LYNN COUNTY JUDGE V. F. JONES, left, visits with Congressman Bob Krueger during his brief stop in Tahoka last Thursday afternoon.

Krueger Visits Tahoka On His Tour Of Texas

As part of his 130-stop whirlwind tour involving more than 77 cities and towns across the state, U.S. Representative Bob Krueger carried his U.S. Senatorial campaign to the citizens of Tahoka on Thursday, August 18th.

In keeping with the person-to-person campaign which Krueger promised the more-than-5,000 friends and supporters who attended his campaign kick-off on July 4, the Congressman plans to visit towns of every size all over Texas during the Congressional recess beginning August 6 and ending September 6.

"Slick media campaigns have become the rule rather than the exception in politics today. When I ran for the U.S. Congress, I visited every town, regardless of size, in the 21st District. I really believe that person-to-person contact is the only way to become sensitive to the needs of the people I seek to represent," the independent Democrat explained.

Krueger pledged to attempt to visit every town in Texas and to visit each one of the 254 counties in Texas on an individual basis during his year-and-a-half journey for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

"The people of Texas would like to have faith and trust in all of their elected representatives. It is my hope to represent all segments of the Texas population to assure that each person will have the opportunity to attain his or her full potential," Krueger explained.

"I believe Texas needs more than a vote in the U.S. Senate; Texas needs a voice. I want to be that voice for all the people of Texas," he emphasized.

Mysterious Death Of Couple Is Being Investigated By Lawmen

Lynn County Sheriff Norvell Redwine told The News on Tuesday of this week that he still had no significant clues in the mysterious death of Cruz and Ermelinda Garza Herrera, of the New Lynn community, who were reported to have been married approximately two weeks ago.

Redwine was contacted at 3:10 a.m. on Saturday, August 20, by a Tahoka couple who were enroute to their home and who said that they ran over "something" and upon investigation, discovered the two bodies, on FM Road 1054, five miles north of Trotter's Store on the Post highway.

Sheriff Redwine contacted Justice of the Peace N. E. Wood, city policemen, and County Attorney Gerald Huffaker who found Herrera's body in the middle of the road, and the body of the girl was lying partly on the pavement and partly on the road shoulder, the bodies being about forty feet apart. Her shoes were found six feet apart also.

The car belonging to the Tahoka couple, who reported the finding, had no damage except to the under side, indicating that the bodies had to have been in a prone position when struck.

A Lubbock pathologist, however, said that injuries indicated that they were standing when hit.

Officers say that the pathologist report indicated that the victims had not been drinking and that neither had been shot nor stabbed.

Geronimo Herrera, father of the male victim, told officers he took the couple to Lubbock Friday morning to look for work and they (the

By Mary Brecheen

Some poet said "nothing is so rare as a day in it" or something like that.

Nothing could be so rare as last Saturday in Tahoka. The individuals who put their heads together and planned the Fish Fry, to benefit the Firemen's Ambulance Fund, did themselves a favor—not to mention what it did for the firemen—the more-than-400 others who came.

It was truly a "meeting of the minds," and the cliché, "a good time was had by all," was most appropriate. It just seemed that right then and there the Mini-Park "came of age" and now everybody knows it's there and that it does indeed meet the needs of the people.

Arriving earlier in the day tended to add extra faces, and it was just generally a warming thing that folks had about the whole thing!

Bob Porterfield, in his usual efficient manner, headed up a "batch of cooks" who turned an abundance of good food and the "icing on the cake" was that every person there thoroughly enjoyed the fellowship as well as the food.

More Than 400 People Enjoy Fish, Fun, Fellowship At Mini-Park

BY MARY BRECHEEN

The food was delicious and the weather was beautiful at the Firemen's Fry last Saturday at the Mini-Park in Tahoka.

Firemen cooked the fish and all the trimmings and it was served by their wives.

According to Fire Chief J. T. Miller, 466 people were served, and the Emergency Ambulance Fund, which benefited from the occasion, has climbed to more than $9,000.

The August 20th affair was "cooked up" several weeks ago by individuals who wanted to help the Volunteer Fire Department pay for a van which has been ordered and which will be equipped to serve as an emergency ambulance for the citizens of Lynn County.

Those who contributed the food or money for such and/or services are as follows: Higginbotham-Bartlett Lumber Company, Carl Reynolds; First National Bank, F. B. Hegi; Piggly Wiggly, Turner Rogers and W. T. Kidwell; Perry Variety, Bill Woods; Lankford Variety, Grady Lankford; Joe Durham; Jif-E-Mart, Steve Kimberlin; and Tahoka Cafeteria, Maxine Paris.

