Rotary Honors Secretaries

"Secretary Week" was observed by the Rotary Club last Thursday noon when Mrs. Johnnie Gaut, operator service manager of General Telephone at Brownfield, addressed the club and guests. Seventy-seven were present about half being secretaries or wives of Rotarians. Mrs. Gaut told of her philosophy of life and responsibilities of a person in public service gained through her experiences in dealing with the public. She emphasized that an employer must make employees feel you are working with them, not over them; and employees must be a part of the team. Mrs. Robert Abbe introduced the speaker.

Dwain Lusk urged local citizens to save the seals from Scott Paper products and turn them in to him or to Dayton Parker, since the number of seals collected here will determine the amount of donation from that company to the Tahoka Little League program.

Special Postage Stamps Honor Postal People

Postmaster General E. T. Klassen has announced the design of a unique postal tribute in the form of 10 special postage stamps to honor the nearly 700,000 employees of the U.S. Postal Service.

These stamps are designed to emphasize to the American people the important duties performed by the men and women who are responsible for moving almost 90 billion pieces of mail a year," Mr. Klassen said. Ten eight-cent commemorative stamps on the same sheet, each depicting a service performed by postal people - from window clerks selling stamps to workers on the workroom floor to letter carriers - will be issued simultaneously at more than 40,000 U.S. Post Offices, stations and branches on April 30, 1973.

Postmaster General Klassen also announced that the week of April 29 - May 5 will be Postal Week and that the local first-day ceremonies will be a highlight of the week's activities. For the first time in history, the stamps will bear printed matter on the reverse side under the adhesive. The first stamp, for example, shows a window clerk selling stamps and the text reads: "Nearly 27 billion stamps are sold yearly to carry your letters to every corner of the world. People Serving You." The ink on the reverse of the stamp has been approved by the Food and Drug Administration.

"Many Americans can readily identify the role of their letter carriers, window clerks, and postmaster," Mr. Klassen said. "But too often they are not aware that it also takes thousands of mail handlers, clerks, motor vehicle operators, rural letter carriers, special delivery messengers, maintenance employees, supervisors, and many other specialized people to move the mail"

Fifty million of each of the 10 stamps in the series will be printed for a total of one-half billion stamps. Normally, 150 million stamps in a commemorative series are printed. The stamps were designed by artist Edward Vebell of Westport, Connecticut.

"We could not depict every type of job performed in the Postal Service," Mr. Klassen said. "There are hundreds of vital duties performed in the process of handling our enormous volume of mail." He added, "these stamps and the Postal Week observance are both aimed at highlighting the important role performed by postal people as they serve the citizens of the communities where they live."

Lions Sponsor Tahoka Marker

An historical marker for the City of Tahoka has been ordered from the Texas Historical Survey Committee, and when received will be installed in front of the Tahoka Municipal Building facing Lockwood Street, U.S. Hwy. 380.

Tahoka Lions Club, with support of the City of Tahoka, is sponsor of the project. John Ed Redwine is largely responsible in promotion of the project, and wording for the marker has been composed by Frank Hill.

However, the State committee has informed local people delivery of the marker will be delayed for some time due to a large backlog of historical marker orders.

The Tahoka historical marker will be similar in size to the Lynn County historical marker on the court house lawn, and will highlight history of the town, the first county seat established on the South Plains south of Lubbock in 1903.

A dedication ceremony will be planned when a delivery date on the marker is known.

Redwine is a great grandson of one of the first settlers of the county, and has an interest in preservation of the county's heritage.

NEW HOME NEWS

BY MRS. W. W. DAVIES

School dismissed Friday for a pre-Easter holiday and will re-convene Monday April 30th. Many of the teachers and others in the community are away, visiting relatives and friends or fishing. Should have a lot of "Big Ones" to tell next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blevens drove to Las Vegas, Nevada on Thursday and on Friday Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Evans flew there where the other members of two bowling teams in Lubbock, they attended and participated in the Women's National Bowling Tournament. Although they didn't win first, they were very pleased with their performance.

The Evans returned home Monday. The Blevens drove to Grand Canyon, Painted Forest, Petrified Forest and other points of interest before returning home Thursday.

Mrs. Edna Carpenter remains in Room 328 St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock. Surgery is scheduled for a later date. Sue, Elizabeth, Susan and Chris Oliver, James, Shirley, Bob, Tracy and Myrtle Bolf, Deann Wilson and Tony Shupp all of Wink spent Friday night here with us. Going to Lubbock early Saturday morning to help cheer their home town girls volleyball team on to victory.

