Car Burned Tuesday on Seymour Highway

Deposits in the Crowell State Bank made more than a quarter of a million dollar jump during the past year, figures in a statement of the bank's condition in this issue reveal.

The September 20, 1966, statement shows $3,051,795.25 in total deposits, compared to $2,801,989.20 on October 13, 1965. This is an increase of $249,806.05. Deposits are down $88,258.84 from the last previous statement on June 30 this year.

The fourth generation of 4-H boys and girls and some 24 million adults who once were 4-H members celebrate National Club Week, Sept. 24 through Sept. 30.

Main objectives of National Club Week, say 4-H leaders, is to acquaint more parents and youngsters with 4-H so they join the program. Parents become local club or project leaders, and their children active members.

Local enrollment in 4-H this year exceeds 24 million. This year—from 9 to 19 years—reside in every county in the state. They are about equally divided between farm and city residents, reports the Extension Service.

Supervises and conducts all work, including training of 4-H adult and junior volunteer leaders.

Local youth program also extends to Puerto Rico which boasts 33,000 members.

Local enrollment is approximately 84,000. There are 205 members enrolled in the seven 4-H Clubs of Foard County, County Extension Agent Joe Burkett said.

There are 96,000 clubs throughout the nation in which the membership office, plan activities and work on a variety of projects. Interests of youth have changed and expanded.

Local support of 4-H has kept business firms, foundations and other friends help to finance 4-H Foundations, national regional award programs, scholarships, training and teaching.

Locally, 57 donors this year have well over $1 million, according to the National 4-H Service Committee of Chicago. These funds are used for long established 4-H programs and some brand new ones.

Scholarships alone will amount to $45,500, and an estimated 10,000 boys and girls enjoy national recognition for their achievement and receive $100 to the National 4-H Club

Lake Kemp Funds Given House Okay

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a $4.1 billion public works money bill containing $1 million to begin reconstruction of the dam at Lake Kemp.

The Lake Kemp appropriation was approved by the House Appropriations Committee last week, although the Bureau of the Budget had favored a delay on the project.

The Kemp reconstruction project, to be done under the supervision of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, is expected to cost a total of $8.6 million. Additional funds would be appropriated at a later date.

It would take about three years to complete the project, which calls for raising the dam 16 feet and building a new spillway. The enlarged lake would cover an additional 8,075 acres of land, and would require moving of several hundred cabins, it is reported.

County's First Cotton Brought in Thursday

Foard County's first bale of 1966 cotton arrived at the Farmers Co-Op. Gin in Crowell last Thursday afternoon, gin manager Bill King announced last week.

The bale, belonging to J. W. Bruce and Noel Matthews, was grown on Mr. Bruce's farm north of Crowell known as the Bulkeley farm.

The bale was ginned Friday morning and contained 550 pounds of lint cotton and 2100 pounds of seed. Mr. King, although not actually grading the cotton, guessed that it would grade strict low middling, light spot 15.

Due to the wet weather of the last month, cotton is especially late this year. Mr. King said he usually received his first bale on or about August 25 each year.

WILDCATS CONTINUE WIN STREAK WITH 20-7 VICTORY OVER QUANAH

The Crowell High School Wildcat football team continued its winning ways and crushed the Quanah Indians 20 to 7 in a non-conference game played at Wildcat stadium.

Quanah scored first in the hard-fought game as the Indians drove 52 yards in 13 plays with quarterback Jimmy Sims and back Mack Shelton leading the way. Shelton scored the TD on a one-foot plunge early in the second quarter. Sims added the point after.

Crowell came back to score its first TD when quarterback Steve Gray pitched back to Ronnie Everson who lobbed an aerial into the end zone to end Don Bill Statter. The play covered 30 yards. Crowell's try for two points failed, and left the Indians still leading 7 to 6.

In the same quarter, Crowell scored again moving the ball 69 yards in two plays. With good pass protection, Gray threw to Statter for 41 yards and then with only 17 seconds left before the half, Gray hit end Steve Bell from 20 yards out for the tally. Mike Payne kicked the extra point.

