FIRE DESTROYS HOME--Firemen arrived too late to save the Ronald Wyatt home near New Home last Friday, but did bring it under control in the high winds. The frame home had been burning for some time before the firemen were called. The new siding on the house was part of a recent remodeling job. In the photos below, owner Wyatt is shown at right looking on helplessly as firemen from New Home and Tahoka fight the blaze, turning to listen to a neighbor's expression of condolences in the bottom picture. ## Fire Destroys Farm Home

Fire destroyed the farm home of the Ronald Wyatt family about 12 miles northwest of Tahoka Friday afternoon, as a blaze of unknown origin apparently burned for some time before it was discovered by persons working in the vicinity.

anyone noticed it and called us."

Firemen from Tahoka and the New Home Fire Dept. answered the blaze and used up all the water they could take to the scene, then went for more. But about all they could do was try to control what was left of the frame and siding home.

High winds Friday afternoon made fighting the fire even more difficult, and also kicked up a haze of dust in the area which possibly prevented anyone's sighting the smoke from the fire earlier.

There was no one at home when the fire started, apparently about mid-afternoon. Firemen said the interior of the house already had burned out before they arrived at the scene. Loss of the house and its contents was considered just about total.

Wyatt himself was about five miles away, planting cotton in the Wayside Gin area, and perhaps could have seen the smoke had it not been for the dust which reduced visibility sharply. He arrived as firemen were pouring water on and inside the building and on what was left of the roof. A son joined him later at the scene, to stand and watch in stunned silence as firemen doused the building.

Wyatt said he had recently remodeled the home. All of the Wyatt children were away from home, and Mrs. Wyatt had gone to Lubbock. As a newspaperman talked with Wyatt about 4:45 in front of the burned-out home, she still had not returned or been contacted. Neighbors and friends of the Wyatts also were grimly awaiting her return to be faced with the disaster.

The Wyatts are living in the Methodist Church parsonage until they can rebuild.

No estimate of the monetary loss in the blaze was immediately available.

On Tuesday, Miss Brown was in improved condition at Methodist Hospital and was transferred from the intensive care unit to a private room.

A passenger in the Pontiac was Andra Draper, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Draper. Miss Draper was treated for cuts and bruises and released from Methodist Monday.

Tax Appraisal Law Explained

New laws for appraisal of all Texas property for tax purposes were explained Jim McMories of the Hereford firm employed to appraise Lynn County property was the speaker at Tahoka Rotary Club Thursday.

"This is a new ball game in regard to taxation," he stated. After voters had approved a constitutional amendment, last year's Texas Legislature enacted Senate Bill 621 and House Bill 1060, which radically change the state's tax assessment and collection.

The new laws are supposed to give taxpayers relief, but he doesn't think it will do that for most taxpayers. Because of the balance of power in the Legislature is held by city representatives, the urban areas are due to profit by reductions and the rural areas for the most part "will get it in the neck."

S.B. 621, sets up a new concept in tax appraisal program that will apply to all county entities, state, county school district, hospital district, towns, etc. He is currently engaged in appraising all Lynn County property, real and personal, and the cost of this appraisal is high. He expects to complete the job in 45 days, and the program goes into effect Jan. 1, 1982. He declared he was trying to keep new tax values as low as possible to stay within the law. He must assess all farm property, including, in addition to land, residences and improvements, livestock, implements, cars and trucks.

Those who made application for the optional Agricultural value on land may receive some benefits.

He warned that all properties will be assessed at 100 percent of market value, and each entity in the county will set its own tax rate to meet its necessary budget. But, he said, taxpayers will receive quite a shock, as the last year's tax rate will be on the assessment sheets mailed them, and every person is advised to read the entire sheet for a better understanding.

Joe Hays arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

most businesses were closed. The offices in the courthouse will be open again Monday. The Lynn County News, also open last Monday, will also close Friday.

New Home Schools Are Burglarized

Burglars broke into three school buildings at New Home Saturday night, causing some damage to doors and taking a few items. School officials offered a reward in connection with the incident.

Deputies said six rolls of stamps, a tape recorder and small calculator were among the items stolen. The elementary, junior high and high school buildings were all entered.

City police arrested two persons in Tahoka on charges of public intoxication and one was also charged with unlawfully carrying a weapon, a .38 pistol.

Tickets were issued during the week for reckless driving, excessive noise, and careless driving.