Wink won Class A by downing Vega Saturday morning, 15 -2; 15 -3. And in the action Saturday afternoon they topped Merkel 15 -2, 15 -4. They will go to Austin for the State play offs April 27th and 28th. Wink won state last year and you can guess they will be trying to do the same again. Other visitors in our home Saturday evening were Charles, Billie Jo and Roger Freeman of Crosbyton Ann and Marta Raydon Walton of Snyder. The Freeman's were in Lubbock attending the Regional Track meet at the Coronado Field. Roger set a new record for the Crosbyton School in 330 hurdles. Sue and her children and Deann and Tony stayed until Sunday afternoon and attended morning services in the New Home Baptist Church.

Friends and relatives of Plainview residents felt much concern when they awoke Sunday morning to the news of the tornado that destroyed many homes and caused the death of one man and a small child. About 4 a.m. Mr. David Bryant, age 30, editor of the Plainview Herald, and three year old Kevin Lewellen. Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown went to Plainview Sunday to assist their son, Jimmie, his wife, Venoma and daughter, Venessa and Vicki who's home was badly damaged in the storm.

Jimmie had just a few minutes before left their home to go to work where one of the men on the night shift at the plant became ill. Venoma and girls had gone into the storm shelter probably saving them from serious injury or death. Although all windows were blown out their furniture and personal effects were not damaged. Their car was a total loss. Their home will have to be completely rebuilt. The home of Vernon (Skeet) and Dolly Clem was torn to pieces, and their furniture except for two or three pieces was a complete loss. They and their son were caught in the house, but miraculously escaped serious injury. The storm missed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heck by about two blocks and the home of Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Bryant about one and one half blocks. The Bryants, parents of our daughter in law Mrs. Carlton (Joyce) Davies, were in Houston visiting their son, Roger and his family when they heard the news of the storm, Carlton, Joyce and Randy went immediately to Plainview but found everything all right at the Bryants home except no electricity. They as others do after seeing the damage done feel that it was a miracle that more lives were not lost as there was very little warning, and the hour of the morning that it struck.

E.M. and Marlo Rudd were in Wichita Falls Friday and Saturday attending the tractor and equipment show. They exhibited a new axel pull hitch for use in wide row crop equipment that Marlo invented and built. And they report that it seemed to be well accepted at the show.

Mrs. G.W. Turner has been in Las for a few weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Sue Turner. Jerry and Cindy of Austin spent the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Haley, attended services in the Home Baptist Church.

GOOD THROUGH APRIL 19 - 25, 1973

Commodity Credit Corporation is preparing to make determinations and an announcement concerning the 1973 cotton loan program, including premiums and discounts and other regulations, some of which may be substantially different from rules in effect for 1972.

An announcement in the April 9 Federal Register served notice of CCC's intentions and gave interested parties 30 days in which to submit comment. This means the announcement of loan program details should come soon after May 9.

Premiums and discounts, as in the past, will reflect differences in loan value between the base quality and the various other grades, staples and micronaire groups. The "base quality", however, under USDA's proposal in the Federal Register would be changed from Middling one-inch, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire to Strict Low Middling inch-and-a-sixteenth, 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire.

The base loan rate for Middling-inch cotton was announced last October at 19.5 cents per pound. The new base rate, for Strict Low Middling-inch rate. Thus the change in the base quality shouldn't affect the loan value of any quality in any way.

This change of base quality appears desirable to USDA because SLM inch-and-a-sixteenth cotton is much more representative of upland cotton produced in the U.S. than is Middling-inch. The latter quality over the past 5 years has accounted for less than one-half of one percent of production whereas SLM inch - and - a sixteenth has comprised over 13 percent during the same period.

Two other significant changes in operating provisions of the loan program are being proposed, involving (1) a requirement to enter the tare weight of each bale on the gin bale tag and (2) elimination of the 50-point discount on upland cotton reduced in grade because of extraneous matter such as bark, grass, notes, sand, etc.

The notice in the Federal Register points out that the tare weight requirement will help eliminate a problem experienced by spinning mills in handling cotton for which bale tags do not show the tare.

The second proposed revision, that of dropping the 50-point or one-half cent discount applied to cotton containing foreign matter, came as a result of a recommendation made by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., which represents cotton producers in a 25-county area surrounding Lubbock.

