When I was a lot younger and in journalism we were told not to waste our time trying to be expert at anything except writing. The paid for us to just take enough science, physics, math and such to know enough to ask pertinent questions about it from the experts, if needed to.

In other words, to confirm the suspicions of a lot of acquaintances, newspaper people don't know a lot about anything. But they are expected to know a little about everything.

On that basis, I should be one of the top people in my profession. I know as little about everything as you. And a great deal of my time is spent trying to do things I don't know how to do.

Monday, for instance, I figured it had been five or six months since I wore a tie to work. I thought I'd dress up a bit and wear one, so folks would know I own one. Also I wore bright yellow pants which get dirty if you are within a yard of anything dusty or greasy. The guy came with a used mailing machine to unload and try out, and the fluorescent light in our office blew up and raised a big stink.

The ruined 97 dress shirts and pants in my closet on such occasions, so this time I was going to go home and exchange them for something else, the kind my wife says look awful on me, but they're baggy.

But the coveralls fit. It's me that's shaped. Anyway, I spent most of the day trying to fix that dumb light. I was told the ballast probably went out and that I should be able to fix it easily.

I was standing up on top of a desk I had under the light fixture, and holding the ballast in one hand and wondering if the thin wires on it would support its weight when I went after another, the phone rang. It was Harold Roberts, over at the electric shop and he was having trouble with his typewriter. I was having a bit of trouble with electrical stuff myself, so I suggested he get a new writer. "You light it with a match every day and you won't have any trouble with it," I said. He was able to contain his mirth over it, so I relented and told him I'd be over to look at it.

I was messing around all afternoon with the ballast, the new doctor and his wife came in, and sure they were impressed with the way I dressed in Tahoka.

I finally got that replacement ballast and, one of the lights still didn't work. Two other bulbs we swapped tubes around to be sure it was the connection, because we have only one light where we had two. But it did quit smelling like the place was full of you electricians out there have any free time to give me, I'll listen. Remember, I'm supposed to be able to converse intelligently on any subject.

I supposed to keep up with current events, too. Get It?

Band Is Best in Many Years

Tahoka High School band participated in marching contests at the district level and were given a "B" rating of "excellent" the highest rating given by the THS band in 28 years according to school records.

The band was judged "B" by the judges, according to Director Milton Fox. Fox announced the ratings at the Slaton football game, when he presented a trophy to the band which drew strong applause from the packed stands.

"This rating is an appropriate reward to all the youngsters in the band who have worked so hard this year," Fox said.

MOTOR HOME BURNS--Not much was left of this motor home which caught fire as the driver pulled up at Cox's station 8 miles north of Tahoka on U.S. 87 Monday afternoon. Driver Ian Moore of Arlington said all his clothing and belongings--he lived in the home--were destroyed, as were samples of clothing he sells. He said he stopped because the unit was heating up, and flames then came out of the motor. (LYNN COUNTY NEWS PHOTO)

New Car Approved For Sheriff's Dept.

Lynn County Commissioners Monday approved purchase of a new car for the sheriff's department, voted to trade a car for some radio equipment and authorized a trip to Washington this weekend for County Judge Melvin Burks, to lobby for renewal of the revenue sharing program.

McCord Motor Co.'s low bid of $7990 on an Oldsmobile for the sheriff's department was accepted. The car-radio trade involved letting present sheriff Norvell Redwine keep the 1973 Olds he now drives in exchange for radio equipment which the sheriff bought personally, but which is needed by the department. Commissioners also voted to buy from the sheriff a one-year-old color television set in use at the jail, at a price of $275.

Judge Burks' trip to Washington, expected to cost about $500, will be as part of a contingent of Texas county officials seeking to apply pressure for Congress to extend revenue sharing as Congress prepares to take up the question next week. The Texas group reportedly plans a march or other type of demonstration. County officials pointed out that revenue sharing money is needed badly in Lynn County, as these funds are used to support the ambulance service, county library, health services and other items.

It was voted to share the duties and salary of a secretary for the county attorney's office when newly-elected Jimmy Wright goes into office. It is customary for county attorneys in counties of this size to continue private civil practice.

Present were Commissioners Ed Stone, Bart Anderson and J.C. Gandy. E.R. Blakney was absent because of illness.

SLATON WINS 18-14

Long Pass Ruins Fine Dog Effort

BY DALTON WOOD
The big district shootout between Tahoka and Slaton football teams last Friday night was a lot like most of today's TV movies and specials; All the ingredients for greatness were there, the plot was good, the main characters were superb--and the ending was lousy.

It truly was one of the finest high school football games ever witnessed in these parts, and for 47 minutes and 31 seconds it looked like a super triumph for Coach A.D. Shaver and the Bulldogs. But with 29 seconds left the Slaton Tigers pulled out an 18-14 win with a 79-yard scoring pass that left stunned the packed east stands of Tahoka fans who had felt victory was assured.

Bomb Goes Off
Before the nightmare scene of Charles Phenix catching Slaton QB Kevin Johnston's pass behind everybody on that big play, the Bulldogs had held Slaton to just one first down in the last half, and had scored to take a 14-12 lead. And they just missed another score by a couple of feet as the first half ended.

It was a hard-hitting game, with lots of individual stars, and for the most part it was a defensive struggle, despite the good running of Tracy White for Tahoka and Michael Whaley for Slaton. White gained 158 yards on 37 carries, mostly in the last half, and scored both Bulldog touchdowns. Whaley gained 151 on 19 carries, mainly in the first half, and scored once. The Tigers' other heralded running back, Jesse Titus, was held to just 5 yards net in four carries, but he did some damage with his kicking foot.

Excitement
Titus kicked a 44-yard field goal in the first period to give Slaton a 3-0 lead. On the kickoff after that score,

White Lightning struck. Tracy took the ball at the 10, got a couple of blocks and broke loose to run 90 yards for a touchdown. Kevin Elmore's kick made it 7-3 Tahoka, and that was the score at the end of the first. In the second, Titus kicked another field goal, this one from 37 yards out to make it 7-6.

