Those attending this year were complimentary of Ballinger, the park and the splendid treatment by local people. The Agnew-Wright Funeral Home provided tents for shade and chairs for all. A number of beautiful bouquets were sent in for the table and many other small things were done for the comfort of the visitors which was deeply appreciated.

Miss Mildred McMillan and Elmer Greenwood are Married

Miss Mildred McMillan became the bride of Elmer Greenwood Tuesday morning at ten o'clock with the Rev. Fred Clark performing the simple ceremony in the Eighth Street Presbyterian manse.

Only attendants were Miss Gene Gressett and Ernest Wiesner of San Angelo.

The bride wore an early fall dress of wine corded crepe with gold clips. Her hat was a close-fitting model of black and wine, with all other accessories in black. Her shoulder corsage was fashioned of white gladioluses and maiden hair fern tied with gold ribbon.

For going away she changed to a black and white ensemble.

Mrs. Greenwood is the daughter of Mrs. Beulah McMillan. She is a graduate of the Ballinger High School and attended Abilene Christian College at Abilene. She is assistant supervisor for the Southwestern States Telephone Company here and will continue her work.

Mr. Greenwood is the son of Mrs. J. A. Greenwood and a member of one of Rannels county's pioneer families. He is an employee of the First National Bank.

Following a week's wedding trip to Anson, Wichita Falls and Tulsa, the young couple will be at home at the Central Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin and 36 family members were present from Lubbock, Floydada, Hot Springs, New Mexico, Valera, Talpa and Ballinger.

On Sunday afternoon an open house was held with more than one hundred in attendance.

Mrs. Legate Hostess to Current Book Club

Mrs. A. B. Legate entertained the Current Book Club Tuesday afternoon in her home in Hillcrest.

A wealth of brightly hued summer blooms decorated the entire living room suite where the routine business session was followed by an informal talk on her recent trip to Colorado by Mrs. Jack Nixon, Sr., and a paper on "New Books" by Mrs. Tom Caudle.

Mrs. Joe Forman resumed active membership and Mrs. W. A. Taylor was elected a new member. A plate of frosted lime sherbet and cookies was passed to: Mmes. Nixon, O. R. O'Neill, Layne Moreland, Alex Saunders, W. E. Moss, Joe Morrison, Caudle, Clinton Glover, Cecil Jones and Taylor.

Porch Party for Sewing Club

The spacious porch at the Levy Lee home on Seventh Street was the scene of a party given by Mrs. Lee for sewing club members.

The afternoon was spent in varied types of individual handwork.

A plate of cream and cake was served to: Mmes. J. D. Forman, E. C. Grindstaff, H. J. Zappe, J. A. Schnable, Billie Cordill, Nell McAlpine, members; and Miss Helen Brewer and Mrs. Horace Sessions of Fort Worth, visitors.

Morgan-Clark Marriage Performed at San Angelo

Miss Margaret Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark, became the bride of Bertis Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Morgan, Wednesday afternoon in San Angelo at the home of Rev. N. E. McGuire, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist Church. The bride wore a sports frock of teal sheer with matching accessories.

Mrs. Morgan graduated from Ballinger High School in 1936.

The couple will be at home in San Angelo where Mr. Morgan is employed by the Gulf Oil Company.

Presbyterian Delegates at Home from Encampment

Mrs. E. W. Stasney, president of the local Woman's Auxiliary of the First Presbyterian Church, and Mrs. C. R. Stephens, incoming synodical cause secretary of spiritual life, returned late Wednesday afternoon from the annual encampment near Kerrville.

The theme of the programs centered around evangelism. Some of the outstanding speakers were Mrs. Rowena McCutcheon, missionary on furlough from the African Belgian Congo; Miss Anna Daw, of Dallas, returned missionary from Japan; Dr. Edward D. Grant, of Richmond, Virginia, educational director of the Southern Presbyterian Church, and one of the two representatives to the World Conference in Madras, India; Dr. James F. Hardie, of Dallas; and Dr. Tom Currie, from the Presbyterian Theological Seminary in Austin.

formation and most of the men went to town at least one time, and the pavilion seems to be the most patronized place.

