Drouth Effects Texas Products

Even though one of the most severe droughts in Texas ended this Fall, effects of it still linger on for the state's agricultural producers, Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said in a year-end report.

Cotton, grain sorghum and other crops were hard hit by drouth earlier in the year. Dry weather also forced the sale of thousands of head of Texas cattle. The drouth of 1971 was most severe from January through the Spring planting period up until Summer. Rains returned, but severe economic damage had been inflicted on Texas' vast agriculture production.

The drouth first reduced hay production, and then the rains that ended the drouth delayed or prevented cutting and baling so that Texas-raised hay is in short supply.

Other Texas crops during 1971 were poor to fair, the wheat farmers suffering the most because of the drouth, White said. Texas wheat production was cut almost in half, to about 31,416,000 bushels, compared to 54,408,000 bushels from the 1969 - 70 crop.

Cotton crops in most of South Texas were hurt by the drouth, and then the rains delayed harvest and are still delaying harvest in West and North Texas. Rain has also given an assist to boll weevils, pink bollworms and other cotton insects, the Commissioner reported.

Heavy infestations of pink bollworms have been reported in North Central Texas and boll weevils in West Texas. Grain sorghum and peanut crops are expected to produce less than last year, White said. The drouth prevented planting of grain sorghums in parts of Texas and reduced production in other parts of the state. Peanut production was expected to be only slightly less than in 1970, but rains again have delayed harvest.

The 1971 rice crop is expected to be as good as or slightly better than the previous crop when about 20,782, 000 hundredweights were produced. Most citrus and vegetable crops were average in the 1970-71 season, Commissioner White said, and prospects are good for a good season in 1971-72.

Mrs. Embree's Services Held

Alaskan Speaks At Rotary Club

Hunting in Alaska was the subject of a talk, accompanied by color slides pictures, by Charles Roy Moe at Tahoka Rotary Club last Thursday.

Moe has lived in Alaska six years. He is the fiance of Miss Mary Ellen Wyatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Wyatt of Tahoka. Miss Wyatt is teaching in Alaska.

In his talk, the speaker dispelled many false ideas people in this section have of Alaska and its varied landscape, temperatures, peoples, transportation, economy, and prospects for future development. Most of his pictures were of a bighorn sheep hunt in a very rugged remote mountain area. President Dwain Lusk presented a Christmas present to the club sweepheart, Miss Southern Wells.

CHEMICAL WEED CONTROL MEETING TO BE HELD:

A Chemical Weed Control Meeting will be held Jan. 4, 1972 at 7:00 a.m. in the Tahoka Cafeteria. Breakfast will be served.

Dr. Robert Metzger, Area Agronomist, will present the latest information on weed control. New research information conducted on the Texas Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

Cotton Harvest Increasing Daily

Cotton harvest operations are increasing daily on the South Plains, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. This increase is reflected in the increasing number of cotton samples being received at the four area U.S.D.A. Cotton Classing Offices.

Most of the cotton harvested during the past week has been in the central and southern counties of the South Plains but activities are now increasing in the northern counties.

The U.S.D.A. Classing Offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa and Levelland classed 45,000 samples during the week ending Friday, December 17th, bringing the season's total to 194,000. At this date last year the four offices had classed 1,535,000 samples of the 1970 crop.

Grades of the cotton classed at the Lubbock office were lower than those of the previous week.

Low Middling Light Spotted was the predominant grade at Lubbock last week with 44 per cent of all cotton classed. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted made up 23 per cent, Low Middling 11 per cent, and all Spotted grades 10 per cent.

Staples were predominantly 29 to 32. Ten per cent had a staple length of 29, 36 per cent stapled 30, 28 per cent was 31, and 15 per cent was 32.

Only nine per cent of the cotton "miked" in the Lubbock office was in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, 11 per cent "miked" 3.3 and 3.4, 36 per cent 3.0 through 3.2, 35 per cent was 2.7 through 2.9, and 9 per cent was 2.6 and below.

Cotton prices increased on the Lubbock market and were five to ten dollars per bale higher than the previous week.

The Consumer and Marketing Service of the U.S.D.A. reported increased trading in the new crop cotton. Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 2.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Low Middling 30 - 29.95, Low Middling 31 - 30.15, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 30 - 30.20, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31 - 30.35, Low Middling Light Spotted 30 - 29.80 and Low Middling Light Spotted 31 - 30.00.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed ranged from $42 to $70 per ton with most prices in the $53 to $62 range.