Leading 7-6, the Bulldogs elected to go for a first down on fourth and 1 at their own 48 in the second quarter, but Slaton held and took over and immediately drove to a touchdown. Whaley ran 19 yards and a couple of plays later ran 21 more to score. A fumbled snap on the point try left it at 12-7, Slaton.

On the final play of the half, White caught a 46-yard pass from QB Mark Hudlin and fell with the ball across the goal line, but the officials ruled his knee touched just outside the goal line before the ball came down. So it was still 12-7 at halftime.

Costly Fumble
Tahoka missed a couple of good scoring chances in the third, once by way of a fumble at the Slaton 10. Tahoka took over at the 8 when Slaton punter Craig Wright bobbled the snap and was tackled. On the first play of the fourth period, White ripped right end for 7 and the go-ahead TD. Elmore kicked again to make it 14-12.

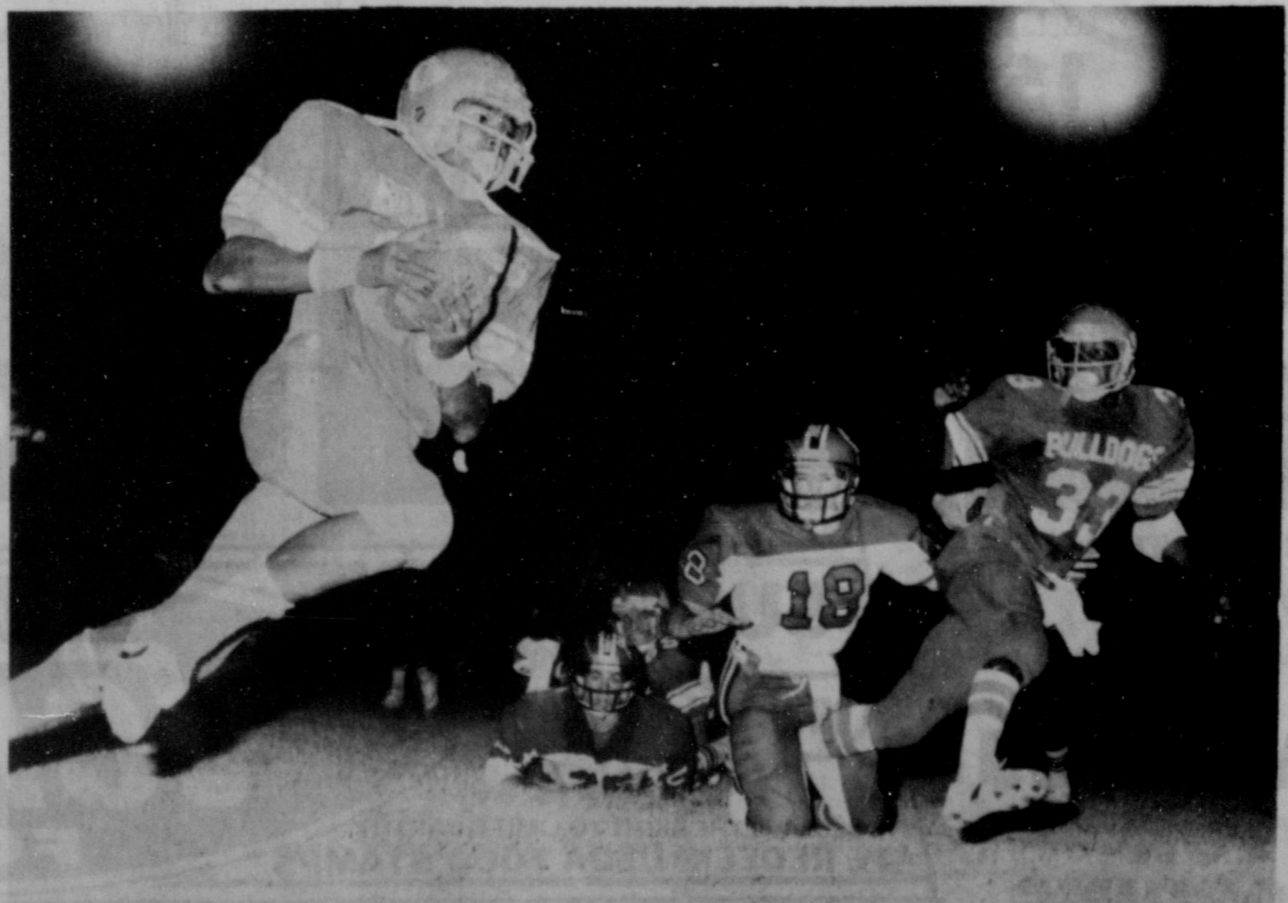

Tahoka's defense, led by Freddy Garcia and with lots of help from folks like Jacky Jolly, Danny Thompson, Elmore, Charles Bryson and Johnny Alvarado, contained Slaton all the last half until the final disaster.

Late in the game Tahoka drove to the Slaton 12 in a drive which featured a 28-yard run by White, but lost the ball on downs. The Tigers were back on their own 21 with just 29 seconds left and it appeared Tahoka had the game and the district championship won.

We don't want to talk about what happened after that.

City Population Is 3,265 - Maybe

The Census Bureau now says that Tahoka may have as many people as city officials and others around here thought were living in the city. But they could change their minds again and cut the figure down, or go even higher.

In August, the Bureau of the Census announced that an "unofficial working figure" on the number of persons in Tahoka was 3030, a gain of 74 from the 2956 counted in the 1970 Census, and an increase of just 2.5 per cent in the decade.

City officials protested the first figure, using the proper forms and governmental channels provided for doing so. At that time, city officials questioned the total and also the report that there were 1237 housing units in Tahoka with 170 of them vacant.

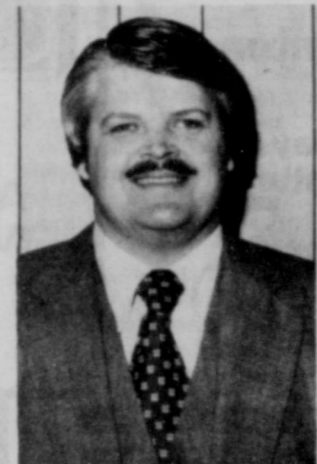

Dr. Rinker Begins Practice In Tahoka

Dr. Don Rinker, who grew up in Jayton and graduated from Jayton High School, will begin practice in offices at Lynn County Hospital Friday. Dr. Rinker's addition to the staff of the hospital means there now are two general practitioners in Tahoka.

