JUST AVERAGE BUT STILL FAILING ... GOOD NEWS AND BAD NEWS FOR LIVESTOCK ... CROP HARVESTS MOVING ON

With all the flak raised recently by the sales of grain to Russia it might be wise to put the farm income situation in proper perspective. Because of modest increases in prices of wheat and sorghum to producers, consumers have been warned to expect higher and higher prices for food.

It is interesting to note, however, that during the past year or so wheat prices have been steadily dropping, almost $2 per bushel decline before the price began to rise again. But during that time, the price of bread did not decline in amounts relative to farmer price declines. Yet the farmer is now being blamed for increasing food costs since his price has seen some increases in recent weeks.

The fact is that farm income on a comparative basis is still only three-fourths that of non-farm income. Parity as of July 15 is 75. And that figure would rate a "C" or average on any school grade paper, but it still shows the farmer has a long way to go yet before his income will be comparable with the rest of the economy. So until the farmer gets on an even basis financially, he is not guilty of causing an increase in food prices.

And though farm prices did increase nationwide an average of six per cent from a year ago, prices paid by farmers for production expenses were up 18 per cent from a year ago.

Take a closer look at prices received by Texas farmers and you find only three commodities-oats, hogs and mohair--are above parity. And even though the wheat price has advanced, it still is not at the parity ratio of $4.60.

Break down the price picture into commodities, and you find even more striking evidence of the income situation for farmers. Cotton and cattle are glaring examples.

The average cotton price in Texas is 36.4 cents per pound; parity for cotton is 78.23 cents per pound. Beef cattle averaged $32.50 while parity is $55.70. Calf prices in Texas average $25.40; parity is $68.10.

CATTLE NUMBERS may be finally showing their decline. Nationwide, all cattle and calves totaled 140,100,000 head, an increase of only one per cent from a year earlier. But economists note that if cattle slaughter continues as is now forecast, this year could be the end of the huge cattle build-up.

In Texas, the number of all cattle and calves totaled 17,000,000 head; this is a three percent decline from a year ago. The 1975 Texas calf crop is estimated at 6,100,000 head, down two percent from a year ago

Stocker cattle numbers on Texas farms, however, are up three per cent from a year ago. All cows and beef cows are down one per cent from a year ago. The northeast part of the state has the highest number of stocker cattle; the Blacklands are second.

HARVEST OF CROPS in Texas continues to make good progress. The grain sorghum crop is now about a third AUSTIN - First Texas impeachment trial in 44 years is scheduled in the State Senate September 3.

A 10-count impeachment resolution against 229th District Judge O. P. Carrillo was voted by the House of Representatives August 5 by an overwhelming margin (128-16).

Gov. Dolph Briscoe fixed the trial date in cooperation with Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, presiding officer of the Senate.

Leon Jaworski, Houston attorney who was chief Watergate prosecutor, will serve as special counsel for the Senate during the expected lengthy trial.

Terry Doyle of Port Arthur will serve as House special prosecutor.

Impeachment proceedings have been voted against only three Texas officials in the last century and just one, former Gov. James E. Ferguson, actually was removed from office and forbidden to run again. A two-thirds vote of the Senate is necessary for removal.

Carrillo stands charged with a variety of wrongs, including abuse of judicial powers, political conspiracies and using county personnel and property for his personal benefit.

An act granting veterans preference in governmental employment is valid, although a five-vear residency requirement may be unconstitutional, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• The prison system has no authority to require inmates getting college education benefits to apply for federal veterans aid or to make reimbursement.

· Port of Beaumont Navigation District may own and operate facilities within the Port of Orange, but must serve only the Beaumont district. Property and facilities may be leased to an individual or corporation for private industrial use

Insurance Hike Asked

Insurance industry spokesmen have urged the State Insurance Board to fix homeowners policy rates on an annual basis, rather than the traditional threeyear period.

As an alternative, the industry urged a 22 per cent increase in the three-year

Cow Herd Profits Tied To Re-Productive Performance

The number of calves weaned from all breeding cows in the herd at the start of the breeding season is more important today than ever as cattlemen try to stay in business. Increasing the per cent calf crop is second only to increasing market prices when considering ways to improve profits. Calf crops vary from 60 per cent to 90 per cent and over in today's herds. The 60 per cent may be due to inadequate nutrition. limited genetic capability, semen infertility or disease. Whatever the cause, it must be identified and corrected. Some producers feel that the depressed market will not justify feeding cows as well as when prices are good. This is not true when nutrition is limited enough to delay the cow's heat cycle and conception.

