VOLUME 56.

BALLINGER, TEXAS, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1936.

NUMBER 3.

Highways and Railroads Suffer Heavy Flood Loss

Traffic over West Texas highways is being resumed rapidly, many men working day and night to get the roads in condition. Highway 30 from Ballinger to San Angelo is passable in all places but one and that will be open in a few days. The concrete culvert just west of Miles was closed over the week-end to allow supports to be reconstructed at each end. Traffic was allowed over the bridge Friday, one car at a time being permitted to pass through the center.

Dirt shoulders have been replaced and drift removed from around the bridges.

The most serious damage in this section was to the bridge spanning the Concho River at Paint Rock on highway 4. A temporary crossing will be made available to traffic this week but it will be several weeks before the bridge can be used. On the north side two large holes in the approach were washed out. The first includes about 100 feet, all the guard rails, dump and pavement being washed away. Nearer the bridge another 50 feet of the high dump will require some time to rebuild. On the south end about 50 feet is out where the dump ties to the bridge and nearer Paint Rock a stretch of 200 feet is washed away to level ground. At present Paint Rock people are coming to Ballinger via San Angelo. Along the entire distance of the dump the down stream shoulder was lost and all the rip-rap was destroyed.

The Santa Fe Railroad's loss between Ballinger and San Angelo is very heavy. Tracks and dump were washed out in a number of spots and several bridges were practically destroyed. Approaches were washed away, rails and ties thrown from dumps and practically all bridges west of Miles damaged.

All the bridges at Ballinger were in good condition when flood waters receded.

A HEAD OF HOGS WASHED TO HARRISON FARM

N. H. Harrison, who lives on the Willingham farm south of town, was here Tuesday and stated that the recent flood on the Colorado River did him much damage. He found four head of stray hogs on his place after the water went down and is seeking the owner. The hogs are black, one sow, two spring gilts and one small gilt. He will be glad to turn them over to the owner if he will come to the farm for them.

METHODIST DELEGATION ATTENDS ZONE MEETING

A number of local Methodist women attended the zone meeting of the Brownwood district at the Coleman Methodist church Tuesday. Sessions began at 9 a. m. and continued in the afternoon. Dinner was served in the basement of the church at noon.

Pastors of the district also met at the same time, Dr. J. T. McClure, presiding elder, conducting the meeting.

Those attending from Ballinger were: Rev. Homer Vanderpool, Mmes. Viola Allison, John Currie, C. P. Shepherd, Jack Nixon, Jr., Jack Nixon, Sr., E. J. O'Kelly, A. B. Legate, Tom Agnew, H. G. Agnew, Troy Simpson, C. G. Jennings, J. A. Schnable, John A. Weeks, R. W. Earnshaw, J. L. Davis, E. S. Cox, J. B. Striplin, John Loveless, W. F. Mason, Wilbur Redwine, J. G. Douglass, Cal Adair, and Miss Alice Morgan.

BARTON ASSISTING IN DRAINING LAKE

John A. Barton, county agent, is assisting this week with the draining of a large lake near Norton. The lake is on the land of Dr. W. W. Mitchell and R. B. Hambright and covers about 100 acres, 50 of which is planted in cotton.

Mr. Barton stated that if the water could be drained soon it would not entirely ruin the cotton.

He stated that there were a number of large lakes in the county formed on cultivated land during the heavy rains last week. Some of these cannot be drained and will destroy the crops that are submerged. A few can be drained by cutting ditches deep enough to run the water into creeks or branches.

CONTRACT TO REMODEL FORT CONCHO AWARDED

A contract was let at Austin Tuesday for the remodeling of Fort Concho, at San Angelo. Cole & Oden submitted the lowest bid, $2,549, and the money will be provided by the federal centennial commission.

Bids for remodeling other historical spots in the state will be opened October 15. The work at San Angelo is to start within a short time.

SANTA FE IMPROVES ITS PROPERTY IN BALLINGER

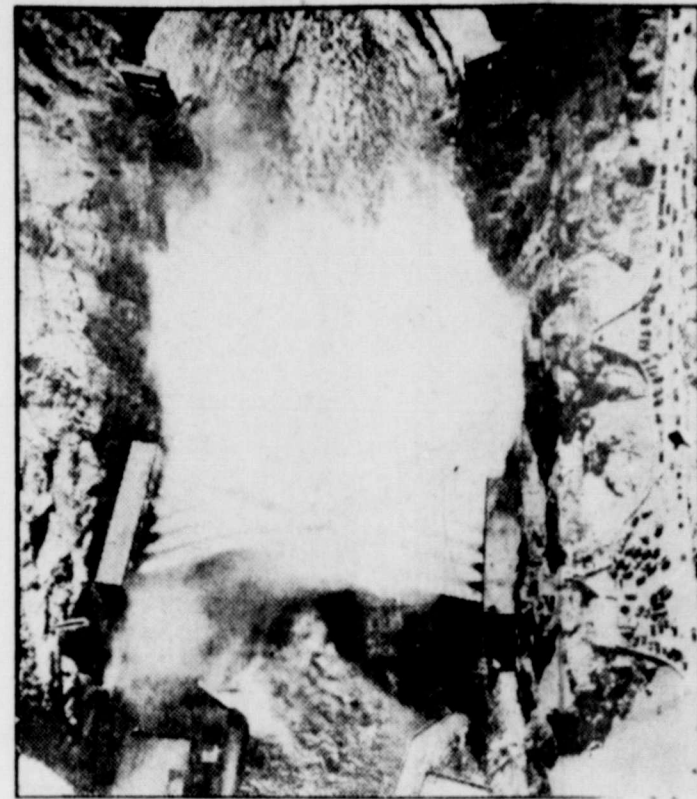

A crew has been here for the past ten days painting the Santa Fe passenger station and improving other property of the railroad in Ballinger. Several work trains have been sent here to do work on the line between Ballinger and San Angelo and the men have made Ballinger headquarters part of the time.

Numerous inspections of the company's roadbed and properties on this branch have been made recently by officials.

Mr. and Mrs. George Goughly, Mr. and Mrs. George Stowe and Felton Wright attended the Hardin Simmons-Daniel Baker football game at Abilene Friday night.

Mrs. G. A. Swann has returned from Navasota, where she had been visiting.

Boulder Dam Torrents From the Air

Here is the scene from the air as 3,600,000 cubic feet of water rushes from 12 Boulder Dam outlets each minute, generating electric power for western cities. The giant federal project was put into full operation when President Roosevelt pressed a button in Washington, D. C., on the opposite side of the continent.

Damage Here from Recent Flood Amounts to Little

Pasture Specialists Will be Here Monday To Address Ranchers Much Property Lost By Ballinger People In San Angelo Flood

R. R. Lancaster, pasture specialist, and H. L. Hensel, from one of the ranch experiment stations, will be here Monday, September 28, to meet with the ranch owners of this section and discuss pasture needs.

John A. Barton, county agent, wants all ranchmen and others interested in pasture land to be at the court house at 2:30 p. m. next Monday to hear the specialists tell what can be done to restore the range in this part of the state. In commenting on the conditions on most ranches, Mr. Barton said that nothing had been done to restore the grass lands and that many pastures were nothing more than "trotting grounds."

The specialists here Monday will discuss sodding, planting of various kinds of grass seed, clearing the ground of underbrush, prickly pears, too many mesquite trees, etc., and getting rid of obnoxious weeds.

Terracing of pasture land will be reviewed and other methods of taking care of the range will be covered. Questions will be answered by the specialists.

Much attention is being given this work by the extension service workers, and with little effort, it is pointed out, much can be accomplished.

Everyone interested in restoring pasture land or any work connected with better ranches is invited to attend the meeting here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Reed and son, of Ranger, visited Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Sykes and Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Sykes the past week-end. They all visited relatives at San Angelo Sunday.

RUHMAN EMPLOYED BY NANCE

Turner Ruhmann has been employed by the Nance Garage. He began his new duties last week.

B. N. Wilke, formerly of Ballinger but now residing in San Angelo, thought he had lost his automobile in the Concho River flood last Thursday. The car was washed away but after the water went down he found it and with a little expense put it back in good condition. He and Mrs. Wilke were forced to leave the place where they were staying when water got shoulder high in the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Luckett lost heavily in the flood. Water was several feet deep in their home and did much damage to the furniture, to the interior of the house and the landscaped yard.

Grady Stokes, buying grain in San Angelo, had a considerable loss when a large quantity of oats and other feed was covered with water. After the flood subsided most of the grain was scattered over a vacant block to dry and all possible was salvaged.