Rinker attended Texas Tech, receiving a bachelor of science degree in secondary education in 1972. He later was engaged in selling medical equipment for a time, then entered medical Texas College of Osteopathic Medicine, earning a degree there in 1978. He did 15 months of family practice residency at Texas Tech, was an employee of a group of physicians in Lubbock for six months. For the last six months Dr. Rinker has been in solo practice in Houston.

His wife, Betty, is from Houston, and attended Texas Tech. She will be working as bookkeeper and receptionist in Dr. Rinker's office here, the former office of Dr. Rauchdy Shenouda.

They have a daughter Jennifer, 6, and a boy, Scott, 2½. The Rinkers already are living in Tahoka. They attend the Methodist Church.

Mrs. Elsie Rinker, mother of Dr. Rinker, will be the office nurse. She also has moved to Tahoka.

The Rinkers said they are glad to return to West Texas, which "has always seemed more like home to us."

Office hours will be 8:30 a.m. to noon and 1 - 5 p.m. weekdays, and 9 a.m. to noon Saturdays. The office phone number is 998-4572.

Now the Census Bureau, in a letter to the city, has announced a "preliminary" population figure of 3265, with a preliminary housing count of 1226. The letter made no mention of vacant houses.

If the city's final Census figure stays at 3265, this will mean a population increase of 309 persons in 10 years, or an increase of 10.5 per cent. This figure would be consistent with city estimates based on utility connections and other factors.

The preliminary figures also boosted the county total population from the first totals announced. In August the county total was listed as 8151, compared to 9107 in 1970. Now the preliminary total is 8622, according to a mailgram received by the county.

In both instances, the Census Bureau cautions that the newest figures also may be thrown out when the final official report is issued in 1981, noting:

"These are preliminary results which will be replaced later by final counts. The final counts to be shown in the printed reports will have undergone further processing and review and may differ from these preliminary numbers."

So nobody still knows for sure, but things are looking better.

Reena Burrow - Bret Austin Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Reena Burrow of New Home, and Bret Austin of Post, were united in marriage on Saturday, Nov. 8, at 7 p.m. by the Rev. Jack Lee in the New Home Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sid Burrow of New Home and Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Austin of Guthrie.

Escorted and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white Qiana fashioned with a deep scoop neckline. The empire bodice had an overlay of heavy Venise lace. The long slender sleeve had a deep insert at wrist. The a-line skirt cascaded into a chapel length train. Her headpiece was a Juliet Cap of matching lace holding a lace edged veil of illusion.

The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white silk roses tied with white satin and lace streamers tied in love knots atop a white bible.

As for tradition, something old was a pair of gold hoop earrings which belonged to her great-grandmother, something new was her wedding dress, something borrowed was her mother's engagement ring and wedding band, and the something blue was the garter.

Miss Marilyn Durham of Levelland served as maid of honor. Brenda Barnett and Dana Poer of New Home were bridesmaids. The bridal attendants wore formal length dresses of wine Qiana and carried bouquets of wine and beige, carrying out the bride's chosen colors.

John Piper served as best man, Jimmy Slover and Jay Hurt of Guthrie served as groomsmen. Ushers were Shayne Powell, brother-in-law of the groom, and Sidney and Tony Burrow, brothers of the bride. The male attendants wore candlelight beige tuxedos.

Mrs. Dorothy McNeely, pianist, accompanied Mrs. Kim Smith as she sang "You Light Up My Life" and "I Pledge My Love".

Guests were registered by Miss Julie Parsons of Lubbock.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall. Serving the guests at the bride's table were: Pam Barnett, Lynna Poer and Belinda McPherson. Serving at the groom's table were: Pam Powell, sister of the groom, Glenna Burrow, sister-in-law of the bride, and Donette Hancock.

The couple will be at home in Post.

MRS. BRET AUSTIN nee REENA BURROW

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Watching Washington

Recently a businessman testified before a Senate hearing about a regulation from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration. It requires a firm in his town "to maintain a check-off of employees who do not get hurt on any particular day."

Rules like that demonstrate how regulation by the federal government increased dramatically throughout the 1970's.

Meanwhile, during this same period our economy saw some hard times. The U.S. economy shrank during three years of the decade—1970, 1974 and 1975. Our average annual rate of growth was only 2.91 percent compared with a robust 4.14 percent throughout the 1960's. Our rate of productivity growth also declined during the period, from an annual rate of 3.44 percent during 1947-66 to 1.15 percent during 1973-78.

Many people, after watching increased government regulation parallel decreased productivity, have begun to "put two and two together."

On the other hand, though, more skeptical observers have argued that little evidence exists to link the high rate of regulation to our lagging economy.

These observers, instead, argue that the skyrocketing cost of energy, the influx of younger, less experienced workers into the labor force during the '70s and the decline of savings and investment have been the key factors in our economic decline.

As Chairman of the Joint Economic Committee, I recently commissioned a study to determine if, in fact, one could "put two and two together."

That report reveals that as much as 15 percent of the slow-down in productivity growth can be tied to the growth of government regulation in just two areas. The report considers only environmental and health/safety regulations. It doesn't take into account increased regulation of transportation, new products, energy production and usage and other economic activities.

The study looked, for example, at the roadblocks business operators encounter as they struggle to set up new plants. It notes that more stringent water and air pollution standards are applied to new businesses than to established firms.

As a result, this policy encourages older firms to retain less productive equipment, postpone new investments and put off introducing the latest technology, for fear of running afoul of government regulation.

That means hundreds of thousands of American workers are stuck using worn-out tools and equipment to produce a fraction of what they could make if they had modern, more efficient tools to work with.

Our rate of productivity actually declined by .9 percent last year—the second time it has fallen since World War II. This happened at a time when productivity rates were increasing in other industrialized nations.

It's obvious that our system of regulation has gotten out of control when we reach a stage where businesses seem to spend more time trying to interpret duplicative, conflicting regulations than concentrating on how to boost productivity.

