Sales Tax Reflecting A Growing Economy

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that sales taxes collected in April, May and June of this year showed a healthy increase over last year's collections.

"This is further confirmation of a recovered Texas economy and of a state that's in economic expansion," Bullock said.

The Comptroller's office last Friday sent $148 million in sales tax rebate checks to cities and counties throughout Texas.

Payments to cities totaled $135 million, an 11 percent increase over last August's payments and an eight percent increase over last year's total payments at this time.

Muleshoe's current payment was $22,073.44, down 21.02 percent from the comparable payment of $27,946.72 for the same time last year. For the year, this brought Muleshoe's total payments to $141,559.32, down 8.74 percent for the year from last year's total payments of $155,116.88.

From Cochran County, Morton received $5,940.78, down 5.01 percent from the $6,253.86 they received during the same month a year ago. To date this year, they have received a total of $38,070.65, down 4.12 percent from the $39,705.79 they

CHECKING OVER RECOVERED MERCHANDISE--The training room at the Muleshoe City Police Department looked like a small department store Thursday morning, after city officers recovered more than $2,000 in merchandise that had been stolen Wednesday night from Anthony's. Here Della Snell, MPD employee, looks over some of the jeans that were recovered. Six suspects were apprehended, and officers have a warrant for a seventh suspect. The investigation into the burglary is continuing, said MPD Chief Wayne Holmes. (Journal Photo)

Rainfall Varies Throughout Entire Area; .25 To 4 Inches

Whatever happened to all the June rain? Why, it started falling in August, of course.

Again this week, rains fell in varying amounts throughout the area, with some of the largest amounts being recorded in the Maple - Goodland - Stegall areas, along with a strip from Earth to Olton.

At the same time, the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge reported .72 on Tuesday and .05 on Thursday evening.

From the Lazbuddie community, Foster Fertilizer reported one to one and a half inches on Thursday evening and night, which followed .8 on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

At the Don Bryant home in the Pleasant Valley community, one inch was recorded on Thursday night.

Mrs. Preston Cargile said they received one inch of rain Thursday night at Lariat and .6 at their farm at Clay's Corner west of Lazbuddie.

From Bula, Bennie Claunch said from one inch to an inch and a half had fallen during the week, leaving the southeast corner of the county almost out of the moisture picture during the week.

At the Jim Crawford home in the West Camp community, only about .25 was recorded on Thursday night.

The Dodd Gin in far northwestern Lamb County recorded 1.9 inches of rain Thursday night, along with small hail that apparently did no property damage.

Unofficially in Muleshoe, .80 was recorded Tuesday afternoon and another .50 on Thursday evening.

Northeast Muleshoe reported around an inch on Tuesday and another inch on Thursday near the eastern city limits.

More than four inches was said to be recorded in some areas in the southwestern part of the county.

However, at Maple proper, the Maple Co-op Gin reported one inch, with just .50 just south of the gin, and three to four inches within a couple of miles north of the gin.

At the same time, the Muleshoe National Wildlife Refuge reported .72 on Tuesday and .05 on Thursday evening.

From the Lazbuddie community, Foster Fertilizer reported one to one and a half inches on Thursday evening and night, which followed .8 on Wednesday afternoon and evening.

At the Don Bryant home in the Pleasant Valley community, one inch was recorded on Thursday night.

Citizens Telephone Call Prompts Quick Action

Thanks to a Muleshoe citizen who 'chose to become involved' a burglary at Anthony's was thwarted by Muleshoe City Police Wednesday night.

Around 11:30 p.m., the Muleshoe City Police Dispatcher received a telephone call to inform her that "something was wrong at Anthony's."

The dispatcher notified MPD Patrolman Chris Lopez, who was in his patrol car -- and coincidentally, just around the corner from Anthony's on the north side of Perry's.

Lopez rounded the corner -- and there it was, the store was being burglarized.

He called for backups, and immediately gave foot chase. After a short chase, he ran down one suspect and took him into custody.

Responding officers quickly rounded up more than $2,000 in stolen merchandise and took the suspect to jail.

Ricardo Sanchez, 19, was booked into the Bailey County Sheriff's office and charged with the burglary.

Officers spent all day on Thursday working on the burglary and by late Thursday night, had taken three more adults and two juveniles into custody.

The adults, Felipe Blanco, 17; Elizar Garces, 17 and Joe Arredondo, 17, were booked into the county jail, also charged in the burglary.

The four adult suspects were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Jack Bates, who set bonds at $5,000 each.

An arrest warrant is also outstanding for another adult in the burglary.

Recovered by officers were articles of clothing, including a lot of jeans and denim pants, and at least one gold watch.

Chief of Police Wayne Holmes said, "We want to express our sincere appreciation to the local citizens for calling us when something does not appear to be right."

"Such cooperation is essential for the officers to perform their duties. Our police department is only as good as the people it serves.

"When people come forward to help us, and let us know when something is wrong, it helps us do our job."

