CAROLYN'S CLATTER

by Carolyn Klaus

I guess living on a farm all my life has made me appreciate and love outdoor living. Even when I'm working I enjoy getting out in the sun for my usually short lunch break. When I have time, I walk over to the Mini-park and enjoy my lunch. It's a refreshing change from an office and seems to put me in a revived state. I want to compliment whoever is responsible for the dream and execution of the Mini-park. It is beautiful and very well maintained. Two of my daughters came to the park with me one day and now they keep asking when they can return because we had a picnic in the park and they enjoyed themselves so much. Thanks for making the park available!

Just to let you know other people share my enthusiasm for the beauty and maintenance, I relay a message from a family traveling through Tahoka on their way home to Brownfield. They had been to a family reunion at Brownfield and had lunch at the Mini-park on one of the same days I was there. They visited with them and they expressed their appreciation for the whole city. They said it was the neatest and most well-cared-for Mini-park they had passed through on their way home. So, again, people of the city of Tahoka, congratulations, other people do notice your efforts.

Recently we received another letter at our office adorned with one of those blindingly bright colored circles that make you wonder how some letters have them and others don't. Of course, I knew it was some sort of post office identification but I still wanted to know more about it.

After several telephone calls I was able to get enough information to give a partial explanation. When a post office sorts their mail they tie the letters into bundles according to zip code. Then they put one of those little circles on the top letter (that's why only a few letters have circles) to tell the next post office where the bundle belongs and how it should be sorted.

For instance, if the circle has a 3 on it that means the bundle goes to the post office designated by the first three digits of the zip code. Then each letter or number on the circle has a particular meaning which makes each letter be treated in a certain way. At last some of the "Mystery" is explained.

Tahoka Schools Expand Programs For The Coming Year

By Carolyn Klaus

JIM COULSTON, Superintendent of Tahoka I.S.D., is busy with part of the mounds of paper work to be completed before a new school year can begin.

ready for the school year to begin.

Other improved or expanded programs mentioned by Coulston, starting his second year as superintendent, were:

1. An expanded bilingual program in Kindergarten through grade 5;
2. The migrant program will have three additional teachers by using Federal funds;
3. North Elementary will have the aid of members of the P.E. department in teaching physical education instead of the classroom teacher performing that task.

A breakfast program will be starting this year.

A new business manager's office has been added to the northeast corner of the high school. This will also be the tax office. Parking will be reserved in the gym parking lot and along Avenue P for tax office customers.

Jim Marcus, high school principal, added his comments about the coming year, "several new academic courses were started last year in the Junior and Senior high school which has greatly benefited the students in our school." These courses became necessary when the graduation requirements were raised from 60 quarter units to 66 quarter units.

Nancy Hommer, C.I.S.D.; and Julie Duncan, Region XVII ESC

A reading committee, composed of teachers inside the school system, have visited several West Texas schools and observed reading programs so now the entire staff is anxious and

O'Donnell To Host County Sew It With Cotton Contest

By Carolyn Klaus

Any number of industries and crops have gotten into a financial bind because they failed to look ahead and create a demand for their product. The cotton industry is no different and right now it seems to be holding on by the skin of its teeth because some researchers were a little late in realizing the problem. It was discovered in the nick of time to save the industry but not early enough to prevent the producer from feeling the effects of the nearsightedness of the industry.

The real solution to the dilemma is to create a demand for cotton by using it and promoting it in various ways. One of those methods was started by Venita McDowell of Southland. Several years ago she, with some other women, dreamed up the Sew It With Cotton Contest to make the home seamstress aware of the versatility of the cotton fabric. Today this contest alone does more to promote cotton than any other three tries by cotton promotion groups.

The Lynn County Sew It With Cotton Contest will be September 23 in O'Donnell. More details will be printed as facts are made available. Entry forms can be obtained from any fabric store in Tahoka, from Jo Carol Long and from the homemaking teachers after school starts.

Large and small fabric stores will stock 100% cotton material specifically for this contest when they know there will be a demand for the fabric. Once the product is in the store people other

The vocational Office Education class which prepares students for work as an office secretary is one of the new courses in Tahoka that has created a lot of excitement.

