LYNN COTTON GINNINGS REACH 135,000 BALES

Following is the report of ginnings to The News on bales ginned to date:

Tahoka	26,945
O'Donnell	34,000
Wilson & Wayside	15,381
New Home	11,428
Lakeview	8,146
Petty	6,200
West Point	4,290
New Lynn	2,449
Grassland	6,866
Draw	4,800
Gordon	1,664
Hackberry	6,765
one-half Lynn cotton	3,382
Wells	6,880
Newmoore, estimate	3,000
TOTAL	135,431

baled cotton at Wells. New Home, Lakeview and West Point had a total of 725 bales on yards, Grassland 550, and Wilson 260.

Lynn County's 1970 cotton crop has far exceeded all expectations.

A survey made by The News Tuesday reveals 135,430 bales ginned to date, not including 3,070 bales of unginned cotton on gin yards, and an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 bales yet to be harvested.

Most ginnings reported the crop 95 to 99 percent harvested, although a few fields have hardly been touched.

O'Donnell, as usual, has led county ginnings with 34,000 bales reported to O.G. Smith O'Donnell Index-Press publisher, early this week. An estimated 30 percent of the O'Donnell cotton is from Dawson County, but this is usually almost offset by Lynn cotton ginned at Slaton, Southland and gins in other adjoining county points.

Production this year is almost phenomenal considering the fact much of it was planted late, and this past summer was a hot dry one with little or no rain over most of the county during July and August. However, there was an excellent underground season, and late in the summer stalks "just turned to cotton."

Ginnings report most of the cotton is of good quality, with staple, "mike" and Pressley readings good to excellent, and much of it is selling above loan values. Also, cotton seed prices have ranged from $55 or more per ton.

Chamber Will Give Gift Certificates

With decoration already up or going up, parties and special events planned, and the coming of Santa Claus drawing near, the Christmas spirit is already in the permeating air.

Beginning Saturday, Dec. 12, Tahoka Chamber of Commerce is again giving away six free gift certificates, a total of 18, on each of three days preceding Christmas absolutely free to those who register with local business houses that are members of the C. of C. which includes nearly all.

On Saturday, Dec. 12, again on Saturday, Dec. 19, and finally on Christmas Eve, Dec. 24 at 4 p.m. each day, six gift certificates for $20.00 first prize, $10.00 second prize, plus four $5.00 certificates will be given absolutely free at drawing on north side of the court house square.

The only strings attached are that shoppers, or just visitors, register in local stores at as many places as they desire; nothing to buy necessarily, but individuals are requested to register for themselves only. Registrants must be present at the drawings to win.

In charge of the C. of C. Christmas projects are Garland Thornton, Farrell Murph, Leighton Knox and Bill Chaney and also Maurice Small, Chamber of Commerce manager.

The large Christmas tree has been installed in front of the court house, stores and some of the vacant buildings decorated, Lions are putting up the green Christmas sprays on store fronts, and a number of homes have decorations up.

Old Santa will visit Tahoka these same two Saturdays and also on Christmas Eve and will have candy for the kiddies.

Churches, clubs and individuals have other special events planned.

Last Date For Military Pkgs.

Saturday, Dec. 5, will be the final date for packaging gifts for the military men and women from Lynn County.

If you wish to donate candy, cookies, cakes (fruit or applesauce), money or any other suitable article for mailing, bring it to the Tahoka Cafeteria banquet room Saturday from 9 to 5 p.m.

If you know someone in military service, please check and see if we have them on our list. It is our aim to have a package for each one from our county and if you help, it will be easier to reach them all.

Our donations are short and we need your help. Any money that is left after expenses are paid is used for cards, gifts, etc. for the military men during the year.

Fifty-nine packages have already been mailed and we have about 100 names if we can get addresses of a few more.

This is a county-wide project and we need the help of the entire county to insure to success of reaching each one.

A recent donation was $10 by T-Bar Country Club Duplicate Bridge. We appreciate each thing that has been done to help; and, remember, this is the last wrapping and mailing day—Sat., Dec. 5.

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch Clothing Pkg.

The annual goal to provide each of the more than 365 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package began today through the Christmas Suit Fund project.

Furnishing new suits for the boys has become a favorite way of Christmas giving for many friends of the boys who contribute $25.00 for this purpose. Through special arrangements with Amarillo merchants and manufacturers, the boys are permitted to select suits or clothing combinations according to their preferences. In many cases, they are the first new suits the boys have ever owned, and for others the new suits replace those that have become worn or outgrown.