Highlights AND Sidelights

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Gov. Preston Smith is keeping everybody guessing on timing of the important 1972 special legislative session.

The Governor said he will wait "until the last minute" to call the session, primarily for passage of a 1972-73 state appropriations bill, hoping late revenue estimates will curb the inevitable tax bill.

On the other hand, he said he could not rule out possibility of calling the lawmakers back to Austin smack in the middle of the primary election campaign -- between the February 7 filing deadline and the May 6 first primary.

Smith did make clear he is giving little consideration to pleas by some state representatives for an early 1972 session on replacement of Speaker Gus Mutscher. Mutscher's bribery trial is set for February 28 in Abilene.

"It is my responsibility because of an emergency," said Smith. "(Replacing the speaker) is not an emergency of that importance. The speaker has very little to do between sessions, anyway."

The Governor pointed out that a U. S. Supreme Court ruling may invalidate political filing fees and create an emergency demanding a special session early in the year. A lawsuit attacking the old filing fee structure is pending in the Supreme Court. A new suit challenged the 1971 filing fee law last week.

"It is entirely possible we will have to call a special session soon after January 1 if the filing fees are held unconstitutional," Smith commented at a news conference.

July 1 (after the second primary) would be about the latest date for summoning a session that could pass a budget bill by September 1, start of a new fiscal year, Smith calculated.

CITY SALES TAXES CLIMB -- More than 420 cities levying local option sales and use taxes received over $40.2 million from the source during the quarter which ended September 30.

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the take from the one per cent levy actually was more than $41 million from which was deducted the state's service fee before the money was returned to the cities.

Major cities, of course, received the biggest share of the total. Houston along got $8.1 million, Dallas $5.7 million and San Antonio $2.6 million.

ETHICS CODE CHALLENGED -- Secretary of State Bob Bullock has questioned the constitutionality of the new code of ethics for state officials and asked for an attorney general's opinion.

Bullock noted the caption of the controversial law does not properly describe a provision requiring financial statements of income sources and investment by elected and appointed officials and state employees.

The Secretary also raised questions about makeup of the 12-member Ethics Commission, pointing out six members are legislators chosen by the House and Senate, even though the constitution prohibits legislators from voting for other lawmakers for offices.

STATE AID EXTENDED -- Dallas received more than $2.3 million and Muleshoe $51,168 in state matching fund loans to help pay for new wastewater treatment facilities construction.

Cities were the second and third to benefit under the new state aid program approved by Texas voters last May which created a bond fund from which up to 25 per cent of a project's cost can be advanced by the state. The federal government will contribute 55 per cent of eligible project costs. Conroe received the first such aid -- in the amount of $443,000.

The Dallas project involves construction of new sludge disposal facility at the White Rock wastewater treatment plant. Muleshoe plans a new treatment plant on Blackwater Draw south of the city, the first facility of its kind in the High Plains area.

MEXICAN CURB ADVISED -- Texas Industrial Commission has been advised to take a careful look at its new Mexico City office results before it expands foreign trade efforts of the type.

Texas Research League told TIC several other states tried trade offices in other countries during the 1960's but abandoned them as unsuccessful.

TIC inaugurated the Mexico City office October 1 as part of its $150,000 a year international trade effort.

The privately-financed Research League recommended the TIC "carefully evaluate results of the Mexico City office before it becomes a long-term commitment and before any additional foreign offices are opened." First reports from the office indicate prospects for success are bright, TIC indicated.

APPOINTMENT -- Charles G. Sanders of Houston was named by Court of Criminal Appeals Presiding Judge John F. Onion Jr. to the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles, succeeding A. C. Turner.

Governor Smith named these new members of the state Advisory Hospital Council: Dr. Joseph T. Ainsworth of Houston; Larry B. Smith of Brady and C. Lincoln Williston of Austin. He reappointed O. Ray Hurst of Austin and Edward S. Reese of Gonzales.

Jim Hutcheson of Weatherford was named assistant counsel to the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

Marion R. Zetzman of Smith's Office of Comprehensive Health Planning has been named to the board of directors of the new American Association of Comprehensive Health Planning.