The second half proved to be a defensive battle and the entire Crowell line did excellent work with key tackles and good hitting.

The final score came in the fourth quarter when Crowell moved 50 yards in five plays with Payne and Lee Looney cashing in on the big holes opened up for them. Looney made the scoring run from 28 yards out. Payne again added the extra point to conclude the scoring with the board reading 20-7 in favor of Crowell.

The Cat forward wall, both offensively and defensively, spelled the biggest difference in the battle. On offense, they ripped holes in the Indians' forward wall that allowed Looney, Payne and Everson to ramble for good yardage.

They also gave good protection to quarterback Gray's passing.

Takes Two to Pass Fraudulent Check

"It takes two persons to pass a fraudulent check, the one who gives it and the one who receives it. . . Law enforcement officials are continually amazed at the gullibility of people who are otherwise extremely shrewd. They will take a large check from a total stranger, forget to ask for any identification, make no note of the person's appearance and are as innocent as a babe when the officials begin asking for information to help catch the culprit."—Wynne, Ark., Progress.

News for Disabled Workers Given by Social Security

Many county residents are losing money monthly because of their failure to take advantage of the 1965 disability amendments, Edwin Draughon, district manager of the Vernon Social Security office, announced this week.

Under these new amendments, he said, disability payments are no longer limited to persons with "permanent" disabilities. Previously, one could receive benefits only if the mental or physical impairment was expected to continue for a long and indefinite time, or to result in death.

Today a person may qualify for benefits if his disability has lasted, or is expected to last, twelve months or longer. He added that many people in this capacity are not filing for these disability benefits.

Mr. Draughon stated that the potentiality of disability hovers over all of us. While only one out of every hundred workers may become disabled, it definitely affects a family's financial security.

Two kinds of disability protection are provided under the social security program, he explained. First, disabled workers under 65 and their dependents may be paid monthly benefits; and second, disabled children, who became disabled before age 18, may qualify for benefits on a retired, disabled or deceased parent's account.

The important thing, he emphasized, is for any disabled person to contact his social security office immediately, as potential benefits are only retroactive for one year from date of filing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hysinger visited Mr. and Mrs. Babba Monkes and daughters, Lisa and Laurie, of Garland in the H. E. Monkes home in Quannah Sunday.

Producer-Ginner Cooperation a Must for Top Bale Value

Close cooperation between the producer and ginner is required to achieve the highest bale value, preserve fiber properties, and insure the best gin operation.

For his part, the grower should not harvest cotton containing more than 10 per cent seed cotton moisture or 8 per cent line moisture. Cotton containing excessive moisture or green leaf should be delivered immediately to the gin and the ginner notified of its condition.

The ginner should check the moisture content of each trailer load and group those which require about the same amount of drying and cleaning. This will allow him to select gin machinery and drying temperatures so that he can properly process cotton at different moisture levels, the National Cotton Council points out.

Lint moisture content should be kept between 6 1/2-8 per cent at the gin stand and only enough cleaning machinery used to obtain maximum bale value, not just the highest grade. Total bale value is the product of price times weight. Price is based on grade, staple, fineness, and area reputation or strength and length uniformity. Height includes moisture and trash as well as lint. Ginning at low moisture levels is the primary cause of fiber breakage—the major damage sustained by fibers during the ginning process. The drier the cotton, the greater the damage. However, regardless of moisture content, the more cotton is worked mechanically, the greater the amount of fiber breakage.

Specific harvesting and ginning recommendations for local areas may be obtained from extension services and USDA ginning laboratories.

Texas Auto Insurance and the "Guest Law"

Texas is one of 27 states that has "guest laws" concerning auto accidents.

These laws limit a driver's liability toward guest passengers in his car. In effect, the guests can claim damages only if their host has been guilty of extraordinary carelessness, says Mrs. Wanda Meyer, home management specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

The guest passenger, in order to claim damages, must prove willful or wanton misconduct or intoxication. Some courts have rejected injury claims from passengers who rode with drivers they knew had been drinking.

