"TWO BITS WORTH"

BY JOHNNY VALENTINE

The Country Editor says a government report in Russia is getting ahead of the United States in many ways, but it's no wonder. They have to spend half their fighting communism.

TBW
Some say that maturity is the time of your life if you had the time. Others say it's advisable to slow down at a certain age, but only to up some hobby or new activity. Those who retire completely are referred to as "retirees."

TBW
An open mind is an asset, don't let your mind become so open that nothing gets in it.

TBW
A pessimist is a woman who is sure she can't get her car in a tight place. An optimist is a man who says she won't try.

TBW
Today we are being choked to death by welfare costs paid largely by a sharp increase in family breakups, and take-over of medical costs for everyone who falls below income levels. The death in irresponsibility in our nation is fantastic. There is enough money to help irresponsible people and to survive. Only a responsible and disciplined people can survive. And when are we going to become responsible and disciplined?

TBW
More than nineteen hundred years ago there was a Man contrary to the laws of God. This Man lived in poverty and was reared in obscurity. He did not travel extensively. Only once did he cross the boundary of the land in which he lived; and that was during His exile in the desert.

possessed neither wealth nor influence. His relatives were inconspicuous, and had no training nor formal education. In infancy He started to walk; in childhood He learned to read; in manhood He ruled the course of nature upon the billows as if He were a god, and hushed the sea with His voice. He healed the multitudes without medicine and without charge for His services. He never wrote a book, but He left all the libraries of the world open to His disciples. He never wrote a word, and yet He has furnished the theme for more than all the songwriters of the world. He never founded a college, but all the schools of the world are His. He never marshaled an army, nor did He ever lead a soldier, nor did He ever fire a shot, nor did He ever practice psychology, yet He healed more hearts than all the doctors of the world. Once each of the wheels of commerce turned their turning and multiplied their way to work, and He respected to Him. The names of the past proud men of Greece and Rome have come and gone. The names of the past scientists, philosophers, and theologians have come and gone; but the name of this Man abounds

Gayle Duke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Duke, was released last week. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Dulin of Tahoka.

First Of Kind Lynn County Files Charges In Food Stamp Crackdown

A new crackdown statewide on persons fraudulently obtaining food stamps was initiated in Lynn County last week through a joint prosecution effort of the Texas Welfare Department and County Attorney Gerald Huffaker.

Nine complaints - seven misdemeanors and two felonies - were filed by Huffaker against migrant gin workers from South Texas. They are now employed by the Wells Coop Gin southwest of Tahoka.

Huffaker stated that all seven misdemeanor cases, the defendants pleaded guilty and paid the maximum $100 fine, plus $47 court costs for giving false information and theft. The felony suspects were arrested and later were released on bond.

Some 1,500 persons are reportedly receiving food stamps in Lynn County. Three other South Plains counties - Garza, Dickens and Borden - also have food stamp programs. The remainder of counties in the region have a commodity program administered by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Huffaker said that nine cases he decided to prosecute involved persons who intentionally misrepresented their financial conditions in applying for food stamps with the local welfare department case workers. The charges named husbands and wives as co-defendants.

All stated they had no income due to the rainy fall weather which virtually halted ginning operations in the county. The gin's financial records, however, showed that the men had been working and receiving wages prior to the time of this statements of financial conditions.

When the receipts applied for additional food stamps the following month they stated their salaries were roughly one-third the salaries being paid them by gin.

At the request of the Texas Welfare Department, Huffaker filed the complaints last week.

A department spokesman in Austin revealed Friday that the action is intended to "intensify efforts in validating welfare cases."

"A complete investigation is under way for additional cases that need to be filed, Huffaker stated, adding that the two felony cases will be presented to the grand jury here.

The county attorney warned that future cases of this kind will be prosecuted even more severely than those who paid fines last week.

The seven misdemeanor cases were the State vs. Rosario Perez and Victoria Perez, Theft; State vs. Felipe Cortez and Nemencia Cortez, Theft; State vs. Guadalupe Rivera and Adelaida Rivera, Theft; State vs. Raul Cortez and Raquel Cortez, Theft; State vs. Inez Gonzales and Margaret Gonzales, Theft; State vs. Joaquin Vasquez and Jessica Vasquez, Theft; State vs. Valentin Cortez and Severa Cortez, Theft.