In consultations with USDA officials PCG expressed its opinion that the half-cent per pound discount, over and above the reduction of one full grade, was not justified by the loss of such cotton's spinning utility. PCG's primary concern was for "barky" cotton, which makes up a sizeable portion of each year's Plains crop.

USDA's concurrence with the PCG view was indicated in the Federal Register notice. The notice stated "... there is reason to conclude that the presence of extraneous matter doesn't affect the ultimate value of such cotton beyond that reflected in the grade reduction."

Prior to making final decisions on loan program regulations USDA will give consideration to all data, views and recommendations received from interested parties before May 9. Comment should be submitted to the Director, Cotton Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington D.C.

Texas has a new general soil map, showing delineations of 73 major soil landscapes plus a small scale inset of the broad land resource areas.

The map is now available to the public. It has just been released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the USDA Soil Conservation Service.

"The map also lists special limitations of the soils that affect their use. Inset maps show rainfall, temperature, and length of growing season across the state," he added.

In information in both popular and technical language makes the map and accompanying narrative useful to people of different backgrounds and interests. A table containing general interpretations of the map units is of special practical importance.

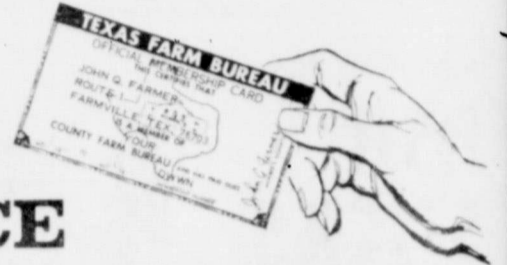

While the new map is not intended as a substitute for a detailed soil survey or on-site studies relative to specific land uses, it will provide planners and other citizens with an overview of the important soils of the state and a concept of their use and major limitations.

The map and narrative have been printed on two separate sheets for displaying on a wall. Or, for more convenient use in the field, it is available on a single folded sheet printed front and back.

The map may be purchased from the Department of Agricultural Communications, Texas A&M University, College Station, Texas 77843. Order blanks can be from the county Extension office.

Water, Inc. Import Project

Water, Inc. officials expressed optimism today for the future of the West Texas - Eastern New Mexico import project even in the face of study findings showing that under present project formulation standards, the project is economically unjustifiable.

L. Black, Friona, president of Water, Inc., said the findings of the Bureau of Reclamation and the Mississippi River Commission revealed at meetings in Lubbock and Memphis, Tennessee, today were not unexpected. "We have known from the outset that under project formulation standards now in use, the import project could not be justified. The key, of course, are the standards being used and even as the two federal agencies were making the findings public, proposals for revamping project formulation standards are in the final stages of being adopted," Black said.

The reconnaissance investigation was initiated several years ago to formulate and evaluate plans for importing water to West Texas and Eastern New Mexico to replace the dwindling ground water supply. An interim report, by the Bureau of Reclamation in 1968, established that the lower Mississippi River is the most favorably located source of import water for the High Plains.

Figures provided by the Mississippi River Commission indicate that flows near the mouth of the Mississippi, surplus to needs projected to the year 2020, might be available about one-third of the time. If it is determined that diminished flows would not adversely affect the estuarine resources of the Louisiana Gulf Coast, a portion of these flows could be available for diversion from the Atchafalaya River in the vicinity of Morgan City, Louisiana.

Water diverted from the Mississippi River would be lifted by a series of pumping plants in a canal with a carrying capacity of 40,000 cubic feet per second, through a 715-mile water conveyance system across Louisiana and East Texas to Twin Lakes, northwest of the Dallas-Fort Worth area. From Twin Lakes, the water would be transported through a 700-mile, North Texas canal system, to nine terminal reservoirs on the High Plains for distribution to lands in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

These facilities would provide the means to deliver an average of 5.8 million acre-feet annually. Of the total, 4.7 million acre-feet could be diverted to users in Texas, and 1.1 million acre-feet would be available to users in New Mexico.

The estimated cost of the huge project is $20.5 billion. Annual economic costs are estimated at $1.9 billion, of which $1.4 billion is investment cost and $0.5 billion is allocated to operations, maintenance, and replacement costs.

Further findings of the study reveal that the ratio of direct and total benefits to annual economic costs is 0.14 to 1.00 and 0.27 to 1.00, respectively.