Jim Bob Porterfield was overseer for the cooking and serving of the meal.

Donors whose names have not been published previously are as follows: Charles Townes, $30; J. M. Johnson, $10; Bill Barham, $25; Meldon Leslie, $25; Fern Leslie, $25; Mrs. A. C. Aycox, $10; Virgia Cobb, $20; Mrs. L. T. Robertson, $20.

Also, E. T. Cloe, $25; Bill Cox, $20; Roy Stephens, $25; O. C. Sikes, $100; Grady Lankford, $50; Fred McGinty, $50; Grady Herrin, $10.

Also, Pat Childers, $25; Finis Rogers, $25; Wayne Huffaker, $50; Carl Griffing, $50; J. F. Brandon, $25;

Also, Edward Bartley, $50; Herbert Smith, $25; Roy LeMond, $10; Arlys Askew, $20; Jessie Russ, $100; Arvis Brewer, $5; W. O. Whorton, $35; Billy Davis, $10; Bray Chevrolet, $100; Garland Pennington, $20; N. E. Wood, $25.

Also, Mrs. Emil Prohl, $25; Mrs. J. Clinton, $25; Mrs. Lady Stewart, $25; Echo "87" Motel, Mrs. Earl Wrestler, $50; Hudgens Pump Company, $25.

Also, Lucille Knight, $20; Natt Park, $100; C. T. Ingle, $25; and Tahoka Rebekah Lodge No. 209, $50.

BALLARD AND JERRY FORD were two of the many who cooked the fish, French fries, and hush puppies, others rushed the hot food to the serving line.

WINSTON AND CAP WHARTON and Mr. and Mrs. Othell Meeks, on the left, Larry Hagood on the right—picture self-explanatory!

ANDRA, AND TERRI SOLOMON and Mrs. Austin [unclear] like their fish picnic-style. In the background, the [unclear] make good use of the Mini-Park playground equipment.

EDGAR HAMMONDS, Jesse Dorman, Jess Gurley, Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Chestnutt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ford, and others, eat their fish in the shade of a building. Fred McGinty sells tickets to the occasion, at the table, far right.

MRS. J. T. MILLER, the fire chief's wife, serves Mr. and Mrs. George McCracken. Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Raindl are just ahead of the McCrackens.

VIRGINIA HOUSE, Chloe Jan Wells, Nadine Dunlap, and Jo Carol Long sold home-made ice cream for the Chamberettes' Harvest Festival fund. Leighton Knox, Sr., in the wheelchair, seemingly approves of the situation.

County Cotton Association Ladies Plan Sew-It-With-Cotton Contest

Ladies of the Lynn County Cotton Association are planning a Sew-It-With-Cotton Contest to coincide with the County Harvest Festival on September 24th. The contest involves a great deal of expense, but will involve more people and possibly sell more cotton than two or three other promotions combined, said association officers.

Local ladies will have a booth at the Festival as well as at their club meeting on September 12th, in order to sell items to help defray expenses of the contest. Adults and children's sweat shirts, T-shirts, desk sets, tote bags, and letter openers are just a few of the items to be sold, all items having the cotton emblem on them.

Creative Craft Show Planned

The Cotton Association is planning to take advantage of the talented people in the county in addition to promoting cotton. A Creative Craft Show has been planned and any metal sculpture, oil painting, or wood craft, etc. that pertains to cotton, or any embroidery, quilting, etc. made from cotton will be exhibited at the Harvest Festival.

Prizes will be given at the Craft displays and to the models of the Sew-It-With-Cotton Contest.

An entry blank, listing the seven categories, and contest rules may be seen elsewhere in this edition of The News. Entry blanks should be in by Friday, September 16, and judging will be Monday, September 19, at 7 p.m.

Winning garments will be displayed at the Harvest Festival and cash prizes will be given.

Entries in the Creative Craft Show should be in by Thursday, September 15 and should be sent to one of the following: Jo Carol Long, Box 8, Tahoka; Pam Womack, Box 849, Tahoka; Joy Bragg, Route 4, Tahoka; Betsy Pridmore, New Home, or Virginia Gatzki, Wilson.

ALMA FAYE HALLMARK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Hallmark, displays the 29-inch string-bean grown in the family's backyard garden. Mrs. Hallmark says the bean is grown in the Philippines and can be shelled, but she prefers to snap them. It is not uncommon for the beans to be more than 20 inches long, but this is the longest they have grown.