Two felony cases were also filed against: Guadalupe Ramirez and Lorenza Ramirez, Felony Theft; and Noe Ramirez and Refugio Ramirez, Felony Theft.

used for years. These are spices, pectin, sugar, gelatin, and salt, which are used to flavor and preserve food. Iodine was the first commercial food additive when it was added to salt to prevent simple goiter. Today we buy fortified bread, cereal products, milk and other foods to prevent vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Preservatives that retard mold and bacterial spoilage are another group of additives. For example, salt is used as a curing agent in meat preservation. And sugar is used in preparing jams and jellies for canning and freezing fruits. (Of course, you may also can or freeze fruits without sugar.)

Another additive is pectin, a natural thickener. Since many fruits don't contain enough natural pectin to form a gel, additional pectin is needed to make certain jams and jellies.

Food manufacturers add synthetic or natural food colors to processed foods when unwanted color changes occur. Many food colors are made from natural food substances. For instance, carotene, a source of vitamin A found in yellow vegetables, may be used to color dairy products such as margarine.

Although an additive may come from food or other substances, it's chemical by nature. The word "chemical" doesn't mean something unnatural or dangerous. Don't let any food faddist tell you there's a difference between vitamin C in an orange and that made in a chemical factory and added to grape or apple juice. They're both good for you.

Past Days In Lynn County

Copied from Jan. 8, 1954
Truett Smith and son, Gordon, High School sophomore, were among those attending the Gator Bowl game in Jacksonville, Fla., New Year's day won by Texas Tech over Auburn.

The Smiths flew to the game in a private plane owned by a Plainview friend.

Floyd Tubb and Tracy Brown, High School teachers, also attended the game, going by chartered bus from Lubbock.

A. G. Cook, age 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook of Three Lakes, was critically injured, and four other children were slightly injured in a car accident south of O'Donnell Saturday at about 11 p.m.

A. G. received a serious skull fracture. He was first taken to an O'Donnell doctor, then to a Lamesa hospital and from there rushed to Temple for possible brain surgery. He underwent surgery Monday and reports received here Tuesday indicated that it was entirely successful.

His sister, Reba Jean, 13, received a cut on her right leg; his brother, Bobby, 16, and Kay Cavness, about 13, and Raymond Pierce, about 15, were only shaken up and buried.

Bobby was driving the Cook car south on a dirt road. Another car in front of them was kicking up dust, and Bobby failed to see a jog in the road, and the car ran into an embankment. A. G., in the back seat, was thrown against something which caused the fracture. The 1953 Chevrolet was badly wrecked, although it did not turn over.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are at the boy's bedside in Temple.

Leonard Ray Hill, age two, received slight injuries about noon Wednesday when he fell from a windmill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Hill in the Petty Community.

The child was found lying unconscious at the mill by a sister. His parents rushed him to Tahoka Hospital where he regained consciousness in about 45 minutes. Physicians could find no injuries, not even bruises other than slight concussion. He was able to go home Thursday.

It is not known how high up the windmill the child had climbed before he fell.

Richard Lee Carter of Tahoka student in Texas Tech as an agriculture major, was high point man in the recent Freshman livestock judging contest at the college. He scored 485 out of a possible 500 points in the contest, participated in by 184 fellow students.

Richard is a 1953 graduate of Tahoka High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Carter. His father is teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka School.

The best all around girl and boy of Tahoka High School and list of Students making the Who's Who was announced this week.

Jo Ann Fenton, senior student, was named all around girl by the high school faculty who selected the honor students. Miss Fenton is a member of the National honor society, president of the Future Homemakers of America, is secretary to the high school principal, and for two years worked as a library assistant. She was chosen football queen in 1952. Miss Fenton is 17 years old and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fenton.

Federal assistance in maintaining the income of farmers selling their commodities on the open market for less than the cost of production depends, and will continue to depend, to a large extent on communications - communications between agriculture and the public, and particularly on communications between agriculture and the nation's lawmakers and major opinion makers.

Farm programs must be passed through Congress by Congressmen, most of them from non-agricultural areas, who vote on such measures in accordance with the wishes of their constituents. So passage of legislation beneficial to agriculture becomes easy or difficult in direct proportion to agriculture's success or failure in building a favorable image with "the folks back home." A good agriculture's record in this regard is none too good.