Chief Holmes reminded that a lot of the time, there is only one officer on duty at night to cover the entire city. In many instances, such as what happened Wednesday night at Anthony's,

Leland Brockman Honored At TSA Convention

Leland Brockman, son of Phil and Judy Brockman of Lazbuddie, was honored in June at the Technology Student Association's (TSA) National Convention in Corpus Christi.

Brockman had won State for his entry in the woods competition at the state contest in Waco. His project was a home entry door made of ash, with leaded glass inserts and antiqued brass hardware. He built the door in his industrial technology shop class at Lazbuddie to be given to his parents for their home entry.

Brockman entered the project in the TSA Regional competition at Lubbock where it took first place and was advanced to the State level contest. Again Brockman was awarded first place and was invited to the National Convention, where State winners were honored and were asked to display their projects.

Lazbuddie's industrial technology instructor, Mark Scisson, accompanied Brockman to Corpus Christi for the week-long event. They were joined later by Brockman's parents.

Lazbuddie has one of the most comprehensive and up-to-date industrial technology programs in the state. School officials stated that they are very proud of Leland Brock-man's performance last year. He will be a sophomore at Lazbuddie.

Lazbuddie Home Economics News

Before the close of the school year, Mrs. Barbara Lust's Comprehensive Home Economics class hosted an appreciation dinner for the Lazbuddie school board members, administrators, and their spouses.

Mrs. Lust reported that the freshman girls came to her with a request to put on the event in order to give special recognition to Lazbuddie's administration leaders for their hard work on behalf of the students.

The class had finished a classroom unit of study on etiquette, serving, and table manners. The girls combined their learning with their expression of gratitude to the special guests.

The event took place in the school's home economics room, where the students had planned and prepared the elegant menu. The girls provided decorations, music, and candlelight for a very surprised and pleased administration.

Mrs. Lust said that she was very proud of the girls for coming up with the idea for the project and for the way that they carried it out. They incorporated the skills learned in the classroom unit and at the same time, paid tribute to Superintendent, Joe Hall, high school principal, Roy Willingham, counselor and elementary principal, Anne Farris, the Board of Trustees, and all of their spouses.

Class members included: Raquel Guzman, Joni Hernandez, Erin Jones, Lori McBroom, Marsha Mendoza, Tisha Orozco, Maria Pacheco, Christina Perkins, Carmelita Ramos, Joele Weaver and Amy Willingham.

MRS. KEVIN MC ALPIN
(nee Kendall Ranea Cross)

The First United Methodist Church of Canyon was the scene of the wedding of Kendall Ranea Cross and Kevin Shane McAlpin, Saturday, Aug. 11 at 7 p.m. The Rev. J. Frank Peery of the Methodist Church at Adrian, former pastor in Canyon, read the single ring vows.

"Perfect Union," "Cherish The Treasure" and "The Wedding Song" were presented by vocalist, Sheri Cross, sister-in-law of the bride, with accompaniment by Marilyn Dees, pianist-organist.

Foliage and white floral arrangements accented the fifteen branch and pair of seven branch candelabras as well as the two pyramiding tree candelabras. White bows marked family pews and foliage accented the communion rail.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride chose a designer gown fashioned of white silk shantung. Her gown had a removable long-sleeve jacket with an overstated portrait collar and strapless fitted basque bodice lavishly accented with beaded French Alencon laces. The straight fitted skirt flowed into a detachable silk cathedral length train. Her veil of illusion was held to a silk bow.

Kelly Cross of Pampa, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Amy Cross of Pampa, sister of the bride, Lisa Winegeart of Pampa, Joan Burns of Pampa and Stacy Swanson of Amarillo. They wore black taffeta gowns with fitted bodice and basque waist with a full white taffeta skirt, accented with white bow in the back.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with black and white plaid vest and a bow tie, accented with a white rose and stephanotis boutonniere on the lapel. His attendants wore black tuxedos with black and white plaid vests and bow ties.

A formal reception followed at the church where the white wedding cake featured floral decorations. The table was accented with a white floral arrangement, silver punch bowl and dishes for nuts and mints on a lace covered table. Serving were Lynda Hunnicut, Stacey Gaines and Karol Cargill.

The adjacent groom's table held an oval German chocolate cake with silver coffee server on a lace cloth as Jara Behrens and Terri Hollis served guests.

The couple entertained with a dance reception following at the Holiday Inn in Amarillo. They will be taking a wedding trip at a later date and are making their home in Dallas.

Ushers were Shawn Rice and Daniel Escabedo, Jr., both of Texline.

The couple was honored with a reception at the Hudspeth House in Canyon. Guests made their own sandwiches and wedding cake and punch were served for dessert. A dance reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Amarillo.

Creative Living

By Sheryl Borden

Information on new diabetes treatments, reducing calories with the microwave, and being consistent with children will be "Creative Living" on Tuesday, August 21 at 12 noon and Saturday, August 25 at 2 p.m. (All times are Mountain.)

