept. 30.—Prefect Antonio Prado of this city has worked on the beautification and modernizing of it to attract tourists from north of the equator as well as those in neighboring South American countries. This has resulted in two special excursions from Argentina and Uruguay in recent weeks when a thousand vacationers came to Rio's sunshine to get away from the rigors of the winter at home. Two European liners were taken from their regular runs, the first bringing 400 and the latter 600 tourists here for a week's stay during which they used the ships as hotels.

Night life is almost unknown in this city of a million and a half inhabitants, and the boosters for tourist trade demand that such attractions be forthcoming if the city is to take its place as a tourist center. "People want to do something at night except go to bed," said one advocate of bright lights in a newspaper discussion of this subject.

"Make Rio the Monte Carlo of South America," is the slogan of the advocates of tourism, but the organic law of the country prohibits gambling.

Cool Weather for Opening of Series

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—Clear and cool weather is the condition forecast for the opening of the World Series baseball games here at 1:30 Eastern Standard Time, Wednesday afternoon, between Philadelphia, American League pennant winner, and St. Louis, National League champions. Philadelphia is favored to win. Lefty Grove is probably Philadelphia's starting pitcher, while Grimes is expected to take the initial hurler's job for St. Louis.

The Runnels county agricultural display at the West Texas Fair at Abilene was awarded first place Monday night in the county displays which carries a cash prize of $200 with the award. After the judging was completed the display showed a score of 939 points out of a possible 1000.

This makes two first places the display has won in the last two weeks. At San Angelo the exhibit was awarded first place with a cash prize of $150 and again Monday at Abilene first place with a cash prize of $200. Judges from the A. & M. extension service who judged the exhibit complimented the Runnels exhibit very highly and urged C. W. Lehmburg and J. D. Motley to take the display to the Dallas fair at Dallas and enter it in the county division for competition. No definite decision has been made regarding this plan. Runnels has never competed in the State Fair at Dallas but this year's exhibit which has already scored two high scores under severe rules would make hard competition there with a few other crops added to fill the score card at that fair. At San Angelo the exhibit scored 960 out of a possible 1000 and at Abilene 939 points. Such scoring at the state fair would likely win a first award and a handsome cash prize.

Eastland county was second at Abilene, scoring a grade slightly lower than that of Runnels county. Tom Green was third, and Callahan took fourth place. The Abilene News had the following to say regarding the Runnels county display:

"The Runnels county exhibitors are in the winnings this year. At the West Texas Exposition, which closed Saturday at San Angelo, Runnels took off first place. At the fair here in 1929, the county won second place. C. W. Lehmburg, county farm agent, and Mr. Lura Hollingsworth, home demonstration agent, are in charge of the exhibits.

"The name 'Runnels' was cleverly lettered with red maize seeds on a gray background. Just beneath the name of the county, and in smaller lettering, was printed with millet seeds the words 'West Texas.' "Many varieties of fruits and vegetables, in addition to hays, grains and canned fruits and vegetables were included in the display. The complete score card for exhibits was filled. "The vegetables included tomatoes, carrots, pepper, bell pepper, okra, turnips, melons, pumpkins, kershaws and cantaloupes. Threshed and sheaf oats were presented, along with maize, kaffirs, cane alfalfa and other grains and feeds. Peaches, plums, grapes and berries were included in the canned exhibits."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—On "Tin Can" Island in the South Pacific Ocean on October 22 at 9:09 a. m. astronomers will observe a 93 1/2 second eclipse of the sun.

Seldom have American and European astronomers traveled to such an out-of-the-way corner of the world.

The island's native name is Niuafoou. It lies near the Fijis and is one of two small islands which are the only land the eclipse touches.

There are no docks at Niuafoou and the monthly inter-island steamer drops mail overboard in a soldered tin can in deep water a few hundred yards off shore.

Two natives swim out and push or drag the mail box ashore. Hence the name "Tin Can" Island.

erty of the entire town be endangered by fire. Another big thing is the bettering of the sanitary condition. Weeds and trash collected at a place breed germs that eventually will be a detriment to the health of the family living there.