We have had very few men answer sick call and those few were for minor troubles. The company went out on a brigade problem this morning and stayed until noon, returning to camp by truck. During the exercise Capt. Murchison and Corporal Halliburton fell into a stream and were slightly mugged up. Our division problem is due for Wednesday and Thursday with a one night bivouac. We are due to leave here at 8:30 a. m. Saturday and to arrive in Ballinger at 11:40 p. m. We have no complaint to make about our eats for this camp as Sergeant Middleton has done an excellent job as mess sergeant with capable help from the two cooks, D. B. Holland and Elmo Unsell, and the permanent K. P., Walter S. Bailey.

We had a very welcome visitor over the week-end, R. J. McFadden, of Robstown, who served as one of our cooks for fourteen years and said he just couldn't stand the thought of us being here without him so he came over and spent his hitch as a guest.

The 142nd infantry regiment has a very deep regret this camp due to retirement after camp of some of our best loved officers. Our present brigade commander, Brigadier-General Charles W. Nimon, who for many years was colonel of the 142nd, retires, as does Chaplain Major Fox, who has served as our chaplain and athletic instructor for the past five years; and Major Hines Clark, who has doctored every sore foot in the regiment for the past 14 years or more. The loss of these mentioned officers will be felt throughout the entire division.

This is the quietest period of the day—after lunch, when nearly every man does fatigue duty (sleeps). We will see you at 11:40 Saturday night and thanks again for last week's Ledgers.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lusk are attending to business at Wellington this week.

Jack Benny, Lamour and Arnold in Gay New Film

A new comedy with music that will surely earn rating as the very best of Hollywood's "gag-and-girl" shows is Paramount's "Man About Town," co-starring Jack Benny, Dorothy Lamour and Edward Arnold, to be shown at the Texas Theatre in midnight preview Saturday night and in regular presentations Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 20-21-22.

The picture affords Jack a chance to gag his way through a series of situations as clever as any ever conceived for the screen. In the support are Binnie Barnes, Phil Harris, Betty Grable, "Rochester," who is sensational in his screen debut with his boss, E. E. Clive, and Matty Malneck and His Orchestra. In addition, artist George Petty was asked to choose twenty Petty girls to bring his magazine girls to life on the screen. They are seen in a harem sequence which would put the Arabian Nights to shame, along with the world-famed Meriel Abbott Dancers, doing the most amazing dances ever seen on the screen. It is in this sequence incidentally, which "Rochester" does one of two dances in his own inimitable style.

Notice

I have returned to Ballinger after my summer vacation and will open classes in piano and organ Monday, August 21. Studio will be located in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Nance. Will be glad to meet my old pupils and any others interested in taking music this school year. Telephone 416 or 1284.

Charles Bickford is co-featured with Miss Parker in the new film, which is based on a famous Jack London story.

"Romance of the Redwoods" is set against the majestic savagery of the nation's timber belt, the Pacific Northwest. Heralding the arrival of one of the screen's most notable teamings, "It's a Wonderful World," starring Claudette Colbert with James Stewart, is billed at the Ritz Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, August 20-21-22.

For Miss Colbert this picture marks a return to the buoyant type of comedy vehicle in which she has achieved such notable success, characterized especially by that unforgettable film, "It Happened One Night," Academy Award winner.

The production marks James Stewart's third heart affair opposite charming screen heroines in recent months. He stepped from the arms of Joan Crawford in "The Ice Follies of 1939" to wed Carole Lombard in "Made for Each Other," and now shares honors with Miss Colbert in "It's a Wonderful World."

Stewart is cast as Guy Johnson, a private detective hired to keep an oft-married Broadway playboy out of trouble. When this millionaire playboy is accused of murder Stewart becomes involved. He escapes in order to seek a solution of the murder and is caught in the act by Miss Colbert, who plays Edwina Corday, a poetess. He enlists her aid and together they track down the real murderer.

In the supporting cast are such sterling players as Guy Kibbee, Nat Pendleton, Frances Drake, Edgar Kennedy and Ernest Truex.

Forty-seven sets were built for the production, all of them supposedly in and around New York. These range from elaborate night club sequences to an apple orchard. Also listed are interiors and exteriors of a train, a yacht, a theatre, a hot-dog stand, an auto camp, a railroad trestle, a motor boat and shots of Sing Sing.