Now, a significant move is underway which could go far toward correcting the dearth of effective communication from the farmer to his city cousins.

A top level study committee - the first of its kind ever formed - will conduct a comprehensive study of communications problems confronting agriculture, the nation's largest industry. The committee, formed at the suggestion of Representative George Mahon (D-Tex) and Senator Carl Curtis (R-Neb), will seek within the next six weeks to (1) identify what is wrong with public opinion toward agriculture and (2) recommend ways in which existing misconceptions can be changed.

The work of the group will be coordinated by the National Agricultural Institute, a non-partisan, non-profit organization formed in 1970. NAI receives financial support from producers of wheat, cotton, sugar, feed grains, peanuts and soybeans. Donnell Echols of Lamesa, Board Chairman of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is one of the incorporating directors of NAI.

Serving on the study committee will be people from farming, government and industry. The industry representatives include top company and association executives in petroleum, farm equipment, chemicals, fertilizer and feed products. A first session of the group was held in Washington, D. C. January 10, at which subcommittees were formed to deal with specific areas of study. One of the subcommittees, assigned the task of analyzing present attitudes toward agriculture, will meet January 31. A subcommittee on goals and objectives will meet February 15. Both meetings will be held in Chicago.

Senator Curtis is quoted as saying "We are extremely pleased and encouraged that such a study will be undertaken. To our knowledge it will be the first such comprehensive attempt to analyze how the public - especially the urban public - thinks about agriculture. The objective is not to create sympathy for farmers or any other group in agriculture. The objective is to gain greater understanding of the fact that a sound and stable agriculture is absolutely essential to the future of our country."

Congressman Mahon stated "We would hope that the real role of American agriculture can be explained more accurately and in greater detail to those from urban areas, which is a matter of paramount concern to many of us in Congress who encounter increasing misunderstanding on agricultural issues."

Echols believes there is more reason to hope for success from this approach than from any similar effort made in the past. "Thanks largely to Congressman Mahon and Senator Curtis we now have the highest possible caliber of people and companies committed to the effort," he said, "and the approach is far more systematic and businesslike than would have otherwise been possible."

used for years. These are spices, pectin, sugar, gelatin, and salt, which are used to flavor and preserve food.

Iodine was the first commercial food additive when it was added to salt to prevent fortified bread, cereal products, milk and other foods to prevent vitamin and mineral deficiencies.

Preservatives that retard mold and bacterial spoilage are another group of additives. For example, salt is used as a curing agent in meat preservation. And sugar is used in preparing jams and jellies for canning and freezing fruits. (Of course, you may also can or freeze fruits without sugar.)

Another additive is pectin, a natural thickener. Since many fruits don't contain enough natural pectin to form a gel, additional pectin is needed to make certain jams and jellies.

Food manufacturers add synthetic or natural food colors to processed foods when unwanted color changes occur. Many food colors are made from natural food substances. For instance, carotene, a source of vitamin A found in yellow vegetables, may be used to color dairy products such as margarine.

Although an additive may come from food or other substances, it's chemical by nature. The word "chemical" doesn't mean something unnatural or dangerous. Don't let any food faddist tell you there's a difference between vitamin C in an orange and that made in a chemical factory and added to grape or apple juice. They're both good for you.

A. G. Cook, age 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Cook of Three Lakes, was critically injured, and four other children were slightly injured in a car accident south of O'Donnell Saturday at about 11 p.m.

A. G. received a serious skull fracture. He was first taken to an O'Donnell doctor, then to a Lamesa hospital and from there was rushed to Temple for possible brain surgery. He underwent surgery Monday and reports received here Tuesday indicated that it was entirely successful.

His sister, Reba Jean, 13, received a cut on her right leg; his brother, Bobby, 16, and Kay Cavness, about 13, and Raymond Pierce, about 15, were only shaken up and buried.

Bobby was driving the Cook car south on a dirt road. Another car in front of them was kicking up dust, and Bobby failed to see a jog in the road, and the car ran into an embankment.

A. G., in the back seat, was thrown against something which caused the fracture. The 1953 Chevrolet was badly wrecked, although it did not turn over.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook are at the boy's bedside in Temple.