LIVESTOCK FACILITIES ON BORDER PLANNED -- Bids are expected to be taken on the new facilities for use in Eagle Pass and Del Rio.

Texas Department of Agriculture will operate the facilities. Previous bids exceeding cost estimates. Old pens along the border were condemned for livestock use last July by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Mexican authorities. Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said the $12.5 million export business TRAFFIC SAFETY URGED

An all-out "safety blitz" has been signaled by the Governor's office and cooperating agencies to prevent a predicted Christmas - New Year's traffic death toll of 100.

Governor Smith viewed Department of Public Safety projections with "shock and dismay" but did not dispute them.

"Drive Friendly" material again is being distributed through news media, and law enforcement officials are urged to crack down on violators.

PENAL CODE STUDY STARTS -- A committee of the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association last week began a study of the proposed Texas penal code revision.

The revision is the result of six years of research and drafting by a State Bar committee.

Defense lawyers expect to make recommendations to protect individual rights adequately. Prosecutors began similar study last September through the Texas District County Attorneys Association.

Three Houston area chemical plants have been called by Texas Water Quality Board to explain why barrels of industrial waste are turning in the Gulf of Mexico.

Second State Bank of Lake City and Second Lake State Bank have been proposed in Harris County.

Southwestern Announces 5-Year Construction Plan

A five-year construction program for improvement of the electric power system in the southwestern United States has been announced today by Roy M. Tolson, president of Southwestern Public Service Company.

The plan, which is the current battle cry of the utility industry, is a true growth based "safety bill" for the development of the economic potential and the need for more electric power. There really isn't much sense in investing nearly $150 million if all you were doing is trying to make headlines.

In this region, and the nation as a whole, needs more electric power not only for growth, but for environmental considerations. Electricity is the most important of all energies at the time of consumption, and we need more and more clean energy for sewage and water treatment, disposal of wastes and the solution of other environmental problems," Tolson said in announcing the construction plan.

Generating station additions scheduled for the five-year period will add more than 600,000 kilowatts to the company's power production capability. At the present time, the 11 major power stations produce a little more than 2,000,000 kilowatts.

The first of these capacity additions is already under construction as the second unit of Jones Station, southeast of Lubbock. A 256,000 kilowatt unit, it is scheduled to be in service for the summer of 1974. The first Jones Station generator, also a 256,000 kilowatt unit, went into service earlier this year.

The generating unit planned for 1976 operation is slated to be the company's first 350,000 kilowatt machine. However, the company has "reserved" three capabilities - 250,000, 350,000 and 450,000 - with the manufacturer, and the final decision will be made after all growth factors have been weighed.

"We have some interesting options with this 1976 unit. In June of 1972, we will complete an intertie between our company and the Public Service Company of Oklahoma. This is our first major interconnection with another utility. The tie line offers us the opportunity to exchange power; to sell power into power-deficient areas; to install units with larger capacity; and to locate units where fuel and water resources and load balances are most favorable. These are factors of efficiency and economy which are important to our customers, as these factors will be combined to provide the least costly kilowatt hour for our customers," Tolson said.

Also, in its continuing efforts to conserve the resources of the region, the company plans to install a combined cycle unit at its Riverview Station, near Borger, in 1973.

The combined cycle unit is a gas turbine capable of producing 25,000 kilowatts of electric power.

The heat that remains in the gas turbine exhaust, after the electric power is produced, is used to provide a major part of the steam requirement for a steam turbine unit at the plant.

The result is that more power is generated with less fuel and water as a result of the combination that could be accomplished with the two units operating separately. So there is both fuel and water conservation.

Expanding on the intertie with Public Service Company of Oklahoma, Tolson said the 230,000 volt transmission line would run from Southwestern's Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, to Elk City, Oklahoma.

"We have been responsible for providing our own power resources since this company was formed. I'm happy to say that we have always had an adequate supply and ample reserves. This new tie will make us members of the Southwest Power Pool and will provide a market for any excess power we might have at off-peak times. It is conceivable that, by the process of transformation from one adjacent area to another, our excess off-peak capability will make it possible to help other companies meet their needs as far away as the east coast," Tolson pointed out.

Continuing on the reliability and capability to serve them, Tolson went on to say that the company was projecting a 22 per cent reserve margin of available power for the peak demand expected in the summer of 1972.