Some of the detailed economic figures revealed at the meeting in Lubbock do not agree with other and perhaps more up-to-date studies, as for instance, those in the Texas Input-Output Economic Study conducted in the office of the Governor," Black said.

"We feel much more detailed analysis and comparison of economic data must be made to determine the economic status of the import proposal," Black said.

Results of the study are currently being reviewed and a final report will be released in July.

Lasso® hates Carelessweed!

Lasso, the preemergence herbicide from Monsanto controls Carelessweed as well as other broadleaf weeds and almost a dozen annual grasses that compete with cotton. What's more, Lasso doesn't carryover to harm rotational crops. So even if your cotton gets hailed out, you can come right back in with soybeans or corn. You don't have to incorporate Lasso, either. Apply it preemergence at planting and you're through.

This year, use Lasso. And get the Carelessweed before it gets your cotton.

Notes from the Neighborhood

By: Janet Owen

The Easter holidays are here this week and the children are out of school - so, there is no rushing to classes today. One child is sleeping late another spent the night with friends and the youngest was up bright and early, boiling eggs to dye for an Easter-egg hunt.

How is the rest of the neighborhood doing? I'd better call friends and see if there is any News! First thing today! This week! Now!!!

Garry and Lonetta Hudgens are back in Tahoka. They returned two weeks ago, March 30, from the army in Fort Knox, Kentucky. Garry is working with his father Floyd Hudgens in the water-pump business. Last Friday a new trailer - house was moved to the business site on the Lubbock Highway and this is where Garry and Lonetta will make their home. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Isbell.

Several people are taking advantage of the school holiday to take trips. Those leaving town include Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stevens and family for the Rio Grande; also the Jack Henry family are spending the week in the Big Bend Country and a Rio Grande river-trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Williams and David and Jana are vacationing in Arizona this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stephens and Valton left Saturday to visit daughter and sister Arlene and her husband in California.

Fredda Jeffcoat and Jamie Gage have gone to Las Cruces, New Mexico to visit Robert Gage who is a junior student in New Mexico State University.

Robert Lee went to Lamesa Saturday to get his mother Mrs. H.P. Crimm and then they visited his sister and her family Mr. and Mrs. R.V. Clark in Abilene, Texas.

Visiting in the Big Bend country Sunday were John Ed, Donna, Norma Jo and Randy Redwine.

The J.D. Atwell family is spending the week in their mobile home at Brownwood Lake.

The Miller family will have their annual reunion at Brownwood State Park Thursday through Easter Sunday. This is the 16th year the children and grandchildren and their families of the Jim Miller, family of Tahoka have met. Originally from Mena, Arkansas there are 4 brothers and 5 daughters from Texas and other surrounding states that attend. From Tahoka are the Roy, Sam and Lester Miller and J.R. Lambert and Rena Edwards families that will go.

Inez Jenkins has her daughter Lucille here for a visit. Lucille is working as a LVN at Wadley Hospital in Texarkana, Texas and plans to begin R.N. training in September. They made a week-end trip to Austin to see Inez's other daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Ronnie Morley and their three children. Rev. Morley's mission church will soon be known as the Cameron Road Baptist Church with their new building program, Inez reports.

It's a busy time at the Leslie Paris residence. They boys are taking off the old composition roof and replacing it with a new one.

Gwen Patterson was telling me of the fire at her son, Rett's house in Floydada. A week ago Friday, Rett, Gay and baby, Bryon were ready to come to Tahoka for a visit when they had to "go see about a fire" which turned out to be their house. One bedroom and all of Retts clothes were lost and the rest of the house was badly damaged with smoke and heat all in a matter of 20 to 25 minutes. The fire boys were a big help in putting out the fire and saving their possessions. Jackie Jacquess happened by and he too helped them get their house into some semblance of order. Pat Patterson has been down helping restore the house and Rett and family should be able to move back in this week.

Leroy Davis Absentee Farmer

Leroy Davis, who resides in Grassland, Texas, and occasionally visits in San Augustine, has been selected as the outstanding Absentee Conservation farmer for 1972 in the Piney Woods Soil Conservation District.

Awards for outstanding absentee farmer is a new category recently added to the Texas Conservation Awards Program, which is sponsored by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce. Local winners compete with other Districts for State awards.

"Davis' farm is always pretty and he is constantly doing something to improve it," says Hank Robinson of the Soil Conservation Service. "All of his pastures are covered with a fine stand of bermudagrass, overseeded to either crimson clover or vetch."

