Synthetic Fuel Bill Is Signed

State Sen. E.L. Short was in Washington, D.C., Monday to attend a White House bill-signing ceremony. The bill, signed by President Carter Monday afternoon, authorizes a multi-billion-dollar United States Synthetic Fuel Corp. and is regarded as the most important step the nation has taken toward energy independence.

The new law will provide loans and guarantees up to 75 per cent of project cost in the private sector for solar and energy conservation projects and the production of gasohol from bio-mass and urban waste.

Short said production goals under the legislation could reduce U.S. dependence on foreign oil by as much as two million barrels per day.

Short, who was invited to the White House ceremonies by U.S. Rep. Charles Stenholm, Rep. Kent Hance and the White House social office, is a member of the Texas Senate special committee on Gasohol. He said,

"We are particularly excited about this legislation because it appears that with the use of new research funds, Texas Tech University stands to be number one among all Texas universities in the development, research and production of gasohol."

Short praised the efforts of the Texas congressional delegation, especially Stenholm and Hance, in working for passage of the synthetic fuel legislation.

WOODWORK

by dalton

IN MAY, when school was still going on, a teachers from Tubb Elementary School in brought to the Tahoka Rotary Club a motion on a new reading program which is instituted in Tahoka schools.

The program does, mainly, is test the teachers to see at what level they are reading, and records so that the next teacher who gets students will know where the pupils are. In words, it's a coordinated program which its reports say will help all the students to be readers.

It is true that schools everywhere are trying kids who can't read, so if this program is all for it. Newspapers aren't worth a public which can't read.

Everyone is convinced that the program will be good as it is supposed to be, and a few have wondered whether the cost of implementing this new math program will be justified, but educators here and elsewhere apparently both will be of great benefit to the students. It will, of course.

The Rotary Club, they used me for an experiment, finally deciding that I qualify for the eighth grade level (barely). They gave the crowd some sample test questions, sort of demonstrated that it wouldn't hurt us to go back to school.

I threw some sentences at us and asked us to write the silent letters. For example, "Jack hurt playing ball." I marked both the "K"s, they said only the second one was silent. I agree, but you can't argue with the teacher. Her sentence was "Mary had a little lamb," which is probably a story about a biological group of words they gave the Rotarians that they pick out the antonyms, synonyms and homonyms. I knew what synonyms were, and I found out that antonyms must mean the opposite. Homonyms threw me until I learned that people make grits out of them for supper.

As Rotarians, I believe we would have learned more in our school days if our teachers had been as cute and smart as those ladies who teach at Tubb. Certainly I would have paid closer attention to the pretty, smiling girls than to the big ugly ones with frowns all over their faces. In the third grade, I had my priorities straight.

IT IS TOUGH ENOUGH having to go back to school after being on vacation for two weeks under circumstances, but when you come from cool weather to over-100 temperatures, it's even harder to get back into job routines.

Europe, temperatures have been unusually high for June, and folks over there have been wearing light jackets some days. Here if you wear a jacket at all, it's too much, at least during the first three weeks.

Summer better than I do winter, but this is not the case. I am most grateful to former News publisher Hill for writing news stories for the paper during our absence, and also to our regular staff for getting the paper out.

It told me they had less trouble getting the paper out than when I am here, and actually got it out earlier. The significance of this is not lost on

47 Traffic Deaths Are Predicted

The Texas Department of Public Safety will conduct "Operation Motorcade" for the 1980 Fourth of July. It will begin at 6 p.m. July 3 and end at midnight July 6.

The most tragic part of a national holiday, such as the 4th of July, is the wasteful loss of human life upon our highways, the D.P.S. said, predicting that 47 persons will die in fatal traffic accidents during this period in Texas.

The most dangerous things the driver can do are speed and drink. Each driver should be aware of both the condition of the road and vehicle, as well as his personal condition before he gets behind the wheel.

The Texas Department of Public Safety urges each and every driver to do his part this holiday period by "Driving Friendly" and practicing defensive driving to stay alive.

