DISTRICT IX
CONVENTION FRIDAY
 Friday, November 2, there will be no school. Local teachers will travel to Wichita Falls for the Annual District IX Convention.
 Teachers will be attending a General Meeting in the morning and sectional meetings in the afternoon.

WHY?
 The horn blows, sounding the end of the contest. A quick glance at the scoreboard, and the game is over for everyone—except the players.
 As the opposing players shake hands, the flow of adrenalin in Beauford's body slows to a stop.
 Heading for the showers, Beauford replays the turning point of the game in his mind. It will take a few hours for Beauford's heart and mind to return to normal duty.
 Beauford's attempt to get some sleep that night is useless as a result of the pounding his body received. It hurts no matter how he turns and the single night seems like an eternity. The next morning he makes a quick check of his body.
 The bruises will go away in a few days but the pulled muscle is a different story. When Beauford arrives for practice Monday he is still limping. By game time Friday, Beauford feels great again and the whole cycle starts over.

As a senior at C.H.S. this is Beauford's last football season.
 Why does he follow this routine from August till December?
 Beauford has many reasons. He seldom mentions it but he enjoys being part of the team, sharing many hours of hard work and occasionally some fun.
 Pride is Beauford's main reason for playing. Football resembles life to him, with all of its spills and thrills. There is always a challenge, always something to reach for. It takes a man to play this game and there are many lessons to be learned. When the season is over, Beauford will look back, see his accomplishments and his failures, and he can be proud that he is a better man for having played in this game of life.

work and excitement to seniors as they try to find easy and hard ways to solve their experiments.
 Congratulations Friday night against Munday. Pep Club had a difficult time getting to the game, but the band lent a helping hand.

JUNIOR NEWS
 Last week on Wednesday, the high school enjoyed a program given by the Assembly of God Church.
 In Chemistry we have been doing experiments in the lab.
 Some come out fairly well, while others don't do too well.
 Sometimes the whole second floor of high school smells like rotten eggs or such! We are learning more about the combination of different elements and their reactions with other elements.
 The Junior and Senior boys were given an interesting program Tuesday by James T.
 Hatch from Ryder. He talked to them about the Technical Institute in Dallas. It was very informative and everyone enjoyed it.

This week all Juniors would like to salute our team of coaches. They are: Coach Printiss Gidney, Russell
 McGough, and Jerry Anderson.
 Their jobs are difficult but rewarding. We support them with lots of spirit and confidence. The Wildcats played a tremendous game last week against Munday. This week they play Holiday. This is an especially important game, so

Program Is Launched to Make Texas Number 1 in Agriculture

AUSTIN --- Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked for a vast expanded rural development program and launched a campaign to make Texas No. 1 in agricultural production during the Governor's Conference on Rural Development here Tuesday.

More than 2,000 community and organization leaders were on hand for the conference, first of its kind in the state.

Six major speakers discussed various aspects of the conference theme, "Planning Today for Tomorrow's Balanced Growth," and community leaders reviewed the state's rural resources and outlined ways to utilize these resources more fully for a better Texas.

"We will make every possible resource available to help people in rural areas achieve maximum support for a more abundant life," Briscoe said in his keynote address on "Planning for a Rural-Urban Balance."

Briscoe emphasized that loss of people from rural areas has created many dilemmas in the cities, and said that high priority must be given to rural development and job opportunities, orderly development of natural resources, improvement of services and facilities, better rural labor market service, more emphasis on vocational training, improved health service and adequate housing.

"Agriculture alone cannot solve the problems of rural Texas, but can be a great factor in the solution," Briscoe declared. "You have done a magnificent job in the past in making agriculture great in Texas, so let's make it even better."

Dr. John E. Hutchinson, director, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said that Texas appears to have the necessary resources to achieve the goal of becoming No. 1 in agriculture.

"Among the state's advantages are available land resources plus the technological and knowledge reserve from agricultural research for expanding production of all phases of the livestock industry; food and feed grains for domestic and export; cotton and other natural fibers; fresh and processed vegetables, fruits and nuts; soybeans and sunflowers; sugarcane; mariculture and expanding processing industries near production areas.