Dr. Lois Jovanovic-Peterson serves as a "spokesperson" for Boehringer-Mannheim Diagnostics and is research scientist in Santa Barbara, CA. She will discuss three major new areas of diabetes treatment and will explain the role of self blood glucose monitoring for all diabetics.

Bonita Snyder, Director of Product Development with Bama Pies, Ltd. in Tulsa, OK, will explain how to reduce calories in diets by using the microwave oven. Better utilization of the microwave oven, especially to reduce caloric intake, results in healthier dietary regime.

Jane Bluestein, founder of Instructional Support Services, Inc. in Albuquerque, N.M. is going to talk about the importance of parents being consistent in dealing with their children. She will not only present the different aspects of consistency, but will also address the difference between attacking a problem and attacking a person. Dr. Bluestein emphasizes that consistent rules and clear limits allow children to make better behavioral choices.

On Tuesday, August 21 at 9:30 p.m. and on Thursday, August 23 at 12 noon, "Creative Living" will present information on a "Survival Kit for Mothers" having the perfect picnic, and purchasing the newest in fashions.

Kay Willis, founder of Mothers Matter in Rutherford, N.J., is going to share what she calls a "Survival Kit for Mothers." According to Ms. Willis, motherhood deserves the same recognition as other professions, and probably all mothers would agree.

Some of the items she will show are obvious, some are a surprise, and some apparently whimsical, but each is chosen to focus on the principals of the Mothers' Matter philosophy.

Teresa Farney, with the National Turkey Federation in Reston, VA, will show how to serve a perfect picnic by choosing nutritious foods that are easy to prepare. Ms. Farney is going to show an array of meals all made from nutritious, low-calorie lean turkey.

Jacqueline Davis, designer for Lady J in Covis, will share her fashion forecast. Each season it is exciting to see what new colors, new styles, and new fabrics the designers will feature.

"Creative Living" is produced and hosted by Sheryl Borden. The show is carried on more than 100 PBS stations in the United States, Canada, Guam and Puerto Rico.

Dryland cotton is still an 'iffy' proposition at this point, and no farmers are willing to predict what types of crops they will be producing this year. Cotton gins have said it will be another short ginning season this year.

AAM Leader Denounces Farm Bill

American Agriculture Movement (AAM) National President Harvey Joe Sanner announced that even though there were some very good aspects to the 1990 Farm Bill, the bad far outweighed the good and he and his organization, after much deliberation, would not support the bill.

"Congress sent a loud and clear message to the trade negotiators at the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT)," said Sanner "that we are not buying what they are selling. The 1990 Farm Bill should have made it evident to Secretary Yeueter and Trade Representative Hills that the United States Congress still writes the laws in this country."

Sanner went on to address another positive perspective of the bill saying, "Our lawmakers were not deceived by those who would label farm programs as welfare programs. That is why they defeated measures like the Arney-Schumer and Reid amendments which, if passed, would have excluded many of our full time producers from the Farm programs."

"I was also pleased to see the peanut program remained intact. It is one of the few programs that work well for farmers and consumers. I wish some of our other commodity programs were written and administered as well as the peanut program. The sugar program was another survivor, despite intense pressure from the administration to kill it."

"But when you add it all due to more counties collecting sales tax now than last year, Bullock said.

This month's checks reflect taxes collected on June sales and reported in late July by businesses filing monthly returns. Also included in this month's payments are sales taxes reported by quarterly filers whose collections reflect sales made in April, May and June.

Merchants collect the state and local sales taxes and send them to the Comptroller's office with their tax returns. The state keeps its share and sends cities and counties the local portion of the sales tax each month.

All local sales taxes must be approved by area voters and may be used for any legal city or county expenses. Most areas put the money in their General Fund and use it for operations like fire fighting, maintaining roads and law enforcement.

up," Sanner remarked, "it means less money in farmers pockets. Congress seems content to extend the windfall for food processors and grain traders while denying parity to producers. That being the case there is no way we as a farm organization, representing every day, full time, family farmers can, support such a bill."

AAM National Director David Senter expanded by saying, "The Farm Bill as it has been passed out of both the Senate and House does nothing to preserve farm income, much less improve it. America's farmers need a fair price at the market place, and this bill ignores that fundamental need. Congress has chosen to ignore what farmers all over the nation demanded during all of the field hearings. Farmers expressed their need for higher prices at every stage of the farm bill debate."

Senter went on to comment on the politics of the process.

"Even though there were true champions of rural America that stood up for and fought for farmers and consumers, they did not prevail. This farm bill is nothing more than the 'Green Book' revisited," he said, referring to the administration's farm bill proposal. "In fact, it is getting harder and harder to recognize Democratic farm policy from that of the Republicans," he added. "There is essentially no difference, and therefore no alternatives."

Sanner declared, "After much consideration and debate, we have no choice. Farmers have not been misled by the vicious campaign of rhetoric and misinformation orchestrated by the administration. This bill will put hundreds of thousands of this nation's farmers off the land over the next five years. We cannot support such an attack on America's farmers, therefore, we have made the decision not to support the bill, nor will we be upset if it draws a veto."

