Baptist Youth Choir to Present Program Thursday

This Thursday evening, April 20, the Crowell neighborhood center will offer a program of vocal and instrumental music for public enjoyment. Members of the youth choir of First Baptist Church have been invited to present an evening of sacred music, and will sing and play a variety of string, wind and percussion instruments during their performance.

The youth choir, numbering about 30, has made frequent local and out-of-town appearances. In March, they traveled to Waco to join with 26 other choirs in a state-wide choir festival. After receiving an adjudication of superior for their own choral numbers there, they joined with 800 other high school students in singing a grand finale concert as a climax of the festival.

Mrs. Lucille Carter, director of the neighborhood center, extends to all Foard Countyans and other friends a cordial invitation to come to the center at 7:30 Thursday to enjoy the youth choir's presentation, which will include both traditional numbers and contemporary compositions featuring the current youth "beat" and feeling.

Schedule of Activities Listed for Two-Day Economic Tour April 28-29

A breakfast meeting in Vernon at 7:30 a. m., Friday, April 28, will launch a two-day economic re-development tour of a five-county region which has experienced continuous population decline in recent decades.

Purpose of the tour is to focus attention on area problems and enlist the assistance of a visiting blue-chip delegation in making the region, with local leadership already mobilized for an all-out effort, into a model for the economic re-development of rural areas across the nation suffering critical population out-migration.

Tour sponsors feel the area, with specialists working under state grants with the Four Winds Industrial Foundation and the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corp., already has on hand one of the best economic development teams that can be assembled for a rural area.

Counties involved are Foard, Hardeman, Childress, Cottle and Wilbarger. The Four Winds Industrial Foundation area includes all the counties but Wilbarger and the EOAC includes all the counties but Childress.

Special designation of Foard and Cottle counties for federal economic development funds and other counties as a "growth area" for the region are among the more immediate goals.

The Economic Development Administration designation would free funds which could provide "seed money" for providing new job opportunities throughout the five-county region, sponsoring authorities say.

Final plans for the tour, with some 30 acceptances received to date of officials who plan to participate, were mapped at a meeting of representatives from the five-county area Wednesday afternoon, April 12, at the First National Bank in Quannah.

Each community involved will be responsible for its own segment of the tour, including provision of tour narrators on the special bus carrying visitors to points of interest.

The breakfast meeting in Vernon opening the tour will feature speakers to keynote the purpose and significance of the undertaking.

On hand for the meeting in Quannah last week were Felix Taylor, Keith Vaughn and Joe Meador of Crowell; Gene Merrifield, Howard Cook, Paul Ord, John Forbis, Bill Blackburn and R. A. Yarborough of Childress; W. F. Smith, Jr. of Quannah; V. L. Hutchinson, Roy N. Park and J. B. Garrett, of Paducah; and Ed Dzier, Bob Harrison and Ed Coltharp of Vernon.

The tour schedule approved at the meeting included:

Just Do It!

There is a tacit assumption by most people that impossible things in life are accomplished by men other than themselves, as if there were a race of superior men on earth. The fact is that the important things are done by ordinary people.

There is no use waiting for someone with "superior qualifications" to do a job. Just pitch in and do it. Ever since I found that out, it has given me a lot of courage.

Reginald Heber Smith.

Long on Theory and Short on Experience

"Probably one of the biggest troubles with so much federal regulation these days is that many of the people directing the federal programs are long on theory and short on business experience. There are plenty of men who can sit back and tell you how things should be run . . . but business-wise these theories aren't worth a tinkers darn. It looks to us like we need more successful businessmen in government offices to help direct the programs successfully."

A New Method of Farming

Reduced air pollution, wildlife habitat—these are some of the environmental benefits new practice being used by conservation farmers.

The measure, called minimum tillage, also cuts farming costs by reducing tractor trips needed to produce a crop.

"With minimum tillage, the plant crops without prior preparation," John McAlister, district conservationist for the Conservation Service at Crowell, said. "Using a coultter and special equipment, they plant directly into a mulch of last year's crop. Herbicides are used to control weeds, so costly and time-consuming cultural operations are reduced or eliminated."

