News About Our Men in Service

Crowell came back in the third quarter and blocked a Munday punt on the Mogul 20-yard line. It took the Wildcats eight plays to move in for the score with quarterback Dan Mike Bird capping the short drive with a one-yard dive into the end zone.

Halfback Mike Payne blasted over for the two-point conversion after the Wildcats were given a second chance on the extra point attempt due to an offside penalty.

The Moguls fought back early in the fourth quarter with a touchdown scored by Bill Stewart from two yards out. Alcala kicked the extra point giving the Moguls the 10-8 decision which proved to be the final score.

Stewart was the work horse of the Moguls with 31 carries for a total of 108 yards rushing. Bird led the Crowell ground gainers with 51 yards in 19 carries and Payne had a total of 37 yards in 14 attempts.

Report Given on Foard Cotton Damage by Insects

Survey findings in Foard County showed damage from early season pests to be generally light in the sample fields. The chief early season pest was fleahoppers. Fleahoppers were first found on May 20 and reached a peak during the week of July 9 when infestations averaged 21 per cent. Bollworm damage was generally light, with the highest average population of 8 per cent occurring during the week of August 20. Boll weevils were first found on June 11 in the Thalia area of the county. Weevil populations resulted in the highest average; punctured square count of 19 per cent on July 16.

Other pests reported from cotton fields in the county included thrips, aphids, square borer, lygus bug, grasshoppers and webworms.

Foard County cotton is late this year due to the wet weather of a few weeks ago, and the heavy foliage which made defoliating difficult. Cotton grade this year is below normal for this county.

Mesquite Eradication Meeting to Be Held Near Quanah Dec. 8

Quanah—A nation-wide mesquite eradication program that will directly affect the economic future of the Southwest, including Foard County, will be launched Dec. 8 when Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman pays a visit to this area for a brush eradication field day near here, expected to attract some 5,000 persons from a three-state area.

This ambitious program, designed to impress state and federal authorities with the need of accelerated research for complete eradication of mesquite, is being put in orbit by a group of North Texas and Panhandle businessmen and stockmen who recently formed the Southwestern Mesquite and Brush Eradication Association.

The field day, which will call for demonstrations of every known method of mesquite control, will provide a graphic example of the inability of present methods to offer a permanent solution to the Southwest's most devastating agricultural problem—the loss of land to the creeping paralysis of mesquite and other brush infestation.

Secretary Freeman's visit will take place while he is in North Texas to attend an appreciation dinner in Wichita Falls for Congressman Graham Purcell. He will be accompanied by Quanah by Congressman Purcell, chairman of the House agriculture committee, and Congressman Bob Poage of Waco, veteran member of the House's agriculture appropriation committee.

Joining them will be top state officials including Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White, along with a host of legislators, ASCS, Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service leaders and officials from other state and federal agencies in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Others to attend will be representatives of livestock associations, state and national farm organizations and agriculture editors of Texas and other Southwest newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations.

The field day will take place on the J. A. Koch farm on the Hardeman, Childress, Cottle county lines some 14 miles southwest of Quanah.

One of the most impressive demonstrations will be by a mammoth "Billy Goat" machine produced by the R. G. LeTourneau Co. of Longview, that cuts and shreds the brush.

November 23 Is Important Day for Foard Farmers

November 23 is an important day for farmers of Foard County as well as Texas and many states. It's referendum day. Minds County Agent Joe Kett.

Cotton producers, both and extra long staple, will yes or no in separate referendum on whether or not marketing quotas will be in effect on their crops.

The county agent pointed out that two-thirds of the farmers must favor marketing quotas to make them effective.

Because of the importance of these referendums, Bureau of Agriculture officials are urging all eligible producers to vote.

He further suggests to producers that they visit the county agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office for complete details on what is at stake.

Local and County ASCS representatives can also supply information on the referendum, he said.

Mark November 23 on calendar and vote, suggested county agent.

Not so in America.

In all criminal prosecutions the accused shall enjoy the right of a public trial, says Article the Sixth of the Bill of Rights of the Constitution of the United States.

So people may know, newspapers must report these trials.

This is not freedom of the press. This is responsibility of the press.

Newspapers have no extraordinary rights.

People do.

Men have the right to a public trial and the right to know what happens in courtrooms. If people are to know the truth the newspaper must report the news.