"All during the week the boys wear their work and school clothes, and they look forward to Sunday because they get to dress up for that one day or on their Saturday town trips," Virgil Patterson, Ranch President, said, "and even more important, the suits are year-around reminders to the boys that there are those who really care."

Contributions to the Boys Ranch Christmas Suit Fund may be mailed to the Boys Ranch office, P.O. Box 1890, Amarillo Texas 79105, or taken to the office at 600 West 11th Street, in Amarillo.

Roy Edwards Died Friday

F.R. (Roy) Edwards, 73, a citizen of Tahoka for about 25 years and manager of Union Compress & Warehouse, died about noon Friday in a Temple hospital after a long illness.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 3 p.m. in Temple's First Methodist Church with the pastor, Rev. Wm. M. Greenwaldt, officiating.

Burial followed in the cemetery at Holland, the town where he was reared.

Edwards was local compress manager from the late 1930's until 1961, when he retired. A couple of years later he and Mrs. Edwards moved to Temple.

While in Tahoka, he was very active in civic affairs. He served as president of Tahoka school board, as a trustee and steward of the Methodist Church as a member of the Selective Service Board, the City Council, and the Rotary Club. For about ten years he was Tahoka's representative to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority. He served in the U.S. Navy during World War I.

Survivors include his wife, Ruby; two daughters, Mrs. Earl Hutcheson of Sherman and Mrs. Jack Manning of Houston; five sisters, Mrs. Stella Wood of Fort Worth and Mrs. Lyda Dyess, Mrs. Calvin Ellis, Mrs. George Scott, and Miss Bernice Edwards, all of Dallas; one brother, John Audrey Edwards of Pasadena; and seven grandchildren.

Lynn West Is Buried Friday

Lynn M. West, 70, a resident of Lynn County all of his adult life, died Wednesday last week at about 8 a.m. in Methodist Hospital from a heart attack he had suffered on the previous Saturday.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2 p.m. in First Baptist Church with the pastor, Rev. Jim Turner, officiating. Burial followed in Tahoka Cemetery under direction of White Funeral Home.

Lynn was born at Richland Springs on July 12, 1900, the son of the late W.J. and Iona Carter West. They moved to Lynn County in 1917, and Lynn was soon graduated from Wilson High School, attended Wayland Baptist College, and has since been farming on US 87 nine miles north of Tahoka. His father died in 1920 and his mother in January, 1959.

A bachelor, Lynn West acquired considerable farming property. Although he lived somewhat frugally, he contributed freely to his church, orphan homes, many charities, and friends and unfortunate people in time of need. Most of his contributions were made secretly or without fanfare. In fact, not until recently did some of his major contributions leak out, one of these being a revelation that he had secretly paid off notes of his church, the First Baptist here.

He was a lover of flowers, crops, everything growing in the soil, his fellowman, and his church, friends, and family.

Survivors include two sisters, Dr. Ann West of Dallas and Mr. Veda Hund of Claude, and eight nephews.

Palbearers were Alvin Shambeck, Edbert Evans, Bert Stice, Garland Pennington, Dr. K.R. Durham, Harvey Lee Duckett, Borden Davis and B.W. Baker.

Christmas Card Project Is Success

"Project Christmas Card", sponsored by Phoebe K. Warner Club to raise funds to help send a worthy boy and girl to college has been a tremendous success so far. The News is informed.

Under this program, citizens are invited to contribute money they would usually spend on Christmas cards and postage to two scholarship funds sponsored by the study club. These are the Lady Dobbins Stewart Scholarship for a senior girl and the Maurice Bray Scholarship for a senior boy.

Money may be deposited in the "Project Christmas Card" fund at First National Bank or handed to any member of Phoebe K. Warner Club.

Along with the contribution donors should submit the name or names they wish to appear in print. An attractive greeting page will be published in the Christmas Edition of The Lynn County News listing the names of contributors.

In this way, citizens may send greetings to friends and at the same time help send a deserving boy and girl to college.

Deadline for such contributions has been set for Tuesday, December 15.

College Students Hurt In Accident

Three Tahoka young men en route home for Thanksgiving from Texas A&M, where they are students, were among six people injured in a two car crash on FM 53 Wednesday night of last week 19 miles south of Sweetwater.

Cliff Thomas, 20, owner of the car which was being driven by Edward Smith 21, both received severe cuts and bruises, but were released from the hospital the next morning.

Occupants of the other car were Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Foster and son Paul, 13, of Lovington, N.M. They were treated at the hospital and released. Both cars were damaged, the Thomas car being a complete wreck.

Parents of the boys are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Adams, Dr. and Mrs. C. Skiles Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Smith, all of Tahoka.