Fare-paying passengers are not covered by the guest laws, but often the courts have to draw the distinction between a commercial rider and a guest.

Most states that have enacted guest laws did so to discourage "friendly" lawsuits cooked up by drivers and passengers to collect money from insurance companies. The companies, naturally, strongly support the laws. Many trial lawyers oppose them just as strongly, arguing that they deny their clients due process of law.

What can you do to protect yourself, either as a driver or as a passenger?

(1) As a car owner, you can add medical payments coverage to your auto policy. It will compensate injured guests for suffering, but it will pay only all of their medical bills. (2) As a passenger, you must exercise caution if you start feeling reluctant to feel about admiring a car. If he persists and these accidents, the court may be inclined to find him guilty of ton misconduct and award damages. Better yet, your injuries may embarrass him training safely, avoiding an altogether.

Steady Erosion
 of Principles

(Editor's note: The following editorial is reprinted from the Sunday edition of The Dallas Morning News. It was written by Dick West, editorial editor of the paper.)

A few days after President
 Johnson appeared on television and told the American people to "count your blessings," a dispatch
 in this newspaper out of Washington announced that all of us would have more money to spend this year than ever.

Here's a fair question: Why is there so much discontent, confusion, frustration, unhappiness and bitterness if this country is richer
 than ever, smarter than ever,
 more productive, more progressive and more socially minded than ever?

The same issue of The News
 which said personal income this year was approaching $600,000, 000,000—about 20 times as high as that of the Great Depression—
 had stories of murder, rape, robbery, perversion, illegitimacy, drunkenness, drug addiction and disloyalty to country and its institutions.

It was all legitimate news—
 but what about the answer to the question in the second paragraph above?

Preachers, educators, parents and editors are turning their backs
 on their highest duty if they fail to pose the question and seek an answer.

Turning the dial on a bedside
 radio the other night, I caught this sentence from a fundamentalist Baptist: "We're going to hell quick, but we're going in high style, in a red convertible with plenty of pocket change."

And in a book near the bed
 was this question from Lincoln:
 "We have been recipients of the choicest bounties of Heaven. We have grown in wealth, numbers,
 and power . . . but we have forgotten God. Intoxicated with unbroken success, we have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God that made us."

A lot of readers resent sermonizing, just as they dislike castor oil.

But here goes: The trouble with America—the reason for its confusion and discontent in the midst of bountiful material blessings and power—is a steady erosion of principle.

It needs to put right above
 wrong, discipline above laxity, Christ above cash.

The intellectuals call you a square if you suggest that perhaps we all ought to return to the virtues of those Puritans who supported themselves, preached against sin and based their beginnings on hard work, honesty,

 honor and God.

That educators return to a regimen of the red schoolhouse where discipline, character and patriotism were just as important as reading and writing.

You're a right-wing reactionary if you remind the modern social planner that delinquency, ghettos, crime and corruption have increased in the same proportion as spending on public housing and welfare.

You're ignorant of "behavioristic psychology" if you suggest that long-haired teen-agers go to the barber—and to the woodshed
 if they harass drive-in restaurant owners and defy the police in their souped-up cars.

You have not read the Bill of Rights if you think that paper-backs full of stuff collected from restroom walls should be banned
 from the newsstands.

You're out of touch with reality if you think that rioting Negroes who tore up Watts should be made to pay for their lawlessness. Don't you know they were not responsible for their acts—it was their environment?

Someone asked Billy Graham,
 who returned recently from London, what has happened to Brittain, which is becoming a second-rate power. After World War
 I, he explained, the British began to question their institutions—
 particularly the firm spiritual faith
 that nurtured them.

In America, while we are enjoying more material blessings
 than ever, we too are questioning the virtues and heritage that made us.

We question whether God is dead—or ever existed.

We question whether the Bible
 means what it says.

We question whether the Constitution is suited for this technological age.

We question whether criminals should be made to pay for their crimes; whether any individual,
 for that matter, should be held responsible for his behavior.

When any nation or civilization becomes skeptical about its time-tested virtues and institutions, the skepticism degenerates into a cynicism, and the cynicism into a weakness of national fiber.