Transfers of Cotton Allotments Explained by ASCS

Details regarding the transfer of upland cotton allotments were released this week by Ray Hysinger, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, Foard County. A vote on whether to permit transfer of allotments outside the county (but within the state) will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 23, at the same time that growers vote on marketing quotas for the 1966 upland cotton crop. Hysinger emphasized that the referendum on allotment transfers has nothing to do with marketing quotas. Under the new farm legislation enacted this year, transfers of upland cotton allotments by sale or lease may be made from one farm to another within the same county without regard to the outcome of the allotment-transfer referendum. Also, transfers from one farm to another owned by the same person can be made across county lines within the state without regard to the outcome of the transfer referendum. The referendum on transfers of allotments will decide only the question of whether to permit transfers outside the particular county—but within the state. If at least two-thirds of the growers of upland cotton voting in the county approve such out-of-county transfers, transfers outside the county can be made during the three years (1966-68). In no case can transfers be made outside the state. If county farmers disapprove such out-of-county transfers this year, another referendum on the question will be held next year. The question about permitting out-of-county transfers of allotments will be decided by the vote within each county. The question about whether marketing quotas shall apply to the 1966 upland cotton crop will be decided on a national basis. If at least two-thirds of the upland cotton growers voting throughout the nation approve marketing quotas for the 1966 upland cotton crop, the quotas will be in effect and marketing penalties will apply to any excess cotton produced. Approval of quotas will also mean that the new cotton program will go into operation, offering various program benefits to participating growers. Export market reserve acreage would also be available under a quota program, for growers who wish to grow cotton for export only, without price support or any government payment.

Future Teachers Sponsor Veterans Day Program Thursday
Future Teachers of America sponsored a program on Thursday, Nov. 11, in the school auditorium in observance of Veterans Day. Janell Gray opened the program by leading the National Anthem and "Texas, Our Texas." Marilyn Cates, Kathy Eubank and Karen Shirley made talks on their trip this summer to the Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime.

Ray Shirley concluded the program with the presentation of awards to the winners of speech contest sponsored by the American Legion. The trophy and first place went to Karen Shirley; and Nancy Ketchersid, Paul Stapp, Zerme Gafford and Tommie McRae received medals for their contributions to the contest.

How to make a holiday last all year long

"How often do you call Long Distance to friends or members of the family?"

"Well, I expect to make some calls on Thanksgiving and maybe on Christmas."

"Why wait for a holiday or special occasion to call — that's the old fashioned way!"

"How come? Is the phone company having a sale just now?"

"No, not that. New low-cost long distance rates are now in effect all day Sunday and every night after eight — so now for a dollar or less, you can keep in touch more often."

"Say! That's a good idea! Tonight I'll make some important calls I've been putting off."

"Fine! Thanks to new low rates you can call anywhere in continental U. S. station-to-station and talk three minutes for $1.00 or less. This is the big communications bargain — the modern way to keep in touch at all times."

Cotton Allotment Notices in Mail

Notices of individual farm acreage allotments for the 1966 upland cotton crop have been mailed to farmers in Foard County, according to Ray Hysinger, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. He pointed out that any question about the allotments should be taken up immediately with the ASC County Committee.

Mr. Hysinger declared that the intention is to let farmers know how the allotment program will affect their farms prior to the Nov. 23 referendum on marketing quotas for the 1966 upland cotton crop. The law requires a favorable vote by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in order to keep marketing quotas in effect.

Growers eligible to vote are all those farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1965.

If the vote is favorable, Mr. Hysinger explained, quotas will apply to the 1966 upland cotton crop, with penalties on any excess cotton produced; loans and price-support and diversion payments will be available to growers who reduce their acreage at least 12.5 per cent below the farm allotment, put the diverted acres into a conserving use, and meet other program provisions. Growers who elect not to participate in the reduction program will be able to apply for a share of an export market acreage reserve and to grow and export all their cotton without government subsidy and without marketing quota penalties.

If the vote is unfavorable, he added, there will be no quotas or penalties on the 1966 upland cotton crop, no price-support or diversion payments, no export market acreage reserve, and price support loans to growers who do not exceed their farm acreage allotment will be available at 50 per cent of parity.

Lease or sale of cotton allotments will be permitted under certain conditions, and the Nov. 23 referendum will also decide whether growers wish to permit such transfers outside the particular county but within the state. The outcome of the marketing quotas referendum will have no effect on the lease or

NOTICE!

Many people have begun to search for an answer to this question: What has happened to Crowell's football team this year? To answer this question, one can do so by asking several more.

What ever happened to student pep rallies? To bonfires? Do we ever have homecomings? Crown football queens anymore? Do we ever form lines to run the players onto the field before the game? The answer to these questions is clear.

Some school officials just do not seem to think these things are necessary in the school. They have taken all the spontaneous spirit away from the students, as well as the townspeople. Why? That question cannot be answered. Only the ones responsible know. To most people, their policy doesn't make sense.

Is the school for the students or the adults?

Crowell has (no doubt) the finest football material in Class A in the State of Texas. They are all fine boys and deserve no discredit from anyone. We are all proud of them.

