No Official Word Received Here on Cattle Quarantine

The daily newspapers have been carrying Associated Press stories relating to a scabies infection and quarantine of cattle in a 34-county area including Foard County.

No details of the quarantine—what cattlemen are permitted to do with their stock and what they are not permitted to do—have been received in Foard County by Sheriff Edward Howard or County Agent Joe Burkett.

Details will be published if and when they are received by local authorities.

Smallpox Vaccination No Longer Required For Entering School

No more smallpox vaccinations will be required for entering school in Texas, the State Board of Health has decided. The new school immunization laws passed by the last legislature required six different immunizations before entering school, and these were to be started by January 1, 1972, to get the law into operation. The same laws gave the State Board of Health authority to revise the required list. The board's decision was based on a U. S. Public Health Service report that the risk of smallpox in the U. S. is so small that routine smallpox vaccination is no longer indicated.

Local Candidates Yet

PTS OF POLITICS ON MAP FOR COMING YEAR

Next year a big election in Texas, a number of local district offices will be coming up.

There will be a vacancy in the judge's office, since Rex

Sullivan Jr. of Quanah, who was appointed by Governor Preston Smith to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Tom Davis. The appointment will be until the next general election. Also, the district attorney's post will be coming up.

End Christmas Greetings

Does writing Christmas cards get to be pure drudgery? Does the high cost of stamps make you wonder sometimes if it is worth all the trouble? Have you got a million other things you ought to be doing instead of writing Christmas cards?

If any or all of the symptoms fit you, come by the news office and pick out the Christmas greetings ad to be published in the News next week and which will be seen almost everywhere. It's considerably cheaper than the Christmas cards and a great deal less trouble!

If you haven't got time to come by, call 684-4311, and we'll pick you out a nice one.

Christmas in 1971

Change is a way of life in this day and age. New ideas are emerging, useless traditions and ways of thinking are put aside, and in general, people are beginning to look on certain things with an open mind. Christmas is one tradition which will never be outmoded, for this is the time when people celebrate the birth of the Saviour and recognize the need of His birth in our lives. We can discover that Christmas is more than just a time to receive gifts. It is a time to give—of one's self, money and talent to the betterment of our lives and our society. It is a time to take the old story a changing, new world. As each year passes, the birth of Christ can bring new meaning and new joy to everyone. The following letter speaks for the CHS students this Christmas:

December, 1971.
 Dear Santa,
 Well, Sir, you've always provided us with the very nicest Christmas gifts, and maybe it isn't my place to do so, but I'd still like to tell you what I really want for Christmas this year. This Christmas morn, when I peek under the tree, I'd like to find "the Spirit of Christmas," and if you don't mind I'd like to keep this spirit, long after the yule time has past. If I could keep this "Spirit of Christmas," why I could smile in the face of troubles, I could believe when others doubt, and I could laugh when I feel like crying. With the good will that Christmas imparts, I could overlook the shortcomings of others and praise them more highly. Indeed, if I can make a hint, I think the "Spirit of Christmas" would be the nicest gift for everyone. Maybe the "Spirit of Christmas" would encourage us all to work for "Peace and Goodwill" throughout our troubled world. Respectfully and affectionately,
 Remelle Marlow.

The Junior Journal

Dashing through English, in a one-horse open American history book, over the lab manuals we go, studying algebra all the way. Well, it's that time of year again. Christmas and mid-term exams just seem to go together. One counter-acts the other. Mid-term exams begin Thursday and will be over in time for everyone to enjoy the festivities on Tuesday. Juniors will be taking part in a Christmas play and a musical program by the chorus and band on that day. In Algebra II, graphing in space has been taken up. This involves the use of three axes instead of the usual two. Monday, members of this class turned in some three-dimensional examples of this type

A GIFT FOR THE WORLD

At a time when so many problems confront our nation, there is danger of retreating to an old adage: charity begins at home. But there is an even older precept of brotherhood, universally expressed in the Christmas message of goodwill to all mankind. Most Americans know we cannot close our eyes and hearts to those who suffer hunger and hardship, wherever they may be.