"The increasing economic momentum of Texas agriculture is another favorable factor, with the percentage change for the state's agricultural income from 1968 through a 1972 whopping 48 per cent, compared to an upward change for Iowa of 36 per cent and for California of 28 per cent during the same period.

"Based on both gross and net income projections through 1980 on trend and potential, our goal appears to be realistic. To become No. 1 will require total cooperation and mutual support of all agencies and groups and each segment of the agricultural industry," Hutchinson said.

Texas Commissioner of Agriculture John C. White said, "Texas should become No. 1 in the quality of life, agricultural opportunity and profits, as well as agricultural production." He recommended a state program similar to the Veteran's Land Board to assure funds for young people getting into full-time agriculture, improved water resources, a do-it-yourself rural development program and recreation development in rural areas.

Texas Cong. W. R. (Bob) Poage said there is "no effective way to deal with national urban concentration problems until we solve rural problems." He pointed out that locating industries in rural areas has paid for itself, and said he hopes for further implementation of the 1972 Rural Development Act soon.

Dallas County Judge W. L. Sterrett said rural development "is important to the city dweller in assuring adequate food and fiber and maintaining that delicate economic balance so essential to survival."

Roy B. Davis, chairman of the 25-member Texas Rural Development Commission, suggested policy directions, pro-

Agriculture Is "Big" in Texas

Sure, everyone knows that agriculture is big business in Texas! But just how big is it? With November designated as Food and Fiber Appreciation Month in the state, now is a good time to take a brief look at the bigness of Texas agriculture, points out Henry Black, food and fiber chairman for Foard County.

First of all, agriculture in all its phases--agribusiness--adds more than $10 billion to the Texas economy each year. Agribusiness provides employment for about 30 per cent of the state's labor force.

Of the state's 168 million acres of land area, 142 million are devoted to agriculture.

Realized gross farm income in 1972 totaled $4.7 billion, up 13 per cent from 1971. However, farm production expenses totaled $3.8 billion, almost 23 per cent higher than in 1971. This left realized net income 19 per cent below that of 1971, but a boost in farm inventories brought total net farm income up 28 per cent over that in 1971.

Texas is the third leading state in total agricultural cash receipts behind California and Iowa. However, it leads the country in producing cotton, grain sorghum and rice and is the top cattle producer. Texas also leads in the production of sheep and wool, goats and mohair.

The state is also a leader in other enterprises:

---Fourth in agricultural exports, leading in cotton and rice exports and second in hides, tallow and meat products.

---Second in peanut production.

---Third in vegetable production, leading in cabbage, watermelon and spinach and second in onions, carrots and cantaloupes.

---Second in grapefruit production and third in oranges.

---First in native pecans and third in total production.

---Third in the number of honey bee colonies.

---Among the top 10 dairy grams and additional research needed to reach the commission's objectives for building rural Texas. Workshops that followed focused on housing, transportation, economic development, health, education, human and natural resources and general government.

Each farmer in America today, produces enough for himself and 51 other people. Twenty years ago, he was raising enough to feed 10 other people.

4--Foard County Crowell, Tx., November states. ---First in horse and eggs. ---A leading state in farming.

These are just a few things that Texas is doing in the agricultural scene. Agriculture continues to grow, become more diversified, must do so to meet ever-increasing demand for high quality food and products, points out Black.

HOSPITAL DONATIONS

Several more donations have been received by the staff to be placed in the needed items.

Those contributing were: Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, laundry bags; Mrs. Houston Adkins, misc. items for one bathroom; Munson $100.00 cash in memory of his mother, Y. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Huskey, $100.00 cash donation; one anonymous $100.00 cash contribution and anonymous $100.00 cash contribution.

WOULD BE APPARENT

"Surely it ought to be apparent by now, billions of dollars have been thrown away--scattered--guarantee solutions, a poultice of money does not create a social boil; that little correlation between spent and results achieved; too many government are going into the pockets of those who are handing out handouts; that government can't better fight poverty, educate backward kids, rid the ghettos of rats; matter their noble intent, can—and do—many create at least as many problems as they solve, and there are those in Congress today, who are unaware—or unconvinced—we can no more spend our way out of our problems."

