May 29-June 1 Is Spraying Time for Pecan Trees

Pecan Nut Case Bearer Damages Pecan Production

May 29 through June 1 is the time to spray pecan trees in Foard County for the pecan nut casebearer, says Joe Burkett, County Agent.

If more than one application is made, the second should be applied one week after the first application.

The agent says the following insecticides may be used: DDT, 3 pounds 50 per cent wettable powder per 100 gallons water plus 6 pounds of wettable sulphur; Malathion, 3 pounds of 25 per cent wettable powder per 100 gallons water; Sevin, 2 pounds of 80 per cent wettable powder per 100 gallons water; or Toxaphene, 5 pounds 40 per cent wettable powder per 100 gallons water.

Extensive tree banding in the past few weeks indicate pecan nut casebearer larvae are now emerging in Foard County. Pecan trees should be sprayed in order to prevent the larvae from entering the nutlet, causing extensive nut loss, Burkett said.

The pecan nut casebearer is the number one pest of pecans in Texas, the agent added, and thus becomes a determining factor in producing pecans, whether on a few trees or in large groves.

To effectively control the pecan nut casebearer, it is necessary to provide thorough insecticide coverage of the nutlet clusters during the period when the larvae are hatching. This will prevent nutlet damage and poor pecan production.

"For further information on spraying your pecan trees, call or come by my office," Burkett added.

To Preach at First Christian Church

Frank Kerns, professor of Greek at Dallas Christian College, will fill the pulpit both morning and evening at the First Christian Church Sunday, June 1.

The first load of wheat from Foard County's 1969 crop arrived at the Foard County Mill about 4:30 p. m., Monday, May 26.

Hubert Brown, owner of the elevator, reported that this first load belonged to Mrs. Henry Johnson of Crowell, and was grown south of town. The field of wheat averaged 25.5 bushels per acre, with a weight of 61 pounds per bushel and a 12.61 moisture content, Mr. Brown reported. The elevator paid Mrs. Johnson a $1.00 per bushel premium for this first load.

The first load of wheat for the Farmers Co-Op. Elevator came in about 10 o'clock Monday night, Homer Johnson, manager, reported Tuesday. This first load came from the Fred Schwartz farm in the Rayland community. The load contained 320 bushels with a 61 pounds-per-bushel weight. Mr. Johnson said the estimated yield for the field was 35 bushels per acre.

The first load of wheat for the Farmers Elevator of Truscott also came in Monday afternoon, Lester Hickman, manager, said Tuesday.

The small load, testing 60 lbs., came from the C. A. McNeese farm.

The first load of grain cut in the county was brought in last Saturday afternoon. It was a load of barley from the James Welch farm north of Crowell. It was also delivered to the Foard County Mill.

Most vacant lots around Crowell are filled this week with combines and trucks as the wheat harvest season approaches.

Much of Foard County's wheat crop will probably be ready to go within the next week, with favorable weather conditions. One combiner said Monday that with favorable weather, he expected to start cutting Thursday or Friday.

Most of the wheat in the county looks good as the harvest approaches, although considerable damage by greenbugs back in the winter probably will cut the yield. The worst aspect this year for the harvest season is the price of wheat, which was $1.19 per bushel Monday. About the beginning of harvest last year, the price was around $1.36 per bushel.

Thursday, June 5 Is Date for Game Hearing Here

The third—and probably last—public hearing for the purpose of gathering information concerning proposed hunting, fishing and trapping regulations for Foard County will be held next Thursday, June 5, at 2 p. m. in the district court room.

The meeting was set by the Parks and Wildlife Commission, and according to the commission, season lengths and bag limits are determined by information gathered at these hearings.

During the two years that the county has been in the Panhandle Regulatory District, the quail season has been set for 82 days and 84 days in 1967 and 1968, respectively. These long seasons—together with the fact that the season opened in this county before it did in Hardeman County—have caused some dissatisfaction among landowners, and as a result, the commissioners court petitioned the Legislature to remove this county from the regulatory district and return it to the jurisdiction of the general game laws. Under the general law, the season always opened on December 1, rather than early in November.

All interested hunters and landowners are invited to attend the public hearing June 5 and voice their opinions.

