ONE NEW VEHICLE

One new vehicle was registered here last week, as follows; November 12, Edwina Halencak, 1974 Chevrolet

Ernest Barrera, big tackle for the Cats who did his part in blocking and tackling assignments this year; Philip Bell, running back and another defensive stalwart for the Cate.

ASCS To Handle Bob Taylor, halfback accounting for lots of Wildcat yards and on defense a sure tackler for the Wildcats; Steve Graves, Crowell quarterback who guided the Wildcat offense and played in the secondary on defense; Fred Matysek, 200-pound tackle, a standout on blocking assignments and a player who was in on most of the stops by the Wildcat defense; Ricky Nichols, Wildcat end; and Randy Dorsey, a scatback in the Wildcat offense, who suffered a broken leg and missed most of the season. In the game with Knox City, Crowell had its hands full trying to contain the Greyhounds' Charlie Fly and the Wildcats were behind 20-13 at the half. Fly "flew" 70 yards with a Crowell punt during the first quarter to give the Hounds a 6-0 lead. He then scored two more TDs in the half: one of 7 yards and then an 87-yard gallop.

Philip Bell scored the first Wildcat TD in the first quarter from 3 yards out. David Bell kicked the point-after. In the second quarter, Graves went in from one yard out with David again adding the point-after. The Wildcat defense tightened during the last half and completely shut off the KC

Chavelo Ranjel scored the next two Crowell Scores, both from about one yard out. One was at the close of the third quarter and the other shortly after the last quarter stated. David added both extra points and then caught a 23-yard pass from Graves for the Wildcats last score.

Coach Printiss Gidney and his assistants, Jerry Don Anderson and Russell McGough, guided the Wildcats to an impressive 6-4 record this year. They lost to champion Holliday in district action and dropped games to Memphis, Electra and Bowie, all strong teams in their respective leagues.

This has taken much effort on the part of many Foard County residents, and credit will be

Everyone is urged to contribute money for this much-needed project, which will render a great service to our senior citizens and also be a monetary help to the community. Liberal donations are urged for it is contemplated that a total of around $8,500.00 will be needed. With inflation, the dollar does not go as far as it previously did. Local leaders believe that the people will respond in a favorable manner to this drive.

BASKETBALL TERMINOLOGY

Basketball season has come again for C.H.S. and most of the fans are in the dark about some of the terms used in basketball. So, we are going to relate some of the more important terms to you and perhaps you will be able to understand what the players and refs are talking about. Team player-a player who passes the ball to me.

Ball hog—a player who wants me to throw the ball to him. Monster-a player who is at least an inch taller than me. Little man-a player at least an inch shorter than me.

Referee-a blind idiot with an unreasonable hatred for me. Defensive star-a player who can't shoot. Playmaker-everybody's friend (with a 2.4 point-pergame average).

Bad pass—a pass I fumble. Fumble-another player's muff of my perfect pass.

Mrs. Lewis Sloan, who along with Mrs. Monroe Karcher, have returned home from a 7-weeks tour of Europe, was the speaker at the Wednesday, November 14, meeting of the Rotary Club and told Rotarians about the trip. Mrs. Sloan said the almighty dollar is no so all-mighty as it once was and in Europe, when an American cashes a check for $10, he gets only $7 cash, a result of the declining value of the dollar in world markets. She said Americans who had moved to Europe in years past because of the lower cost of living were finding that with the shrinking value of the dollar, they were having more trouble all the time trying to make ends meet. She said in England they saw many Japanese travelers-all of whom seemed to have plenty of money to spend.

Of the many European countries visited, Mrs. Sloan said Denmark was her favorite.

Pick Yourself a Winning Hay

COME people say that Fate has a habit of dealing from the bottom of the deck when she's distributing cards for the high-stakes game of Making-a-Living.

But, as a matter of fact, many of the highest cards in this rugged game are lying right out on the table, in plain sight, just waiting for us to pick them up.

These optional cards-optional because we can do as we please about picking them up or ignoring them-are the Aces in the Making-a-Living game . . . the symbols of Better Business Opportunities, Better Jobs, and other aids to winning more chips.

It's very simple: these high cards ... these valuable helps in making a living... are ours to keep and to hold ...if we trade more with our own neighbors at home.

HAPPY THANKSGIVING

Thawing frozen turkeys at room temperature is now safe and practical. The secret is to thaw the turkey in a closed paper bag. The bag keeps the temperature low enough to protect quality and this method is more convenient than thawing in a refrigerator or under tap water. Keep the turkey in its original plastic wrap, then place in a paper bag. Here the bird can be thawed completely without exposing the surface to temperatures higher than 55 degrees.

Large birds. 20-25 lbs., should thaw in 16 hours; smaller cups chopped celery, 1/2 cup birds, 8-12 lbs., should thaw in

THE GREATEST REASON FOR THANKSGIVING

If St. Paul were on earth today we know just what he would be most grateful for on Thanksgiving Day-and every day. Paul, remember, had been the renowned Saul of Tarsus, the great persecutor of Christ and His church. The "chief of sinners," he later called himself (I Tim. 1:15).

