

Lake View Chiefs Unable To Stop Running Bearcats

The Ballinger Bearcats were on the march again last Friday night when the scrappy little Lake View team was smothered with nine touchdowns and six conversions for a total of 60 points to 0.

This game opened the conference season for the Bearcats and rang up a victory to start the 1945 schedule.

Ballinger received the kickoff and set off down field at 5 to 10 yards at a time for the opponents' goal line. Frazier, Russell and Sykes gained good yardage and then Davenport flipped a pass to Sykes, who went fifteen yards across for the first score of the game. Sykes kicked goal.

Taking the ball on their own 45 after Lake View punted, Sykes and Russell made a first down and Sykes took another pass and raced 30 yards to count. Sykes kicked.

Lake View received the next kickoff and on the second play was thrown for a big loss back to their one-yard line. They punted out to the 19-yard line where Black picked up 7, Frazier 2 and Russell went the rest of the way for a score. Sykes kicked.

27-0
Lake View kicked to the Ballinger 30 and after two plays Black broke into an open field and raced 80 yards to the 11-yard line. Frazier picked up one and on the next play went across for the score. Russell passed to Frazier for the extra.

34-0
Opening the second half the Bearcats chalked up three first downs to place the ball on the 24-yard line. Frazier, behind good blocking, went the rest of the way. Sykes failed to kick.

40-0
In the final quarter Black got loose again for 24 yards and a score and Sykes kicked to make the score

47-0
Lake View failed to gain and kicked out on the Bearcats' 43. On the first play Black ran the 43 yards for a touchdown. Black's kick was low.

Think on These Things
by Richard Robbins Minister Eighth Street Church of Christ

Seeing that the Lord is the saviour of his body the church, and that the saved are added to the church daily, we ask this question: Is membership in the Lord's church, his spiritual body, conditional? This is equivalent to asking if salvation or becoming a Christian, is conditional. Please keep in mind that we are talking about the church Christ built when he said, "Upon this rock I will build my church..." Matt 16:18. We are not talking about joining some denomination after we become Christians and members of the Lord's spiritual family. Talking to the Jews Paul and Barnabas said, "It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you; but seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourself unworthy of everlasting life, lo, we turn to the Gentiles." Acts 13:46. It is easily seen that everlasting life for the Jew was on the condition that he receive the word of God. Long ago God said, "I will call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessings and cursing; therefore choose life, that both thou and thy seed may live." Deut. 30:19. Surely man is able to choose right from wrong.

Coach Felton Wright was asked which was his first and which his second team Saturday morning after the Lake View Chiefs were defeated 60 to 0 by the Bearcats. During the game the "second stringers" played a good part of the way and seemed a more aggressive and explosive ball club. Their defense was tight, their running plays had excellent blocking, and the fast charging second line gave passers and kickers trouble.

The Bearcats will rest this weekend and on October 26 will go to Brady. This year the Bulldogs seem pretty weak, the Lake View team defeating them 32 to 0, but the Bearcats always expect trouble when they invade the Bulldog park. In years past they have taken a number of drubbings there and they will have a full force on hand to take the Dogs if possible.

Football material is plentiful at Bearcat Field this year. Last Thursday more than 80 boys were in uniform on the practice field. This was the first squad, the B high school team and the junior highs. The high high school team is composed of 17 good players and a schedule is being arranged for the rest of the season to keep them working and make it interesting. Coach Wright has cut his first string to 24 men for the rest of the season.

Coleman and Winters continue to loom strong. After Coleman tied the class AA Ranger club 6-6, the Bluecats beat the Santa Anna Mountaineers last Friday night 27 to 0. Winters, meeting one of the best clubs in West Texas, the Merkel Badgers, lost 19 to 7, but kept the Merkel stands scared until the final gun.

Edward Arnold as Blind Sleuth In M-G-M Thriller, 'Hidden Eye'

The new adventures of the noted blind detective, Duncan Maclain, and his famous dog Friday, make for tense and tingling entertainment at the Ritz Theatre Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, October 20, 21, 22, 23, when the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture starring Edward Arnold is to be shown.