Lamps Help Sort Lumber. MADISON, Wis., Sept. 30.—The U. S. Forest Products Laboratory here uses flashing neon glow lamps in a new apparatus that sorts lumber according to the amount of moisture it contains.

The island belongs to the principality of Tonga, only self-governing state in the South Pacific.

Its shape is that of a signet ring, with the seal to the north, its diameter about four miles, and its population about 1,000 natives and two whites.

"Tin Can" Island boasts it grows the largest coconuts grown in the Pacific.

It also contains in its tiny circle 30 volcanic craters, some so active that a year ago last June an eruption destroyed one of the island's two villages.

Dr. Thomas A. Jagger, jr., Hawaii's famous volcanologist, has joined the party to do some volcanic observation.

The man who detected presence of an iron mist in the sun's atmosphere about as abundant as water vapor in the earth's air heads the American scientific party.

He is Dr. Stanley A. Mitchell, director of Leander McCormick Observatory of the University of Virginia, who has observed more than a dozen total eclipses. Kempton Adams is his assistant.

Prof. R. W. Marriott, of Swarthmore, will make Einstein theory tests and photograph the corona. J. J. Johnson, of California Institute of Technology and B. P. Sharpless, of the U. S. naval observatory will make various photographic observations. The naval observatory sponsors the expedition.

Commander C. H. J. Keppler is in administrative charge, and 11 enlisted men, of the navy and marines will assist in construction of a 65-foot and other telescopes and in making observations.

HOW'S your HEALTH

ELECTRICITY IN MEDICINE

We are living in what may be appropriately termed the Electrical Age.

No time in the history of man has witnessed so much scientific advance as took place during the last 150 years.

And in this advance, electricity stands out predominantly.

The roots of the science reach back to the distant past when the mysterious powers of magnetic iron, or the lodestone, were first witnessed in Asia Minor.

The great names in electricity, those of Galvani, Volta, Ampere, Faraday are also brilliantly emblazoned on the pages of medical history—and though only in a manner vaguely suspected by the ancient believers, electricity has and is playing a remarkable role in the science of medicine.

The X-ray, now so valuable a diagnostic and curative instrument, is essentially an electrical apparatus. The electro-cardiograph, by means of which such fine diagnoses of heart conditions can be achieved, is in substance nothing more than an extremely sensitive galvanometer—the measuring instrument originally invented by Galvani.

The electric cautery, which seals blood and lymph vessels as it cuts and sterilizes the tissues it sears, has made the surgeon's work more effective.

The ultra-violet ray, produced by carbon-arc lamp, or by the column of electrically-fused mercury, has placed the healing powers of the sun under the power of man.

The deafened have been made to hear again.

The shrivelling effects of paralysis are being counteracted. And even at this very hour researches are carried on to enlist electricity further in the aid of man's warfare against disease.

OLD CANNON IS FOUND ON SAN ANTONIO RIVER

GOLIAD, Tex., Sept. 30.—A cannon possibly bound up in some of the oldest traditions of Texas has been unearthed near La Bahia Mission, on the San Antonio river, near this historic town.

August E. Leeder, Harley and S. A. Johnson found the gun. They refused to divulge the exact place of its discovery, because they believed other finds were there and they did not want new exploiters at work.

The cannon is brass and is four feet, two inches long. The shield though eroded, appears to bear the figure of a lion, a castle and a crown and many believe the cannon was part of Fannin's artillery which General Sam Houston ordered abandoned to expedite the latter's retreat before Goliad, where perhaps the worst massacre of Texans in the war for independence from Mexico occurred.

Father Louis F. Plana of the Goliad Catholic church expressed belief the gun was cast in Spain and brought to Mexico in the fifteenth century by Cortez.

Governor Moody has been urged to come here and arrange for the transfer of the piece to the state.

SUNDOWN STORIES

THE BALLOON LADY

By Mary Graham Bonner

John and Peggy and the Little Black Clock had a beautiful time at the Fair.

They few some of the animals. Peggy rubbed the back of a friendly old pig with a nice smooth stick and the pig grunted his thanks.

They listened to the band play and somehow it was nicer than any band John had ever heard. What he liked about it was that it made him feel as though he could have played in it if he had been given the chance.