W. S. Van Dyke, II, directed "It's a Wonderful World," his first production since "Stand Up and Fight" and "Marie Antoinette." Famed for his direction of "The Thin Man," among other successes, "It's a Wonderful World" has given him another opportunity for smart screen detecting punctuated with hilarious comedy situations.

Hints for the Farm Extension Service A & M. College

If the opinion of 500 Texas farmers is a good yardstick, the best work of the Triple-A has been "educating farmers to the need of saving and increasing fertility of the soil."

County committeemen, polled recently, gave that as their view, and ranked second in importance, the program's stress on diversified farming and farm-livestock development.

Third most beneficial aspect of the program, these men said was the development of a "more cooperative spirit among farmers."

Commenting on these responses to a questionnaire sent out in July, Frank Seale, Brazos county stock farmer and member of the state agricultural conservation committee, said:

"It's encouraging to see that these county committeemen, who are chosen by the farmers of their communities to run the program in their counties are considering the long-time benefits first.

Seale pointed out that the program provides direct aid for specific practices such as terracing, contour farming, strip cropping and planting soil-building crops.

"There is still a good deal of time left to earn soil building payments by carrying out these practices," he observed.

Committeemen, answering the questionnaire indicated that terracing is the most popular conservation practice in the state and that planting green manure crops and summer legumes comes next.

DAIRY SPECIALIST SAYS NOT TO NEGLECT MILK

COLLEGE STATION, August 16.—General belief that milk is a fattening food and detrimental to girlish figures is a lot of nonsense, according to W. V. Maddox, dairy manufacturing specialist for the A. & M. College extension service.

It is the excess of food, not milk itself, that fattens, yet many people, particularly women, deny themselves dairy products because of this false idea, Maddox says.

"A safe reducing diet the specialist adds includes the following protective foods daily: Three glasses of milk—one glass with each meal or its equivalent in some form of dairy products which will yield 500 calories.

One egg which will give 75 calories. One serving of fruit which furnishes approximately 100 calories.

Two servings of vegetables, furnishing from 200 to 300 calories. One vegetable should be of the leafy type.

This diet gives a total of 925 calories, while most ordinary reducing diets permit from 1,400 to 1,600 calories daily. The remaining 475 to 675 calories may be selected from meats, fish, cereal foods, butter, ice cream and sugar. After the desired weight has been attained by use of the reducing diet, multiply this weight by 15.

QUIZ FOR BRIDES. CAN YOU BAKE A CHERRY PIE?

COLLEGE STATION, August 16.—"Can you bake a cherry pie?" is a good question to ask this year's bride, for this year's cherry crop will probably be the largest in history, according to estimates of the United States department of agriculture.

Since cherries are so plentiful, Nora Ellen Elliott, A. & M. College extension service specialist in food preparation, suggests marks of quality to be demanded when selecting cherries—whether the fruit is sweet or sour, home grown or bought at the market.

"Good cherries have a bright, fresh appearance. They are juicy, plump, but fairly firm," Miss Elliott says, "and they are well colored, too—red, black, or yellow flushed with red, depending on their variety."

Sweet cherries left on their stems make colorful garnishes for salads, fruits cups or meat plates, and pitted, they mix well with other fruits and are appetizing in gelatin dishes, Miss Elliott points out.

On the other hand, sour cherries are more often cooked, usually in pies, as sauce, or in preserves, yet the major portion of this year's crop is destined to go into pies, Miss Elliott says.

The cherry version of the Boston cream pie is especially delicious. Use your favorite white cake or whole egg recipe and put cherry filling between the layers. Cherry sauce made from sweetened, cooked cherries is an excellent addition to blanc mange, rice and other puddings, and it's good served over plain cake or shortcake.

While not so common, pickled cherries give zest, color and flavor to wintertime meals. Pickled cherries are made from pitted large, red, sour fruit.

Wildlife Briefs

Raising quail by providing natural cover and sufficient food supply has reached the point where there are now projects under way in 16 counties of the state, it is announced by Phil Goodrum, director of research and education for the Texas game, fish and oyster commission. By providing sufficient food and cover for birds, it has been found they will increase appreciably without the state resorting to restocking.

The general plan of fencing areas ranging in sizes from one-quarter to five acres to prevent stock over-grazing the section is being followed in the majority of the counties in which the quail restoration projects are being carried on.

