Over 200 Attend Cotton Meeting Tuesday Night

Over 200 area cotton farmers attended the cotton meeting here Tuesday night and heard R. R. Kelly and J. C. Hays explain the uniform planting method used in Jones County last year, and how it increased that county's cotton production.

Norman Drake, Wilbarger Co. agent, told the group about the boll weevil count just concluded in that county. He explained that the results show a heavy infestation of boll weevils in that area.

Others on the program were Glenn Goodwin, Newell Hofmann and Joe Burkett of Crowell.

Of the Foard County cotton farmers present, none opposed the uniform planting system. Fifty-one per cent preferred the May 25-June 6 planting time and 41 per cent approved the June 1-14 planting. The 3-week period from May 25-June 14 period was desired by 91 per cent of Foard cotton farmers attending.

FTA NEWS ROUNDUP

Senior Personalities

Jackie Eddy is the 17 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Eddy. Jackie is the Senior Class president, a member of the Student Council, annual staff and Drama Club. He is also this year's vice president of the Drama Club, and vice president in the MYF. Jackie is 5' 8" and has brownish blond hair and green eyes. His favorites include: color, green; food, steak and potatoes; subject, all of them; actor, Paul Newman; actress, Ann Margret; and the "Lettermen" are his favorite singing group. In his spare time Jackie enjoys "zoo-fun" off. Jackie's pet peeve is people who think they are better than others. Jackie's parents have helped him the most during the years. He is still undecided about his future plans.

The second personality this week is the brown haired, green eyed, 5' 6" daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Floyd Latimer. Rosa Lee is an active member in FTA, Drama Club and Thespians. She is this year's FTA vice president and the band treasurer. Her favorites include: color, yellow; actor, Lee Majors; actress, Barbara Stanwyck; song, "Lightning Striking Again" and pastimes, sewing and reading.

Rosa believes that her family has helped her the most in her 18 years. She is undecided as to what her future plans will be. Whatever they are, we know that Rosa will be successful. Best of luck to Rosa Lee and Jackie.

The Blabberbox

The CHS annual staff sponsored a "western" dance last Friday night in the gymnasium. About 120 students enjoyed the music of Kelly and the Invaders along with the old faithfuls, Mr. and Mrs. James Welch.

Dena Todd added her own special touch to English IV book reports last week. Her recommendation of The Cain Mutiny went something like this, "It was a very good book to eat." It seemed that everyone had a little trouble getting those one syllable words to come out straight.

Janel Gray's math project dealt with Paphines, small crustacean water creatures. In her experiment, she checked the heart beat of the animals in different temperatures of water. One very outstanding notation was that they float when dead.

Mrs. Bursey and Monty Smith held an interesting conversation last week, and to the best of our memory it went like this:

Mrs. Bursey: "Every time you fail to recite, I put a cross after your name."

Monty: "Gee, my name must look like a grave yard."

—Then there was Mrs. Manard's plight with Skipper Pittman.

Mrs. Manard: "When shall we have our next examination?"

Skipper: "It makes no difference; I can be sick any time."

—Mr. Myers saw an advertisement in a farmers' almanac for a potato bug kit for "only $1 plus 25c postage. Guaranteed to kill potato bugs ruining your crop."

Wanting to keep up with all the latest developments, he sent off for the kit. Soon he received a box in the mail, and upon opening it, he found only two small wooden blocks with the following instructions: "Place potato bug on Block A. Pound vigorously with block B. Guaranteed results or your money back."

"Make Believe" Meat Is on the Way

"Make believe" meat—a substitute for red meat and poultry could have a severe impact upon the economy of Texas, says Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist of Texas A&M.

Recent developments in the use of spun fibers of soybean protein as a substitute for almost any food with natural fiber texture may bring this problem closer to farmers and ranchers in the foreseeable future.

The fiber can be treated to imitate such foods as meat, dried fruits, potato chips, nut kernels and many vegetables. Since it has no taste, it may be given any flavor desired.

Substitution of synthetics for farm products is not new. Nylon, rayon, dacron and other synthetic fibers have cut deeply into wool and cotton utilization. Soybeans or other substitutes for meat is therefore not too surprising.

The final story will be unfolded in the future. Since these synthetics are new, research is still in progress and many product developments and consumer response problems still have to be worked out.

In Texas, livestock provides the major source of farm income, and any development in the competition for meat production could have a substantial effect upon the income and type of products produced by individual farmers and ranchers.