It is in this spirit that the current CARE Food Crusade appeal seeks to help feed 28,350,000 people, primarily children, during the coming year. To complete the plan, in 35 countries or areas whose resources are far less than our own, will require $7,500,000. Host governments give operating support and the U. S. donates farm abundance to cover the remaining costs.

Combined with CARE health and self-help programs, the food is a tool to build future self-sufficiency. From Latin America to Africa and Asia, our gifts will nourish 24,900,000 children fed daily at primary schools, pre-school and nutrition centers. Help will also go to disaster victims, to Pakistani refugees, to impoverished villagers in food-for-work development projects.

Every contribution, at a dollar per food package or unit, does a multitude of good. For example: $5 can give 1,500 children a nourishing bowl of porridge; $10 serves school lunches to 10 students for 3 months. Yes, charity begins at home—but it cannot end there. You can make the world better for people by mailing a check to: CARE Food Crusade, 109 N. Akard St., Dallas, Texas 75201.

of graphing. They worked out a problem and used cardboard, string and sticks to graph the solution. This project helped make clear the use of the third axis. It was also more interesting than doing our problems on paper.

Congratulations to both basketball teams on their first place wins! The girls and boys teams worked hard to get those trophies at the Crowell tournament but it was worth it. Juniors on the girls' team are Rhonda Vecera, Babs Streit and Sharon Brown; on the boys A team are Rocky Bachman, Jackie Blackburn and Rex Driver. Three of these were named to the all-tournament teams: Rhonda Vecera, forward; and Babs Streit, guard, on the girls team. Rocky Bachman was on the boys team. Congratulations to them and to Rhonda Howard and Harry Lee Swan, who were the others named to the teams from Crowell.

Sophomore News

The all district football team has been selected and several sophomores made either the first or second teams. Making the first team were Phillip Bell and Emmitt Newman, both on defense. Making the second team offense were Freddy Matysek and Billy Eavenson. Ernest Barrera and Freddy Matysek made the second team defense. Congratulations, guys! Congratulations also go to our basketball teams on placing first in the Crowell tournament. Way to hustle, Cats! Sophomores have started getting that queasy feeling since they realize that finals begin this week. But after the finals—Christmas holiday!

Freshman Frolics

This week the freshmen are most interested in the basketball tournament and all the tests. Most of the freshmen are either playing basketball, working in the concession stand, or watching the basketball games at the tournament, and we're all having a lot of fun.

We're not having so much fun with our tests, though. In only

Letter to Editor

Voter registration has become the responsibility of the students to the community. It is the duty and responsibility of every citizen to support their community by going to the polls to vote.

Even though many people oppose the eighteen year old vote, the fact still remains that most eighteen year olds are capable of making intelligent decisions. Many people are concerned in the college towns that the eighteen year old vote will control the local government. That is why there is a campaign here on campus to register all students between the ages of eighteen and twenty-one. Jimmy Glover, 312 Thompson Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

Companies could cancel coverage at annual expiration dates by giving 30 days written notice. Teaver advised a rule prohibiting cancellations for "age alone."
COURTS SPEAK — Texas Supreme Court ordered Cooke County district court trial of a teenager's suit against his father for alleged negligence on the job which led to a serious permanent injury. Case was the first in which the state's top court had considered whether parents should be immune to actions brought by their children due to events outside the normal family relationship. In two other cases, the Supreme Court sent applications for savings and loan association branches—in Hallettsville and Bay City—back to Commissioner W. Sale Lewis for further proceedings. Lewis had approved the applications, but had not filed a required concise statement of underlying facts supporting his finding, court opinions concluded.
AG OPINIONS — Laws prohibiting dumping of refuse within 300 yards of public highways and anti-dumping statutes pertaining to public and private properties and public waters are both valid and can be harmonized,