After spending the holidays here with relatives, Cliff Thomas and Edward Smith have returned to A&M.

Jimmy Adams, although not rational most of the time, is reported to be doing "fairly well" and was to have been brought home Wednesday by his parents. In addition to other injuries, he has a severe back sprain.

Letters To Santa Are Needed Early

Children's letters to Old Santa are now being received for publication in the Christmas edition of The Lynn County News.

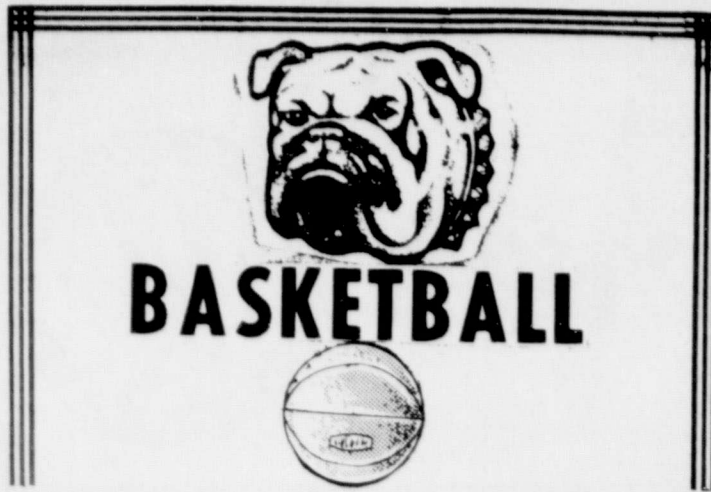

In order to make sure of publication, letters should be in the News office no later than Friday, Dec. 18, because the Christmas edition will be printed early the following week in time for everyone to get their paper before Christmas Day.

Not only do readers enjoy these letters from the children, but past experience has proven the children get great satisfaction in seeing their letters printed.

Real Philanthropy

Lynn West of Tahoka was an exceptionally good farmer, owning and operating one of the largest and most productive farms in Lynn County.

Also, he was an excellent gardener, producing fruit and vegetables, which he delighted in giving to neighbors and to institutions which could use them.

There's the real key to his character, that he was a true philanthropist. He gave to churches, schools, orphanages, charities and to friends who needed assistance. He wanted no public acclaim. That was the case when he personally retired bank loans of the First Baptist Church of Tahoka, to the mystification of church officials who finally found out it was he.

Friends considered the 70-year-old bachelor an embodiment of the generous and neighborly West Texas pioneer of the early days. That he was.

Many recollections of a good man are following his death Wednesday at a Lubbock hospital. ....Editorial in Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

The members of the congregation at the Church of the Nazarene gave their pastors a bounteous food pounding on last Wednesday after service. This is very much appreciated and we want to say "thank you" to you all.

Mrs. Reb Burkhalter and Richard of Carrollton visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hubbard over Thanksgiving. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jolly and family of Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Hubbard and girls of Lorenzo and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Jolly.

Today less than 30 percent of the United States population lives in rural areas. Less than 25 percent of America's 54 million rural residents live on farms and earn their livelihood from agriculture.

Story Told Of Early Day Grassland

BY FRANK P. HILL

Recognition of Grassland for its place in Plains history is long past due—for this community, bypassed by railroad and highway, has played a key role in early development of this area.

Few people realize this was near the crossing of trails at fresh water springs at heads of Moor's Draw and Camp Creek trails used by Indians, by Spanish explorers and Comancheros from New Mexico, by buffalo hunters, prospectors, trail drivers, mail and freight lines, and finally by the first settlers.

Here was the first land patent issued by the State of Texas on the lower South Plains, first postoffice and trading post, and other firsts!

Two remarkable men stand out in the Grasslands story—Enos L. Seeds is the first, and C.W. Post, the cereal king, who came later.

Much has been written about Mr. Post and his unusual colonization project which was such a key factor in development of Garza County and eastern Lynn County.

It was C.W. Post who bought up this vast expanse of grassland in 1906, and began putting into action a dream-plan that was to rush up breaking the sod for some of the finest farms anywhere.

Let me tell you about Mr. Seeds, the daddy of Grassland, and the rich heritage behind this fine community.

Mr. Seeds was born and reared as member of a prominent Philadelphia family of some wealth.

Like many young men at age 18, Seeds was restless, unsure of what he wanted to do and he, and craved adventure. Having read of Indian fights and cowboy life and romance of the West, in 1878 he decided to delay college education and left home for "wild and woolly" Texas.

On arrival in frontier Fort Worth, he hired out to Capt. Jasper Hayes, a peg-legged former officer in the Confederate Army, who was organizing a surveying party of nine men to proceed to West Texas and the Plains.

