MAN named Joanne Sherman wrote in a publication the following article, which several persons thought pertinent to the lives of teachers everywhere, and which is the type of dedication and patience teachers must have in order to avoid being gibbering idiots or maybe ax murderers:

God must have created two kinds of regular and teachers.

And, as soon as my hands stop shaking, I'm going to write Miss Parker a letter and HOLES: A lot of youngsters and adults are in Vacation Bible Schools this month. I remember when I was a kid, we made a whatnot of Texas, as well as fooling around with books that had all the names of the books of the Bible on them. I don't know what sawing out a map of Texas from plywood did for my well-being, but I do remember thinking it would have been easier if I'd lived in Mexico...The New Mom on Ave. N says if you sleep like a baby, you don't have one.

GLAD FOR BRAD--Coach Rex Dockery, dwarfed by Tahoka's Brad White, told Red Raider Club members he was happy to have signed White. "And if you see anybody else this size, get his name and phone number," Dockery said. About 200 persons took part in the annual event at Tahoka Lake Ranch last week. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

HUFFMANISMS--Burl Huffman stands and talks to Red Raider fans at the annual barbecue at Tahoka Lake Ranch last Thursday, flanked by Mel Leslie, left, and Leete Jackson. Huffman had much to say about the relative merits of Tech and other schools, particularly the University of Texas, where Huffman said he attended summer school once ("Anybody who'd go to school in Austin in the summertime has to be out of his head"). ## City To Mow Vacant Lots

Owners of vacant lots in the city who want them mowed may call city hall and get the job done at a reasonable rate, city council members said Monday night after voting on a rate schedule for shredding lots to keep weeds down.

Not only does shredding the lots make them look better, but it also helps keep down the threat of mosquitoes and other pests, councilmen said.

Lots up to 100 feet frontage will be shredded for the minimum charge of $10 under the new rate schedule. Anything over 100 feet wide will be charged at a rate of $5 per each additional 50 feet or portion thereof.

Councilmen also noted that city ordinance stipulates that lots which are grown up high in weeds may be mowed and the owner billed for the service without their permission if deemed necessary, but said they would prefer doing the work at the request of the owners.

Councilmen also opened bids on a new tractor and shredder for the cemetery, with the cemetery association to pay for the equipment. Two of the bids were very close, and the council decided to let the association decide which machine it wants.

Additional repairs to an overhead storage tank were authorized, with repairs to an 8-inch center pipe, ladder, float and other repairs at the older and smaller of the city's two overhead tanks expected to cost $1,425 not budgeted in the recent water-sewage improvement project.

City policies regarding use of the community center for dances was reviewed and minor changes were made in the policy, mostly to assure that persons hired to police the dances would get paid a minimum of $30, and also stipulating the time for dances to end, with music to stop at midnight and all premises clear within an premises clear within another hour.

Some new members for the city zoning board were nominated, subject to their being contacted and agreeing to serve.

Former POW To Speak In Tahoka Next Week

Lt. Gen. John Peter Flynn, a fighter pilot for the U.S. in three wars and who was a prisoner of the Viet Cong for five and a half years, will speak twice in Tahoka next week.

Flynn will speak at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the First Baptist Church, with everyone invited to attend, and will speak to Rotarians and visitors at the Tahoka Rotary Club's Thursday noon (June 12) meeting, which has been moved to Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church so more people will be able to hear Gen. Flynn. Women of the Methodist Church will serve the meal Thursday at a price of $3.50 per plate. Non-Rotarians may attend, but should notify either Jim Solomon at 998-4519 or Carl Reynolds at 998-4211 by noon next Tuesday if they plan to attend the Thursday luncheon.

Flynn, who was shot down over Hanoi, was the highest-ranking American prisoner of war held by the North Vietnamese. At the church meeting Wednesday, he is expected to stress the value of a belief in God to persons facing such incredible ordeals as the POWs endured. A nursery will be provided. At the Rotary session, he will speak on the current need for military preparedness. Now a resident of Windermere, Fla., Gen. Flynn will be accompanied here by his wife.

Gen. Flynn was flying a F-105 as vice commander of the 388th Fighter Wing in Thailand when shot down by a surface-to-air missile over Hanoi. After release, he was the commandant of the Air Force Command and Staff College, the Air Force Military Training Center, and prior to his retirement last November was the Air Force Inspector General.