More Heart Device Funds Solicited

Persons who have not been contacted, but who wish to contribute to a fund for a new heart monitor at Lynn County Hospital are asked to make their donations at the First National Bank, depositing the money to the Lynn County Hospital Auxiliary memorial fund.

Auxiliary leaders stressed that more money is needed and that the hospital does need the equipment.

The auxiliary will meet at 9 a.m. Monday at Sentry Savings in Tahoka.

C-C Meet Time Back To Morning

Tahoka Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday voted to change the meeting time of the full chamber membership back to a breakfast meeting at 7 a.m. at the Cafeteria.

Members of the chamber have been meeting at noon on the third Tuesday of each month, after having met previously at breakfast. Now the members will again meet at breakfast on the third Tuesdays, starting with the July 15 meeting. Directors will continue to meet on the first Tuesday at 11:30 a.m. at the Cafeteria.

Eual Davis, chamber president, presided at the directors meeting, with 11 of the 16 directors present. The group discussed a problem of some directors not attending meetings.

Also discussed were upkeep of a canna garden and a project to get Tahoka businesses to fix up and paint buildings.

Taxation Truth Meet Scheduled

The State Property Tax Board has announced that it will hold 12 regional meetings during July to assist local jurisdictions in complying with the state's "truth in taxation" statute.

At the same meetings, two hours will be devoted to aiding school districts in making application for state reimbursement of revenue lost due to implementation of the Tax Relief Amendment.

According to SPTB Executive Director Kenneth E. Graeber, all meetings will run from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Reimbursement will be

The Lubbock meeting will be from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn.

Collision, Burglary Investigated

Tahoka Police investigated one traffic accident during the week, and Sheriff's deputies arrested a Lubbock man who was charged in the recent burglary of Texas Grocery in Wilson.

On Monday at the intersection of Ave. J and U.S. 380 a collision involved three vehicles. They were a 1973 Olds driven by Brigido DeLeon of Andrews, a 1976 Chevrolet pickup driven by Glenn Anderson of Tahoka, and a 1958 Ford winch truck driven by Rudy Chapa II of Tahoka. There were no injuries.

Also during the week there were complaints made to police here about loud music in a residential area and about someone throwing fireworks at vehicles on Main St.

Deputies arrested Kenneth Jerome Albert, 25, of

Cold Bread And Warm Cokes, But It Was Fun

By DALTON WOOD

Fifteen participants in a Central European Tour sponsored by Lynn County News returned from a 15-day trip early Saturday, with a new appreciation of the beauty and culture of Europe, but with a renewed appreciation of their homeland, their own bathrooms and restaurants where they can understand the menu.

The group was awed by the neatness and beauty of the homes, gardens and farmland, especially in Switzerland and Austria, where there appeared to be no weeds, no flies and no litter.

The Texans (and one New Mexico resident) found Europeans obsessed by massive old buildings and history, and agreed that the places they visited have a special charm which has increased over the centuries.

Making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Wood, Mrs. Willie Thomas and Mrs. Mildred Abbe, all of Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Blankenship of Wilson; Mrs. Peggy Wheeler of Southland; Mrs. Helen Williams of Dallas; Mrs. Nell Kelley of Pasadena, Tx.; E.C. Blackwell of Lubbock; Marjorie Burns of Albuquerque; Mrs. Icle Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. C.E. McCoy and Terry Wood, all of Slaton.

Friday The 13th
Defying superstition, the group made a mid-June departure from Lubbock on Friday the 13th, and flew non-stop from Dallas to Paris via Braniff 747 jet. In France they viewed the usual Paris sights, and some also went to the top of the 900-foot Eiffel Tower, and others also visited the famous Louvre, where they viewed the Mona Lisa, Venus de Milo and other famous works of art. They made those two side trips by subway, called "Metro" in Paris.

The Americans found Europe cool for June, and on a couple of occasions wore light jackets. It rained several times during the two weeks, but mostly cleared up rapidly and caused no problems.