Property Owners Appeal Values

Property Tax

of their right to local boards of

for their property for tax purposes.

er pointed out that meetings are open to public, and the time and must be posted in the ration office of the action and with the appropriate county clerk.

The information is also available from each local tax office by phone; and, at least 10 days before the board meets, notices must also be published in a local newspaper.

Graeber said there are two basic situations in which tax payers are entitled to receive an adjustment in their tax value:

If it exceeds local market values--If you can find and submit to the BOE the kind of evidence which indicates that the value assigned to your property is too high, then you would be entitled to a reduction in its valuation.

If it is valued higher than similar property--Regardless of what other property like yours is selling for, the value of your property on the tax roll should be about the same as the value for all similar properties in the jurisdiction.

The State Property Tax Board director reprimanded taxpayers that the BOE's sole authority is over the value of property. "The board must limit the taxpayer's discussion only to matters concerning property values. Discussions regarding the amount of taxes or the injustice of taxation merely waste the taxpayer's time.

"These complaints should be referred to the appropriate governing bodies," Graeber added.

ACCORDING TO THE BIBLE

BIBLE Answers for BIBLE Questions
By DOUG CARTER

Question: We know according to 1 Cor. 13 that all of miracles will end when the "perfect" comes, this refer to the second coming of Christ, something else? (Part 2)

Answer: A careful examination of the passage context will show that the "perfect" cannot refer to second coming of Christ and the end of the age, we study 1 Cor. 13:8-13, we can see the following stages:

(1) miracles present: faith, hope and love present "perfect" comes.
(2) miracles cease: However, faith, hope and continue, (our age)

(3) The second coming of Jesus: faith becomes hope because fruition, but the greatest of these still abide.

The three stages are clear and distinct. Once we cease, there is a period of time when faith, hope and love continue. After the return of Christ, the faith we have had becomes our "sight". When He comes we will not have to hope for heaven, for we will be if we have been faithful.

Love, the greatest, however, will abide. So, the stages shown, tells us clearly just what the "perfect" is. It is not the second coming of Jesus, but "perfect" comes between states 1 and 2. Jesus' coming will be at the end of state 2. There question, according to the Bible, that the "perfect" refers to the completion of God's revelation to man written word - our Bible and guide to "life" after.

SOMEDAY I may publish a newspaper which has every page in it labeled "Page One". That way, I will be able to satisfy all those people who think nobody reads other pages in the paper.

I also know that saying all the things I'm about to say regarding folks who demand page one coverage is going to upset a few people, so I may put this column on the inside of the paper where there's no chance they will read it.

Whenever someone is president or publicity chairman of some club, or chairman of some fund drive or the other, it's good from the standpoint of the club or campaign or event or whatever it is that the person seeking the publicity is completely convinced that their particular project or field of interest is the most important thing in the world.

It's not always so good from the standpoint of the newspaper (or radio, or whatever). People come in and demand page one coverage (some just ask for it, and some just mention that it would be nice, if possible, bless their hearts).

What they don't know or care about is all the other things that are worth page one which, after all, is only so big. The publisher has to judge all the news and give the best coverage to the things of interest to the most people. His judgement may be wrong, but he at least has the right to make the decision.

Here's an example of how not to get good coverage: Go into the office and tell the editor that you want this story on page one, upper right hand corner, with a big headline, and you have these nine pictures that need to run with it, and don't take anything out of the story, because everything in there about the fund-raising picnic of the Men's Auxiliary of the Campfire Girls Mother's Club is important.

And be darn sure you get it on page one, no matter if the mayor is shot down in the middle of the street or General Motors decides to move all its operations to Tahoka or if Bo Derek takes the math teaching job at New Home.

Anyway, we reserve the right to edit any news we accept, and will promise page one coverage to nobody, but will try to give all worthwhile activities the best coverage we can. Some weeks we'd give page one space to almost anything (we've threatened to fill some front pages during very dead news weeks with a page or two out of the Lubbock phone book), but on other weeks we have so many major items that some very good stories get inside the paper. Actually, we hope that most of the stories inside the paper are good reading every week.

People do read the inside pages, news and advertising. If you don't believe it, try putting something inside that you don't want anyone to read. Or make a big blooper of some kind, as we do on occasion.

The best way to get the most for your favorite project is to bring in all the information and pictures you have and tell us you will appreciate anything we can do for you. This makes us try harder and love you more.