Stalks, leaves and stems of the previous crop are left on the surface yearlong with minimum tillage. The protective cover is highly effective in preventing wind erosion and air pollution from blowing dust.

McAlister said the cover is equally effective in preventing water erosion.

"Scattered seed and cover on the soil surface by minimum tillage is also extremely valuable to wildlife," McAlister said. "Pheasants in the Texas handle are almost entirely dependent on crop residues for cover during the winter months. Geese, turkey, dove, quail, deer, antelope, rabbits and wildlife also benefit from the cover."

McAlister said SCS has prepared a new booklet, "Minimum Tillage in Texas," which describes new farming system in detail. A free copy, contact the office at Crowell, 684-6211.

Further expanding its benefits counseling program, the Extension Administration announced recently an agreement with the Navy for briefings of service aboard four aircraft carriers.

Several from Truscott and Gilliland attended the youth held at Munday Saturday.

Texas to Get Big Changes in Highway Signs, Signals and Markings

The Texas Highway Commission approved sweeping new changes in traffic control devices, signs, signals and highway markings.

Changes are in the Manual Uniform Traffic Control Devices approved by the Commission. The manual incorporates changes approved by the Federal Highway Administration based on recommendations by a national committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials.

The new philosophy in signing is emphasized by the manual in the changeover from words to symbols and pictures as part of an international move toward uniformity and clarity in signs throughout the nation. In Europe, the system of symbols and pictures has been used effectively for the past 20 years. The multi-language countries need uniformity in signs for international traffic control.

New signs and other traffic control devices have been under development in this country since 1964. The primary reasons for the new system of symbols and shapes are that they will enable people of different national and cultural backgrounds to easily identify signs while driving.

The new signs will be placed under the signs motorists won't be confused. Engineers hope that the new signs will become familiar with new symbols and shapes in five years so the panels can be replaced.

Texas, the changeover will be gradual, with new signs going into a replacement basis initially. The manual will become effective June 1, 1972.

Although there will be new symbols and colors, the markings of the existing signs will be unchanged.

The new yield right-of-way sign will have a wide red border and interior and will retain the "yield" in red inside the border.

The new prohibitive signs will have a red circle with a slash diagonally through the center which will mean "do not". The symbol inside the circle will show what is prohibited. For example, a sign showing a right turn arrow which is surrounded by a red circle and a slash means "no right turn."

The yellow diamond-shaped signs will still stand for a warning but some of the symbols showing hazards ahead will be new. For example, the message, "merging traffic," on a yellow diamond sign will be replaced by a right arrow being joined by a left arrow. It is hoped this will minimize confusion as to stream curfusions as to merging.

There is a major change in the advance sign and the school sign. These signs will now be pentagon in shape, with the top of two school children being shown in black on a yellow background.

Color will become more important in the new system.

Red will indicate stop or a prohibition, green will show movement permitted or give directional guidance, blue will signify motorist services, yellow will indicate a general warning, and black on white will be used for regulatory signs such as those for speed limits and for most guide and destination signs.

In addition, orange (a new color in the manual) will convey construction and maintenance warnings.

The new traffic control devices manual also includes major adjustments in the use of color lines for pavement markings.

White broken lane lines will remain on divided, multiple-lane highways such as interstate highways. The white broken line will denote that there is more than one lane, but that traffic in all lanes travels in the same direction. Solid white lines will be used for edge lining on two-way roadways, crosswalks and road markings.

Yellow striping will be used a great deal more than in the past and will denote two-way traffic. The combination of broken and solid yellow stripes will indicate to the motorist what is permitted.

A yellow broken centerline will mark the division of the road where passing is permitted. A solid yellow line to the right of a broken yellow centerline will mean no passing is allowed for traffic in that lane. Double solid yellow lines will denote the center line of an undivided multilane highway where no passing is allowed by vehicles in either direction.