This is a relatively high margin, but Tolson pointed out that 1972 will be the first full year of operation of the Jones Station first unit, which was installed to meet three years of normal load growth, and that it is normal for the reserve to be higher at this time.

"We'll be right back down to a normal reserve capability when it is time for the 1974 unit to come on the line. Then, we'll have additional new capacity to assure our reserve position again. Once you get started in the utility business, it's like perpetual motion, you must stay ahead to meet your obligations to your customers," Tolson said.

Southwestern Public Service Company serves 230,000 customers in a 45,000 square-mile service area running from the southwest corner of Kansas across the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, the South Plains of Texas to the Clovis - Portales and Pecos Valley regions of New Mexico.

HOMINY GRITS

By CORNBALL BLEVINS

I KNOW THAT livin' in the past is a sure sign of old age, yet, there appeared this article, in form of 'letter to the editor', in a recent edition of the suburban rag. It started my remembrance buds workin'.

She mentioned the shortage of logs for the fires in the old settlers' homes. Further she made mention of the substituted 'mesquite grubs and cow chips' that were used for the fires.—She mentioned coal, but, coal was for the elite. I think it cost around ten to fifteen dollars per ton!

Missed, were the fuels of cottonseed, maize heads and cotton burs. Just happen to know that a lot of these were also used.

I SUPPOSE THE mesquite grub was the most efficient of all the fuels named. You got from three to four heats out of each load.

The first heat came when you dug the thing up. All the wood that amounted to anything was under the ground. You used grubbing-hoe and axe to get the chunk outta the ground; and oak isn't tough at all, by comparison!

Next, was the job of loadin' the chunks in the wagon and haulin' them to the house. We piled them into piles, or ricks in order to be able to find them when it snowed.

Of course, they had to be cut (or busted) into stove-sized pieces, before you carried them into the house. — Then—and, then only—did you get to reap the benefit of your labors!

Think I could safely say that it was a full time job for one lazy kid to keep the household supplied with firewood during the winter.

COTTONSEED WAS MUCH easier to cope with. All you had to do there, was go to the pile with your basket, tub or bucket, (whichever the case might be) load up and carry it into the house. A waste?—They were cheaper than coal!

Yet, the cottonseed had its drawbacks. Thrown onto coals, they would give off a gas and if there were no open flame present to ignite the gas, it would keep buidin' up, until a flicker of flame DID appear. Then, BLOOIE!! The whole stove would blow up! Kept you busy watchin' for flyin' stove lids, pipes and the like.

REMEMBER THAT Pop, one winter, had a cotton bur stove made. It consisted of a 55-gallon oil drum, cut down, with a grate made from the removed bottom and was set in a tub of dirt for fire prevention purposes.

When he went to the gin with a load of cotton, he'd load the burs on the wagon and bring them back. The burs made a real hot fire and would heat the entire house very well. Only thing being, it took one lazy kid full time to fire the stove.

THE BURS BURNED at a very rapid pace and if you wet them down to retard their ignition rate, they'd do just like the cottonseed. Simmer along for a while, then blow up belchin' burnin' burs all over the house!

Of course, the cow chips were somethin' else. They weren't a popular fuel, and took a good bit of huntin' down to amass a very ample supply.

I RECALL, one summer, that a neighbor kid and I wore out a pretty good sled and an ol' grey mare roundin' up these tid-bits. Of course, you had to keep the tub behind the stove supplied with this fuel, and they weren't a polite-society conversation piece. Then, if they were a little wet, they gave off an unpleasant odor.—Not exactly conducive to social entertainment!

Too, there was the matter of judgement when you gathered them as to whether they were "green or ripe?"—They never did catch on!

I GUESS that just livin' was a full time job then, yet, these were the "Good-ol' Days" of which we speak so often. We were young, healthy and care-free.

Oh, well—"Hey, mom!—It's gettin' a little cool in here. Would you turn up the thermostat, just a little?"

The variable rate loan plan which was introduced by the Houston Bank in July, 1969, lets the interest rate "float" over the variations in the money market. This is the third time in the past year that the billing rate has been reduced. 'Tis the season of the year to conjure up a host of new year's resolutions, and among the many that seem to crop up year after year is losing weight. Make it easy on yourself this year and follow the five simple steps to weight reduction.