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded:
 * Flight schools are subject to new Texas Proprietary School Act.
 * Texas Water Rights Commission can test any claim of a right to use water under water code provisions by the legal requirement of past beneficial use of water without a formal adjudication of all claims on the stream.
 * Legislators are entitled to 16 cents per highway mile for use of personally-owned airplanes on official business trips.
 * Authority exists for establishing a central services account for Texas Tech University and Texas Tech University School of Medicine.
 * Procedure for assessing the Harris County domed stadium for taxation is unchanged by legislation passed this year. Taxable leasehold estates on exempt property are to be valued at the price they would bring at voluntary sale for cash based on value of comparable improvements on non-exempt property.
LAND BIDS ACCEPTED — Bonus bids of more than $1.7 million on oil and gas leases were accepted by the School Land Board for the permanent school fund. Seventy-six bids covered 39,843 acres of state-owned lands and averaged $44.77 an acre. Meanwhile, Land Commissioner Robert Armstrong said revised rules and regulations for oil drilling pollution control in coastal waters will require all oil spills or other mishaps to be reported to the land office within 24 hours of discovery. Written notification will be required of all operations on state leases.
12,000 GET RAISES — Retroactive pay raises have been cleared for 12,000 (of 63,000) state employees who get $2 or less an hour. Raises were approved for the low-pay workers back to September 1 in line with a federal pay board definition of "severe inequity" permitting retroactivity for those paid less than the minimum wage before and after the August freeze.
SCHOOL SITE SELECTED — A 200-acre site in south Tarrant County has been accepted for a new state school for the mentally retarded. Selection follows recommendations of a 1966 study which also advises considering residential-need factors for the mentally retarded in the Rio Grande Valley, El Paso, and Northeast Texas. Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation officials said a solution is underway for the Rio Grande Valley's needs, and a plan is developing for El Paso.

New Edition of Texas Almanac Is Published

Figures from the 1970 U. S. Census, a history of the Texas tidelands and many other new features are found in the 704 pages of the 1972-73 Texas Almanac, published by the A. H. Belo Corporation, publishers of The Dallas Morning News. While data from the decennial U. S. Census are expected to be among the most widely used material in the new publication, editor Walter B. Moore said that there are many other features not found in the previous edition. Among these are:
 A history of telephones in Texas, prepared by leaders in the telephone industry.
 A history of grain sorghums in Texas, co-authored by J. Roy Quinby, sorghum researcher who received the Hobbittzelle Award for his achievements.
 The tidelands history prepared with the collaboration of Judge Price Daniel, formerly U. S. Senator and Governor of Texas; and Attorney General Crawford Martin, both active in the successful program to save this rich asset for Texans.
 Election results, listings of county, municipal and state officials, amendments to the Texas Constitution and those to be voted on in 1972, appointive boards and commissions, officials of state and regional civic and trade organizations and many other listings are expected to make this edition widely used as a reference for business offices, schools, public offices and other centers, Moore said.
 A night view of San Jacinto Monument appears on the front cover of this edition.
 A new Texas map, in color, with major highways, distances and other information supplements 254 county maps, updated from maps prepared by the Texas Highway Department.
 The county maps are published with information about each Texas county supplied by chambers of commerce, county agricultural agents and others.
 Tourism and recreation are featured, with many photographs in color and black and white of Texas scenes.
 Each of the 24 Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, the urban concentrations in which most Texans live, has an editorial page devoted to it.
 Joe M. Dealey, president of The Dallas Morning News, points out that this is the 46th edition of the Texas Almanac that has been published since 1857. "We believe that this edition will maintain the high standards that have characterized previous issues and have caused this to be known as 'The Encyclopedia of Texas,'" Dealey said. "By publishing it, we hope not only to provide a useful reference, but also a tool to attract new industries and individuals who will build the economy of the nation's fourth most populous state."