Currently, synthetics are not yet major competitors with fresh meat. With further developments, however, Texas producers may face some severe problems in the competition for real meat.

In the event that synthetic meat products find a strong market in the future, it may be that soybeans, now a relatively small crop in the state, could increase substantially.

County Agent Joe Burkett research and farm demonstrations have proved the value of the for maintaining soil production and soil condition.

Actual tests have shown that lint years were the highest when burs were applied to the soil plowed under at the rate of 10 tons per acre.

In order for producers to get the latest information on the important farming practice, the Agricultural Extension Service has just released a new publication, MP-476, "Cotton Bur Soil Improvement" which is available at Burkett's office.

Stainless Steel May Be Next Carpet Fiber

Think twice before discarding those used stainless steel razor blades. The textile industry may soon want them for fibers to turn into carpets and rugs.
 Stainless steel may well be the next carpet fiber on the market, and the transition from razor blades to rugs may offer opportunity for industry development, according to leaders in the home furnishings industry field. Finely drawn stainless steel filaments for carpets could well be the next major industry development, they predict.
 They emphasize that ultra-fine steel filaments are already being knitted and woven into many textile structures for space age requirements, including grids and meshes for special military needs and survival gear for astronauts.
 One of the most recent developments comes from a Swedish firm that has successfully processed stainless steel into fibers 7,000th of a millimeter thick. The steel fibers can be woven into materials resembling normal light weight textiles.
 The filaments are reported to be soft to the touch and show possibilities for use in carpets and rugs that would never wear out. An advantage of the new material is that the steel acts as a conductor, resulting in static-free floor covering and garments.

Mobile Deer Comes Through Loud, Clear

It would take a good booking agent to find a spot for a deer on TV, but biologists of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are going to get them scheduled solidly on radio. Not the conventional kind of radio, but a new telemetry system, complete with receiver and transmitter.
 The transmitters, very tiny ones, will be on collars attached to wild deer, the receivers will be under the watchful ear of the wildlife men. And the antennae, on a triangulation and intercept basis, will pinpoint the animal while it goes about its normal routine.
 The biologists, a group working with Ray Hart on the Engeling Wildlife Area, want to determine if a deer has a definite pattern of feeding habits, and if so over how much area, and fit it all into a movement study.
 They also want to correlate deer movements with track-count data to make deer study more meaningful. As the deer goes about whatever business a deer has, the transmitter will send out a signal, triangulation locates him at any time of day or night.
 The chief cause for concern is that the antlers of a large buck whamming into a tree, or fighting with another buck, just might be confused with some of the modern watsui music!

Two Minutes With the Bible

Dead Faith
 Nothing in the Bible is stated more clearly or with greater emphasis than the blessed Pauline revelation of justification by grace, through faith, without works.
 Rom. 4:5: "To him that worketh not, but believeth... his faith is counted for righteousness." Eph. 2:8,9: "For by grace are ye saved, through faith... It is the gift of God; not of works, lest any man should boast." Tit. 3:5: "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us."
 Yet James states just as clearly that "faith if it hath not works is dead, being alone" Jas. 3:17. He challenges professing believers: "Show me thy faith without thy works, and I will show thee my faith by my works" (ver. 18), and declares that "by works a man is justified, and not by faith only" (ve. 24), since "faith without works is dead" (ve. 20).
 Some have imagined a contradiction here, while actually there is none. There is a dispensational distinction, for to Paul had been committed "the dispensation of the grace of God" (Eph. 3:1,2). His was "the preaching of the cross" (I Cor. 1:18), offering salvation by grace, through faith alone to all who would trust Christ as Savior.
 James, on the other hand, was an apostle of the kingdom, proclaiming the kingdom rights of Christ and offering a changed way of life on earth which had already been experienced by the disciples in Judea (Acts. 2:29-32, 41-47, 4:32-35).
 Hence with James the emphasis is on works, not because good works can save or even help to save, but because true faith inevitably bears fruit and we can judge true faith only by the fruit it bears. Our Lord said: "By their fruits ye shall know them." Hence James' epistle abounds with such phraseology as "ye see," "show me," "I will show you," etc.
 What we must be careful to remember is that according to both Paul and James, faith comes first, then good works. Faith is the root, good works the fruit. The absence of fruit indicates that the root is dead, that while there may be an intellectual assent, there is no true heart faith, and "without faith it is impossible to please God" (Heb. 11:6).
 The source of justification is grace; the basis, Calvary; the means, faith and the evidence, works. Think this through; accept God's grace and trust the Lord