It is estimated that $7.80 is the cost per cow of each 21-day heat cycle delay; considering a 26-cent per pound market price, a 1.6 pound daily gain, a 90 per cent calf crop and all calves being weaned the same time. A rancher who cannot adequately feed cows so they return to estrus shortly after calving can not afford to keep them.

Another way to look at the expense of low per cent calf crops is by figuring the production cost per pound at different calf crops. For example, out-of-pocket pasture, livestock and labor expenses of maintaining a cow a year in South Central Texas approach $125. Considering a 450-pound weaning weight, the production cost per pound would be 31 cents with a 90 per cent calf crop but 46 cents with a 60 per cent calf crop. Adding

WASHINGTON-Will the United States ever use its abundant food basket as an international weapon?

That is a question being asked more and more as American supremacy in military and industrial strength continues to slip.

No one doubts American supremacy in food production. According to an official government study, the whole world has become dependent upon America for grain. The U.S. now supplies nearly three fourths of the net global exports. Trends in population, food production and climate indicate that American supremacy in food production will become even greater in years to come.

What should U.S. policy toward the rest of the world be when our country becomes the sole exporter of food? One alternative is to use food as a weapon for political blackmail of other countries. But this is something we should not do.

First, any decision to withhold food probably would stimulate production in other countries which could potentially cut into our own export markets. Other countries could produce more food if they were willing to pay the price.

Second, if the U.S. chooses to withhold food as a tool of national policy, what happens when the "needy" countries become the Soviet Union, China, or other, developed, but food-scarce nations? As long as the U.S. is dealing with suppression technique. If clearly inferior military powers, it would perhaps be possible to use food as a "weapon" to exact diplomatic concessions. But it could be very dangerous to use such tactics against a nation that is as strong militarily as ourselves. If food becomes so scarce that the major military and industrial powers are threatened, the world could see a forced migration to food producing areas, backed by military force and nuclear threats. The instability and resultant chaos in urban centers would make traditional civilized methods of problem-solving unworkable. Another reason for rejection of a policy that would turn food into a tool of international diplomacy is moral. We would be turning our back on the proud record we have set of selfless aid to other nations which desperately need it. In the event of world food shortages of such magnitude that the U.S. has a life-or-death power over the neediest countries, we would be false to ourselves to withhold the bread of life from starving peoples. I cannot think of any political advantage we could gain that would compensate for the sacrifice of our best impulses as a people and as a nation. READ & USE the

Summer Vegetable Harvest Good Despite Wet Weather

AUSTIN -- Despite the usual vagaries of the weather. vegetable production throughout the state should be sufficient to help Texas maintain its dominance in this area of agriculture. Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reports.

Wet weather earlier in the year caused lateness of many crops including watermelons and cantaloups. Harvest of cantaloups is underway in North and East Texas now as well as the irrigated crop in Pecos.

MEASURING HAIL DAMAGE

A durable instrument for measuring hail damage has been developed by TAES and the National Weather Service for Agriculture. It is highly adaptable to rural areas, is of simple design and low cost and can be operated by inexperienced observers. It also provides a permanent record of each hail period. To merely measure the extent of hail damage will not minimize economic loss, but it will provide valuable climatological data to economists and scientists. Crop losses in the U.S. from hail are about 100 million dollars vear. Advances in technology may result in the development of a hail

Texas Expects New Record In Corn Yield

AUSTIN-Texas farmers are expected to harvest the third largest corn crop on record this year, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White reported.

A 111.1 million bushles yield is estimated by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service for Texas. This will be the largest since the 111.2 million bushels produced in 1919. Texas' record crop of 117 million was harvested in 1910.

DEER NUTRITION BIG PROBLEM

The No. 1 wildlife problem in Texas is the nutritional status of the deer herd according to Texas Agricultural Experiment Station scientists. Many landowners take deer for granted. Research shows that with a better year-round management program, the Texas deer herds can be bigger, both in size and numbers of deer. Just a few things done through the year by the landowner can result in much more valuable leases. source: R. M. Robinson, College Station.

CHURCH ORGANIZATION:

Question: "What is the organization of the church of Christ?" We presume the questioner means what is the government of the church of Christ?