Harold Clark, with the Robert Massie Funeral Home, lost most of his wardrobe in the flood. When he left the funeral home he took only the clothes he was wearing and the rest were washed away.

Weeks' drug store, in the Cactus Hotel, sustained a very slight loss. The basement storeroom, where about $2,000 worth of merchandise was stocked, was only partly filled with water. Clerks in leaving the basement pulled the door shut and it held water from that section so only a small amount of the merchandise was wet.

JIMMY HARGETT, FORMER RESIDENT, RETURNS HERE

Jimmy Hargett, recently of Sweetwater, has returned to Ballinger and has resumed his former duties with the Santa Fe Railroad here. Mrs. Hargett and the children will come here just as soon as he can secure living quarters.

Property losses from the recent flood here were estimated Monday to total only a few thousand dollars. Many residents in the "flat" lost heavily on household articles when the Colorado River got out of its banks and swirled several feet deep around about 75 houses. The negro section of the city and a small part of the Mexican colony lost heaviest. Most of these anticipated the overflow and put their belongings on tables and up out of reach of the water, but furniture, bedding and some clothing were caught in the dirty water and damaged.

At Fair Park there was damage of $200 or $300. Water was about three feet deep in the buildings and left much silt when the river current subsided. Two sections of the fence were washed away but Secretary J. D. Motley stated Monday that most of the material had been located and was being returned to the park to be replaced and that very little new lumber would be required to rebuild the two sections.

Fire hoses were used to wash out the buildings and little loss is anticipated there. Everything stored in the buildings was high enough to forestall damage and a wagon was sent to the park Friday morning to bring out tin dishes kept there before they rusted.

Some livestock is missing as a result of the flood but owners have hopes of finding these animals. Farmers living along the river report that many chickens were caught in the submerged region and spent several days in trees. Some were returning home Monday after being away for four days.

A few rural residences in low areas were marooned and one man found a rattlesnake on his dining table after returning home when the water crest receded.

City Secretary K. V. Northington stated that the city sustained little damage to dirt streets. The heaviest expenses would be to remove the mud left on downtown pavement. The West Texas Utilities Company reports much damage in district G but

San Angelo Traffic Is Terrific Sunday When Curious Visit

Apparently everybody in West Texas attempted to visit San Angelo Sunday and view the damage from the recent flood. The highway between Ballinger and that city was lined with automobiles all day and those who made the trip reported that most streets were lined with automobiles until traffic was a problem.

It was estimated that 50,000 people visited San Angelo during the day.

A check was made at the Colorado River bridge at Ballinger from 4:32 to 6 o'clock Sunday afternoon and 657 cars crossed the bridge during that period. This traffic jam continued far into the night according to those who live on Hutchings Avenue.

Parties returning here from San Angelo late Sunday afternoon stated that it was practically impossible to pass a car as a solid procession filed down the right side of the road.

Appeals were made over the radio for curiosity seekers to stay away from San Angelo and give the citizens a chance to work, but the request did little if any good. A number from here who visited the neighboring city Sunday afternoon said they were sorry they went because of the crowded condition.

Harris Evans, of Houston, visited home folk here over the week-end.

Surveying of University Lands Will be Finished This Month

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—Surveying crews will this month complete all of the field work connected with the survey of the two million acres of land owned by the University of Texas, with the possible exception of a tract of 11,520 acres in El Paso county. It has not yet been determined by the board of regents whether the El Paso lands shall be embraced in the present survey, due to the fact that during the last few years there has been no demand for them for grazing purposes.

This survey, as it should probably be designated, is the largest undertaking of its kind since the sold body of 3,000,000 acres of land in Northwest Texas, originally granted the Capital Syndicate, of Chicago, in exchange for the construction of the state capital at Austin, was resurveyed some years ago. The Capital Syndicate land survey resulted in the discovery of an excess of 89,000 acres which reverted to the state.

The original survey of the 2,000,000 acres of endowment lands of the university was necessarily roughly made due to the remoteness of the several tracts and the inadequacies of field equipment. It will not be determined for several months, perhaps, whether or not there were excesses or deficiencies in the original survey. These will be shown when the field notes and other data of the survey have been worked out under the direction of the land department of the university.

The survey of these lands was started in 1929. In some respects it has been a stupendous job due in some instances to the rough region in which some of the tracts were situated. The work is in charge of Frank Friend, special surveyor of the university, with headquarters at San Angelo. The erection of boundary monuments on more than 2,000 square miles of university lands in Schleicher, Irion, Reagan, Crockett, Upton, Terrell and Pecos counties was recently completed. These permanent markers are constructed of concrete and have a length of four feet. Embedded in the top of each monument is a brass plate representing four sections of land, each of 640 acres, with the number of the blocks and sections stenciled thereon.

At this time there are producing oil fields upon university blocks of land in Reagan, Pecos, Ector, Crane and Ward counties, with a total of approximately 275 wells.

The discovery well upon university land was completed in May, 1923, in what is now the Big Lake field in Reagan county. Since that time wells upon the institution's lands in that and other fields have produced a total of approximately 150,000,000 barrels of oil, of which the university has received as its share, including lease bonuses and rentals, more than $22,000,000, all of which has been placed to the credit of its permanent fund, shared by Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College.

In addition to the 2,000,000 acres which it owns in West Texas, the university has title to 4,130 acres in Galveston county, 200 acres near Port Davis, which is the site of the W. J. McDonald Observatory, and a considerable acreage in Austin, including the campus of the main university.

LARGE RATTLER KILLED

Raymond Hash came to town Sunday morning with one of the largest rattlesnakes seen in these parts in a long time. The reptile was killed by young Hash on the Russell ranch near Ballinger, with a double-barreled shotgun. The rattler was not so very long, but its body was unusually large in circumference. Some of the rattles had evidently been broken off as there were signs of the appendages having been there at one time.

As Strikers Halted Lettuce Trucks

The above picture was typical of many scenes throughout the Salinas valley in California as 5000 striking lettuce workers sought to make their strike effective by tying up transportation of the perishable vegetable. Trench fields and refrigerated storage houses. Trucks were thrown through truck windshields and kerosene was poured on the lettuce. Striking employees said the million-dollar lettuce crop, which forms the basis of the nation's salads, would spoil unless moved to market soon.

New York Stock Exchange Traced to Year of 1789

Up to March 4, 1789, trading, to Americans, meant hitching up the bays, driving three or four miles to town, and swapping seven dozen eggs and a bit of butter for a bolt of calico. While the cash circulated was kept in private banks, or under the mattress. There were no such things as stocks and bonds, says Literary Digest.

On that date the New world became, overnight, a nation of investors; for the first congress of the United States, meeting in the Sub-Treasury building in New York city, authorized the issuance of $80,000,000 of government bonds, to consolidate and refund the cost of the Revolutionary war.

Thus, by the scratch of a pen, an entirely new form of property was created—a form of property for which there was no regular market nearer than London or Amsterdam. How could such a vast flotation be sold to thousands of small investors scattered throughout the 13 states?

Twenty-four alert auctioneers saw their chance; with a rude wooden table and a bench from a nearby street, they set up business under a button-wood tree on the site of what is now 68 Wall Street. When inclement weather drove them indoors, they sought shelter in one of the convenient taverns or coffee houses.

Within three years their business had grown to such proportions that these early traders found it necessary to organize. On May 17, 1792, the 24 signed an agreement fixing certain rules; that was the beginning of the New York Stock exchange.

Smallest Land Is Tuned to Music and Festivals

Music plays an important role in Luxembourg, one-sixth of its small army, it used to be said, composed the band. Ancient times and saws are the order of the day for festivals.

One of the most interesting of these is the strange procession at Echternach every Whit Tuesday, when 20,000 dancing pilgrims, swaying three steps forward and two back, go through the town to the old time, "Adam, He Had Seven Sons." Then, at Luxembourg, the capital, the March of the Muttons is celebrated each year, snow-white lambs making their puzzled way through the streets, followed by musicians playing the old Mutton march.

Older than Luxembourg's castles are its Druid ruins and customs. On the summit of one of its hills, which is crowned by a mysterious stone, children build a fire one night each year, and then waving burning brands come rushing down through the torch-lit darkness into the village at the foot of the mountain. This custom began before history was written.

Less than half the size of the little American state of Delaware, the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg has a total population less than that of San Antonio, Texas.