Caution with Picnic Foods Urged by Home Economist

Picnic foods such as fried chicken, roast beef, or baked ham, as well as potato salad, deviled eggs or cole slaw should be avoided on outings unless there is a way to keep them very hot or cold, says the Texas Department of Agriculture home economist. Bacterial growth could make these foods unsafe to eat within three or four hours, she said. Also, for safety when storing food, cooked meats, poultry and seafood should not be stored for more than one week in the refrigerator. These types of leftovers should always be heated to at least 165 degrees before eating and gravies and broths should be boiled for several minutes. This is to ensure that any bacteria, which can grow in a refrigerator that is not cold enough, are killed.

Mrs. C. T. Oliver Is Honored By Friends On 85th Birthday

BY MARY BRECHEEN
The honoree was not the only surprised person at a birthday party last Friday, honoring Mrs. C. T. Oliver of Tahoka.

The occasion was supposed to be a surprise for the "birthday girl" and it was that, without a doubt; however, it was also a surprise to many of her friends when they learned that she was 85 years old that day.

Many 85-year-old folks have reserved a rocking chair and a walking cane, but not so with Mrs. Oliver, a 53-year resident of Tahoka.

She was born Ellen Seroyer on August 19, 1886 in Alabama, to the late Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Seroyer, and her four sisters and one brother are all deceased.

The Seroyer family moved to Johnson County, Texas when little Ellen was eleven years old, and in 1917, still in Johnson County, she met and married the late C. T. Oliver.

The young couple moved to Comanche, Oklahoma, and because of Mr. Oliver's yen for West Texas farmland, they moved to Tahoka in 1923.

He passed away in 1957, and the two children, a son, Charles, and a daughter, Jeannette Balch, live in Houston.

There are five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren, two of whom are high school age, another hard-to-believe fact, with one so young-in-heart as Mrs. Oliver.

The 85th birthday party was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reddell and their daughter, Anita Billman. Besides the 18 guests who "made the occasion," Mrs. Oliver received a dozen red roses from her family and still another bouquet was delivered to the First Baptist Church for Sunday services, in her honor.

The moss certainly does not grow under the feet of the senior citizen. This year, she went by jet plane, alone, to the Northeast to visit a grand-daughter, and saw the sights in Washington, D.C.

When asked her feelings on the changes in her hometown in the past fifty-three years, she readily said, "Oh, the houses. Why, when we first came here, the block behind Grandmother (Mrs. C. A.) Thomas's house was fenced for horses!"

She's seen many changes, and prospects look good that she will live to see many more.

The Scientists Tell Me...

Many Birds Are Busy, Useful City Dwellers

By Robert L. Haney
TAES Science Writer

Many urban people in Texas are unaware of the dozens of useful tasks performed by "city birds."

The glimpses of bird life they catch may be limited to a flash of color, a snatch of birdsong, or perhaps a fat pigeon foraging for crumbs on a curbstone.

"I developed a profound appreciation for useful, urban birds," says Dr. Keith Arnold, "in a most unusual way.

"For the past 10 years I've been studying problems associated with some urban birds, especially several blackbird species.

"At certain periods of the year these birds are serious pests when they congregate in huge numbers in small areas. Especially during the fall and winter months, these birds form such large flocks and roosts that they are a great nuisance. My research for the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has been designed to seek humane, effective ways to eliminate, or at least curtail, this nuisance.

"However, paradoxically, at other times of the year these same species, most of which also dwell in cities, may be very beneficial to humans.

"Study of pest species has led me to a greater appreciation of those species decidedly beneficial to humans.

The most obvious benefit that birds offer city dwellers is insect control. Birds are a low-cost method to hold down insect numbers.

Such noxious insects as mosquitoes, house flies, and cockroaches are included in the diets of many urban birds. Grackles, starlings, mockingbirds, and wrens are among the common urban species that Arnold says consume large quantities of insects, either for part of the year or year-round.

During the warm months of the year, the urban skies are patrolled by insect-hawks such as chimney swifts, purple martins and nighthawks while yellow-billed cuckoos skulk in the shrubbery, feasting on juicy caterpillars.

Even many seed-eating birds such as cardinals and house sparrows feed large quantities of insects and related species to their hungry offspring.