Actually, there is no future in any job! For the future is always in the worker who holds that job. Jobs are just rungs on the ladder to success. But rungs don't move upward; they are stationary. It's the man or woman who steps on these rungs who does the climbing toward the top.—George W. Crane.

Boating Accidents Fatal to 65 in 1971

Who's to blame for 65 boating accident fatalities during 1971? Texas Parks and Wildlife Department executive director James U. Cross said last year's statistics show that in most cases carelessness caused more boating accidents than any other factor.

The average boating accident ironically involved a boat operator between the ages of 26 to 50 who had more than 500 hours of boating experience. In addition, the weather was clear with good visibility and the water calm. The typical accident happened between noon and 7 p. m.

So darkness, wind and inexperience actually couldn't be blamed for most boating accidents, officials say.

Most injuries or fatalities could have been avoided if a few simple safety rules had been followed.

The department asks boaters who aren't sure of their safety knowledge to enroll in boating safety courses offered periodically by U. S. Power Squadrons, Coast Guard Auxiliaries or the Red Cross.

In addition to the 65 fatalities, a total of 128 boating-related injuries were recorded during 1971. Damages to boats and other property totaled $276,880. Department officials say these figures could have been reduced or eliminated with utilization of a few safety procedures.

State Board of Education Issues "Position" Paper

The State Board of Education early in April issued a position paper reaffirming the traditional role of the Texas public school as a community center for all ages. Calling for a return to the one-time close rapport between school and community, the board directed the commissioner of education, Dr. J. W. Edgar, to "provide leadership, encouragement, and such assistance as possible" in this effort.

Young people and adults often feel isolated from the school and unsatisfied with its ability to relate to many of their special needs, the board points out. At the same time, according to the position statement, "parents and neighborhood residents seem increasingly to detach themselves from responsibility for the school system, but with no corresponding reduction in demands for service, in criticism, or in opposition to voting new taxes or approving a new bond issue."

The 21-member governing body, which sets policy for operating the Texas Education Agency and the state's public school system, cited a number of areas in which schools and communities could develop an almost round-the-clock use of both talent and facilities.

"The abnormally high percentage of adult illiteracy, high unemployment in many inner cities and rural areas, the increasing demand for a more skilled force by public and private industry, needs for adult education in the areas of citizenship, drug problems, consumer affairs, safe driving, and other short-term educational programs have placed increased demands on public education that can, in most instances, be best provided at the neighborhood level, after hours and on weekends."

While many towns are giving high priority to multi-purpose neighborhood centers, high costs and the need to avoid duplication make the existing public schools logical focal points for these activities, the board points out.

"We challenge the administrators and staff to work in full concert with other community institutions and neighborhood residents to provide or support the total range of educational, social, and recreational activities appropriate to the needs of the community and the resources of our society."

Two Minutes With the Bible

I Have Set Thee a Watchman

The Prophet Ezekiel was appointed by God as a "watchman" over the house of Israel (Ezek. 3:7). He was held responsible to warn the wicked from their way, for while God must deal justly with sin, He had declared: "I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live" (ver. 11).

If Ezekiel failed to warn the wicked, they would die in their sins, but their blood would be required at his hand. If he faithfully warned them, however, and they refused to heed the warning, they would die in their sins, but he would be absolved of all responsibility (see ver. 8,9).

Would some Christian reader remind us that we are living under another dispensation and that our message is one of grace? True enough, but this does not diminish, it increases our responsibility toward the lost.

If we believers carelessly allow the lost to go to Christless graves, are we not morally responsible for their doom? Will we not be held accountable at the Judgment seat of Christ? (See II Cor. 5:10,11). This is why we find Paul reminding the Ephesian elders that he had not ceased to "warn" men "night and day with tears" (Acts 20:31).

As the apostle looked back over his ministry among the Ephesians he could say: "I take you to record this day that I am pure from the blood of all men" (ver. 26). And this had been so of his ministry in general. Indeed, it was now his desire that whatever the cost, he might finish his course with joy, and the ministry which he had received of the Lord Jesus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God (ver. 24).

