Hobbs Moves Here For Three Games Starting Tonight

Local fans watched two excellent games against Midland Indians with the Westerners taking both with late inning rallies. Tuesday night a two run home by Vince Magi put the locals ahead 8 to 7 and hung on until the ninth for a win.

Wednesday fans were all set for the big double-header but storm warnings, a fierce black cloud and a small sprinkle kept many at home. The first game was postponed but one game got underway at 7:30 which gave the fans the biggest thrill of the season.

Going into the last of the ninth on the short end of a 6 to 1 score, the Westerners got a hitting rally started and when it cleared away the crowd was leaving after seven hits and six runs to take their second win 7 to 6. A triple off Joe Giel drove in the final run. Ralph Mason went all the way for the Ballinger win.

The Westerners returned home Tuesday night to begin a five day stand, playing six games. The Midland Indians were on hand for a game Tuesday night and the double-header on July 4.

The league leading Hobbs team will move in tonight for three important games with the Runnels County team, closing out Saturday night. After that the Westerners will hit the road and will not return to the home park until July 16 when Rowell comes to town for three games.

Humble Station To Open Here Saturday, July 7

Ballinger's newest service station will have its formal opening here Saturday. The Humble Service Station, located at the corner of Broadway and Park Avenue has been completed and will be ready to start service to the people of this area Saturday.

Joe Hambricht, well known service station operator here, will be the manager. Until a few months ago he was in Ballinger with a modern station and for several weeks he has been waiting for the new and well located Humble Station to be completed.

Excellent time has been made on the construction job. Just 60 days were used by the workmen to get the station ready for service. The station replaces one of Ballinger's old landmarks, the Massey Hotel.

Mr. Hambricht stated that they would have free gifts for the ladies, men and kiddies all day Saturday. A green thumb house plant will be given all ladies visiting the station. There will also be balloons for the kiddies and key chains and cigars for the men. Announcement was made that the station will give S&H Green Stamps to all customers.

The station will handle all Humble Products, including tires, batteries and accessories, and will render a complete service to all car and truck owners.

Those who visit the station will be asked to register. At the end of the day gifts will be given to two persons. A White Mountain Ice Cream Freezer will be one of the free gifts and a Texas Style Barbecue Grill the other.

Morning Swims Will Be Stopped After This Week

Dick Richey, manager of the Municipal swimming pool, announced this week that morning swimming would be discontinued this week. A trial was made for the opening of the pool each morning at 10 a. m. but business has not been sufficient in the mornings to justify.

After this week the pool will open each afternoon at 1 p. m. Sunday hours will be from 1 to 7 p. m. It will be open morning, afternoon and evening on holidays.

Classes in swimming will be started on July 16 and all beginners interested in learning to swim are urged to register for these classes. The ages will be from 5 years old up to adults. The ten day course will be $4 and classes will be limited to 6 persons so that more personal instructions can be given each swimmer.

Mr. Richey will be assisted by Paul Stewart in the instructions. Classes will start at 10 a. m. and will run from Monday through Friday. In case enough are interested two periods will be taught each morning.

NEW VOTING BALLOTS CONFUSE MANY HERE

Voters have not been accustomed to the ballots with the small square in front of the candidate's name or in front of the for and against on bond elections.

Last Saturday there were 12 mutilated ballots in one local box because the square was used wrong. These votes would have changed the result of one proposition on the election.

Some placed a check-mark in the square and then scratched the printing after the square, making it impossible to tell how the person actually voted.

The law still permits the scratching of a candidate or an issue but when this is done the check-mark is unnecessary. When a check is placed in the square, that is all that is necessary for the ballot to be legal and properly counted.

Those who cast a ballot in the primary this month should remember that to vote for a certain candidate, all that is necessary is to place a check in the square in front of the name.

The two proposition road bond issue voted on here Saturday resulted in one issue passing and the other being defeated. A $300,000 issue to be used on Highway 67 for improvements between Coleman and Tom Green County lines, passed by 28 votes over the required two-thirds majority. The issue for $100,000 to purchase right-of-way on Highway 83 from Hatchel to Ballinger lost by only 5 votes.