"The Hidden Eye" sets a fast entertainment pace as it tracks down a crafty four-time killer who leaves behind him a jasmine-scented murder trail.

With two of the family already murdered, Arthur Hampton, a wealthy mine-owner, calls on Duncan Maclain to solve the crimes and protect him and his one remaining brother. But both are mysteriously killed and only their beautiful niece, played by Frances Rafferty, remains to inherit the Hampton fortune.

Suspicion falls on her fiance, Barry Gifford (Paul Langton), whose father once was connected with the Hampton enterprises. Probing the case Maclain immediately suspects Phillip Treadway (Ray Collins), the Hampton lawyer. But he lacks proof.

How he obtains that proof includes an ingenious quest for the scene of a tree grown in Sumatra, the kidnapping of Maclain and his brave dog and a desperate battle between the blind investigator and the maniacal villain.

'Blood On the Sun'

Scene from "Blood on the Sun," starring James Cagney with Sylvia Sydney in the William Cagney production, at the Texas Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 21, 22, 23.

'Blood on Sun' Brings Fighting James Cagney in Exciting Film

The Japs also have their "Mein Kampf"! And it antedates the Hitler version. While the world knew all about the Nazi "handbook of crime" almost from the moment it was finished, little was known of the Jap plan-for-death, labeled the "Tanaka Memorial."

The "memorial" received little publicity. However, time bore out its grisly schedule. The Manchurian grab the Shanghai incident, the Pearl Harbor sneak-raid and other brutal acts of aggression wrote "check" on the bloody margin of the "Tanaka Memorial" to prove that the Tokyo plan-for-death was no mere poet's dream—and no forgery!

How the "memorial" was smuggled out of Japan remains a mystery. The motion picture "Blood on the Sun," produced by William Cagney for United Artists release and co-starring the redoubtable James Cagney and Sylvia Sydney, shows how it might have happened. "Blood on the Sun" will be the main attraction at the Texas Theatre next Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 21, 22, 23.

James plays a hard-hitting American newspaper editor in Tokyo who learns of the "memorial" and determines to divulge its startling contents to the world. He succeeds in this objective after a series of hair-breadth escapes that make for one of the most exciting films of James' career. However, the picture is more than a slambang story of action and heroics. It provides a serious and documented portrait of the Jap leaders in infancy including Tojo, Admiral Yamamoto, Mitsuura Toyama, head of the notorious Black Dragon Society; and Baron Gichi Tanaka, author of the "memorial."

Tanaka died in 1929 but his sinister and evil personality lives on in the "memorial" which charted the path of Jap savagery and murder, long before the world suspected the land of cherry blossoms and lotus was planning treachery behind its polished smiles and death behind its delicate tracery of Japanese prints.

Better Weather Permits Pickers To Resume Work

Cotton pickers who had been idle two weeks because of rains and wet fields returned to their work Monday morning after three days of sunshine and drying winds.

Gins began regular operations the first of the week as picking got back to normal and there is much open cotton in the fields of this area.

Local cotton men are of the opinion that the staple has been damaged by the protracted wet spell and it was pointed out that in some places seeds sprouted in the bolls. There is still a large amount of cotton to open and this probably will not be damaged if weather conditions continue favorable.

Most of the pickers in this section were held during the two weeks' rain and were ready to get back to work. Merchants stated that shopping was limited Saturday because the migratory laborers had not been making any money since the rains began and in most cases had only enough cash to buy week-end food supplies. Merchants anticipate a rush Saturday of this week if work continues in the fields all week.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wood, of North Dakota, are here for a visit with relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Wood lived here in the early days, leaving Ballinger in 1912, and this is their first visit here since that time.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

- 1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.
2 Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.
Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

HAS YOUR ADDRESS CHANGED RECENTLY

Ledger subscribers are requested to notify the publisher of any change in their address promptly.

Under the new postal laws newspapers and periodicals must pay postage due for notices of any change in address furnished by the postoffice. Besides, there always is the probability that your paper will be delayed or fail to reach you altogether if you do not give immediate notification when you move.

The best plan for all concerned is to send the change of address in advance.