Two Minutes With the Bible

The Son of a Virgin
 "Behold, a virgin shall be with child." (Matt. 1:23).
 Mary was highly honored that she should be chosen to be the virgin mother of the Messiah. This was a distinction for which every Jewish woman hoped and prayed.
 But—now that she had heard the glad news from the Angel Gabriel, she was to find herself in the most embarrassing position of an unmarried maiden with child. Little wonder that Mary hastened to the hill country to visit Elisabeth, the mother-to-be of miraculously-born John, later called John the Baptist. Who, in such a case, would better understand, or be better fitted to give sympathetic advice to Mary?
 Mary remained with Elisabeth for about three months, or until the birth of John the Baptist (Luke 1:36,56), but now the real test lay ahead, for she must return to her home in Nazareth to face her relatives and acquaintances—and Joseph, her betrothed. What would they say? And above all, what would he say? How could they be expected to believe her story? An angel had appeared to her, indeed!
 In the record of Joseph's reactions we are given light as to the extreme embarrassment in which Mary now found herself. Consider Joseph's position. Mary was his "espoused wife." Why had she gone away—and stayed so long? And now, what is this? She is found with child—not by him. Her explanation, if indeed she offered it to him, must have seemed most unsatisfactory. He could have charged her with adultery and had her stoned, but "being a just (lit., "fair-minded") man" he "was minded to put her away privately" (Matt. 1:19).
 But "while he thought on these things," with a heavy heart, "the angel of the Lord appeared to him" and Joseph learned that his beloved had told him the truth! that she was indeed to be the honored mother of the Messiah of Israel, the Redeemer of sinners.
 It was because our Lord was the Son of God, born into the world by a virgin and not partaking of Adam's sinful nature, that He could go to Cal-

Soil Test Now
 Producers can get a head start on the 1972 crop year by having their soils tested now, advises Charles Welch, extension soil chemist. Soils should be tested every two to five years because fertility levels change. Regular soil testing is especially important if a field is used for intensive production.

Indonesia, 5th Most Populous Country, Is America's Newest Wheat Customer

Indonesia, one of the world's oldest civilizations and the fifth most populous country in the world, is America's newest wheat customer. The country's initial shipment of U. S. wheat was unloaded in early September.

Ken Kendrick, chairman of the new Texas Wheat Producers Board, said that it is markets such as this that the board hopes to assist in developing to increase the price and volume of Texas wheat sold—80 per cent of which is overseas.

U. S. Agricultural Attache Jerome M. Kuhl estimates that, based on present milling capacity, Indonesia initially will require some 450,000 tons of wheat annually, with about 70 per cent of this to come from the United States under PL480 credit.

Some flour has been consumed in Indonesia since early Dutch Colonial days. However, flour consumption largely was restricted to the foreign community. During the Sukarno era, consumption went from a high of nearly 200,000 tons, to a low of less than 50,000 tons.

Flour imports last year were at 507,444 tons, with about 70 per cent of this coming from the U. S.

Indonesia became a wheat importer for the first time this year, with the opening of the new Boga Sari Flour Mill in Djakarta. The mill largely will serve the wheat flour needs of West Java. Another mill will open in East Java early next year. A third mill is under construction at Makassar, on the island of Celebes. Within a year or two, Indonesia is expected to have a total annual milling capacity of nearly 700,000 tons.

On hand in Djakarta for the arrival of the first shipment of U. S. wheat were Fred Schneider, Western Wheat Associates' Manila-based market development director, and Jim Fox, U. S. milling consultant. Along with agricultural attache Kuhl, they observed unloading operations and conferred with mill officials and technicians on matters related to marketing and milling of wheat in Indonesia.

With a total population estimated at some 117 million persons, Indonesia is one of the world's largest markets. Advancement in economic development and political stability in the past three years has been impressive. Abounding in largely-untapped natural resources, the country offers excellent long-range cash market possibilities for the American wheat industry.

The island of Java alone has a population of some 70 million persons, as much as the combined population of Thailand and the Philippines.

Kuhl notes that the introduction of U. S. wheat in Indonesia is a significant development. Indonesia represents one of the world's oldest and largest rice cultures.

Despite a historical preference for rice, the Indonesians are becoming hearty wheat eaters. Wheat consumption is in evidence at all economic levels of Indonesian society. The wheat foods which are served at Djakarta's leading hotels and restaurants are basically the same items which are eaten at curbside by vendors and rickshaw drivers.

About 45 per cent of wheat foods are consumed in Indonesia in the form of bread. The balance is made up of noodles, with a small percentage going into cakes.

Along with the new flour mills, new and modern bakeries are beginning to appear in the urban centers. The quality of baked wheat foods is improving and even greater improvements are expected in the immediate future as the consuming public becomes more quality conscious and baking technology improves.