He holds degrees from the University of Maryland and George Washington University. He and his wife, Mary Margaret, have five children. Flynn also holds more than 80 military decorations, including Air Force Cross, three Distinguished Service Medals, the Silver Star, three Legions of Merit, Bronze Star with V for Valor, and two Purple Hearts.

Techsans Enjoy Annual Event

Texas Tech Red Raider boosters were in good spirits last Thursday as Tahoka Red Raider Club hosted the annual golf tournament and barbecue, with the incomparable humor of retired Texas Tech football assistant Burl Huffman keeping the group laughing.

Huffman spoke at the end of the daylong event at Tahoka Lake Ranch, where Tahoka Red Raider Club President Mel Leslie was host, assisted by many other club members. The golf tournament was held during the afternoon at T-Bar Country Club.

Leete Jackson of Lubbock introduced Tech Coaches and officials on hand, including Rex Dockery, head football coach. The group totaled about 200 men.

Dockery shook hands with Brad White of Tahoka, who has signed to play football for Tech, and as the relatively short Tech coach stood by the 6-8 youngster, he told the group "if you see anybody else running around here who is this tall, get his name and phone number."

Dockery said he was glad to sign White, and mentioned another former THS player at Tech, Jerry Hatchett.

Huffman, a perennial crowd favorite, kept the group laughing with his anecdotes and wry comments, interspersing a few serious statements about the importance of Tech to this area. He also took a jibe at Coach Dockery, saying that "things look real good for our football team coming up. So, Dockery, if you'll just get yourself another play, we're gonna have a tremendous team."

The Tech coaching staff was criticized last season by some fans who thought play selections were not varied enough.

Huffman concluded by encouraging the Raider fans to give more vocal support to the coaches and university. "We all need to talk about Texas Tech more--it's a great school," he said.

Basic Skills Test Results To Be Given

Persons interested in learning how well Tahoka fifth and ninth grade students compare with the rest of the state's students in those grades may get some information at a public hearing at the high school next Friday, June 13, from 7 to 8 p.m.

The hearing on the results of recent tests mandated by the legislature to determine levels of basic skills in reading, composition and mathematics will precede the regular meeting of the school board, which has been changed from the scheduled Thursday, June 12 time.

Results of the tests and some explanation of the meaning will be offered to interested persons attending the public hearing next Friday, according to Supt. Jim Coulston. No individual scores will be given; these go only to the student, parents or guardian and educators directly concerned.

The program, called Texas Assessment of Basic Skills (TABS) was passed by the legislature because many persons apparently feel that students today are not getting adequate training in basics; in other words, some want to find out if it's really true that Johnny can't read or add.

Another public hearing is scheduled by the school board at 8 p.m. June 19. This one is on the school budget for next year, an item of considerable public interest in view of the reappraisal of all property and the anticipated major tax increase.

HE'S CONVINCED--Joe Childress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Childress, is convinced it had to be a tornado which left only a few poles standing where a hay barn was wiped out in a sudden storm about 6 p.m. Sunday at the Childress farm home northwest of O'Donnell, near the Wells community. Nobody was at home when the wind struck, scattering sheet metal sections all over cotton fields east of the Childress place. Some hail accompanied the storm, leaving some replanting to do in the area.

House Report From Sen. Kent Hance

Balanced Budget--On May 7 the House approved legislation which calls for a balanced budget for next year. Many popular programs were cut back or eliminated, but I feel the nation will benefit by living within its means. Although every proposed amendment failed, I strongly supported two of them. One amendment was the Gramm-Holt proposal which decreased social programs by $5 billion and put it into defense programs instead; and the other was the Latta proposal which made a cut in spending and provided a substantial tax cut. One proposal I opposed was the Udall Amendment which would have eliminated the "reconciliation provision". This is the provision which forces authorizing committees to stay within the balanced budget plan. After the Senate approves its version of the budget a conference committee will meet to resolve the differences. If the two bodies approve the compromise plan, the budget will then be submitted to the President.

Armed Forces Registration--The House approved draft registration (not the draft) for men only on April 22. I supported the legislation because I feel we need to send a signal to the Soviet Union and the world that we are ready to defend just causes. A Senate Armed Services subcommittee also has approved registration of men only. The bill is expected to clear Congress by late May and be signed by the President. This would simply require all 19 and 20 year old men to register their name and address with their local post office.