The Distributive Education program has been expanded to include a Sophomore course to prepare students for the Junior and Senior courses in this area. The new course is called D. E. Pre-Employment Lab and is an introduction to D. E.

Career education has come out in front as a leading interest in the public schools and as a result Tahoka has started a quarter course called, Career Education. This course is taken during the sophomore year and is designed to help students in making a decision about their profession after completing high school.

Junior High also has some new courses and they are: Art, Title I Reading, and a Migrant program.

In Art the students are given an opportunity to express themselves through art. This has been difficult for the art-talented student in the past because the other classes do not offer such an opportunity.

The Title I Reading course was set up to help students improve their reading skills. Many students improved as much as three or four grade levels during the year just past.

The migrant program will take care of the special needs of the migrant student.

Coach A. D. Shaver, in charge of the athletic department, was on hand to give some information about the first competitive sport of the year, football.

Shaver expects Tahoka to be even better than the Bulldogs were last year. They have been rated number 3 among all the class AA schools in the state.

"Last year, you'll recall, that the Bulldogs were picked to finish fifth in the eight-team league, but would not believe it and wound up advancing to the quarter-finals," Shaver said.

Defense and the running game again rank as the major strengths at Tahoka, but the passing game, which almost non-existent a year ago, is the major concern for

Tahoka Rotary Hears Tax Reform Speech

The current tax situation, effects of spiraling inflation and its relation to high taxes, and the probable desirable effects of decreasing taxes were emphasized in a talk at the Rotary Club last Thursday, August 3, by Bill Fisher, Abilene attorney and certified public accountant.

He pointed out that to combat inflation, the country needs incentives for increasing productivity by all workers, or tools that allow people to produce more on a basis of increased pay only for increased production. He thinks this could be achieved through proposed tax reform acts by Congress. He also advocates a reduction in inheritance and estate taxes.

Although not mentioned in the meeting, Fisher is the Republican candidate for representative from the 17th Congressional District.

Dr. David Midkiff introduced the speaker.

Hopkins County Reunion August 13

The Hopkins County Reunion will be held August 13 in Mackenzie State Park (Little House) at the East Broadway entrance in Lubbock.

Wilton J. Payne

Payne Elected As State REA Vice-President

Wilton J. Payne of Tahoka has been elected to the board of directors and vice-president of the Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives. The action came during the 38th Annual Meeting of the TEC organization August 2-4 in Dallas which drew nearly 600 rural electric leaders and ladies from throughout the state.

Payne is general manager of Lyntegar Electric Cooperative which serves some 16,000 farms, ranches, and other rural enterprises in nine South Plains counties. He has been with the Cooperative since 1947, as manager since 1973.

Payne is a native of Tahoka and attended school here. He's a past president of the Rotary Club and a member of the Methodist Church. He and his wife, the former Dixie N. Shepherd of Post, are parents of two: Kent Payne, who is married and lives in Dalhart, and Paula (Mrs. Clayton) Stegemoeller, who resides in Lubbock.

3,200 Attend Lyntegar Annual Meeting

Lyntegar Electric Cooperative held their annual meeting Tuesday night, August 8, at the Tahoka High School football field.

The skies had been cloudy all day and by 7:00 p.m., when the barbecue meal was scheduled to begin, the temperature was low and the atmosphere was just right for a cool evening under the open skies. People came from many miles to visit with people they seldom see and to participate in one of the few meetings left of this sort. There were people from every age in attendance, from babies to the "older generation", and most everyone present seemed to enjoy the activities.

More than 3200 plates were served at the meal and in order to make their visit more comfortable people brought furniture from home, such as lawn chairs, card tables, and blankets. Before the actual meeting began there were all sorts of activities going on among the crowd. The children played with each other as children will do when they gather in a crowd. There was even a game of pitching baseball between a father and a son, they didn't want to miss the opportunity to spend some time devoted to each other.

At 8:00 p.m. the business meeting began with G. O. Hensley, President, calling it to order.