America's initial shipment of wheat to Indonesia was made up of 9,500 tons of Dark Northern Spring wheat and 5,500 tons of winter wheat. Indonesia will also be taking Western White wheat. The country requires flour of from 10.5 to 12 per cent protein.

The arrival of U. S. wheat in Indonesia is an example of the rapidly changing nature of the S. E. Asian market. A dozen years ago there were no flour mills in the Philippines, South Vietnam, Thailand, Malaysia, Cambodia, Singapore, and Indonesia. Now there are 17 flour mills, with three other mills under construction. Others are planned.

Consumption of wheat has moved up markedly in these countries, with the introduction of the flour mills. Population, and food requirements are also moving upward rapidly in S. E. Asia. As in the case with other forward-looking Asian countries, Indonesia officially encourages the consumption of wheat, recognizing it as a low-cost, high-protein food, vital to the interests of the people. High cost of rice and the hazard of rice crop failure also make it desirable to broaden the country's cereal consumption base.

Sandhill Crane Is The State's "Brand X" Game Bird

The sandhill crane is the state's "Brand X" game bird. It plays the role of unwanted stepchild to some of the better-known species of migratory birds—the duck, goose and dove.

In fact, some Texas outdoorsmen probably couldn't tell a sandhill crane from a cattle egret.

But for all its anonymity, the sandhill has a number of characteristics which should endear it to hunters, according to the Texas

Parks and Wildlife Department.

It's a large bird—almost trophy sized. It flies fast and has the eyesight of a goose. It will respond to decoys and it travels in flocks of impressive size.

Add a lengthy open season and the bird's high rating as table fare and you should have incentive enough for any shotgunner to give the cranes a try.

Department field personnel say sandhills are ignored because their habits and characteristics still are a mystery to most hunters. Secondly, the two zones where sandhill hunting is legal are in the extreme western portions of the state, forcing hunters to travel long distances. A third reason may be the tendency of the cranes to be "here today and gone tomorrow" as they shift locations in search of food.

Also, nice weather is terrible for crane hunting. Cloudy and rainy weather is needed for the pass-shooting done by most Texas hunters. Clear skies call for the use of decoys to bring in the high-flying cranes.

Numerically, the cranes have made a comeback from past years when their numbers had seriously declined. But the birds still have a long way to go before achieving the status they deserve as a game species. Sandhill crane season in this area began December 4 and will continue through January 30th, with 3 permitted each day and 6 in possession.

If you have worked long enough, social security benefits will be available should you become disabled. This is good to know. But you also need to know that no benefits can be paid for the first 6 full months of disability. Knowing what you cannot depend on is sometimes as important as knowing what you can depend on.

DRIVE FRIENDLY takes on a new dimension as Gene Kincaid of El Paso makes a pointed plea for Texans to heed the message of the world's heaviest billboard. Erected during a highway construction project on Interstate Highway 10 in El Paso, the 210,000 pound steel beam billboard is 45 feet above the ground. Using the beam for the Drive Friendly message was the brain-child of J. D. Abrams, President of the El Paso Traffic Safety Council, who says that driving friendly means not driving while under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Three Accidents in County Investigated
 by Highway Patrol

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated three accidents on rural highways in Foard County during the month of November, according to Sgt. Jack Therman, supervisor of highway patrol in this area.

These crashes resulted in no persons killed and one person injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the county during the first eleven months of 1971 shows a total of 19 accidents resulting in one person killed and seven persons injured.

The rural traffic accident summary for the 46 counties of the Lubbock Department of Public Safety for November, 1971, shows
 a total of 576 accidents resulting in 29 persons killed and 292 persons injured. This was 19 less accidents, one more fatality, and two less injured than during October.

The 20 traffic deaths for the month of November, 1971, occurred in the following counties: Heck-ley, four; Lubbock, Palo P-sto, Hamstead and Oldham, two each; Bailey, Carson, Childers, Lipscomb, Moore, Terry, Wheeler
 and Willbarger, one each.