But now everyone was going in the direction of the balloon. It was to go up in a very short time now. It had been hanging very limply but now it was becoming quite puffed out and soon would be ready to be off.

The balloon lady was almost ready to start. She was going to hang from the balloon from a trapeze and then she was going to come down to earth in a parachute.

John was helping to hold the balloon out as it was being filled up with air, and the Little Black Clock asked the balloon lady if she felt nervous.

"Never nervous as soon as I get up in my balloon," she said.

But Peggy was afraid the balloon lady might land in the lake not far off.

At last the balloon was ready and it started up from the earth. How splendidly the balloon lady swung off on her trapeze, and how beautifully she waved to the people down below.

How high she went, and then she opened her parachute and started down.

They could see where she was going to land—in the field right next to the Fair Grounds. Everyone rushed over to the field. It was glorious to see her land too. The balloon lady patted Peggy on the head after she had safely landed, and had been cheered by everyone.

Peggy was ever so proud.

LIONS CLUB DONATES SCHOOL BOOK COVERS

The Ballinger schools have received a large number of book covers from the Ballinger Lions Club as a gift. The covers carry no advertisements but the outside covers are filled with safety rules which are very important for children to learn. The rules deal especially with traffic safety rules and will be read and taught to the students. The school appreciates the gift and wishes to express their thanks to the Lions.

Mrs. D. C. Middleton has returned from Kansas City, where she had been at the bedside of her uncle, who is seriously ill.

An American In Paris

By Hazel Reavis
 PARIS, Sept. 30.—A little thing like a few inches on the average skirt length is cutting down cocktail consumption.
 Fashionable women drink less and dance less since they covered up their legs, according to the floor manager of one of the most exclusive dance and supper places in town.
 But what the gay night-life magnates are losing by long skirts the jewelers of the Rue de la Paix and related streets are picking up.
Works Both Ways
 The womenfolk yearn for precious stones more than ever it seems, particularly in the form of elaborate necklaces and high powered dinner rings. Jeweled hair ornaments are again with us also.
 De luxe carriage makers, the people who design special bodies for high priced limousines and town cars are also having fat days. Elegant dames must ride in appropriate conveyances.
 So it goes! What's one man's food is another's poison in the luxury trades whereby one-eighth of the Parisian population gains its daily bread.

Business on Wheels
 Something you notice during your first days in Paris is the prevalence of pushcarts.
 A large part of the daily commerce of certain quarters of the old city is still done from barrows.
 Pushcart vending, like porters' work, is a profession here. Not just anybody can pick it up and make a success of it.
 For one thing it requires a license. For another it takes a stout heart and strong arm to stock a pushcart at prices the pushcart public will pay. All the stocking is done at public markets where cutthroat methods govern bidding and buying.

HATCHEL NEWS
 It has been quite a while since there has been anything seen in the paper from Hatchel but we are still here although we haven't made such bumper crops as we would like to have made but still we are looking forward to another year as if it will be one that will make up for the bad ones.

There will be an entertainment at the school auditorium next Friday night given by the Baptist Church. It is going to be something different from the old form of box supper or pie supper and will be called a trip around the world. As some may not understand this I will attempt to explain.

There will be different booths presided over by ladies of the church. Each of these booths will be distinguished by the name of a country and will serve food of some kind therein. A round trip with an assortment of good things to eat may be made for 50 cents, or the visitor may call at any one booth and be served for 15 cents. All funds derived from the entertainment will go to the benefit of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones Taylor of Ballinger visited in the home of Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Davis, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mathis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Tucker.

It will not be long until our school will begin. It starts on October 13, and from all reports we have three fine teachers for this year, so let's give them our support, help them every way we can, for without the help of the patrons they can't accomplish very much.

The Women's Club of this community met in their regular meeting of the month last Thursday afternoon at their club room in the school building. Mrs. Lura Holmgren was present and they spent a very pleasant afternoon making baskets and discussing the program to be presented by the club at Fair Park during Achievement Week.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barnhill spent Sunday afternoon in the J. H. Tucker home.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrel Graves and son spent Sunday with H. O. Anderson and family.