What One Person Can Do

SUSAN BELLINGER SOCIAL WORKER

If people didn't have problems, there would be no need for social workers. Susan Bellinger of New York knows this. Although her record of accomplishment as a social worker is impressive, she admits: "It can be awfully frustrating. Sometimes I feel I'm just giving out Band-Aids."

Ms. Bellinger, 34, grew up in Harlem and is no stranger to city life. Working in a small clinic that serves up to 300 people a month, her goal is "to help people see that they have some jurisdiction over their own lives."

One family she helped consisted of an overwhelmed mother with seven children, all in some degree retarded. Ms. Bellinger got the most-deprived child into a therapy group and obtained a wheelchair for his crippled 16-year-old sister.

The children are now eating solid food for the first time.

Another client was a widow whose health had been gravely impaired by heavy drinking. Several of her children had been arrested for various offenses. Susan Bellinger coordinated 13 agencies to salvage this "multi-problem family."

The mother's life was saved by treatment for her liver condition. She stopped drinking. Those children with crime symptoms were placed in special homes, and the oldest daughter was trained to help care for the younger ones. The mother secured a part-time job which supplemented income

November Is Food, Fiber Month

COLLEGE STATION ... Everyone appreciates a simple "thank you" or a pat on the back for doing a good job. So it is that the month of November is being set aside as a time when we show our appreciation to those engaged in food and fiber production and processing for a job well done.

Officially, November is being called "Food and Fiber Appreciation Month."

"Consumers throughout our state and nation are blessed with high quality food and fiber products," points out Henry Black, food and fiber chairman for Foard County.

"Their life styles and living standards continue to be envied by other countries and this prosperity is largely a result of a productive, efficient agricultural industry."

According to Black, food products are still one of the best bargains to be had anywhere despite recent rising prices. And the quality of products is second to none.

"Never in the history of the world have so few fed so many well with such a selection of quality foods," emphasizes the economist. "Less than five per cent of the population is required to supply our food needs compared to more than 50 per cent for many undeveloped countries."

Vastine looks at the recent price increases of food items as "a blessing in disguise."

"The food price situation has brought agriculture to the forefront and has helped to tell the story of our tremendous agricultural industry—long taken for granted. Hopefully, it has focused more attention on the importance of agriculture and has instilled in consumers some appreciation of the work of those who provide food and fiber for our daily lives."

"Our country and the entire world depends on the food and fiber production, marketing and distribution industry."

PLAIN TALK About The FUEL SHORTAGE!

When I first introduced Flex-O-Glass in 1924, I could never imagine that 50 years later America would be faced with a serious fuel shortage, in which Flex-O-Glass would be such an economical way of helping millions of homes stay warmer this winter. Flex-O-Glass saves both fuel and money. Homes protected against winter wind and zero weather with Warp's Flex-O-Glass actually save up to 30% on fuel costs.

Hints for Homemaker

Hints for the Homemaker by Rhonda Ward, C.E.A.

GAME PLAN FOR SNACKS
Provide nutritious snacks for this football season's "armchair quarterbacks." These TV viewers can consume up to half of a day's food in the form of snacks. If they reach mainly for soda pop, potato chips and cookies in the home "concession stand," they'll get plenty of calories but not many vitamins, minerals or protein.

To simplify matters, set aside one shelf in the refrigerator and cabinet especially for snacks and quick meals. Let it be known that family members can come here first when hungry or thirsty. Keep plenty of fruit juices, cold water and milk. To keep milk costs down, use dry milk mixed with water. Add chocolate, vanilla, or fruit flavors to make it "special." Other favorite milk foods offer food value as well as good taste—such as ice cream, puddings, cheese and yogurt.

Also, fresh fruits and vegetables provide delightful and nutritious snacks. For convenience, fix raw vegetable strips and slices about once a week—and keep them in the refrigerator crisper. Include carrots, celery, turnips, green peppers, cucumbers, cauliflower, bananas, apples and oranges. They're simple to fix, easy to eat, and high in food value.

