The Spectator...

By Mary Brecheen

...ally, statistics don't impress me, but I have read some that were mind to put it mildly.

Bullock, State Comptroller of Public Accounts, reported on July 28 that mixed drink taxes during April, May, and June totaled $11 million. Now, I didn't say total sales, but the sales--which represents ten percent of receipts from the sale of mixed drinks. That's $11 million! That's 21 percent of the $52 million collected during the year in 1975.

At the same sitting, I read some statistics about Government spending that were hard to understand.

They say that our government's fiscal year will begin on October 1 instead of July 1. The first three months is referred to in many budget reports as a T.Q., or transition quarter.

Get this: During that three-month transition quarter, the Federal Government (mine mine mine) will be spending $98 million--equivalent to all federal expenditures during the adoption of the Constitution through 1929 (see, you see), and that includes the cost of the Civil War, the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish-American War, and World War I. That's $200 million more than was spent in the year John Kennedy became President. They're calling it a mini-budget!

...on the "maiden voyage" of the planning for the Harvest Festival scheduled to be held in Tahoka and Lynn County in early fall.

The zeal and enthusiasm born preceding and during the July 4th events have not waned and for another county-wide extravaganza. It will be disclosed in the near future.

Tahoka Lass Gets A Head Start On Her College Career

Few prospective college students have an opportunity for a "trial run", so to speak, but high school senior Beverly Harvick of Tahoka was given that option the first six-week term this summer.

She took advantage of the Advanced Studies Program at Baylor University in Waco and earned seven hours of college credit, four in introductory chemistry and three in sociology. And, listed under fringe benefits, she got a taste of dormitory life and the first hint of homesickness.

Beverly will be in Tahoka High School this year with the normal load of classwork and extracurricular activities. After graduation she will return to Baylor and "pick up where she left off" this summer, on her road to obtaining a bachelor of science degree in nursing which, incidentally, will be the realization of a lifelong dream.

To participate in the Advanced Studies Program offered by many colleges and universities, a student must be in the upper one-fourth of his high school class in scholastic rank and be recommended by his high school principal or counselor.

While she was on the Baylor campus this summer, Beverly was granted no preferential treatment because she was in the Advance Studies Program. "My chemistry lab teacher was surprised to learn just in a conversation in the lab one day that I had not yet finished high school," Beverly said, "but for the most part, no one knew that I was not a college freshman."

This precocious student will enter Baylor with twenty semester hours to her credit--almost a year's work. Besides the seven hours she earned in this summer's classes, she has taken advance placement tests for three hours of English and three hours of history (Western Civilization), tests which are available for any high school student who has mastered the subject matter.

College credit is given is the student scores high enough on a given test. Also, because she scored in the ninety-two percentile, on a nationwide scale, on the ACT (American College Test), she received credit for four hours of general biology and three hours of English.

The remarkable aspect about the whole thing is that Beverly is the normal "red-blooded American girl"--she plans to be in the high school band this year and will be enrolled in trigonometry, civics, health, and Spanish II classes--all in addition to teaching private piano lessons and working on the high school yearbook. In year's past she has been an outstanding basketball player.

When asked about what instrument she would play in the band, Beverly said, "I really don't know anything about any except the piano, but I think I can catch on fast enough." And odds are that she can and will.

Beverly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Harvick of Tahoka.

Harvest Festival Plans Aired At Kickoff Meeting

Nadine Dunlap, chairman of the Harvest Festival Committee, presided at a meeting of committee members on Monday night at the Southwestern Public Service Reddy Room.

A tentative date was set and the groundwork was laid for activities being considered. Members attending will follow up on assignments before the committee convenes again on August 23rd.

Monday night's meeting was attended by Mrs. Dunlap, Gerald Moore, H. B. McCord, Jr., Ray Mason, Frank Oglesby, Rhonda Reid, Sherry Tilley, Chloe Jan Wells, Jeanel Edwards, and Mary Brecheen.

Disastrous Hail Wipes Out Crops

BY FRANK HILL

Disaster in the form of hail Thursday night of last week wiped out or badly damaged vast areas of Lynn County. County Agent Bill Griffin estimates 35,000 acres of crops, mostly cotton, have been wiped out or so badly damaged production will be very low.

Biggest area of hail damage was east of Tahoka extending from south of Six-Mile Store northward just east of Wilson, west of Slaton, and on up into Lubbock County. Affected area was a jagged line two to five or six miles wide.

Another cloud at about the same time destroyed or badly damaged crops from the old Dixie community north of Tahoka, west and south to the Brownfield Highway.