The city election here on October 12 is of importance to all Ballinger citizens and should attract a large number to the polls. The proposal calls for issuing $50,000 in bonds for a paving program. City officials state the bonds would provide for paving approximately 90 blocks, the city to pay for one-third of the cost in front of residences and all of the intersections. Property owners would pay for a third of the cost in front of their property. Part of the funds would also be spent in seal coating pavement already in service. This issue, if approved, would add about 10 cents to the tax rate and city officials said they estimated the bond issue could be retired in ten years. If favored by the voters this project would start the municipal post-war improvement program and would provide some jobs. Those interested in paving and also in an improved water system were informed that the paving bonds would be regular bonds retired by taxes assessed against property values while bonds which might be issued in the future for the water program would be revenue bonds and would be retired from receipts of the water department.

A very slow start is being made in Ballinger toward raising the United War Chest quota. Only a small part of the city had been canvassed to Monday, a number of blocks not having been covered because workers could not find time to make the drive. At this time most Ballingerites are busy with their own work and it has been difficult to get enough solicitors. Only about a fourth of the local quota has been raised. This is far behind the rest of the county and unless the campaign can be made quickly it will carry over into the first of the Victory Loan drive. Ballinger residents who have not been called on are urged to mail their contributions to John B. Rayburn, county chairman, or leave at a local bank.

Recent wet weather has left a large amount of dirt on the downtown pavement and merchants are having a difficult time keeping their stocks clean and their fixtures dusted. The fine dust whirls into store entrances with each puff of wind and the dirt damages merchandise as well as being disagreeable. The city has no equipment for cleaning the streets other than a sweeper which only stirs the dust and moves it into the gutters.

THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: Lucille Ruth Edwards,
Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable District Court of Runnels County at the Court House thereof, in Ballinger, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock a. m. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 12th day of November, A. D. 1945, then and there to answer Plaintiff's petition filed in said Court, on the 18th day of September, A. D. 1945, in this cause numbered 5153 on the docket of said court and styled Fred Edwards, Plaintiff, vs. Lucille Ruth Edwards, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: Plaintiff alleges he is a resident of Runnels County and the State of Texas. That at the present time he is in the military service of the United States of America. That he and the defendant were legally married on or about the 21st day of December, 1943, and continued to live together as husband and wife until on or about the 14th day of February, 1944, since which time they have not lived together. Plaintiff alleges defendant neglected her duties as a wife, and because of her unkind treatment toward Plaintiff their further living together as husband and wife is insupportable. That the residence of Defendant at this time is unknown to Plaintiff. Therefore, he asks judgment of the Court dissolving the marriage relationship now existing between them, that Defendant's maiden name of Robertson be restored to her, and for general relief, as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's petition on file in this suit.

The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs. Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Ballinger, Texas, this the 25th day of September, A. D. 1945.

BALLINGER HIGH SCHOOL NEWS
By Kathryn Sensabaugh

The past week has been uneventful in comparison to those previous. It has been a week of planning for future events in most organizations' meetings.

Que and Curtain Club members were entertained by the pledges at the regular meeting. Committees and officers are planning a formal initiation to complete the pledges' membership tests.

BHS members have completed their initiation with the exception of a formal program to be held Friday. Plans are being made for a demonstration to be given as an assembly later in the year.

In last week's Ledger, Betty Lou Batts was named F. F. A. sweetheart nominee. Betty Lou is ineligible for this honor as she is alternate band sweetheart. Patsy Paris is sophomore nominee.

Methodist Church Holds Conference To Conclude Year

Rev. A. S. Gafford, superintendent of the Brownwood district of the Methodist Church, was here Monday night to conduct the fourth quarterly conference of the First Methodist Church of Ballinger. The meeting was well attended and good written reports were made by all departments.

The local church has completed a good year's work with many worthwhile accomplishments as shown by the reports. In addition to the regular budget adopted for the year and which was paid in full by Monday night, the church raised approximately $8,000 for the purchase of a new parsonage and furnishings, $3,600 for the Crusade for Christ, and numerous other funds during the year. One of the last was the raising Sunday of $300 for the erection of a neon sign at the church in the near future. The big new sign will be more than ten feet high and six feet wide and will be operated by an automatic clock so the sign will be burning each evening.