The main item on the agenda was the election of two directors. N. W. (Pete)

Weeks was elected for District 3 and Gonzell Hogg for District 4. It was also announced that the capital refund checks from 1963 would be mailed to the members on August 13. Since the organization is a cooperative the members share the profits from years past after all expenses have been dispensed.

A voice vote was taken and those present agree to have the same kind of meeting again next year.

Doorprizes, some donated by suppliers and some

GENTLEMEN ON THE SPEAKER stand bow their heads as the invocation is given at the Lyntegar annual meeting. The children are already starting to gather to draw names for the doorprizes given each year.

THE CHILDREN of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Roberts invite you to attend an Open House honoring their parents Sunday, August 13, 3:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon at 1801 South First, Tahoka.

Sherry Etheredge Says . . .

Ten Tips On Spice Use

1. Stir instant minced or powdered onion and garlic to taste into canned soups, stews and sauces.

2. Potatoes, carrots, peas and tomatoes are delicious seasoned with a bit of basil, oregano, or tarragon and a little instant minced onion. Add the herb during the last five to ten minutes of cooking.

3. Black pepper adds mysterious fragrance to the "sweet spices" in spice cakes. Use about 1/8 teaspoon in a standard layer cake.

4. Stir toasted sesame seed into your favorite poultry stuffing; it adds delicate flavor and crunchiness. To toast, scatter in a skillet over moderate heat and stir constantly for a minute or two.

5. Blend a liberal measure of paprika, chili or curry powder into mayonnaise and spread over fish fillets before broiling or baking.

6. Stir a couple of teaspoons of caraway seeds into the cheese sauce for a macaroni and cheese casserole.

7. A half teaspoon of anise seeds, cooked briefly in the syrup for a pound of fresh or dried fruits gives delightful aroma to the compote.

8. Rub ground ginger along with your usual seasonings into a chicken or turkey before roasting.

9. Powdered mustard in an oil and vinegar salad dressing not only adds a distinctive nip but makes the dressing creamier.

10. Pumpkin pie spice is a perfect seasoning in cakes, cookies, fruit pies, baked winter squash and sweet potatoes.

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed and in good taste before it will be published; however, the writer may request that his name be withheld. Letters are not edited as to grammar, punctuation, and spelling.

In the August 3 edition of The Lynn County News, there appeared a "letter to Mary" from Jess Gurley, and I ask your indulgence to answer him via this column. Dear Jess:

It makes me quite humble to receive a compliment "in private," and it certainly is a "feather in my cap" to be praised publicly, via The Lynn County News, especially by one of your caliber. I beg your permission to answer publicly also.

You are so right in your assessment that Tahoka is a good town, but I think you're a bit generous in your opinion of my personal contribution. I was probably "in the right place at the right time," admittedly, to do something, and I would certainly like to think that I left any place at least as well off, and hopefully better off, than I found it, whatever my position in life.

I have strong convictions about an individual using, to the fullest extent, his talent. If I am endowed with the ability to dig a ditch, then I feel very strongly that I must dig the very best ditch in town! And that's the way I feel about any activity--do it well or not at all.

Tahoka has some unique qualities, not all of which are good, but that is true with any place. However, there are so many good things, that one is able to overlook the bad. I venture to say that at no time have the town and the school (which go hand in hand, incidentally) more nearly on the verge of "reaping a bountiful vest." The community blessed with many energetic, capable people and confident that many things are imminent.

Before my departure from Tahoka, I was the recipient of a gift of money and wishes from many people, one of my idiosyncrasy write personal, individual thank-you notes, and eventually get around doing just that; however, due to pressing duties common to a move, etc., I am slow to do so. I will eventually hear from the Lord willing.

I thank you for your wishes in my new venture, I am enjoying the challenge learning all about an exciting job. You subscribe to the Lynn County News, thank you friends over at the Land Bank Building, Tahoka, and I look forward to it with a great anticipation.