Bird's Nest Soup

Bird's nest soup, traditionally famous for its nutritive value, both in the Orient and our own country, is not actually made of "bird's nests." The word "nest" is a misnomer, according to a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Bird's nest is a gelatinous substance found in and around the nests of swallows in the rocky regions of Indo-China and the South Sea Islands. The substance is derived from fish and certain sea foods which the birds carry to their nests as provision for future use in the period of feather shedding. Some chemical change evidently takes place while being carried by the birds and during storage in their environment. When prepared for soup it is used in small bits or in filaments and is transparent and colorless.

War Memorials

Every war leaves behind it memorials of generals, battles, and sieges in the names of new streets, and a curious instance of this is afforded by Stratton street, Bruton street, and Berkeley square, all lying together on the north side of Piccadilly. Sir John Berkeley of Bruton won a battle at Stratton in Cornwall in the Civil war, and, when his London estate was developed, these names all appeared.—London Tit-Bits Magazine.

Jefferson Davis in Politics

Jefferson Davis first became prominent in politics as a member of the house of representatives and later as a senator from Mississippi. He served in the Mexican war, having been educated at West Point. During President Pierce's administration Davis was secretary of war, and was said to rule both President and cabinet. In 1857 he was returned to the senate, where he remained until chosen president of the Confederacy in 1862.

Athlone and Literary Shrines

Athlone, gateway to that part of Ireland west of the River Shannon, is also the gateway to two of Ireland's literary shrines—Lissoy and Edgeworthstown. Lissoy was the boyhood home of Oliver Goldsmith and was made famous by him as "Sweet Auburn" in "The Deserted Village." Its commercial decline is illustrated by Goldsmith's former house, which is now used as a cattle shed.

Frigates Have Six Anchors

Frigates have six anchors. They are—the cockbill anchor, the hogger, the fish anchor, the six anchor, the bow anchor, and the stern anchor.

Mysterious Typhoid Epidemic of 37 Years Ago Finally Traced

PARIS, Sept. 23.—What caused a mysterious epidemic of typhoid fever thirty-seven years ago in the army garrison at the town of Lure, in eastern France, has just been discovered.

In 1898, when this epidemic struck, no possible cause was found for it. No case of typhoid fever which might have infected the soldiers could be traced in the neighborhood. Water for the garrison came from a deep, cool spring so placed that it seemed impossible for polluted material to enter it. Presently the epidemic subsided and was forgotten, except by families of the victims and a few medical historians.

Two years ago two French geologists exploring in the region with no thought of the 30-year-old epidemic discovered a mysterious loss of water from the River Ognon, a small tributary of the River Saone.

At a certain place along its bed this stream grew smaller without visible reason. The two geologists, MM. A. Guillerd and E. Bedon, suspected hidden cracks into which some of the water was vanishing. To test this they got two pounds of the dye called fluorescein, dumped it into the river and watched nearby springs and streams for the dye's reappearance. Nothing appeared.

Tests were repeated this year with twenty pounds of the dye. This time a trace did appear, two days later, in the very spring from which the garrison of Lure had drunk during the forgotten epidemic. MM. Guillerd and Bedon reported a few days ago to the Academy of Sciences in Paris that both mysteries have been solved.

The vanishing river sinks into the rocks and reappears in certain nearby springs. In 1898 a case of typhoid somewhere along this river evidently infected the spring water of the garrison.

Senator: "Great guns! I knew someone would have something to say about it when I went to church with my wife last Sunday."

Lecturer: "We must preserve our forests and save our nation from becoming a desert. Is there a man in this audience who has ever done a single thing to achieve this end?"

Small man (modestly): "Well, I'll venture to say that I've shot and killed at least a hundred woodpeckers in my time."

Poet: "Are you the man that cut my hair the last time?"

Barber: "I don't think so, sir. I've only been here six months."

STREET WORKERS REPAIR BREAK UNDER PAVEMENT

A leak developed under the pavement in front of the Forson Barker Shop on Eighth Street Tuesday afternoon. A break in a three-inch water line was forcing water up through the pavement and causing the bricks to rise over a wide portion of the street.

Repairs were made Wednesday and the paving replaced by city employees.

Terracing Proves Worth to Farmer Who Began in '21

J. A. Patterson, who lives in the Hagan community, about six miles west of Ballinger, stated to County Agent John A. Barton this week that he built terraces on a 20-acre field in 1921, that was badly washed with both sheet washes and ditches, and now the terraces had aided him in the prevention of sheet washes and all his gullies are filled and level.

Mr. Patterson went on to say that his terraces have not only held the soil but have greatly increased his crop yield over the period of 15 years due to the holding of much needed moisture in dry years.

Mr. Patterson said he felt that at least he had been returned an average of $1 per acre in crop production and has had the value of $1 per acre in holding the water and soil, making a total return per year of $2. This over a period of 16 years makes a total return of $32 per acre or a total value for the 20 acres of $640.

These terrace lines were leveled off by County Agent D. F. Eaton, who was one of the first agents to do much terracing work in Rannels county. Mr. Patterson stated a V-shaped drag and plows were used in construction of these terraces, with two neighbors cooperating in helping each other which permitted the construction of the terraces without any actual outlay of money but if paid at that time on the basis of man and horse labor would have cost the total sum of $135 per acre or $27 for the whole job on the 20 acres.

Mr. Patterson stated that terraces need not be expensive to build, and from the standpoint of investment it is in his opinion one of the very best that a farmer can make, and one that will increase in value as the years go by.

Meador-Bridwell Wedding Solemnized Sunday

Miss Willwood Bridwell became the bride of T. C. Meador Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bridwell on Broadway.

Only the bride's parents witnessed the beautifully simple single ring service performed by the Rev. J. H. McClain, pastor of the Ballinger Baptist Church.

The bride wore an ensemble of swallow blue with gray lapin trim. Her accessories were navy. She is the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Bridwell and has lived her whole life here. She is a graduate of the Ballinger high school and of North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton. During the past year she was a teacher in the San Angelo public school.

Mr. Meador is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Meador, prominent pioneer ranch couple of Schleicher county.

Following a trip to Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Meador will be at home on their ranch near Eldorado.

Simplon Bore Is Longest Railway Tunnel in World

The longest railway tunnel in the world, and one of the greatest borse enterprises of any age, is the Simplon Tunnel connecting Switzerland with Italy through the Alps. It is approximately twelve and a half miles long and was completed in 1905, after about six and a half years' work and at a cost of $1,400,000, says Til-Bits Magazine.

The tunnel consists of two parallel passages, sixteen and a half feet wide, and from 5,900 feet to 7,000 feet below the top of the mountain above it. The two passage-ways are connected by transverse galleries at intervals of 500 feet for ventilation and transportation purposes.

The chief difficulties encountered by the men who bored it were the intense heat, which often rose to 110 degrees Fahrenheit, and the large number of springs, especially hot springs, that turned the tunnel at times into a veritable canal and necessitated the suspension of work for months at a time. To overcome the torrid atmosphere cold water was pumped into the borings through pipes pierced with small holes, so that the water sprayed the side of the tunnel and the men at work as well. Through this spray fresh air was forced.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Butler and Mrs. Homer Carsey went to Comanche Sunday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Hugh Rambo.

PENNEY'S

SPORTS

The newly equipped athletic field offered the fans everything they could want Monday night but a victory. There were boys selling nice soft pillows, boxed candy with a prize in each and every package, drinks, programs, peanuts, a snappy pep squad, a good band, and every other comfort and entertainment.

Gate receipts for the opening game were a little over $275 which is equal to a holiday game in previous seasons.

The Bearcats will go to Menard Saturday to meet the fast class B team there in a night game. Play will be called at 8 o'clock. Local fans are invited to accompany the team.

The opening conference game will be played here on October 2 with the Rising Star boys furnishing the opposition.

The Bearcats at present are far from a football team and unless additional material comes out and the players start snapping into it there will be no district race so far as Ballinger is concerned.

What is wrong in Ballinger? In next to the largest town in the district, the Bearcats are the smallest squad and in most cases the smallest squad of any school in class C in this section. The school offers everything possible for its students. Football players are provided the best equipment that can be bought, are under two of the best coaches in West Texas, have the best field of any class B school in this part of the state, the loyal pep squad does more than its share to win, a good band adds color at games, and a bunch of fans is behind the eleven in everything it does, yet there is less material out for football here than at Paint Rock, in class C. The local lads seem interested in football; it is hard to think they are "yellow" and unless mama and papa are holding out for "tiddle de winks" instead of football, we can't understand why the coaches are not overrun with material instead of not having enough for scrimmage.