Rev. H. B. Loyd, pastor, will go to annual conference the last of this month where he will make his report. He is expected to return for services here the first Sunday in November.

The budget for the local church has been increased for the next year and all officials have been elected to service in places of importance.

The local church leaders will stress spiritual life, the second phase in the Crusade for Christ during the next twelve months and at present are engaged in making a religious survey of the county.

8,000 POUNDS OF IRISH POTATOES FOR SCHOOLS

Supt. Ernest Caskey was notified this week that the school lunch rooms of this county would be shipped 8,000 of Irish potatoes in the near future. The shipment is to be made October 25 by the surplus commodity administration, to be included in a carload to San Angelo, where part will be unloaded and the remainder sent to Ballinger.

Mr. Caskey said the shipment would represent about five or six pounds per pupil for meals in lunch rooms of the county.

Home Owners Asked To Number Houses; Street Markers Soon

Ballinger citizens are asked to secure numbers for their residences and to put them up where they can be seen from the street. The Ballinger Lions Club is sponsoring the campaign to have every house in the corporate limits properly numbered and every street and avenue plainly marked.

Those who have any doubt as to the correct number of their dwelling are asked to visit the city hall and get the number certified from the city map. Numbers may be purchased at a number of Ballinger stores and the committee in charge urges that numbers be affixed to houses as soon as possible.

Within the next two weeks a survey will be made to see how many home owners have complied with the request and also to check the correctness of the numbers. The original inspection revealed that some entire blocks were numbered wrong. This is especially true in places where there are vacant blocks and the next block occupied by houses.

In some of the newer sections of the city no numbers were found at all, and no street markers had been put up, making it almost impossible to locate any particular place.

Street markers are to be set up at the intersections of streets and avenues where they can easily be seen from a car. Numbers should be placed at the front of the house facing the street, using the street number, and those facing the avenue taking the numbers assigned to the avenue.

When the next check-up is made the committeemen will carry numbers with them any owners of houses found unnumbered will be asked to pay for their numbers and it will be attached to the house at that time.

The Cost of Keeping a Child Out of School

By J. D. Wilson

Superintendent, Ballinger Schools

The average boy who has completed the grades of the elementary school is possessed of little more than the first principles of knowledge and the bare foundations of efficiency. He can read, write legibly, spell with fair accuracy, figure with some facility, and express himself with more or less clearness. His knowledge of facts is likely to be limited and hazy. His power to observe accurately, describe with precision, and infer justly, in a limited way, has been somewhat sharpened by his course in school. He has gained in patience, but whether he has gained materially in skill and accuracy in handwork in forethought, in good judgment may be considered doubtful.

His taste for interesting and improving reading has without doubt been cultivated. That his usefulness to society is still largely undeveloped, is indicated by his earning power, which is slight. Generally speaking, a boy who leaves school at fourteen does so at a sacrifice both to himself and to the community of which he is a part. The normal and proper destination of a graduate of the elementary school is the high school.

In many families, hard pressed for ready money, the critical question arises, when the boy reaches his fourteenth year, hasn't he had education enough? He knows how to read and write and can spell fairly well... why should he go on and study algebra and English, perhaps Spanish or Latin? He has become a charge on the family; isn't it time for him to go to work? The corner groceryman will give him a job driving his delivery wagon; the local factory is ready to absorb him into its machine, possibly he may get a place back of the drug store fountain counter.

The government has been making a scientific study of the great practical question here presented. As a result it can now answer that question in the way that is most convincing. It tells us precisely what is the cost, in the financial sense, of leaving school at fourteen. For example, there are 799 workers in a certain Massachusetts factory; part of them left school at fourteen, while the rest remained in school until they had reached their eighteenth year. The boys who left school at fourteen averaged $400 in wages the first year. After they had worked four years... when they had reached the age of eighteen... their earnings had increased to $575.00.