In the past the majority of the areas in the experimental project have proved highly successful in quail raising and it is believed certain that most of the projects now under way will do a great deal towards restocking the birds in the various localities. The counties in which the projects are being carried on are Guadalupe, Clay, Brazoria, Jasper, Orange, Polk, Tyler, Wharton, Liberty, Bell, Falls, Colorado, Milam, Lubbock, Taylor and Harris.

The woods and plains of Texas abound with unusual stories, but the most unique occurrence observed recently was in Hudspeth county, where a herd of 25 antelope was seen chasing two coyotes for several miles.

State Game Warden W. D. Stubbfield was riding with Bob Ingram, of El Paso, along a draw on the old Mitchell ranch when suddenly a coyote came up over the ridge with approximately 25 antelope in close pursuit. Stubbfield

Dean of Loafers

Calvin Burleson, prepared for a little real whittlin', admits he doesn't mind loafing a bit now and then. In fact, he's dean of Loafers' Glory, N. C. The town with the odd name was first called that by Burleson's father. It's on the map, too. His father declared the town was "the loafing place in the Blue Ridge."

stopped his car. The antelope chased the coyote over the other side of the ridge without noticing the men, who then drove to the top of the ridge and saw that the antelope were still pursuing the coyote. First one and then the other closed in on El Coyote. Suddenly another coyote jumped up with the first coyote and Stubfield and Ingram continued to watch the unusual pursuit for approximately a mile. Then the coyotes and the antelopes made a turn toward the car. When the antelope spied it they stopped, stood for a few seconds, then took out across the hills. The coyotes also disappeared rapidly—in another direction.

Pure albino squirrels, that is those which are all white and have pink eyes, are extremely rare but are occasionally found in Texas woods. However, the spotted squirrel, which is black and brown is even more unusual. In fact, the first of that type to be reported to the game department was found just recently. Yet, strange as it may seem, an albino squirrel and a black and brown nut-eater were both found within a few miles of each other near the East Bernard River not far from Cat Spring, Texas, recently. Mr. Emmett Knepton, of Cat Spring, captured the albino when it was extremely young and raised it in his back yard. Mr. Knepton also reported the black and brown spotted squirrel, which was killed by a hunter near his place.

Bird migration from the north into Texas has already started. Long billed curlews and upland plovers have been seen in south-central Texas. They are the forerunners of a number of other species of migratory birds which include not only many species of ducks and geese but song birds and insectivorous birds such as robins, starlings, meadow larks, mourning doves, several varieties of sparrows, warblers of several different kinds, and buntings.

One of the smaller species of ducks are usually among the first of the ducks to migrate south each year. However, hunters generally regard them as migrating in September, October and November. Representatives of the game department sighted teal as far south as Laredo in early August last year.

MARCH HATCHED PULLETS COME OF AGE THIS MONTH

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 16.—Pullets hatched in March come of age this month, so special precautions should be taken to insure good production, according to George P. McCarthy, poultry husbandman for the Texas A. & M. College extension service.

Comfortable housing for the pullets should be the first consideration, McCarthy says, and he suggests half-filling the houses with carefully graded pullets. In addition to feeding green food, use of mash and scratch grain in hoppers in the laying pens is also recommended.

"Visit the pullets after dusk to make sure they are roosting in the huddling on the floor," McCarthy advises. "It is very important for the first three months because pullets come into production early and loss of weight will indicate fall molting," he said.

CAN DAY BY DAY

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 16.—Canning small surpluses of food day by day is considerable trouble, yet is one of the thriftiest home practices, says Louise Bryant, specialist in home management for the extension service of the Texas A. & M. College. Garden fruits and vegetables are often wasted, she says, because the housewife thinks a surplus of a quart or two is too small an amount to can.

WARNING IS ISSUED TO TEXAS COTTON FARMERS

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 16.—Any cotton grower who misuses his marketing card to help someone else sell lint in excess of a marketing quota will lose his AAA payments, and so will his friend. Warning to that effect was issued by the state agricultural conservation committee here this week.

This is a new ruling. It is based on a provision that all or any part of a farmer's payments may be withheld if he does anything which tends to defeat the purpose of the farm program, Donald Cothran, Lamar county farmer and state committeeman, said.