"Mr. Davis never overgrazes. He also uses lots of fertilizer and applies it at the right time," Robinson went on. "He also has 100 acres of timber managed for poles and saw-logs." In recognition of his fine work, Mr. Davis will be awarded a plaque which will be presented by the Piney Woods Soil Conservation District Board of Directors.

Reese Writes Of Work At S.M.U.

Martin S. Reese, reared at Tahoka, writes that the Texas Press Messenger, recently quoted by The News, was in error when it stated he is head of S.M.U. Journalism department.

Actually, he says, Dr. Ronald Farrar is chairman of the department, while Reese is associate professor of Journalism and director of the SMU printing department.

The story was correct in telling of his directing panel discussions at Texas Press Association, and the past year he has served as president of Southwestern Journalism Congress, 43-year old organization of 16 universities and colleges of the Southwest.

Organized Crime

"I had some girls working for me, enjoying being on the outside after a six-year stretch. Ready for some action, you know."

Thus began the street saga told matter-of-factly by a prison inmate: a recital of prostitution, theft, bribery, graft, narcotics and gambling.

This man's sordid tale didn't take place in Texas, but that doesn't mean that it couldn't have.

Organized crime, and its attendant various areas of vice, is seeking a foothold in Texas, but law enforcement officials at all levels have a close eye on the picture.

The story continues:

"I had three girls hustling and was getting $150 to $200 a day from them.

"I'd wake up about 1 or 2 p.m., maybe shoot some speed, lay around drinking and talking most of the day and then go to the bars at night, throwing $100 or $200 across the bar. I was very free-hearted with the money.

"I wasn't doing any collecting, after all a guy's entitled to a rest. No stealing neither.

"But the cops started arresting the girls.

"Each bust meant going to bail them out, and then money for the bondsman and the lawyer. They were losing time because of the arrests, so it was a very hard time for us.

"Well, the upshot is that I had to go back to work for my bookie friend. One of his marks had welshed and he needed me to go get the money."

The moral shock of so called "victimless" vice - prostitution, gambling, and corruption -- has faded with the times.

For the most part criminal activity of this "blue" nature continues without complaint. If there is a victim he is usually a willing victim.

But someone always loses -- often the "victim's" family.

In the consensus of three Texas metro vice squad chiefs: "Nobody gets as upset over prostitution as they used to. The only time we get a complaint is when a person gets clipped or something."

Most professional gamblers willingly admit that a bettor is a sucker, that the odds are overwhelmingly against the bettor. Gambling experts have estimated that for every dollar bet legally, five to seven dollars are wagered illegally.

As one famous East Coast bookmaker used to tell his aides, "Boys, don't be envious of any rich customer. No matter how much money he makes in his own business, remember if he keeps playing the horses, he's working for us."

From the nickle numbers bet to the sophisticated computer-calculated wager, Texans trusted lady luck to the illicit tune of $4.8 million a day . . . $33.9 million a week . . . $815.2 million a year on one sport -- professional and college football -- for one season: September 1, 1971 through January 15, 1972.

The Department of Public Safety figures do not include bets on horse racing, basketball or other sporting events.

These unlawful gambles put over $97.8 million into the criminal purses of an estimated 847 individuals currently known to be operating in organized bookmaking activities in the state.

Says DPS Director Colonel Wilson Speir: "We found that football betting on a dollar volume basis is greater than all other sports betting combined in Texas.

"In contacting other agencies and researching DPS intelligence files, we determined that for the average bookmaking case, to make a raid, or get enough evidence for a search warrant, required 360 man hours of surveillance work."

Lacking enforceable legal aids and statutes, law enforcement personnel work under a handicap in deterring organized gambling practitioners. Badly needed is a law which would permit electronic surveillance under court supervision.

Intelligence information reveals that a number of bookies used $30 to $50 per day for public pay telephones to obtain lines (the odds) and make layoffs (a bookies insurance whereby he balances his bets on each side of an event) from out-of-state and Texas sources.

Colonel Speir gave some more dollars-and-cents examples of the scope of organized bookmaking in Texas:

. . . A bookmaker averages 12 percent return on his betting volume. For the '71-72 football season, this amounted to a tidy $97.8 tax-free million.

. . . On the average, college bets make up 66 percent of the bets taken, pro football the remaining 34 percent;

. . . The gross investment or bankroll for a bookie to operate and stay in business in Texas is $30 thousand (for an estimated criminal investment of $17.6 million);

. . . A raid on a bookie costs him about $3 thousand (new location, losing bettors and business as a result of the raid).