Nursing Home News

by: Joy Stancell

Saturday afternoon Ruth Clements was on hand to play Bingo and Skip-Bo with the residents.

Each Sunday morning the Muleshoe Church of Christ brings the communion service and Katherine Sanders teaches Bible study. Sunday afternoon Clara Weaver had a visit from her son, Jerry, of Lazbuddie.

Monday morning Clara Lou Jones read to the residents from the Bailey County History Book. Visitors in the nursing home were: Lucy Faye Smith, Mrs. Floss Baldwin, Retha Knowles, Elsie Kendall, Maxine Ragsdale, Ruby Clark, Johnnie Kimbrough and Rue Kimbrough. Mrs. Otilie Wisian was visited by her daughter, Kathy Hawkins of Abilene. Other visitors were Ruby Green, Gordon Duncan and Erwin Nieman.

Tuesday Laverne James, Claudine Embry, Linda Low and Diane Grumble were busy in the beauty shop, and might I say, our ladies sure looked pretty. Shonna Smith helped with the manicures. Mary Suran had a visit from her brother, Stephen and wife. Effie Smith's niece, Dorothy Joyner, Dorothy's daughter and granddaughter, all from Lubbock visited in the afternoon.

Wednesday Mrs. Pettyjohn had a visit from her daughter, Pat Clements, of Muleshoe and her son, J.L. of Hugo, Oklahoma. Clifton Farley did some shopping for the residents. Mary Sisemore was surprised by a visit from her son, Gene Sisemore, his wife, Norma, their daughter, Melissa, her husband, Jerry, and their son, Jerrad, all from Hale Center.

Thelma Stearns enjoyed a visit with her daughter, Joyeline Costen.

Holly Milsap, Rue Kimbrough, Irene Splawn and Grace Scarborough played Skip-Bo with some of the residents. Judging from the amount of laughter and small talk, I would say that they all had an enjoyable afternoon.

Pinky Barbour visited with his mother, Mrs. Allie Barbour.

We certainly appreciate Johnnie and Rue Kimbrough for helping with our exercise program.

Each Thursday morning Mike Doyle hosts a coffee for the men. Coffee and pastries are served in the day room and the fellowship is great.

Oil, Gas Drilling Permits Decreased

A total of 1,166 drilling permits were issued by the Railroad Commission in July, according to RRC Chairman Kent Hance. In June, the total was 1,228. July 1989's total was 1,200.

The July total included 663 permits to drill new oil and gas tests, 52 to re-enter existing well bores, 52 to deepen existing holes, 178 to plugback existing holes, and 81 for other wells. Operators were also issued 140 amended drilling permits.

Hance said permits issued for new oil and gas holes in July included 36 in the San Antonio area (District 1), 32 in the Refugio area (District 2), 70 in Southeast Texas (District 3), 52 in deep South Texas (District 4), 17 in East Central Texas (District 5), 36 in East Texas (District 6), 73 in West Central Texas (District 7B), 60 in the San Angelo area (District 7C), 82 in the Midland area (District 8), 89 in the Lubbock area (District 8A), 85 in North Texas (District 9), and 31 in the Panhandle (District 10).

In the first seven months of 1990, the Commission has issued 7,783 drilling permits, a ten percent increase from the 7,072 issued during the same period of 1989.

Questions & Answers

From Bob Bullock

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Friday that hundreds of thousands of Texas families are not receiving the help they need because Texas doesn't get its fair share of federal funds, and families don't know which of 16 state agencies to turn to.

"Texas' health and human services programs are administered by 16 separate agencies—more than any other state in the nation. This confusing and wasteful fragmentation is literally taking the food out of children's mouths, and preventing many of Texas' poor, disabled and elderly from obtaining essential medical attention. Every day Texans are suffering because our patchwork bureaucracy is failing to respond to their legitimate calls for help," Bullock said.

Bullock's comments came as he released the third report of a five part series which details how and why Texas is losing about $2.4 billion annually in federal funds.

The agency found that some 67,000 disabled Texans go without disability payments they deserve. Another 120,000 low-income women and children fail to receive medical care; 45,000 don't receive food benefits. More than 15,000 families can't get subsidized housing. About 7,100 Texas children miss out on Head Start benefits, and 4,100 don't receive vocational education.

"The report shows that even when Texans manage to work their way through the frequently insensitive maze of state agencies and actually locate the right agency to qualify for aid, they find all too often that the aid is too little and too late.

"When Texans are prevented from getting the federal assistance that is their rightful due, all Texas taxpayers are short-changed because they have to pay the bills that the federal government pays in other states," Bullock said.

This series of reports, called "Dollars We Deserve," is based on a three-year study by the Comptroller's Economic Analysis Center and is the most comprehensive review of federal funding ever done by any agency in any state.