Meanwhile their associates had spent the intervening four years in school; while the industrious first group were plugging away in the factory, increasing their wages a few dollars each week, the other boys were spending their days and evenings over their school books, and in many cases taking special courses. Now a singular thing happened when this second group entered the factory. Both groups are now at the same age—18. But the first year's earnings of the high school boys were larger than the fourth year's earnings of the boys who had abandoned their books at the end of the elementary school. The second group drew, on an average, $725 each; while the first, as already said, received only $375.

As years went on, the situation became even more discrepant. For the high school boys began to forge ahead at a much more rapid rate than their old time classmates. The 14-year-old class reached their high-water mark at 25, when they were earning $850 a year. By the time the high school graduates were 25, they were getting $1,750 a year... were $900 a year more than the elementary school boys.

But whereas the latter had reached their limit, the former had their greatest opportunities still ahead of them. Naturally the elementary school boys included some exceptional ones who progressed beyond this average; yet the record shows that there were only two per cent who attained important positions.

But while the money value of education is the phase of the subject that makes the most direct appeal, this seems a rather low plane on which to view the question. Let us turn for a moment to another viewpoint and study the comparative number of Americans who have attained distinction in civil or political life with the number of those who have attained such honors without educational advantages. Here again the government comes to our aid with definite and positive statistical facts. Of five million men with no schooling, only 31 attained distinction. Of 33 million with only elementary schooling, 808 attained distinction. Of two million with high school education, 1,245 attained distinction. Of one million with college education, 5,768 attained distinction. The student with no schooling has one chance in 150,000 of performing distinguished service; with elementary education, he has four times the chance; with high school education, 87 times the chance; with college education, 800 times the chance.

Real education should be directed to the proper appreciation of the opportunities that life offers. And anyone who would uplift boy or girl, man or woman, must show the good the beautiful, and the true, are the dynamic forces that make life worth living.

ARMY ENLISTMENT OPEN TO MEN FROM 17 TO 24

Pfc. Albert Goins, with the army service forces, was in Ballinger Tuesday in the interest of army enlistments. Operating under the 8th service command, he is covering this territory from the Lubbock recruiting office seeking new enlistments and the reenlistments of men recently discharged.

Periods of enlistments are one year, 18 months or two years. The age limits are 17 to 34 except those under 18 must have the written consent of their parents. Any man who left the service and reenlists within 20 days will be reinstated with the same rank he held when in uniform.

Any man interested in continuing in the service or enlisting for any of the allowed periods should get in touch with a recruiting office and discuss all the additional benefits offered now for men in the army.

Ballinger Lions Present Program For New Eden Club

Sixteen Ballinger Lions went to Eden Monday night to conduct the first meeting of the New Eden Lions Club, which was organized two weeks ago. The Ballingerites will go back in two weeks for another program of entertainment and at that time a large number of Lions and their wives will accompany the local group for the "ladies' night" meeting of the new club.

Judge E. C. Grindstaff was in charge of the program Monday night and Harry Lynn installed the officers. In a humorous vein Mr. Lynn charged each officer as he was installed.

Bill Hampton served with the tailwister of the Eden club for this meeting.

J. D. Wilson, the principal speaker, delivered a talk on Lionism.

The Eden club has got off to a good start and the members are enthusiastic. New members are being added to the club, which plans weekly meetings and programs.

Miss Jessie Bell Bride of W. J. Garrett in Big Spring
 Miss Jessie Bell, daughter of Mrs. W. H. Bell of Robert Lee, became the bride of W. J. Garrett of Big Spring last Saturday morning at ten o'clock in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Brown in Big Spring.

The Rev. LeRoy Russell, associate pastor of the First Methodist church, officiated for the wedding vows spoken before family members and a few close friends. Schubert's "Ave Maria" was played softly.

Tall baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums formed the improvised altar at the arch between the living and dining rooms. Arrangements of chrysanthemums centered the dining table and decorated the mantel.

The bride wore a Fred A. Block original model of heavenly blue sheer wool with fuchsia applique, harmonizing accessories and an orchid corsage.

After a wedding trip to San Antonio, the couple will be at home at the Settles Hotel in Big Spring. For traveling, the bride wore a three-piece suit of gold wool with shoes and bag of brown alligator and other brown accessories.

