FIREMEN LEAVE FOR STATE CONVENTION

Chief of Police Lee Moreland, Assistant Fire Chief C. L. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Posey and Bobbie Marie Avey left Monday morning for Austin to attend the state convention of volunteer firemen. The convention will continue for three days and practically every organized fire department in Texas will be represented.

Mrs. Lura Hollingsworth has returned from Sweetwater, where she acted as a judge in a dress making contest held by the club women of Nolan county under the direction of their home demonstration agent, Miss Vada Floyd.

H. B. Poe, of Wingate, attended to business in Ballinger Monday. Mr. Poe is county commissioner for his precinct.

Many See Akron In Flight Sunday

A number of Ballinger people sighted the giant navy dirigible Akron as it passed over Abilene Sunday afternoon. The airship was plainly seen from here when it was somewhere east of that city.

Several local citizens were in Abilene and had a close look at the largest airship in the world, which was en route from San Francisco to Lakehurst, New Jersey, and its permanent hangar.

Among Ballingerites in Abilene Sunday afternoon was Mrs. W. F. Wellhausen, who had the unexpected pleasure of seeing the great ship. Her son, C. W. Dannelly, is first quartermaster on the dirigible and her interest in the air leviathan was heightened on this account. Dannelly made a previous trip to California on the Akron and last summer visited his mother here.

The dirigible was flown high over Abilene and steered east toward Fort Worth. An announcement had been made in Sunday morning papers that the giant ship might pass that way late in the afternoon and many were watching for its approach. When the Akron was about 25 miles west of the city the sidewalks were crowded with sightseers who watched until it passed out of view.

Fair Park Damaged By Wind Thursday

Fair Park was considerably damaged Thursday night by the high wind which hit this section. The park keeper who reported the damage stated that the wind resembled a miniature tornado, that it roared and twisted, dipping here and there, and caused alarm to residents in that section of the city.

Most damage was done to the livestock and poultry buildings. The barn where livestock judging is done was completely demolished. Lumber was scattered about the ground and little of the large structure was left standing. Other minor damage also was reported in the same department to sheds, stalls and fences.

Poultry sheds near the main buildings were twisted and razed, lumber being blown into the large ditch just west of the grounds. The buildings housed many permanent coops and all these were damaged. Other minor losses were reported in all parts of the plant.

A small loss caused by hail two weeks ago had just been settled by the insurance company. The hail battered roofs on the sheds surrounding the first enclosure of the park.

The Runnels County Fair Association carries insurance with a hail and tornado clause and an adjustment will be made on the wind damage within the next several days.

GOOD FISHING REPORTED IN JUNCTION COUNTRY

The following items clipped from the Junction Eagle indicate fishing on the Llano and other places around that town is good:

"Landing a bass, weighing five pounds and three ounces and measuring 22 inches long, gave Charles Henderson and Judge J. B. Randolph one of their greatest fishing thrills Wednesday morning when the big bass was caught by Charles on the judge's place. Judge Randolph was rowing the boat, but he says that he got as big a thrill as Charles. This is the largest bass weighed in at Craven's Pharmacy thus far this season.

"Catching a 40-pound catfish in the Llano near Junction Saturday morning Bruce G. Taff and Don Curtis won a place for themselves among the big fishermen. Bruce and Don are only boys but they know how to tempt the fish. The hook that caught the big fish was baited with a bullfrog. The fish was used to feed more than 30 people invited to a fish fry on the Llano Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Taff, parents of Bruce."

Damage from Wind And Rain is Slight

Ballinger received rain Thursday night amounting to 1.05 inches and accompanied by terrific winds. Reports from over the county Friday morning said the wind assumed the proportions of a gale but little damage ensued. Some outhouses were destroyed and trees damaged by the gusts that continued for almost an hour.