Sincerely,
 Mary B. Gurley

than those sewing expressly for the contest will see it and buy it, thereby introducing someone new to the joys of cotton. So, ladies and gentlemen, go to those stores and make your request known if you want to help promote cotton.

The main requirement for the contest garment fabric is that it be made from 100% cotton. Also if a blouse or shirt is worn with the garment it too must be made of 100% cotton fabric. So, ladies be careful of that when making your selections so as not to be disappointed later. Make your purchases early before the selection is picked over.

Watch the paper for details of the District Sew It With Cotton Contest to be held in Tahoka later this fall. Some of the plans sound like a new and unusual twist has been added to the contest that some of you men might really enjoy.

the wing-T oriented offense. Fifteen lettermen, including seven offensive and eight defensive holdovers, are back. But the favorite's tag has meant little in this district the last five years, Shaver reminded. In fact, teams with a 9-1 record have stayed at home the last three years.

Shaver concluded with the fact that he will leave everything like last year except that he would like to see larger crowds for the season games. He also plans to leave the crowd's enthusiasm to the good group of cheerleaders the school will have.

Superintendent Jim Coulson summed up the whole interview with, "the students have just decided to become what they are capable of." He added that he thought the school was reaching the well-rounded point because of their good record in sports and also a good showing in other UIL events during the year. They won second in the UIL literary events last year and two of their speakers competed in state. He sees no reason why this year should not be better than last year.

Wilson ISD Breakfast Program

Texas is mandated by public law #136 to offer breakfast in all schools where 10% or more students are eligible for free and reduced priced lunches. Effective this school term the Wilson I.S.D. will offer a nutritious breakfast for its students. It must be pointed out that the breakfast will be a very light, not heavy, breakfast and will provide 1/2 of the daily nutritional requirements for 10-12 year old students. As specified in the breakfast regulations, the school breakfast shall contain as a minimum the following components:

- Fluid milk-1/2 pint served as a beverage or over cereal.
- Fruit or vegetables-1/2 cup serving of one or both, or full strength juice.
- Bread or cereal-1 slice of enriched bread or an equivalent serving of biscuits, rolls, muffins, etc. or 1/4 cup whole grain cereal, or any combination of these items.

Protein rich foods and other additional foods may be served with breakfast as desired.

elevate corps to a competitive level. The students who attended were: Flags: Lana Brown, Dusti Cook, Cathy Meeks, Mary Alice Sosa, Isabel Salinas, Brenda White, Ira White, Maria Zuniga, Geneva Zuniga, Shirley Sandoval, Diana Vega and Amy Porterfield; Majorettes: Perry Dunlap, Colette Williams, Cindy Lawson, Tamara Kelley, and Robin Taylor; and Drum Majors: Suzy Lawson and Oralia Vega. The Tahoka bunch came back with awards and trophies in the following order, Flags, 2nd Place Trophy in Flag Corps, beating out a 4A High School, Garland; 2nd Place in Majorette Competition and 1st Place trophy in overall spirit. The camp was extremely helpful to our entire team in several ways. They were able to see other corps working together and relating our program to theirs, creating a spirit of unity in or corps, competition against larger schools, as well as individualized classes designed specifically for our musical need and capabilities. We feel the community will be surprisingly pleased at our first football game.

Over 341 million pounds of red meat were produced in Texas during May, 13 per cent more than a year ago, states Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown.

Simple Home Canning Tips Can Keep You Out of a Jar

AUSTIN—The 1978 Texas peach crop is expected to be a near-record, and this means many homemakers will be hard at work canning the delicious fruit, notes Texas Department of Agriculture home economist Fran Carling.

With this in mind, the Department offers the following tips to make that home canning a whole lot easier:

1. To insure sterile condition of containers, pour boiling water into jars. Any jar that has a lid which is interchangeable with the canning rings can be used.
2. Also boil lids and rings to insure that everything that comes into contact with the fruit is sterile. Place a set of tongs in boiling water to sterilize them and to lift lids after boiling.
3. Pare peaches as close possible to avoid waste. Peaches may be placed in wire basket and scalded in boiling water to remove skins.
4. Before putting lids on the jars, make sure the jars are free of any foreign matter such as peach bits. Fasten rings securely in place in canner containing clean water.
5. Bring the water to full rolling boil for 10 minutes, depending on ripeness of peaches being processed.
6. Remove jars from canner, cool overnight. Remove rings before storing if desired.