East of town a few of those affected included the Calloway Huffaker lands, farmed by Wayne Huffaker, T. B. Mason, the Huff land farmed by Dean Daniels, T. A. Stone, Dan and Tommy Stone, Preston Hall on the Mays land, and many others in the area.

Lloyd McCormick, Jr. reported damage was extensive east of Wilson, north along FM 400, west of Slaton, and nearly to Lubbock.

North and west of town, crops damaged included Robert Warren, D. R. Adamson, W. T. Kidwell, the T-Bar pasture and T-Bar lands farmed by Jim Wells, "Bones" Smith, and the Jack Hoskins farm.

South of town, the Grady Lankford and Lester Adams operations also received damage.

Jack Hoskins is reported to have declared, "The hail wiped out my cotton crop, plucked my watermelons, snapped my beans, and shucked my corn." Some people can keep a sense of humor even in disaster.

Heavy rains accompanied the hail clouds, ranging from a half up to two inches.

Tahoka had some light hail and recorded .63 inch of rain to bring the total since July 2 to 8.39 inches and total so far this year to 14.45 inches.

Sherry Etheredge Says

Food Preservation Season is Here! Here are some common questions-answers you might be interested in knowing:

What about canning in the oven?

Not recommended.
--Oven temperatures vary as the heat goes off and come on again.
--Dry heat will not penetrate the same as steam under pressure or boiling water.
--Pressure may build up in jars and cause an explosion.

Why must one process fruit? Can't one just cook it, fill the jars and seal?

Not recommended.
--There are many other spoilage organisms - bacteria, yeast, and molds. These may be present on utensils used in filling jars, on the jars and lids, on hands and clothing, in the air, or even in the heated food. If done according to directions, the boiling water bath sterilizes all contents and the jar (or can) and kills organisms which might cause spoilage.

What causes loss of liquid during processing of vegetables?

--One or more of the following may be the cause or causes of one's problem. Check them carefully and reflect on what one did or failed to do so one will not have the same trouble again.

--packing food too tight in jar

--filling jars too full non-starchy--fill to within 1/2 inch of top starchy--fill to within 1 inch of top liquid for all vegetables, fill to 1/2 inch of top
--Too high pressure.
--Fluctuation in pressure.
--Sudden lowering of pressure.

--Leakage of steam at petcock or around lid of pressure cooker.

--Opening petcock before gauge returns to zero.
NOTE: If jar is too full, product will boil over and start a siphoning. Leaving 1/2 inch head space at top gives room for product to boil without boiling over.

How does one clean their canner?

--Various alloys in the metal upon which the physical properties of water and certain foods will react causing the canner to darken. This discoloration will not affect the food cooked in it in any way; however, if one would rather have a clean canner, it can be done by placing a quantity of water in the canner up to the line of discoloration. Add one tablespoon of cream of tartar to each quart of water used. Place cover on canner and raise pressure to 15 pounds. Remove from heat, allow to stand for several hours

Lynn County News

(overnight is best). Remove pressure regularly, empty contents, and scour inside of canner with a steel wool cleaning pad. DO NOT USE CLEANERS CONTAINING LYE, ALKALI, OR POT-ASH.

If you have questions about food preservation, call the Extension office at 998-4650.

Try These Recipes yellow squash pickles

8 cups sliced yellow squash, cut about 1/4-1/2 inch thick
1 tablespoon pickling salt
2 cups chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup apple cider vinegar
1 1/4 cup granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon mustard seed
1/2 teaspoon celery seed

Wash and slice squash. Sprinkle with salt and set aside for one hour. Bring vinegar and sugar to a boil. Add squash, onion, and green pepper and bring to a boil again. Pack hot squash, onion, and pepper into hot sterilized jars. Add mustard seed and celery seed to vinegar-sugar mixture and bring to boil again. Pour over squash to within one-half inch of top of jar. Place lids on jars. Process 10 minutes in boiling water bath.

CURRIED ZUCCHINI PICKLES

24 (7 pounds) medium zucchini
1/2 cup pickling salt
3 cups granulated sugar
3 cups vinegar
1/2 cup mustard seed
4 teaspoons celery seed
1 tablespoon curry powder

Cut zucchini in one-fourth to one-half inch slices; sprinkle with the salt; add cold water to cover. Let stand three hours. Drain; rinse with cold water.

In 10-quart Dutch oven, combine sugar, vinegar, mustard seed, celery seed, and curry. Bring to boiling. Add zucchini; heat through, but do not boil--about five minutes. Pack zucchini and syrup into clean, hot pint jars, leaving one-half inch head space. Adjust lids according to package directions. Process in boiling water for five minutes. Start counting time when water returns to boil. Serve chilled. Makes nine pints.