The travelers soon became accustomed to the continental breakfast of cold, hard rolls and a pat of butter, and to the lukewarm water (when they could get it) and Cokes without ice, a rare commodity in Europe.

At Lake Geneva
After two nights in Paris, the group went by bus to Switzerland, spending two nights at Montreux on Lake Geneva and two more nights in Lucerne.

During all of the trip, which covered 2,125 miles by bus, the guide, Eve Manieres of London, offered commentary and historical data. For example, she commented once that Louis XIV, who was beheaded in the French Revolution, was known as the farmer king, because he would rather have been a farmer than a king. West Texans on the trip agreed that even farming would beat having your head chopped off.

At Montreux the group visited famed Chillon Castle, and in Lucerne heard genuine Swiss yodeling at a nightspot, took a cruise on Lake Lucerne and rode a skycar to the high peak of nearby Mt. Pilatus.

They also visited a watch factory and viewed the famous Lion monument to Swiss guards who died in war and an ancient wooden bridge.

Cool Trip
From Lucerne the bus went south over wintry Gotthard Pass into Italy, where the group stayed at Vicenza because President Carter had a claim on the hotel in Venice where the travelers were supposed to have stayed. The next day they went to Venice and saw a remarkable demonstration of glass blowing, toured the Doges Palace and dungeon ("where we keep tourists," said the local guide), and St. Mark's Cathedral, where the tomb of the gospel writer St. Mark is located. Heavily armed police and soldiers guarded all of Venice, especially around the hotel where Carter was to arrive that same afternoon, and police helicopters and boats kept circling around Venice in the wake of threats from terrorists called the Red Guards, who had killed the Venetian chief of security just days earlier. The group also took a ride in gondolas through the canals of Venice, a city of 330,000 people, plus millions of pigeons and tourists.

No Tourists
The day after the Tahoka group visited Venice, no tourists were allowed in the city. It was closed off for the meetings of heads of state, and also reportedly so that President Carter could jog around St. Mark's Square in safety.

On Sunday the group took a long drive to Vienna, Austria, where the Danube is not blue, and does not even go into the city where so many famous musicians did their composing and performing (Shubert, Mozart, Beethoven, Strauss, Brahms and others).

In Vienna they toured the castle of famous rulers Franz Joseph and Maria Teresa and rode a huge ferris wheel made in the 1800s and which figured prominently in a movie "The Third Man" with Orson Welles. They also were given free samples of wine at Grinzling, a suburb which reportedly has 360 taverns. They were serenaded by local musicians who played everything from Strauss waltzes to "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

After stopping in Salzburg ("Sound of Music" country) for lunch, the tourists went on to Munich, where they saw the Glockenspiel (the ultimate in performing clocks) and then paid a visit to grim Dachau concentration camp, now a museum with its terrible reminders of the horror, death and torture inflicted by the Nazis on Jews.

After two nights in Munich, the group went to Ludwigschafen for one night and then on to Frankfurt, from where they flew home, having to stop in Boston for customs and with four almost getting left in Boston because of some bungling by airline personnel.

When the Tahokans arrived home they had been without sleep for 26 hours, but all agreed that it was truly a "dream come true to make such a trip."

Marsha Chisum, Cody and Kenda are leaving Wilson this week for a new coaching position in Idalou. Pat and Susan Mouser, Mandi and Brandley are moving soon, after seven years with the Wilson Schools.

Both families will be missed very much. We hope they come back and visit their friends often.

Wilson Varsity Cheerleaders are at Howard Jr. College in Big Spring for the National Cheerleaders Assn. Camp. The girls left on Sunday, June 29, and will return July 3. Registered at the camp are head cheerleader Tonya Houchin, Kerrie Lee, Tamera Houchin, Paige Bishop, Lisa Steinhauser, and Sharon Bednarz.

Wilson High School students Paige Bishop and Randy Hall were sponsored by Wilson State Bank at Girls State and Boys State, rather than the American Legion Auxiliary as stated last week.