Capt. Hayes had been commissioned to run a survey to the Plains to set metes and bounds for lands the State of Texas was offering railroad companies for construction of rail lines "down state." Texas was awarding 16 sections of this so-called "waste-land" to railroad companies for each mile of new rail line built in the state.

In turn, to finance construction, railroad companies ultimately sold the land to investors or settlers at 50 cents to $1.00 per acre. Alternate sections were retained by the State as school lands, on which still later, mostly after 1901, settlers began to file on as homesteads.

After leaving Fort Worth, the Jasper Hayes surveying party's last touch with "civilization" was at Pennsylvania Dutchman "Pete" Snyder's buffalo hunter trading post about where Snyder, Texas now stands.

Hayes began running his survey line from a point on Cordova Peak, near Gail, north-northwest to the South Branch of Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos. Near head of the canyon, the party found encamped John and Wright Moor of Buffalo hunting fame, and named the Canyon Moor's Draw.

This 1878 survey proceeded west-northwest from Moor's Draw to a point between the Double Lakes, in northwestern Lynn County. From this point, many of the land surveys in counties to the north and west later originated.

Young Seeds was so impressed with the vast sea of grass, the beauty of the Plains, and the apparent fertility of the soil, that he wrote his father in Philadelphia about the land and its possible future.

As a result, the elder Seeds applied for, bought, and patented the first section of land located by the survey which had been pre-empted by Texas and New Orleans Railroad Co. before ink was hardly dry on field notes in the Texas Land Commissioner's office. This patent was issued Thomas M. Seeds Sr. by State of Texas on Section 557, T&N Survey, the "Thomas section" on which Thomas Bros. Gin was later built.

After completing the survey in 1878, the younger Seeds returned to Philadelphia, resumed his education, married, and joined his father in business. But, Enos Seeds could not get the Plains out of his mind. He and his wife, Leona P. Seeds, returned to Texas and the Plains in 1887 or 1888, and set up housekeeping in a dugout at the southeast corner of Section 557, later known as the Price Thomas place.

He and his wife and a brother, T.M. Seeds Jr., acquired more land here along with eight miles of fencing, and became owners of at least six sections. Gradually building up a small herd of cattle, their first brand registration was JO (Diamond-JO) was filed in Crosby County on November 18, 1889.

There were two or three ranches in Lynn County at the time, including the T-Bar and the Dixie, and two or three in Garza County, including the Currycomb and the Square & Compass, as well as other out toward New Mexico, who were desirous of securing a postoffice for the area.

Only postoffices at this time north of the T&P Railroad were Gail, Plainview, Estacado, Singer's store just above soon-to-be-started Lubbock; and Percheron, a postoffice at Major W.V. Johnson's Dixie Ranch in northern Lynn County near present Wilson. Percheron, in a dug-out existed little more than two years, March 14, 1888, to May 17, 1890 with the rancher's son, George W. Johnson, the postmaster, and was discontinued after Grasslands was designated a postoffice.

Benjamin Harrison (a Republican) was President at the time, and John Wanamaker was a close personal friend of Seeds' father. On solicitation of the father to Wanamaker, Enos L. Seeds was appointed postmaster. The question of a name came up, and Mrs. Seeds selected the name Grasslands, which was fitting to the country and was the name of President Gover Cleveland's country estate near Washington, D.C. President Cleveland, (A Democrat) was a friend of Mrs. Seeds' family. Thus, the Seeds ranch also became known as Grasslands Ranch. (The last s was later dropped.)

Grasslands postoffice was authorized January 12, 1889, and continued until May 7, 1909, and was succeeded by Lynn and finally Tahoka.

Stamps, tobacco, ammunition, a little salt, coffee and flour and a few other such "necessities of life" on the frontier were sold at the postoffice, which originally was in the dug-out and later in their home.

Seeds built the first substantial frame house on the lower South Plains, the lumber being hauled from Abilene, Texas, and was located just south of the present Producers' Co-op Gin. The house had several rooms and a large cellar surrounded by a picket fence and a beautiful lawn. Cottonwood trees were planted around the house and a dirt tank, fed by a windmill well. There were also large corrals and barns. The Seeds home was reported to have been one of the most beautiful in all West Texas. In fact, a common cowpuncher expression was that it was "the finest place this side of Houston."