For example, pity the poor packing house operator ordered by OSHA on the one hand to put a rough finish on concrete floors so no one slips, while the U.S. Department of Agriculture on the other hand wants the floors to have a smooth finish so they can be cleaned easily and thoroughly.

American private enterprise spends more than $100 billion a year to comply with government regulation; it will spend $300 billion by 1990 if regulation isn't brought under control.

The Joint Economic Committee report recognizes that there are benefits to regulation: cleaner air, cleaner water, improved safety standards.

Regulation has helped choke off harmful exhaust fumes. The challenge is to ensure that excessive regulation does not continue to choke off our economic well-being at the same time.

Tahoka In Continent-Wide Bridge Game

Tahoka's T-Bar Duplicate Bridge Club (Tuesday and Wednesday sessions) is one of four clubs on the Texas Plains sanctioned by American Contract Bridge League for competition next Tuesday Nov. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the annual Continent-Wide Charity Game to benefit American Diabetes Assn.

Competition is truly international with players from the U.S., Canada, Mexico, the Far East, from Alaska to Singapore taking part.

The game is unique because every player in every game site will be playing the exact same computer dealt hands under near exact same conditions. Best percentage scores may receive prizes on national or district basis. Also, sectional-rated master point awards will go to those who do well in the local game. Master points are a method of ranking bridge players on an international basis.

Following the game, players will be issued analysis sheets revealing best play of each hand.

All area bridge players are invited to participate in the Tahoka game, according to Mae and Frank Hill, local directors. Playing fee is $2.50 per person, most of which will go to the Diabetes Ass'n. for research and treatment of diabetes, some of which may be returned to Lynn County.

Letter To Editor

Letters to the editor do not necessarily express the views of this newspaper. All correspondence must be signed, and in good taste before it will be published, and the name of the writer must be published also. Letters to the editor may not be more than two double-spaced typewritten pages.

Dear Mr. Wood:

As a Slaton football fan who arrived too late to get a seat on the Slaton side at the recent Slaton-Tahoka football classic, I want to commend the Tahoka students among whom we sat for their excellent sportsmanship. They were very enthusiastic and exuberant supporting their team but friendly, mannerly, and thoughtful to those of us from Slaton. We even shared ringing one of their big "cow bells"! Their football team may not have won, but those students are big winners to us. They showed a lot of class for such young football fans. Their parents can be mighty proud of them as well as their school and the city of Tahoka.

Sincerely,
George and Mary Grace
Pruitt of Slaton

I just wanted to express my feelings toward the game that Tahoka played against Slaton. It is hard to believe we lost especially when we deserved the district title. I think the team showed everyone present at the game that we are much better than Slaton in more ways than one. I also believe the boys gave it all they had from the first to the last.

Moreover, I think not only the community but also the students and faculty had the necessary spirit and enthusiasm that is needed to be #1. No one could ask for more support than what was present Friday night. It's sad to see a team like ours lose a game because of the opponent's stroke of luck, but yet, I know there's nothing one can do but move forward.

In moving forward, we have basketball season up ahead and I believe there is a lot in store for the teams and I just hope the teams are able to prove that they can have a successful year with a little support also.

Amy Porterfield

Dear Dalton,

I would just like to take a few minutes out from a busy day to say thank you to the young men who carried chairs out to the football stadium for our band. A bunch of our fans don't seem to understand that those kids have worked long hard hours, probably just as many as the football team, and they should be given the courtesy of having a place to sit during the game.

Again I commend those two young men who took the time to make our Slaton High School Tiger Band a bit more comfortable during Friday nights game. I do hope that the next time that we travel to Tahoka, that someone in the school system will rope off a portion of the seating for our band.

Sincerely,
Shelia Angerer
Band Parent

Classmates helped Jana Wuensche celebrate her 13th birthday on Friday, Nov. 7. Attending her slumber party were: Angie Morton, Vicki Steinhauer, Trisha Houchin, Cristi Sloan, Michelle Patterson, and Stacy Askew.

Be sure to check with the Mustang Band for shelled pecans before doing your Thanksgiving baking.

Wilson School Superintendent, Jake Jacobs, has announced radio and TV stations that will announce school cancellation during bad weather. The following stations will announce that Wilson classes have been cancelled.

KMAC-TV Channel 28
KFYO radio in Lubbock
KCAS radio in Slaton
If none of the above TV or radio stations announce that classes have been cancelled, school will start on schedule.

There will be a "Turkey and Dressing" dinner in the Wilson School Cafeteria on Dec. 7, from 11:30 till 1:30. Tickets are $4. for adults and $2 for children. All proceeds will benefit the Wilson Volunteer Fire Dept.

A surprise birthday party for Pastor Bob Zacharius and his wife, Linda, was given Sunday night, Nov. 9, in the St. John Lutheran Educational Building. Refreshments were served and games were played. The party was sponsored by the women's Dorcas Circle.

The Wilson 7th and 8th grades were treated to a lemonade and cookie party by the seniors last week. Both classes tied, collecting 167 labels each. Until Dec. 15, 1980, labels from Franco-American products and "V-8" Cocktail Vegetable Juice will help the seniors collect bonus certificates which will boost their label totals.

Sherry Etheredge Says...

Related to one's health, here is some information that may be of interest to some.

As many of you have heard, Toxic Shock Syndrome (TSS) is a newly recognized disease; it is serious and can result in death. TSS is caused by a toxin produced by a bacterium from the Staphylococcus aureus family. It has affected mainly women under 30 during their menstrual periods, although some cases have also been reported in women over 30, and in men and non-menstruating women.

All brands of tampons have been associated with the disease. One brand, Rely, was found to increase the risk more than other brands, and manufacturer (Proctor & Gamble) took Rely off the market. Under an agreement with FDA, Proctor & Gamble is retrieving stocks of Rely from retail stores, refunding the cost of Rely to consumers who returned unused tampons to the company (whether purchased or received as free samples), and advertising on television and radio and in newspapers to tell women not to use Rely tampons. TSS cases have also been associated with the use of the other five brands of tampons.