First you must decide that you really want to lose weight. Doctors and nutritionists may report you need to trim off those extra pounds, but it is up to you -- and what you eat -- that counts. Or, it's what you don't eat that counts.

Check with your doctor to make sure it is safe for you to lose weight, especially if your goal is 10 - 20 pounds. Also ask a physician about exercising.

Choose a sensible diet, that is 500 - 1,000 calories lower than what you normally eat. For women this level is generally around 1200 calories. Also make sure the diet is nutritionally balanced.

Here is a diet that supplies a 11 of the needed nutrients for only 1200 calories.

Breakfast -- (a very important meal) -- one eight ounce glass of skim milk, one poached egg, one piece dry toast and one-half cup of tomato juice.

Lunch -- cheese sandwich, carrot and celery sticks and one eight-ounce glass of skim milk.

Dinner -- meat pattie, broccoli, tossed salad with oil and vinegar, roll and iced tea, or coffee.

Snack -- Apple or pear.

According to the specialists this diet uses lower calorie foods from the basic four food groups including milk, meat, bread and cereal, fruit and vegetable.

A fourth step to proper dieting is to exercise daily. Remember that body weight is governed by two factors -- the calories eaten in food and the calories expended in exercise. Also remember to be patient. Don't try to achieve your weight goal all at once but follow a safe routine of losing one to two pounds a week. It is harder to gain back lost pounds if you lose weight slowly.

Incorporate these five keys to weight reduction in your daily habits and your new year's resolutions will come true.

what's in a NAME?

People ask for brand-name products because they have become known for dependability and service through the years. These names assure us of quality.

We, too, are known by our names. Mention of John Smith immediately inspires a positive or negative reaction, depending upon the man's reputation. A good name is indeed our most priceless, yet most perishable possession.

Day in and day out, our thoughts, words and actions must be on the side of goodness, for it is today which determines tomorrow's past -- for good or for bad.

If we could only perform each and utter each word as if they were our last, those by which we would be remembered, then how great would be the significance of our names!

In this confused era where better can we turn for guidance and help than to the Church? Here we will discover the teachings of Christ -- the most hallowed name of all.

Past Days In Lynn County

Copied from Dec. 29, 1950
Tahoka Bulldogs won 51 to 41 Wednesday night in a practice game over a team composed of THS ex-students, all former basketball stars here.

Following this game an Ex-Student team played a team of All-stars, the latter winning by a narrow margin.

Surprises came left and right Thursday afternoon of last week when the annual Christmas program was held in Tahoka High School auditorium.

In addition to other gifts presented at the program, the three Tahoka coaches, Joe Turner, Jake Jacobs, and Tom Bartley were each presented $45.00 gift certificates for cowboy boots.

The coaches had a surprise for the boys, also, when Coach Turner announced the 1950 Bulldog football lettermen and presented them with their letter jackets.

Letter awards were presented the following:
Seniors: Jackie Slower, Conrad Ratliff, Ronnie Gurley, Jimmy Drager and Jerry Mac Stevens.

Juniors: Earl Bartley, Clayton Carter, Don Brice, Wiley Curry, James Foster, Lynn Halamicek, Wayne Martin, Bill Short and Wayne Tekell.
Sophomores: Charles Hyles, Manager: Kenneth Early.

Other boys on the squad, most of them future lettermen, also deserve the praises they have received for their work this year.

The Estherian Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday, December 19 at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. John Roberts for its regular monthly meeting.

Since there was no business the program was presented. Ruth Stapp read the story of the Nativity and Nan Adams and Muriel Callahan sang the accompanying songs. The program was very beautiful.

Refreshments were served to the following members and guests: Colene Fulford, Addie Dodson, June Nevill, Ann Uzzle, Mary Jo Miller, Helen Whittaker, Donnie Redwine, Ruby Lewis, Margie Conway, Joretta Tippit, Earlene Fenton, Peggy Huey, Mrs. Roberts, Jennie Allen, Betty Shawn, Gwen Akin, Margaret Roberts, Ruth Stapp, Nan Adams, Wanda Hopkins, June Paris, Gerry Renfro, Earlene Hatfield and Beverly Bass.

The Christmas theme was carried out in the decorations and an enjoyable evening.

Copied from Jan. 12 1951

Two Wilson girls are members of the Wayland College Harvest Queens basketball team this year. They are Juanell Schneider and Pat Smith.