Later we will have something to say about individual players, good or bad, but for the present we shall pass up remarks of this nature and await further developments.

HIGH SCHOOL PEP SQUAD TO PUBLISH PROGRAMS

The Ballinger high school pep squad will publish the programs for all football games played here this fall. The program carrying the names of players, their numbers, positions and weights, will be furnished patrons of the games free this year. Advertising will be sold on the programs and the pep squad will build up a fund from this with which to carry on its activities during the season.

Heretofore firms had had programs printed for games during the season but the school will operate all concessions connected with the 1936 games. Merchants are requested to take advertising only in programs published by the pep squad girls. Miss Elizabeth Parker, leader, and members of the squad will solicit before each game.

EQUILIBRISTS, LIKE BOOKKEEPERS, MUST "STRIKE A BALANCE"

An equilibrist, like a bookkeeper, must be able to "strike a balance." There is this difference, however: if a bookkeeper fails he is likely to lose his job, but if an equilibrist fails he may lose his life.

The dictionary describes an equilibrist as "one skilled in balancing, as a rope-walker." It mentions nothing of sea lions which perform balancing feats as difficult as any accomplished by humans; of men and women who execute intricate dance steps and turn backward somersaults on a strand of wire, of a girl who stands on her head atop a 25-foot pole balanced in her male companion's belt, or of the many other accomplished equilibrists who perform with Russell Brothers 3-Ring Circus, which is scheduled to give matinee and evening performances in Ballinger, Saturday, October 3.

Possibly the most novel balancing feat on view circus day will be that of Captain Dalbeard, who jumps while balanced on the hub of a plain old wagon wheel and then climbs a 15-foot staircase in this odd position, leaps to a table and then to the ground—all, of course, without losing his balance.

The Great Alberto may cause spectators with weak hearts to hide their eyes when he climbs a rope to the roof of the "big top" and slides backward to the ground. Ranking high among the equilibrists in Russell Brothers Circus is Buddy H, a performing sea lion presented by Captain Walter

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALLERS TO OPEN SEASON OCTOBER 2

The Ballinger junior high school football team will open its season October 2 at San Angelo, meeting the San Angelo junior high school eleven. The local lads will find stiff going in their first match as the San Angelo team is one of the best in the state and has an abundance of reserves.

About 30 local juniors are working out daily and are rounding into form fast.

Mrs. George Stowe left Monday for Coleman to visit friends a few days.

Passengers in the smoking compartment on my train were arguing about why railroad business is picking up.

A factory owner said it was because of this new Free pick-up-and-delivery of less than carload freight. This is door-to-door service with no extra charge added to the freight bill.

A traveling salesman said it was because so many passenger and freight trains now run on faster schedules.

There was a school principal in the group and he said it was because train travel is so much cheaper for passengers. He said passenger fares are at the lowest point in history, with substantial reductions if you buy a round-trip ticket—and no more surcharge for riding in sleeping cars.

One man, a farmer, said he liked something he could depend on, that's why he was traveling by train.

Another man, a newspaper reporter, said people were in favor of railroad travel because it is by far the safest. He quoted a lot of statistics from a book called, "Live and Let Live."

A banker we all know by name said railroad tax payments mean a lot in this state.

We are proud of railroad achievements, appreciate the public's good will and increased patronage, and pledge continued progress.

Putnam Gets 12-6 Victory Over Bearcats in Opener

A crowd of about 1,000 saw the first night football game in Ballinger Monday evening and attended the dedication of Bearcat Field. The stands were fairly well filled when the floodlights were turned on.

The only disappointment was when the Putnam team, coached by Bill Wright, brother of Coach Felton Wright of the Bearcats, posted a stinging defeat of 12 to 6 on the locals, soundly whipping the Ballinger team from the first to the finale.

The Bearcats furnished only two thrills during the entire evening. The first came when Sheffy grabbed a Putnam pass and raced 55 yards for the only local score of the contest. The next came in the third quarter when Ashenhurst took a short punt and made a beautiful run of 45 yards, emerging in almost a clear field.

Putnam evened the count in the second quarter when Brandon intercepted a Bearcat pass on the 45-yard line and returned the ball to the 20-yard stripe. Here Ballinger drew a 15-yard penalty, putting the ball on the 5-yard line and Cunningham carried it over on the second try. A line plunge failed for the extra point.

With only a few minutes left to play in the fourth quarter Putnam started a steady drive down the field that went for a touchdown and gave the visitors the big end of the 12-6 count.

Putnam had the game in the bag all the way, making 160 yards to the Bearcats' 120 on running plays, penetrating the 20-yard zone four times and making ten first downs to Ballinger's three.

Cunningham, Brandon and Jobe were outstanding performers for the visiting club. Carter and Barnett, of the locals, showed up well on defensive play with Sheffy and Ashenhurst doing most of the offensive.

The Bearcats were weak on tackling and blocking was almost out of the picture. The local team is mostly new this year, only three lettermen of 'last year's squad returning. Material for the coaches to work with is scarce.

At the dedication rites preceding the game Coach Bill Wright, of Putnam, was presented. He complimented Ballinger on the beautiful set-up at the park but added, "the small amount of material is a disgrace for a school the size of Ballinger. You have more students in the senior class than we have in the entire high school." Coach Paul Gibbs, of Ballinger, invited boys to come out for training and urged parents to permit them to do so.

All speakers on the dedicatory program were present with the exception of Blondy Cross, of San Angelo. Supt. H. C. Lyon acted as master of ceremonies and after several announcements presented the following program:

"Planning for the Field," Tom Caudie, postmaster, and a former member of the board of trustees

"Our Present Athletic Policy," A. McGregor, of the athletic committee of the board of trustees

"A Word of Appreciation," Felton Wright, coach

"How I Like to Help," Paul Gibbs, assistant coach

"What We Propose to Do This Fall," Melvin Holt, Bearcat captain

"How We Can Help," Miss Elizabeth Parker, manager of the pep squad

"Ballinger Schools," Troy Simpson, editor of The Ledger

"The Ballinger Spirit," J. D. Motley, secretary of the Ballinger Chamber of Commerce.

THREE RURAL SCHOOLS IN COUNTY OPENED

Three rural schools, Millar, Benoit and Hagan, began their fall terms Monday morning and Oifen and Dale No. 2 will start next Monday, September 28. The remainder of the rural schools, with the exception of Spring Hill, will begin the fall term October 5.

Trustees expected that the opening of the term there would be delayed because of being unable to complete the building by October 5.

RHODE ISLAND RED HEN LAYS GIANT DOUBLE EGG

Later it was dropped and broken and it was discovered that there was another egg inside the large shell.

In making this oil, a patented "hyper-oily concentrate," as Science terms it, is used to alloy a most carefully refined mineral oil. That is Germ Processing! It has two sure effects . . . (1) makes the familiar type of oil-film many times stronger . . . (2) backs this far stronger film with an entirely extra Oil-Plating. Oil-Plating is an actual deposit of Germ Processed oil, fixedly Plated to every moving part. So you have oil-film sliding on Oil-Plating . . . oil-moving-on-oil! And you can't keep farther away than that, from "another quart of oil." Continental Oil Co.

FAMILY REUNION HELD AT LOVE HOME SUNDAY

A family reunion was held Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. S. Love with all the children and their families present except Holiday Hayley, of Tyler. Some of the children arrived Thursday to spend the week-end and the others came in Sunday morning. Some remained this week for a longer visit.

It was a happy day with all the family together and the climax came at the noon meal Sunday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Preston and daughter, Pauline, of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Preston, of Abilene; Mrs. Holliday Hayley and children, Mary Love and Holiday, Jr., of Tyler; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Preston and son, John Arthur, of Pearsall; and Mrs. E. A. Richardson, of Pearsall.