Precipitation was spotted, some sections receiving only a sprinkle. Following is the report tabulated by the Southwestern States Telephone Company at Ballinger Friday morning:

Budget Institute's Dates Set for 24-27

Officers of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce have announced dates for two uniform budget-making institutes. These one-day schools will be held at Lubbock on June 24 and at Breckenridge on June 27. There will be no charge for attendance and a program will be presented which will fully explain the law enacted by the 42nd legislature known as the uniform budget-making law.

This law requires the governor, the county judge, the mayor and president of the school board, during the month of July each year to prepare a budget in which shall be listed in detail all proposed expenses for the ensuing year. The act requires that public hearings be held on these budgets and that public notice giving the date, hour and place of hearing be published. It also provides that these budgets be used, after their adoption, as the basis of expenditures of tax money and operation of government or school.

The institutes will give definite information on making city, school and county budgets, every detail being explained thoroughly.

Water Department Shows Nice Gain

The city financial statement for May shows a total of water revenue collected of $1,702.42, with operating costs listed at $742.81. This is a total cash gain of $959.61 or 56 per cent.

Receipts for the general fund for the month were $608.21, and sanitary collections $218.25. Balances in banks, value at city hall and bonds on deposit totaled $45,559.28 on the last day of May, when the statement was balanced.

Weekly rains have caused water consumption to be very light for this time of year. Less irrigation has been necessary on this account. July and August are commonly the best months for consumption of large quantities of water.

City land about the pumping plant and lake is being fenced and other improvement are being made.

Garages on the farms were broken into and tires and accessories taken. One farmer lost a large quantity of lard from his smoke-house.

The annual Boy Scout encampment at Camp Tenkawa near Buffalo Gap will open on Sunday, June 19, according to an announcement by Ed Shumway of Abilene, scout executive. The camp will last for 14 days with the rate of $5 per week charged. Boys may attend one week only if they desire.

The city commission Saturday morning opened bids for the curbing of Park Avenue from Broadway to the overpass on the A. & S. Ry. right-of-way. The contract was awarded to Clark & McDonald, local contractors, for a consideration of $631.26.

In accepting the contract Clark & McDonald agreed to use only home labor and to pay a "living" wage of 25 cents per hour. The contractors stated they expected to commence the job some time this week.

Some material will have to be secured but this should arrive this week.

The two and a half blocks will be curbed on both sides, with drain boxes and concrete gutters at street intersections. Plans were specified by G. M. Garrett, resident state highway engineer. After this contract is completed the avenue will be surfaced by the state highway department, contract for which will be let with that for topping highway 23 from Ballinger to Talpa. The paving will connect with Broadway pavement at the Massey Hotel and with the state highway at the city limits.

The avenue has already been partially graded and will be ready for the topping when the curbing is finished.

FEAR... The American psychologist, Watson, maintains that a child at birth is instinctively afraid of but two things. It fears loud noises and the sudden loss of support, that is, falling.

It is interesting to speculate why loud noises and falling should be instinctive fears.

Perhaps it is because since man's earliest experiences, noise and falling represented two ever-present dangers and the reactions thereto were of a vitally protective nature.

As civilization grew the varieties of fears to which man became subject increased.

H. G. Wells aptly observes, "In civilized life the tendency is constant to attach fears to states of mind rather than to possible injury to body."

"People come to accept discomfort, privation and even death in preference to social disgrace, unfavorable publicity, scandal, loss of prestige, or being out of fashion."

Fear may be said to be the parent of caution and of reflection. In reverse, improper reflection may engender fear.

James, the psychologist, years ago propounded an interesting hypothesis as to the origin of fear and fear behavior.

He maintained that in the case of "a man who runs away because he is afraid" this statement expressing the relationship between cause and effect is in improper order.

He contended, contrary to common belief, that the man does not run away because he fears, but rather that he fears because he runs away.

It should therefore be possible, according to this theory, to eliminate fear by training men to behave in certain patterns. Their physical behavior would cause them to be fearless.

Undoubtedly a good deal of military training is directed to this end.

Recent studies, however, particularly those of Cannon, tend to cast doubt upon the validity of James' hypothesis.