Leonard Ray Hill, age two, received slight injuries about noon Wednesday when he fell from a windmill at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess L. Hill in the Petty Community.

The child was found lying unconscious at the mill by a sister. His parents rushed him to Tahoka Hospital where he regained consciousness in about 45 minutes. Physicians could find no injuries, not even bruises other than slight concussion. He was able to go home Thursday.

It is not known how high up the windmill the child had climbed before he fell.

Tahoka High girls' basketball team is playing in the Ropesville tournament this week. The girls lost Tuesday night to Whitharral 29 to 24, and will play Plains in the consolation round.

Sue Sargent was high scorer for Tahoka with seven points in the game with Whitharral. Tuesday night, New Home and Meadow boys and girls were scheduled to play.

New Home boys and girls won District 9-B basketball games on Monday night over Union.

The boys took a close 43 to 41 decision, with Ronnie Smith scoring 20 for New Home's points. New Home Girls took a lopsided 63 to 29 victory, with Sue Cowan pouring 27 points, one more than the opposition scored, through the hoop.

Copied from Jan. 15, 1954 Richard Lee Carter of Tahoka student in Texas Tech as an agriculture major, was high point man in the recent Freshman livestock judging contest at the college. He scored 485 out of a possible 500 points in the contest, participated in by 184 fellow students.

Richard is a 1953 graduate of Tahoka High School, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. V. P. Carter. His father is teacher of vocational agriculture in the Tahoka School.

The best all around girl and boy of Tahoka High School and list of Students making the Who's Who was announced this week.

Jo Ann Fenton, senior student, was named all around girl by the high school faculty who selected the honor students. Miss Fenton is a member of the National honor society, president of the Future Homemakers of America, is secretary to the high school principal, and for two years worked as a library assistant. She was chosen football queen in 1952. Miss Fenton is 17 years old and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fenton.

Federal assistance in maintaining the income of farmers selling their commodities on the open market for less than the cost of production depends, and will continue to depend, to a large extent on communications - communications between agriculture and the public, and particularly on communications between agriculture and the nation's lawmakers and major opinion makers.

Farm programs must be passed through Congress by Congressmen, most of them from non-agricultural areas, who vote on such measures in accordance with the wishes of their constituents. So passage of legislation beneficial to agriculture becomes easy or difficult in direct proportion to agriculture's success or failure in building a favorable image with "the folks back home." And agriculture's record in this regard is none too good.

Now, a significant move is underway which could go far toward correcting the dearth of effective communication from the farmer to his city cousins.

A top level study committee - the first of its kind ever formed - will conduct a comprehensive study of communications problems confronting agriculture, the nation's largest industry. The committee, formed at the suggestion of Representative George Mahon (D-Tex) and Senator Carl Curtis (R-Neb), will seek within the next six weeks to (1) identify what is wrong with public opinion toward agriculture and (2) recommend ways in which existing misconceptions can be changed.

The work of the group will be coordinated by the National Agricultural Institute, a non-partisan, non-profit organization formed in 1970. NAI receives financial support from producers of wheat, cotton, sugar, feed grains, peanuts and soybeans. Donnell Echols of Lamesa, Board Chairman of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, is one of the incorporating directors of NAI.

Serving on the study committee will be people from farming, government and industry. The industry representatives include top company and association executives in petroleum, farm equipment, chemicals, fertilizer and feed products. A first session of the group was held in Washington, D. C. January 10, at which subcommittees were formed to deal with specific areas of study. One of the subcommittees, assigned the task of analyzing present attitudes toward agriculture, will meet January 31. A subcommittee on goals and objectives will meet February 15. Both meetings will be held in Chicago.

Senator Curtis is quoted as saying "We are extremely pleased and encouraged that such a study will be undertaken. To our knowledge it will be the first such comprehensive attempt to analyze how the public - especially the urban public - thinks about agriculture. The objective is not to create sympathy for farmers or any other group in agriculture. The objective is to gain greater understanding of the fact that a sound and stable agriculture is absolutely essential to the future of our country."

Senator Curtis is quoted as saying "We are extremely pleased and encouraged that such a study will be undertaken. To our knowledge it will be the first such comprehensive attempt to analyze how the public - especially the urban public - thinks about agriculture. The objective is not to create sympathy for farmers or any other group in agriculture. The objective is to gain greater understanding of the fact that a sound and stable agriculture is absolutely essential to the future of our country."