Just about the only thing that hasn't changed in the country is the rural mailbox. People who once fled from muddy roads, oil lamps, coal and wood heaters and man-powered pumps are now dreaming wistfully about a home in the country.
 Why? Because all the comforts and conveniences are there, including freedom from the hustle and bustle of city traffic and monoxide gas. But, the most important of all is a dependable supply of low cost electric power to pump water for the kids' shetland pony and to irrigate mother's flower garden.

College Degree Is Goal of Busy Commuting Mother from Crowell

(Editor's note: The following article, written by Annie Lee Williams, was taken from the Wichita Falls Record-News last week)

A pretty young woman in her late 20's, mother of two girls, is a perfect example of the adage that if you want something badly enough and work for it hard enough, you'll get it.

Mrs. John Greening of Crowell looks like any other young co-ed at Midwestern University, but she has a schedule far different from most.

Determined to get her degree in elementary education, Mrs.
Greening goes to school all day, takes care of her family and studies between 9 p. m. and 12 p. m.
or between midnight and 3 a. m.
And that's a daily schedule!

"My husband got his degree from Midwestern while working on the police force in Wichita Falls," says Barbara Greening, "and he thinks it is as important for a mother to have a degree as for a father. We've worked out a schedule that keeps us awfully busy, but I don't mind because I really want my degree."

Mrs. Greening has now been in MU for a whole year and was on the honor roll last semester, when carrying 18 hours. She will be classified as a junior when she finishes this semester. She had 12 hours of college work when she entered MU. This semester, Barbara is carrying a 19 hour load, but she still puts her family first in her life.

"We do a lot of things together as a family unit," she says,
"and if the family wants to do something it always comes first.
I can work in my studying hours somehow. Sometimes I go to bed early and get up to study several hours after midnight. Other times I sleep until midnight, then get up to study. I leave home by 5:45 every morning to get to class on time."

John Greening, biology teacher in Quannah High School, got his degree from MU in 1963. His students have taken top honors in the Science Fair held at MU each year and Greening has received National Science Foundation grants for summer school studies for the past two years.

"Last summer John studied at the University of Arizona, so I also enrolled for 12 hours."

Mrs. Greening and the children, Bernadette, 7, and Brenda, 5, go on Saturday field trips with Greening and they also accompany him when he drives the Quannah pep squad bus to ball games.

The 170-mile round trip daily from Crowell to Wichita Falls is shared by Mrs. Jerry Floyd of Crowell, whose husband is band director in Crowell schools, and by Mrs. Jerry Ketchersid of Vernon.

Clear-eyed and pink checked, Mrs. Greening has the look of an outdoor girl. She is a native of LaCrosse, Wis., but her parents now live in Houston. Greening's parents live in Crowell and assist with baby sitting chores while Mrs. Greening is in school.

Because she likes school and has a definite goal in mind, Barbara Greening is hardly ever heard to complain. Not even when her husband was seriously ill four times last fall did she falter in her work.

"I, too, think it's necessary for a mother to be well-educated," she says, "and I'm looking forward to teaching in the elementary grades. My husband and I will never be 'in competition' because he's in secondary teaching.
We'll probably always teach in small schools because that's what we both like."

One of these days Barbara Greening will be a marvelous example of a dedicated teacher. And the children are going to love her.

Visitors in the home of the John Wheelers over the week end were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wheeler of Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler and children of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wheeler and daughter of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Browder of Frederick, Okla.

ARCTIC AIRLIFT—Nearly three million pounds of oil drilling equipment have been airlifted from Fairbanks, Alaska, to a wildcat drilling site on the Arctic Slope. The 21-day trip was carried out by Humble Oil & Refining Company and Atlantic Refining Company.
Two companies will drill for oil on a site 350 miles north of Fairbanks, where temperatures as low as 50 degrees below zero were encountered by the airlift crews. Above, on a runway at Fairbanks, a native sled and dog team stand by as a section of drilling rig is loaded into the cargo aircraft.