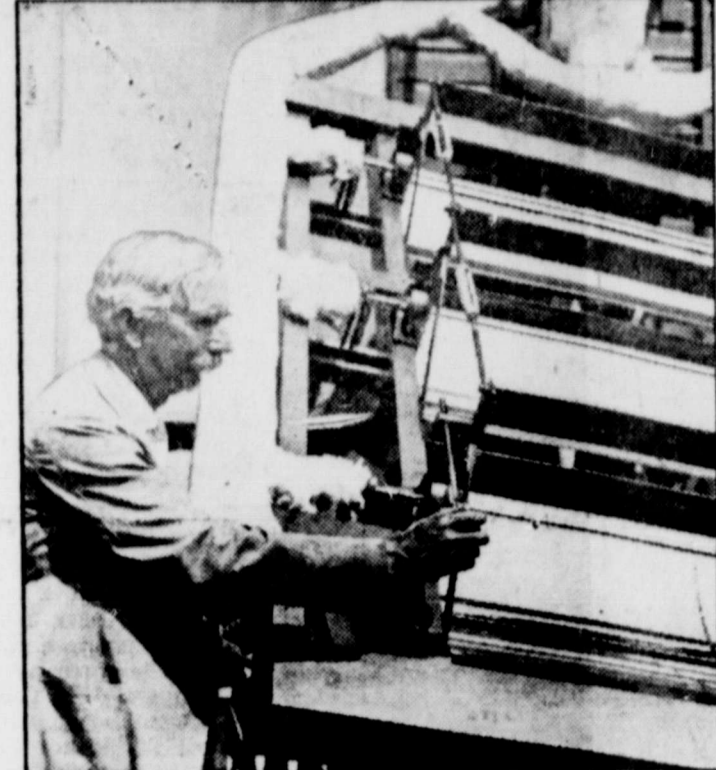

12-YEAR WALK HOME FROM WAR IS ENDED

GYOR, Hungary, Sept. 23.—After walking for twelve years, Michael Horvath, has reached his old home from Siberia, where he was taken prisoner during the World War and detained there after peace was declared.

In 1924 he started to walk the 10,000 miles to Gyor. It was the only way of reaching his own country, for he had no money. Almost everywhere, especially in Poland, he fell among friends who provided him with food and shelter. At last he set foot a few weeks ago in Hungary, and when, in the first village he entered, he knocked at a door to ask for bread he was amazed to find it opened by his old company commander, who gave him an enthusiastic welcome.

A ton of cornstalks yields from 10,000 to 20,000 cubic feet of gas when subjected to a fermentation process.

Lets Old Sol Do the Work

Hoping for a "little less sun next time," Dr. Charles G. Abbott examines his sun ray machine which operates a half-horsepower steam engine by Old Sol's heat alone. After showing his invention successfully for newsreel cameramen, Dr. Abbott, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, saw his demonstration before the Third World Power Conference in Washington, D. C., ruined when the day's intense heat melted solder connections, allowing an all-important chemical to escape.

Professor Claims Certain Bacteria Commit Suicide

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Living bacteria which drive plant roots out of the soils they live in by poison-gas attacks, efficiently but foolishly; since the presence of these roots may be necessary for future generations of the germs, are described in a letter to the editor of "Nature" by Prof. W. Neilson Jones, of the University of London.

The poison which the bacteria produce is the gas called ethylene, also contained in some kinds of coal gas and which is so extremely poisonous to plants that it has caused many cases of serious damage in greenhouses into which tiny traces of coal gas have seeped from leaky gas jets or defective pipes.

Trying to find out what kept plants from growing in samples of some soils containing large amounts of the organic matter or so-called "humus" usually supposed to aid soil fertility instead of damaging it, Professor Jones pumped gas out of these soil samples with a powerful air pump.

This gas was found to poison plant roots in the same way that the soil did and in a way similar to the poisoning caused by ethylene.

No Difference

"But," said the would-be-son-in-law to the girl's father, "what is your objection to me as a suitor for your daughter's hand?"

"My chief objection is that you cannot keep her in the style in which she has been brought up," replied the irate father.

"At any rate," said the enamored youth, "I can start her on bread and milk, the same as you did."

Fresh Primus: "What would you do if the girl on whom you were calling said that she never wanted to see you again?"

Fresh Secundus: "I'd jump to my feet and leave."

Fresh Primus: "And let her fall to the floor?"

HAS YOUR ADDRESS CHANGED RECENTLY?

Ledger subscribers are requested to notify the publisher of any change in their addresses promptly. Under the new postal laws newspapers and periodicals must pay postage due for notices of any change in addresses furnished by the postoffice. Besides, there is always the probability that your paper will be delayed or fail to reach you altogether if you do not give immediate notification when you move. The best plan for all concerned is to send the change of address in advance.

Ballinger citizens will have an opportunity the remainder of this week to assist our neighbors at San Angelo in recuperating from the recent flood. Red Cross headquarters were established here early this week to accept donations for San Angelo flood victims and the local Lions and Rotary clubs will be in charge of the booth. Persons wishing to give anything to the storm fund may leave it with any member of these clubs, at The Ledger office, or at the booth on Hutchings Avenue.

Interest in the Runnels County Fair is mounting as the opening date draws nearer. Exhibits and demonstrations are assured for one of the best fairs held here in recent years and all that is needed now for a successful celebration is a crew of enthusiastic workers to get behind the wheel and push. A fair without the cooperation of local merchants is impossible. They must help advertise the big show, decorate their stores, make exhibits, assist in parades and be on the welcoming committee to hand out the glad sign for the visitors.

The greatest benefit from the recent rains in this section will be to the range. Ranchmen in town this week stated that grass was turning green and with continued favorable weather cattle and sheep will be able to go until after Christmas without feed. Few ranches were damaged by washes during the downpour. Most of this immediate vicinity received fairly gentle precipitation and now has a "season" which will be good until late in the winter without additional moisture. Fields along river bottoms and in lowlands were damaged considerably because crops were submerged and some washed away. Some farmers along the river also lost much feed that had been out and shocked and the extent of the damage will be difficult to determine. Others on higher ground think their crops were benefited by the rain and that late cotton and feed will be boosted.

Mrs. McMilian will remain at LaGrange with relatives several days before returning home.

Women from the teen age to the change of life have found Cardui genuinely helpful for the relief of functional monthly pains due to lack of just the right strength from the food they eat. Mrs. Crit Haynes, of Boon, Mo., writes: "I used Cardui when a girl for cramps and found it very beneficial. I have recently taken Cardui during the change of life. Winters will not be short on city water for some time, according to a report from there. A total of 11.94 inches of rain fell there last week and the municipal lake lacked only three feet of being filled. Winters property was not damaged by the rain which did much damage in other parts of West Texas. Crops in the community were damaged somewhat but not seriously enough to cut production a great deal.

Coleman is rapidly becoming one of the best paved cities in central West Texas. Last week eight blocks of new pavement were opened and plans are being made to start immediately on four more blocks of paving in the city. The eight blocks opened last week bring the total to 20 new blocks of paving opened there within the past twelve months.

Supt. Taylor of the Robert Lee school received a letter last week stating that the application for the school addition has been tentatively approved at the Fort Worth PWA office and has been in Washington several days awaiting final approval and allotment of funds. The government grant will be 45% of the cost of the new structure.

Within the past two months Comanche business men have installed more than $3,700 worth of new electric signs and these with the new lights on the court house square and the electric signs previously in use have turned the city almost into a white way at night. Comanche is rapidly becoming one of the most modern cities with improvements in buildings being made regularly.

The Miles Cooperative Gin Company has under construction a cotton storage house, on a lot adjoining the gin yard. The frame building, 14 by 26 feet, with walls and roof of sheet iron, will contain 16 stalls. Each stall will hold four bales. Modern loading equipment is being installed at the storage house. The total cost of the building and equipment will be about $1,800.

James Grote, Mason youth who completed an outstanding call demonstration last spring, was high point judge of the entire contest, making a total of 1,326 points. BROWNSVILLE—Two dustings of 20-80 formula of copper monohydrate dust increased yields 100 bushels per acre on the farm of Harry Whipple, of Cameron county, according to Henry L. Alsmeyer, county agricultural agent.

The two dustings were 10 days apart, the last dusting being made 30 days before the potatoes were dug.

BEAUMONT—By fertilizing and cultivating his land properly and selling his melons from a roadside stand, Richard Weiss, Jefferson county 4-H club boy, made $197.50 net profit from one acre of melons, according to J. E. Combs, county agricultural agent.

Richard used 700 pounds of 6-10-7 fertilizer which cost $12.50. The labor cost for planting, cultivating, and harvesting was approximately $20. He sold a number of his melons from a roadside stand at 30 to 50 cents each. The remainder was sold at 10 to 20 cents each to wholesalers who came to the fields for the melons.

GARDEN CITY—John Dickerson, ranchman in Glasscock county, recently reported that his flock of 25 white Leghorn hens is still producing 18 eggs per day, the same as they produced before he sold 23 of his hens.

H. F. Kothmann, Reagan and Glasscock county agricultural agent, recently held a culling on Dickerson's ranch and culled out many of the non-laying hens in Dickerson's flock.