Christ is recognized as the head of the church. In Colossians 1:18, Paul writes that he (Christ) "...is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, the firstborn from the dead; that in all things he might have the preeminence." Just as every organization has a head, so the church does.

Not only does every organization have a head but it also has men who assist the head in matters pertaining to its business. The business of the church is saving souls, and elders are the men who oversee that work. In the early church several terms are used to designate the same office-elder, presbyter, pastor, and bishop. There was always a plurality of these men overseeing the early church. In Titus 1.5, Paul left Titus in Crete to "appoint elders in every city." Peter tells us the reason for elders in the church. "The elders which are among you I exhort...feed the flock of God which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, not by constraint, but willingly; not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind; Neither as being Lords over God's heritage, but being ensamples to the flock." Peter 5:1-3.

In the early church (Jerusalem church) we find men called deacons (ministers) taking care of the material needs of the widows. In Acts 6 the church was told, "look ye out among you seven men of honest report, whom we many appoint over this business." The men were chosen and went about their business allowing the apostles to tend to feeding the church spiritual food. Read Acts 6:1-8

Another office we find in the church today, as in the early church, is that of minister, evangelist or preacher. The church of Christ does not use the word pastor to designate its preachers because elders are pastors. The preacher is not an overseer of the church work because the elders have been given this work. Notice the use of the term pastor is used in the plural. We believe that there are pastors (plural) in the congregation but that the preacher is not "the pastor." Paul, Peter and others were great leaders in the church but they were never called pastors in the sense that some denominations designate their preacher the pastor today.

In summary, the government of the church consists of Christ the head, elders as overseers and deacons as servants or ministers to the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichols to Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols, pictured above, will be honored with a reception celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, August 17, from 3 to 5 p.m. Nieces and nephews will host the reception which will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nichols at Rochester.

John William Nichols and Evelyn May Parker were married August 11, 1925 in Crowell. They lived in Crowell until 1954 at which time they moved to Rochester.

Mr. Nichols was born October 20, 1903 to the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Nichols of the Black community near Crowell. He served in the South Pacific with the U.S. Navy for three years. Following his discharge from the Navy in September of 1945 he returned to work for Texaco Oil Co. and worked until his retirement in 1968. He has also been engaged in raising quarterhorses for a number of years and still continues his quarterhorse operations in Rochester. In recalling their early years together one of their favorite recollections concerns their courtship and wedding. Following a three year courtship John decided that the time had come to pop the all important question. He drove to Eva's home one day and quite matter-of-factly asked, "Are you going to marry me or not?" Although this proposal didn't have quite the romantic ring to it that she had looked forward to she decided that it was as much as she would likely get from him and she accepted his proposal. Later they drove to town and while they sat in their car Judge Jesse Owens performed the wedding ceremony with Kate White as the witness. Although it

Heavy boll weevil infestations continue to persist in older cotton throughout the Rolling Plains, Emory P. Boring III, area Extension entomologist, says in his weekly crop insect report.

He also says the fleahoppers continue to be a problem in some younger fields, where cotton has not set a good fruit load. Heavy and widespread infestations of greenbugs were also reported from several counties

Here is the general situation. Cotton Pests

-Light infestations of boll weevils were reported from cotton fields in most counties. Moderate damage with 10 to 20 per cent punctured squares were reported in some fields in Fisher and Throckmorton Counties. Heavy damage ranging from 20 to 50 per cent punctured squares was reported from other fields in Jones, Knox and Wilbarger Counties.

-Light to moderate fleahopper infestations continue to be found in cotton fields throughout the areas. In some younger fields, heavy infestations are preventing cotton from setting squares. -Light bollworm activity was

Susan Autry and Joe Haynie Wed

Miss Susan Cay Autry became the bride of Joe Warren Havnie in a candlelight ceremony solemnized at 8 p. m., Saturday, August 9, in the First United Methodist Church. Rev. Walter L. Driver, pastor of Pleasant Valley Methodist Church in Amarillo, officiated for the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Autry Jr., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren C. Haynie.

The couple exchanged nuptial vows before an arch entwined with salal greenery centered by a kneeling rail decorated by pink gladioli and flanked by spiral candelabra and pedestal arrangements of pink gladioli with pink pompons.

