VON KLEIBRINK
Project Coordinator
Four Winds RC&D Project

The RC&D program can assist you in solving your community problems. These problems or needs should be brought to the attention of either a local Soil Conservation Service office or a member of the Four Winds RC&D Executive Board. A project proposal form will be completed on each problem or need. Items needed for the proposal are a description of the problem and what benefits could be obtained by solving the problem.

Information on any work that has been done to solve the problem is needed. A description of what kind of assistance is needed either technical or financial and how much. A sponsor is needed for the proposal. The sponsor could be any group such as a service club, women's organizations, the Soil and Water Conservation Districts, County Government or a City Government.

Each project proposal will be reviewed by the Four Winds RC&D Executive Board and approved as a project proposal to go into the Four Winds RC&D Project Plan that is being prepared for presentation to Washington for funding. After the plan is approved for operations in Washington, the local sponsors will set priorities on those projects that they want the RC&D to work on first. A complete plan will be prepared for each separate proposal as priority is set by the local people. Ways and means to solve the problems will be written into the individual project proposal plan.

For us to assist in solving your problems, we must know what your problems are. These problems need to be in the Project Plan for Washington and other agencies that have financial assistance available will know what your problems are.

CARD OF THANKS

The extreme kindness and thoughtfulness shown us by our friends and neighbors during our recent sadness helped so much to comfort us. We are sincerely appreciative. Words cannot express what the visits to Arthur, while he was in Monterey Nursing Home and his stay in the hospital, meant to all of us. The food that was brought and the flowers and cards told us you loved him as we did. May the Lord bless each of you is our prayer.

Retirement Means Change

Retirement means change— it could be for the better, expert predicts.

Mrs. Vivian Blair, family life education—specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas

A&M University System, says retirement has much to offer, with a little planning.

"Our past experiences in making changes have some influence on our ability to adjust—or fail to adjust—to changes that retirement brings," the specialist reflected.

"Research tells us that an active and busy brain in younger life usually continues to function well for a longer period—it adapts to change quickly.

Besides "being in practice for change," the older American can follow three other suggestions for successful retirement, the specialist advised.

"Have an objective, don't retire 'from' life, and try to help others every day.

It's realistic to remember that "change" in retirement takes some things away—that regular job, for instance, Mrs. Blair noted.

"It also adds some things—new challenges, new freedoms, new opportunities and time to devote to each."

Citing "changes" some have made with retirement, the specialist pointed to Michelangelo, who painted the Sistine Chapel in his late 80's, and John Wesley, who preached every day at age 88.

"Benjamin Franklin served his country in France at 78 and wrote his autobiography after he was 80.

"Bernard Baruch was a sage of finance and advisor to presidents until his outstanding life ended at 93.

"Old age is always 10 years later than my next birthday," he had quipped.

"Grandma Moses, who started painting at age 79, became an outstanding artist before her death at 101," Mrs. Blair added.

IS EXPENSIVE...

Red Tape is Expensive: The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is spearheading a campaign in Washington against several proposals that would make it easier for federal agencies to pile more paperwork on business. According to the U.S. Senate's small business committee, this is why: As of December 31, 1971, there were 5,298 different types of public forms, not counting tax and banking forms. Business firms and individuals spend an estimated 130.5 million man-hours per year filling out federal forms, not counting tax forms. It costs small businessmen an estimated $18 billion a year to fill out all the required government forms. And it costs government about the same amount to print, shuffle and sort the forms.

Children are fascinated with adult activities. When parents encourage imitation, children acquire new skills and an increased sense of competence and self-worth.