May God give us who are believers in the Lord Jesus Christ, a greater sense of our responsibility toward the lost!

Food for Thought

People expect the clergy to have the grace of a swan, the friendliness of a sparrow, the strength of an eagle and the night-hours of an owl—and some people expect such a bird to live on the food of a canary.—Rev. Edward Jeffrey, Observer (London).

The speed of a runaway horse counts for nothing.

Texas Visitor from South of Border Very Unpopular

Not since the days of Gen. Santa Ana has a visitor from the south been so unpopular with Texans.

The name is Loxoseeles reculus, alias brown recluse spider.

There used to be only one dangerous spider in Texas before this poisonous stranger rode into town—and that was the black widow.

But the brown recluse may be even more dangerous than the more colorful black widow because of his habit of hiding in unexpected places and also because of the extreme toxicity of his bite.

The brown recluse is just that—a shy and retiring arachnid which likes to hide during the daylight hours. It will crawl into closets, stacks of burlap, shoes or even beds for shelter.

Most brown recluse bites result from the victims' accidentally touching the spider in his hiding place. At night the spiders roam about looking for small insects and scurry to safety when molested by man.

Brown recluse spiders came to Texas from their original range in Central America and Mexico. They apparently have spread across a wide area of the United States in the past few years.

Their habit of hiding in man's belongings probably helped them expand their range as travelers act as unknowing transporters for the tiny spiders.

The life history of the brown recluse and details on the effects of its bite are included in an article in the April issue of Texas Parks and Wildlife magazine, written by Dr. Kenneth W. Stev-

Little Dribbler All-Stars Make Excellent Showing in District Tournament at Anton; Win Second Place

The Crowell Little Dribbler all-stars missed the championship at the district tournament held at Anton over the week end, but they did the next best thing—they won second.

The local boys played four games in two days—they won two over Anton and lost two to the Hale Center team.

Crowell's first game was Friday night and they won 23 to 20 over the Anton LD. Steve Rodriguez was "hot" for Crowell and pumped in 13 points. Randell Russell contributed four, and Paul Whitley, Terry Glover and Scott Streit had 2 points each.

Then at 10 a. m., Saturday, the local boys challenged the Hale Center five and were defeated 29 to 23. In this contest, Claudius Coleman led the Crowell scoring with 9 points; Randell Russell had 7, Paul Whitley 5, Oran Carroll and John Klepper, 1 each.

At 3 p. m., Saturday, the local boys again went against the Anton LD, and again won, this time by a 27 to 17 score. Russell was big gun for Crowell with 18 points. Scoring 3 was Terry Glover while Whitley, Streit and Carroll had 2 each.

The Saturday afternoon win by Crowell put the local Little Drib-blers in the finals Saturday night against Hale Center. The local boys were again defeated by the Hale Center squad, this time 32 to 20.

Claudius Coleman and Russell were again the big guns for Crowell with 10 and 8 points, respectively. Terry Glover scored 2 in this contest.

Other boys seeing action for Crowell in the tournament were Jay Wall and John Thomas in addition to those already mentioned.

The local boys were coached by Randy Adkins and Bud McLain.
 The local boys did a fine job of representing Crowell in this tournament and did themselves proud in winning second. Each boy was presented a medal.

General chairman for the Little Dribbler program in Crowell is Roy M. Whitley, and the Rotary Club is sponsor of the program.

Others attending the Anton tournament in addition to the players and coaches, were Roy

Objectives of April 28-29 Tour Set Out at Quannah Meeting

Objectives of the Economic Development Tour of Childress, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wil-barger counties set for April 28-29 were approved at a called meeting of the executive committee members of the Four Winds Industrial Foundation and the Economic Opportunities Advancement Corporation held in Quannah last Thursday.