Wilson Girl Scouts (Cadets) are selling fireworks nightly from 6 - 10:30 p.m. through July 4. Their fireworks stand is located just northwest of Wilson next to the Gary Houchin home.

Debbie Daniell has just finished her last training session with the Girl Scouts at Camp Mary White in Mayhill, N.M. Dates for the camp were June 17-July 1. Debbie is one of the fourteen girls in the United States finishing their counselor training.

Deedie Daniell attended Girl Scout camp at Camp Mary White from June 11-20. Deedie worked with horses in the Rideout Unit and completed her Cadet Horsewoman Badge.

St. Paul Lutheran Church has made tentative plans for a two day Bible School to be held in August.

The last date for Summer Night Activities at St. John Lutheran Church will be July 9. Everyone is invited for two hours (7:30 - 9:30) of games, singing, Bible study, and refreshments.

Remember to save your old paper to help the Luther League. A trailer is located at the city water tower for donated paper. All of your old paper would be appreciated.

Approximately one hundred descendants of the late Henry Wilke gathered at the Lubbock County Clubhouse in Slaton on Saturday, June 29, for dinner and visiting. Represented at the reunion were people from Beeville, Houston, Abilene, Tahoka, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Levelland, Morton, Slaton, and Wilson.

This was their first reunion, but they hope to make it an annual event.

Edgar Nieman is in Lynn County Memorial Nursing Home for a few weeks recovery after his recent illness.

Wilson Day Care Center Sought

Some people of the Wilson community are taking a survey of all people who would be interested in a community child day care center in Wilson. This would be a Christian center which would intend to provide the type of care associated with a full time licensed facility.

If you are interested in such a facility and could make use of one, survey sheets are located at the Flower Patch in Slaton, at the City Halls of Wilson, New Home and Tahoka. Or you may request of copy at P.O. Box 21, Wilson, Texas 79381. Or contact Pastor Bob Zacharias, St. John Lutheran Church, Wilson, Texas, 79381, Phone 628-3261.

Business Report....

South Plains businesses are being besieged by mailings from Checkwriter Insurance of Dallas. The mailing is an advertisement for their services, but the advertisement looks like an invoice. Many businesses have complained to the BBB about the method of advertising. Several businesses have paid the bogus invoice, believing it to be a bill. The company, Checkwriter Insurance, has nothing to do with the company that manufactures the check protectors. Checkwriter Insurance does not meet BBB standards, due to unethical advertising policies.

BIBLE Answers for BIBLE Questions:
By DOUG CARTER

Question: Since we are saved by grace as a free gift, doesn't this mean that obedience is unnecessary for salvation? In particular I am thinking of baptism.

Answer: We are indeed saved by grace as a free gift of God (Eph. 2:8,9; Rom. 6:23). But the same Bible that teaches us this also teaches that faith, obedience, and yes, baptism are necessary for salvation. We know the Bible does not contradict itself, so salvation by grace is not contradictory to the necessity of obedience and baptism for salvation.

Some things are sufficient-causes of our salvation (the grace and love of God, the blood of Jesus) while others might be termed necessary-causes (faith, repentance, baptism).

For an analogy consider a room lighted by sunlight. The window is a necessary cause of the light, while the sun is the sufficient cause. The window itself is not sufficient to light the room, but it is necessary to allow the sunlight to come through. In the same way, faith alone or baptism alone does not save us, but they are mediums through which God has declared that he will channel His grace into our lives. In other words WE must allow God's grace into our lives. John 12:42ff tells us that the Rulers of the synagogue believed in Jesus, but not enough to Obey Him. See the difference?

Study Eph. 2:8-10 and Titus 3:5-7. We will have more on this next week.

A VISIT WITH YOUR County Agent

By STANLEY YOUNG

Fall Vegetable Gardening

A fall garden can be even more productive and more fun than a spring garden on the Texas Plains. Experienced plains gardeners know that our late summer and fall weather favors more productive growth than the harsher spring climate.