Soil Conservation Service Urges Farmers to "Plan for Today"

By Louis Killingsworth
Crowell Soil Conservation Office

Studies are now underway for ways of using the vast resources of the underwater world for part of tomorrow's food supply. This is being brought about by the ever-increasing need for more food production due to the population explosion.

What about today? What is our part in bringing about this increased production? Modern technology has provided us with the equipment, seeds, and fertilizers that enables us to increase yields from our crops, but what about our farms? Are they capable of producing or maintaining this increased production?

Since there cannot be another move west for "new" land, we must use every acre of agricultural land within its capabilities and treat it according to its needs. This can best be done by farm conservation planning.

Each farmer and rancher operates his farm differently because no two farms or farmers are alike. However, all farmers have one thing in common—they are continually making plans about how to run their farms in the future. They plan what crops to grow, how to produce these crops more efficiently, and how to protect their soil so that it will continue to produce good crops year after year.

The Soil Conservation Service through the local Soil and Water Conservation District helps farmers develop and apply conservation plans that provide for efficient and profitable use of their land. The Soil Conservation Service also helps farmers and ranchers plan and use the combination of measures needed to control erosion, preserve and improve their soil, plant, and water resources.

Planning is decision making. It is the responsibility of everybody to remember that our children and their's are counting on us to manage our lands to keep the fertile land productive for tomorrow's food supply.

For additional information on conservation planning, contact the Lower Pease River Soil and Water Conservation District or your local Soil Conservation Service office.

Legislature Hits Snag on 1- or 2-Year Budget Bill

Austin, Tex.—When will the special session be? That's the big question around the state capitol. Legislative leaders defied Gov. Preston Smith by deciding to pass a one-year budget bill instead of the customary two-year plan. Reason given was to delay new taxation.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher announced the decision after two weeks of maneuvering and unsuccessful efforts to sell Governor Smith on the idea. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who had instigated the single-year budget tactic, of course, concurred.

Smith has stated about as plainly as he can that he considers the Legislature obliged to pass a biennial budget and balancing revenue measures this week.

His implied threat of vetoing a one-year bill, however, went unheeded.

Many legislators, who have strong misgivings about the course charted by their leaders, are convinced Smith will call them back into session this summer to finish the budget-tax job, if they don't get the job done now.

The conflict could be long and bitter.

Barnes and Mutscher want Smith to wait until after the 1970 elections to call a special session on appropriations and taxation for 1971.

House-Senate conferees on the budget went to work this week to trim earlier 1970 spending recommendations by some $69 million in order that teachers can get a pay raise without a tax bill.

Mutscher is convinced this can be done while preserving a "sound, progressive" budget for the first

Tax Man Sam

Most of us have seen the picture of the girl holding up a computer tape and saying that Internal Revenue's ends up with all of your money on a little less than one magnetic tape. Even at the expense of boring you with some more boring statistics on Internal Revenue National Computer Center statistics, West Virginia goes:

The Service Center—tapes for our area—send tapes with miles of taxation by air mail to the Computer in Martinsburg, 257 people work at the around-the-clock, week, operation. Only and Thanksgiving are then skeleton crew duty. The world's fastest and output computers are Data sent by service output on master tapes at 680,000 characters per If you don't think that's imagine standing in the of Plainview and making degree turn, and unless pretty fast turn, the could have checked most taxpayers within view— is quite a few.

Tex.—Filibusters began a tide of legislation in the Senate as the June session deadline closed in. Bills continued to roll through in staggering numbers in the local and uncounted calendars.

While bills to create a University of Texas at San Antonio, a UT of Permian Basin in the Midland-Odessa area and a University of South Texas at Corpus Christi ran into senate filibusters, other new school measures went to the governor. Among them were UT at Dallas, medical schools at Houston and Lubbock, and a future site left to UT regents, a UT dental branch (probably in San Antonio) and nursing schools at San Antonio and El Paso.

An amended version of the implied consent bill to require breath tests of suspected drunk drivers found its way to the governor's desk. UT regents were given authority to curtail enrollments. A proposed new constitutional amendment (SJR 15) would allow the legislature to establish a uniform method of assessment of ranch, farm and forest lands.

CLUB RULES FIRMED—Liquor Control Board announced its final version of new rules to clamp down on private bottle clubs, effective September 1.