The early symptoms typically begin with a high fever (102 degrees F or higher), and vomiting, or profuse watery diarrhea. TSS is sometimes accompanied by sore throat, headache, and muscle pain. The disease is characterized by a rapid drop in blood pressure and shock. The patient in the acute phases develops a sunburn-like rash with redness of the eyes followed within 7 to 10 days by shedding of the skin of the palm of the hands and the soles of the feet.

Women can almost entirely eliminate their risk of TSS by not using any tampons. However, women who do choose to use tampons can reduce their risk by using them intermittently during each menstrual period—in other words, not use them all day and all night throughout the period. If a woman develops a high fever of 102 degrees F or more and vomiting or diarrhea while using a tampon, she should immediately remove the tampon, discontinue all tampon use and consult her physician. To avoid recurrence of TSS (the rate of recurrence is approximately 30 to 40 percent), it is recommended that a woman who has had a previous episode not use tampons, at least until her physician has determined that the bacterium has been eliminated from the vagina.

Higher Costs Make Tune-Up Better Value

Looking for a way to gain high return on a small investment? Consider a tune-up. Based on figures from Champion Spark Plug Company, the Consumer Price Index increased 54 percent between 1974 and 1979, while the price of a tune-up increased at only half that rate.

When your car needs a tune-up, it could be wasting about 11 percent of your gasoline. If your weekly fill-up amounts to 15 gallons at $1.50 per gallon, a $6 tune-up could save you about $2.50 per week, possibly paying for itself in less than half a year.

Investing in a needed tune-up provides benefits beyond fuel savings. A tuned engine starts more quickly in cold weather, emits fewer pollutants and provides safer, more dependable performance.

How do you know when your car needs a tune-up? Before you may be aware of any deterioration of performance, gas mileage is likely to fall off. Keep a constant check on gas purchased vs. distance traveled so you can be alert to the need for at least a check-up.

- Other, more noticeable, symptoms may be:
1. Rough running
 2. Hard starting
 3. Stalling
 4. Rough idling
 5. Poor performance
 6. Knocking or pinging
 7. Run-on or dieseling with key shut off
 8. Black smoke from the exhaust

According to Champion, nearly 80 percent of more than 5,600 vehicles checked in its nationwide study of vehicle condition were found to have maintenance deficiencies adversely affecting fuel economy, emissions or performance.

Extension Homemakers Recognized

At the annual Appreciation Luncheon for Lynn County Extension Homemakers, two members were recognized for 50 years service. They were Vesta Appling and Rosebud Watson. Both received a medallion in recognition of their involvement and participation.

Sherry Etheredge, Lynn County Agent visited with both recipients to find out how or why they could participate in an organization for such a long period of time.

Rosebud Watson stated she joined the Edith Home Demonstration Club in 1928, and Thelma Greenwade was the agent. She stated that she joined during the depression and belonging to the club was a definite means of learning to live better. Back in the beginning, the most helpful thing learned was how to can everything from meats to fruits to vegetables. Rosebud went on to state that she continues to enjoy learning; to belong to a club broadens her outlook on life. She said she gains something useful at each meeting and that she looks forward to receiving newsletters and gaining new information. She went on to say that "One never gets too old to learn," and through the Draw Extension Homemakers Club she has opportunities to learn.

Vesta Appling joined the Midway Home Demonstration Club in 1926 under the agent Mrs. Millie Halsey. At that time, Ina Floyd Slover and Grandma Milt Draper were members. They learned to can foods, make mattresses and quilts. Mrs. Appling states she still uses a mattress made at that time. Since the Depression was taking place, food preservation was essential. She states that neighbors would get together and can all day. Food was in the garden and through the home demonstration club, they learned how to take the food, prepare it, preserve it, then use it. She stated that it seems they ate so good then and had such fun being together. Mrs. Appling's daughter, Jean, was active in 4-H and this was another way the Extension was a part of their home life. When she was asked why she still belongs to the Draw Club, she said "I always get new ideas. Some programs are repetitious, but look how many times we read the Bible and how much we can learn." She went on to say that to meet with friends means a lot to her and that she looks forward to each meeting.

Sherry Etheredge has worked with these two members for 5 1/2 years. She said that the longer she knows them and has opportunity to work

Congressman
Charles W. Stenholm

Congressional Comment

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm, re-elected without opposition to the 17th Congressional seat, said Wednesday that the national Democratic leadership "has to awaken to the need for redirecting our priorities to fit the needs of a changing country," in light of Tuesday's election results.

Stenholm, a Stamford Democrat who will be serving his second term in Congress, said the sweep of conservative victories across the country "underlines what I have been saying through my voting record for the past two years. The American people want to see this country returned to a sound fiscally responsible economic policy, returned to a strong defensive posture, returned to the dreams and promises held out to them in our Constitution and returned to the Free Enterprise System."

Commenting on the Texas Congressional races, Stenholm said, "of course in a couple of the races, we will have to wait until the dust settles, but at this point the delegation seems to be holding its own. At the same time, the closeness of may of those races cannot be ignored."

Stenholm, taking a "wait and see" but positive attitude about working with the Reagan Administration, said on general issues such as defense and the economy "we are not that far apart philosophically. Where we may differ is in how to best answer those needs, but the seriousness of the problems facing our country dictates the necessity for putting aside political differences and putting forth a united effort. Any partisan interests must be left behind with yesterday's newspapers."

Stenholm applauded the record voter turnout nationwide, saying "no one can cry about voter apathy. The system worked the way the system was designed to work. Now it's time for those of us elected to do our part."

night and Thursday noon. Wednesday night he met with officers, committee chairman and members at Lyntegar meeting room. Following a fish fry hosted by Calloway Huffaker and Dwain Lusk, he heard reports from committee chairmen and offered suggestions for club improvement.

While in this meeting, the Governor's wife, Ann, was entertained by Rotary-Anns in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huffaker.