Have pickup, chainsaw, etc. Would like some summer work such as cutting down or digging up unwanted trees, cleaning up alleys, lots, etc. Hauling off junk, trash or whatever. Working hours are 6 p.m. until dark weekdays and all day Saturdays.

Toi Bragg-Robert Forswall Exchange Vows in Tahoka

Miss Toi Bragg and Robert Gale Forswall exchanged vows Saturday, May 24 in a 7:30 p.m. double ring ceremony in First Baptist Church of Tahoka with Rev. Jimmy A. Turner of College Baptist Church in Big Springs, officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy R. Bragg, Sr of Tahoka and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Forswall of Georgetown.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional white organza gown accented with elaborate medallions of chantilly lace. The dress was designed with a fitted bodice of chantilly lace and featured a Queen Ann neckline, long full sheer sleeves decorated with lace medallions and the softly draped skirt ending in a border of crystal pleats at the hemline. The matching chapel length train was also edged in crystal pleats.

Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion was edged in acelon lace and attached to a coil of lace and seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was yellow and white daisies.

Something old was a white linen handkerchief belonging to Grandmother Jessie Tomlinson and borrowed was a pearl necklace that belonged to her mother. She wore a penny in her shoe (1958 the year she was born) given to her by friends of her family.

Decorations for the ceremony were Boston ferns, candelabras with white votive cups, white gladiolas and white carnations. The center aisle was decorated with yellow bows with white daisies.

Organist was Gary White of Tahoka and Mrs. Sherry Etheredge sang the "Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Cheri Bragg, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Lou Ann Case of Georgetown, Inola Hoskins of Tahoka, Paula Bragg of Tahoka and Jennifer Case of Georgetown was flower girl.

The attendants dresses were long yellow batiste with fitted waist and tie sash in back. The dresses had dropped shoulders with ties and ruffles at the hem trimmed in white eyelet. They carried yellow and white daisy nosegays.

Tax Rebate Report

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Monday said May rebates to Texas cities of the one-percent city sales tax will amount to $38.7 million.

Bullock said that while most cities will receive a larger check this month compared to the same period last year he doesn't believe it's because the state's economy is growing at a robust pace.

"We've been tinkering around with our processing system to improve it over the past few months and as a result fund allocations and rebates have shot up from time to time because of improved handling of tax accounts," he said.

Bullock said overall sales tax collections from the fiscal year ending April are up 10 percent compared to last year.

The MTA taxes collected along with state sales taxes by merchants and other businesses are rebated to the Comptroller's office along with the city's share.

Tahoka's net payment period is $5,374.41 in payments to date $20,651.59.

Net payment this period is $1,300.00. 1980 payments to date are $5,643.14.

Wilson's 1980 payment date are $1,076.54.

Rain Helpful to County - Now that we have received rain in Lynn County planters are beginning to roll. As busy as you are, there are a few things you may need to remember and consider.

Small Grain - Small grain is beginning to mature. You may need to check around your farm. If that small grain was not certified as grain for harvest or grazing, it should not be allowed to reach the dough stage. If it does, the farm may lose program benefits. If you have wheat that has failed, you should report it to the office before you plow the ground.

Measurement Service - This service will be offered again this year. If you have fields that will be a problem to measure, you might need this service. If you use this service and certify to what is measured, the acreage measured will be guaranteed for this year. Those that need this service should request it as early as possible. If you wait, we may not be able to complete the measurement of your farm.

Prevented Planting and Failed Crop - The final date you would be required to plant cotton is June 15, grain sorghum June 20. If you are prevented from planting through that date, you must file an application within 5 days to be eligible for payment. You may later plant this acreage to an NCA crop, but your acreage prevented will be reduced acre for acre. Until these dates you would be required to replant a failed crop. After this date you may replant the same crop or go to another crop and still be eligible for disaster coverage on the first crop. Before you plant another crop, you must report the acreage of the first crop and request that it be appraised.

Certification of Crops - The 4-H Project Forms and Design for Discovery forms are due June 4 by 4 p.m. at the Extension office. The records will be judged June 5th. The judging of the fashion show will take place on Friday, June 6 at 12:45 p.m. at the Lynn County Pioneer Club. If there is a question, persons should contact the Extension office at 998-4650.

Comments Sought On Cotton Loan Rules

Cotton marketing agents would be able to receive and pay "form A" loans for their clients at a central county office, rather than having to apply at individual county offices under a proposal made this week by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. "Form A" loans are those generally taken out by individual farmers, while "form G" loans are those taken out by farmer cooperatives.