Club "guests" cannot pay cash or share in club services unless in the company of a member or his personal invitation. Clubs also would have to maintain written records showing when members were admitted or removed, have a membership committee or governing board to pass on memberships and operate with at least 25 members.

Other new rules include keeping permanent records of all transactions involving the pool system or maintaining separate storage lockers for each member if operating under the locker system, filing quarterly reports to Texas LCB on pool transactions and requirement that regular food service be provided.

THE EYES HAVE IT—A battle that has raged for almost 20 years between the chain store and independent optometrists has been tentatively resolved by the final passage of a "compromise" bill worked out by Sens. Jack Strong and Tom Creighton. Bill sent to the governor spells out a stiff code of ethics and advertising for the industry—something the non-advertising operators have wanted for years.

Big feature provides that there will be no more "one price" ads. In the future, ads will have to carry the lowest and highest prices of lenses in stock.

On another health front, the legislature has sent to the governor a bill to license and regulate the hearing aid industry. It was passed with the full approval of the industry which worked closely with the lawmakers on perfecting the bill.

A. G. OPINIONS—Texans not registered as voters cannot serve as school district trustees, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled in a new opinion requested for Honey Grove (Fannin County) schools.

In another opinion, the AG stated that a school board of trustees does not have the authority to suspend a student for any act, such as possession or use of dangerous drugs, unless the board has adopted a rule, regulation or general policy covering such conduct or unless the act violated state statutes covering "incorrigible conduct."

Senior Citizens' Month Observed

President Richard Nixon has proclaimed May 1969 as Senior Citizen's Month. During this period, special recognition is being given to all American men and women 65 and over—who as a group number more than the total population of the nation's 20 smallest states.

Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon social security office, said Monday. "At this time we in the Social Security Administration salute our elder citizens and join hands with them in the purpose of their special month—meeting the challenge of the later years."

The people in the Vernon office share President Nixon's concern, and have attempted to show their appreciation and admiration for senior citizens in Childress, Foard, Hardeman, Knox and Wilbarger counties, by presenting a special social security program and film for the benefit of residents of all the nursing homes located in the area and the retirement club in Childress.

The number of people over 65 in the United States has increased by leaps and bounds since 1900 when it stood at three million. Today that number is nearly 20 million and this rapid growth is expected to continue at an even faster rate.

The American born in 1900 could expect to reach his 47th birthday—an age now considered almost young. The American born today can expect to live to the Biblical three score and 10—or 70 years.

Draughon said, "This increase in life-span becomes a major challenge to us as we look with real concern to the welfare of our older citizens. Unfortunately many of them today have been left behind by the progress to which they themselves contributed during their working lives. Too many of them—retired teachers, lawyers, business men, social workers, and many other older people with professional skills and qualities of leadership—are not consulted—are not listened to—when their knowledge and experience would be most helpful.

"At this time when more and more people are reaching older ages, many who are willing and able to work suffer because of job discrimination due to age. It is up to us to break down this discrimination and to give opportunities for service to older people who ask for them. All communities should also be concerned about the other needs of this segment of the population—about their health and safety and their recreational opportunities. Senior Citizen's Month is the time to begin a year-round program to enrich the lives of older Americans.

"The Social Security Administration is deeply involved in the welfare of the aged. The original Social Security Act passed in 1935 started a system of old-age benefits. Since then, benefits have been added for the wife, the widow, the child, and the disabled. The majority of those benefiting from social security are older people. Now Medicare provides health protection for nearly 20 million people over 65."

Loyd Fox was admitted to the Crowell hospital Saturday after he had suffered a heart seizure.

Mrs. Hester Hammonds suffered a broken wrist last week resulting from a fall at her home.

Mrs. Minnie Rush of Vernon visited her aunt, Mrs. Clyde Self, and husband one day last week.

Mrs. Maggie Capps and Mrs. A. B. Wisdom visited Mr. and Mrs. George Streit of Lockett, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Cates, Sr. and Mrs. Fay Whitman visited in Vernon Monday.