How did we lose the district championship? Munday didn't have the potential that Crowell had. They just had too many cannons, air horns, cow bells, signs and posters. And a lot of people with lots of "rah rahs."

Some school leaders say those things are silly. How about you?

Six Months Remain to Obtain G. I. Life Insurance

A reminder that only six months remain to obtain the newly re-opened National Service Life Insurance was made this week by Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco.

This insurance is being offered those veterans of World War II and the Korean conflict who either failed to take out the insurance originally or allowed it to lapse in whole or in part.

Deadline for the sale of the new GI policies is midnight, May 2, 1966.

The eligible veteran must have a service-connected disability or a non-service-connected disability so severe that he cannot purchase commercial insurance at the highest rates, Coker said.

Lions Club Meeting

Two Crowell High School seniors, Kathy Eubank and Karen Shirley, gave the program at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Lions Club and told of the Attorney General's Youth Conference they attended last August in Austin. Marilyn Cates was to have been on the program, but she was unable to attend because of sickness.

Lower side panels of Fleetside models are also double-walled. Chassis, too, is designed for extra strength. You can get a 6½-, 8-, or 9-ft. body and a big new 250-cu.-in. Six. Or specify a rugged 327-cu.-in. V8.

Area Sorority Members to Meet Saturday in Vernon

A called meeting of all sorority members and alumnae who are interested in organizing a City Panhellenic for Foard-Wilbarger-Hardeman Counties will be held Saturday, Nov. 20, at 10 a. m. in the conference room of the Lone Star Gas Company in Vernon. This joint effort is for all members of sororities affiliated with the National Panhellenic Conference who reside in the above mentioned counties.

The goal of a City Panhellenic organization is to bring together into one organization as many NPC fraternity women as possible for constructive activity for the local community and for the cause of fraternity. There are usually four meetings a year:

held in January, April, July and October.

The objects are to promote interfraternity friendship and collaboration; to promote educational projects; to unite closely the colleges, College Panhellenics and City Panhellenics, in the study of problems interesting to all; to further interest in many kinds of social service, civic affairs, and in philanthropic fields; and to disseminate authentic information which will react favorably for the cause of Greekdom and to demonstrate that Panhellenic has a high purpose.

Representatives of the Abilene City Panhellenic, which will host the state convention of the Texas Association of City Panhellenics in April, will talk to the group on organizational details. A resume of the public relations report prepared by the Houston City Panhellenic Association will also be given. This includes the latest federal education legislation in regard to fraternal organizations.

Columbian Club

It was a perfect fall day and both flowers and food were in abundance when, on November 10, Mrs. Marion Crowell entertained the members of the Columbian Club with a covered dish luncheon. Mrs. R. C. McCord gave the invocation preceding the buffet.

Following the business session, with Mrs. John S. Ray presiding, the program on "International News" was presented under the leadership of Mrs. Roy Barker. She prefaced her program with M. Henry's quotation, "Peace is such a precious jewel that I would give anything for it but truth." A most appropriate prayer, printed in The Texas Clubwoman, November issue, was read by Mrs. Allen Shultz.

"Now that they have nuclear power, the big danger is not that the Red Chinese will match the might of the United States, but that they will continue to think they could survive a nuclear war," said Mrs. J. M. Chowning, who discussed the international situation in regard to Red China. As far back as 1957, Mao Tse-Tung stated that China was not afraid of atomic bombs. He based his announcement on the fact that his country, with 750 million people, could lose as many as 300 million and still survive. Life has always been held cheap in the Orient and Mao's words bear out this belief. The atomic bomb in the possession of such near-sighted leaders as Mao is inexcusably more dangerous, to man's survival.

"Teach-ins, draft card burnings, marches on the White House, torch suicides are leaving an erroneous impression of American opinion and purpose upon the world," said Mrs. D. R. Magee as she presented her paper on "Why We Are Fighting in Vietnam." Communist China desires to encompass all of Southeast Asia, move on to engulf Australia, then Japan—thus turning the Pacific into a communist lake fronting the shores of North and South America. She said "We must stop this invasion before it reaches the Pacific islands, giving them time to build up their own defenses, and thus decreasing their dependence upon us."

Mrs. Grady Halbert reviewed an article on present-day trends in Soviet Russia, the unending struggle for power among its leaders, the disappointing agricultural program and the overall lagging of the Soviet economy. Surprisingly enough, living conditions are improving, though slowly, and there is evidence everywhere in the Soviet Union of more concern for the consumer. Young people listen more freely to foreign radio broadcasts and know a great deal about the possibilities of life outside the Union. Many have become cynical of the Communist dogma. They say the "promises" of Marxism and Leninism are not enough; they want to see the results now.