Under marketing quota regulations, put in effect by a vote of cotton growers last fall, white cards are issued to farmers who have planted within cotton acreage allotments and who have carried over no cotton that would have been subject to penalty if marketed in previous years. Red cards go to those who have overplanted their allotments, or who have carry-over penalty cotton on hand.

The marketing quota is defined as either the normal or actual yield (whichever is larger) of the farm's cotton acreage allotment, plus any cotton carried over from last year which would not have been subject to penalty had it been sold.

Holders of red cards are supposed to pay a penalty of 3 cents a pound on all cotton sold in excess of their marketing quotas.

The new ruling provides that if a cotton producer who holds a white card gins or sells cotton for a farmer with a red card, and the county committee finds the act to be in defiance of regulations, neither one of them will receive conservation or price adjustment payments under the 1939 program. Cothran said almost 98 per cent of the cotton farmers of Texas planted within their 1939 acreage limits. Cotton marketing has been relatively free of "shenanigans" this year, he said.

DON'T CUT LAWN TOO CLOSE

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 16.—"Don't give your lawn too close a haircut this warm weather," warns Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape gardening for the Texas A. & M. College extension service.

During the hot summer months, lawns should not be cut closer than two inches, she advises. Pulling or digging weeds before they go to seed is also advocated by the specialist.

The present wild horses of the west are stragglers of herds brought over by the Spaniards.

14 Family Reunions Held in Local Park Past Three Months

The popularity of Ballinger's city park covers a wide territory and the use this summer has proven to citizens the value of the recreation center. Three encampments for girls, women and boys have been held there, a number of local affairs where barbecues were served to crowds of more than two hundred people, and many other types of programs have been staged there.

The park has been the meeting place of fourteen family reunions this year, some of which had more than two hundred in attendance. The past week-end two big reunions were held here with relatives present from many points over the state.

Those attending have praised the park, the treatment by city officials and park keepers and the hospitality of the entire community. Three of these groups have made the park a permanent meeting place and will be back annually.

Those attending the Kendall reunion Sunday asked that their appreciation be expressed to the city officials for the use of the park, the keeper for his efforts to make them comfortable and the citizens in general for helping make their short stay in Ballinger so pleasant.

Numerous visitors from far away have complimented the park and asked why a swimming pool was not installed, saying that was all that was needed for an ideal play spot.

While registrations have not been taken at the park to find out where people come from who use its facilities, within the past few weeks the keeper has listed automobiles from Florida, California, Illinois, Kansas, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Georgia, Idaho, Alabama, Tennessee and Pennsylvania.

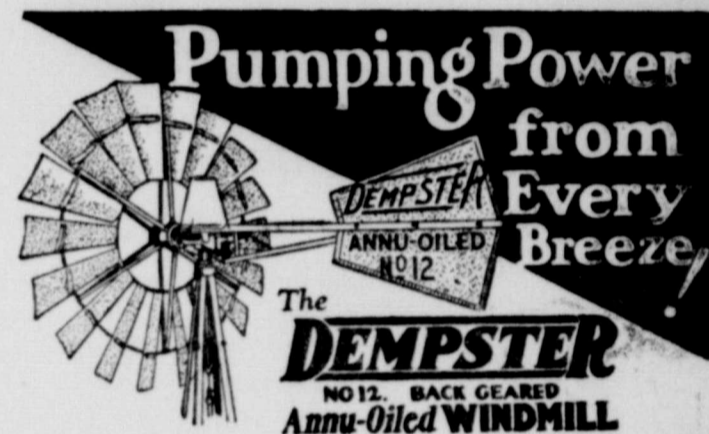

"HOBBIES" THEME OF TALK AT ROTARY CLUB MEETING

Rev. Dwight A. Sharpe was the principal speaker at the Ballinger Rotary Club meeting Tuesday and discussed hobbies in an interesting manner. He stated that leisure time had caused many people to take up and develop hobbies and that many today were practicing constructive hobbies that were good for them and others. He compared hobbies and pastimes, showing that they were vastly different, and that a hobby was a favorite of all other activities, one which the individual came back to when others failed to entertain.

The minister outlined the hobbies of a number of local citizens, showing what they had accomplished.

In closing Rev. Sharpe talked of his own hobby, photography, on which he has established a reputation in this section. He displayed a group of pictures made by him which tell their story and which tie in with his church work.