Oil Tax--I have co-sponsored legislation to repeal President Carter's proposal to place a fee on imported oil and thus raise the price of gas by at least 10 cents per gallon. It appears a sizable majority in a Ways & Means Committee subcommittee wants to kill the bill. There are many congressmen who oppose this import fee and hopefully it will be repealed.

Oil Back Out Proposal--Hearings have been concluded in the House concerning the President's proposal to provide $10 billion in grants to allow utility companies to convert their power plants from oil and natural gas to coal. The major drawback to the bill is that it apparently penalizes utilities which have already paid for the conversions through higher utility bills.

Windfall Profits Tax--We are just now beginning to see the effects of the windfall profits tax. Texas will be paying about 55 percent of the total revenues as oil producers and royalty owners and independents exempted. I plan to continue my efforts in upcoming Sessions of Congress to cut back or eliminate this unfair tax.

Most people learn to swim when they are children. Nellie Brown of Alexandria, Va., didn't learn until she was 68. Now in her 80s, and enjoying the best of health, Nellie attributes her fitness to Masters Swimming. She is one of over 100,000 Americans involved with Masters Swimming, a program of physical fitness and competition for men and women over 25. Masters swimmers come from every walk of life and many of them never swam competitively before.

Studies have shown that swimming seems to slow down the aging process. Dr. Herbert DeVries of the University of Southern California's Andrus Gerontology Center found that people, aged 50 to 87, who were given hour-long workouts three times a week for six weeks, had profound physical improvement. Many of the men and women in their 70s regained the strength and vitality they had in their 50s.

Some masters competitors have found that they are better swimmers in their 40s and 50s than they were in their teens and 20s. It's not surprising that masters swimmers think of their swim programs at their own private fountain of youth.

ACCORDING TO THE BIBLE

BIBLE Answers for BIBLE Questions. By DOUG CARTER

Question: (A continuation of the question modern-day miracles).

Answer: Another reason why we can know that the of miracles has ceased is that the means for receiving these gifts are no longer available.

The only people in the New Testament who received Holy Spirit baptism were the apostles and the household of Cornelius. It was given to Cornelius for a special purpose and there is evidence that they had power to pass any gifts on to other people. The apostles had Holy Spirit baptism promised to them by Jesus when they received it on the Day of Pentecost (Acts 2:1-4; Acts 1:2-4; Acts 1:2-4; Acts 2:1-4; PETER and the ELEVEN).

Why is it so important that only these few received Holy Spirit baptism? It is important because by the of their office as apostles (1 Cor. 12:28) and by virtue of the Holy Spirit baptism, the apostles were able to lay hands on other Christians and give them the gift of Spirit, such as the gift of healing, tongues, interpretation, etc. Proof of this can be found in Acts 6:2-10; Acts 8:14-17; Acts 19:1-6; II Tim. 1:6-7. The apostles could give such gifts for Philip (an apostle) for him to work miracles, but he could not give the gift to other people (Acts 6:2-10; 8:15-17).

When we realize that no Christians could perform miracles unless an apostle laid hands upon them, that the gift could not be passed on to others, we see that miracles ceased when all of the apostles the people they laid their hands on had died. Study the above Scriptures with an open mind, and ready to change if God's word proves you wrong (read Gal. 1:6-8).

Visit With Your County Agent

By Stanley Young

Wet Weather Poses Health Well as Nuisance
 Mosquitoes, standing water, and other factors that add up to a familiar pest, which affects the well-being of man and domestic animals all over the county.

Female mosquito bite during wet weather not only causes discomfort, but also can be a nuisance to man and animals. Mosquitoes are carriers of organisms that cause various diseases. Mosquitoes carried to humans include encephalitis, yellow fever and malaria.

Encephalitis and occasionally malaria still are important diseases in Texas, the county agent noted.

Among animals, a major problem in mosquito-borne diseases is heartworm in dogs. This and other diseases transmitted by the pesky insect can cause loss of property values and production efficiency and even prove fatal to animals.

Effective mosquito control is often a complex, expensive task requiring the cooperative efforts of individual homeowners as well as organized groups, communities and local and state government. Mosquito control personnel may be required on an extended basis and communities may wish to establish an area-wide approach to the problem, the county agent noted. The Texas Department of Health can provide information on establishment of a mosquito control district, he said.