Red Cross Blood
 Program Meeting
 Set for Dec. 16th

J. W. Hulse, chairman, announced Monday that the annual regional conference of the Red River Regional Red Cross Blood
 Program will be held at the Red Cross Blood Center headquarters at 1806 Fifth St., in Wichita Falls in December 16.

The regional council is composed of representatives from each of the twenty-two participating counties in the Red Cross Blood Program and each of the thirty-six hospitals in the region which receive their total blood supply through the Red Cross blood pro-from each county and hospital attend this important meeting.

The council will review progress resulting from changes over the past year and chart plans for developments in the year ahead.
 Chapter organization, blood donor recruitment, blood distribution and usage, and fiscal and financial matters are a few of the topics which will be considered. The members will view a new fifteen-minute blood donor recruitment film recently released by the American National Red Cross, entitled "Blood is Life — Pass It On." There will be several other important matters on the agenda, including consideration of the admission of a new chapter. Counties in the Red River Blood Program in Texas are Archer, Baylor, Childers, Clay, Cooke, Cottle,

King, Foard, Hardeman, Jackson, Throckmorton, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young. Oklahoma participating counties are Cotton, Garvin, Harmon, Jackson, Jefferson, Murray and Tillman.

Registration will be from 9:30 until 10 a. m., with coffee being served. The hours of the conference will be 10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., with lunch being served at $1.50 per person. Mr. Hulse promises an exciting and interest-

Goals by computers make the news—usually a check or bill many times over the correct amount. The millions of high-speed, correct operations are of-formerly took a month or more to make a change of address for your social security check. Now it with aid of the computer. The same speed and accuracy can be

Grant Okayed to Pay Criminal
 Investigator

Austin—A grant approved Dec.
 14 by Governor Preston Smith will help pay the salary and travel expenses of a skilled criminal investigator for the 46th District Attorney. The grant is for $11-600. The award will come from the Criminal Justice Council which oversees statewide law enforcement planning and administers funds from the U. S. Department of Justice for crime control projects in Texas.

Serving Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties, the investigator will assist the district attorney in screening cases, interviewing witnesses and preparing cases for grand jury and trial action. He also will serve as liaison officer and unofficial instructor to local law enforcement officers, teaching them proper investigative and reporting procedures and advising them of recent court decisions affecting criminal cases.

According to Gov. Smith's office, "currently, law enforcement officers in all three counties are underpaid and have little training in investigative techniques. As a result, much of the district attorney's time is spent traveling the three-county area taking complaints and statements, drawing search warrants and advising law enforcement officers."

Newsletter from Crowell Family
 Received Here

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Crowell, who are working with the Bororo Indians in Brazil, periodically send out a newsletter to their friends back in the U. S. The following is what the Crowells had to say in their October-December newsletter. Mr. Crowell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Crowell of Crowell.

Quebaka stopped in at Tom's little study house after a fruitless fishing trip at the river. His clothes were ancient and dirt-colored as usual. His weatherbeaten face remained motionless as Tom read to him the newly translated account of Jesus calming the storm. "Read me another," he said. Tom read a paraphrase of the Creation story to him. "Another." He listened to the story of the Prodigal Son. "Is there any more?"

It is exciting to see the eagerness of this Bororo Indian as he listens to brand new stories in his own language. After one-and-a-half years of hard study and linguistic analysis, Tom was able to begin translation of the New Testament this June. With much prayer and trembling, Tom and his keenly intelligent Indian teacher, Eduardo, have completed the first drafts of the three stories mentioned above.

During our present tribe session (Oct.-Dec.), Tom is translating a series of twenty Bible stories on the Life of Christ. We will then "check" these stories by reading them to several Indians and asking them questions to see if the meaning is crystal clear.
 These stories will be rigorously checked again at a translation workshop next June by a team of three—a Bororo Indian, Tom, and a Wycliffe translation consultant. Then the series will be ready for publication.

The first few months of this year have marked the creation of two primers (like first-grade readers) in Bororo. The language lends itself to the teaching of reading because there are many two and three letter words which can be meaningfully strung together.