Where nest cavities are available, either through nest boxes or tree hollows, the insect patrol is supplemented with such birds as titmice and chickadees. They thoroughly examine the twigs and branches for their insect diet and are joined by ladder-backed, downy and red-bellied woodpeckers which dig into insect-infested trees and shrubs.

Barn and cliff swallows may join the sky-patrol if recent road building in the city has formed square culverts over water courses.

Rat patrols, so welcome in rural areas, are not common in cities by daytime birds-of-prey such as hawks and falcons. But the night patrols are carried out by barn and barred owls which co-exist with humans in the city environment and thrive on city rats and mice.

The smaller screech owl, which also continues to thrive in towns and cities, is more of an insect eater than a mice eater. And in more open urban areas, the carrion-feeding vultures still aid in cleaning streets and roads of car-killed mammals and birds.

In the less-populated portions of many cities, the roadrunner, a cousin of the cuckoo, manages to live and thrive on snakes. This bird also eats lizards, as well as large insects and spiders.

The seed-eating birds are useful, not only for the joy they bring bird watchers willing to put out a little seed, but also because of their consumption of large quantities of weed seed.

And the delicate, delightful hummingbirds, ruby-throated or black-chinned in most of the state, may help pollinate certain plants as they go about gathering nectar and insects in urban yards and gardens.

"We shouldn't expect that birds will solve all urban problems regarding insects, rats, mice, or snakes," Arnold cautions.

"Instead, we should recognize that these birds make the problems less difficult than they might be. And the presence of this group of wildlife in our environment makes it more interesting and enjoyable."

BOB BULLOCK
Comptroller of Public Accounts

Dear Mr. Bullock:

I am a widow and am considering doing sewing in my home to supplement my social security check. My customers will provide the materials and I will be doing only the sewing.

Must I collect sales tax for my work?

Yes. A seamstress is considered a manufacturer or processor and manufacturing and processing labor is taxable under the law. Therefore, you must collect the tax.

Contact my Field Office nearest you. They will assist you in obtaining a Sales Tax permit, and provide any information you may need on collecting the tax.

Dear Sir:

Are soft drinks and other snacks dispensed by vending machines subject to the sales tax?

Yes, if the sales price of an individual item exceeds 16 cents. In most cases, the tax is included in the price to the customer. The vending machine owner then rebates the tax to the state.

Mr. Bullock:

What happens to the estate of a person who dies without leaving a will and has no known heirs?

If no heirs are located, the deceased's estate goes to the State of Texas after seven years.

Dear Mr. Comptroller:

How much state and federal taxes do Texans pay on gasoline?

The state tax on gasoline in Texas is five cents per gallon, the lowest in the nation. There is an additional federal tax of four cents per gallon.

Ask Bob Bullock is produced as a public service to the taxpayers of Texas by the State Comptroller's Office. The answers here do not necessarily apply in every similar situation and should be used only as a general guide.

PRESENTED BY THE STATE BAR OF TEXAS

Q: My common-law husband and I live in the home he owned before we met. He has children by a previous marriage. We have no children. He has a will leaving the house to his mother and sisters living in another state. What chances would I have to continue living in the house in the event of his death?

A: The surviving widow has a right to remain in possession of the homestead during her life. This right would not be affected by the fact that the title to the homestead may be passed to some person other than the widow by the terms of the will.

Q: My husband was married once before. His former wife asked that their only child be made beneficiary of his life insurance until the child reaches 18 years. I would like to know if I would receive any benefits from the policy should something happen to him.

A: It all depends on how he set it up. When he named beneficiaries at the time the policy was written, he could have designated most anyone or the estate in general. It's true he could make such an agreement which would benefit his child and not you as his wife. He could also change beneficiaries if he wants to.

Q: In filing a suit for damages resulting from an auto accident, my attorney said his fee would be one-third of any court judgment awarded in my favor. Could I save money by paying the lawyer on an hourly rate instead of this kind of contingent fee arrangement?

A: Ask your lawyer to give you an estimate of the number of hours he expects to spend on the case and whatever expenses would be involved. Most law suits for damages are handled on a contingent fee basis for two major reasons: most clients prefer to have the option of paying the lawyer nothing if the law suit is not successful and many clients do not have the financial resources to initiate a law suit. Explore these options fully with your lawyer before making a decision.

BILL GRIFFIN SAYS

CERTIFICATION TO BE REQUIRED OF PESTICIDE APPLICATORS

Pesticide applicators who use or supervise the use of restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides will be required to become certified, effective October 21, 1977, barring further changes in federal or state laws.