Congressman Mahon stated "We would hope that the real role of American agriculture can be explained more accurately and in greater detail to those from urban areas, which is a matter of paramount concern to many of us in Congress who encounter increasing misunderstanding on agricultural issues."

Echols believes there is more reason to hope for success from this approach than from any similar effort made in the past. "Thanks largely to Congressman Mahon and Senator Curtis we now have the highest possible caliber of people and companies committed to the effort," he said, "and the approach is far more systematic and businesslike than would have otherwise been possible."

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Another federal court ruling voiding the new political filing fee law - jarred state officials and posed the possibility of an emergency special legislative session.

While an earlier decision invalidating the old filing fee was still on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court, three judges in Dallas knocked out back-up statute passed last year.

If rulings stand, Texas will without any method of financing its May and June primary elections. The filing deadline is February 7.

In the original 1970 decision the old law, fees were deemed unconstitutional because they were used for revenue, collecting and were an absolute requirement to get on the ballot.

Legislators in 1971 passed a law effective January 1, 1972 setting maximum filing fees amounting to four per cent of a candidate's term salary. Another provision provided for getting on the ballot by pauper's affidavits of inability to pay, together with a petition signed by 10 per cent of area voters. This, too, was invalidated by a federal court last Thursday.

State is now enjoined from implementing any fee system for financing the primaries.

Gov. Preston Smith and Secretary of State Bob Bullock have expressed hope courts will stay the latest order until the Supreme Court rules on the first case.

Circuit Judge Homer Thornberry advised party county and state executive committees to make new rules for carrying out the latest ruling.

Since there is no authority for state financing of the primaries, a special legislative session apparently would be necessary to provide for that before May. One suggested alternative is voluntary contributions to pay the election bill - an estimated $1.5 million statewide.

OIL ALLOWABLE DELAYED. -Texas Railroad Commission decided to delay setting the February oil allowable pending further study.

Major purchasers, the commission explained, report inventories are higher than needs, although crude stocks are at a four-year low mark.

Seven of 14 major crude oil purchasers requested a larger oil allowable factor for February. Two requested a small one, and five proposed to keep the January factor of 67.5 per cent of potential. The U. S. Bureau of Mines predicted demand in February would be 3,530,000 barrels a day, or 10,000 less than January.

MARIJUANA PENALTY DROPPED SUGGESTED. -Two Texas task forces looking into problems of children and youth in preparation for a White House conference recommended the penalty for first offense possession of limited amounts of marijuana should be reduced.

The groups advised Gov. Preston Smith the penalty should be lowered from felony to misdemeanor status.

A total of 264 recommendations were made to Smith covering 16 areas of exploration by the steering committee.

Other proposals included:
 + Mandatory sex education in public schools as early as possible.
 + Opposition to capital punishment.

+ Repeal of abortion laws.
 + State funds for low cost housing.
 + Drug education starting with kindergarten or at first grade level.

AG OPINION. -Texans can claim refunds on part of car sales taxes paid between August 16 and December 10, Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin held.

Those who get refunds of the federal excise taxes (repealed August 16) can also put in for refunds of the state tax (calculated on the total amount paid for a car) averaging about $8.

In other recent opinion, Martin concluded:
 + The Board of Pardons and Paroles has authority to hire two deputy rules - reviewing deputy compact administrators at $600 a year.

COURTS SPEAK. - Court of Criminal Appeals upheld state marijuana laws against attack that they are unconstitutionally vague.

State Supreme Court found The University of Texas at Austin used "undue influence" on a 90-year-old retired professor to get him to leave valuable property to the institution. The decision determined the old professor's home should go to an attorney who signed a $35,000 purchase contract for it, and that his other property, on his death, should go to a nephew.

A February 16 hearing was set by the Supreme Court on a Houston barber's damage suit which involves a claim that freon cans should contain printed warnings they may blow up if attached to the wrong part of an auto air conditioner. The barber was injured when a can exploded as he was attempting to recharge his air conditioner.

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED. - Robert H. Norris III of Dallas was named to the State Board of Architectural Examiners. Gov. Preston Smith reappointed W. R. Dede Matthews of Bryan to the same board.