Prison Rodeo Names Guest Stars

H. H. Coffield, chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections, released this week the names of the prison rodeo guest stars for 1969. The lineup of top recording acts will be as follows:

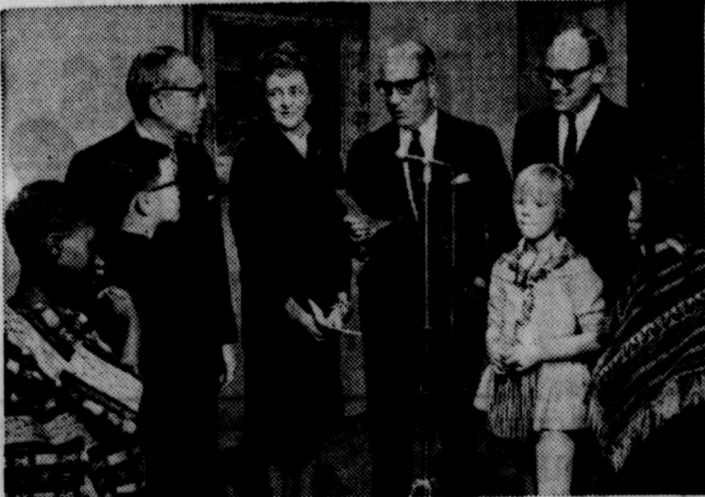

Wanda Jackson will be featured at the first performance October 5. Country and western fans will hear Miss Jackson sing, "In the Middle of a Heartache," "Right or Wrong" and several of her other top hits. The guest for October 12 will be Merle Haggard, whose "Hungry Eyes" and "Mama Tried," are now high on the record charts. At the third performance of this year's rodeo on October 19, Buck Owens will return to sing "Who's Gonna Mow Your Grass," "Together Again" and other numbers. Hank Snow will be featured October 26 singing such hits "I've Been Everywhere" and "I'm Moving On."

A tradition for 38 years, the Texas Prison Rodeo will be held every Sunday in October at 2 p.m. in the prison stadium at Huntsville. The convict cowboys predict that this year's rodeo will be the wildest ever. Prison officials promise that the toughest rodeo stock in Texas will be challenged by the roughest convicts in the Department.

Fertilize Pastures

With the abundance of soil moisture in most areas of Texas, pastures need to be fertilized not only to utilize the moisture but also to maintain forage quality, advises Neal Pratt, extension agronomist at Texas A&M University.

Adelphian Club's New Officers Are Installed May 21

Mrs. L. H. Wall and Mrs. Duane Taylor were hostesses to the Adelphian Club at the club house on Wednesday, May 21, for the last meeting of the calendar year.

Mrs. W. B. Johnson was leader for the program. After the pledge to the flag of the United States, which was led by Mrs. Bob Thomas, Mrs. Robert Kincaid gave a challenging devotional, "Hats Off to the Past, Coats Off to the Future." She used as a scriptural background Isaiah 54:2, "Enlarge the place of thy tent—lengthen the cords and strengthen the stakes."

Mrs. Johnson introduced the president of Santa Rosa District, Mrs. Robert Sexauer, of Memphis, who gave a very timely message, "What's It All About?"

"A crisis," she said, "developed almost unnoticed over a period of many years. Very suddenly, and only recently, have the masses been involved. The events of the past decades have deprived families and young people of traditional values without replacing them with anything better. All this has led to violent upheavals in this century. The future cannot be taken for granted."

She installed the new officers as follows: president, Mrs. Gordon Erwin; vice president, Mrs. Elton Carroll; secretary, Mrs. Glenn Haisell, Jr.; treasurer, Mrs. Robert Kincaid; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. B. Johnson; parliamentary, Mrs. L. A. Andrews; reporter, Mrs. Virgil Johnson.

Mrs. Wayne Gamble was a visitor. Prior to the meeting, Mrs. W. B. Johnson entertained at her home with a beautifully-appointed luncheon to honor Mrs. Sexauer, the outgoing officers and the new officers of the club.

Postal Rates Increased Asked by Administration

An "inherited" postal deficit of $1.2 billion is responsible for the proposals to raise the postage bill for residents of Foard County and other communities of the nation, according to Postmaster Ted Reeder.

Reeder said he had been advised by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount in Washington, D. C., that the record $1.2 billion 1970 deficit compelled President Richard M. Nixon to seek postage rate increases.