We have started official night reading classes for four of the men. It was delightful to watch hard, self-sufficient men become almost giddy and nervous as they learned to use a pencil, sharpener or eraser for the first time. It seems as though they have been waiting a long time to be shown the key to reading. They are catching on rapidly and forgetting little.

This has been a momentous year for us. We have seen God work in our hearts creating more love in us for the Indians. We have seen translation and literacy get under way. And we have seen two precious little boys grow just big enough to allow their room a few hours a week for linguistics.

The prayer needs in the tribe are great. Most pressing at this time is the recent increase in drinking. This has resulted in several broken marriages and rapes, and a general demoralization of the whole village.

The Indians are really interested. We remind them that the Holy Spirit will create hunger in their hearts for something with a deeper and more lasting value than the white man's milk or sugar and that this hunger will be satisfied through the new translated Word.

Yours in joyful service,
 Tom, Jan., and Marion, The Crow-well.

So, folks, season 4 complete without a Christmas tree. But we have a tree for the Indians. They should be happy and cheerful if we can help them. We have a tree for the Indians. They should be happy and cheerful if we can help them. We have a tree for the Indians. They should be happy and cheerful if we can help them.

Researcher in Brush Control Is Speaker at Rotary Meeting

Bev Herndon, a Texas Tech employee who is located in Quanah doing brush control research, was the speaker at the December 8 meeting of the Rotary Club.

Mr. Herndon said that the range and management study by Texas Tech is the first time a non-land-grant college has received state funds for brush control research.

Herndon said that brush is a tremendous problem in Texas: there are 88 million acres of brush in the state with 56 million of these acres in mesquite. He said it takes 1,700 pounds of water to make 1 pound of mesquite, while it takes only 400 to 700 pounds of water to produce a pound of grass. He said estimates are that it requires 146 million acre feet of water to maintain this state's crop of brush and weeds.

Herndon commented on various ways to control brush. He said that in years gone by, talk was of brush eradication. It has been proved that the eradication of brush will never become a reality, so a method to control the brush, slow down its growth and halt its spread, must be considered.

He said brush control methods by root plowing or chemicals are costly programs, and he told of a new machine which cuts the brush off at the ground. Although it does not kill the brush, it does give grass more room to grow for a number of years.

He said not only is his group working with mesquite, but also other plants such as prickly pear and cedar. The juniper (cedar) is growing and spreading faster than mesquite, Herndon said, adding that the chapparral brush is also becoming more of a problem.

W. F. Stater was in charge of the program and introduced Mr. Herndon. Other visitors were Henry Black and Virgil Johnson.

Deepest Concern?

"After a newscast Sunday morning we listened to two speakers, one who was an authority on the Bible, the other an authority on Social Security. We were struck by the thought: In these confused times, which are most adults most deeply concerned with, Spiritual Security or Social Security?"—Port Gibson, Miss., Reveille.

Write Them!

"Ever want to sit down and write your Congressmen or Senators? But did you ever feel that they probably never see your correspondence and regardless of your feelings they will vote on the many and varied issues the way they want to? Chances are you are wrong if you feel your voice isn't heard. Your Congressman and your Senators want to hear from you. They want to know how you feel on various pieces of legislation. Next time you feel like sitting down and writing them—do it!"—Goodland, Kansas, News.

Purcell Praises Four Winds Group

Washington, D. C. — Addressing his colleagues in the House of Representatives Monday, U. S. Rep. Graham Purcell (D.-Tex.) expressed his highest praise for the Four Winds Industrial Foundation calling it "the focal point of as much hard, dedicated and community-inspired work as can be found anywhere in the country."

Purcell made his remarks following last week's release of the new 1971 Yearbook of Agriculture, published annually by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, which contains an essay explaining the work of the Foundation. Purcell told fellow congressmen, "It is a continuing source of pride for me personally to be able to point to the outstanding leadership of this foundation and its unyielding determination to make something of an area which modern America seems to have forsaken."

Purcell had the text of the material concerning Four Winds inserted in the daily Congressional Record, urging individual members to review the essay with communities in their own district in mind. "No finer example can be found," the senior North West Texas congressman said.