Star-spangled way to help your baby's future

Trip to Paris Prize in Tab Contest

Some lucky Crowell lady may be planning a glamorous shopping trip to Paris in a few weeks. If she is the winner of the national sweepstakes being sponsored by bottlers of Tab, she will be flown to Paris and given $5,000 to spend on new fall fashions in Paris—surely the dream of every woman. But, that's not all. She'll get a complete Parisian hairstyling and beauty treatment, be invited as a guest to top designers fall fashion shows in Paris, choose an original Bernardi mink stole for herself in case the Paris evenings turn cool and, when she returns home, there will be a new Buick Riviera waiting in the driveway.

Robert Lee Wilson, manager of the Vernon Coca-Cola Bottling Company, whose company is sponsoring the contest along with other Cola-Cola bottlers who sell Tab, said that the fabulous fashion trip to Paris was only one of the prizes in the contest called, appropriately enough, "Win a Glamorous New You."

"There are more than 2,000 other prizes," Mr. Wilson said. All of them are glamorous and will be listed when full details become available next week.

Mr. Wilson pointed out that the entire promotion was designed to emphasize the "style and quality" of the product Tab.

"Women always recognize quality," observed Mr. Wilson. "Whether it's a mink stole, a new fashion, or a soft drink, they are instinctively aware of which one is the best. The idea of a complete trip to Paris for two, with plenty of money for the very best in new fashions and beauty treatment, dramatizes our story of product quality."

This is the first totally national promotional activity for Tab, according to Mr. Wilson. "Since Tab is another product from The Coca-Cola Company, there's no question of its quality," he said. "And just because it only has one calorie per six ounces is no reason it can't be a lot of fun—and what could be more fun than discovering a 'glamorous new you.'"

Dry Texas yellow pine lumber has as much as 400 per cent greater nail and bolt holding power than other construction species, according to the Texas Forestry Association.

"Your Federal Income Tax" Booklet Now Available

"Your Federal Income Tax," the 1966 official booklet on Federal taxes, is now available for 50 cents at Internal Revenue Service offices throughout Texas.

District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern Texas, Ellis Campbell Jr., said the 160-page booklet covers in detail the federal income tax laws as they apply to individuals. The language used is non-technical and contains many examples to illustrate the application of tax laws to actual situations, Mr. Campbell said.

Tax-saving provisions for taxpayers over 65 years of age, and also the minimum standard deduction which benefits millions of low income taxpayers are fully explained.

The material is especially helpful to Texas taxpayers who have unusual tax situations, or for those faced with a new tax problem for the first time, according to Mr. Campbell. Check lists of taxable and non-taxable income, and of allowable and non-allowable deductions are included. A detailed index helps pinpoint answers to tax problems.

A special feature is the sample filled-in Form 1040, keyed to pages in the booklet where the various items on the return are explained in detail.

Tax Man Sam Sez

Do you know what the three most common errors made on income tax returns are? The good tax folks say they are:

1. Forgetting to sign the return.
 2. Omitting social security number, and
 3. Mistakes in arithmetic.
- A word to the wise—be careful.

From the News . . .

THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Feb. 27, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

Plans have been launched for the rodeo performances which are to be held in the afternoon and night of each day of the Forty-Fifth Anniversary Jubilee which is scheduled for April 27 and 28.

Equipment will be issued to approximately 50 candidates for the 1936 Wildcat football squad Monday afternoon at the first workout of the six-weeks spring training session.

A 2500 pound steer born and raised on the Leslie McAdams ranch fifteen miles west of Crowell, is now at Quanah and is being fed at the Quanah Cotton Oil Company pens in preparation for the Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth in March. He gained five pounds a day for the first 48 days there. The steer stands almost six feet high and is nine feet long. He is of mixed breed.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Todd of Truscott, a daughter, Joyce Camille.