Without higher rates, it was explained, the department will be left with a staggering deficit that would become an added public tax burden.

In addition to increasing letter mail from six to seven cents, as proposed by the past administration, President Nixon asked that second and third-class mailers help reduce the large postal deficit, the postmaster said.

For bulk third-class mail and most magazines and newspapers, the rates would be increased 16 to 20 per cent above today's levels, he said. These percentages include rate hikes already scheduled by previous action of the United States Congress.

The president's recommended increases will reduce the 1970 postal deficit by more than $600 million, it is estimated.

The postmaster listed these details on the proposed increases:

First-class mail—Letters and post cards would be increased one cent, to seven cents an ounce and six cents a piece, respectively, on July 1, 1969. Airmail postage would remain at 10 cents. This is expected to yield $557.2 million in new revenues.

Second-class mail—A handling charge of three-tenths of a cent per piece for circulation outside home counties would become effective July 1, 1969. This is expected to yield $15.3 million annually and would represent a 12 per cent increase in addition to the 8 per cent rate scheduled to take effect January 1, 1970.

Third-class mail—For single pieces, rates would be increased one cent per piece. This is expected to yield $12.4 million. For regular bulk third-class, the minimum would be increased to a uniform rate of 4.2 cents January 1, 1970, as contrasted with the present rate of 3.6 cents. The 1970 increase is expected to lift revenues by $46.8 million annually.

Best Time for Quail Season is Mid-Nov., Says Supervisor

An often-asked question, "why open quail season on the second Saturday of November?" is answered by Jack Parsons, wildlife supervisor of Region I of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. He explains it as a matter of simple biological mathematics.

Biologists strive to recommend season lengths and bag limits in accordance with the amount of hunting pressure a species may tolerate without harm to the reproductive potential of that species, and to prevent waste of game that should go into the hunter's bag.

A longer quail season will thus give participating hunters more time to harvest birds which would otherwise be lost to natural mortality in any event.

Despite some mixed emotions over the possibility of hunting birds classified by some as "too young," Parsons says it is difficult to distinguish 90-day-old birds from adults.

From thousands of wing collections, biologists have noted mid-July as the peak of the quail hatch in West Texas. This allows most birds to attain the 90-day age before November.

Several years' accumulated data from various parts of the state show from 89 to 98 per cent of the quail are hatched prior to August 15. The Trinity Brazos, East Texas and South Central Texas areas vary from 89 to 91 per cent young of the year hatched by the middle of August.

An eight-year study in the Possum Kingdom Regulatory Area sets the same occurrence at 95 and 96 per cent.

Parsons says that a 15-year mass of data from the Panhandle reveals as much as 98 per cent of the hatch occurs before August 15. This provided huntable birds by the time season opens.

Quail mortality, he says, begins at the moment of hatch, and bird numbers decline from then on. In West Texas there is generally a fall population shuffle. One of the reasons for this is that some ranges supporting quail in summer will no longer do so in winter. Many birds are lost from natural causes during this period which occurs from late October to early December.

Figures also show that approximately 80 per cent of each summer's hatch is lost before the next nesting season and that, at best, the hunter only bags approximately 10 per cent of these birds.

Past records also show that the hunter operates under a law of diminishing returns and usually stops hunting by his own volition before there is danger of hunting pressure having adverse effects on quail populations.

Brush Control from Another Angle

Research workers at Texas A. & M. University are trying a new approach to the problem of basal sprouting on mesquite and huisache which have been treated with herbicides. Their system calls for deliberately forcing underground buds to grow before a herbicide is applied. Then the herbicide is sprayed on and catches both the upper part of the tree and the sprouts. In laboratory tests, it has worked, but Dr. Page Morgan and his associates say the new principle has still got to be proved in field tests.

Student Employees Must Have Social Security Number

Students who plan to work this summer should get their social security cards before they go looking for a job. An employer will ask for the number on the card, and without it the student may not be hired.

Edwin Draughon, manager of the Vernon social security office, pointed out that each summer thousands of students get their first jobs and have their first experience with social security. Since almost all work today is covered by social security, the student will need his number to get proper credit for his work. The employer must have the number to report the student's earnings for social security so that it will be credited to the right social security account.