On proposition No. 1, which included work on Highway 67, the vote was 1,166 for and 541 against the issue. On proposition No. 2, Highway 83 improvements the vote was 1,106 for and 561 against.

Members of the Runnels County commissioners' court were in session Monday afternoon to check and retabulate the ballots. Election boxes were received here by Sheriff Don Atkins and held in his care until opened Monday by members of the court.

Judge W. H. Rampy stated that highway engineers for this area had been advised of the result of the election. At least one job as authorized by the election will be way to go as soon as right-of-way deal has been completed on other projects along Highway 67 as can be let in the very near future.

The new bridge across the Colorado River at Ballinger and eight-tenths of a mile of four lane highway will be the first work done. The money for this job has been appropriated and all engineering work completed.

The county will have considerable work to do just west of the river where additional right-of-way must be purchased. The new width of the road will require the moving of some eight or ten houses. Part of these will just be moved back from the highway but some will have to be moved to other locations. Deeds are ready for property owners to sign and this work will be accomplished as soon as possible.

While the bridge is under construction, a detour will be set up here which will direct traffic south on Highway 83 to the Horseshoe Theatre and then back over a road to an intersection with Highway 67 in South Ballinger.

The construction of the bridge will also have some requirements on the city for curbs, etc. on Hutchings Avenue from Tenth Street to the city limits.

The second project for construction is expected to be the four-lane highway from a point eight-tenths of a mile west of the Colorado River to the Tom Green County line.

San Angelo and Tom Green County also approved road bonds Saturday which will provide money for the purchase of right-of-way on Highway 67 in that county to the Runnels County line and a connection with the four-lane project in this county.

Here is a breakdown on voting by boxes: Ballinger No. 1 Proposition No. 1 Highway 67 For 243, Against 29. Proposition No. 2, Highway 83. For 223, against 45.

Benoit Proposition No. 1 For 4, against 26; proposition No. 2 For 4, against 25.

Brookshire Proposition No. 1 For 5, against 11; proposition No. 2 For 4, against 12.

Miles Proposition No. 1 For 67, against 99; proposition No. 2 For 83, against 64.

Rowena Proposition No. 1 For 70, against 114; proposition No. 2 For 69, against 103.

The Gospel of Christ

Keys To Bible Understanding RIGHTLY DIVIDING THE NEW TESTAMENT

Fast lessons have shown the need of rightly dividing the Bible (2 Timothy, 2:15). We have learned that both of the Old Testament dispensations have been abolished and that Christ is our authority today.

We must be able to rightly divide the New Testament to understand the plan of salvation and Christ's will concerning us. Christ told people to keep the law of Moses (Matthew 23:2-3); yet Paul said Christ took away the law of Moses and that we are saved by the law of Christ (Heb. 10:9-10; Col. 2:14; Gal. 3:24-25). Is there a contradiction? Not when you understand that CHRIST LIVED AND DIED UNDER THE LAW OF MOSES, and was speaking to Jews before his death brought the old law to an end. Paul spoke of all people today since the law of Christ went into effect on the day of Pentecost.

Christ told his apostles to preach only to the Jews and not to Gentiles (Matt. 10:5-7); and he said "I am not sent but unto... Israel" (Matt. 15:24). In the Great Commission, however, Christ told his apostles to "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature." (Mark 16:15). Did Christ contradict himself? Not when you rightly divide and understand that the limited commission was given during His lifetime under the law of Moses, but the Great Commission was given after His death and after the old law was nailed to the cross (Col. 2:14).

EXCEPTING THE CLOSING VERSES, THE EVENTS OF THE FOUR GOSPELS—MATTHEW, MARK, LUKE AND JOHN—TOOK PLACE UNDER THE LAW OF MOSES. They are the events of the life of Christ and are of necessity under the old law of Moses because it did not end until the death of Christ (Colossians 2:14). Christ lived and died under the law of Moses.