The girls team at Wayland has gained national recognition. Flying in four Beachcraft Bonanzas, last Friday and Saturday they journeyed to Houston for two games. From there they flew to Mexico City for three games early this week.

This week end they will be in a four-team tournament in Dallas.

This year, for the first time, the Tahoka High School yearbook "The Kennel," is being made available to citizens of the community as well as to students.

Up until January 26, these books may be ordered for $3.00 per copy. After this date, the price will go up.

Anyone wishing a yearbook may call the High School, leave his or her name and address, and a student member of the yearbook staff will contact you.

Tahoka's City water improvement program was completed last week with the laying of a main to the Tahoka Cemetery, according to Dr. K. R. Durham, mayor.

The Cemetery has long been without sufficient water, and the laying of the city mains at a cost of $2,000 to the burial site completes the program started more than a year ago.

Tahoka citizens voted $275,000 revenue bonds in 1948. Since that time, the City's water system has been almost completely rebuilt. New and larger mains have been laid over the entire town, extensions made, and new fire hydrants installed. Also, a new 250,000 gallon overhead storage tank was erected in west Tahoka to augment the small 50,000-gallon overhead tank and the large ground storage tanks.

Only $225,000 of the bond issue were used, the other being held in reserve in case of some early emergency water distribution need.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gryder of Wilson recently bought from Gus Hinz the Hinz Grocery in that town and are now operating the same.

Mrs. Gryder states they have delayed officially announcing their acquisition of the store because of the serious illness of their little son, Kenneth, age five, who has been suffering with acute arthritis.

The Draw Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. A. R. Hensley.

Of the twenty members, the following were present: Mmes Martha McKay, E. C. Busby, J. W. Hawkins, Jo Hensley, L. B. Jones, Virginia Hensley, W. T. Luttrell, and Miss Emily Waller.

Mrs. Graham Hard gave a very interesting talk on living rooms and arrangements for some. She showed many interesting slides (with a projector) of living rooms, taken in the various homes that were visited last year.

The members went home wondering if this wasn't the year they could do a little more about their living rooms.

W. M. Davis Rites Held For

W. M. Davis, 94, a resident of the Grassland Community since 1934, died about 1:50 p.m. Thursday in the Twin Cedars Nursing Home in Post after a lengthy illness.

Services were held at 10 a.m. Friday in Mason Funeral Chapel with the Rev. J. E. Yeats of Grassland officiating. Graveside services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday in San Augustine's Liberty Hill Cemetery.

A native of Logans Port, La., he moved to the Grassland community and was a farmer there until his retirement.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. E. M. Walker of Grassland; two sons, Leroy Davis of Grassland and John W. Davis of Roanoke, Va.; six grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren.

We certainly had a big Christmas here at the home! We hope all of you did also.

We'd like to mention a few of the nice things done for us but are sure we didn't get everyone's name and deed. The Home Economics Class No. 2, from Tahoka brought Christmas Cards in stamped envelopes for the patients to send to their friends. Thank you girls. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shaw brought two angel food cakes. Mrs. Essie Savell brought oranges, apples grapefruit and bananas for all. Dora Carpenter brought candy for everyone. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kidwell brought fruit plates to each patient. Mrs. C. E. Short and Marla Jones brought us pound cakes and Mrs. Doyle Terry and Mrs. Jim McGren brought delicious fruit cakes.

Thelma Dewbre brought us body lotion, talcum and shampoo and Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Ashcraft brought lotion for all the patients.

Mrs. Leonard Nettles and O. R. and Pandi Phifer came and sang carols in honor of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phifer. Then, we had another nice group of people come and sing for us, they were: Mr. and Mrs. Dany Rupp, Kam Herrin, Rodger Potts, Darrell Craig, Dana Reaser, Dub Powers, Wayla Craig, LouAnn McCawley, Tina Chambley. Thank you for coming to brighten our Christmas.

We had a lovely group of children come to sing Carols but don't believe they signed the register and we didn't get their names. Thank you, though, so much. Mrs. Bunk Chandler sent a lovely poinsetta plant in appreciation to the staff who cared for her husband and in his memory.

Mrs. Hammonds were here Monday to play the piano and help us sing. We had a real good turnout.