But there is much the individual can and should do around the home.

The first thing to do is eliminate their breeding sites, the county agent advised. Standing water from rain showers provides excellent breeding grounds for mosquitoes, he said.

"Mosquitoes can lay eggs wherever standing water is available for a week or longer." "Old tires, tin cans, birdbaths, roadside ditches, rain gutters, temporary water containers and swampy places can hold enough water to enable mosquitoes to breed," he warned.

Empty out old tires and place them where they cannot collect additional water. Flatten and discard tin cans. Change the water in birdbaths every week. Clean out rain gutters, remove temporary water containers and see that rain barrels and water storage tubs are tightly covered. Drain standing water from ditches and swampy areas.

"If there is standing water that serves as a breeding site but cannot be drained or eliminated, treatment with a larvicide will be necessary."

One of the most effective larvicides is No. 2 diesel oil with a biodegradable spreader, applied at a rate of 20 gallons for each surface acre of water, or approximately 6 ounces per 100 square feet of surface.

Abate, malathion or Dursban applied to standing water at rates indicated on their labels also are effective larvicides, the county agent said. But he warned that labels should be read carefully to determine the hazards these insecticides pose to persons applying them and to fish and animals that may use the water.

Control of adult mosquitoes offers the most immediate relief. Inside the home, aerosol bombs containing pyrethrin offer quick knock-down of adult mosquitoes, the Extension agent said. The killing effect of pyrethrin is very short-lived, so frequent application will be necessary to control adult mosquitoes inside the house. The "pest strip" offers effective indoor control for long periods. "One pest strip for each average size room is necessary to control mosquitoes," the agent said.

"Persons who are active where mosquitoes are a problem should use repellents," the Extension agent advised. "These repellents will protect you from biting mosquitoes for from one to three hours, depending upon your type of activity."

Adult mosquitoes around the home can best be controlled by space or residual treatments of insecticides such as malathion, Dibrom, methoxychlor, or Dursban, he suggested. Space treatments, generally fogs, have very little residual activity and require repeating at frequent intervals. Space treatment should be done during the cool hours of the night or early morning and when wind velocity is less than five miles an hour.

Residual treatment applied as mists or sprays to the resting sites of adult mosquitoes gives longer-lasting control than space treatments, the agent noted. These should be applied to vegetation, eaves of roofs, under porches, and similar shaded areas where adult mosquitoes rest by day.

Use And Care Of A Freezer

Efficient and Economical
Freezing is probably the safest method of preserving food at home and it is certainly one of the easiest. With very little preparation, one can store large quantities of food for months without danger of deterioration. Know that with efficient management, you can save energy, money and time when using your freezer this summer.

Some points to remember are:

1. Know that fast freezing and low storage temperatures check the growth of micro-organisms as yeasts, molds, bacteria. These cause changes in color, flavor and texture of food.
2. Always store foods at 0 degree F.
3. Once food is thawed, it spoils rapidly. Use it at once or discard.
4. You cannot improve the quality of food by freezing it, so select the best quality available, prepare properly, package in moisture vapor proof containers, label and freeze immediately.
5. Do not freeze too much at once to allow the temperature of the freezer to stay low and food will freeze quicker.
6. Label packages clearly so they can be thawed in rotation. Keep a list for each shelf or freezer compartment and cross off items when used.
7. A freezer will usually operate cheaper if kept full.
8. Freezing does not preserve food indefinitely, so keep to storage periods most ideal for each food that is preserved for future family meal enjoyment.

How long can frozen foods be stored?
Storage time varies with each and every food. As long as the temperature of a freezer is held at 0 degrees or below, properly packaged foods will keep in excellent condition for months. However, after storage for prolonged periods of time, the food is not as palatable. This could be wasteful and it is not in good business.

Same and most ideal periods at 0 degrees for some foods are:

- All vegetables...9 to 12 months.
- All fruits except citrus...9 to 12 months.
- Lamb, Beef, Game Birds, Poultry, Butter, Cheddar Cheese, Cookies and Fruit Cake are best for about 9 to 10 months.
- Baked rolls and breads safe storage time is 6 months.
- Baked pies, cakes and most cooked foods about 4 months.

Two to three months are best for ham, bacon, ground pork and most cooked foods when purchased at store. Frozen vegetables may be purchased and held one to two months.