Prostitution, gambling's kissing cousin, is another "victimless" crime according to the DPS definition: one that implies a willingness on the part of the consumer to participate -- with no complaints afterward -- in organized criminal activity.

Vice squad chiefs point again toward today's liberalism as a reflection of public attitude on prostitution.

"It's the change in society itself . . . today's liberalism as a reflection of public attitude on prostitution.

"It's the change in society itself . . . today there's by far a greater liberal attitude toward morality."

"Some people have a more permissive attitude toward prostitution."

However, what you get in addition to prostitution, is its companion crimes.

The prostitute "works" to support her procurer and often to support a drug habit. When business gets bad due to arrests the procurer often steals. He sells his stolen goods to the fence, who ups the price and resells the merchandise for a profit.

(In the undersord, fencing hardly registers as a crime but as a method of receiving the benefits of discount buying without having to go to a shopping center.)

Profits from fencing help swell the purses of organized criminals -- profits which are often used to fund heroin trafficking and other crimes.

DPS intelligence information reflects that "many persons involved in criminal violations with respect to prostitution are (or were) also involved in the following criminal violations: narcotics, auto theft, burglary, theft, fencing, stolen goods, armed robbery, murder, assault, bribery, graft, blackmail, gambling and bookmaking."

In the words of Dallas Police Chief Frank Dyson: "Prostitution goes hand in hand with other types of crime.

"Prostitution is involved in shoplifting in a large way; prostitution is involved in drug traffic in a large way; prostitution is involved in highly organized crime and in violence."

Organized crime is not a legal category and thus is not legally punishable. Legal recourse comes from one-at-a-time attempts to cripple those elements of organized crime (i.e. prostitution) which operate contrary to the laws of the state.

Texas law prohibits prostitution and engaging in prostitution. Other laws make it a crime to keep a bawdy house or employ prostitutes.

Living outside these laws can be expensive. Brothel prostitutes split 60-40 with the house, according to the DPS report. Prostitutes working with procurers split 50-50.

DPS analyses of prostitution uncovered a number of circuits working in and out of Texas, saying that a prostitute averages 10 to 14 days at each circuit location. As a result of local and state enforcement agency investigations, many arrests have been made.

From the independent streetwalker to the professional circuit call girl, prostitution contributes millions of dollars to organized crime coffers, the DPS believes.

It used to be that you could point out the prostitutes on the streets, comments one young woman. "They wore spike heels, no hose and lacy evening dresses in the middle of the day. But now they dress like everyone else and you can't recognize them.

"I hear a lot of them are college girls; some are married," she added, "working to earn extra money."

Such was the case in one county where DPS undercover operatives broke up a call girl operation in hotels.

Charges of pandering were brought against a 47-year old security guard who claimed to have 300 women working for him. Authorities estimated the number was more like 50. Testimony revealed that some clients paid $100 an hour for the girls to come to their rooms.

As has been pointed out, changing morality has little to do with either prostitution or gambling in Texas.

They are businesses -- lucrative ones. The customer rarely, if ever, considers the legality of the vice in question. As long as the public is willing to participate, there will be a market.

Easter Seals

Committed to help disabled in this community and others across Texas is the Easter Seal Society. Its program provides services bearing upon the health, welfare, education, recreation, and employment of crippled children and adults.

Put another way, the fundamental purpose of this voluntary health agency serving the handicapped is to help salvage the lives of men, women, and children who may not walk or stand, speak or hear, as well as you do, but still are capable of taking a place in society as responsible and productive citizens.

Sometimes it requires no more than the strengthening of weakened muscles to make possible a fuller life. Other cases often require some form of long-term therapy provided by competent personnel or by qualified physicians.

Through its state network of facilities and programs, Easter Seals in Texas helps thousands of handicapped persons annually. The Easter Seal Society serving this area conducts programs designed to meet the rehabilitation needs of the community.

To help an individual triumph over a handicap takes encouragement, understanding, the methods and techniques of the rehabilitation process -- and operating funds. Each of us in this community has a share of the responsibility.

The 1973 Texas Easter Seal campaign is now underway. The fund-raising effort in this community is being conducted by your friends and neighbors. We commend their activities and urge your full support.