Thomas M. Maes II of Beaumont and Lloyd L. Hayes of Port Arthur were appointed to the board of regents of Lamar University. A. H. Montagne of Orange was reappointed to the Lamar Board.

Frank M. Horlock Jr. succeeded C. Stanley Banks of San Antonio as chairman of the Texas Library and Historical Commission.

Jack Dale of Houston is chairman of the state committee planning the 1972 National Governors Conference in Houston.

DEMOCRATS IN QUANDARY. -Just about the time a controversy over party rules appeared to be settled Democrats found themselves with a leadership dispute on their hands.

State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Roy Orr of DeSoto accepted appointment as a Dallas County commissioner, setting the stage for the new wrangle.

Secretary of State Bob Bullock said he would not issue a certificate of appointment as a commissioner to Orr until he resigned his SDEC place because election duties of the two offices may prove incompatible.

Orr was quoted as saying he would resign, then that he wouldn't, then that he might in 30 days and again that he wouldn't.

Meanwhile, Gov. Smith asked William R. Anderson Jr. of Corpus Christi to seek the chairmanship. Anderson said he would agree to be a candidate, if and when Orr vacated the job.

RETROACTIVE PAY APPROVED. - State employees and school teachers will receive retroactive pay increases for the September 1-November 13 period in mid-February.

The extra money represents pay raises approved by the 62nd legislature but stalled during the presidential wage-price freeze.

State officials have notified the federal pay board of intentions to go through with the raises that would have been granted September 1 had the freeze not been in effect. Since the pay board has until February 1 to challenge payments, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said he would not accept retroactive payrolls until February 2.

HOG CHOLERA ATTACK PLANNED. -State and federal animal health officers plan to send a task force of inspectors into South Texas to try and destroy the virus which causes cholera in hogs.

Texas Animal Health Commission drafted stringent quarantine rules to restrict movement of breeder and feeder hogs in 54 counties to stop spread of the disease.

Success of the operation, according to Dr. E. S. Cox of the U. S. Department of Agriculture animal and plant health services division, could mean complete elimination of the virus in the U. S. Dr. Cox said the virus is not known to exist in this country outside South Texas.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Colonel Leo E. Gossett, Assistant Director Department of Public Safety 5805 North Lamar Boulevard Austin, Texas 78767

Dear Colonel Gossett:
 Thank you very much for your assistance in the matter we discussed on the telephone concerning your patrolman in Tahoka, Mr. Wallace Teaff, Jr.

There has been good cooperation from Major Bell and Captain Carpenter on this matter. A number of our citizens get personally involved in assisting in the reinstatement of Mr. Teaff. To name a few: our Sheriff has talked to the Sergeant and our Mayor called the Governor. The Governor was very concerned because he called a second time and referred the Mayor to one of the Commissioners.

I realize the Department owes the general public nothing in the way of an explanation, but the people of this community think otherwise.

The major points of this whole thing that are unanswered are: (1) The patrolman that was here before this man was Curtis Pray. Mr. Pray was very arrogant, uncooperative with the city and county, presented a terrible image for the Department, actually harassed a number of citizens and it took months for this situation to be corrected which really should have been a simple matter of investigation by the Department. It then could have been corrected immediately.

In other words this community felt that the Department used a very extreme attitude. (2) Then we have a person in Mr. Wallace Teaff that has become a fine citizen and has overcome his predecessor's shortcomings by bringing the image of the DPS to an all time new high. He is offered the opportunity to resign or transfer and with the statement from the Department "preferably resign" because Mr. Teaff's attitude towards his superiors was not to the best interest of the Department. At any rate the citizens believe another extreme attitude was used against this community in their actions against Mr. Teaff. In this instance it seems the work habits and lack of cooperation with the Department was Mr. Teaff's shortcomings and that very little consideration was given to his community standing and personal qualities.

I have not heard of one of our citizens quarrel with the Department's record concerning this individual. We do feel that the record does not reflect the whole story. The Mayor, the Sheriff, and I on separate and under different circumstances have commended this man to his superiors long before this action was taken. We know of no notation in his record of this. The record I am speaking about is the portfolio that Captain Carpenter read to the Sheriff and I. There was nothing good stated about this man in that portfolio. Every item presented to us was against him.