Any person who was in the Tahoka graduating classes from 1913 to 1920 or anyone knowing of persons in those classes, are asked to contact Mrs. Jake Dunlap in Tahoka.

Mrs. Dunlap is chairman of the Fall Harvest Festival committee and plans are being made to have this event coincide with Tahoka's annual homecoming celebration.

PCA Leaders Convene In Amarillo

Directors of Lubbock Production Credit Association will join PCA officials throughout Texas in Amarillo on August 12 for the Production Credit Association's Directors Conference.

Director participants include Cleve Littlepage, chairman of Tahoka, Dewey E. Wells, Jr., vice-chairman of Ralls, T. A. Elmore of Tokio, A. B. Roberts of Littlefield, and Keith Young of Seagraves. Alton Strickland, president, and David S. Sooter, vice-president and secretary, will accompany the group.

Strickland said the conference will re-emphasize credit, policy and management functions of the Production Credit System and bring directors up to date on services provided to Texas PCAs by the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston, source of most PCA loan funds.

Lubbock PCA has loans outstanding to area farmers and ranchers of approximately $53 million.

Musicians To Entertain At Grassland

There will be no admission fee and all persons are invited.

A gallon of oil can be shipped from Louisiana to New York more cheaply than a post card!

The price of gasoline in America is cheaper than in any other nation that has national control of the oil industry.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1963
The oil industry is competitive with other industries such as automobiles, television, cereals and soaps!

If the major oil companies are broken up, there are indications that the price will pay for gasoline and other goods.

WORSHIP OF THE LORD'S CHURCH (3)

When should Christians observe the Lord's Supper?

The apostles' doctrine implies that the Lord's Supper should be observed "often" (1 Cor. 11:25, 26). It stands to reason that God would not leave the matter of "how often" to human wisdom (2 Peter 1:3). Acts 2:42 states that the early Christians were "continually devoting themselves to the apostles' teaching and to fellowship, to the breaking of bread and to prayer." The definite article in the Greek text makes it "the breaking of THE bread" is a particular bread and not an ordinary meal as in Acts 2:46.

Now let us find an example that will objectively settle the question of "how often is continuously." Acts 20:7 says, "And upon the first day of the week, when we were gathered together to break bread, Paul discoursed with them, intending to part on the morrow." Note that the passage reads "the first day of the week". How many times a year does the first day of the week occur? Fifty-two times a year occurs. When Christians observe the Lord's Supper every Sunday, they are following the example of Acts 20:7.

The Jews never bothered to ask which Sabbath day the Lord had in mind when He commanded them to "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy" (Ex. 20:8). They knew that He meant every Sabbath day there was.

Religious people today know which first day of the week Paul had in mind when he said, "upon the first day of the week let each of you lay by him in store" (1 Cor. 16:2). Every one there is. When did the early Christians break bread? "ON THE FIRST DAY OF THE WEEK". This was the practice for all the churches (1 Cor. 4:17).

The Greek grammar in Acts 20:7 indicates that the "gathering together" had been ordered by another identical wording is in Matt. 2:4 where those who came together did so because the king had ordered it. Who ordered the "gathering" in Acts 20:7? The Holy Spirit sent by the Father in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. (John 14:26).

"Brown Thumb" Rules-Of-Thumb For A Garden In The House

Lush green plants add a refreshing touch to any home's decor. However, if your home's too dark or drafty for plants...if you lack a "green thumb"...or if you just want to fill-in and brighten-up hard-to-decorate areas, spruce up your abode with beautiful imitation house-plants.

With a bit of ingenuity, your home can look like a veritable Garden of Eden. To keep these lifelike, plastic beauties looking their attractive best, spray them with Glass*Plus* glass, appliance and cabinet cleaner, and wipe with a clean cloth or damp sponge. That's all the care they need!

Tax Rate Will

To Editor

The views expressed in "Letters to the Editor" are not necessarily those of this newspaper.

Dear Editor:

I would like to bring it to the attention of the people of Tahoka an incident that happened at my home this week.

One of our local businessmen, though I care not to reveal his name, killed my dog that I gave my parents as a present. Some people have no concern for animals or the feelings of the people who own them. I hurt very much because I lost the dog, which had died for several days.

I hope this man can do something like this, next time he starts to do something like this, he will think twice before he does.

Boll Weevil Treatment Underway

BY BILL GRIFFIN
Officials of the Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program say they are gearing up for fall spraying operations and that intensive mapping and scouting procedures already are underway.