At Thursday noon's club meeting, Sturdivant spoke on the topic, "Why You Should Be Proud of Rotary," listing some Rotary accomplishments, its service to others, and influence toward better understanding among peoples of the free world. Rotary continues to grow, and now is nearly a million members in 19,000 clubs in 154 nations of the world. Mr. and Mrs. Sturdivant also were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calloway Huffaker while here. Incidentally, Sturdivant heads an Amarillo law firm in which the Huffakers youngest son, John Huffaker, is a member. Carl Reynolds is president of the Tahoka Club; Dr. Richard White is vice president; Johnny Wells, secretary; and George McCracken, treasurer.

Tahoka ISD Due More State Funds

School officials met with the State Property Tax Board last Wednesday in Austin to protest the 100 per cent market value of all properties assigned the Tahoka ISD.

The State Board had set the market value of the district at $171,567,655. The school district protested the market value of the residential property, farm land, commercial real-estate, minerals, and utilities.

After examining the information presented by the representatives of the school district, the State Property Tax Board lowered the market value to $148,965,729 -- a decrease of $22,601,926. The State Board's market value of a school district helps determine how much state aid the school district will receive during the next biennium.

With the lowering of the State Board's market value the school district should receive additional state funds next year.

Cattle Truck Overturms In County

A cattle truck overturned on FM 1054 Tuesday afternoon, killing several animals and injuring others. Deputies and others rounded up cattle for some time, but not all had been found by Wednesday. No one was injured in the accident.

Robert Smith told deputies Monday that someone had stolen about 350 gallons of diesel fuel from a site northwest of Tahoka.

In jail during the last week were one person for desertion, four for drunkenness and two for driving while intoxicated.

A car owned by John Curry of Tahoka was hit by another vehicle after the Slaton-Tahoka football game. Officers at Wilson, acting on a license number, stopped a 1977 Ford pickup reportedly driven by Wayne Boyles of Slaton.

Two teenagers came into Tahoka Police Dept. about 3 a.m. Saturday and told a story of being driven around the country at gunpoint. The two, Joe Gilbert and Edward Naylor, both of Lubbock, and both 17, said they were on E. 5th St. in Lubbock about 6 p.m. Friday when a car drove up and a man with a pistol forced them to get into the car with him. According to the two, he then drove to Littlefield, then drove back and let them out of the car about two miles north of Tahoka.

INSUR-MATION By JOEY MEADOR

Lynn County Farm Bureau

I just made application for a new life insurance policy and my agent told me I would be insured from the time the application was completed. How can I be covered before the policy is issued? You must have paid a premium when you submitted the application. Known as a conditional receipt, the delay between the date of the application and the date the insurance takes effect will be eliminated. The insurance will therefore become effective as of the date of the receipt of the premium (or the date of the medical examination if later) on condition you are found to be insurable on the basis for which you applied. The policy will pay even before the information reaches the underwriter provided the policy would have been issued as applied for under the company's rules.

Turkey Dinner Slated Sunday

Annual community Thanksgiving Dinner sponsored by the Tahoka Chamberettes will be served starting at noon Sunday at the Tahoka School Cafeteria, with all proceeds to go toward the county show barn improvement fund.

Price of the turkey dinner with all trimmings will be $4 for adults and $2.50 for children under 12, according to Chamberette President Nadine Dunlap.

This year there will be no carryout deliveries or serving for carryouts at the back door. Anyone wishing to take out dinners must go through the line with the others, it was announced.

The idea of motorized transport fascinated but baffled inventors for centuries. Even the great Isaac Newton couldn't solve the problem. Sometime in the late 1600's, after figuring out the mathematics of the Law of Gravity, Sir Isaac designed a jet-propelled steam carriage. Unfortunately, it would have required operating speeds in excess of 700 miles an hour, somewhat impractical for the muddy roads of the time, so the idea was shelved.

TAX CREDIT FOR WINDMILL

MESSAGE—On my ranch I recently installed a windmill which generates about 80 percent of my home's electricity. It has really cut down on my bills! I heard that a new law allows taxpayers to deduct money spent on energy improvements. Would my windmill qualify under this law? New Braunfels

SENATOR BENTSEN RESPONDS—Officials with Internal Revenue Service inform me that the energy credit does apply to wind energy use for homes. A new law created the energy credit for taxpayers who spend money on renewable energy sources for their main residence. In January 1981, this credit lets taxpayers deduct all for the first $10,000 spent or a maximum of $4,000.

BANNED CHINESE HERBS

MESSAGE—I have bought an expensive bottle of Chinese herb from a health food store. I use the herb for my rheumatism; it really helps. But the Food and Drug Administration has banned it and my store clerk won't buy it. Why. Could you please find out for me? F.D.—Carroll

SENATOR BENTSEN RESPONDS—FDA officials inform me that several types of so-called Chinese herbs were banned because they contained "phenylbutazone," a powerful drug which can cause serious harm. At least one known death has resulted from its abuse. This drug is restricted solely to use under a doctor's supervision.

It's True.

"After installing the heat pump in my own home and monitoring it very closely for two or three years, we were so impressed with the heat pump that we're using them in quite a few new homes that we are building. The heat pump is easy to adapt to different types of buildings and homes.

We've run detailed comparisons of other heating and cooling systems and are very satisfied with the efficiency of the heat pump. I feel like the heat pump is the product of the future and the advantage of it is that it is available now."

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

With the addition of three new counties in 1981, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) for the first time will be offering all-risk coverage on major crops in all of the 25 High Plains counties represented by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

The three new counties, Borden, Midland and Motley, were added to FCIC program along with 42 others in Texas as a part of the FCIC expansion mandated by the Federal Crop Insurance Act of 1980. Midland County has been opened for loss coverage on cotton only, Borden coverage will extend to cotton and grain sorghum, and Motley producers will be offered policies on cotton, grain sorghum and peanuts, according to a local FCIC spokesman.

In other changes soybean coverage will be added in Lamb and Lubbock Counties in 1981, and 1982 policies on wheat will be available in Lamb, Lubbock, and Motley Counties. Also, FCIC insurance will be available for the first time in 1981 on dryland cotton in Gaines and Hale Counties. Dryland insurance is scheduled for six other PCG counties in 1982 and FCIC eventually plans to offer coverage on all dryland crops.