Copied from December 2, 1938
The Lynn County Warehouse Company has under construction its fifth warehouse here. Work on the building was begun this week and will probably be completed by the end of this week or early next week.

This is the fifth warehouse constructed here by this company. It is the same size as two of the other warehouses, 60 feet. The new structure is being erected near the Santa Fe tracks several blocks north of the No. 84 highway crossing. R.W. Fenton Jr. is the manager.

A cotton compress will be erected in Tahoka, construction to start at an early date, Arch S. Underwood, Lubbock Athens capitalist, announced this week through his local representative, F.W. Milner.

"The structure will be located where north of the Santa Fe depot," News is informed.

The Underwood interests own a number of cotton compresses and warehouses among the compresses operated by being those at Slaton, Lamesa, Brownfield, Littlefield, Ralls and Plainview. He operates a cotton warehouse near the cemetery, under the name Union Compress and Warehouse Co. Milner is the manager.

At present there is not and never has been a compress in Lynn county, Texas. It stands next to Lubbock county in the production among all the counties of the South Plains and is surpassed by only a few counties in the entire state.

Its average production over a period of ten years has been considerably more than 50,000 bales. Last year it produced 22,651 bales, the second largest in the state. Production this year will run near 20,000.

It would seem therefore that there is an unusual opportunity here for some compress company to reap rich rewards.

The Tahoka Rotary Club will sponsor the presentation of a number of medals to students of the Tahoka High School at the close of the session next spring.

It will also present a medal to a person adjudged to have rendered the most distinguished service to the school during the scholastic year.

Awards made to students will be: to the valedictorian, to the salutatorian, to the best all-round girl, and to the best all-round boy in the Tahoka High School.

Scholarship awards to the best student in the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes respectively.

A committee will be appointed later to work in conjunction with the superintendent and faculty in determining the winners of these awards.

The medals will be presented at the commencement exercises at the close of school.

The Wells Bible Class met at the home of Mrs. R.R. Askew on Monday, December 21. Our lesson was the 18th and 19th chapters of St. Luke.

A box was planned for Buckner Stephens Home. Anyone wishing to help in any way please send their contribution to the home of Mrs. Askew before the 31st of December. Our next meeting will be the home of Mrs. D.J. Bolco.

Those present were: Meses, Elizabeth Vera Etta Townzen, John Etter, Yeatts and the hostess, Mrs. Askew.

The fire alarm has been sounding frequently the past few weeks. Fortunately most of the fires have been extinguished before any appreciable damage was done.

One day last week the set was destroyed together with the furnishings. It is believed that children playing in the house accidentally started the fire.

Also the office of Mr. Criswell, a tonsheed buyer, situated near the Santa Fe depot, was destroyed by fire, but the loss was light.

A truck at one of the gins was partially destroyed. Also a car or two were caught fire on the highway near town and been destroyed.

A small barn situated three miles east of Tahoka and an old car were burned Tuesday night. The Tahoka fire department was called to prevent the fire from spreading after the barn had been destroyed.

Little Delores Nowlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Deen Nowlin, is seriously ill in the Lubbock Sanitarium. Her malady has been pronounced typhoid fever. Mr. and Mrs. Nowlin are spending much of their time at her bedside, though she is said to be doing as well as could be expected.

E.F. Auston and son Buford spent last week here visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Charley C. Curry, and the family. Mr. Auston left for Abilene the first of this week but the son remained here for a longer visit.

kitchen korner

This week's kitchen korner' personality is Eddie Lockaby, a native of Post.

Eddie does all of her own yard work, including mowing (the liberated female) and sews for the girls in the family, making most of their clothes. In the summer she cans and freezes food from the garden and makes jelly for the winter months.

A favorite hobby of Eddie's before the children, was painting, but when they got older they also enjoyed the hobby (wall murals) so she had to give it up. Several of Eddie's original paintings are hung in her home, but most, she says are hid under the bed.

Danny, husband and farmer, built a work shop in their back yard where he designs and builds some of his own farm equipment.

Todd, age 8 and a second grader, helps his mother work in the yard. At the present, his passion is baseball, mainly because it is in season. Todd loves school, and likes to bowl when he can talk someone into taking him.

Jacqui, four, the family live wire, next in line to her mother, loves to play with the neighbors and visit in the drug store.

The Lockaby's are members of the Church of Christ where Danny is songleader.

Eddie's recipe is what she calls her "quicke" in case company drops in, you are in a hurry, or your just happen to like it.