Says Real Life Has Fund of Film Plot Situations

Taking characters from real life is a certain way of putting realism into a screen story.

This, according to William Anthony McGuire, noted playwright and screen dramatist, accounts for much of the discussion that has arisen over the gripping story of "Disorderly Conduct," the Fox film sensation to be shown at the Palace Theatre Friday and Saturday, with Sally Eilers, Spencer Tracy and El Brendel in the leading roles.

"Safety First" Move Sponsored Locally... Beginning in this issue of The Ledger appears the first of a series of three "Safety First" advertisements, sponsored by the following firms, organizations and individuals, who would make driving safer on our highways and streets:

The purpose of this campaign is not to make business for the signers of the appeal but to make it safe for individuals and families while motoring on the public thoroughfares.

STANDARD RECEIPT FORM FOR BONDED WAREHOUSES ISSUED BY SHACKLEFORD

AUSTIN, June 13.—Declaring the situation among Texas bonded warehouses in regard to receipt forms it "pitiful," L. L. Shackelford, chief of the warehouse division of the department of agriculture, has issued to all warehouses a standard receipt form which they will be required to adopt.

In the past there has been such a multifarious conglomeration of receipts that it has become necessary and expedient to adopt one of uniformity that will be acceptable as collateral by the Federal Reserve Bank," he said. Warehousemen were instructed that forms for both negotiable and non-negotiable receipts are the same but that non-negotiable receipts must be so marked on the face of the receipt. Warehouse charges must be inserted on the face of the receipt and a warehouseman can not issue a receipt signed by a public weigher, Shackelford further advised.

FREEZE CUTS VEGETABLE SHIPMENTS DURING MAY

AUSTIN, June 13.—The full effects of the freeze early in March were felt in the sharply reduced loadings of vegetables during May, according to the Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas. Although onions were being shipped to market in unusually large quantities and potato loadings were getting well under way, the total carload movement of Texas vegetables during May, as compiled by the bureau from daily reports of the United States department of agriculture amounted to only 7,633 cars as compared with 10,126 cars in the corresponding month a year ago.

"Although the quantity of shipments were smaller, quantity was good, for trade reports show that most of the vegetables being shipped are grading high, particularly the tomatoes," the report said. "Tomato loading totaled only 650 cars during May, due to the fact that the main crop of East Texas tomatoes will be late on account of injuries to the early plant by the March freeze; last year in May, 2,673 carloads of tomatoes were shipped. Potato loadings at 1,080 cars, were only about half the shipment for May last year.

"The first cucumbers, string beans, and green corn of the season moved out during May, with 626 cars, 158 cars, and 74 cars respectively being included in the total. Onion loadings amounted to 3,672 cars as against 3,184 cars in May, 1931. Twelve cars of greens, 46 cars of beets, 228 of carrots, 543 of cabbage, 64 of sweet potatoes, and nine of lettuce were loaded during May with loadings of mixed vegetables and spinach dwindling down to 469 cars and two cars respectively as their season comes to a close.

"The United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics index of fruit and vegetable prices, too, showed a gain from 78 in April to 80 in May, the fourth consecutive increase in this index."

SOUTHERN DELEGATES TO DEMO CONVENTION ASKED TO WEAR COTTON SUITS

AUSTIN, June 13.—Southern delegates to the Democratic National Convention, to be held in Chicago June 27 are being urged by the National Association for Increased Use of Cotton to wear a cotton suit on at least one day of the convention.

Regional presidents of the association are forwarding personal letters to all of the delegates from the cotton states. J. E. McDonald, Commissioner of Agriculture and President of the Texas Division of the National Association, forwarded the letters to Texas, 144 district delegates and 40 delegates at large.

"National delegates render an unselfish and patriotic service to their state and nation, and this service can be materially broadened if every delegate from the cotton states should provide himself with a cotton suit to be worn on at least one day during the Chicago convention," Commissioner McDonald wrote. "The National Association for the Increased Use of Cotton respectfully urges that you provide yourself with a cotton suit."