Mayor V. L. Hutchinson, Mayor of Paducah, presided at the meeting and the following objectives were approved: To observe what local people are doing to create new jobs, new business, new industry as well as trying to expand local businesses and industries; to observe the problems of rural economic development and especially the problems that keep people here from implementing economic development programs and projects; and to take cognizance of what is needed and offer input into the formation of a "complete package" of local, state, federal resources and private resources to beef up rural economic development in Childress, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman and Wilbarger counties.

City tours and programs along the two-day 250-mile economic development tour were discussed by representatives from Crowell, Quannah, Childress, Paducah and Vernon. Tentative plans were approved to allow time to prepare and firm up the complete five-county tour.

Highlight of the economic development tour will be the Five-County Banquet to be held in Childress at 7 p. m. on Friday, April 28. Tickets will cost local people $7.50 for the banquet, according to Gene Merrifield, Childress Chamber of Commerce manager. Keynote speaker for the banquet will be U. S. Congressman Graham Purcell. Each city will have its own ticket committee and tickets will be sold in each of the five towns involved in the tour.

Keith Vaughn, Texas OEO-STAP economic development specialist from Austin, told the group attending the Quannah meeting that 20 dignitaries have accepted the invitation to attend the tour.

Attending the Quannah meeting last Thursday were Ed Coltharp of Vernon, Bill Bleckni, Paul Ord, son, J. B. Garrett of Paducah and

Miss Linda Gray Becomes Bride of Mr. Woodard

In a candlelight ceremony in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church of Crowell at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, April 15, Miss Linda Carole Gray became the bride of Patrick Alan Woodard, Rev. Irl Holt, pastor of Fargo Methodist Church, officiated for the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Gray of Crowell, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clois Woodard of Vernon.

Vows were repeated before an arch formed by cathedral candelabra and centered by a wide basket of white gladioli and stock. Three tree and spiral candelabra entwined with salal flanked each side of the arch. Arrangements of candles and salal accented the chancel rail with palm trees standing at either end.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Walter Stapp of Crowell, organist, and Mrs. Curtis Casey of Truroc, pianist. Rev. Ralph Chapman of Vernon sang "One Hand, One Heart," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Stapp.

Given in marriage by her father, er, the bride wore a formal gown of Angleskin peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The lace bodice featured a scalloped neckline and organza bouffant Camelot sleeves. Wide panels of scalloped Chantilly lace extended down the front of the skirt and bordered the flowing chapel train. The finger-tip mantilla edged with Chantilly lace was caught by a Camelot headpiece. She wore a ruby ring which belonged to her maternal great grandmother, and carried a cascade arrangement of white cymbidium orchids and Stephanotis with white velvet tubing.

Miss Karen Gray of Crowell and Mrs. Steven Gray of Dallas, sister and sister-in-law of the bride, respectively, were the maid and matron of honor. Miss Kay Lynn Woodard, of Vernon, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Debbie Landers of Amherst; Miss Sara Collins of Dallas and Mrs. Billy Hord of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, attended as bridesmaids.

All were identically attired in formal empire gowns of mist green flecked organza over tafeta designed with puffed sleeves and a dainty tailored bow in the back. Headpieces were mist green gypsophila to a double loop bow of white velvet tubing. Each attendant wore short white gloves, and carried a nosegay of white pom-pons ornamented with white velvet tubing and mist green net.

Len Woodard of Vernon was ring bearer, and Miss Cheryl Chapman of Vernon was flower girl.

Bill Roe of Abilene served as best man. Groomsmen were Steven Gray of Dallas, brother of the bride; Danny Woodard of Vernon, brother of the bridegroom; Ronnie Wilson of Vernon, Kelly Baggett of Brownfield, and Ralph Thornhill of Abilene. Lynn Fuller and Richard Mulkey, both of Abilene, performed the duties of ushering.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gray selected a delicate yellow crepe coat dress styled with a tucked bodice and slightly flared skirt. With it she wore matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore an A-line dress of aqua brocade knit featuring a double rolled collar. Matching accessories and a cymbidium orchid corsage complemented her dress.

