The publication Oil Facts reports that U. S. oilmen have drilled more than 2 million holes searching for oil and gas in this country since the nation's first successful well was completed in 1859. In the industry's first year, the total U. S. production was only 2,000 barrels of crude oil, all from Pennsylvania. Estimated production for 1965 will exceed 2.9 billion barrels of crude oil along with 440 million barrels of natural gas liquids.

NOTEBOOK-PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATIONS

... to finance industrial growth

Competition between states and cities to improve their competitive abilities to attract new payrolls has increased the forming of Industrial Foundations in Texas. Many industries want and need someone else to own the land, brick and mortar, keeping their money available for plant operations. Industrial Foundations indicate the interest and desire of a community for new industry. Local citizens who participate usually figure that they get a return on their money in a Foundation by having an additional payroll circulating in their community.

- PURPOSE is to give a community a corporate entity to assist industry to create jobs within the community - can be an existing industry as well as a new one. Foundations usually assist industry that cannot or will not use normal commercial financial institutions.
- EXTENT OF ACTIVITIES usually are to acquire and develop industrial property . . . construct buildings for lease . . . provide funds for training workers . . . purchase machinery and equipment . . . prepare promotional material and prospecting expenses and any other function that would give the community a competitive advantage for a new payroll.
- ORGANIZATION is usually by a group of businessmen who are interested in the economic growth and development of their community. A local attorney should prepare the application for the charter and bylaws in order to conform to state laws and internal revenue service regulations. The local bankers' support is very helpful in forming an Industrial Foundation.
- TYPE of Industrial Foundations vary profit or non-profit — stock or contributions — the type a town needs depends upon the attitude and characteristics of the local people and its competitive position with other towns to attract new manufacturing payrolls. In most cases, Industrial Foundations are only used to assist industries where labor cost is a big factor in the operation, as the payroll provided is the important thing to the economy of the community.

Oil Industry Drills 2 Million Holes

The publication Oil Facts reports that U. S. oilmen have drilled more than 2 million holes searching for oil and gas in this country since the nation's first successful well was completed in 1859. In the industry's first year, the total U. S. production was only 2,000 barrels of crude oil, all from Pennsylvania. Estimated production for 1965 will exceed 2.9 billion barrels of crude oil along with 440 million barrels of natural gas liquids.

OTEBOOK-PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATIONS ... to finance industrial growth

Competition between states and cities to improve their competitive abilities to attract new payrolls has increased the forming of Industrial Foundations in Texas. Many industries want and need someone else to own the land, brick and mortar, keeping their money available for plant operations. Industrial Foundations indicate the interest and desire of a community for new industry. Local citizens who participate usually figure that they get a return on their money in a Foundation by having an additional payroll circulating in their community. PURPOSE — is to give a community a corporate entity to assist industry to create jobs within the community - can be an existing industry as well as a new one.

Foundations usually assist industry that cannot or will not use normal commercial financial institutions. - EXTENT OF ACTIVITIES — usually are to acquire and develop industrial property . . . construct buildings for lease . . . provide funds for training workers . . . purchase machinery and equipment . . . prepare promotional material and prospecting expenses and any other function that would give the community a competitive advantage for a new payroll. - ORGANIZATION - is usually by a group of businessmen who are interested in the economic growth and development of their community. A local attorney should prepare the application for the charter and bylaws in order to conform to state laws and internal revenue service regulations. The local bankers' support is very helpful in forming an Industrial Foundation.

- TYPE - of Industrial Foundations vary - profit or non-profit — stock or contributions — the type a town needs depends upon the attitude and characteristics of the local people and its competitive position with other towns to attract new manufacturing payrolls. In most cases, Industrial Foundations are only used to assist industries where labor cost is a big factor in the operation, as the payroll provided is the important thing to the economy of the community.

You can't always see the stars and stripes on the homes and apartments in your neighborhood, but they're there

A big percentage of American families own U.S. Savings Bonds. Many of these star-spangled families have been buying Bonds since they were first issued 25 years

Altogether, Uncle Sam has sold $150 billion in E and H Bonds. About $100 billion of these have been cashed in for college, retirement, new furniture, emergencies, and down payments for those homes. Americans still own a nest egg of nearly $50 billion in Bonds for tomorrow's needs. And as the nest egg grows, Uncle Sam uses the dollars to help support our fighting men in Vietnam-and help keep our economy

You can help make Uncle Sam's future, and your own, more secure by joining this star-spangled savings plan. Why not start now? Sign up for Payroll Savings where you work, or buy Bonds regularly at your bank.

We don't expect the neighbors to water and weed and fertilize our gardens so that we won't have to put out any effort on them. ". . . if every country now living under communism were to disappear from the face of the earth, the real threat-the idea of utopian prosperity under state capitalism-would still remain. Until the fraudulent, unworkable theory of Marxian economics is tior. oughly discredited . . . there will be ne permanent protection .:o... the seductive appeal of somethingfor-nothing . . . Karl Marx ves right about one thing: every functioning economy needs a dictator. But Marx picked the wrong one: government. Free enterprise operates under the right one: the free customer who, by merely refusing to buy, by taking his patronage elsewhere, can discipline any business, large or small, which does not offer what he wants at the right price. This is the proper and democratic place to put power: in the hands of everybody. It . . . needs no supervision except government enforcement of an official code of honesty and fair play."-Atchison, Kansas, Globe.

According to the Philadelphia Inquirer, "Human rights and human responsibilities must go hand in hand. Neither a nation nor an individual can long endure while remaining aloof from the rest of the human race and watching with detached indifference while the liberties of others are crushed. To do so, it seems to us, is to invite inevitable self-destruction."