No Ties in Grid Games; New Rules

(By Associated Press)
 AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—There will be no "tie games" in this year's interscholastic football championship.
 Rules of the Interscholastic League, just off the press, expressly provide that in case of tie games, the team having the most first downs or the most yardage, in the event of a tie in downs, shall be declared winner, unless an agreement to the contrary has been made prior to the game.
 In the section of the football regulation governing tie games, this change is achieved by applying the rules of inter-district elimination contests to the state title game.
 The rule regarding coaches has been clarified by a new law on eligibility providing that an assistant coach must be a full time employe of the school board for the whole scholastic year, thus eliminating special coaches.
 A suggested rule for a round-robin schedule was an innovation. It was suggested that in districts that have more than eight participating teams, sub-districts be created, in which case the round-robin schedules should be arranged in the sub-districts to close in sufficient time to formulate an elimination game or series so that the district championship might be determined by the proper time. Districts with eight or fewer teams may create sub-districts if the district executive committee deems such action favorable, unless such an arrangement would upset pre-existing contracts.

 To the definition of practice game was added the limitation that it could not be on an announced schedule.
 Last year's mixup concerning officials late in the season led to the rule that the visiting team should insist upon an agreement on officials prior to the day of the game. The rule further provided that a school refusing to play a game because the officials agreed upon have not been secured shall not be considered as breaking its contract, and places the responsibility of procuring prior to the game, satisfactory officials, squarely upon the home team.
 Eligibility rules have been cleared up in a number of instances, one of the most important of which concerns "dummy" diplomas. Although the practice may seem unusual, in several instances an athlete who has failed to receive passing grades, is allowed to sit with graduating students when diplomas are given. He is given a "dummy" diploma—a plain sheet of paper—and next year reports for his team again. The rules this year specifically provide that any athlete who has received a dummy diploma is barred from further interscholastic competition.
 Summer school work, or any work handed in after the close of a semester, may not be counted in determining whether an athlete is making passing grades. In the event the school has no semester rule, the player must have been regularly promoted at the preceding term. No student may participate in league contests after the close of the tenth semester following his first enrollment in the eighth grade, or if the school has 12 grades, following first enrollment in the ninth grade.

 At least 355 high schools will participate in the football competition this year, about twenty more than last year, and the number may be larger after the enrollment is closed.

FROZEN FLORIDA FRUIT JUICE IS NEW DELICACY
 (By Associated Press)
 TAMPA, Fla., Sept. 30.—Frozen Florida fruit juices will soon follow frozen Georgia peaches to the tables of the nation.
 Plans have been made for the building here of a large plant to bottle fruit juice beverages and a new form of frozen fruit juice. Orange and grapefruit juices will be the first frozen products with pineapple juice added as soon as arrangements can be made for growing pineapples in this section on a large scale.

SPORTS

Otis Jacob, reserve, half-back on the Bearcats is nursing a swollen jaw, following the Roscoe game last Friday. It became necessary to lance the jaw Tuesday morning and it is feared he will not be able to accompany the team to Eden Thursday. This injury has nothing to do with the one received last winter near Abilene in a car wreck but was caused by a tooth bruising the inner part of the jaw.
 At the beginning of the season it was known that little backfield strength was here this year. Entering the first conference game of the year Coach Wright will have three backfield men out of the game, Jones, McIntire and Jacob. Sims and Newton will be rushed into shape as fast as possible this week for action against the Eden Bulldogs and with Flynt, Partridge, March and McWilliams will still give the Eden boys plenty of trouble.
 Two squads were running signals Monday afternoon and each man showed plenty of fight and determination to continue on the rest of the season and win a district championship. The loss of men is not making the boys lose their fight and there is plenty left to put over a successful year.
 Coach Wright will spend most of his efforts this week in developing a more powerful running attack. Realizing that it takes yards to win games he is drilling his backs to run better interference and block harder. There are plenty of ball toters available if the proper interference can be perfected with the running attack.

CHINA THREATENS TO CLOSE PRIVATE SCHOOLS
 (By Associated Press)
 NANKING, Sept. 30.—All private schools in China, whether of preparatory of college grade, must be registered with the ministry of education by the middle of September or suffer closure.