Mail and supplies were brought once or twice a week from Colorado City, on the T&P, by a hack pulled by little Spanish mules, and Grasslands was the last station for change intams before the run to Singer's Store, later Lubbock. The route was by way of Gail, Grasslands, and Lubbock, later from Big Spring to Gail, Grasslands and Lubbock. This was, at least in part, a trail that had been followed by the Indians, Spanish explorers, Army troops, cattle drives, buffalo bone haulers, and freight wagons to the XIT and other ranches to the north, northwest, and west.

Seeds' place became a haven of rest for trail drivers, freighters, and prospectors, and the latching string at this "oasis in a sea of grass" always hung out to the stranger. Common cowhands, buffalo bone haulers, and even the lowly sheepherders sat side by side with cattle kings at Mrs. Seeds' dining table—they all tried to make it to the Seeds place before nightfall.

Mrs. Seeds made bread and cooked an extra "helping" or so of beans and beef for such notables as Frank Rockefeller (brother of John D.), who had a ranch out on the New Mexico line near Bronco and Tatum, Col. Charles Goodnight, Col. C.C. Slaughter, Mr. and Mrs. C.C. French, and "several of the multi-millionaire XIT Ranch owners."

Mrs. Seeds was the first white woman to reside permanently in this section. Mr. Seeds put up the first windmill, and drilled practically all the ranch wells in a radius of 100 miles during the 11 years of his residence on the Plains.

The first white child known to be born on the lower South Plains was at Grasslands in 1892, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Todd Wilson. The infant, brought into the world without medical aid, died and was buried on the Seeds place, site unknown today.

The Seeds home burned in late 1899 or early 1900, and he sold his land to Nave-McCord Cattle Co., owners of the Square and Compass Ranch, on February 14, 1900. Nave-McCord sold to John B. Slaughter August 7, 1901, owner of the U-Lazy-S, and Slaughter sold a part of this ranch in 1906 to C.W. Post.

On selling the property, Seeds returned to Philadelphia, became wealthy as a bridge-building contractor, and erected some of the major bridges in that city, one in New York City and others on the Eastern Seaboard.

He returned to Grassland and Tahoka in 1928 and again in 1935 to visit "the area I still love so dearly." He owned a 52-foot yacht named "Tahoka", which he anchored at Rock Hall on Chesapeake Bay, and enjoyed cruises along the Atlantic coast until near his fatal illness in January, 1944.

Grasslands was no more until after Mr. Post's colonization project caused the ranch lands to be divided up, improved and sold as farm land.

J.H. "Mutt" Huddleston had collaborated with the writer in compiling this later history to be published in the near future.

FLAG CEREMONY at the recent Americanism Day program in Tahoka High auditorium was presented by the Girl and Brownie Scouts. The Junior High Choir sang patriotic songs, and Boy Scouts served as ushers.

Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Car owners in Texas got the expected bad news when the staff of the State Board of Insurance recommended a 23.4 per cent average increase in auto insurance rates.

Board took no immediate action, but will set new rates by January 1.

If the agency holds to its past policy of allowing no increase in any line of coverage greater than 25 per cent, the staff proposal may be scaled down to an effective 18.6 per cent boost.

Earlier the regulatory body committed itself to a new rate-making formula taking into account investment income of companies and guaranteeing profit on underwriting after taxes.

Staff recommendations would build into the rate base a 4.7 per cent profit on policy writing and an 8.7 per cent allowance for state and federal taxes.

Industry representatives, still not satisfied, argued their case for a 27.7 per cent average statewide increase and removal of the arbitrary maximum change limitation of 25 per cent for any line. They claimed serious underwriting losses of $45.7 million over the last decade.

Proposals brought angry rumbles from legislators. Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas predicted that lawmakers "will not allow this economic miscarriage of justice to stand unchallenged." Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown also called the proposed rate increases "tragic abuse of government regulation and free enterprise system."

Texas AFL-CIO has called on drivers to appeal to the Legislature for a change in the rate system, and reportedly is studying possible legal action.

WELFARE CHANGES URGED—A raise in welfare benefits, removal of the constitutional ceiling on payments, reorganization of the Department of Public Welfare and a new approach to problems of needy families with dependent children were recommended by the blue-ribbon Senate Welfare Study Committee. Committee said the state must aim at development of children rather than simply maintaining them on aid rolls to break the poverty cycle.

These additional recommendations were included in the 85-

A constitutional amendment to permit garnishment of wages for court-ordered child support.

A vendor drug program to supply medicines to Medicaid outpatients.

Renaming the Welfare Department of the Department of Human Resources and reorganizing it with a head named by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

Complete overhaul or streamlining of department administration with increased use of computer methods.

Committee Chairman William P. Hobby Jr. said that the Legislature next January will have to pass an emergency appropriation of more than $40 million just to carry the welfare program at present levels to the end of the biennium.