Reception

Immediately following the ceremony, the bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the church fellowship hall.

The bride's table was covered with a floor length white satin cloth, and centered by a silver epergne holding white tapers and pastel Spring flowers. A three-tiered all-white wedding cake placed at one end of the table was decorated with roses and encircled with pastel Spring flowers matching the petite arrangement which crowned the cake. A crystal punch bowl and other appointments of silver and crystal completed the setting.

Covered with a beige linen cloth the bridegroom's table held an arrangement of fresh fruit. Marzipan fruit decorated with coffee from a silver service.

Mrs. Kenneth Carroll of Crowell registered guests. Miss Sherrie Gray of Crowell, cousin of the bride, distributed rice bags. Other members of the house party were the bridegroom's sister and sister-in-law, Mmes. Bennie Kilgo of Dumas and Mike Woodard of Odessa, Mrs. Stephen Weathered of Fort Worth, Mrs. Charles Crisp of Marshall, Mrs. Glen Doyle Goodwin of Wichita Falls, Mrs. Ricky Veal of Childress, Mrs. Ike Everson of Crowell, Miss Ann Word of Vernon, Miss Beverly Clark of Tulsa, Okla., and Misses Debbie Johnson of Crowell and Nancy Looney of Truroc.

For a trip to the Texas Gulf coast, the bride wore a bone knit suit top-stitched in black complemented by black accessories. Her corsage was the orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1970 graduate of Crowell High School, and attended West Texas State University at Canyon. Mr. Woodard was graduated from Northside High School, and received a BBA degree from Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene where he was a member of Sigma Delta Sigma social fraternity.

The newlyweds will be at home in Vernon where she is secretary-receptionist at the Herring National Bank, and he is bookkeeper for New Holland.

Rehearsal Dinner

Parents of the bridegroom were hosts to the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner Friday night in Frances Cafe in Crowell. Arrangements of pastel Spring flowers centered the tables. Gifts were presented to attendants by the bridal couple.

W. S. L. Meeting

Henry Black was guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Women's Service League. Presenting ideas similar to those detailed at a prior Rotary Club meeting, Mr. Black urged those present to band together for the betterment of the area.

Careless

"There's old Mr. Silverbean, pushing 80 and still at the wheel, who is given to changing lanes without flicking on his turn signal. One makes allowances for that. Old folks tend to be forgetful, and besides, Mr. Silverbean started driving long before there was such a thing as a flashing turn signal. There's also young Suzy Brighteyes, however. She, too, weaves from lane to lane without signaling. Not much excuse for Suzy. Anyone who learned driving in recent years yet fails to signal is just plain—and perhaps lethally—careless."—West Point, Miss., Times-Leader.

It Does Work

"In the last 12 years, our total gross national output in the U. S. has jumped 80 per cent, a total of $400 billion. Personal incomes increased $300 billion and the number of employed climbed a whopping ten million. Looks like the free enterprise system does work."—Warr Acres, Okla., Putnam City-Northwest News.

County History Appreciation Week Set to Start April 23

The State of Texas has had a proud and colorful history; an unsurpassed heritage filled with dedication, devotion and individualism. We owe a great debt to our forefathers; the pioneers and early settlers whose accomplishments have been an inspiration and a guiding light to all Texans.

All too often, in these modern times, we tend to overlook and fail to recognize and appreciate the labors of these great men and women. Increased public appreciation is needed for the men and women who toiled, under extreme hardships, and traveled to the far corners of our great state, and established themselves as the pioneers of our proud heritage.

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee and 254 county Historical Survey Committees are working diligently and efficiently to preserve Texas' historic past. The county committees, this year, are making a special effort to focus public attention to the dramatic course of events in their counties, thus designating each day of a week for special activities highlighting the various elements of the state preservation program such as the beautification of the approaches to and areas surrounding historic sites and markers; the locating and recording of noteworthy landmarks; honoring pioneers and early settlers; involving the youth in historic work and touring historical exhibits, sites, and markers.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of April 23 as county Historical Appreciation Week in Foard County, Texas, and urge all citizens to support and participate in the activities of this observance.