Every nation, like every human being, must have something of enduring value to believe in.

And that is the grave danger that faces this country: If we have nothing to believe in, we have nothing to defend.

Library Plans Reorganization

Mrs. E. C. King has volunteered to direct the reorganization and cataloging of the Foard County Library. The announcement was made at a meeting of the Library Committee Thursday, Sept. 22, by Mrs. Hubert Brown, chairman of a committee charged with finding a professional librarian to direct the project.

Mrs. King has requested that money budgeted for classifying and catalog work be used for library aids as her services will be donated to the community project.

The former Crowell High School librarian will meet with Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Veatrice Brock, librarian, this week to begin making plans. Mrs. Brown, Mrs. John Ray and Mrs. Glenn Jones have been appointed to serve as a committee to find and organize volunteers to help in the reorganization. Mrs. Brown reported several women have offered their services for typing and filing subject cards. The committee voted to accept the offer of Mrs. King with many thanks. Other business included receiving the librarian's report, adopting a budget for 1967 and agreement to sponsor an observance of National Library Week in April. Mrs. Jack W. Brown, library chairman, presided, and the report of work accepted by the Foard County Federation of Women's Clubs was read by Mrs. Glenn Jones, secretary-treasurer. The library is sponsored by clubs making up the FCFWC membership.

Truscott H. D. Club

The war on poverty and projects of the Office of Economic Opportunity were the subjects of the program at the Truscott Home Demonstration Club on Thursday, September 22.

Mrs. W. M. Rake, Mrs. J. G. Adecock and Mrs. Jack W. Brown presented the program. Mrs. Adecock described some goals of the Office of Economic Opportunity and listed some of the projects under the OEO such as Headstart, Job Corps, Neighborhood Youth Corps and Community Action programs. Mrs. Brown discussed adult illiteracy as one of the basic causes of poverty and displayed some work books used in adult illiteracy programs. Mrs. Rake discussed the various attitudes of adults contacted in OEO programs, pointing out that a desire for self-improvement was essential to make the program successful to a participating adult.

Mrs. Rake presided at the business meeting preceding the program. Mrs. J. R. Brown reported the Vernon Red Cross no longer needed the net bags cut for the soldiers' Viet Nam Christmas socks, but some items including fish powder and plastic soap dishes were still needed.

Mrs. Adecock served refreshments to nine members and one guest.

Junior Leaders

The Foard County Junior Leaders Club had its first meeting of the 1966-67 school year on Thursday, Sept. 22, in the community center with 25 members present.

The hostess served refreshments and the members commented on their summer activities. Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Orr brought the club met on Sept. 20 with opening exercises. Roll call, "my favorite wood finish" brought out some very interesting comments.

Mrs. Otto Bachman Jr.'s program on "spots and scratches on woodwork and furniture" was interesting and instructive.

Refreshments were served to 8 members and two visitors, Mrs. Sam Tole and Lela Graf. Next meeting will be on Oct. 4 with Mrs. Ira Tole.

Movies were taken of Mrs. Kubicek and her 7 children: five sons, Ted, Anton, Joe, Raymond and Adolf; two daughters, Julie and Georgie. One daughter, Mrs. Josephine Bujnossek of Farwell, was unable to attend. Mrs. Kubicek has 27 grandchildren and 8 great grandchildren. Eighteen of the grandchildren and one great grandchild were present.