THE EVENTS OF CHRIST'S LIFE TOOK PLACE BEFORE THE ESTABLISHMENT OF HIS KINGDOM OR HIS CHURCH. In Matthew 16:18 Christ promised to build his church (or Kingdom v. 19). In Acts 1:6 (which was after the death of Christ) the kingdom or church had not been established. Christ promised the kingdom would come when the power (Holy Spirit) came (Mark 9:1). The power came on the day of Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4); therefore the church came then. Acts 2:47 proves it, because people were then added to the church; but in Acts 1:6 (before Pentecost) the kingdom hadn't come yet. Thus we see plainly that the events of Christ's life occurred before the establishment of His church.

Paul identifies the facts of the gospel as the death, burial, and resurrection of Christ (1 Corinthians 15:1-4). Obviously THE GOSPEL COULD NOT BE PREACHED DURING THE LIFETIME OF CHRIST because His death, burial and resurrection were not facts as yet, only promises. Thus it was after His resurrection that Christ said, "Go—preach the gospel."

CHRIST'S WILL OR LAW DID NOT GO INTO EFFECT UNTIL AFTER HIS DEATH. Paul plainly says in Hebrews 9:16:17 "For where a testament is, THERE MUST OF NECESSITY BE THE DEATH OF THE TESTATOR. For a testament is of force AFTER MEN ARE DEAD: Otherwise IT IS OF NO STRENGTH AT ALL WHILE THE TESTATOR LIVETH."

Just like in men's wills today, Christ could dispose of His property (blessings, forgiveness, salvation) as He desired (for example, forgiving the thief on the cross); but after His death and the probation of His last will and testament the condition of His will became fixed and unchanged.

CHRIST'S WILL DID NOT GO INTO EFFECT UNTIL THE FIRST PENTECOST AFTER HIS RESURRECTION when it was probated by the executors, the apostles. Peter, as the door keeper (Matthew 16:19), announced the terms of pardon under Christ's will on that memorable Pentecost. The conditions never shall be changed.

happy vacations begin in a Chevy America's largest selling car—2 million more owners than any other make!

You'll love to travel in it, because it loves to travel! When you get this Chevrolet out on the road, you'll want to keep going—and so will the whole family.

Of course, even in a Chevy the happiest vacations may involve one or two minor problems. Like fidgety small fry who want gallons of water and keep asking if you're almost there. The big things, though, are well taken care of by this roomy Chevrolet's smooth and easy way of going.

The fact is, few cars at any price hold the road with a Chevy's grace. That idea about the best riding cars being great oversized affairs went out with the introduction of Chevrolet's outrigger rear springing and low, precisely balanced chassis design. With horsepower up to 225, the Chevrolet moves out like a whiplash, for safer passing. And with it you've always got that solid feeling of stability.

It's no wonder that many people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevy! Stop by for a ride.

Cervenka to Test Irrigation Plan On 60-Acre Farm

Farmers in this area of West Texas are becoming more and more interested in irrigation and have been studying various possible plans. The following release by the Runnels Soil Conservation services regarding one Runnels County farmer shows some of the problems.

Will irrigation pay off? This is the question Bill Cervenka is asking himself as he gets his first crop underway after completely revising his old irrigation system. The Cervenka farm joins the Colorado River about 8 miles west of Ballinger.

As Cervenka puts it, irrigation is much more intensive than dry land farming. If handled right the returns are high, but the expense and risk the farmer must take are also high. One of the big costs the irrigation farmer has is that of getting his irrigation system installed, and the more near perfect it is, the better are his chances of making irrigation pay off.

Some of the things that the farmer must do to plan and put his irrigation system to work are:

1. He must be sure that he has a plentiful supply of suitable water and if the water supply is to come from a pond or stream, get the proper permit to use it.