AG OPINIONS — County jury wheels must be re-filled from tax renditions, as well as voter registration lists, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin has held. In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

Penal code provision requiring a $25 license fee for fish farm operators who grow fish for sale is constitutional.

Estate of a deceased state employee should be paid for the same number of days to which he would have been entitled had he lived and claimed his vacation and sick leave, beginning the day following his death.

Martin has been asked to rule on the legality of a verbal contract for the first phase of construction on Mustang Island fish pass.

APPOINTMENTS — Gov. Preston Smith named his former executive assistant Harold K. Dudley chairman of the Texas Employment Commission, succeeding Mrs. Nancy Sayers, TEC's first woman chairman.

Smith also appointed Charles Weldon Kirk of Sweetwater as district judge of the 32nd district, effective January 1.

He picked Frank Ginsel of Colorado City, county attorney for Mitchell County, to replace Kirk as 32nd district attorney.

Bill Doggett of Brownwood was confirmed as deputy commissioner for mental health of the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Dr. Bill R. Walker of San Angelo was appointed superintendent of the Austin State School replacing Larry W. Taikington.

J.W. (Bill) Irwin, Denton State School business manager since 1960, will succeed Walker at San Angelo.

Dr. Arch M. Connolly of Austin was appointed superintendent of Wichita Falls State Hospital, replacing Dr. Bernard A. Rappaport who accepted a teaching job at the University of Illinois Medical School.

Walker and Irwin's appointments are effective December 16, Connolly's February 1.

ISLAND CONTROVERSY RAGES—Governor Smith urged the Texas Conservation Foundation to call a special session and review the facts surrounding the controversy over purchase of Mustang Island park land.

Parks and Wildlife Commission Chairman Pearce Johnson has refused to sign an application for federal aid to buy 3,900 acres from Mrs. Sam E. Wilson Jr. of Corpus Christi, claiming other areas have higher priority for the state's limited park bonds. Two other members of the Commission disagree and want to buy the Wilson property now.

Conservation groups have called for Johnson's removal as liaison officer to break the impasse.

TRAFFIC SAFETY PROMOTED—Legislative measures to get more problem drivers, especially drunks, off Texas highways were urged at the second annual Governor's Traffic Safety Conference.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Editor, I would like to take time just to give a few words of praise. You may be wondering to whom I'm referring to. Well, it is everyone who lives in or around the community of Tahoka.

I played football and basketball, but I didn't realize what the people were trying to do. Now that I'm on the outside looking into the school, I can see what is really going on.

The people in Tahoka are really a rare and great breed of people. All the businesses and individual proprietors give all of their support and spirit in backing the school and the Bulldogs. They put poster and game schedules in their windows. They even let the pep squad mark on their windows with shoe polish. Whether the Bulldogs win or lose, the fans come out every Friday night to yell and support the Bulldogs, The Lynn Co. News, as in the past, continues to do a great job on action pictures, write-ups and reports on the team.

The sports coverage has been extremely well, and it is one of the many items that contributes to the building of spirit. When people go out of their way as people do in Tahoka, this is great.

There are not many other towns the size or even larger than Tahoka that has the spirit, moral support or backing as the Bulldogs receive from the town people.

I played in all of the sports that T.H.S. offered and loved every minute of it, but I have graduated now and I'm going on. No one else has ever spoken up for Tahoka before and showed their appreciation for a job well done. Well I think it's about time for someone to do so and that is what I'm trying to do.

Your friend,

Road Conditions On Rural Routes

Postmaster Charles Townes requests the cooperation of road authorities and rural route customers in keeping roads passable and approaches to mailboxes cleared during the winter months. Highway officials are responsible for keeping roads passable and in good repair. Customers are responsible for keeping approaches to boxes clear of snow, and all other obstructions, which may make delivery of mail difficult or at times impossible.

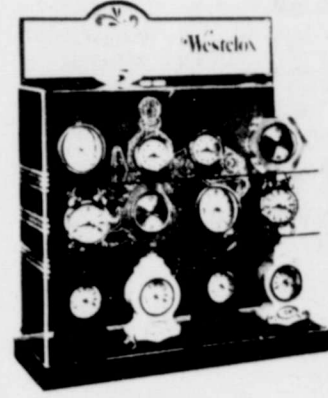

Rural route carriers will make every reasonable effort to serve the greatest number of customers possible during severe weather, using alternate roads or retraces when necessary. They are not required, however to provide service on foot when roads are impassable and are not required to provide service by motor vehicle during periods of inclement weather of such severity that civil authorities, e.g., city mayors, State highway police officers, or State highway administrative authorities, consider road travel hazardous and advise or request the public via radio, TV, or other media not to travel public streets or highways.