But one day, as he travelled to Damascus, "breathing threatenings and slaughter" against the disciples of Christ, the Lord revealed Himself to him and in that moment the pitiless persecutor became the devoted servant of the One he had hated so bitterly. He found that Jesus was indeed "the Christ," and that He was not a deceiver who had died at Calvary for His crimes, but the Son of God, the Savior of sinners—paying their penalty Himself so that they might have "redemption through His blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of His grace" (Eph.

Little wonder that Paul, now a changed man, wrote to the Corinthian believers: "Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable (or "inexpressible") Gift!" (II Cor. 9:15).

Exactly what was this precious gift for which he was so thankful? Nothing less than the Lord Jesus Christ Himself and the salvation He has provided for us through His death.

Hear the apostle, with overflowing heart, exclaim: "He loved me and gave Himself for me" (Gal. 2:20). And in Rom. 6:23 he draws a contrast between what might have been his lot and what, by the grace of God, his lot now was:

"For the wages of sin is death, but the Gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus

This holds for us too. God cannot justly overlook sin. The results of sin follow, not only naturally, but legally too, for God is-and must be just, otherwise none of us could trust Him. But in love He came into this world Himself as God the Son and died in agony and shame for sins He had never committed-for your sins and mine. Now, all we have to do to escape the just judgment of God upon sin, is to accept salvation as His own precious gift. "For the wages of sin is death, but the gift of God is eternal life, through Jesus Christ Our Lord." Accept the gift and eternal life is yours.

My sister Dorothy and I taught our first year at Beaver School. It was about six miles southwest of Crowell. Beaver School was a large two room white wooden building with many windows on the north side. Beaver Creek ran by the school yard on the south side. The school served a wonderful community of good people. The parents and children were so nice to us teachers. At Beaver School I taught the first four grades, and Dorothy taught fifth, sixth and seventh. Beaver was a 7 month school. It turned out two months for cotton picking.

Before school started the first Monday in September, I went to the school house and cleaned the rooms good. I didn't have a janitor so I was the janitor, as well as teacher and room mother. When the bell rang, the children said in the language of that time, "Its time for books to Each child brought his own drinking cup. Water was put in a large five gallon container with a turn faucet. The children got their drinks from this water cooler.

After the children sat down in their seats, we bowed our heads Carlsbad, N.M., spent the for prayer. Then we saluted the weekend here visiting her flag and sang our songs. Before our daily program of study began, we had health inspection. Each week one child would be appointed health inspector. He would check for clean hands. nails, and teeth, for clean combed hair, and for clean clothes. If they had all these in order, they received a gold star by their name. If they passed the whole month, a big red star went by their name; and they received a prize of a comb, tooth brush, or other grooming aid. Personal hygiene and manners were a large part of teaching when I began. Each day before we ate lunch, we worked in a time to teach manners.

> On that first day of school I issued the children books and made assignments in arithmetic, spelling, reading, science, geography, history, health, writing and art. We had writing in all classes one day and art in all classes the next. The children enjoyed coming to anyone tardy.

At recess period each teacher and children of Hereford were took her children out on the visitors over the weekend here school ground to play games of with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. different kinds. Baseball was a game the children liked most. all the time, and we played it most of the year. We sometimes went to Good Creek School a few miles west of us, to have a baseball game with those children. The children had a good time playing ball just for fun. The two schools enjoyed the good fellowship. We were not playing for a trophy, just to win the game was enough. No pep squads, no school colorswe were just playing the game for fun. If the weather was bad at recess, we staved inside. Some children played games on the blackboard or some played jacks. Sometimes, on Friday, at the last period, we would have a

Each teacher had her pupils stay in the room to eat lunch. This was the time, if we felt it necessary to give rules in manners. When the noon period took up, the first bell meant go to the outdoor restroom and get a drink. These chores usually took twenty minutes. When the second bell rang, the children lined up and marched into their school room.

After lunch and play, the children settled in their seats. They were often sleepy and tired. In order to wake them up. we would have a drill game on "Who is your governor, president, county judge, etc?" They liked this game of learning

I enjoyed doing things for my students because they showed Better appreciation.

About March, I went about the neighborhood taking the school census, and I enjoyed visiting with the people. I was to list every child that was of school age, even if some did go to Crowell High. I remember Bud McLain's parents were very interesting people, and l enjoyed my visit with them. and the big house they lived in just fascinated me.

Valentine's Day was another happy occasion at school. Everyone gave a valentine to the ones they loved.

Easter was enjoyed with an Easter egg hunt. We had the little brothers and sisters at school that day. These little children enjoyed every minute and went home happy because they had found so many eggs. The prize egg was the one everyone was looking for.

The last field trip of the year was in the spring about April. Mr. Borchardt had his sheep sheared. When the sheep was sheared, the wool was rolled in a bundle and pitched in a long sack which hung from a tall wood frame. When it was full of wool, it was tied and another sack was hung on the frame to be filled. Before long, another sack was filled with wool. Eventually the wool was shipped out to be made into blankets. The shearing went on until all the sheep were sheared.