Administered by Plains Cotton Growers and USDA's Plant Protection and Quarantine Service, the program was set up in 1964 to thwart the westward migration of the boll weevil from its overwintering habitat in the rolling Plains. Cotton producers in a 15-county control area along the Caprock are participating in the program.

Plains Cotton Growers Executive Director Ed Dean, is helping PPQ officials coordinate the control effort, which that each year, every acre in the infested areas throughout the control zone is individually mapped by scale, shape, and acreage as possible, then numbered.

they apply insecticides throughout the area.

Dean says the general survey which will be carried out by as many as 30 to 40 survey teams is scheduled to get underway above the Caprock on August 9. These teams provide the information on a weekly basis which serve as the basis for decisions in programming fields for treatment.

Diapause Boll Weevil Control Program officials emphasize that bollworm counts will be made right along with weevil counts as the surveyors work each field. Every consideration will be given to bollworm problems or potential bollworm problems when treatment decisions are made. Surveys to verify infestations will begin below the Caprock August 16.

"With the possible exception of some selected fields above the Caprock, the target date for the beginning of insecticide applications is September 6," Dean adds. "This delayed starting date should greatly reduce the threat of bollworm infestations which have been a concern to many producers when treatments were starting on August 25, and should make possible more intensive treatments for diapause weevils late in the operation which are actually the target of the Diapause Control Program in the first place."

Dean says that if it appears that substantial acreage can be saved from infestation and treatment by treating some early infested fields above the Caprock before this date, then such treatments may be carried out. Otherwise, treatments in such fields will begin September 6, the general beginning date.

"It should be recognized that all fields cannot be treated on the beginning date, but if weather permits, all infested fields should be treated within a three to four-day period thereafter," he adds.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS...

Screwworms have mounted a siege on the Lone Star State this spring and summer and the coming months hold little promise for relief.

Virtually all of Texas is now subject to the menacing flesh-eating livestock pest.

Recent cases in Montague County in North Texas and in Baylor, Cottle, Kent, and Motley Counties in the Rolling Plains mean that screwworms are now within striking distance of all livestock in the state. Therefore, it's vital that producers check their livestock regularly, spray for flies, treat any wounds, and send any worms found in wounds to the Mission Lab for identification.

If the worms are identified as larvae of the screwworm fly, then action will immediately be taken to bombard the area where the case was reported with sterile flies reared at the Mission Lab. Sterile flies will breed with wild screwworm flies, rendering any eggs that they may lay as sterile. Thus the eggs won't hatch. Of course, the screwworm fly dies after mating, so the mating process with the sterile flies breaks the reproductive cycle of the screwworm.

Texas screwworm cases in June totaled 2,306 and were double those recorded in June of 1975. That makes this June the third worst on record since the screwworm eradication program got underway in 1962. Through July 28 a total of 6,398 screwworm cases have been confirmed in Texas this year.

Lynn County has one reported case of screwworms confirmed by Mission Lab. Screwworm samples should be mailed to the laboratory for identification. Canisters are available in the County Extension office.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Will Be Labor Day

The Cal Farley's Boys Ranch 32nd rodeo contest, known nationally, is scheduled for Labor Day weekend, September 5 and 6.

Approximately ten thousand people are expected to drive to the Ranch over the two-day period where nearly 150 boys will be riding calves, steers, Brahma bulls, and broncs in the Boys Ranch Rodeo Arena.

The rodeo is also a homecoming for the approximately three thousand boys who have lived at the Ranch since it was started by Cal Farley in 1939.

An added attraction will be Texas-size barbecue beef plates that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1.50. Reserve box seat tickets at $2.50 are on sale at the Boys Ranch Office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and seventy-five cents for children under twelve. Performances are scheduled for 2:30 each afternoon.

Three County Students Attend Waco Seminar

Three students were invited by the Lynn County Farm Bureau to the annual Texas Farm Bureau High School Citizenship Seminar held July 12-16 on the campus of Baylor University in Waco.

The students, whose names were submitted by high school principals, chosen on the basis of scholastic achievement, leadership ability, and character, were Lynn Poer and Tracy Dulin from New Lynn County and Keith Swinney from Lynn County.

Guest lecturers at the seminar included Dr. Clifton Ganus, president of Harding College in Searcy, Arkansas;

Lynn County Farm Bureau

Dear Sirs,
I would like to express my appreciation for you sending me to Waco, for the Citizenship Seminar.

It was an experience that I'll never forget. I learned so much about our wonderful country and how my generation can help our country stay wonderful. I also learned things that will help me a lot in school.