This certification of applicators is required by the Federal Insecticide, Fungicide and Rodenticide Act (FIFRA) as amended in 1972 and 1975.

Persons who own or manage a pesticide application business engaged in the application of restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides to the land of another (commercial applicators) are required to be certified and hold a license. Additionally, a person or government agency or department which wants to use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides (non-commercial applicator), and who do not qualify as a private applicator must do likewise. These requirements are part of the Texas Pesticide Control Law.

Persons will be licensed by the appropriate state agency as either certified commercial or non-commercial applicators. Certification is based on a written examination administered by the designated state agency. Four state agencies have been identified to certify applicators concerned with four major control areas--agricultural pests, animal pests, aquatic and health-related pests.

A number of categories of commercial and non-commercial applicators have been established by regulations set forth by the Texas Pesticide Control Law.

If you qualify as a commercial or non-commercial applicator and anticipate that you will use restricted-use or state-limited-use pesticides, you will want to contact the appropriate state agency to obtain additional information regarding the requirements and your obligations under the new laws.

Applicators working with agricultural pest control should contact David Ivie, Director, Agricultural and Environmental Sciences Division, Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. The telephone is (512) 475-4457.

For applicators working with animal pest control, the agency contact is Carl R. Watson, DVM, Texas Animal Health Commission, 1020 Sam Houston Building, Austin, Texas 78701. The telephone is (512) 475-4111. Applicators working with aquatic pest control should contact David Barker, Texas Water Quality Board, P.O. Box 13246, Austin, Texas 78711. The telephone is (512) 475-5695.

Health-related pest control applicators should contact Bobby L. Davis, Health Program Specialist, General Sanitation Division, Texas Department of Health Resources, 1100 West 49th Street, Austin, Texas 78756. The telephone is (512) 458-7111. (This agency will become the Texas Department of Health on Sept. 1)

Although training is not a requirement for certification, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service--as the educational arm of the U.S. Department of Agriculture--is conducting workshops for persons who may seek a training opportunity as they prepare for the written examination. These Extension workshops are being conducted over the state and are publicized through mass media by district Extension committees located at the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Centers and by local county Extension offices.

Applicators who have questions concerning the Extension Service training workshops--such as dates, location, and categories in which training is to be offered--may wish to contact the local county Extension agent, Lynn County Extension Service office is located in the county agricultural building, and is a part of the Texas A&M University System.

Rain Helps Some Crops

Scattered rains have fallen in the county this week, the amounts varying and the greatest amount reported being 1 1/4 inches at New Moore, in the southeast part of the county.

Other areas reported less than an inch.

County Agent Bill Griffin says that the cotton which had already burned badly would not be helped by the recent rain. That cotton is beginning to open now.

The cotton which was in fair condition, having received some light rain earlier in the month and that which was not planted solid, will be helped temporarily, but will not hold longer than a week or ten days, in the high temperature.

September might well be dubbed "Agriculture Month" on Texas High Plains, notes Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

"No less than four farm-related events are scheduled to occur all or part of seven days during the month," he points out, all of which should prove attractive and beneficial to farmers.

The first annual High Plains Agribusiness Exposition kicks off September 8 and runs through September 10 at Lubbock Memorial Civic Center. Planned are educational symposiums, marketing of agricultural commodities, estate planning, and energy development, a natural fibers fashion show, microwave cooking demonstration, a special presentation on cotton and what is billed as the largest array of agricultural equipment ever assembled on the High Plains. Over 150,000 sq. ft. of exhibit space will be occupied.

The 68th Annual Texas A&M Research and Extension Field Day is set on the afternoon of September 13, featuring fungicide seed treatment studies, seed quality testing, biological control of seedling diseases and verticillium wilt control, field tours and displays of farm machinery developments.

On the evening of September 13 begins the annual meeting of the Food and Fiber National Institute of Achievement (FFNIA). Also to be held in the Civic Center, the meeting is designed to further FFNIA's stated purpose "To help the American people better understand how their lives are influenced by changes in food and fiber production and processing."

Registration will begin at 3:00 p.m., followed by a banquet from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. Representative Jamie Whitten of Mississippi ranking Democrat in line to succeed Congressman Mahon as Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee will be keynote speaker. Congressman Mahon, who announced his retirement at the end of the current term, will be in attendance.