SWEET PICKLED PEACHES

The aroma of vinegar, cinnamon and cloves used in these recipes has a nostalgic mood with memories of Grandma's kitchen. Spiced pickled peaches are used as an accompaniment to meat, as a side dish or as a snack. They provide Vitamins A and C, and a pickled peach contains only about 52 calories.

- 7 pounds peaches, peeled
- 3 pounds sugar
- 2 cups vinegar
- 2 cups water
- 3 small sticks cinnamon

Boil sugar, vinegar, water and cinnamon to make syrup. Add peaches. Cook until tender, jar and seal.

Don't Keep Those Favorite Recipes All to Yourself

AUSTIN—Attention Texas homemakers! Now those recipes that are so popular with your family can get the statewide recognition they deserve.

"The Texas Department of Agriculture is seeking recipes to use in the October issue of the TDA Quarterly, a magazine distributed throughout the state that deals with the Texas agriculture industry and its products," said Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown. "The fall edition will feature spinach and sweet potatoes, so any recipes using these vegetables are especially needed."

Brown noted that recipes utilizing pumpkin also are requested, as well as those for winter soups and other cold weather dishes.

"The October issue will be devoted to stories dealing with the various ways Texas' bountiful harvest is stored," Brown said. "The new grain reserve program will be dealt with, as well as how to smoke bacon the old-fashioned way. In addition there will be an article on problems with grain dust explosions."

Brown noted that the TDA Quarterly is available to Texas residents free of charge. Send all recipes to: Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, Texas Department of Agriculture, P. O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. The deadline is Sept. 1.

R FOOD REQUIRES EXTRA CARE

Food intake during the summer is another area where lack of knowledge can have unpleasant results. Seafoods, custards, mayonnaise and many other foods don't have much staying power when not properly refrigerated, frozen, or consumed promptly.

Nobody knows how many cases of "food poisoning" are brought about by careless habits of food storage and serving during the summer months, since most go unreported, but you can bet the total is much higher than need be. Pay attention to the warnings and seek information about food poisoning. A lot of needless suffering may be avoided.

ELMER LINDSEY, owner and operator of Lindsey's Gin Repair and Supplies, received his first dollar from Winston Wharton, president of the Tahoka Chamber of Commerce. Lindsey has serviced and repaired gins all over Texas and parts of New Mexico. He and his wife, Paulette, have three children.

While bollworm eggs can be laid anywhere on the plant, most will be found on the upper surface of new terminal growth (light green in color) and on the bracts of squares. Eggs that are brown in color are probably within 24 hours of hatching. By counting eggs, you can get some idea of the kind of pressure your field is experiencing, what level of worm infestation you can expect in the next day or so, and just how much control is coming from beneficials. If you find 20 or more eggs per 100 plant terminals and beneficial activity is not very good, excessive square damage could result following egg hatch.

Worm counts are of special value because they give us some idea of the damage potential and if done properly can indicate the degree of control we can expect. Small worms (1/4 inch or less in length) are our treatment target although medium worm up to 1/2 inch in length can be controlled to a limited degree. Larger worms than this are very difficult to kill because they frequently are inside fruit. Even if large worms were outside and exposed, it would be next to impossible to put enough material down to kill these beasts. Therefore, it is important when counting worms to divide them up into the 3 size categories.

Newly hatched bollworms are most often found in the terminal area and require close scouting to locate. Many of you are either unwilling or simply can't see these small worms. Detection at this size is critical if chemical applications are to be made in time when needed. Prior to the first chemical application, 10 or more small bollworms per 100 plant terminals could cause excessive fruit loss.