Costs a Lot to Drill a Gas Well

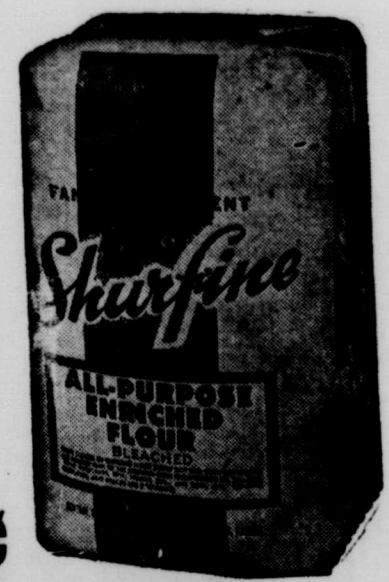

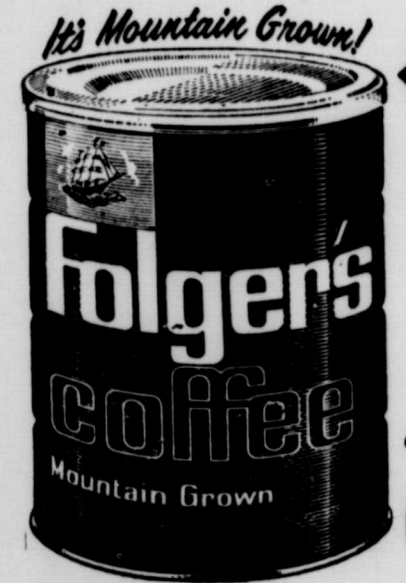

According to the American Gas Association, costs of drilling a gas well may run anywhere from $100,000 to more than $2 million, depending on depth and the difficulties encountered in drilling. The main cost stems from the fact that only one exploratory well in nine turns out to be a producer—and only one in 44 eventually becomes a profitable producer.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The good tax folks are setting up their master file of names and numbers for taxpayers who file individual income tax returns this year. The automatic data processing system will require 400 miles of magnetic tape for the 78,000,000 files. It's important for you to get your correct name and number in the master file. Check your tax return to make sure that you give your correct Social Security number and your full name and initial. It'll save trouble in the future.

Many Foard County farmers, who have been pasturing cattle this winter on wheat, are busy shipping the cattle now.

Most farmers take cattle off wheat around March 1.

Causes Consternation

"The U. S. Supreme Court order to all 50 states of the union to redistrict prior to the 1966 elections has caused consternation, to the extent of having the states curb the court by enactment of a constitutional convention. Such a convention could be called only if two-thirds of the 50 states would sign a petition. However, 18 states have disapproved this plan so it can't be achieved. Still the 'one-man-one-vote' plan of the court is in effect."—Altoona, Pa., Mirror.

President Announces Increase in Interest Rate on Savings Bonds

President Johnson recently announced a new and higher interest rate to be paid holders of all U. S. Savings Bonds. The new rate is 4.15 per cent.

In announcing the interest hike, President Johnson emphasized it will benefit holders of all bonds.

The interest rate is effective as of December 1, 1965, and it applies to all Series E and H Savings Bonds outstanding for their remaining period to maturity, as well as those to be purchased in the future.

The new rate will reduce the maturity period for Series E bonds (those most frequently purchased) to seven years. Under the old 3 and 3/4 per cent rate, a bond purchased for $75, for example, could be redeemed at $100 at maturity—seven years and nine months. For Series H bonds, which are bought at face value, the interest is paid semi-annually, and those payments will simply be increased to the 4.15 per cent rate.

The President pointed out that this year marks the 25th anniversary of the Savings Bonds program. It was May 1, 1941, when President Franklin D. Roosevelt bought the first Series E bond from Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau.

Savings Bonds originally paid 2.9 per cent. They were redeemable after a 10-year maturity period at a face value one-third higher than the original purchase price.

Shopping for An Older House

Many house-hunters today are tracking down older houses in established suburban areas because of higher costs and limited availability of building lots near urban centers, says Mrs. Jane Berry, Extension housing and home furnishing specialist at Texas A&M University.

Before investing in an older house, it is a good idea to have someone with an understanding of construction, check the property. A reliable builder, engineer, real estate appraiser or an architect can be obtained at a nominal fee.

Make sure the house is checked for these construction flaws commonly found in the older house:

- (1) Wiring is often deteriorated and inadequate for the demands of numerous house hold appliances used today.

(2) An expert is required to spot termite defects. He can give an estimate of what repairs will cost for wood rot and termite damage.

(3) Heating may be inadequate, rundown or worn out with age.

(4) Exterior and interior painting may be needed depending on the age of the house.

(5) Roofing, roof gutters, and drains are likely to be worn in houses that are 10 to 15 years old.

(6) Insulation may be inadequate or lacking. Cold rooms and high fuel bills will be the result if either condition exists. Check for attic, wall, and floor insulation.

(7) Plumbing tends to be a problem in houses that are more than 20 to 30 years old.

(8) Water heaters in older houses are usually undersized or overaged to handle present-day demand.