Mrs. Garrett formerly lived in Ballinger where she was employed by J. C. Penney Co. For the past several years she has been supervisor of the bookkeeping department of the First National Bank in Big Spring. Mr. Garrett is a retired business man and ranchman.

Out-of-town guests included the bride's mother and her brothers-in-law and sisters, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Lowry of Ballinger, Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Turner, Mrs. O. E. Scheetz, Mrs. A. J. Bilbo and Peggy and Janette, Mrs. Freeman Clark and Carleen of Robert Lee; Miss Griffie Atkins of Ballinger.

Miss Bernice Hoelscher and Sgt. Hosack Marry in California

The Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Oakland, California, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Bernice Hoelscher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hoelscher of Rowena, and Platoon Sgt. Ray G. Hosack, son of C. L. Hosack of Dayton, Ohio. The Rev. John Dolard performed the double ring ceremony on September 25.

Miss Elizabeth Henkhaus, who attended her cousin as maid of honor, wore a dress of coral rose satin and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers. Sgt. George King, of San Francisco, was best man. The bride wore a gown of lace and chiffon with long train and finger-tip veil of illusion caught to a beaded crown wreath. Her colonial bouquet was of all-white mixed blossoms.

After a short wedding trip to the Yosemite National Park and Southern California, the couple returned to Oakland. Mrs. Hosack is doing auditing work with the Great Western Railroad and Sgt. Hosack is stationed aboard the U.S.S. Baltimore with the marines.

He's the Sole Owner of the Business Now

Yes, Mr. Johnson is the sole owner of the business now. But he wouldn't be, if he hadn't invested in Southwestern Life Insurance. His business, you see, began as a partnership; a business that started from scratch, and blossomed into a thriving enterprise. And just at its peak, Mr. Johnson's partner lost his life in an accident.

Death terminates a partnership business—and unless proper arrangements have been made to continue it in some other form, the business must liquidate. The firm name, property, trade, good will—every asset passes away with a partner's death, unless the partners have taken sound steps to perpetuate that business.

Fortunate for Mr. Johnson, he and his partner had wisely arranged through Southwestern Life Insurance that either survivor should have the right to purchase the deceased's interest—and, equally as important, the money to do it with. That's how Mr. Johnson became sole owner of the business... and how he has arranged for his heirs to carry on when he gets ready to quit.

Death is the greatest single hazard any business faces. Business insurance offers the most effective method of offsetting the losses, ironing out complications and solving the problems of readjustment that death causes. Through Southwestern Life Insurance, you can do for your business just what Mr. Johnson did. You can have the ready cash, when you need it, to replace a key man, buy out your partner's widow, strengthen the financial structure of your business. Assure the future of that business today with Southwestern Life Insurance.

Yes, he does ride cheap!

Riding the rods or running a business, it's easy enough when you don't have to pay the freight. You simply get a free ride at somebody else's expense.

Maybe you run a store or service station or dress shop. Would you like to have a next-door competitor who has little or no rent, or taxes, or interest to pay, and who is kept in business partly by your tax money?

Yet this is what happens with government and political electric power systems. They ride free, contribute no federal taxes; often get your money from the public treasury at little or no interest and make up losses out of other departmental tax funds from pocket of taxpayers.

Meanwhile, on the average, America's business-managed government regulated electric companies help the people turn in taxes—about 25c out of every dollar collected to help support our government. And these companies—owned and operated by millions of folks like you—meet through proper management all other obligations without benefit of special government privileges and subsidies.

Today, these tax-paying, self-supporting companies supply over 80% of the tremendous amount of electric power produced in America... more than all the enemy countries put together ever had... and enough to have met the gigantic demands of war and still take care of all civilian needs without rationing.

Better yet—at a time when most things cost more—business-managed companies still deliver electricity at low pre-war prices. This record is your assurance that cheap, plentiful, dependable electric power will be yours in the post-war era ahead.

Only when heating is planned as part of house with necessary flues for venting the equipment can sought-after natural gas heat be enjoyed at its best.

There is time to carefully plan house heating with your architect or builder because it will be January before the new floor furnaces, gassteam radiators, circulators and central furnaces will be coming off production lines in large enough quantities to even begin to satisfy the demand.