"A letter similar to this is going to every southern delegate to our National Convention. Our only motive is the promotion of more use for cotton, and we have implicit confidence in our delegates cooperating in this endeavor."

Deputy Sheriff A. A. Fisher, of Rowena, was here Monday attending court and transacting official business.

H. E. Petty, of Maverick, attended to business in Ballinger Monday.

Professor Says Prosperity Gains In Some Nations

AUSTIN, June 13.—Returning to his duties as professor of government at the University of Texas after a year's leave which he spent in various capitals of Europe studying the political and economic systems of the different countries, Dr. C. P. Patterson gave a cheerful picture of the public affairs of England, Germany and France, considering the general depression and unrest that exists throughout the world. He declared that Great Britain is making rapid progress toward her old-time prosperity and normalcy in trade; that the slogan "buy British" is being followed and that the non-partisan tariff commission to handle tariff problems is functioning satisfactorily. The British government is being operated on a mandate and declared policy of the people, Dr. Patterson said. Dut to the fact that France has never been industrialized and that it is primarily an agricultural country it has not been affected by the present world crisis to anything like the degree of other countries, but the hoarding of gold and the higher costs of money there is beginning to cause unsatisfactory business conditions. On the whole, however, France is in good shape.

Dr. Patterson visited Italy and was given the opportunity of investigating personally the effects of Mussolini's rule. He said that he did not get to meet the dictator but he talked to men who were close to him in government affairs. There is no unemployment problem in Italy, he said. Everyone is busy and the people and country are moving along to the satisfaction of those who are behind the new order of things. Conditions in Austria are bad—the worst of any country in Europe, according to Dr. Patterson. The industrial situation in Germany is little better than that of Austria.

Notwithstanding the general improvement in economic conditions of England, France and Italy, the people of those countries have a gloomy psychology, due to the high cost of money, the lowering of commodity prices, heavy taxes and the hoarding of gold by France, he said. It was his expressed belief that there is little hope of the European countries paying their war debt.

"We have learned this lesson—at least I have—that you can't wage a war and pay the bill," he said. "This country has to be the goat."

SKULLS OF ANCIENTS FOUND AT VAN HORN

For several days in a window of the Van Horn Trading Company persons have been viewing the skulls of people of an ancient race which inhabited this section several centuries ago. In the window are five skulls, two separate jaw bones and implements used by people who probably came from the Far East by way of the Behring Sea.

The skulls are thought to be those of Indians known as basket makers, and judging by the type of basketry found with the skulls, together with other things around them, it is judged that they were those basket makers of type No. 3 inhabiting the Trans-Pecos region. Three other cultures of basket makers are recorded in history.

Teeth were in most of the skulls found.

Joe Ben Wheat and Burch Carson, the taxidermist, found the skulls and other things back under a ledge in a mountain in the Bean canyon covered with four inches of dirt and rock. It is supposed that the Indians were killed in battle and buried in the cave about 2,500 or 3,000 years ago.

Near the skulls were found pieces of basketry, beads, a shell pendant, knives of flint, a spearhead, two bone chisels and a carved-bone knife.

There was also found two poled stones used for ceremonial purposes. Search was also made in the vicinity for a "fending stick," a primitive article about two feet long of peostocene warfare, but seldom found by geologists. A few may be seen in museums of the country.

Prof. E. B. Howard, archaeologist of the University of Pennsylvania, has been in region north of Van Horn recently to renew his previous two years' studies and explorations. Last year he found near Carlsbad not only the skeleton of a basket maker but also a large piece of camel's hair which appeared as part of the burial.—Van Horn Advocate.

Mrs. J. H. McClain, who was operated upon in the Halley & Love Sanitarium last week, is reported to be improving nicely and probably will be able to return home this week-end.