The quality and yield of many vegetables from a fall garden are often better than from a spring-summer garden. The cooler weather of fall will result in a longer harvest period for many vegetables. Lettuce and leafy greens are sweeter and more tender. Buttercrunch lettuce, collards, Green Comet broccoli, Jade Cross Brussels sprouts and Rhubarb chard will continue to grow to be a part of your Thanksgiving feast.

Careful planning of the fall garden is very important. The first fall frost occurs in mid-October in most Panhandle counties, in early November in the South Plains and in early to mid-November on the Rolling Plains. Planting must be timed to allow the frost sensitive vegetables to mature and be harvested before frost. Those which will tolerate frost are planted to permit harvest to continue after the first fall frost.

Vegetables adapted to fall gardens can be divided into four groups by their tolerance of freezing temperatures. Some warm season vegetables adapted to fall gardens—but killed by frost—are snap bean, southern pea, summer squash, winter squash, cucumber, sweet corn, and early maturing pepper and tomato varieties. The second group includes cool season crops—usually damaged by light frost when mature—such as head lettuce, cauliflower, kohlrabi, English pea, celery, cabbage, and broccoli. The third group contains those which are moderately tolerant of repeated light frosts: carrot, parsnip, beet, Brussels sprouts, leaf lettuce, endive, radish, rutabaga, turnip, and watercress. Members of the fourth group, which tolerate night after night of freezing and have even survived a mild Plains winter, include bulb onion, green onion, chives, garlic, leek, multiplier onion, shallot, spinach, parsley, collard, kale, and the buttercrunch and Romaine varieties of lettuce.

Seen of snap bean, baby lima bean, broccoli, cabbage, collard, chard, sweet corn, cucumber, and summer squash, sown in early to mid-July will produce crops ready for harvest before the first fall frost. Beet, kohlrabi, leaf lettuce, English pea, and spinach seed sown in early to mid-August will likewise provide abundant fall harvests. Mustard greens, radish, turnip and cress sown in early to mid-September will make it to the table in October and November.

Gardeners have several choices for starting their fall gardens. Summer vegetable seedlings require constant attention. Seed sown in the garden in summer is one choice but will require repeated irrigation and careful attention to pest control. It is often easier to start seedlings of tomato, pepper, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, Brussels sprouts and parsley in boxes or pots of potting soil, culture them in or near the house, and transplant them to the garden when they are 4 to 5 weeks old.

A third choice to help fall gardeners is offered by some local nurseries which will have plants of these vegetables at the right age ready to transplant in mid-July to early August. The choice of a vegetable variety for the fall garden is very important. The early maturing, determinate tomato hybrids (those requiring 65 to 75 days from transplanting to produce their first ripe fruit) Spring Giant, Big Set, Jackpot, Pik-Red and Bonus have produced 30 to 50 or more large fruit per plant within a period of 60 to 90 days from transplanting in Extension fall variety demonstrations. In contrast, the late maturing, indeterminate tomato varieties (those requiring 80 to 90 days from transplanting to produce their first ripe fruit) may ripen only six to a dozen fruit by frost when planted in mid-summer.

Green Comet broccoli, Stonehead Hybrid cabbage, Gold King and Nantes carrots, Snow Crown cauliflower, Honeycomb sweet corn, Sweet Slice and Liberty Hybrid cucumbers, and Buttercrunch lettuce are superior varieties which grow rapidly and reliably in plains fall gardens. Additional advice on the timing of fall garden plantings and recommended varieties for fall gardens can be obtained from your county Extension agents.

INSUR-MATION

By JOEY MEADOR

Lynn County Farm Bureau

Is there an accepted formula for determining life insurance I should carry? There are several... one of which was developed by the Institution of Insurance Marketing: An individual should own from 3 to 5 times his annual income in life insurance and should pay premiums of 5% to 15% of his income. This allows enough flexibility to suit everyone. President Lincoln was asked how long his legs would last. He replied, "Just long enough to reach the ground should own enough insurance to provide a basic foundation for his family in the event of premature death and himself should live past retirement."