Dickerson reports that his feed cost has been cut 50 per cent through the elimination of his "star boarder" hens.

While attempting to rob the Joseph Dry Goods Co. store, Mr. Joseph and several friends entered the store with some new merchandise which they had brought from another city and were preparing to put it in the shelves when they noticed a hole cut in the roof. Believing the burglar was still in the building they summoned aid and upon investigation found the would-be burglar hiding behind a clothing rack. The man was lodged in jail and no attempt has been made to post bond.

Work was started at Brady the past week-end on the city's new postoffice. Ground was broken and actual work begun on the $60,000 building. J. J. Fritch, of Dallas, has the contract for the new structure, which is to be completed in 210 working days. The building, 64 by 72 feet, will be constructed of light colored brick and marble.

35 BOYS ENROLL IN V. A.
CLASSES AT WINTERS

Thirty-five students have been enrolled in classes of vocational agriculture at Winters, according to J. M. Williams, instructor in the Winters school. This represents an increased enrollment of approximately thirty per cent over last year. The boys are showing plenty of enthusiasm over their projects, having already purchased 14 beef calves while sixty lambs will be put on feed in the next few days. Other projects to be started soon will bring the number of animals on feed to well over a hundred.

A projects show will be staged at Winters in March. Premiums for a similar show last year amounted to $150, this amount being donated by merchants and business men of the city.

The V. A. students have an active F. F. A. chapter. Officers elected to serve throughout the year include: Ellis Lee, president; Cecil Vinson, vice-president; Gerald Proctor, secretary; Franz Beltz, reporter; Merle Proctor, treasurer; Walter Onken, parliamentarian; Weldon Mills, watch dog; Afton Hudson, historian; and J. M. Williams, advisor.

Rev. J. H. McClain was the "marrying parson" in Ballinger the past week-end, performing three rites Saturday night and Sunday. The first was Saturday night at 9 o'clock when L. C. Williams and Miss Ruth Stokes, of Talpa, were married at the McClain home.

The next couple appeared at 11:30 Saturday night. J. W. Roberts, of Ft. Stockton, and Miss Elizabeth Herridge, of Concho, were married at that time. Mr. Roberts had been water bound for several days and had been trying to get here to meet his bride-to-be.

Sunday Rev. McClain was the officiating clergyman at the wedding of T. C. Meadows and Miss Willwood Bridwell.

In addition to the above duties, Rev. McClain conducted the usual services at his church.

BALLINGER SCHOOL NEWS
By Bitsie Lynn

The senior class met on Wednesday, September 16, for the election of officers and sponsors. The officers elected were: Duard Sheffy, president; Bitsie Lynn, vice-president; Camille Behringer, secretary-treasurer. Sponsors elected were Miss Elizabeth Parker and Mr. George Stowe. There are sixty-three members in the senior class. They expect to do big things this year.

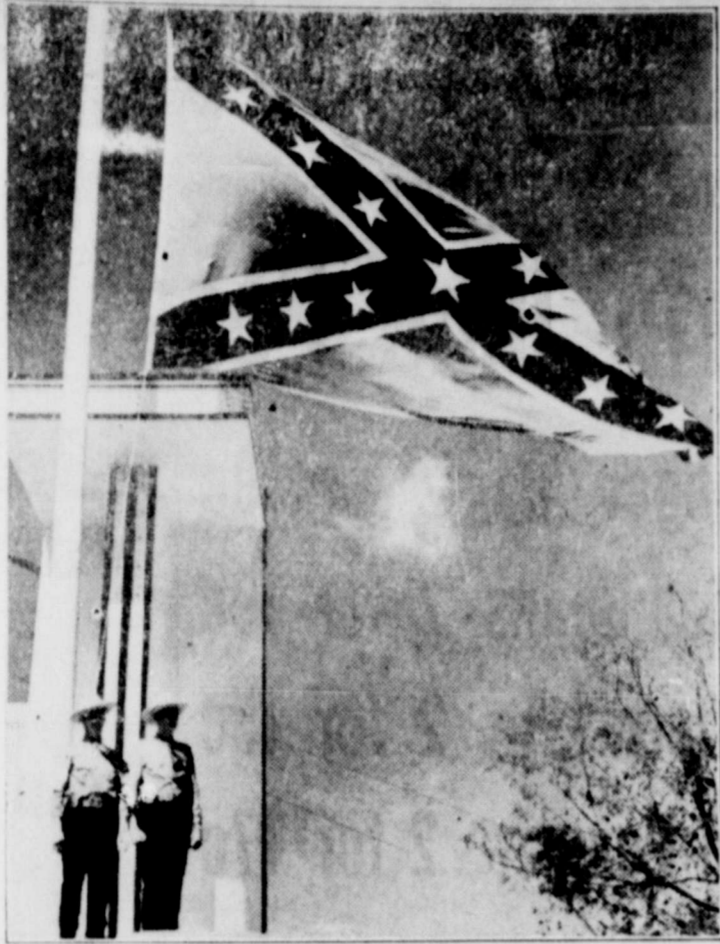

This year the "Ballinger Peppers" will have a drum corps which will add to the pep squad one hundred per cent. Part of these drums are being bought by the pep squad through selling advertisements for football programs. This work has been done previously by The Ledger office. Stars and Bars Droop for Dern upon but will be elected in their next meeting. There are seventy-one juniors this year.

The Battle Flag of the Confederacy, emblem of a lost but glorious cause, flutters at half mast at the Texas Centennial Exposition in Dallas recently in respect for the late Secretary of War George Dern. The Stars and Stripes was at half mast also. Centennial guns at Camp Stephen F. Austin thundered a funeral salute throughout the day of the Dern funeral.

The new physical education classes are divided into six groups. The senior boys are under Mr. Felton Wright; senior girls are under Miss Elizabeth Parker; junior boys under Miss Genevieve Green; junior girls under Miss Lucille Williamson; sophomore boys under Mr. Ernest Sublett; and sophomore girls under Miss Dena Meyer. On Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays at the chapel period these groups have outside activities. On Thursdays they have health lectures.

PIGGY WIGGLY ADDS NEW CHECKING COUNTER FOR WEEK-END RUSHES

Along with other recent improvements the Piggly Wiggly grocery here has added an auxiliary checking counter to be used on week-ends during the fall season when the traffic around the main checking counters becomes congested. The new counter is located on the right of the front door and affords easy exit after a shopping trip through the store. This makes a total of three checking counters maintained on week-ends at this store.

Mrs. Cicero Smith and little daughter, Barbara, are visiting in Sulphur Springs and Dallas, attending the centennial exposition at the latter city.

"All Fools' Day"

There are several origins given for the name "All Fools' Day" but none of them is really reliable. One ascribes it to the uncertainty of the weather at that period of the year, and another to the mockery at the trial of the Saviour. Both of these are, however, discounted by the fact that the Hindus have a similar festivity on March 31st, known as the Huli Festival. A more possible explanation, according to a writer in London Answers Magazine, is that March 25th was formerly New Year's day, and April 1st its octave when the New Year festivities reached their highest point and ended.

The Ice Age

Estimates are based chiefly upon consideration of the rates of erosion of streams known to have been formed after the recession of the glacial sheet. The Niagara river is such a stream. A representative of the United States Geological Survey figured from the rate at which the falls of Niagara have receded since their discovery by white men that the glacier disappeared only 7,000 or 8,000 years ago. Other estimates are up to 30,000 years.

The Dobson Fly

Despite its enormous pincers, the Corydalis cornutus, or Dobson fly, cannot be considered dangerous, according to an authority. The Dobson fly is the final stage of life of the hellgrammite, a bait used by bass fishermen. The hellgrammite lives three years under water, devouring other small insects which it finds in its feeding grounds under stones. After it has passed from its awkward larva stage as a hellgrammite into a Dobson fly, it flies like a butterfly.

Baptists to Observe S. S. Promotion Day; Program is Prepared

The Ballinger Baptist Church will observe Sunday School Day next Sunday and this program will take part of the time usually allotted to the morning service and all of the evening service.

All the members will meet in classes at the regular time Sunday morning, and promotions will be made at the conclusion of the lesson period. Retiring Superintendent E. E. King will assemble the entire school after the classes are dismissed and present the special program, which will continue into the preaching hour. The pastor, Rev. J. H. McClain, will then deliver his message which will deal with the church school.

Mr. King is retiring as superintendent after ten years' service here. This is not all his experience in this capacity, however, as he has served other churches for a like period, giving him 20 years as head of Sunday schools. He stated Thursday that he was without a "job" and might be privileged to become a member of a class, unless put to work in some other official position.