Corine Izard received a long distance call from San Antonio Christmas day. It sure cheered up her day. She would like to take this opportunity to thank each friend and relative who helped to make this the merriest Christmas she can remember!

Christmas Eve at 2:30 the home was a beehive of people as the Christmas party for the residents was starting! So many friends and relatives came! Mrs. Harold Green was nice enough to come play the piano for us so we could sing carols. Mr. Bales read the Christmas story from Luke 2 and led the group in prayer. Then, Santa and his helpers passed out gifts to everyone. Fruit cake, cookies and punch were served and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

We have a new resident who came in Sunday. She is Mrs. Lillian Corbin from Spur. She has a daughter living near Tahoka on the way to Post. We wish her a long and happy stay with us.

We also have a new L.V.N. working the 3-11 shift. She is Mrs. Exie Anderson. We welcome her!

Leah Short, Staci Short, Sheri Short and Vivian (Short) Brum were in to visit Mrs. McCord. Also, Mrs. McCord spent a couple of days in the home of her daughter Mrs. Short. She came home Wednesday. Bud and Barbara Connolly, J. Connolly, Richard and Glenda Pate, Laura Pate and Mrs. Eve Connolly were in to visit Mrs. Woods.

Mrs. Helen Bookman, Nell and Ann Kulbright, Mrs. Sam Engle and Debbie Engle were here to visit Mr. Allen. They are his grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Will Dillard and Dora Carpenter were in to visit Carrie Dillard. The Pebsworth boys and Frank Hyle visited Mrs. Reed.

Mrs. Elizabeth Connell and Francis Guthrie from Snyder were in to see Mrs. Florine Connell.

Mrs. Autry, our housekeeper, is having to take a few days off due to illness. Mrs. Bryd was able to rejoin us at the diningroom for meals after several days of being ill. Let's continue to remember Mrs. Byrd, Mr. Hunt and dear Bonnie in special prayer this week.

I hope we haven't left out but one way to be sure don't is to sign the register!

Folks signing our register this past week were: Beravidy who brought us 1 e s, Mrs. Lela Wood, G. Harris, Sandy Espinoza, Colina Chapa, Odella Calvert, Matea Martinez, Leo Dill, a m s, Ruby Ingle, Ethel Pena, Elizabeth Hunt, Kemp Elaine Draper, Crumbly, E. H. West, Looker, and Helen Pena.

Thank you again for being close to our home during the holidays and every day. You friends at the home.

In addition, exposed and infested cattle may move directly to slaughter without dipping, if they are inspected and then shipped in sealed vehicles.
Through December 13, 17 cattle scabies outbreaks have been reported, involving Oklahoma, Nebraska, New Mexico and Kansas in addition to Texas. Federal quarantines are not now being issued in the other states because their outbreaks to date have proved to be isolated or traceable to shipments from the quarantined areas.
Actual scabies outbreaks have been discovered in only 7 of the quarantined counties, but State and Federal officials agree on the need to quarantine all counties in the area. The counties under quarantine are: Armstrong, Bailey, Bristcoe, Carson, Castro Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Foard, Gray, Hale Hall, Hemphill, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher and Wheeler.
Dipping will be conducted under APHS of State Animal Health Agency supervision. APHS or State Inspectors also will certify quarantined area cattle for interstate shipment.
Environmental Quality Control officials will observe dipping operations to guard against pollution of streams or ponds.
APHS officials urge cattlemen to inspect their cattle for scabies and report any suspicious cases to State or Federal Animal Health Officials, or their Extension Agent.
Kansas and New Mexico have imposed a dipping requirement on all cattle entering those states from the 34 Federal quarantined counties and also including Cochran, Hockley, Dickens, King, Lubbock and Crosby Counties.