1990 Property Tax Rates in Lazbuddie ISD

This notice concerns 1990 property tax rates for Lazbuddie ISD. It presents information about three tax rates. Last year's tax rate is the actual rate the taxing unit used to determine property taxes last year. This year's effective tax rate would impose the same total taxes as last year if you compare properties taxed in both years. This year's rollback tax rate is the highest tax rate the taxing unit can set before taxpayers can start tax rollback procedures. In each case these rates are found by dividing the total amount of taxes by the tax base (the total value of taxable property) with adjustments as required by state law. The rates are given per $100 of property value.

Last year's tax rate:
Last year's operating taxes	$ 404,377.98
+ Last year's debt taxes	$ 38,404.61
= Last year's total taxes	$ 442,782.59
+ Last year's tax base	$ 45,181,897
= Last year's total tax rate	$ .98 /$100
This year's effective tax rate:
Last year's adjusted taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 442,782.59
+ This year's adjusted tax base (after subtracting value of new property)	$ 46,313,991
= This year's effective tax rate	$ .9560 /$100
× 1.03 = maximum rate unless unit publishes notices and holds hearing	$ .9847 /$100
This year's rollback tax rate:
Last year's adjusted operating taxes (after subtracting taxes on lost property)	$ 404,377.98
+ This year's adjusted tax base	$ 46,313,991
= This year's effective operating rate	$ .8731 /$100
× 1.08 = this year's maximum operating rate	$ .9429 /$100
= This year's debt rate	$ .0524 /$100

(A school district must insert the following lines)

- This year's rollback rate before adjustment	$ 1.0253 /$100
- Rate to recoup lost state funds	$ .0058 /$100
= A. Adjusted rollback rate	$ 1.0411 /$100
B. Rate that would result in maximum state funds	$ .8521 /$100
Rollback Rate (greater of A or B)	$ /$100
= This year's rollback rate	$ 1.0411 /$100

SCHEDULE A: Unencumbered Fund Balances

The following balances will probably be left in the unit's property tax accounts at the end of the fiscal year. These balances are not encumbered by a corresponding debt obligation.

Type of Property Tax Fund	Balance
General	$ 240,000

SCHEDULE B: 1990 Debt Service

The unit plans to pay the following amounts for long-term debts that are secured by property taxes. These amounts will be paid from property tax revenues (or additional sales tax revenues, if applicable).

Description of Debt	Principal or Contract Payment to be Paid	Interest to be Paid	Other Amounts to be Paid	Total Payment
Total required for 1990 debt service			61,123.75
Amount (if any) paid from funds listed in Schedule A			-0-
Excess collections last year			-0-
Total to be paid from taxes in 1990			61,123.75
Amount added in anticipation that the unit will collect only .95% of its taxes in 1990			1,713.49
= Total Debt Service Levy			62,837.24

This notice contains a summary of actual effective and rollback tax rate calculations. You can inspect a copy of the full calculations at FREEB C.A.D.

Packing Right Foods In School Lunch Box, Important

Picking the right lunch box is important to kids this time of year, but packing the right foods is an essential job for parents all year.

"Children take more than their lunch to school. They take their food habits," says Dr. Corinne Montandon, nutritionist at the Children's Nutrition Research Center and assistant professor of pediatrics at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. "If they learn good eating habits early in life, then children will take those habits to school."

Variety keeps lunch interesting. Including a protein, bread, vegetable, fruit and drink also helps parents pack a healthy lunch.

Meat, poultry or fish, peanut butter, cheese and leftover foods, like pizza, roast beef, or hamburgers, make excellent protein choices.

Many types of bread are available for sandwiches. Montandon suggests whole or cracked wheat, pita bread, french bread, hoagie or hamburger buns and even tortillas.

Hunks of lettuce, sliced cherry tomatoes, carrot, celery or green pepper sticks and radishes or other crunchy vegetables make a good substitute for the often-packed bag of chips.

Fresh or canned fruit--apples, oranges, bananas, peaches, fruit cocktail--make good dessert choices. Many children also enjoy packaged puddings, applesauce and mini-yogurts. On occasion, parents should pack a surprise such as oatmeal cookies, gingerbread or even a piece of birthday cake.

Milk, white or chocolate, is the best drink choice. If brought from home, it should be packaged in a cold thermos. "Chill the thermos in the refrigerator overnight by adding cold water," suggests Montandon. "In the early morning pour out the water and add the milk. It will stay colder that way."

For variety, boxed fruit juices work well. Parents should look for pure fruit juices which are often high in vitamin C and provide other needed vitamins and trace minerals. These boxed drinks can be frozen overnight and will thaw by noon.

Preparation also helps save time. "Lunches can be fixed the night before," says Montandon. "Chopping up extra vegetables for tomorrow's lunch or cooking double the amount of meat for dinner are little timesavers."

Montandon advises lunch packers to include a hand wipe or moistener with the lunch. "Children are often in a hurry and do not take time to wash their hands before lunch," she says. "The moistener at least gives them a chance to wipe off excess soil from their hands."

With a carefully packed lunch, parents provide not only a variety of nourishing foods but also help to reinforce health and nutrition habits being established in the home.