Many companies will either not hire a worker who doesn't have a social security number or will hold up his pay until the number is furnished, Mr. Draughon pointed out. All work credited under social security builds valuable insurance protection for these young people. All their earnings from now on will count toward not just their future retirement benefits, but also toward disability benefits in case they become disabled or die.

Since most students apply for their social security numbers near the close of the school year, a logjam sometimes builds up at the social security office and the cards may be delayed. To avoid a delay in getting your social security number in time for your job, apply early, Mr. Draughon said.

Tax Man Sam Sez

The new thing in auditing income tax returns this year is that the computer gives a "score" to each taxpayer with an income of less than $10,000. Next year the computer will "score" everyone (and if you made more than $10,000, don't think that Internal Revenue will forget you until next year).

A score is determined by how close the return comes to what IRS considers the norm for a taxpayer of that income bracket with that particular type of business, with similar dependents or deductions, with that particular variety of income sources, in that geographic area, etc.

"Nation's Business" magazine recently reported that approximately 2.5 million returns receiving the poorest scores in 1969 will be reported back to the regional and district offices and will be thoroughly audited. If your return gets a good score at Martinsburg, it most likely will never be audited. However, returns which "flunk" the score will be "eye-balled" at length at the taxpayer's IRS district office. Here the trained tax people review the mechanical thinking of the digitized selector and rule out those cases where it is obvious the taxpayer does not need an audit.

Crowell High Seniors Feted with Party at Thalia Last Thursday

The graduates of Crowell High School were honored Thursday night in the basement of the Thalia Methodist Church by senior mothers of Thalia.

As the guests entered through paper streamers, they were greeted Hawaiian style by Miss Lela Graf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Graf, and Miss Sherry Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gray. The two young girls, dressed in grass skirts, gave each guest a lei and each girl a red rose to put in her hair.

Vases of multi-colored flowers decorated the tables. The centerpiece was a boy and a girl doll dressed in native Hawaiian costume surrounded by paper flowers and greenery. Black and gold crepe paper was draped from the ceiling to the tables. Paper oriental lanterns covered the light fixtures.

Other decorations included a balloon framed bulletin board displaying silhouettes of a boy and girl graduate above the words, "Aloha Seniors '69." Recorded island music was played as a background for the buffet supper.

The group played parlor games and were entertained with folk songs by Jim Tom Smith and an inspirational talk by Rev. Irl Holt, pastor of the church.

Each one was presented a floating balloon with fortunes of classmates inside. Fortune cookies were presented each on their departure to Vernon for the remainder of the evening which was spent skating and bowling.

They were met in Fort Worth by their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Presley Thomson, and children, Mike and Jeri Ann, of Floresville who accompanied them to New York. Jeri Ann was a junior bridesmaid at the wedding.

The wedding was performed in Our Lady of the Sky's Chapel at Kennedy Airport, May 17, at 4 p. m. After a reception at the International Hotel, the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Europe, after which they will make their home in Ann Arbor, Mich., where the groom works for American Airlines as personnel manager, and his wife will be employed as a registered nurse in a hospital there.

Music Recital

Red and white were the colors and "Music—The International Language," was the theme used in the recital in which Mrs. Owen New of Truscott presented her music pupils May 16 at 8:30 p. m. in the First Baptist Church of Benjamin.

The auditorium of the church was decorated in red and white by the use of arrangements of red and white roses clustered about the piano and organ areas. Large baskets of roses and ligustrum highlighted the north and south and center aisles.

Kathy Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Roberson of Benjamin, served as mistress of ceremonies and introduced each number. She also recited "The Purple Cow," which worked into the theme of one group of songs.

Rev. K. E. Woolley gave the invocation which was followed by the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by Duane Daniel.

Following the recital, a reception was held in the fellowship rooms of the church. Guests were served red and white cookies decorated in music symbols with pineapple sherbet punch. These were served from a table laid with red net over white, and centered with an arrangement of red roses.

Students who participated in the recital were Debbie Hudson, Rocky Glascock, Duane, Jerry Bob and Michael Daniel. Several students were unable to participate in the recital because of conflicting activities.

Method of Transfer of School Pupils Has Been Changed

Texas parents who wish to transfer their children from one public school district to another—without changing their own place of residence—have been given a new route by the State Legislature.