A Federal quarantine has been placed on 34 Texas counties in the northern panhandle by the USDA to stop the interstate spread of psoroptes cattle scabies. The quarantine became effective December 14.
"The Department is counting on the support of farmers and ranchers in the quarantined area to bring this cattle scabies outbreak to a halt", said Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butts. "I recognize that the quarantine is an inconvenience to cattlemen shipping animals to market. But I can assure them that we will do everything to make sure cattle will move to market as quickly and safely as possible."
Interstate shipping rules under the quarantine vary, depending on whether cattle originate in non-infested, exposed or infested herds, according to officials of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Service, APHS.
+Cattle exposed to scabies may move for any purpose after they are dipped at least once in a USDA approved solution.
+Infested cattle may move for any purpose after they are dipped twice, with 10 to 14

Kenley To Be Ordained Sunday

Paul Douglas Kenley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. "Dub" Kenley of Tahoka, will be ordained into the Gospel Ministry of Jesus Christ this Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, Tahoka. Rev. Hank Scott, former pastor of the First Baptist Church, Wilson, and presently pastor of the Bacon Heights Baptist Church, Lubbock, will deliver the ordination address. Rev. Jimmy A. Turner, pastor of the church, will question the candidate on behalf of the presbytery. The public is invited to attend the service.
Kenley is a Tahoka High School graduate, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Texas Tech, and is presently pursuing a Master of Divinity degree from the School of Theology of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, Texas.
Kenley has accepted a pastorate, his first, at the Purmela Baptist Church, Purmela, Texas, located near Gatesville. He will continue his education while pastoring this congregation.
"I personally have never attended a service in which a man is 'set aside' for the Gospel Ministry, and I want to have this unique experience. I know others will want to be a part of Paul's ordination service, also" stated Bob Stratt, Minister of Music, Youth, and Education of the church.

YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS
BY E. L. SHORT
STATE REPRESENTATIVE, 73RD DISTRICT

Quoting Texas Manufacturers Association August Bulletin, "1969 Texas Employment Commission paid out 29 million; 1970 - 61 1/2 million; first six months of 1971 - 45 million; This is not as expensive a problem as it is nation wide. My last newsletter reflected the Legislatures unique way of doing the opposite of the the Texans vote on raising the welfare ceiling. I have researched another subterfuge...there are 42 junior or community college districts in Texas that depend heavily on local tax support. There was 4 passed in the last session that will derive all their tax support from the state. In Houston appropriation was given to the school district to operate a junior college; in El Paso appropriation was given to a junior college district that had been turned down by the voters of the district; in Orange money was authorized for Lamar Tech; in Austin a community college will receive money to operate out of district branches... so now everyone in a junior college district is paying twice.

The Legislature passed a resolution asking the Texas Highway Department to take another look before building a new building south and in front of the Capitol and in front of the Manston. The HD has recently spent 3 to 5 thousand dollars to prove why they need this building in this location. It was decided many years ago that all multistory buildings would be built on the north side of the Capitol so as to leave the picturesque and historical view of your State Capitol unobstructed. I am hopeful they will not build on this location.

CARIBOU VERSUS PEOPLE. We are running out of energy. New discoveries for natural gas has been on a decline for several years... 60 percent of Texas gas goes to the big industries on the eastern seaboard... Expiration incentive has been taken away from the oil industry because of tax deductions for certain seismograph work and new discoveries are down because of cuts in depletion allowance... Canada has now given notice that they have a very limited amount of gas available for export... We have discovered reserves in Alaska... The ecologist are now holding up that pipeline project because it will be harmful to the mossy vegetation (the main diet of the caribou)... 70 percent of our electricity is generated with natural gas... In my committee on oil and gas testimony was given that 10 years ago we had 30 year reserves. Today we have only 10 year reserves. We are 20 years away from atomic and nuclear energy.

I hope West Texans will be the best informed people in Texas when the Legislature meets in special session next year. There are many of us that believe we do not need any new taxes except to fund the 2nd year of the welfare program. In my opinion taxes voted on in the 62nd Legislature were sufficient to meet the needs of the expenditures of state government for 1972-73. None of these measures were vetoed by the Governor. This money is supposed to be in the bank for the Legislature to appropriate and distribute to the various agencies and bodies of state government. I will do my best to keep you informed about those people advocating new taxes.

I will make every effort to be in attendance or with every state wide candidate regardless of political affiliation in the West Texas area.

In Congress there is an amendment to the unemployment act and would extend unemployment benefits an extra 26 weeks making a total 65 weeks. It is designed to have the total cost fall on the employers. If you wish to register a complainant, write the Honorable Wilmer Mills, Chairman of Ways and Means Committee, Washington, D.C. The bill number is H.R. 10947.

Mrs. Cunningham Funeral Held

Mrs. Lucy Cunningham, 84, died early Wednesday at her home following a lengthy illness.