Warning Issued On Vapors From Paint, Varnish Remover

"Stinky," "harmful or fatal if swallowed," "vapor harmful," and sometimes "flammable." These are words that can describe a common household product, paint and varnish remover, if not handled properly. If you're planning to strip some wooden furniture, these tips from Consumer Product Safety Commission and the folks who make paint strippers will help you do it safely and effectively.

Before you begin, choose a good work site. If at all possible, use paint and varnish remover outside in a shady area. That way you'll get optimum ventilation, and you won't have to worry about the sun drying the paint remover before it has done its job. If you have to work indoors, open as many windows as possible to create cross-ventilation. Using a fan to aid in ventilation also can be a good idea, but it is important to read the instructions on the label first.

When you're going out to buy paint remover, buy only as much as you'll need. That way, you won't have half-used cans left in your basement. As a general rule, count on using a quart to strip a chair or a small end table.

Next, make sure you have all the necessary tools and materials. You will need newspaper or a dropcloth to cover the ground or the floor underneath the piece to be stripped. Paint and varnish remover can be harmful to eyes and skin, so be sure you have safety goggles that completely cover your eyes, chemical resistant rubber gloves to protect your hands, and clothing that covers all your skin. If you're going to work on a piece that's at eye level or higher, don't forget a hat.

A wide, old paintbrush with natural bristles is a good tool for applying the remover. Don't use plastic bristled brushes, because the remover may melt them. A dull, metal putty knife works well to scrape the remover off. Finer-bladed knives or old strips of sheet will help you get the residue out of fine cracks or intricate scroll work.

Once you've prepared your worksite and gathered your materials, you're ready to start. Pour the amount of paint remover you'll use into a metal can, then reseal the container tightly to prevent spills and excess vapor loss. Apply the remover liberally. Don't brush it on like paint, but lay it on as though you were frosting a cake. Take your time, covering only about two square feet at once. When you've covered that much, leave the work area and take a breather. Let it sit for 15 to 20 minutes so the remover has time to work. If at any time you feel dizzy, uncoordinated, or like you're getting a headache, leave the work area and get some fresh air.

When you come back, the sludge should scrape off easily with the putty knife. Wipe the sludge on a newspaper as you go. Once you have removed all the old paint, wipe any residual remover from the surface with a rag. Remember: your new finish won't stay on the wood unless you get all the remover off. When you've completely finished, dispose of the sludge, newspapers, and dirty rags in clean metal containers with covers.

New School Finance Law Reform Or Retreat?

The much-ballyhooed school finance bill passed this year is a lot less than meets the eye. Passage of Senate Bill 1, under threat of a court takeover of the Texas school system, at least guarantees that schools will open this year, but what about the years to come?

The new law isn't progress. It's a court-ordered stopgap.

Although pupil-rich, property-poor districts won't keep getting poorer, the new law could undermine the very reforms it seeks to foster by undercutting the key element in real reform: the classroom teacher.

A look at the record of the last major school reform bill passed in 1984 could save us from making some of the same mistakes this time around.

The recently released results of a statewide teacher survey conducted by the Texas Federation of Teachers (TFT) are only the latest indications of the real state of our schools. When teachers themselves were asked to grade the education reforms of the mid-1980s, they responded that, despite some successes, our education systems still fails to listen to or reward our teachers. That failure could spell disaster for our students--no matter how much rosier the school funding picture looks.

It's not enough to give every child the chance for a Texas public education if the school system isn't working. And our teachers have responded that the earlier reforms are, in many cases, actually hurting our kids and the teaching profession.

The specifics: TFT surveyed teachers in 60 districts statewide. The districts chosen represent a cross-section of our state in size, geographic location, ethnic make-up and wealth. Teachers were asked to "grade" the reforms of the mid-1980s based on their effectiveness in improving student learning and/or making teaching a more attractive profession. The survey drew over 5,000 responses.

The good news: Teachers gave high marks to the creation of state-funded programs for kindergarten and pre-kindergarten; to setting class-size limits in grades K-4; and to the "no pass, no play" requirement for athletes.

The bad news: Teachers gave the reforms a "D" on effectiveness of the Texas Teacher Appraisal System and the career ladder program, which may see as unfair and arbitrary. They issued another "D" for the measure's effectiveness in increasing teacher autonomy. And the earlier reforms scored a "D" again in their success in reducing needless paperwork. That's "D" again as in dismal, discouraging, disturbing, and possibly disastrous. (For improving teacher salaries, the earlier law received a straight "F".)

It doesn't take a genius to see what those grades mean. The mid-1980s reforms scored some modest successes, successes we should study and build on. But, for the most part, our teachers feel the system ignores them, constrains them, buries them under paper and fails miserably to pay them professional-level salaries. So the people who are the experts on what our kids need to know--the people in the classroom with them--aren't being heard. And if they're not heard, few of our kids have much of a chance for a quality education.