The FFNIA meeting will continue at 9:00 a.m. September 14 with an address by Larry Meyers, USDA Legislative Liaison Assistant, on "Energy and the Food and Fiber Situation." Seminars and panel discussions will then be held on cotton, cattle and feed grains. The cotton session, beginning at 10:00 a.m. will feature an address by Robert S. Small, Chairman, Chief Executive Officer of Dan River Mills, Inc., Greenville, N.C.

The finishing touch on the month of agricultural events will be a textile study tour sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. The tour will leave Lubbock at 7:00 a.m. on September 29 and return to Lubbock the night of October 1. Tour participants will visit the corduroy and denim manufacturing operations of Cone Mills of the Greenville N.C. area, and also tour the research facilities of Cotton Incorporated, Raleigh N.C. A tour "bonus" will be a form of reserved seat tickets to the Texas Tech University of N.C. football game on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1. PCG's Johnson emphasizes that reservations for this need to be made prior to August 30 to permit filing a transportation list with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

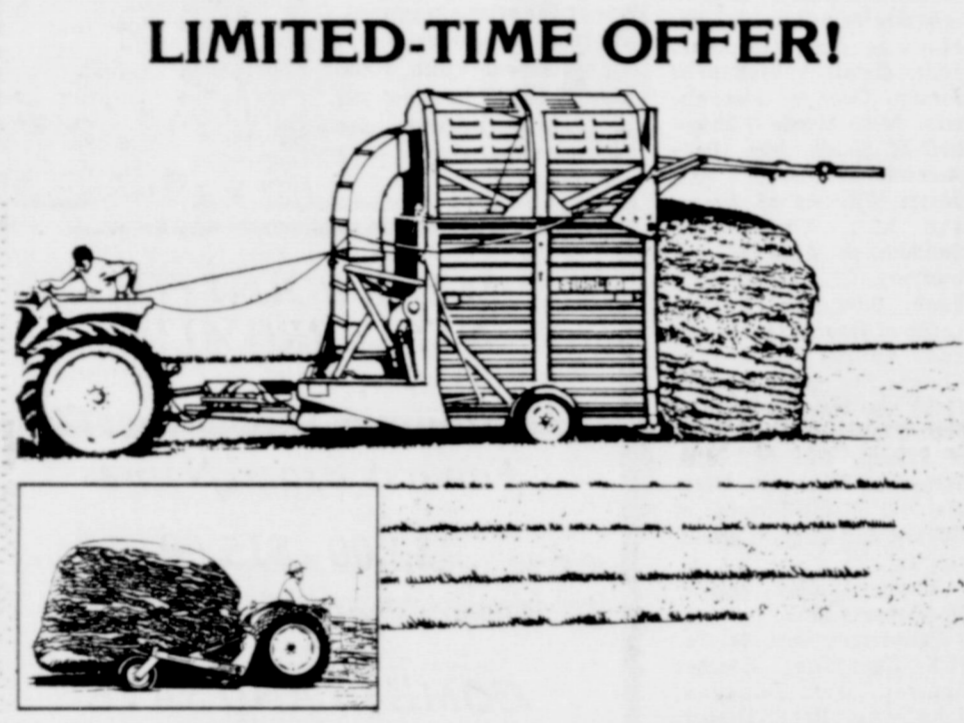

Eye Misconception

Though a Gallup poll indicated Americans fear blindness more than any disability other than cancer, many people still have misconceptions about eye health and care.

According to the American Association of Ophthalmology, some common eye misconceptions are:

- People who wear glasses should have them checked each year to see if a new prescription is needed. True or False?

False. According to Paul R. Lichter, a ophthalmologist, "Glaucoma is nothing to do with the health of the eye. It is a disease of the eye which can be checked each year. So long as the vision they have is their present vision, there is little reason to check for a change."

Special Thanks

We would like to thank the Tahoka firemen for letting us have the opportunity to help them in raising money for the ambulance, by furnishing the fish and other food for their fish fry.

The meal was an excellent chance for everybody to meet and visit together.

We think that the firemen are the finest. There is a lot of difference between our department and the ones we have been reading about in the papers--those who have been on strike and who have let people's houses burn to the ground.

This ambulance is a wonderful thing for a back-up ambulance when the other one is busy, and we are sure that the Tahoka firemen, with their training in first-aid and other things, will do a fine job.

The boys will need money for upkeep and other expense, but Tahoka people have always been No. 1 in helping.

The firemen give a lot of their time and they go in all kinds of weather to help others--day or night.

Thanks again.

Friends of the Tahoka Volunteer Firemen 34-1tc