GMOs Run Smugglers From Marijuana Haul

Two Texas Parks and Wildlife Department game management officers apparently surprised a group of marijuana smugglers last week and forced them to flee on foot from their four-wheel-drive vehicle stuck in the Rio Grande mud.

The would-be black marketeers in their haste left behind a sack containing 228 kilos, or about 500 pounds of marijuana, said Parks and Wildlife Department executive director James U. Cross.

GMOs George W. Vickers of Marfa and J. C. Moore of San Angelo received a tip that the suspicious vehicle was stuck. The smugglers apparently saw or heard the officers approaching the scene and fled.

Moore and Vickers immediately notified federal narcotics agents after finding the illicit drug cache. The vehicle had run around 32 miles upriver from Presidio near the Ruidoso Road.

Crowell Basketball Teams Win Local Tournament . . .

(Continued from page 1) in one game in several years. Billy Ray Neal led with 14 points followed closely by Emmitt Newman with 13. Four other Wildcats were in the double figures in the scoring department. Rocky Bachman latched on to 10 rebounds for the winners.

On Friday night, in the game Crowell won over Harrold 49 to 38, both teams played slow and deliberate basketball with the two teams tied at 20-all at halftime. But some hot shooting by Harry Lee Swan in the last half drove Crowell to its second victory of the tourney. Terry Farrar also sparked the Cats in the last four minutes of play.

In the finals Saturday night, the Wildcats were trailing Vernon B team 19 to 13 at half time with both teams very cold in the shooting department. Crowell dropped out of the press and switched to man-to-man defense. Again Swan came off the bench and sparked the cats' victory. Bachman's passing and rebounding helped the Crowell win.

All-Tournament Teams
Named to the all-tournament boys team were Danny Woodard of Northside, Edward Gomez of Harrold, Tom Briggs of Vernon, and Bachman and Swan of Crowell.

On the girls' all-tournament team were: guards, Rhonda Howard and Babs Streit of Crowell, and Pearl Weaver of Electra. Forwards: Ronnie Ray of Guthrie, Kay McClellan of Chillicothe and Rhonda Vecera of Crowell. Rhonda scored 60 points during the three games of the tourney.

Crowell Coach Bob Cook listed the following who helped run off this tournament:

Scott Boyd, tournament director; bookkeepers, Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Suzanne Drabek and Cindy Wisdom; clock, Ishmael Santos and Hal Williams; and the following local men who handled a tough job, that of officiating: L. H. Wall Jr., Dale Henry, Tommy Powers, Jim Mac Gafford, Harvey Ward, Randy Adkins, Willie Gardner, Boyd and Cook. Coach Cook, also thanked the many students who assisted in the concession stand.

Cook was well pleased with the tournament and Monday promised a bigger and better one next year.

San Angelo Walleyes Growing Very Fast

Walleyes, the toothy members of the perch family stocked in San Angelo Reservoir, are growing faster than Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists expected. The biologists recently recovered 27 of the fish from a batch stocked seven months ago. The fish have grown from two inches long to as much as 13 inches long, and they weigh an average of three-fourths of a pound. The walleyes appear to be outgrowing and outweighing other game species in the lake and even seem to be growing faster than many of the rough fish species.

What's better, the fish seem to be feeding on the rough fish species which biologists in the past have spent large amounts of time and money to remove by chemical means.

Biologists say San Angelo Reservoir was completely dry until summer rains poured rich, fertile water into the basin. Walleyes held in the hatchery ponds at the San Angelo fish hatchery were quickly transplanted into the nourishing waters.

Letter to Editor Praises Women's Service League

Crowell December 14, 1971

Mr. Bill Klepper, Editor
Foard County News
Crowell, Texas.

Dear Mr. Klepper,

As one individual in our community, I would like to express appreciation to the Women's Service League for the Christmas Nativity Scene they have erected on the courthouse lawn. This beautiful setting transforms the atmosphere of Crowell by placing the emphasis where it should be during this season. The artistic beauty of the simple Scriptural quotation enhances the manger scene, and the star on the Christmas tree tops and completes the design. The Service League has contributed to our community what we have long needed for our Christmas observance.