In the TFT survey, teachers have spoken more clearly than ever before. The question is, will our state and local governments and our school districts listen and act accordingly? The new school finance law doesn't earmark funds for teacher salary increases. And it may allow the state to waive district requirements to limit elementary class sizes and provide duty-free lunches and 45-minute planning period for teachers. It strengthens the existing emphasis on standardized tests--even though teachers have repeatedly reported that "teaching to the tests" prevents them from addressing students' real learning needs. In short, the new law gives with one hand while taking away with the other.

As a Texan concerned with my state's future, I'm troubled by the tendency to cite "bad teaching" as the source of our educational failures. This "blame the teacher" attitude discourages would-be recruits and drives experienced teachers out of the profession. Let's not ignore our best hope for solving the problems that plague public education: the wisdom and experience of our teachers, who spend every day of their working lives on the frontlines of education.

Policy-makers, take note: Teachers have spoken: "It's time to stop punishing us and start listening." Now it's up to public officials and administrators to respond. That way every Texas child will get an equal chance at a better Texas education.

Auxiliaries Recognized For Contributions

The Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries Inc. recently released its annual report of contributions to Texas hospitals in 1989-90.

The senior or adult membership, composed of 33,461 members, contributed 4,463,493 hours of service to Texas hospitals.

The 4,607 junior volunteers contributed 374,754 hours.

The auxiliaries presented $5,644,390 in gifts to Texas hospitals. They also awarded $680,423 in the form of 1,042 scholarships to college students pursuing health and medical careers.

With 320 member auxiliaries, TAHA is represented by auxiliaries of all ages who are committed to serving others in health care facilities in Texas.

TAHA is an allied association of the Texas Hospital Association, the Austin-based hospital trade association, which represents its members' collective interests regarding public policy and serves as the advocate for legislative and regulatory issues affecting the health care industry.

No one can afford serious mistakes but everyone makes them.

It's not very difficult, in hot weather, to feel too tired to work.

Look into the mirror and you can see what others see. Like it?

Tech Students Recognized In Competition

Three senior agricultural economics students at Texas Tech University recently placed third overall at a competition sponsored by the American Agricultural Economics Association (AAEA) in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

Jason Johnson, son of Margaret and Larry Johnson of Jacksboro; Wade Kuehler, son of John and Patsy Kuehler of Amarillo; and Blane Smith, son of Jerry and Donna Smith of Lazbuddie; represented Texas Tech at the AAEA's Academic Quiz Bowl.

The Quiz Bowl, which is conducted like a television game show, is an annual component of the student section of the AAEA meetings. In the competition students demonstrate their knowledge and skill by answering questions in several areas of agricultural economics.

Members of the Texas Tech team competed against 15 other teams from the United States and Canada. Texas Tech was the only Texas university represented at the event. Washington State University, which entered two teams in the competition, placed first and second.

Johnson, Kuehler and Smith were selected by faculty in Texas Tech's department of agricultural economics from approximately 280 students enrolled in the department. The three students were chosen for their academic achievements and excellence in the classroom.

"These three outstanding students did an excellent job of representing Texas Tech, in addition to gaining national attention for the university's academic program in agricultural economics," said Steve Morse, assistant professor of agricultural economics and team coach.

Johnson, who served as Texas Tech's team captain, also was elected as a national vice president for the student section of the AAEA. During his one-year term, Johnson will represent members of the southern region of the United States at various AAEA functions.

Also during the conference, Texas Tech was recognized as having one of the top three AAEA student chapters in the United States and Canada. Judging for the contest was based on club goals and objectives, membership recruitment and activities.

Kiwanis News

By R.A. Bradley

Thirteen Kiwanians and two honorary Kiwanians met Friday morning at the La Placita Cafe.

President Jim Lutz called the meeting to order, Eddie Morris led the club in the pledge to the flag and Lyndon Huckaby gave the invocation.

R. A. Bradley had searched all week for a friend who might help him at least in filling out insurance forms for his extended "vacation." Don agreed to help on some program so Brad gave the friendship coin to Don Clapp.

Our two honorary Kiwanians who were present were Robbie Clapp and Jon Kieth Turner. These two young men are home from vacations and ready for school.

Robbie is just back from the west coast where he went thru Disney Land, and Jon Kieth Turner is home from two weeks on the East Coast, or Florida, where Jon Kieth went through the MGM Studios.

Jon Kieth had his choice of Epcot, Magic Kingdom, which both he had seen before, or MGM Studio theme park. So Jon Kieth chose MGM. He got to be in one of the shows. It seems that Jon Kieth really enjoyed his stay in Florida. Jon Kieth, it is good to have you home and back at Kiwanis meetings.

It seems that Robbie Clapp, who went to the west coast, visited Disney Land and also Universal Studios. It looks like the two boys did about the same things, but one on the west coast and one on the east coast. Robbie, it is also good to have you home and back at the Kiwanis breakfasts.

School is about to start, last minute vacations are about over and everything should settle back into a routine and normal.