Prebloom cotton can usually tolerate less than 15-25 percent green square damage before suffering a yield loss. Once bolls are encountered, 8-10 percent green square damage is a more appropriate treatment level. However, after a hard chemical has been used and beneficials have been removed, a cotton field is in the care of the aerial applicator only. Therefore, once green square damage exceeds 4 percent and eggs plus 4-5 small worms are found, another chemical application may be warranted.

Further information may be obtained by contacting my office.

Oil Revenue Boosts County Income

The multi-billion dollar boost that oil and gas industry operations gave to the Texas economy in 1977 was shared by the citizens of Lynn County.

The marketed value of petroleum production in the county has been calculated at $2.3-million in an economic activity profile of the state's top producing counties prepared by the Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

"Texas' oil and gas industry remains the cornerstone of the economy of the state and of many of its counties," said the Association's president, H. B. (Hank) Harkins, Alice, independent producer and drilling company executive. "It is imperative that the state maintain taxing and regulatory policies which will encourage the growth of this industry."

Lynn was one of 201 counties last year which produced petroleum with a marketed value of $100,000 or more. The county ranked 179th in the estimated total value of petroleum produced. The Association has computed that some $2.2-million came from the production of 248,200 barrels of crude oil, with approximately $67,100 attributed to an output of 74,200 MCF of natural gas. Payments last year to owners of royalty in the county were calculated at $288,800.

While paying local, county and state property taxes, producers in the county also helped support state government through production tax payments estimated at $108,200. This included $103,200 from crude oil output, $5,000 from natural gas.

The search for additional petroleum continued in Lynn County last year. Oil and gas developers spent an estimated $1.7-million in the drilling of 11 wells, including four classified as wildcats. Some $1-million of that amount was lost in seven dry holes. The four strikes all were oil wells.

4-H Achievement Program Develops Rural, Urban Youth

4-H Achievement Program winners know how to work for social progress, both in urban and rural projects.

An example of the scope of projects conducted by National 4-H Achievement Program winners include an Arkansas youth who is a member of the 4-H energy conservation group which will function at the state level. Another example is a Virginia 4-H'er who raises and trains horses and gives riding lessons to disadvantaged youth and to physically handicapped people.

4-H members, ages 9-19, can achieve in a broad range of learn-by-doing projects and activities supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service. Achievement in 4-H means acquiring skills and sharing them with others.

4-H achievers can earn county, state and national awards donated by the Ford Motor Company Fund through the National 4-H Council. Awards include up to four medals of honor at the county level, an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress to one 4-H'er per state, and $1,000 educational scholarships for nine national winners.

Young people can learn more about the National 4-H Achievement Program from their county Extension agents, adds Whitaker.

Boys Ranch Rodeo Set For Sept. 3 and 4

At Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, thirty-six miles northwest of Amarillo, 385 pint-sized cowboys are getting ready for their thirty-fourth annual Boys Ranch Rodeo.

Practice rides on the broncs and bulls have been going on since June with only about 150 riders expected to appear in the Ranch rodeo arena over the Labor Day weekend. They will be competing in bareback bronc riding, Brahma bulls, steers, calves and even stick horses for the three-to-six-year-olds. It is the only rodeo of its kind in the nation in which boys riding professional rodeo stock under RCA rules are the only contestants.

Approximately 3,000 boys have lived at the Ranch since it was started in 1939, and the rodeo is also a traditional homecoming for the Boys Ranch Alumni Association. Some of the graduates and their families travel long distances to attend.

An added attraction will be Texas-sized barbecue beef plates that will be prepared and sold by the boys for only $1.50. Reserve box seat tickets at $2.50 will be on sale at the Boys Ranch Office, 600 West 11th Street in Amarillo. General admission will be $1.50 for adults and $.75 for children under twelve. Performances are scheduled for 3:00 p.m. each afternoon, September 3 and 4.

Helon Rains Completes VIT Workshop

Helon Rains of Tahoka has just completed the requirement recently completed the Vocational Industrial Teachers Workshop in Dallas which was sponsored by T.E.A. and T.I.V.A.

The course for vocational industrial personnel is a two-summer program which enables students to obtain the courses required for state certification in their respective fields of employment.