Failure by rural customers to open approaches to boxes promptly after heavy snows may temporarily prevent carriers from making deliveries. If excessive and extended detours are necessary, customer may be asked to temporarily relocate their boxes on the new line of travel, arrange to receive their mail through another customer's box, or make other suitable arrangements for handling their mail until travel on the blocked roads can be resumed.

lands. Instead of helping wildlife, this person is sentencing game to a tortuous death by starvation during adverse conditions.

Vernon Hicks, state biologist for the Soil Conservation Service, and Howard Passey, former state resource conservationist for SCS, co-authored the new publication. The Wildlife Science and the Range Science Departments of Texas A&M University as well as the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department assisted in its technical review.

The series of Grassland Restoration booklets started in 1964. Part I described the critical problem of brush invasion on grassland; Part II dealt with methods of control; Part III was devoted to procedures for revegetating depleted land; Part IV outlined grazing management needed on grassland; and Part V pointed out the vast water loss from uneconomic plants and suggested ways for reclaiming much of the loss.

Single copies of Part VI, "Grassland Restoration and Its Effect on Wildlife," are available free from Tahoka SCS offices.

Narrow Row Cotton Farming Results

Results of a narrow-row cotton demonstration carried out by J.E. Nance on his farm north of Tahoka across from the north roadside park has been announced by County Agent Bill Griffin.

Purpose of the test acreage was to compare cotton planted in narrow rows with that planted in normal 40-inch rows.

Variety cotton used in the test plots was Lockett 4789-A, and it was harvested on November 2nd. The new-type harvester designed for narrow-row and broadcast cotton was used in harvesting the narrow-row cotton.

Following are the results: Cotton planted in 8-inch rows produced 186 pounds of lint per acre MLS 13 16 inch, 3.7 micronaire.

16-inch rows produced 242 pounds lint per acre SLM 15 16 inch staple, 3.8 mike.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Can increased wildlife, better hunting, and more beef result if Texas grasslands are restored to their once-lush condition?

Or does increased beef supplies and grassland improvement spell doom for Texas wildlife? No it does not.

These are some of the issues discussed in a new booklet "Grassland Restoration and Its Effect on Wildlife" published by the Soil Conservation Service.

"We believe grassland improvement can be done in such a way that it will benefit man, livestock and wildlife." Clyde W. Graham, State Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, said in announcing publication of the new booklet. "To achieve all these benefits, however, grassland restoration must be planned and carried out wisely."

Texas grasslands are a great renewable resource. They not only make Texas the leading livestock state but they also provide many other valuable resources. They form the watershed for most of the water used by cities, industry, and agriculture; they also provide a home for a major part of the state's wildlife and provide much of our outdoor recreation.

We believe that all uses of land need to be considered where grasslands are treated to restore their productivity. This must be a package job coordinating brush control, range seeding, proper grazing use, watering facilities, and other measures to the benefit of all users of this resource.

Due to pressures from grazing and misuse, our state's rich grasslands have steadily deteriorated. As the choice forage plants have been weakened and killed by overuse, they have been replaced with plants that provide less food for wildlife and livestock.

An SCS study in 1964 revealed that 82 percent of Texas grasslands had become infested with some kind of woody plant. About 50 percent were found to be so densely infested that most moisture entering the soil was consumed by brush.

An analysis in 1967 indicated that 138 million acre-feet of water per year—38 percent of the state's average annual rainfall was being wasted by non-economic plants such as weeds and brush. In spite of concerted efforts by livestock men, woody plants continue to spread, robbing the state's already scarce water resources. The resulting damage to grassland is a major threat to the livestock industry and to the food budget of Texas housewives. Yet, some wildlife enthusiasts fear that any attempt to restore grasslands will destroy much of our state's wildlife resources. Of special concern are song birds, game animals such as deer, and certain game birds including turkey, quail, and dove.

If our state is to continue to produce vast amounts of beef, mutton, wool and mohair, this damaging spread of water-using brush needs to be slowed or stopped. But can this rapid invasion of unwanted woody plants be reduced without sacrificing wildlife? We think it can—and this new booklet tells how.

It explains how brush can be controlled in strips or blocks, leaving escape cover and travel lanes for wildlife. Examples of how SCS range conservationists and biologists have helped soil and water conservation district cooperators plan grassland restoration work while benefitting the rare golden-cheeked warbler, deer, turkey, and other species of wildlife are given. It also tells how woody plants can be manipulated to produce more available browse and to aid wildlife harvest, an often overlooked factor in game management.