Preventing, Managing Hypertension

Approximately one in four Americans have hypertension. Untreated, hypertension can lead to heart attack, stroke and kidney failure. Fortunately, a great deal has been learned about hypertension, making it possible for us to control it more effectively.

Hypertension, also known as high blood pressure, occurs when the arterioles, small arteries in organs such as the kidney, become constricted. This increases the pressure and forces the heart to pump harder.

Usually, hypertension has no symptoms. However, it can be discovered and monitored by having regular blood pressure checks. Blood pressure measures the force of blood flowing against the artery walls, both when the heart is pumping (systolic pressure), and when it is resting (diastolic pressure).

Blood pressure is read in two numbers, systolic over diastolic. If the systolic reading is high, usually more than 120, the heart is working too hard and exerting too much pressure to pump blood through the arteries. Cyndi Rohrer, director of The Centre of Cardiac Rehabilitation and Fitness at Methodist Hospital, suggests following these simple steps in preventing and managing hypertension:

•Follow a healthy diet. Your daily diet should include fresh fruits, vegetables, grains, more chicken and fish and less red meat. You also should avoid salt.

•Exercise. Some good aerobic exercises are jogging, swimming, bicycling and brisk walking.

•Avoid alcohol. Excessive consumption of alcohol can raise your blood pressure and cause other health problems. Alcohol is also high in calories and sodium.

•Learn how to effectively manage emotional stress. If you have trouble managing stress, ask your physician to recommend a class or seminar to help you.

Texas Farm Bureau Report

Texas Commissioner of Agriculture Jim Hightower's "mis-handling" of producer funds in a crop inspection program needs investigating more than ever, Vernie Glasson, Texas Farm Bureau executive director, charged August 9.

Glasson made the assertion following Hightower's release of letters on the subject written by Glasson and John Datt, national affairs director of the American Farm Bureau Federation. Hightower said Wednesday the letters support his allegations that partisan politics was involved in a federal investigation of his agency.

"You bet," Glasson said, "it doesn't take a stack of letters to determine that Farm Bureau is out to change the leadership of the Texas Department of Agriculture."

"Our request of the U.S. Department of Agriculture to investigate the mis-use of crop inspection money is old news, but Hightower must be concerned about the federal investigation or he wouldn't have released our letters as a smokescreen."

"Hightower has kept more than a million dollars of producers' money instead of turning it over the crop inspection program. Perhaps he should tell the public why.

"Sure we wrote to the American Farm Bureau Federation office in Washington, D.C. asking it to urge the USDA to complete the investigation we had requested last fall. The USDA has not obliged our request, and it is at fault for not using its resources to dig into the mess we have at TDA."

"Agriculture is an important industry in Texas, and our farmers and ranchers deserve a department that works on their behalf. Jim Hightower has successfully turned the department into an activist political movement that is not concerned about agriculture."

"Hightower is unqualified to serve. Texas agriculture has suffered due to his lack of leadership for the past seven years, and our farmer and rancher members have given us policy direction to make a change." Glasson said.

How to Spot and Prevent Gas Pipeline Emergencies

Natural gas is transported through a system of underground piping. These pipelines are installed and maintained in accordance with highest safety standards, but damage from outside forces can occur. If the pipes are struck or disturbed by excavators or by natural disasters such as floods or tornadoes, personal injury or property damage could result.

You can help prevent or minimize pipeline emergencies by keeping in mind the 3 R's of Pipeline Safety:

RECOGNIZE a pipeline emergency:

- Hissing or shrill SOUND.
- Unusual BLOWING dirt or dust.
- Persistent BUBBLES in water.
- DYING PLANTS amid healthy ones.
- Distinctive SMELL, if odorized.
- FIRE or EXPLOSION near pipeline.

REPORT a pipeline emergency:

Phone the Natural Gas Pipeline 24-hour line: 1-708-691-3399. Call COLLECT.

RESPOND to a pipeline emergency:

- Evacuate the area immediately.
- Avoid potential ignition sources.
- Warn others to stay away.
- Phone Natural.

YOU CAN PREVENT PIPELINE ACCIDENTS:

- Call BEFORE you dig, drill, or doze.
- Watch for our signs at road, railroad and river crossings, at fence lines, ditches and other sites.
- For no-cost location of ALL underground facilities, call the Texas Excavation Safety System (TESS) at 1-800-DIG-TESS. Please call 48 hours in advance.

Thank You
We don't always have the opportunity to express our appreciation for all the wonderful things that people do to help. At this time we want to make sure that our feelings are known.
We wish to thank all our loved ones, friends, and neighbors for all the kindness shown to us during our recent illness. The phone calls, cards, visit visits, food, prayers and simply your concern are so appreciated.
Thank you again for thinking of us.

PLACIDITY

"Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace, whose mind is stayed on thee. Because he trusteth in thee." Isaiah 26:3

"The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus." Phillipians 4:7

God has never promised life without trouble nor progress without striving. He has, however, promised that amid the tumult and strife He would give us an inner peace if we let Him live in our hearts.

Learn about this unusual peace offered to all freely.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.