2. He should have a contour map made of his field to help him plan the best adapted irrigation system.

3. If the level border system is the one decided upon, next comes the job of staking the cuts and fills and moving dirt to level the field.

It takes a lot of time as well as expense to get a system installed. Cervenka started leveling his 60 acre field last fall and just got it ready in time to plant cotton.

This work is being done as a part of the conservation plan Cervenka has with the Runnels County soil conservation district. He is being assisted by the technicians of the conservation service.

Effective Use of Water Urged

By C. C. Wiedenfeld

Soil Specialist
Soil Conservation Service

Getting water in the ground sub-soils and dusty, powdery surface soil. Wind erosion, high runoff and ponded water behind terraces for ten days are all symptoms of poor soil condition. In the last three or four years we have seen dust blow from our fields, and the Runnels Soil Conservation District has watched a wind erosion problem develop. The drought has brought the wind erosion problem on us, but the poor soil condition was made by man.

Wind erosion in this district can be controlled by leaving all stubble on the surface.

Most of the farmland in this District is terraced, but is this all that is needed to get water in the ground? I have seen water standing behind terraces six days after a rain. There are several things wrong with that. First, that is too much water on one place. With twelve inches of water, an average soil that is completely dry will be wet five or six feet deep. Cotton and maize do not benefit much from moisture stored below a four foot depth. This means that part of this water is not used effectively by the growing crops. Another disadvantage of having water standing on land is the temporary drainage problem. Life in the soil must have air and this water replaces the air. Plant roots must have air spaces in the soil in which to grow. Air is a requirement of the bacterial life that decays dead vegetation in the soil. An improved soil condition would allow the water to go down. A combination of practices is needed to make effective use of rain. Start with terraces to stop erosion, but add conservation practices like contour cultivation, basin listing, chiseling, stubble mulch, cover crops, deep rooted crops and crops that add large amounts of organic matter to get water in the ground where it falls.

Explorers Slate First Air Camps Goodfellow Field

Announcement has been made that thirty explorers from the Tri-River District will participate in the air encampment slated from July 9 through 14 at the Goodfellow Air Force Base in San Angelo. This will include going through the shops, control tower, altitude chamber, jet classes, parachute demonstrations, fire fighting demonstrations, recreational facilities, rifle range, weather stations, communications, link trainer and actual flying.

There will be 144 boys divided into six flights. Each flight will have an opportunity to win the Honor award by achieving the greatest number of points on barracks inspection, personal inspection, formation, discipline and cooperation. Boys to attend from Ballinger are Kennedy Whiteley, Skeet Pearce, Jim McWilliams, Donald Dusek and Robert Ledford.

Guard Unit Home After Two Weeks Summer Training

Members of Company I, 142 Infantry, returned to Ballinger Sunday after being at North Fort Hood for two weeks. The Ballinger unit attended 100 per cent this year and was one of the outstanding units of the division.

Saturday marked the end of the summer camp for the boys in the 36th division of the Texas National Guard. For two weeks the T-patchers, 10,000 strong from every corner of Texas, have changed their dress, titles and attitudes from their normal civilian association to living the life of a soldier.

This year marked the ninth camp that the 142 infantry regiment has been on summer maneuvers since the end of World War II. It is the greatest strength and as the commanding general, Carl L. Phinney of Dallas has stated, "Shows the best state of training and the most successful maneuvers in the guard's history."

The summer camp was held at North Fort Hood where the troops lived for one week in garrison (tent city) and one week in the field under simulated battle conditions. Tests were conducted by Continental Army replacement command, the first in national guard history, to see if the guard is in combat readiness.

Members of the Ballinger unit were glad to be home and resume jobs in air-conditioned buildings after the week of field maneuvers in 100 degree heat. All showed signs of the outdoor work but all were in the best of physical condition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stockton and children, Barbara and Richard of Fort Worth, are visiting in the home of Mrs. L. L. Stroble and other relatives and friends.