Crowell Native Promoted by West Texas Utilities

J. T. Carter of Abilene, a native of Crowell and employed by West Texas Utilities Company for more than 34 years, has been named manager of the company's Data Processing Section in the General Offices in Abilene. He has replaced O. J. Hamilton, who is scheduled for retirement on October 1. Carter has been serving as an internal auditor. Carter began his long period of service with WTU in the Crowell ice department in 1928, and a few months later he was transferred to the Quanah office as an assistant storekeeper. He left the company in 1931 and in 1935 was re-employed as cashier and bookkeeper in Quitaque. A short time later Carter was transferred to Memphis as cashier and bookkeeper and the following year moved to Dalhart, where he worked as assistant chief clerk and storekeeper in the district office. Six years later he was promoted to chief clerk and served in that capacity until the Dalhart properties were sold in 1946 to Southwestern Public Service Company. Carter remained with SWPSCO as production superintendent of ice, water and power until 1947 when he rejoined West Texas Utilities Company in Abilene as traveling auditor. In 1961 Carter was promoted to internal auditor and has served in that capacity until his present promotion. During the last nine months of 1965, Carter was on special assignment with a study group of Central and South West System. Working out of Dallas, the group made a study for the purpose of improving the customer service programs and procedures throughout the four-state area served by the four electric utilities companies that compose the C & SW System. The Carters reside at 2934 Arrowhead and are members of the First Baptist Church in Abilene. They have three daughters and one son; Johnny Carter is now serving with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific on the USS Radford based at Pearl Harbor; Mrs. James E. Brown lives in Fort Worth, where her husband is a teacher in the Lake Worth School; Mrs. W. M. Zieg lives in Lincoln, Nebraska, where Dr. Zieg is a dentist; and Vickie is a 6th grade student at Jackson Elementary School. Dr. and Mrs. Zieg have three sons; the Browns have three daughters and one son.

Senseless

"The idea of abolishing gun clubs because of the Texas sniper is just about as senseless as it would be to abolish auto clubs because people are killed by cars. . . . It is a constitutional right for Americans to keep and bear arms. The advantage of this right is that it serves to give training to the citizen soldiers who have been called upon to win every war since the U. S. Revolution in 1776." — Half Moon Bay, Calif., Review.

Everyone Blamed But Themselves

The economist Dr. Arthur F. Burns, testifying before the House of Representatives said: "In all countries and throughout the ages, it has been common practice of governments, when prices rose materially, to point the finger of blame at tradesmen or at industrialists or, in recent times, at trade union leaders as well and to call them irresponsible and greedy. In a time of war still another epithet is frequently hurled at private groups; they are then described as unpatriotic. Very rarely does any government have the courage to blame the management of finances for their own failure to keep a tight rein on the money supply."

Texas Travelers Never Had It so Good—
Highway-Wise
Whether he craves the salty surf of the Gulf Coast or the rugged ranges of West Texas, today's Texas traveler never had
it so good highway-wise.
He can motor through the mountains . . . drive a sunny, 600-mile coastline . . . explore the beauties of the Hill Country
. . . the quiet Piney Woods . . .
the agricultural area of the High Plains.
He can do all this faster, safer and cheaper than ever before because of Texas' superb 67,000-mile highway system, a system built and still building on the idea that "Better Highways Save Lives . . . Time . . . Money."
Texas highways today are safer than ever before and it appears they will become even safer in the future. Five years ago, the Texas Highway Department began a study of accident rates on highways before and after improvement. The study found a heartening decrease in fatalities.
Of the 4,308 miles studied before and after, fatality rates dropped from 7.2 to 4.8 after highway improvements.
Statistics on the Interstate Highway System, which will have more than 3,000 miles when completed in Texas, show these modern superhighways are two and one-half times safer than the old highways they replace. In Texas, this would mean a reduction of 700 lives from the annual traffic death toll.
The Lone Star State's scenic attractions and recreation facilities are easier to get to and closer together in driving time, thanks to Texas highways.
Without leaving a paved highway, it is possible to drive from sea level at Goose Island State Park on the Gulf Coast to mile-high Davis Mountains State Park
in West Texas, and then down into the depths of Palo Duro Canyon in the Panhandle, a distance of more than 1,000 miles.
In fact, Texas travelers can stay on paved highways to almost all of the 50-odd state parks, not to mention the Highway Department's 1,100 roadside parks, scenic turnouts and safety rest areas.
The Lone Star State's highway system saves the motorist money

through reduced accidents, decreased driving time and lower car operating costs.

AND GILLILAND
MRS. H. A. SMITH

Columbian Club

Mrs. M. N. Kenner entertained members of the Columbian Club and one guest, Mrs. Nona Backus, on Wednesday, Sept. 21, when the program on "Early Settlements" was under the leadership of Mrs. N. J. Roberts. Mrs. John S. Rag presided over the business session.