I do not believe that the people should get involved in the policy making of the Department of Public Safety, but on the other hand I do not believe the Department of Public Safety should overlook the fact that they are hired hands of the public just as I. Also, when any of us lose the respect and cooperation of the people then we become ineffective to our responsibilities.

Yours very truly,
 E. L. Short

Fertilizer should be ordered early to insure having the correct type and amount.

The fertilizer supply for the 1972 crop year looks good at the moment. However, demand for it is at an all time high. Although the supply is good, difficulty arises in getting the fertilizer to the farmer when he needs it.

The agent advises contract-dealers early to take advantage of discounts on early ordered supplies. Bulk fertilizer should be ordered early, even though delivery is usually made to the field at the time of its use.

When storing early-ordered bag fertilizer, be sure to give it room to breathe. Leave air space between each stack of bags.

Always store fertilizers in a dry place. Don't lay bags on a concrete floor because they'll pick up moisture, get lumpy and cake up. It's good idea not to stack fertilizer more than eight bags high.

Keep fertilizer and animals separated. Fertilizer is food for plants; to animals it would be disastrous.

It's a good business to figure how much fertilizer you'll need for the coming crop season and to order it all, right away.

Swine have been quarantined in Texas due to new cases of cholera. The quarantine order was issued by George W. Apple, Sr., Chairman of the Texas Animal Health Commission.

WHEREAS, there has been an increase in the number of cases of Hog Cholera diagnosed recently in the State of Texas, but

WHEREAS, potential cases of cholera in swine continue to be a threat to the industry,

WHEREAS, unless new cases are immediately contained, cholera will continue to spread to uninfected animals and may reach epidemic proportions.

NOW THEREFORE, pursuant to the authority vested in me by law there is hereby imposed a quarantine on all swine for 30 days at the premise of destination following any movement and no movement from such premise except for slaughter shall be allowed for the period of the quarantine. This premise quarantine will automatically expire after the 30th day.

Exception: Show swine will be allowed to move from show to show provided:

1. Swine move from premise to show or shows under same ownership and do not return to a premise until after the last show.

2. Health certificate be issued on the swine within 48 hours prior to the animal entering each show, showing herd of origin inspection (on initial movement) and the temperature of the swine being moved.

This quarantine order will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. January 6, 1972, and will remain in effect until further notice.

Notice is hereby given that under Texas law any person, firm, partnership, or corporation who shall violate any quarantine provisions established by the Chairman of the Commission shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable in accordance with Article 1525b, Vernon's Penal Code.

John Newman of the State Auditor's Office reports that the lowest assessment in Texas is $1,018 per pupil in a Hunt County district with 147 pupils. The highest is a Kleburg County district with 24 pupils and an assessment of $973.905 per pupil.

There are many ways the Legislature can tax the people and appropriate the $1 billion if we are required to pay off the bonded indebtedness too. A combination of a wide variety of taxation can be used. ## Tahoka High Happenings

BY SOUTHERN WELLS

Who's Who was announced in Friday's edition of the "Growl". The list included the following: Dale Rogers, Kim Turner, Cathy Wells, Southern Wells, Donna Draper, Deborah Draper, Phil McClendon, Ladd Roberts, Jeff Atwell, Mark Flippin, Larry Reynolds, Clyde Curry, John Thomas and Jim Thomas.

Two of the seniors in the above list have been named as Best All Around Boy and Girl. These will be named at the time of the "Kennel" presentations in the spring.

Monday, an assembly was held to present jackets, plaques, and letters to the varsity, junior varsity and freshman teams. Dale Rogers, football queen, was presented a blanket by Coach Viertel. Basketball will be of local interest Friday night as the teams battle with Slaton in the Tahoka gym. Slaton girls are leading in district, but you will be sure to see some very fine playing of Tahoka's varsity girls as they try to upset Slaton's record! Come Friday night and support your teams!

Debbie Wright visited Mrs. Hegi's sixth period homemaking class last Friday. Debbie explained her future travel plans and talked with us about cotton. The new FHA requirements for state degrees were also discussed. Everyone enjoyed this informal visit and learned many new facts about our National Maid of Cotton.