Susan and Linda Lively of Hawthorne, California are here for a visit with their grandmother, Mrs. W. L. McMillan. They will return home with their other grandmother, Mrs. Verna Lively, who lives in Santa Monica, California, and is in Austin visiting her son, Truett Lively and family.

E. B. Blackburn was at home for the past week-end and has returned to Austin to enter the University of Texas for the second six-weeks of summer school.

Out-of-town guests here to attend the Patterson-Mullins wedding Friday night were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Burden, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred L. Burden, Jr., of San Antonio; Mrs. Arthur Richardson and son, Bobby, of Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mullins and three children, and Miss Polly Klien of San Angelo; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Urbank, Gilbert Tishner and Nolan Hoelscher of Rowena.

Card of Thanks

To those who were so kind and thoughtful in our recent sorrow, we deeply appreciate the flowers, the food and the sympathy extended. May God bless you.

A "new look" in big-scale outdoor melodrama is said to describe the RKO Superscope-Technicolor production, "Great Day in the Morning," coming tonight, Friday and Saturday to the Hillcrest Drive In Theatre. Heralded as an innovation both in story and pictorial departments, the widely anticipated film co-stars Virginia Mayo, Robert Stack and Ruth Roman.

Beautiful Yvonne De Carlo introduces a spectacular song specialty, "Bahama Mama," in Republic's exciting new drama, "Flame of the Islands," which comes to the Hillcrest Drive In Theatre Sunday and Monday with Howard Duff and Zachary Scott co-starring with Miss De Carlo.

"This patient will commit murder unless he is restrained!" These words from a brilliant woman psychiatrist, set Ridge mountains where other forms of communication are either inadequate or impossible. Thus the work trains, loaded with camera units, crews and supplies, were equipped with short wave radio transmitters, to handle passing traffic and spectators, to summon actors, to deliver important messages and to bring up additional supplies. Transmitters were also planted at headquarters and atop 3,500-foot Black Rock Mountain where a radio jeep was on hand to relay instructions that would not otherwise have penetrated the surrounding maze of forests and mountains.

"The Great Locomotive Chase," with Fess Parker and Jeffrey Hunter co-starring, is a Buena Vista release.

Filmed on location it was produced by Larry Watkin, Francis D Lyon directed.

Coming to the Texas Theatre Friday and Saturday is "Devil Goddess" and "Gaby."

Wednesday, July 11, Van Johnson in "The Bottom of The Bottle" is showing at the Texas Theatre.

Because Merle Oberon suddenly decided it was time for a change, she will be seen in one of the most unsympathetic feminine roles ever essayed by a screen star in "The Price of Fear." Universal-International suspense drama in which she co-stars with Lex Barker and which shows at the Horseshoe Drive In Theatre Tuesday and Wednesday.

In the new U-I picture Miss Oberon is an overly ambitious career woman who causes a hit-and-run accident, manages to divert suspicion from herself to Barker, then feigns love for him in order to delude him into further incriminating himself.

This is the first time in her more than two dozen top film roles that Miss Oberon has strayed to the hissing side of the screen in a succession of exotic roles for such films as "Dance of the Witches" and "Thunder in the East." Her stature as an actress grew in such movies as "The Private Life of Henry VIII," "The Scarlet Pimpernel" and "Wuthering Heights," but she remained in the cinematic paths of righteousness.

The only big change in her career came when producer Samuel Goldwyn took her out of the heavy exotic make-up and transformed her into a modern young woman in "The Dark Angel." Another modern role, in "These Three," led to an Academy Award nomination.

"Every actor or actress should shake up one's career at regular intervals" is the way Miss Oberon explained her taking the part in "The Price of Fear."

"I am not only playing my first unsympathetic role, I'm also appearing in my first modern suspense story. The combination of the two has given me a new experience before the camera. I hope it will intrigue movie audiences as much as it does me.

"Naturally, for the sake of the story, I want audiences to dislike the character I play, but I hope they'll continue to like Merle Oberon. Whether I shall do any more characters of this sort will depend a good deal upon the reaction of movie fans to my performance in "The Price of Fear."