The speakers were excellent, in my opinion. They all had very interesting topics to talk about and talked about their topics in a lot of very interesting ways.

Already since I have gotten home, I have talked to many of my friends and relatives about what I learned.

Like I said earlier in this letter, it was a great experience for me. I met so many new friends and besides learning more about our country, I learned about how wonderful Farm Bureau is.

I always knew Farm Bureau was good for my family, but I never knew how good it was until I went to Waco and learned more about it and what it does for us.

Again, I would just like to say how very much I appreciate your sending me to Waco. Thank you so very much!

Yours truly,
/s/ Tamera Dulin

Dear Farm Bureau Members,

I have witnessed one of the most intriguing weeks of my life—until now. I had not realized the threat of communism in our United States was so great. May I remind you that our forefathers were searching for religious freedom when they established our constitution and slowly, but surely the American's religious ideals and moral standards are deteriorating. It is through this wearing-away process that Communism plants its seed. I challenge the American society and myself to see Communism as a weed in our crop and take it upon ourselves to get rid of that spreading weed by establishing stronger moral standards and increasing our faith in God.

I was able to meet some of the greatest, knowledgeable men in America. One especially influenced me—that being Dr. Clifton Ganus (President, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas). He repeated a quote many times that expresses a philosophy toward America. "America is great because America is good. When America ceases to be good, she ceases to be great!" And how true this is and can be. Beware, America. Think back 200 years ago and realize that the freedom won then is in danger now.

Gentlemen, the lectures heard at this Seminar were invaluable, far more than any American money. Freedom cannot be bought. America must change. God must once again be the "Father of our country, religion, the backbone of our nation." I believe it can be done—because God blessed America.

Lynn County News

Thank you so much for allowing me the privilege of this knowledge and your concern and belief in the youth of America will certainly be the most valuable teacher of all. I would like to attend one of your meetings and meet each of you personally if possible. And I could report on the Seminar briefly. Happy Bicentennial! May we remain "...one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all!" Thanks again!

With great admiration,
/s/ Keith Swinney

Also, on July 6 and 7, White attended the TFB 1976 Statewide Commodity Conference.

At the meeting he

Tahoka Ladies Tour Texas Hill Country In July

Three Tahoka ladies can attest to the fact that one doesn't have to leave the state of Texas to have an informative and interesting tour.

Dorothy Kidwell, Trudy Schuknecht, and Leona Holden returned to Tahoka on July 27 after touring the LBJ Ranch and other sites in that vicinity.

About a day's drive from any Texas entry point, the famed Texas White House, built of native limestone and wood and facing the Pedernales River, was purchased by ex-President Lyndon Johnson in 1952.

In 1972 the Johnsons donated much of the ranch to the National Park Service, but Mrs. Johnson has continued to live there since the President's death in 1973.

According to Mrs. Holden, the National Park Service conducts tours of the ranch area at regular intervals each day, the tour taking about one and one-half hours. It includes a drive by the one-room school in Junction first attended by Lyndon Johnson in 1912 at the age of four; a stop at his reconstructed birthplace and the nearby Johnson Family Cemetery where the ex-President is buried; and a drive through the ranch. Most visitors to the area stop first at the LBJ State Park, off U. S. Highway 290, which includes a museum, theater, nature trails, swimming pool, picnic facilities, and wildlife enclosures.

Mrs. Holden told also of their visit to the Johnson boyhood home in Johnson City. Of special interest there was the ride in a horse-drawn wagon to the headquarters of the grandfather of LBJ, Sam Ealy Johnson, Sr., when he drove herds of longhorns up the Chisholm Trail between 1867 and 1872. Called the Johnson Settlement, it and the boyhood home are part of the LBJ National Historic Site.

The ladies also visited Mrs. Jeanette Schulz in Houston and took Tracy Schulz home, she having visited in Tahoka with her grandfather, O. L. Kidwell, and other relatives.

Wilson Lions Hear Talk On Curbing Crime

'Without opportunity, there can be no crime' was the key statement of an address made by Sgt. V. J. 'Bub' Redwine to the Wilson Lions Club on August 5. He further stated, 'Remove the opportunity and you have made a major step in curbing crime.'

Assisting Sergeant Redwine was Rodney Crews, with the juvenile branch of the Brownfield Police Department. The two law officers then showed a film and stressed ways in which opportunity for crime can be removed.

Among the many points mentioned were plenty of light, good neighbors, good locks, and an awareness that crime does exist, but by working as individuals and/or as a community or neighborhood, most crime can be prevented.

The regular meeting of the Lions Club was also designated as Ladies Night.