Many health experts are concerned about tooth decay in young children. To protect your baby's teeth, avoid using a bottle as a pacifier at nap or bedtime. Prolonged contact of baby teeth with juice (or formula) can promote dental caries.

If the bottle remains in the baby's mouth, the saliva cannot neutralize juice acidity, which can harm tooth enamel.

Let me reassure you there is a place for juice in a baby's diet. Gerber strained juices are an important source of vitamin C and are naturally sweet. After the child is 6 to 8 weeks old, juices may be fed from a bottle or training cup. Remember that your child should be in an upright position when eating or drinking.

Agriculture Commissioner Urges Care To Avoid Damage From Herbicide Drift

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has urged that herbicide users be especially careful when making applications, noting that over 20,000 acres of cotton in Navarro County were recently damaged by drift from weed killers.

"Our herbicide specialists have made an aerial survey and affirm that the acreage has been affected by herbicides such as 2,4,5-T and 2,4-D," Brown said.

Brown said an investigation has been initiated as to the source, and "if there is loss in production, it could be responsible for state and federal regulations."

"Spraying should be done when the temperature is below 90 degrees and speeds are less than 10 miles per hour," Brown explained. "Minute amounts of herbicides can have an effect on broad-leaved plants."

"There are many susceptible plants in the state and we want to protect them," Brown said.

Many people believed that the damage was caused by drift from the state rather than the

INSECT SITUATION

Cotton continues to make excellent progress where moisture is adequate. Fields which set an early crop of fruit are in good shape, but those fields still needing time to make a crop could be in for some rough times before this growing season is over.

Bollworms and tobacco budworms are now a major concern to Lynn County farmers. The majority of bollworm infestations consist of large worms only, as a result of earlier egg lay. I continue to get calls about these older infestations. If you have suffered any yield loss from this first wave of worm activity, then take your lumps and prepare yourself for the next egg lay. There just isn't a whole lot an aerial applicator can do when worms consistently measure out over half an inch.

Egg laying activity should begin to pick up rapidly to start earlier than predicted. Begin checking your fields at least every 3 days, starting at the present time.

Fields receiving moisture from a recent irrigation or rain are a prime area for infestation to show up first. Also, fields next to vegetable gardens containing corn. But don't assume that only these kinds of fields will have an egg lay. The potential populations of bollworms which will infest cotton this month are great.

The Extension area entomologist is checking representative corn fields to the north, have estimated there are approximately 3 billion corn earworms (called bollworms in cotton) which can spill out into cotton this month. With numbers like this, even unattractive cotton fields can get into trouble during an egg lay.

Control decisions for early bollworms and budworms infestations are a real touchy matter. Preserving those beneficials we have and avoiding costly spray programs for the duration of the season is the name of the game. Decisions must be based on established treatment levels and data obtained from proper field scouting.

Cotton fields should be checked every 2 to 3 days using the scouting procedure that follows. Once-a-week scouting is a waste of your time. Egg hatch is about three days and worms grow beyond the treatment stage in 5 or fewer days.

Proper procedure for checking fields prior to initial insecticide application consist of examining at least 100 1/2 grown or larger green squares (not yellowed or flared) in each field. At least 4 sites should be inspected which are representative of the field since egg lays can be scattered and spotted. While examining squares for damage, egg and worm counts should be made. Count separately the number of white and brown eggs per 100 plant terminals.

Besides hurting, injections accomplished by a hypodermic needle can have other drawbacks: possible swelling, infection or tissue damage. But now, a team of Utah University researchers have developed a needleless injection called iontophoresis. The drug to be administered is first ionized (charged with positive ions to conduct electricity) and placed in solution. A small bag, containing the solution is placed on the recipient's arm. Then, a pair of electrodes is positioned, with the positive electrode on the top of the medicine pouch and the negative pole next to the skin, cushioned by a conducting jelly. The positive charge forces the drug through the pouch and into the skin without pain. Taking about six minutes, the procedure produces local anesthesia, to the bone of the forearm) for about 15 minutes, enabling the physician to perform minor surgery or other treatment effectively, and with less medication.