Premium costs for 1981 have not been released but the general expectation is that there will be few if any changes from those in effect for 1980. Premium rates and other actuarial details of the program as it will operate in "old" counties, officials say, will be released by December 15 of this year, but no deadline has been set for those counties where crops are being insured for the first time in 1981.

Producers, as previously reported, have three options in 1981. They can (1) insure crops against yield loss of 50 percent, 65 percent or 75 percent and accept a 30 percent premium subsidy on coverage up to the 65 percent level, in which case they will not be eligible for Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) disaster program payments, (2) take FCIC insurance against loss at any of the three levels, pay the entire FCIC premium and retain eligibility for disaster program payments, or (3) participate in the ASCS disaster program and take no Federal crop insurance.

There is also provision for producers to carry hail and fire insurance with a private company along with FCIC coverage of other risks, thereby earning a reduction of not less than 15 percent nor more than 30 percent of the FCIC premium.

These are the general provisions of the new FCIC Act as now understood, all of which should be checked closely with area FCIC and ASCS officials before any producer makes final decisions.

pattern is not covered by regulations we have at present. You must appeal now to be considered when instructions are received.

Wool
Receipts for wool and unshorn lamb sales need to be turned in by Jan. 31, 1981, to be eligible for incentive payments.

Commodity Loans
Loans are again available through this office for cotton, feed grain and wheat. The interest rate is 11.5%. The basic loan rates are: Cotton - 48.25 cents lb.; Grain sorghum $3.84 cwt.; wheat - $3.01 bu.

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service

From mid-November to early January, many Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop and livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Service's field staff. All of the estimates published by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service are based on the data provided by Texas Farmers and Ranchers, County Extension Agents, ASCS offices, and many others in agriculture. This cooperation provided the necessary data which is, in turn, returned to farmers, ranchers, and others in the form of accurate estimates which are so essential in making the wisest production and marketing decisions. Each farmer or rancher receiving a questionnaire is urged to fill out the form carefully and return it promptly to the Agricultural Statistician in Austin. Individual reports are confidential and used only for state and county estimates.

This office will be closed Nov. 27 due to holiday.

Local Farmer Appointed

Gary Cook of Wilson is serving on the Policy Drafting Committee of Texas Farmers Union this week in Waco, having been officially appointed as one of twelve farmers from across the state on this special panel.

The committee is responsible for preparing policy statements of the general farm organization for debate and adoption during the Texas Farmers Union state convention which takes place Jan. 8-10 in Dallas. Representatives are appointed annually to this committee in order to take policy resolutions submitted by county organizations along with amendments and updates and incorporate them into appropriate sections of TFU's existing policy. The policy addresses each commodity as well as many other concerns of family farmers ranging from state and local issues to national and international matters.

Harvesting Gains Momentum

Daily cotton sample receipts for Lubbock, Levelland and Brownfield ranged from 30,000 to 38,000 this week according to Mack Bennett, Area Director at USDA's Marketing Services Office in Lubbock. Receipts ranged from 12,000 to 20,000 during the prior week.

Several gins operated around-the-clock while many expect to go on 24 hour schedules late this week or early next week, Bennett said.

Many ginners estimated they were one-fourth to one-half through the season, while one guessed as high as three-fourths.

Lubbock's office classed 97,000 samples during the week ended Nov. 6 as the classing staff increased to 39 from 26 a week earlier. This brought total samples graded at Lubbock this season to 213,000. About 63,000 samples had been classed by the same date last year.

Predominant grades during the week were grade 42 at 56 percent, grade 52 - 14 percent and grade 41 - 12 percent. About three percent were reduced one grade because of bark, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

Staple 32 was predominant at 34 percent. Staple 31 was 30 percent followed by staple 33 at 13 percent. Average staple for the week was 31.9, up from 31.0 a week earlier. Micronaire readings of 35 - 49 accounted for 73 percent. One percent miked higher while 26 percent were lower. The week's average mike at Lubbock was 39, down from 40 a week earlier.

Average breaking strength was 87,000 pounds per square inch, up from 86,000 one week ago.

High Plains growers sold mixed lots of mostly grades 42 and 52, staples 30 and 31, mike 35-49 around 72.75 cents per pound. Mixed lots of mostly grades 41 and 51, staples 32 and 33, mike 35-49 brought about 80.25 cents.

Gins paid growers $100 to $130 per ton for cottonseed, mostly $110 to $120.

October Cotton Contracting

High Plains cotton acreage contracting slowed during October following September's peak volume.

An estimated 25,000 acres of High Plains cotton were contracted during October. This estimate was based on informal surveys of producers, merchants, ginners and others interested in cotton and cotton marketing by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. October's 25,000 acres contracted compares with the peak reached during September when an estimated 285,000 acres were booked.

October prices ranged from around 3300 to 3600 points over 1980 loan rates. September's contracts were booked at about 3100 to 3700 points over 1980 loan rates. Both months ended with trading around 3500 over.

Contracting was centered mostly on irrigated acreage both months. Contracts contained sharp discounts on short staples. Delivery dates on October contracts stretched into March while most September contracts specified February delivery dates.

About one-fifth of High Plains acres were estimated under contract by the end of October, slightly above September's estimate.

Legislators To Meet In Lubbock

Members of the 67th Texas State Legislature representing West Texans have been invited to participate in a pre-session legislative conference sponsored by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Nov. 19-21, at the South Park Inn in Lubbock. The three-day WTCC Mid-Year Meeting will also place special emphasis on municipal water resource development in West Texas.

WTCC President Jack Pilon of Brownwood said that the purpose of the Pre-Legislative Conference is to enable WTCC members and other interested individuals to gain first-hand knowledge of issues to come before the Texas Legislature in January.

Among those discussing state and national water issues of importance to West Texas will be Senator E.L. Short.

Age variation affects the way children respond to divorce and the kind of help they need from parents during the divorce process, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

Mrs. Welch is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

ASCS News

Soil Conservation Service has received its 1981 funds for conservation practices. There will be a sign-up period from Nov. 17 until Nov. 28. The practices are terraces, reorganization systems, and when you sign up you will know about how to build terraces you will irrigating pipe, you will need to know about how many feet, the size and pressure of pipe that is needed.