Preston Smith, Governor.

"Fat Cat"

"A person loaded with money is said to be a 'fat cat.' Maybe there's more to the saying than we realize. A nutrition expert from the University of California tells us the nation's household pets are better fed than the members of the family—the human members, that is. Come to think of it, not many of us two-legged critters have our choice of nine delicious flavors when we sit down to eat. Whatever our shortcomings, never let it be said that Americans are beastly to their pets."—Vincennes, Ind., Valley Advance.

27th Santa Rosa Rodeo Set in Vernon

The 27th annual Santa Rosa Rodeo—this year expanded from four nightly sessions to include four nights and a Sunday matinee—is scheduled for May 10-14 in Vernon.

Officials said previous years' season box holders are being invited by letter to exercise the option of retaining their seats prior to April 26, when tickets go on public sale at Wagon Wheel Western Wear.

Highlights of the rodeo will include appearances of country-western singers Ferlin Husky and the Compton Bros., and the trained buffalo of Jerry Olosn, Belle Fourche, S. D.

A downtown parade, co-sponsored by the Santa Rosa Palomino Club and the Vernon Chamber of Commerce, is scheduled for May 10.

The rodeo is produced for the 25th year by Beutler Bros. of Sterling, Colo., whose livestock inventories boast 23 animals featured at last year's National Finals Rodeo.

Tickets are priced at $4.00 for box seats, $3.50 for reserved (covered) grandstand; and general admission is $2.50 for adults, $1.25 for those 12 years and under.

Price Criticizes Embargo Proposal

In a letter to Secretary of commerce Peter Peterson, Congressman Bob Price criticized a proposal under consideration to place an embargo on the exportation of beef hides from the United States.

Calling the proposed move "short sighted and totally unjustifiable," Price emphasized that the embargo would have a detrimental effect on the cattle raising industry. "We all remember a few short years ago when the same cries for an embargo were heard from shoe manufacturers who threatened a rise in shoe prices without it," Price noted. "The embargo was granted and shoe prices went up just the same."

Hightower Named to Legislative Committee

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes last week announced the appointment of Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon to the newly created joint legislative committee on administration. This committee is a part of the newly adopted joint rules of the Texas legislature and represents a positive step in bringing about reform procedures by the legislature.

Bob Harrison Is Speaker at Rotary Club Meeting

Bob Harrison of the local E. O. A. C. office in Crowell, was the speaker at the Wednesday, April 12, meeting of the Rotary Club of Crowell.

Mr. Harrison spoke on the Manpower Development Training Act and said that it is a program that trains people for a specific job. Crowell has had 20 persons in this program. Five are still in training, and fifteen have completed their training. Of these 15, five have been placed in jobs, or 33 per cent.

Another program he spoke of is JOBS. If a business is paying the minimum wage of $1.60 to a disadvantaged person, the government will reimburse the business half the cost. The Neighborhood Youth Corps works with children who have dropped out of school. Their first try is to get them to return to school. If they return, they will have a program of training while they are in school. If they do not return to school they are placed in a program outside school to train them for a job.

Who are designated as being on the poverty list? A person who draws $2,000 a year or less; two persons, $2,600 a year; three persons, $3,000 a year and four persons $4,000 or less a year.

Time We Replace Some "Big-Shot" Politicians

"Big Shot" politicians are tapping us for more taxes! Its' either for more salary, more fringe benefits, or more help! To top it all off, now they want us to pick up the tab for political expenses. I've heard of everything now! With the entire country in the midst of the Presidential 'freeze,' evidently these politicians can't wait for the 'Thaw.' I think it's about time we taxpayers call a halt to these 'Big Spenders' who can dream up more ways of spending our money than a four-year-old at Christmas time. Why can't they do something concrete about saving tax dollars, or at least spending them where they are needed? . . . I think it is time taxpayers and concerned citizens consider replacing them with 'thinking individuals,' rather than