Walt Disney not only selected Clayton, Georgia, as the ideal location site for filming "The Great Locomotive Chase," coming to the Texas Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, in CinemaScope and Technicolor, but also supervised the establishment of a high frequency radio system to help put the famous spy melodrama on celluloid. Disney knew in advance that handling the complex rail-bound location machinery would require a vast hookup to consolidate the mass of details involved.

For one thing, Clayton, Georgia, and the ancient Civil War-type track that Disney used for his re-enactment of railroads most sensational race were nestled in the deep, winding valleys of the Blue off the breath-taking action of "The Brain Machine," new RKO Radio release which opens Tuesday and Wednesday at the Hillcrest Drive In Theatre.

The lady doctor makes the dire prediction with the aid of a medical apparatus called an electro-encephalograph, which records the brain's impulses and enables doctors to diagnose mental disturbances from its wavy tracings.

If you're a Robert Mitchum fan and like a movie with plenty of action, then be sure to see the rugged star in Howard Hughes' "One Minute To Zero," RKO Radio release which opens Tuesday and Wednesday at the Hillcrest Drive In Theatre. He turns in a superb performance as a combat-tested infantry colonel who falls in love with beautiful Ann Blyth, a courageous American civilian working at the war-torn front.

McClenny-Cotton Wedding Is Impressive Church Service

Climaxing weddings of the month of June was that which united in marriage Miss Carolyn McClenny and Edwin Cotton of Aspermont. The Rev. E. R. Gordon, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony at 8 p. m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McClenny and a granddaughter of Mrs. L. L. McClenny, 3122 Ave. H and Mrs. L. B. Hiner, 3520 Ave. G, both of Fort Worth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cotton of Clyde.

A sunburst arrangement of calla lilies centered the altar. On either side of the floral arrangement were large brass candle holders holding burning candles. White candles in branched candelabra, entwined with emerald ferns and clusters of pom-poms lighted the scene. The wrought iron prie dieu formed the focal point of the altar setting in the sanctuary. Pews were marked with garlands of pom-poms and fern and white satin bows.

A prelude of organ music and traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Bob Bartlett. She accompanied Mrs. Darris L. Egger of Hamlin, who sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me."

Entering on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in a gown of white imported Chantilly lace over white crisp crystalite. The bodice was fashioned with a decollete neckline, outlined by appliques of the lace in a flower and petal motif encrusted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The brief sleeves accented the matching opera length gauntlets, coming to points over her hands. The moulded bodice came to long torso points in the front and back. From the waistline flowed an apron effect panel of the lace. The full swirling skirt of imported silk illusion fell from the lace panels.

Her imported, fingertip-length veil of white silk illusion floated from a petal-shaped cap of lace encrusted with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bride carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white orchid showered with white satin streamers.

She wore a pearl necklace, a gift of her great aunt, Mrs. Earl Jones of Fort Worth, a pearl bracelet which had belonged to her great grandmother, Mrs. Ollie Hiner, and ear clips which were a gift from the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Harvey Beckendorf of Alta Loma, and bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Maberry of McCaulley and Miss Geneva Knox of Fort Worth, cousin of the bride. They were identically attired in gowns of white nylon lace over pastel blue taffeta fashioned with a decollete neckline which came to a point in the back. The moulded bodices featured long torso lines with blue satin piping, and the circular skirts were ballerina length. They wore circular veils with chenille dot trim and they carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses backed with blue and white lace and showered with blue ribbons.

Connie Cotton of Pecos, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She wore a ballerina length gown of blue brocaded taffeta. Her headress was a bandeau of blue and white carnations. Ring bearer was Edwin Ault of Baird, nephew of the bridegroom.

Candles were lighted by Patsy Rogers of Llano, cousin of the bride, and Georgia McDonnell of Hamlin. They wore gowns made similar to the bridal attendants', and wristlets of yellow roses nestled in blue and white lace and ribbons.