Roll call, early settlements in this area, brought out many interesting and amusing facts about the early communities and schools in Foard County.

"The earliest settlers of Foard County chose locations along the Pense River," said Mrs. Roberts. She called attention to the surprising number of post offices and schools once to be found there.

"It is all quite clear — the things that happened during those early days in Foard County," said Mrs. R. J. Thomas, in telling of her family's moving here. "We lived at Good Creek in one room and a dugout, had to haul our water, walked a mile and a half to school; and despite these inconveniences, we always boarded the school teacher. When our drinking and wash water was muddy, my mother crushed prickly pears and used them to settle the mud. If alum were unavailable," Mrs. Thomas remarks were both interesting and amusing, ranging from the sublime to the ridiculous—including the burning of the school house by reluctant male pupils. She had nothing but praise for parents such as her's, who not only survived but thrived despite their hardships.

Cow by the Tail, the life of Jesse James Benton, a relative, was reviewed by Mrs. Roberts. She presented the book in a most interesting manner, bringing to a conclusion the first of this year's programs on "Our Heritage." Refreshments were then served.

The T. E. L. Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met in the banquet hall of the church for a covered dish luncheon Thursday night. Mrs. Martha Dunagan and Mrs. George Johnson were hostesses. After the luncheon was served, a business and social hour was held. Mrs. C. L. Cavin conducted the business. They sang "Tis So Sweet to Trust in Jesus." Mrs. Clyde Bowley brought interesting devotional by having scripture for daily Bible readings for each day in September. Mrs. C. A. Powell led in prayer. Mrs. Mae Solomon had charge of social with games. Fifteen members and one visitor attended. Prayer by Mrs. Mary Moore concluded the meeting.

Junior Columbians

Seventeen members were present Wednesday, Sept. 21, when the Sub-Junior Columbian Club met in the home of Deborah Jones. Deborah Jones, president, was in charge of the business meeting, at which time it was decided the club would have a bake sale on Saturday, Oct. 8.

Mrs. James Welch gave the program on "Organization and You."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Deborah Jones and Lanette Lemons.

Junior Adelpian Club

The Sub-Junior Adelpian Club met last Wednesday at the club house. Mrs. Ray Shirley, guest speaker, gave a very interesting talk on parliamentary procedure. Delicious refreshments were served by Joylyn Haynie and Pam Cox.

School as Well as Individual Failures

The Portland, Oregon, Journal states: "Educational leaders are willing to admit that school dropouts and near dropouts represent school as well as individual failures. Individuals fail, some educators say, because school programs are not designed to fit their needs and their capabilities. Too large a part of the high school curriculum is aimed at the college-bound student, even though only a small minority of high school graduates finish college."

Two Minutes With the Bible

The Truth of the Gospel

Twice in Galatians 2, Paul speaks of "the truth of the gospel." In both cases the apostle had to speak out to defend the purity of "the gospel of the grace of God."

In verses 4 and 5, he refers to his contest with those at Jerusalem who would have brought the Gentile believers under the law of Moses. Among them were "false brethren," he says, "unswerving brought in . . . to spy out our liberty which we have in Christ Jesus, that they might bring us into bondage. Unto whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour, that the truth of the gospel might continue with you."

In the second case, he refers to a controversy with Peter who, having enjoyed blessed fellowship with Gentile Christians, had been intimidated by some of his Jewish brethren into separating himself from the Gentiles. Concerning this, Paul writes: "But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him to the face because he was to be blamed" (ver. 11.) Why was Peter to be blamed? Verse 14 answers: Because he "walked not uprightly according to the truth of the gospel." i. e., "the gospel of the grace of God," in which believing Jews and Gentiles are "one body in Christ."

How we should all thank God for Paul's strong defense of the gospel of grace, under which all who trust in Christ as Savior are baptized by the Holy Spirit into the one true Bible Church (I Cor. 12:13).