This new plan is outlined in detail by the Texas Education Agency in a letter mailed to school superintendents throughout the state Monday, May 26. The act, passed by the 61st Legislature and signed by Governor Preston Smith on May 9, repeals transfer methods which have been in effect since 1925 and 1935.

Parents will no longer apply for transfer to the county superintendent. Instead, they will now go directly to the superintendent of the school district they wish their children to enter. The parent or guardian of the child must apply in writing at the receiving school superintendent's office. If the district agrees to receive the non-resident student, the parents or guardian will be notified in writing.

The old June 1 deadline for filing transfer applications will be extended, probably by several weeks, when the State Board of Education meets in Austin June 7. Agency officials explain. The board is also expected to adopt policies for implementing the new law.

Parents who have already applied for transfer to the county superintendent will be notified in writing to contact the receiving school district. If their applications have already been sent to the county office, they will be forwarded to the receiving school district.

Parents who transfer their children into another district may be required to pay tuition if the grades are taught in the home district. If, however, the grades are not taught, the home district pays the tuition.

The fee paid by parents may not exceed the difference between what it costs the school district to support a student and the state funds received. This amount will be based on the per student costs during the 1968-69 school year. The state per capita funds for each child transferred out of his home district will travel with him. Average daily attendance, if any, recorded in the home district during the previous year will also be transferred.

The new law, which goes into effect immediately, applies to all Texas school children over six and under 21 years of age who are not high school graduates.

Expanded Program for 'Mainstream' Is Announced

Launching of "Operation Mainstream," with expanded programs of assistance for all minority enterprises, was announced by Hilary Sandoval, Jr., administrator of the Small Business Administration.

Procedures, goals and objectives for the expanded minority enterprise programs were discussed by Sandoval, assistant administrator for minority enterprise, Philip Pruitt, and other top officials of the Washington office, with the agency's minority enterprise field representatives at a workshop held last week at Silver Spring, Maryland.

"Operation Mainstream will, for the first time in the history of SBA bring all the programs and services of the agency together in a coordinated effort to put more minority individuals into business and help them succeed," Sandoval said.

"This means that minority firms we help finance to start or expand their operations will also have the management and technical assistance and other continuing support they need to continue in business, make a profit, and retain their rightful place in the mainstream of our traditional free enterprise system.

"Operation Mainstream will also feature closer coordination with other government agencies at all levels, and new and stronger ties with trade associations, financial institutions, larger businesses, and local civic and business organizations which also have a stake in this vital effort.

"We have tailored our minority enterprise activities to meet President Nixon's expressed desire that we establish a sound, thorough program to help all sincere minority individuals wherever possible become an important part of our economy," Sandoval concluded.

Assistant administrator Pruitt said the salient procedures of "Operation Mainstream" will assure: Coordination and development of all SBA activities for minority enterprise through regular meetings of all top program and staff officials in the Washington office. Implementation of the programs through the agency's national network of field offices, with each office head assuming full responsibility for seeing to it that objectives and goals are being met.

Full utilization of SBA minority enterprise representatives in all field territories.

Wider public knowledge and understanding of SBA minority enterprise programs through an aggressive community relations program, backed up by a comprehensive educational effort carried on by the agency's advisory council members across the country.

Capizing Is Major Factor in Boating Fatalities in Nation

According to the annual statistical report on boating accidents just released by the U. S. Coast Guard, capsizing was the major cause of boating fatalities. Forty-five per cent of the fatalities reported nationally in 1968 were attributed to capsizing. The typical death results from the capsizing of a motorboat less than 16 feet long, with one or two people aboard.

In releasing the report, Admiral Willard J. Smith, Commandant of the Coast Guard, stated: "We are encouraged by the favorable trends that seem apparent in boating safety. Though the boating population continues to expand at a fast pace, boating accidents, injuries, and fatalities have been relatively stable over the past five years. But we cannot relax our efforts. Having taken a hard look at the boating safety record we have identified areas where a greater impact can be made. Greater state participation is needed as well as improved safety standards for boat construction and associated equipment. Additionally, there is an ever present need for law enforcement and boating education if America is to continue to enjoy the pleasures of safe boating."