For sandwiches, keep bowls of egg, tuna and chicken salad handy in the refrigerator. Also, keep the peanut butter within easy reach. Remember, it's high in protein. Cheese and crackers—as well as cheese sandwiches—provide nutrition-packed snacks for nibblers.

So, snacks can be fun to eat as well as nutritious.

2 Minutes with the Bible

REDEEMED
"We have redemption through His blood..." (Eph. 1:7)

Our English word "redeem" is actually a translation of three beautiful Greek words.

Agarazo: to buy at the market.

Ex-agarazo: to buy out of the market.

Lutro: to set free (upon receipt or payment of the ransom.)

It is the last of these that is used in Eph. 1:7. The believer in Christ has liberty—purchased liberty—through Christ's shed blood.

First we were "bought with a price" and "redeemed to God" (1 Cor. 6:20; Rev. 5:9). Further, we were "redeemed from the curse of the law" (Gal. 3:13.) And now best of all we have been set gloriously free (Eph. 1:7; Gal. 5:1).

Why not turn in your Bible to Ephesians 1:6-8 and read this brief passage thoughtfully to see the boundless generosity of God's dealings with those who put their trust in Christ as Savior.

"To the praise of the glory of His grace" God "hath made us accepted (or, engraced us) in the Beloved One," in whom we have "redemption" and "the forgiveness of sins according to the riches of His grace, wherein He hath abounded toward us

Redeemed! Purchased out of the slave market of sin and the law—and set gloriously free! Does this foster loose, careless conduct? By no means! When our Lord had given a blind man his sight, he said: "Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole," but the record hastens to add that "he followed Jesus in the way." Could anything be more natural? And could anything be more natural than a redeemed, liberated sinner longing to please and serve his divine Benefactor?

Famed Texas Longhorn Died at Ft. Griffin

Longhorn fans across the state. University of Texas rooters or not, have cause for sorrow.

Alas, the matriarch of the "Official State Longhorn Herd" has headed for that last roundup in the sky.

"Hook Horn," better known as the mother of the University of Texas mascot, "Bevo," passed quietly from this veil of tears while on a grassy knoll overlooking historic Fort Griffin State Park, her birthplace and home for the past 23 years.

Despite her advanced years and preferential treatment, she never became docile and was always approached with care because she would swing her horns at anyone who came near.

Parks and Wildlife Department personnel dubbed her "Hook Horn" because of her unusual horn configuration: one curved majestically into the air while the other drooped vampsily in front of her face.

When parks personnel inquired of her health on Sept. 27, she was grazing like any dowager cow.

However, on the 28th, she was found lying on her side unable to raise her proud head. A veterinarian was summoned but to no avail and thus ended a chapter in the history of Texas' longhorn herd.

College Official is Speaker in Crowell

Bud Joyner, dean of students at Vernon Regional Junior College, was the speaker at the Wednesday, October 24, meeting of the Rotary Club of Crowell, and told local Rotarians some interesting things about the college which is now in its second year of operation.

Joyner said that present enrollment is 706 full time students with 50 more enrolled in adult basic education. The enrollment is up about 50 per cent over last year, he added.

Citing Foard County as an example of the increase of out of district students, Joyner said currently there are 13 members of the 1973 CHS graduating class enrolled in the college. Last year there were 8 members of the CHS class of '72 and those eight students are back plus 3 more from the '72 class.

Joyner said that the retention rate at the college is exceptionally good with 65 per cent of last year's freshmen back for their sophomore year. Enrollment of 1,000 is anticipated within the next 3 years.

Joyner says there are 125 veterans attending VRJC now. The college is offering two basic programs. First is the one which gives the student two years of college and afterwards he transfers to a 4-year school to complete his education and the technical-vocational area, where students learn trades. He says that 40 per cent of the college's enrollment is now in the technical-vocational program.

Joyner cited a number of reasons for the popularity of junior colleges: first, is the small classes with more attention possible for the students; professors are more student-oriented, and the counseling program is stronger.