From the News
THIRTY YEARS AGO

News items below were taken from the Thursday, Sept. 24, 1936, issue of The Foard County News:

Rains falling in Foard County since Tuesday of last week have reached a total of 8.82 inches to put a definite end to a several-months' drought and brightens the prospects for bumper crops next summer. The rain fell slowly and steadily for over a week.

An election on a bond issue by the Crowell Independent School District held Saturday carried by a majority of 154 votes to 22. The bond issue is to be for $12,000 and the money will be used in the construction and equipping of a new grammar school building.

Plans are underway to obtain the approval of an immediate project to start laying the foundation of the new grammar school building to be constructed in Crowell. Work was begun last week by approximately 35 government laborers in razing the old grammar school building.

United States Army Engineers are planning a public hearing in Vernon next month in connection with surveys and examinations authorized by the Flood Control Act passed by Congress last June regarding flood control measures on Pease River.

WPA laborers will resume work on building bridges and culverts on the highway from Crowell to the Knox County line as soon as weather conditions permit, with a crew of about 35 employed on the project.

Jack Seale, formerly of Quanah, was checked in and Eli Smith was checked out at the local office of the West Texas Utilities Company Monday.

J. T. Brooks of Quanah has accepted a position as clerk in the Fox-Way Food Store. He was a former employe of the Fox-Way Store at Quanah and the Massie Grocery Store at Eldorado, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks moved to Crowell last week from Quanah.

J. E. Bell is here for a short visit with relatives and friends. He is a gold prospector in the Jicarilla Mountains of New Mexico. He reports that J. K. Woods of Crowell is his neighbor in the mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson left Sunday for Galveston to make their home. Mr. Thompson has accepted a position with a trucking company there.

For the first time in grid history, a Matador eleven humbled a Crowell machine on a muddy field near Matador Saturday afternoon. Too late in the game, the Wildcats tightened down to hold the score to 13 to 0, Matador's two touchdowns coming in the first and second quarters.

Prior to September 16, only 410 bales of cotton had been ginned by the five gins operating in Foard County. This is far below the usual amount of cotton ginned in the county by this time of year.

Riverside public schools opened their 1936-37 term Monday with about 130 pupils enrolled, Supt. Bailey Rennels has announced.

Danger in U. S.

"A danger in the United States today is that demonstrations and intimidations will replace government by orderly, legal process. . . There has been great progress by reliance on government by law and change by the due and legal process. Minorities in this country enjoy better living conditions and greater opportunities than anywhere else in the world. . . All Americans have much to be thankful for, and all should avoid extreme actions or counteractions."—Grants, N. M. Beacon.

Free Shoot Fever Hits Hunt Horde

Success of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department free public hunt program is prompting sportsmen to inquire about prospects for the controlled harvests on state wildlife demonstration areas. And the answer is same to all—populations now are being censused on all the areas as a basis for determining whether the surplus justifies a hunting season. Here is the form letter going to all inquiries: This is in response to your request for an application to participate in the managed hunts to be conducted on the wildlife management areas during the fall of 1966. The decision to open the various areas to hunting cannot be made until the September game counts are completed. After these counts are made, the exact number of deer and other game to be harvested will be determined. The public will then be invited to submit their requests for application forms which, when completed, will qualify them to participate in a drawing for a permit. Your request will be placed on file and the proper application form and instructions will be forwarded to you as soon as all arrangements are completed. Last fall almost 5,000 nimrods shared in harvesting deer, quail, doves, waterfowl, and squirrel. They bagged 725 deer, 3,387 squirrels, 1,016 ducks, 299 quail and 132 doves. Applications totaled 19,621. The 2,192 participants in the deer and quail hunts were determined at a public drawing in department headquarters in Austin. The others were allocated permits on a first-come and first-served basis at the areas. There were 2,144 deer hunters, 2,305 squirrel hunters, 357 duck hunters, 48 quail hunters and 11 dove hunters. The ratio of success for deer hunters was about one out of every three. They're a persistent lot, these public hunt demons. Fellow from Pasadena, Texas, wrote in for "a lucky card." Said he had tried twice without any luck—that is in drawing a permit.