Traditional wedding selections were played by Miss Sharla Haynie, sister of the bridegroom, organist, and Mrs. Walter H. Stapp, pianist. Miss Haynie accompanied Trey Autry, brother of the bride, as he sang "The Lord's Prayer' and "Wedding Song.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white shimmer satin overlaid with silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls. Appliqued motifs of pearled lace trimmed the wedding ring collar, bodice, A-line skirt and edged the scalloped hemline. Full long sleeves of silk organza were finished with Alencon lace caplets and cuffs while tiny satin covered buttons fastened the back and cuffs. The bride's chapel-length mantilla of silk illusion was bordered with scalloped Alencon lace re-embroidered with seed pearls and fell from a Juliet cap of pearled lace.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white cymbidium orchids and pink roses atop the white Bible her mother carried at her wedding and a white handkerchief which belonged to the bridegroom's maternal grandmother.

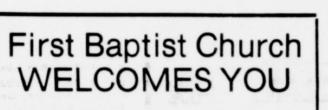

The bride carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed, blue and a six pence in her shoe.

Maid of honor was Miss Trudy Bird, while Mrs. Ronny Naylor served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Kimberly Norman and Julie Streit. All were identically attired in formal Juliet gowns of pale pink organza flocked by shocking pink flowers and styled with a raised waistline, scoop neck and short puffed sleeves. Each wore a pale pink picture hat accented by shocking pink streamers and carried a nosegay of pale pink pompons with baby breath

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Jim Shook of Wichita Falls. Groomsmen were Douglas Pharis of Vernon, Ricky Nichols and Mance Nelson. Ushers were Terry Tamplen, Philip Bell, Lynn Nelson and Douglas Chowning. Ring bearer was Chad Simpson of Lubbock, nephew of the bridegroom, and flower girl was Miss Kelly Sue Thompson of Euless, cousin of the bride.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Autry selected a floor-length pale pink crepe short-waist gown with overlaid bodice and sleeves of

MRS. HAYNIE embroidered pink lace. She wore matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid. Mrs. Haynie wore a formal modified A-line gown of champagne lace with matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid.

Reception Immediately following the wedding ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the fellowship hall of the church. Hanging baskets of ivy accented by pink bows and ribbons decorated the hall. The bride's table, covered in white satin skirted with a full floor-length flounce and swagged with small nosegays, held the multi-tiered wedding cake decorated with tiny pink rosebuds. A five-branch silver candelabra holding pink tapers encircled with miniature pompons and haby breath centered the table, and other appointments were of crystal and silver. An ivory linen cloth covered the bridegroom's table which held a chocolate cake, a silver service and a three-branched silver can-Guests were registered by Miss Debra McDaniel at a table covered in pale pink crepe overlaid with white lace. A bud vase held a pink rosebud. Rice bags were distributed by Misses Mitzi Welch, Le Ann Johnson and Janellleesa Manard. Members of the house party included Mmes. Wall, Don Welch, Duane Johnson, Jeff Bell, R. G. Rasberry and Miss Debbie Scott. Background music was provided at the reception by Mrs. Stapp. For the brief wedding trip, the bride selected a tea rose and ivory double knit pants suit with accessories and wore the orchids from her bridal bouquet. CALVES-TOP MEAT BUY

A weaning age calf will make a top meat buy. believes a livestock and meat specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Although the meat from calves is not as desirable for charcoal broiling as heavy choice beef, it is ideal for any other method of cooking. Calves should be slaughtered at seven to eight months of age, right after weaning. Feeding them for only a month prior to slaughter is just a waste of time and money.

Historians say that the art of seasoning was discovered by a man who wrapped his meat in leaves to keep it clean and discovered that the leaves had added a new and distinctive flavor to the meat. according to Marilyn Haggard with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

the summer, made a trip to South Korea, showed slides of his trip at the August 6 meeting of the Rotary Club. He was introduced by Rotarian Jeff Bell, Rotary vice president who was in charge of the meeting in the absence of Ike Everson, president.

Jones' trip was sponsored by the World Evangelism Foundation and he was a member of the team headed by Rev. John Gillispie of Groom, a former pastor of the First Baptist Church of Crowell. He said that Seoul, the capitol of South Korea, was a city of 61/2 million people. He added that there is more illiteracy in the United States than in South Korea. The people of South Korea do not speak of if North Korea will invade the South, but rather when will they invade. Jones added.

Visitors at the meeting were Jones, Rev. Gillispie and Rotarians Bob Knowles and Roy Sansom of Quanah.