Less than one month foods are left over foods, frosted cakes, sandwiches, chiffon pies and ice cream.

For your free publication copy titled "Facts About Food Freezing", "Gourmet Gift Giving Recipes" and "Meals From The Freezer" write to Vivian Limer Home Service Advisor, Box 631, Southwestern Public Service, Lubbock, Texas 79408.

Vivian Limer will be glad to answer your questions concerning freezing. All good wishes for a happy freezing season.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture's National School Lunch Program provided 4.4 billion meals in 1979.

Retail food prices rose 10.9 percent in 1979 while the overall rate of inflation was 11.3 percent. This compares to a 10-percent hike in food prices and a 7.7 percent overall inflation rate in 1978.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Cotton Use Reported: U.S. mill use of cotton eased slightly lower in April but remained at a strong 6.65-million-bale annual rate. Cotton's share of mill fiber use gained for the third month in a row, reaching 27.3 percent in April. That compares with 24.7 percent for all of 1979. Cotton's share of staple fiber use has risen more than 5 percentage points since the first of the year, reaching 45.6 percent in April.

Cotton's competitive position also has improved on the cotton system spindles. Its April share stood at 61.5 percent, compared with 58.9 percent in January.

Maid To Address Clubs: Maid of Cotton Melissa Mock, Altus, Okla., will begin a speaking tour of Rotary Clubs in the Great Lakes states June 12. The cities include Grand Rapids and Lansing, Mich.; Dayton and Akron, Ohio; Peoria and Moline, Ill.; and Madison, Wis. Her topic will be reason in government regulation.

Communication Tools Available: The Agriculture Council of America has developed two tools that demonstrate that the united States is the world's "Superpower of Food." One is a four-foot Food Globe exhibit which compares food performance of major nations with that of the U.S. A rotating dial shows the percent of income spent on food, percent of population in agriculture, net food trade balance, and minutes worked to earn enough money to purchase certain items. The globe also is available in a six-inch pocket size version. Further details are available from ACA, Box 23421, Washington, D.C. 20024.

Outlook To Be Spotlights: The National Cotton Outlook Conference, sponsored by The Cotton Foundation June 10-11 in Scottsdale, Ariz., will open with remarks by C. Everette Salyer, president of the Foundation, and a welcome by W. Bruce Heiden, president of the Arizona Cotton Growers Assn. The agenda will include reports on Foundation programs and activities; cotton outlook; export marketing; transportation; energy situation; short season cotton; production programs; chemical regulation; textiles today and in the 1980's; cotton dust programs; machinery technology and outlook; and industry programs, problems, and opportunities. And Cotton Yesterday: When King Solomon built his temple in 950 B.C., he used cotton hangings made from cloth believed to have come from Phoenicia and Egypt.

More Texas Wheat Acres Planted But Drought May Cut Production

AUSTIN--Despite the fact that Texas wheat farmers planted a million more acres in the state this year, drought conditions throughout many growing regions are expected to cut 1980 production nine percent, Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown has announced.

The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service May report showed that planted acreage is up to 6.8 million with a projected harvest of 125 million bushels, Brown said. Dry conditions at planting time have continued in some areas of the state, reducing average yield prospects, which are estimated to be 25 bushels per acre, 5 less than last year's figure.

"We are studying the extent of the drought in several areas of the state and have found that the major wheat-producing counties in the Plains have had adequate moisture so far, but in the Cross Timbers and South Texas regions, drought declarations have been made for many counties and prospects are not promising there," Brown added.

"The recent rains could help the crop as it enters the critical stage of heading and filling," Brown added. Production is estimated to be down in all major wheat areas except in the Blacklands, which is expected to rise from 17,194,000 bushels in 1979 to 27.5 million this year, from 880,000 harvested acres. Other regional forecasts for acreage and production by Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service are as follows: Northern High Plains, 62.9 million bushels from 2,365 million harvested acres; Southern High Plains, 2.9 million bushels from 140,000 acres; Northern Low Plains, 9.4 million bushels from 510,000 acres; Southern Low Plains, 9 million bushels from 555,000 acres; Cross Timbers, 5.6 million bushels from 255,000 acres; Edwards Plateau, 1.8 million bushels from 100,000 acres, and South Central, 2.1 million bushels from 90,000 acres. Other areas are projected to produce 3.8 million bushels from 105,000 acres.