The evening hour will include installation rites for all Sunday school officials, department heads and teachers. The new superintendent, E. C. Grindstaff, will have charge of the installation, at which each department superintendent will participate, and will introduce the officers and teachers of the various departments. The general director of the B. T. U., Francis Jones, and the president of the W. M. S., Mrs. Ernest

BRITISH NATION GIVEN FINE GLASS COLLECTION

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Through a gift, the British nation has come into possession of the finest collection of glass in the world. It has been added to the already marvelous display in the Victoria and Albert Museum.

The glass was collected in all parts of the world by the late Wilfred Buckley, who died in 1933. He spent his early life in the United States and in later years was director of milk supplies in England. He showed the greatest enthusiasm and zeal in obtaining the outstanding masterpieces that came into the market.

To honor his memory his widow has presented the entire collection to Great Britain.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ford Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Stallings spent Sunday in Abilene. They were met there by Judge and Mrs. Omar Burleson, of Anson, who enjoyed dinner with the Ballingerites.

Flood Control Delegations Will Meet in Ballinger

Delegations from Coke county to San Saba county will meet in the Ballinger city hall Monday afternoon at 1:30 to discuss flood control along the Colorado and Concho rivers and their tributaries.

The meeting was arranged today (Thursday) when Culberson Deal, of the San Angelo Board of City Development, telephoned leaders here. Little information was received as to the exact program for the meeting, but Mr. Deal said a call would be sent out from San Angelo and that all counties affected by the two streams and their tributaries would be urged to send delegations to Ballinger to consider the problem.

It was declared that the main purpose of the meeting here would be to assemble flood damage data in the affected counties and present them to the U. S. army board of engineers with the request that a study be made of the region before the meeting on the same subject scheduled at San Angelo on October 20.

Leaders in the flood control movement hope to secure aid in building small dams on creeks, branches and draws over a wide area to assist in holding back high water after heavy rains and thereby prevent a recurrence of floods like that experienced at Ballinger, Bronte, Coleman, Paint Rock, San Angelo, San Saba and other points in this part of the state last week.

Mayor E. M. Lynn and County Judge Paul Trimmier are making arrangements for the meeting Monday afternoon when the county delegations will come here.

Health Group Holds First Meeting in '36; Attendance is Good

The Runnels county health association held its first meeting of the year at the city hall here Tuesday. Twenty-two community health chairmen were present and more than fifty heard the program.

Several visitors were present, among whom were J. A. Killough and Frank Pearce, representatives of the Ballinger Lions and Rotary clubs, respectively. Each of the club men pledged full cooperation of the two organizations in promoting the county health program throughout the year.

Dr. J. W. Macune added to the interest of the meeting with helpful suggestions; Rev. F. J. Pokiada, pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Rowena, spoke encouragingly of the work being done for the benefit of the children; and other short talks were made on various topics.

Following the presentation of a resolution typhoid immunization was favored in a vote of the committee. The belief was expressed that everybody should take precautions against the disease as a number of cases had been reported in the county.

Miss Beulah White, county health nurse, was granted three days' vacation to attend the state convention at Kilgore on October 15, 16 and 17.

The sale of tubercular seals was discussed and it was decided to let the health chairman in each community look after campaign which will begin Thanksgiving day and continue until Christmas. The county has not been given a quota but effort will be made to equal the record of any previous year.

The program presented was as follows: "What Can the Health Chairmen Do?" Mrs. T. J. McCaughan; "The Health Program for Ballinger and Runnels County," Mrs. Carl Black.

Instead of the usual monthly meetings, it was decided to meet quarterly, every three months, during the year. The next meeting will be on December 8.

Typical Huck Finn

As victor, Bill received the Traymore-Mark Twain memorial trophy which he holds in this picture. Bill won his title over 150 other freckle-faced youths.

E. C. Grindstaff, county chairman, and the county health nurse were very much pleased with the unusual interest in and attendance at the first meeting and expect much good to be accomplished in the various communities this year.

Statisticians Find Great Men of Past Lived Average Span

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Famous men two thousand years ago lived about as long as famous people do today, according to a "sample" of fifty-two great men of antiquity collected by statisticians of a New York life insurance company.

The average age of these ancient celebrities when they died was 66.7 years. To compare with this, the average age of American presidents at death was 68.4 years, the average of eighty-two famous mathematicians was 64.3 years, and the average of seventy-five famous poets was 64.1 years.

All these averages are well above the average age reached by ordinary undistinguished people, but there are well known reasons for this, one of them being that people seldom become famous until they are 40 or 50 years old.

Thus most of the weaker or less fortunate individuals who die early in life and lower the general age averages are excluded automatically from any list of celebrities.

It is also probable that the health of famous people is better cared for, both by themselves and by others, than is true of average individuals. The oldest person recorded in the list of sixty-two is the Greek teacher and "college president," Socrates, of Athens, who died at 98 and, according to one tradition, committed suicide even then.

Two other nonagenarians in the list both were scientists, Thales, of Miletus, who first predicted an eclipse of the sun, and Democritus the Thracian, who first formulated a theory of atoms.

Among the fourteen ancient oldsters who lived to be 80 or more, four others were what now would be called scientific men; Theophrastus, of Lesbos, who was the first scientific botanist; Hippocrates, of Cos, still honored as the founder of medicine; Pythagoras, of Samos, who helped to found mathematics; and the world-famous philosopher Plato.

SIGN POST CAUSES PROTEST

MOSCOW, Sept. 23.—Strong protest has been made by the Soviet government that one of the sign posts on the Soviet-Manchoukuo frontier at Turly Rog has been removed and carried away into Manchoukuo by unknown persons. It comments that it is significant that the sign post should vanish during negotiations between the Soviet and Japanese governments on frontier demarcation at this spot.

An American Product—the Date!

Few Americans think of the date as a product of American agriculture, yet this fruit is harvested every year in Arizona and southern California where irrigation has made possible growth of date palms. This picture was taken on the Yuma federal reclamation project in southeastern Arizona. Water for this project comes from the Colorado river below Boulder Dam.

Mourning Devised To Hide from Ghosts

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Black clothes worn after the death of a relative did not originally express grief, Sir James G. Frazier, author of the "Golden Bough," concludes in the third volume of his latest work on "Fear of the Dead in Primitive Religion."

The real reason was to make the wearers of black less easily seen and thus to hide them from ghosts of the departed returning to seek vengeance or to finish forgotten tasks.

The keynote of primitive ideas of death and dead people Sir James believes to be fear. Spirits of the dead were supposed to linger close to their former villages or homes and to work injuries on relatives or former tribal companions. How this fear began no one knows. One cause may have been epidemics of what now are known to be contagious diseases, in which relatives of persons already dead were observed to sicken and die in turn.

However this may be, surviving relatives tried always to avoid being seen or recognized by the ghosts supposed to be looking for them. One way of concealment was by keeping inside huts or tents, also a common mourning custom. Another was to wear dark and inconspicuous clothes so that the dreaded ghosts might miss them, especially at night.

In the course of time the reason for this custom of dark clothes was forgotten and only the idea of showing grief remains. In parts of China conventional mourning clothing is white instead of black, which agrees with the probability that primitive ancestors of these Chinese peoples once were dune or desert dwellers, where dark clothes would have been the most conspicuous and white, yellow or other light colored ones the best for hiding.

99 Rural Teachers To Hear Murdock Here October 3

All teachers in rural schools of Runnels county will assemble in Ballinger Saturday, October 3, for a one-day business meeting. The sessions, to be held in the district court room at the court house, will begin at 10 a. m.

County Superintendent E. C. Grindstaff is notifying every principal in the county to be on hand and to tell all his teachers to be present for the meeting. District Deputy State Superintendent S. Ozell Murdock will talk to the teachers about problems of the rural schools. This will be Mr. Murdock's first visit here since being assigned to this district.

Mr. Grindstaff stated that this meeting has no connection with the Runnels County Teachers' Association which will meet in the Ballinger high school on October 17, and which will be attended by all common and independent district teachers.

At the meeting Saturday details of the interscholastic league will be discussed and the place of the rural schools in this program outlined and commenced.

Each of the 99 teachers here Saturday will be given one of the school calendars and guides approved by the county board of education and the district trustees of the county. The calendar-guider sets the date for every special meeting during the year and carries much additional information relating to the health program, standardization requirements and other items of interest.