YOUR STATE REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS

BY E. L. SHORT
STATE REPRESENTATIVE, 73RD DISTRICT

The main purpose of this newsletter is to inform you of one of the most important issues that has ever faced any Texas Legislature; namely, CIVIL ACTION NO. 68-175-SA. This is the federal court's ruling that rules unconstitutional our procedures on funding the public schools of Texas. Everything you find in this newsletter is quotation marks is a direct quote of the United States District Court's findings. In San Antonio "ten districts with a market value of taxable property per pupil above $100,000 enjoyed a n equalized tax rate per $100 of only 31c, the poorest 4 districts, with less than $10,000 in property per pupil were burdened with a rate of 70c." "The low rate of the rich districts yielded $585 per pupil. The poor districts yielded only $60 per pupil."

"Market value of property per student varied from a low of $5,429 in Edgewood, to a high of $45,095 in Alamo Heights."

"Some districts will spend low (with high taxes) while others will spend high (with low taxes)."

"Now it is incumbent upon the defendants and the Texas Legislature to determine what new form of financing should be utilized to support public education. The selection may be made from a wide variety of financing plans so long as the program adopted does not make the quality of public education a function of wealth other than the wealth of the state as a whole."

John Newman of the State Auditor's Office reports that the lowest assessment in Texas is $1,018 per pupil in a Hunt County district with 147 pupils. The highest is a Kleburg County district with 24 pupils and an assessment of $973.905 per pupil.

There are many ways the Legislature can tax the people and appropriate the $1 billion if we are required to pay off the bonded indebtedness too. A combination of a wide variety of taxation can be used. I shall list a few for your observation: raise the sales tax; broaden the sales tax (to include food, medicine, services, and repairs); corporate income tax; personal income tax; use some of the money accumulated in our permanent school fund; or possibly continue the ad valorem tax on properties with the state as the collecting agency and distribute equally among the various schools.

In the outset I might add I did not favor this ruling even though it was obviously going to happen. I would be very reluctant to support a corporate or personal income tax (without corporate income tax industry will continue to keep Texas No. 1 in the nation in getting new industry). With a personal income tax the same people will be burdened with double taxation because they are mainly the ones paying the ad valorem tax. I believe we will certainly have to keep some form of ad valorem tax. I would like to see the properties within the bounds of a school district left at the discretion of the local people so that they might if they choose supplement their schools as they choose. This might be possible because quite, "In the instant case plaintiffs have not advocated that educational expenditures be equal for each child. Rather, they have recommended the application of the principle of 'fiscal neutrality.'"

Since this ruling has been only to correct the equal educational opportunities within a state, it is not unreasonable to think that soon there will be a ruling to equalize education throughout the 50 states. We are now talking on the theory of state control and that soon this will be voided with a completely federal take over and socialized educational system. With the theory used in this court action, why would it not be action, to think of the cultural aspect of Americans? (Such as equal distribution of medical and hospital facilities or discrimination in entities that are known to be the wealth of the state.)

I respectfully request that you share your ideas with me and I remind you that your opinions will have much bearing on my arguments and votes in the Texas Legislature. This important matter is completely an open subject; and until all of the facts and figures are compiled, I will not be for or against any of the mentioned methods of taxation but will respond to responsibility in keeping our educational system as it is and strive continuously to upgrade the public schools of Texas.

"All tied up" usually suggests that one's movements are restricted.

But to us, "all tied up" means good things. For example, this year we'll complete building a transmission line that will enable us to move electric power to the Public Service Company of Oklahoma... maybe even as far away as the East Coast. Or, to bring electric power into our system from far-away places.

Either way, it's a good deal for you - our customer. It means efficiency in the distribution of electric power and it means firming up dependability.

ELECTRICITY - IT DOES SO MUCH GOOD

Yes, "all tied up" means we'll be - so you won't be!

PCA Loans To 1,000 Stockholders
Farmers and ranchers from a nine-county area borrowed almost $34 million from Lubbock Production Credit Association in 1971, according to Alton Strickland, the association's president. This amount represents loans to more than 1,000 stockholders, he said.
Loan volume is up more than $3.7 million or 12 1/2 percent over the same period a year ago, Strickland reported.

Lubbock PCA is one of 34 Texas associations that together loaned more than $942 million to the state's farmers and ranchers in 1971, he said.
The association, with offices in Lubbock, Brownfield, Levelland, Ralls, Seminole and Tahoka, makes agricultural loans in Cochran, Crosby, Gaines, Garza, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Terry and Yoakum counties.