Guests present for the luncheon and program were Mrs. Roy Steele and Mrs. James Sandlin.

Crowell Garden Club

Fourteen members present for the November meeting of the Crowell Garden Club when it met at the home of Mrs. Walter Ramsey on Friday, Nov. 12. Assisting Mrs. Ramsey with hostess duties was Mrs. C. M. Carroll.

"Selection and Growth of Lilies" was the topic which was discussed by Mrs. Hubert Brown. In this period of hybridizing lilies, every garden should have lilies planned to bloom all summer.

Mrs. W. M. Rake discussed the value of compost in the soil.

Mrs. L. A. Andrews gave principles of flower arranging and displayed a number of arrangements featuring the triangular design.

The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Duane Johnson.

Home Builders Circle

Mrs. Leslie Thomas was hostess to the Homebuilders Circle in her home Tuesday evening of last week.

Mrs. Glenn Shook opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Clyde James, circle chairman, conducted a business session at which time the circle decided to present the Christmas pageant again this year.

The program was presented by Mrs. Travis Vecera, assisted by Mrs. Frank Cooper. The subject was "The Church in Tension with the World," and was the fifth lesson from the book study, "Acts, Then and Now." Mrs. Cooper led the group in the WSCS benediction.

Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess to eight members.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

Every year the good tax folks send out a lot of letters asking taxpayers to come in for an audit. It scares the very briches off of most taxpayers to get one of these letters. It doesn't pay to get scared. The folks down at Internal Revenue are trained to be reasonable. If you get a letter calling you in for an audit, calmly gather up all your records and settle your affairs with the tax man in a calm, business-like manner.

FERTILIZING WINTER PASTURE IS LIKE GOING FISHING

For best results, both should be done early. The fisherman who sleeps through the first cool hours of daylight has missed the best fishing time. The farmer who lets his winter pasture start off without a good supply of nitrogen has already limited his yield, cut the grazing capacity of his pasture and missed out on low-cost beef gains.

It is a proven fact that this practice does not cost, but pays. Wake up, Mr. Farmer!

For your nitrogen needs, contact or see CHAS. J. DRABEK

Every Person in Foard County Invited to Cancer Meetings

A county unit of the American Cancer Society, responsible to the division, has the major role in putting the society's program into action. The society's program is a program of aid for individuals: the individual doctor, nurse and dentist, the individual man on the street, and the individual cancer patient. All these people must be reached and served. Only the local unit of the American Cancer Society can accomplish this. Mrs. Henry Borchardt, president of the Foard County Chapter, has designated the second Thursday of each month as a regular meeting night for this unit in the Methodist Men's Sunday School room at 7:30 p. m., and this unit would welcome everyone to these meetings, where they learn and discuss the accomplishments of the American Cancer Society thus far, and their plans for future progress. A brief business meeting was held on November 11, by the members of the Foard County chapter. The much-needed memorial contributions are showing a slight increase. The sum of $40.50 was remitted to Austin this month, as reported by Mrs. Leon Speer, treasurer.

Library Committee Votes to Start Subject Catalog in 1966

The library committee of the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs, sponsor of the Foard County Federated Library, voted approval of plans to continue classifying the library and start a subject catalog in 1966, at a meeting November 11 in the Foard County court house. Approval was also given for an estimated budget covering books, supplies, magazines and reference works. Mrs. Hubert Brown, Mrs. John Ray and Mrs. Glenn Jones agreed to serve on a committee which will nominate a project director at a future meeting. Nine persons were at the meeting, including the above, and Mrs. Beatrice Brock, L. A. Andrews, Bert Ekern, Willie Garrett, Homer Ketchersid and Jack W. Brown. Mrs. Jack Brown presided. Thirty-five dollars was voted to section chairmen for books during the remainder of the year; fifteen dollars for adult light fiction, ten dollars for non-fiction, and five dollars each for junior and children's books. Mrs. Ray donated two books of adult fiction to the library.

Post Office Helps Count Livestock

Rural mail carriers from the Crowell Post Office will leave some livestock survey cards along their routes beginning Nov. 20. "Information reported on these cards is used to set the yearly inventory of livestock and poultry on Texas farms." Postmaster Ted Reeder explained. Rural carriers distribute the cards at random in boxes along their routes. "This means that not every box will get a card," Mr. Reeder said. "For this reason, it's important for everyone who gets a card to return it filled out so that USDA can get a true sample of the state's livestock holdings." Carriers assisting with the survey are B. F. Gray, Merle B. Holland and S. H. Ross. Facts and figures secured in this survey are the basis for Texas and national pig crop report and inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. Stockmen and many others use this information in making business decisions. Survey results will be widely distributed through Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service releases, newspapers, farm magazines, radio and television.