 This is the gist of an order issued by the Nationalist government.
 Registration includes data constituting a complete survey of the type of work engaged in, as well as a short history of the school.

SIDE AND BACK Lady Had Suffered So Much Pain Was Almost Desperate. Says Cardui Helped Her.

Denison, Texas.—"Before I took Cardui, it seemed like I had tried everything, for my health was wretched," writes Mrs. Nannie Davis, of 418 W. Woodard Street, this city.
 "I was in bed most of the time," explains Mrs. Davis, "suffering so much with pain in my side and back, and weakness. I was so discouraged, I was almost desperate.
 "I knew there ought to be something to reach my case. I only weighed about 110 pounds. My eyes were hollow and I looked awfully bad.
 "A good friend told me about Cardui. After taking my first bottle, I felt better, but I kept it up until I had taken four bottles, and now I am well, have no pain in my side or back, and feel like a new woman. I can work most of the time, and feel fine.
 "For three years, I have been free from pain. That is why I recommend Cardui."
 If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a medicine used by women for over fifty years. As your health improves, you will share the enthusiasm of thousands of others who have praised Cardui for the benefits they have felt after taking it.

A Sour Stomach

In the same time it takes a dose of soda to bring a little temporary relief of gas and sour stomach, Phillips Milk of Magnesia has acidity completely checked, and the digestive organs all tranquilized. Once you have tried this form of relief you will cease to worry about your diet and experience a new freedom in eating.

This pleasant preparation is just as good for children, too. Use it whenever coated tongue or fetid breath signals need of a sweetener. Physicians will tell you that every spoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia neutralizes many times the volume in acid. Get the genuine, the name Phillips is important. Limitations do not act the same!

Highway Department May Ask for its Own Building

(By Associated Press) AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Another of the numerous problems that are expected to be submitted to the next legislature in January is the construction of a state office building to house the highway department exclusively. Incidentally, this problem has been faced and turned down by several preceding legislatures.

It is known, however, that Ross S. Sterling, present chairman of the state highway commission and the Democratic nominee for governor, is in favor of the erection of the highway department building. Sterling even went so far at one time as to recommend its construction, stating that it could be paid for out of state highway funds without an appropriation from the legislature.

The highway department could easily use a structure of its own, highway officials stated. The main office of the department now is crowded into one floor of what is generally known as the Land Office building.

Officials estimate that to house the activities of the main unit normally would require about two and one-half floors. This would provide adequate space for the various units of the office and would provide enough room for the voluminous files kept by the highway department. At the present time, owing to the crowded condition of the office, it is necessary to keep only a limited number of the more active files in the main office, the remainder being stored in the basement of the building.

It was pointed out that this often necessitates long delays in searching for records and documents because the files are so closely packed in the basement that it is extremely difficult to look through them.

Another item officials propounded as a reason for a new highway building was that the present over-crowded condition impaired to a certain extent the efficiency of the office. The desks are tightly jammed against each other, with barely room for employees to pass through.

In addition to its space in the Land Office building, the highway department is forced to rent approximately one and one-half floors of space in a downtown office building. Officials said that money spent for rent for offices in this building and the money that would be saved by having this unit in close contact with the main office would nearly offset the cost of the new building.

As tentatively outlined the new building would be four or five stories high with all activities of the department centered in this one structure. This would include the laboratory and testing department, the commissioners' hearing room, general offices of the highway department, the central division offices and the United States bureau of public roads. The latter unit now is cramped into a small room adjoining the main offices of the highway department.

Construction of the new building also would provide relief for overcrowded conditions in other state departments since it would release an entire floor of the Land Office for use of other branches of the government, some of which are badly crowded.

FLORIDA PLANS WINTER PAN-AMERICAN NET MEET

(By Associated Press) MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Sept. 30.—Net stars of the Americas will compete in this resort city next winter if plans for a Pan-American tennis tournament are approved by the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

The Pan-American tournament would take the place of the South Florida meet, which Puerto has drawn ranking stars of the United States in competition with Cuban players.

J. B. Lemon, recreation director for Miami Beach, hopes to enroll stars from Cuba, Mexico and other Latin-American countries for the tournament, planned the week of February 24.