He was introduced by Rotarian Irving Fisch. Other visitors were student guests Tim Daniel, Terry Tamplin and Danny Ownbey, and Rotarian Bill Givens of Quanah.

PRACTICAL HINT

The surest way to keep from being bored is to do something for someone else. A businessman in New York City was so bored that he developed a terrible nervous condition. He was ordered by his doctor to go to Grand Central Station and to look for someone who needed help. He felt stupid doing this, but found an elderly woman seated on her suitcase weeping. Someone had not shown up to meet her. He found out where she was going, got a tax, and delivered her to her daughter's home. Right away he called a doctor, and said, "Doc, it works! I feel better already."—Helen Cadle Walker.

One of the least known facts in modern American agriculture is that farmers for years have sought their profits through increased production and efficiency rather than in higher prices.

Wildcats take 48-0 Win at Munday Friday

The Crowell Wildcats took their second District 7-A win in as many starts at Munday last Friday night as the locals galloped over the Moguls to a 48 to 0 score.

The Wildcats began putting points on the scoreboard early in the game as Allen Tapp scored his first of three touchdowns of the game on a 24-yard gallop. David Bell kicked the extra point. Bob Taylor crashed over from the 1 for the next Cat score. The kick for extra point missed the mark to leave the score 13-0 at the end of the initial quarter.

Philip Bell powered in from five yards out early in the second period for six points. His brother, David, added the extra point. Tapp scored his second touchdown from three yards out, with David Bell again kicking for the point-after.

Steve Graves, Wildcat quarterback, got in on the scoring act shortly before the half when he galloped around right end for 9 yards and the double stripe. Bell again converted.

Tapp's final touchdown of the night came in the third period on a 45-yard gallop. Bell again added the point after. The Wildcats ended their scoring for the night when Randy Prince galloped for 25 yards. Bell again added the extra point.

The Wildcats held the Moguls all night and prevented any kind of drive developing by the host team. Aiding in this defensive effort were Ernest Barrera, David and Philip Bell, Bob Taylor, Rocky Glasscock, Graves, Ricky Hammonds, Fred Matysek, Keith McDaniel, Ernie Myers, Richard Naylor, Ricky Nichols, Randy Prince, Dee Finley, Chavelo Ranjel, Tapp, Melvin Westover, Hal Williams, Randy Dorsey and Wm. Backman.

Flowers also fill a very human need for sentiment. Sentiment isn't pure emotionalism, but it isn't the opposite of rational thinking, either. It's a complex set of ideas, feelings and instincts. And flowers can add to sentiment by creating a background of warmth, beauty and, above all, life.

There are other contributions sympathy flowers make. And they're all positive ones.

We can help you with all kinds of flowers. By designing a personal, thoughtful floral tribute. Or by even suggesting alternatives to the traditional sympathy arrangement.

So we hope that when you want to give a sensitive, positive expression of sympathy, you'll consider flowers. And that you'll consider us to help you with them.

Sympathy flowers.

Should you give them?

While giving flowers in time of loss may seem like a very natural thing to do, it's an act that has absolute, positive and concrete worth, too. For one thing, sympathy flowers are an immediate expression of sympathy. If you've ever tried to write a sympathy letter, you know how difficult it is.

Secondly, sympathy flowers can have a positive effect on the bereaved. Psychiatrists say people who undergo great personal loss have to do "grief work." Or, they must work out—by themselves—past relationships, the present loss and what the future will be like.

Sympathy flowers are a basis for such "grief work." Because by actually helping to place the arrangements and by reading accompanying messages, people make tangible, positive efforts to honor the deceased, and build for the future.

Flowers also fill a very human need for sentiment. Sentiment isn't pure emotionalism, but it isn't the opposite of rational thinking, either. It's a complex set of ideas, feelings and instincts. And flowers can add to sentiment by creating a background of warmth, beauty and, above all, life.

There are other contributions sympathy flowers make. And they're all positive ones.

We can help you with all kinds of flowers. By designing a personal, thoughtful floral tribute. Or by even suggesting alternatives to the traditional sympathy arrangement.