Unless Congress and/or the U.S. Department of Agriculture can be induced to make changes, the "typical" quality of High Plains cotton for the 1980 crop will carry a Commodity Credit Corporation loan value about 340 points (3.4 cents) per pound below the loan value assigned in 1979.

As figured by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, the national average base loan rate for 1980 will be down 223 points, from 50.23 cents to 48 cents per pound; the increased grade and staple discount on Strict Low Middling 31/32 inch cotton will lower the loan rate 50 points, and a higher penalty for 3.3 to 3.4 micronaire will drop it another 65 points.

PCG is supporting legislation introduced by 19th District Congressman Kent Hance which would put the cotton loan at 65 percent of parity, about 69 cents per pound. In addition, according to Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, PCG is loudly protesting the abnormally large increases in discounts announced for the 1980 loan schedule.

Without prior notice of its intention, USDA in 1980 arbitrarily abandoned what had come to be accepted as established procedure in assigning premiums and discounts to the loan, Johnson says, "which caused both micronaire and grade and staple discounts to go up considerably more than was expected."

Loan discounts are supposed to reflect the long-term trend of spot market quotations, Johnson explains, and USDA in the past has gradualized this process by averaging the previous year's discount and spot market discounts, giving five, ten or more times as much weight to the loan as to the market.

"But to our surprise, this five-to-one or ten-to-one ratio was changed this year and the average was taken on a basis of two-to-one," Johnson states, "adding another 25 to 35 points to the discount on our average grade and staple and penalizing low micronaire groups an extra 30 to 165 points."

In its letter of protest, PCG points out that the severe spot market discounts in the 1979-80 marketing year are the result of last year's abnormally large supply of low quality cotton. Therefore, PCG contends, "... loan discounts for the 1980 crop should be recalculated using a formula which gives at least 10 times as much weight to the 1979 loan schedule as to spot market quotes."

The chart below shows a comparison of premiums and discounts assigned to predominant High Plains cotton qualities in the 1979 and 1980 loan programs.

Time Extended For FHA To File Claims

Some borrowers who received loans from the Farmers Home Administration to buy new homes during parts of 1976-77 have been given additional time to apply for compensation for structural defects which may have occurred in their homes.

A provision of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1979 authorizes those who received housing loans between April 12, 1976 and October 12, 1977 to make claims for construction defects until October 12, 1980, said W.H. Pieratt, State Director.

Since October 12, 1977, Farmers Home, the rural development service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has offered a program of compensation for construction defects to its borrowers who purchase new homes. Borrowers can file claims for 18 months after they purchase homes.

If defects are noted in an FmHA-financed home, the borrower first should contact the builder or contractor who issued the builder's warranty to try to resolve the problem.

If problems cannot be resolved with builders and the defect "directly and significantly reduces the useful life or habitability of the dwelling", borrowers should contact the nearest FmHA County Office.

"Compensation can be made for defects which affect the basic components of a dwelling, such as its foundation, basement, walls, floors, framing or roof, or the heating system, water supply or sewage disposal system," Mr. Pieratt said.

Farmers Home has advised its field offices to notify by letter all borrowers who may be eligible to file compensation claims during the extended period. The letters will inform borrowers how and when they may apply and explain the types of defects covered.

"Up to $5 million is available nationwide for compensation for structural defects during fiscal year 1980," Mr. Pieratt said.

"However, the number of complaints is small. As of March 12, only $220,064 had been expended for 121 claims." He added that in fiscal year 1979, $1 million was allocated for the national program, but $383,188 was

Scanning Social Security

By JIM LATIMER

Everyone who draws security or SSI checks should keep his address current with the nearest Social Security office.

Most checks which are issued, go astray because someone has failed to update the Social Security office with the new address. Checks should be sent to the new address.

If you get a Social Security check, look at the address on the check itself. If it is correct, notify Social Security immediately. If it is not forward your new address. The Post Office will not forward your mail indefinitely.

By more than two million Americans say they should receive more government support than they are getting. That's according to a recent Department of Agriculture survey.

paid for 229 claims. The home ownership program, but $383,188 was for 229 claims.

The home ownership program of Farmers Home conducted through county offices serving rural county in Texas.

Agency's housing program including home ownership, rental housing, farm housing, and site development - is budgeted $152,375,000 for during fiscal year 1980.