A. C. C. Reserves Booked for Oct. 10

Next week, Friday, October 10, the Ballinger Bearcats will meet the reserve team from Abilene Christian College on the local field in a game booked this week to fill the open date on the Ballinger schedule. A round-robin schedule in district 11 in the western division has already been arranged by local authorities and the open date had to be filled with a non-conference game.

Abilene Christian College has a large squad of football material this year and will send a team here on the 10th capable of taking care of the situation and giving the Bearcats plenty of competition. This completes the schedule with the exception of a game on November 7th, just four days before the game with Brady on Armistice Day. A light game will be arranged for that date and a number of schools in this section want to come here for a game at that time. Coming so close to the hard game with Brady some small school will be matched where the second team can take care of the competition to a large extent and the regulars only run in for a warm-up.

Following the game with Abilene Christian the team from Melvin will be here on October 17, Coleman on October 24, and the locals will go to Santa Anna the following week-end to engage the Mountaineers. After that will come the Armistice Day game and a ten-day lay-off before engaging the Winters Blizzards at Winters on November 21st.

A large crowd will go with the Bearcats to Eden Thursday of this week to attend the Concho County Fair and witness the football game which is the main grandstand attraction on the opening day of that fair. It is the plan of the committee to furnish private transportation for the players to Eden and those going on that day and who have room for players are requested to notify H. S. Strain. The boys plan to leave here right after noon Thursday and will get there in time to stretch a few minutes before entering the game. The game will be played in front of the grandstand at the fair grounds at about 3:30.

Buyer and Seller Program for Club

Rotarians Wednesday will hear a special buyer and seller program at the regular meeting of the club which will be held at noon at the Central Hotel.

The program for the day is in the hands of E. E. King of the vocational service committee, and special effort has been made to make a program that will be of interest to everyone. Four speakers will be used in short talks on different subjects to show the relationship of the buyer and seller.

Joe Neff will talk first on the subject "The Extent to Which the Buyer's Interest Should be Considered by the Seller." Next R. E. George will speak on "Value of Honest Labeling and Frank Description of Merchandise." W. C. McCarver has been assigned the subject, "Benefits to be Derived by Both Buyer and Seller by the Establishment of Uniform Terms of Credit." The last speaker, Rev. J. H. McClain, will discuss "Value and Sacredness of Contract for Purchase or Sale."

All subjects are on questions that daily confront business men and each speaker has carefully considered his assignment and has an inspiring message to bring to club members.

The entertainment feature of the day's program will be a vocal solo by Mrs. F. M. Pearce.

Attendance is being stressed by the club at all meetings and attention has been called to the fact that absence from the club meetings four consecutive times automatically suspends anyone from membership and an average below 60 per cent in attendance over a period of six months also dismisses a member from the club without any action of the board of directors. This rule is necessarily enforced as the international constitution provides it and gives the local club no choice in the matter.

Deaths

Chas. C. Westbrook

Chas. C. Westbrook, age 48, died in San Antonio Monday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. His death came very suddenly and was a great shock to friends and members of his family. Monday morning he was apparently feeling fine and about as usual and at 1:00 o'clock he fell dead. He had resided in San Antonio for the past fifteen years.

Mr. Westbrook was the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Westbrook of Ballinger and is survived by his parents and four sisters, Mrs. D. M. Baker of Waco, Mrs. C. S. Best oil cheapest in home, says factory supt

"The last thing we'd try to economize on," says the superintendent of a large eastern factory, "is lubricating oil. By using cheap oil we could 'save' hundreds of dollars each year—but it would cost us thousands of dollars for repairs, replacements and lessened efficiency of equipment."

The same is true in the home. If all housewives knew what factory men know about lubrication, few of them would use anything but 3-in-One Oil for their expensive sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric fans, lawn mowers, washers, and other household devices. 3-in-One, a blend of mineral, vegetable and animal oils, is the best oil for household use, for it cleans and protects as well as lubricates.

Ask for the old reliable 3-in-One Oil at good drug, grocery, hardware, department and general stores; in 15c and 30c sizes. For your protection, look for the trade mark "3-in-One" printed in Red on every package.