The booklet discloses how grassland restoration, done with proper considerations for wildlife, can actually result in more food for deer and other wildlife as well as for livestock. It points out that inland offer a stable wildlife food supply while depleted, brush-ridden grasslands cause severe wildlife die-offs during extreme climatic conditions.

In fact, one of the worst enemies of wildlife is the person who insists that vast amounts of brush be left on depleted grass-

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says.....

Each year, up to a million credit cards are lost and three hundred thousand are stolen. To protect a consumer plagued by disappearing credit cards, Congress has passed a new law that will be effective Jan. 23.

The new law states that an individual will not be liable for any loss from unauthorized use of his card after he has reported its disappearance to the issuer. Notice may be by telephone or by letter.

Most companies will cancel use of the card once they have been notified. If the notice is by letter, cancellation is effective the day the letter is postmarked. For losses occurring before notification, liability is limited to $50.

The $50 liability applies separately to each card that is lost. So, if a billfold or purse containing five credit cards is misplaced, the potential maximum liability is a total of $250.00. If a husband or wife lose their cards on a joint account, however the total liability is limited to $50.

The new law also prohibits banks and other firms from mailing out unrequested credit cards. Companies must inform the user of his rights and potential liabilities, plus they must assume the legal burden of paying for liabilities the card holder may suffer.

Past Days In Lynn County

Copied from Nov. 28, 1941
Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. L.A. Forsythe upon the birth of an eight-pound son on Thursday of last week, November 20. Larry Alton is his name.

To Rev. and Mrs. J.L. Lawrence upon the birth of a son on November 16. His name is James Raymond.
To Mr. and Mrs. M. To Mr. and Mrs. Truett Smith on Last Friday in West Texas Hospital a nine-pound daughter. She has been given the name Carol Ann.

Ross Harmonson of Lakeview came into the News office Monday noon somewhat perturbed. He had lost a bill-fold containing more than fifty dollars in money, and left an ad to be inserted in the News giving notice of the lost property and offering a reward for its return.

An half an hour later he came back into the News office a happier man. He had found the lost. It had evidently dropped from his pocket in the Jones Dry Goods store, and some of the sales people had picked it up and put it away to await the return of the owner.

Of course Mr. Harmonson was tickled to get his money back and appreciated the honesty of the person who found it.
An O'Donnell man entered a plea of guilty to a charge of violating the liquor law in the county court here Tuesday, waiving a jury, and Judge Chester Connolly assessed the fine at $100.00. The costs amounted to $28.10 making the total amount which the gentleman paid for his illegal transaction $128.10.

It is with deep gratitude that we thank all our wonderful friends for the love and concern shown us in so many ways in the loss of our father and grandfather.
May the Lord bless each of you.
The Jody Nevill family

The family of Lynn West would like to express their deepest gratitude for all the food and kindness shown during their time of sorrow.
Dr. Ann West
Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hunt

Other officers for the coming year are Fray Smith of Plains, president; Thomas Markham of Ropesville, vice - president; Boyd Melton of Brownfield, treasurer, J.H. Schwartz of New Home, secretary; Wallace Reid of Union, historian and Darvey Lavender of Wilson, parliamentarian. The watch dog is to be elected later.

Joy Edwin (Sonny) Brown is back home, having been honorably discharged from army service at Fort Bliss on Wednesday, November 19.
Joy Edwin volunteered and was inducted into service at Odessa on November 19, 1940, although Tahoka was his home.

During his year of service he was promoted from the rank of a private to that of a sergeant, and so he came home as Sgt. "Sonny" Brown.
We feel sure that he has been hurt in no particular but has been helped in many ways by his year's service for Uncle Sam; and we are sure also that he is much better prepared to serve Uncle Sam effectively, in case of an emergency, than when he entered the service.

Tommy and Judy Jones are the parents of a son born October 27. The parents named the youngster Lance David. Mr. and Mrs. Jones reside in Houston. Tommy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H.P. Jones and Judy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl TERRY.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P.L. Perkins of Tahoka and Mrs. Reuben Dunsford Sr. of Old Greenwich, Conn.

Our hat is off to you, Sonny Brown.

The Deacon Says

BY W.A. REDELL

Many old people who need friends regret their failure to make them when they were young and could make them by being "a friend."

Dr. C. Skiles Thomas now is able to come down town and says he will soon be back at work.

Happiness is making one dollar work like four!

Your cash-value life insurance dollar really works like four dollars.
1: a protection dollar.
2: an emergency dollar.
3: an opportunity dollar.
4: a retirement dollar.
One dollar, working four ways. That's happiness.