Lynn County has also been approved for a special project to cost share on deep breaking. This practice requires plowing at least 22 inches. There is a minimum and maximum amount of clay that must be brought to the surface. The acreage and depth must be approved by the Soil Conservation Service according to the specifications required. The cost-share is 60% of the actual cost not to exceed $25 per acre. Before sign-up, be sure you need this type deep plowing (22" +) and intend to complete the practice if approved. The sign-up will be Nov. 17 until Nov. 28. Due to the specifications required you should check with SCSS before applying.

All gins in Lynn County except Paymaster Gin, O'Donnell, and Wayne Moses Gin, Gordon, have signed an agreement to use specification bagging and ties so the cotton will be eligible for CCC loan.

Farm NCA
November 12 is the final date to appeal the NCA on your farm. This is the only time that NCA appeals will be accepted for the 1981 crop year. Adjustments can be made where a bona fide change in farming operations has or will occur. Examples of such changes are:

1. Change from livestock to grain/cotton farming.
 2. Dryland farming to irrigated farming.
 3. Non-NCA crop production to NCA crop production due to loss of markets.
- Present regulations require an adjustment in the established yield for increases in NCA due to a change from skip-row to solid crop. A change from one skip-row pattern to another skip-row

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Blends May Grow: The average price of cotton to textile mills declined slightly during the last three weeks of October but remained above prices for rayon and polyester. Because of the wide differential between cotton and polyester staple, there is a growing incentive for fiber substitution.

reports that trade sources indicate blend level changes have been made, or are under consideration, by some mills. Movements are from 50/50 polyester/cotton to 65/35 in sheets and pillowcases, print cloths, and other lightweight fabrics. There also are reports of increased interest in 50/50 polyester/cotton corduroy.

Russian Crop Up: The cotton crop in Russia is now projected at 13.5 million bales, three percent greater than the record 1979 crop. In its October report, the U.S. Department of Agriculture placed foreign cotton production in 1980-81 at 51.9 million bales.

Cotton Big In Sweaters: It may not seem that way when it's being picked in the fields, but cotton will be a strong fashion item in one category next spring.

The category is cotton sweaters. The National Cotton Council reports that specialty and department store retailers see cotton sweaters as big items in spring '81 because of their versatility and wide color spectrum.

Some retailers report that the sweater represents new, extra business. That's good news to farmers who grow the fiber.

Scanning Social Security

By: Jim Latimer, Field Representative
Social Security Administration
1205 Texas Avenue, Room 102,
Lubbock, Texas, 79401

Today's column will cover the 1980 Amendments to the social security act.

Congress was quite busy with changes in the laws pertaining to the Social Security programs. Among these changes were a Family Benefit Cap, which restricts a family payment amount to be no more than 150 % of basic benefit amount, or 85 % of the Average Indexed Monthly Amount. In no case would the benefit rate be less than the Primary Insurance Amount.

Variable drop-out years effective 1980 for those workers who qualify for disability payments, based on the age of the worker when he becomes disabled.

A third provision would permit Medicare coverage for disability cases for 36 months following a non-medical recovery.

Provides for a closed evidentiary record after a cause has been heard by an Administrative Law Judge. As of now, if a case has been before an administrative law judge previously, there can be no new introduction of new evidence concerning the same issues.

The House of Representatives did not agree with the Senate provision to pay disability benefits to terminally ill persons, given a prognosis of less than 12 months to live by two doctors, so this provision was deleted.

Another provision terminates parental deeming of income to any child age 18 or older, still living with the parent. Presently, if a child age 18 or older lives with a parent, some of the parent's income is deemed to be the child's income. This provision took effect in October 1980.

Provides that income and resources of an Alien Sponsor would be deemed to be the alien's for a period of three years from the time of entry.

These changes will require the Secretary of Health and Human Services to review disability allowances before any payment is made. Presently these allowances are performed by state agencies within the state.

These and many other changes have been made in the social security laws during 1980. If any of our readers have questions, just call us at 1-800-392-1603, toll free.

If you wish to apply for social security just call us at 806-762-7385 and you will be able to apply on the telephone.

In recent weeks, there has been considerable discussion about the value of social security to the young worker. Commissioner Driver of the Social Security Administration, has responded to this issue. He has made the following points...

The average young married male worker, with dependents, can expect to receive more than three times what he will pay in taxes. A female worker who never marries and has average earnings can expect to receive more than two times what she will pay in taxes.

The actual balance is in the worker's favor. The group of workers age 20 to 24 can expect to get back roughly 15% more than the employer and employee taxes paid. If only employee taxes are considered, this group will get back 130% more than what they paid.

Comments to the contrary are not true.

It should be remembered that social security is an insurance system, and like life or fire insurance, people who suffer the risks insured against, will receive more than those who do not.

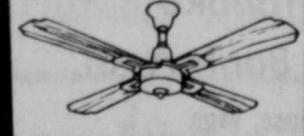

Therefore it is wrong to speak in terms of older worker versus younger worker in terms of who receives greater benefits. It should be viewed as a contract between generations for mutual well-being.

Example: a worker who retired at the end of 1979, at age 65, paid at most $11,203 in Social Security taxes, and she or he would recoup that amount in 17.1 months as a beneficiary. Although future retirees will recoup the taxes over a longer period of time because of increased tax rates, they can expect to receive more in benefits than they have paid.

These Pioneer® brand cotton varieties do well in our area.

Certified Lockett 77* - We saw this variety stand up to conditions that saw other varieties deliver disappointing performances in 1980. From emergence throughout the season, Lockett 77 showed its strength throughout the season. It demonstrated complex resistance to bacterial blight and the fusarium wilt-nematode complex. And it proved itself in a variety of management programs on both irrigated and non-irrigated land. Fiber quality has been good, too.

Certified PR80* - Seed for this variety is hard to come by, so many of our customers will have to wait for PR80 until next season. But we encourage you to keep an eye on this powerful new variety from Pioneer. You'll like its early maturity. And its yields will make you twice about planting anything else. Along with resistance to many common cotton diseases, PR80 shows good fiber qualities and high turnout. We really like the looks of this one! You will, too!

*U.S. protected varieties.