Connard Cotton of Pecos, attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Bill Teel and Wesley Robbins, both of Aspermont. Ushers were Truman Sherrod and Burl Jameson, both of Aspermont.

A reception was held in the church parlors. The bride's table was laid with a white nylon net cloth bound with white satin over pale blue satin, and was accented with clusters of wedding bells tied with yellow and blue ribbons.

The attendants bouquets centered the table. The three-tiered, all white wedding cake, decorated with white bells and roses and edged with silver, was topped by an arch under which a miniature bride and bridegroom were placed. Table appointments were crystal and silver.

Serving the cake were Mrs. J. L. Ault of Baird and Mrs. L. C. Daugherty. Mrs. Bill Stultz and Mrs. Jack Ashton ladeled punch. Patsy Rogers and Georgia McDonnell registered guests.

When the couple left for a wedding trip, the bride was wearing a light blue orlon and cotton dress with a matching jacket with white trim. She wore white accessories and the orchid from the bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Cotton graduated from Ballinger High School and received her B. Mus. from North Texas State College, Denton. She has been teaching Public School Music at Hamlin the past two years. Mr. Cotton is a graduate of Clyde High School. He received his B. S. degree from Abilene Christian College, and his Masters degree from Hardin Simmons University, Abilene. He was in the 8th Air Force for 32 months and had overseas duty for 22 months.

The couple will be at home in Aspermont where Mr. Cotton is head football coach. Mrs. Cotton will teach public school music in Aspermont schools.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cotton of Clyde; Mr. and Mrs. Connard Cotton and children of Pecos; Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Ault and children of Baird; Mr. and Mrs. Doug Keene and daughter, Glenda; Mrs. D. F. Knox, Mrs. L. B. Hiner, all of Fort Worth; Mrs. Raymond Rogers, Llano.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Cotton were hosts at the rehearsal dinner at the Acapulco Cafe Friday evening. Approximately 25 attended.

Serving tables were centered with floral arrangements in the bride's chosen colors, blue and yellow. The couple presented gifts to the attendants.

Primary Ballots
For This County
Show Many Names

The primary election ballot to be used in this county on Saturday, July 28 will be long.
The total number of state, district, county and precinct officers is heavy this year and it will require considerable time to make a ticket.
Homer Hudgins, democratic chairman for Runnels County, has prepared the copy for the ticket and all candidates have been given places on the ballot.
The state ticket was received already arranged and other candidates were drawn from a hat to get their place on the listing.
Absentee balloting will begin on July 9 and continue until three days before the election.
Regular ballot boxes will be made up a week in advance of the election with all supplies enclosed. Election managers will pick up their boxes at the court house before July 28.
Reports of results in each box will be telephoned to the Ballinger Ledger office on the night of the election and the unofficial tabulations made.
These results will be furnished the Texas Election Bureau at Dallas.
Voting boxes will be opened at 8 a. m. and will close at 7
p. m. on election day.
County officials up for election this year will be named for four year terms to their offices. This will be true on all but county treasurer. This office is included in the 1956 election because of a resignation. In such cases where a man is appointed to fill an unexpired term, the law states that he must be elected at the next regular election. In the case of Runnels County, the treasurer will be named for only two years and will have to run again in 1958.
All election managers have been designated and they will secure the necessary helpers for holding the election and tabulating the votes.

The directors of the Ballinger
Chamber of Commerce met Monday night for their regular business session for July. Tom Caudie, new manager, was presented to the full board for his first meeting.
A report was given on a trip by local members of the Runnels County Water Conserva-

built in the Brady Creek project. Members of the new board and several others visited in the McCulloch and Concho areas where dams are being constructed on the tributaries of Brady Creek for flood control. The men were impressed with the project and will give a study to applying such a lake building idea to this county.
A report on the Ballinger Chest was presented to the board and announcement was made that a meeting would be held on July 10.
C. T. Parker gave a short report on the soil bank plan and stated that he had attend-

Reports were presented on pected by the State Highway