Card of Thanks

We desire to express deepest appreciation to our many friends who were so kind during the illness and death of our loved one, Mrs. Mack Brown. The doctors, nurses and our friends were indeed thoughtful of her and us in the long days of illness and in the sorrow to us when death took her home. Especially do we thank Rev. C. P. Jones, Rev. W. H. Doss and Rev. C. R. Hooton of Fort Stockton, who did so much to comfort us. To all who sent flowers and those who did us any favor we appreciate it more than we can express.

Safety First Take that Clunk off the Road

WHICH?

Your Unsafe Car
In the Junk-Yard
Or a Victim
In the Graveyard

If you had to make the decision today you know what your answer would be.

And yet that is the jeopardy with which every man drives an unsafe car . . . a car with insecure brakes; with tires on the verge of collapse; with unreliable steering gear; with bad lights.

And where is the percentage? Take a life and it will cloud all your future with horror and regret. Heavy damage suits will far exceed the cost of a new car or complete repairs. Prison or your own life may pay the penalty.

What a prospect against the saving of a few paltry dollars.

MELLOWED A HUNDRED MILLION YEARS

While Tyrannosaurs stalked their prey in PENNSYLVANIA

NATURE did many useful as well as useless things in prehistoric times. In the Devonian Age, a hundred million years ago, she hid away in the Pennsylvania District the raw materials for the Bradford-Allegany crude oil which Sinclair now refines into Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil. Then, while these materials were mellowing and filtering their way to the lubricating perfection for which Bradford-Allegany crude is famous today, she went into an ugly mood and created those frightful brutes, the Tyrannosaurs. Nothing but fossils remain of the Tyrannosaurs today—but Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil, refined 100% from Bradford-Allegany crude, is known everywhere for its exceptionally high quality. Try a crankcaseful of Sinclair Pennsylvania, made 100% from Pennsylvania's costliest crude.

Questions and Answers about Conoco Germ Processed Oil

Q: WHAT DOES "GERM PROCESS" MEAN?

A: The words "Germ Process" describe the scientific method by which this oil is manufactured. Such processing adds immeasurably to the oil's lubricating properties. North American patent rights to this Process are owned by Continental—only CONOCO oils are Germ Processed!

Q: IS IT DIFFERENT FROM OTHER OILS?

A: Yes. It is the only oil of its kind, and does what no other oil can do. The Germ Process gives it the ability to penetrate and combine with metal surfaces in your motor. The Germ Process your motor. The Germ Process also gives more "oiliness" than any other oil. Any oil would be better oil if Germ Processed.

Q: WHAT IS THE "HIDDEN QUART"?

A: The "Hidden Quart" is tangible evidence that CONOCO Germ Processed Oil penetrates metal surfaces and gives surer, safer lubrication. During the first 250 to 350 miles after your first fill with Germ Processed Oil, a pint to a quart seemingly disappears. On later fills, it does not. That's the Hidden Quart—it stays up in your motor and never drains away! Other oils drain away when your car is idle, leaving vital parts unlubricated during the starting period, when almost half of all motor wear occurs. CONOCO's Hidden Quart lubricates before your motor starts—cutting down costly starting wear!

Q: WHY SHOULD I CHANGE TO CONOCO GERM PROCESSED MOTOR OIL?

A: Because, by cutting down starting wear, it gives your motor longer life, keeps it sweet-running and saves expensive repair bills. Because Germ Processed Oil's extra oiliness makes your car run better. It forms a stronger piston-ring seal, making starting easier and giving more power. It withstands crankcase dilution and high temperatures. CONOCO Germ Processed Motor Oil gives you the safest, surest lubrication you can buy. Change now to this better oil at any CONOCO Red Triangle station.

Restless, could not sleep

“THERE were days when I felt like I could not get my work done. I would get so nervous and ‘trembly’ I would have to lie down. I was very restless, and could not sleep at night.

My mother advised me to take Cardui, and I certainly am glad she did. It is the first thing that seemed to give me any strength. I felt better after the first bottle. I kept it up and am now feeling fine.”—Mrs. T. R. Gibson, Fort Payne, Ala.