According to Ray Fitzgerald, administrator of USDA's Commodity Credit Corporation would designate ASCS county offices to serve several cotton-producing counties. Fitzgerald said these central offices would make it simpler for agents to market cotton because the agents would be able to contact fewer offices. When getting a loan in the past, a marketing agent had to go to the client's ASCS county office, Fitzgerald said. Fitzgerald said the proposal would allow cotton marketing agents to help producers sell their cotton for the best price available and at the same time help the CCC loan program to facilitate orderly marketing.

Individual cotton farmers would still have the option to receive and repay form A loans at their local county ASCS office, Fitzgerald said.

The proposed change covers 1980 and subsequent cotton crops, Fitzgerald said. Written comments must be received by June 6 and should be addressed to: director, Price Support and Loan Division, ASCS-USDA, P.O. Box 2415, Washington D.C., 20013.

A VISIT WITH YOUR County Agent

By STANLEY YOUNG

What's the state of Texas agriculture in 1980?

That will be determined from information provided by many Texas farmers and ranchers in a questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service over the next few weeks. A select number of producers will also be interviewed.

Information gathered through these questionnaires and interviews provides the basis for determining acreage devoted to various crops and midyear livestock numbers.

Resulting crop and livestock reports developed from these surveys provide a dependable unbiased picture of Texas agriculture. Estimates derived from these reports serve as tools for farmers and ranchers in working out their planting, breeding, feeding, storing, producing and marketing plans.

Farm organizations and legislatures use this data in planning agricultural programs. The estimates are also used in establishing various government program acreage and payment levels to farmers for the state and county.

Extension Service economists and private firms use this information as a basis for advising farmers and ranchers. Accurate statistics make the job of forecasting more reliable and useful.

All this means that farmers and ranchers are encouraged to promptly and accurately complete the survey forms. These estimates can only be as accurate as the responses, and producers have a big stake in the outcome.

As always, individual farm and ranch information will be kept strictly confidential, and only state and county summaries become part of the published reports.

Sentry Savings Earns High Rankings

Sentry Savings performance in 1979 has earned three rankings in national comparisons of savings institutions in the United States.

Sentry's return on average assets was 1.43 for 1979, giving them 51st place among 2,354 S&L in the U.S. League. Only 10 other savings institutions in Texas made the "top 20" ranking. Sentry was the only West Texas S&L to earn a place on the list.

Sentry was ranked 7th among the "top 100" S&Ls in Texas by Sheshunoff, a publisher of financial ratings and ratios. Sentry also placed 196th among U.S. S&Ls in National Thrift News ranking of secondary mortgage sellers.

"Return on average assets is an industry-wide standard to measure how effective a S&L manages its resources," said Jack Gaulling, vice chairman of the board and CEO. "Sentry works very hard to keep savers' funds at work to earn maximum returns."

Coffee R. Conner, president of Sentry, noted that a healthy return on assets pays dividends to home buyers, too.

"In these times of tight money, Sentry has been able to maintain a steady source of funding for new home construction loans," he said. "At this time, we are actively seeking new loans for FHA, VA and conventional financed homes in the area. Aggressive activity in the secondary market has helped Sentry open up the money market. Sentry has branches in Slaton and Branch, Post, Tahoka, and Lubbock.

COTTON TODAY
A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Yield Problem Explored: The problem of cotton yields was discussed recently by research and Extension representatives and National Cotton Council staff members. The group agreed studies are needed to determine effects such as weather changes, soil erosion, soil compaction, insect pressures, etc., have on cotton yields in specific production areas. The group feels a Beltwide survey of farmers who consistently make high yields would provide useful clues to solution of the problem.

FLCRA Legislation Proposed: A bill amending the Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act (FLCRA) is being proposed by Sens. Williams (D-N.J.) and Javits (R-N.Y.). National Cotton Council representatives. Bill would: (1) exempt any farmer, ginner, or processor who engages in any hiring activity in behalf of an operation owned and operated only by members of the immediate family; and (2) exempt an employee of a family operation if it employs no more than 10 people. Non-family operations, or those with more than 10 employees, would be exempt from registration and fingerprinting, but would be subject to all other requirements. Definition of "migrant worker" which the Labor Department has held means anyone employed in agriculture would be unchanged.