Participants in the 1937 AAA farm program applied forestry practices on nearly 89,000 acres. This included planting, maintaining and improving stands of trees. Any Texas farmer can earn $7.50 an acre, within limits of his soil-building allowance, for planting forest trees.

DEATHS

Cleo Katherine Hoelscher
Miss Cleo Katherine Hoelscher, 18, was drowned in a surface tank a short distance from her home in the Cross Roads community, Tuesday afternoon at 1:30. The body was recovered an hour later by a neighbor, Felix Moeller, from ten feet of water.
Miss Hoelscher was with her brother, Melvin, 13, and he decided to return to the house to get some inner tubes to do some floating. When he returned to the tank his sister was missing and a search was instituted. Neither the boy nor his sister could swim. The parents and other members of the family were in San Angelo at the time of the accident.
Decedent graduated from St. Joseph's School, Rowena, last May. She was listed in "Who's Who of Texas High Schools" and was an active member of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

A. N. Wylie
A. N. Wylie, 35, was killed instantly by a bolt of lightning, at his home 4 miles northwest of Ballinger, Wednesday afternoon at 6:45. He was plowing with his tractor in the field when the bolt struck, apparently a direct hit on him and the machine. He remained in the tractor seat until it reached the end of the row and lodged between a fence and a tree.
Mrs. Wylie saw the tractor stalled in one spot and sent a son, Noel, 7, to see what was the matter. He found his father dead and returned to the house for his mother. The body was taken to San Angelo to Vautrain Funeral Home to be prepared by C. G. Jennings who also was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Decedent was a prominent farmer of this community, operating 340 acres. He had resided here most of his life and is known by many throughout this section.

Wylie, Ballinger; a grandmother, Mrs. Joe McCormick, Wichita Falls; six sisters, Mrs. Opal Pearse, Mrs. Ethel Chapman, Mrs. E. Strickland, Mrs. M. Strickland and Miss Zola Wylie, all of Ballinger, and Mrs. Harry Paschal, Eastland; a brother, Grayson Wylie, who is in a San Angelo hospital with a fractured foot.

Williams Explains Vocational Course

Farm boys enrolling in the Ballinger high school this year will have an opportunity for the first time to select vocational agriculture as a part of their course of study. According to J. M. Williams, who has been employed as instructor in the local schools, vocational agriculture in the high school is designed to meet the needs of boys who plan to enter upon the work of farming as a vocation or who plan to follow a kindred occupation that will require a working knowledge of the farmer's problems. "Unless our farm boys of today acquire some systematic instruction for farming, our next generation of farmers will not be much better off than are our present farmers," said Mr. Williams, who continued: "Any boy who intends to make farming his life's work needs training in farming just as the boy who intends to become a doctor, lawyer or an engineer. Any man attempting without training the practice of medicine, law or engineering would be considered as a menace and an absurdity. A man attempting farming without training is more closely related to the untrained professional man than many people think."
"It has been estimated that 350,000 new farmers are needed annually to take the place of those who drop out of the farming business. If each of these new farmers were to receive a four-year course in vocational agriculture, it would mean that 1,400,000 young men each year would be in training for the vocation of farming. Needless to say, with agriculture as the actual foundation of our national wealth, training in systematic farming and ranching is not only an opportunity for the youth of today but approaches a necessity if we are to put agriculture in its rightful place along with other trades and industries."

Boys enrolling in the vocational agriculture courses shall be required to carry out a project program of some nature. For the successful completion of these projects, it was pointed out, in addition to the one credit received in regular class instruction, the boy will receive half a unit additional for carrying out such practice work. The boy will not be allowed to enroll for the course unless he has facilities for and can carry some type of project. Boys who plan to pursue their work should talk with their necessary, as they may know days ago and since then has been definitely the possibilities for a project program when school opens.

Mr. Williams will be at the high school building from 8 a. m. until 4 p. m. every day next week and will be glad to talk to boys concerning the vocational agriculture course.
Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Erwin and son returned Wednesday from Colorado, where they had been on their annual vacation.
Mrs. M. S. Patrick and daughters have returned home from a visit with relatives and friends at Carrizo Springs.
A. T. Campbell was seriously ill this afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sam Behringer. He suffered a heart attack several days ago and since then has been in a critical condition.
