The Ballinger Lions Club held of the world peace and liberty. ts first meeting of the new year Friday noon at the Central Hotel. J. D. Wilson, new president, was in the chair and all other newly elected officers were performing their duties at the meeting.

Judge O. L. Parish was the speaker for the program, taking for his subject "Pledges of American People in the Past and Future." color and texture of skin are sometimes misleading, for the best tasting peaches ripen from the seed out. Gwendolyn Jones, food preservation specialist for the Texas A. __ M. College extension service, says that peaches of finest quality have a fresh appearance and when broken open are thoroughly ripe around the seed as well as under the skin.

Care must be exercised with ripe peaches, as they deteriorate quickly and should be canned as soon as possible after picking. If they must be kept for several days, cold storage at 36 to 40 degrees F. is the best method for holding them.

A standard bushel of peaches weighs about 48 pounds and should yield about 30 No. 2 cans or pint jars, or 20 No. 3 cans or quart jars. This bushel of peaches if a light syrup is used, will need about three pounds of sugar. For a light syrup, to each three cups of water use one cup of sugar Corn syrup or corn sugar may be substituted for part or all of sugar. One cup of sugar and two cups of corn syrup to six cups of water makes a desirable thir syrup. Brown sugar or syrups that have strong flavor are not desirable for canning. Honey may be used to replace a small part of the sugar, but it affects the C. A. Bisset, first vice president flavor of the fruit more than S. E. Cloninger, second vice- corn syrup. Never use saccharin in canning as heat makes it bitter. If used at all, add when the fruit is served. Miss Jones advises consulting a doctor before using it, because too much saccharin may be harmful.

For complete instructions on canning peaches, ask the local county home demonstration agent olus, oxalis, water hyacinths, for a copy of C-224, Can Fruits Committee appointments for the in a Water Bath, or write the