FINDS OSTRICH EGGS OF PATAGONIANUSCUS

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—In recounting his travels in Patagonia, George G. Simpson, associate curator of vertebrate paleontology in the Museum of Natural History, New York, tells of a new way to cook ostrich eggs. The following paragraph is taken from "Children of Patagonia":

"Our most pleasant contacts with ostriches were gastronomic. The meat itself is edible, but it is tough and strong in flavor and to me is more of an experience than a meal, although the natives prize it highly and we found it an acceptable occasional change in the universal mutton diet.

"It is the eggs to which I would give a prean of praise. Each equal in volume to a dozen hens' eggs and of fine, even though somewhat full, flavor, they can be used in the same ways as any other eggs. After the first shock of encountering a wholly new flavor, we came to prefer them in the native way. This is to cut off one end carefully, remove part of the white, pour in a quantity of sugar, stir vigorously, and then cook in the shell by piling hot ashes around it. This is surely Patagonia's richest and most pleasant contribution to diet."

Cotton Picking is Resumed in County After Heavy Rains

Cotton picking was resumed in the highlands of Runnels county Tuesday morning and ginning will be well underway again by the end of the week if weather conditions remain favorable. The general opinion is that cotton will be benefitted in some places to about offset the damage done to fields along streams and where lakes were created.

Seed prices were boosted to $36 a ton Tuesday when a street buyer began paying that price at cars on the Santa Fe tracks. H. W. Lynn, manager of the West Texas Cottonseed Company plant here, stated that his company was paying $30 a ton, the full market price, and would not offer more than the daily market quotations. He said that the delay in ginning had stopped the heavy movement of cottonseed but that the local mill had enough on hand to continue steady operations.

Few pickers left the county during the recent wet spell and many others have arrived and have been hired. When all the fields dry daily picking receipts will be greater than at any time this season and farmers will rush the work as fast as possible to get in all cotton that is open.

Farms along the river bottom were greatly damaged as thousands of cultivated acres were under water for several days. It will be next week even with plenty of sunshiny weather before work can be resumed on these farms.

Mrs. E. H. Boelsche spent the past week-end in San Angelo at the bedside of an aunt, who suffered a nervous shock when her home was submerged by the recent flood.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Gray, of Wichita Falls, spent Sunday night and Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gray and friends here.

SULKS AND PEEVES ARE HELD CAUSE OF ASTHMA

LONDON, Sept. 16.—Don't sulk or get peeved, or asthma may get you. Expressing the theory that asthma is related to psychological factors, Dr. R. D. Gillespie, head of Guy's department of psychological medicine, relates in a recent issue of the British Medical Journal the case of a man who developed the complaint while on an unhappy vacation with his wife, in the course of which he sulked all the time.

Dr. Gillespie also cites the case of a woman in which attacks of asthma were brought on by a postman knocking at the door, by excitement, worry, cats and people she did not like. In another instance an elderly man suffered attacks only when he smoked a particular tobacco, the same as that used by his son-in-law with whom he lived at loggerheads.

Substitute

The teacher had forbidden the children to eat candy or chew gum during school time. One day she became suspicious of a lump in Jimmie's cheek.

"Jimmy," she said reprovingly, "are you eating candy or chewing gum?"

"Neither one," replied Jimmy. "I'm soaking a prune to eat at recess."

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

The lurking cold germ is waiting for your defenses to be lowered. Leading doctors tell us that fifty per cent of all disabling diseases start with a "common cold." America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ, strikes with such viciousness that sixty per cent of the population has three or more "colds" each year. Think of this startling total of over two hundred million illnesses—many of which could be avoided with adequate heat and proper ventilation throughout the home.

POINTERS ABOUT CHECKS

In order that your checking account may give you maximum convenience and safety, we offer these suggestions:

Never sign a check in blank, no matter to whom you are giving it. Instead of making the check payable to "Cash", it's better to write out the name of the payee. Always fill in the date line with the date actually drawn—not some future date.

Never issue or give a check to a stranger. Don't attempt to erase errors on a check. (Make out a new one and destroy the old.) Fill out checks completely—drawing a heavy line to fill in the space after the written amount. Be sure that the amounts in writing and in figures are the same.

A checking account, when properly used, is an invaluable business convenience. Our bank welcomes new checking accounts.

to do this work which includes a check-up and settlement with all amusement concerns and concession holders on the fair grounds.

The committee to attend to ticket sales and handle the gates this year is composed of E. Shepperd, Marshall Northington and J. A. Killough.

A special program committee composed of Troy Simpson, Harry Lynn and Neil McAlpine was assigned the duty of arranging for an amateur performance to be presented each night in the building formerly housing agricultural exhibits. Numbers on these programs, to be furnished by various communities of the county, will compete for prizes. Loud speaking equipment will be installed and the building equipped with seats to accommodate about 800 people at each show.

Several carnivals are seeking contracts for the midway here and a contract will be closed within a few days. The amusement committee will seek a show with plenty of new rides and a few good clean shows, will force all concessions to be on the square, and no "skin" games will be allowed on the grounds. Local police will cooperate in enforcing this order.

At least six demonstrations will be presented daily at the 1936 fair. A trench silo demonstration for milo maize and corn will be held with talks twice a day on this subject. An exhibit on screw worm control will be open daily and valuable information imparted by experts at each demonstration. A display of feed grown in Runnels county together with by-products will be shown in the agricultural section. Seed adapted for use in Runnels county will be on display in one of the buildings with talks delivered at regular intervals on the different varieties and their history. A 1936 general farm program display will be arranged covering all crops common to farms of this county. A pasture exhibit and explanation of the needs of Runnels county ranch land will be one of the most interesting demonstrations planned for this year's county fair.

The executive committee voted Tuesday to have a special section of the poultry department open to 4-H club boys who have poultry projects this year. These exhibits will be shown in pens with one cockerel and two pullets comprising a pen and premiums of $3, $2.50, $2, $1.50, and $1 are to be paid the winners. All breeds will be shown in this division.

It is planned to have the premium list printed next week and distributed at once.

The Judgment of Paris
In Greek legend, Paris was the son of Priam, king of Troy, and Hecuba. When Eris, or Discord, threw a golden apple inscribed "For the fairest," among the guests at the nuptials of Peleus and Thetis because she had not been invited, it was put up to Paris to decide which of the claimants, Juno, Venus or Minerva should have it. Juno promised him power and riches; Minerva, glory and renown in war; and Venus, the fairest of women for his wife, each attempting to bias the judge in her own favor. Paris finally decided in favor of Venus, making the other two goddesses his enemies. Under the protection of the goddess of love, he soon afterward sailed to Greece, where he was hospitably received by Menelaus. Paris' abduction of Helen, wife of Menelaus, was the cause of the siege of Troy.

First French Fort
At Mackinaw City, 18 miles north of Cheboygan, Mich., the first fort was established by the French. It was the first white settlement in the Lower Peninsula, historians say. "Flags of France, Great Britain and United States have flown over it." Past it paddled brave Father Marquette on his missionary journeys among the Indians. Bloodthirsty Indians, daring explorers, devout missionaries, British and French soldiers, all helped fashion the pattern of history in the Straits region.

Drinking Toasts
To stand while drinking a toast to someone's health has never been an inviolable custom. In Seventeenth century England, toasts were often drunk on bedded knees. In Scotland, almost to the present time, one foot was placed on the chair and the other on the table. British naval officers and seamen follow the centuries-old custom of remaining in their seats while drinking to the health of their king. —Collier's Weekly.

Fear of Spirits
In certain parts of India, if one or two male children die early in life, the nose of the next-born boy is pierced and a nose-ring put into it so that the evil spirits, mistaking the baby for a girl, will pass over it and do the boy no harm.

"It's getting late," remarked the first fisherman, "and we haven't caught a single fish."
"Well," replied his companion, "let's let two more big ones get away and then go home."

SWAMI'S LION PLAYS ROLE OF MARY'S LAMB

BOMBAY, India, Sept. 23—When the Swami Krishnanandji, of Jogeshwari, went to pay his respects to the new viceroy at Simla he took his lion with him. A stream of children, messengers and native servants followed the swami's rickshaw, where he sat with his pet on one side and a dog on the other.

The man and beast were well received, especially by Lord Linlithgow's family, and the party were shown all the sights, including the changing of the guard. The swami, a philosopher by profession, on observing this ceremony said gravely that the great people of the land might need such military protection; for a simple soul like himself a lion was enough. Wherever the swami goes the lion is with him. In train or omnibus it sits beside him, while other passengers move to other seats.
